Allen Term

WINTER BREAK ON-LINE COURSES

"Be something as well as know something."
 Jonathan Allen

Alfred University (AU) is bringing back a winter break learning experience known as the "Allen Term," named after Dr. Jonathan Allen, AU's second president and a pioneer educator. University director of creative services/designer had a little fun putting Dr. Allen into a modern-day setting, pointing out the courses will now be offered online.

AU's 'AllenTerm' is back!

ALFRED—Alfred University (AU) is re-introducing a former feature of the academic calendar for this year's winter break. As of Nov. 4, students have been able to sign up for online classes to be offered during "the Allen Term," a "minimester" to be conducted online Dec. 16, 2013-Jan. 17, 2014.

By participating in the Allen Term, students will have the opportunity to complete a full semester course within a few weeks, make up a course they may have failed or received a low grade in during the fall semester, concentrate on one course without the burden of a heavy course load, lighten their spring semester course load, advance their academic standing, accelerate their degree, and/or be productive during the holiday break. Tuition for a course during the Allen Term is $960.

Named after Dr. Jonathan Allen, Alfred University's second president and a pioneer educator, the Allen Term was first approved by AU faculty in 1969. It originally called for students to complete research projects between the end of the Christmas holiday and the beginning of the second semester. The independent study program carried no academic credit. In 1978, the faculty decided to stop offering the Allen Term, citing that some Allen Term projects may not have been productive.

Now, four current AU faculty members feel reintroducing the Allen Term will benefit today's students in several ways. Julia Overton Healy, Chad Harriss, Joseph Petrillo and Robert Maiden are among the seven AU professors offering Allen Term courses.

"I feel that it's important for AU to begin to take some formal steps into online course delivery," says Harriss, an associate professor of communication studies and department chairman. "The Allen Term offers students an opportunity to continue their progress toward graduation from offsite locations. I view the Allen Term as an opportunity to develop the skill set associated with online in-

A 'Sunday Drive' in the country

By ELAINE HARDMAN
 Alfred Sun Reporter
 ALLEGANY COUNTY—When I was a kid we'd go for a Sunday drive, not to get somewhere but to notice the route. Allegany County invites you to drive our roads and bridges (300 of them) and notice the view along the way. My husband and I ventured out on the Mid-

County Tour on a rainy November Sunday. We started in Scio by turning off of Route 19 onto the Vandermark Road. We tried to notice the scenery though we've both driven this road thousands of times. Rick drove this road to get to his office and labs in the Engineering Building at Alfred State.

If the weather was good he'd take the motorcycle and skim along the curves on this nicely winding road. The road was repaved this past summer so it's nice to scoot along on in any vehicle with glimpses of the Vandermark Creek sparkling alongside. Whiskey River Farm looks

Bicycle Man named Recumbent 'Dealer of the Year'

ALFRED STATION—Bicycle Man LLC, recumbent bicycle and tricycle dealer in Alfred Station, was chosen Recumbent Cycle Con (RCC) Dealer of the Year at the recent national convention in Pomona, California. The RCC Dealer of the Year award, sponsored by Recumbent & Tandem Rider Magazine was presented Friday, Nov. 1 at the Recumbent Industry Dinner.

RCC, the first national tradeshow for recumbent bicycles was established in 2011 to give a forum for the world recumbent industry to meet, display new models and share technical information. The RCC convention brings together recumbent manufacturers, dealers, engineers and riders for three days of presentations, product introductions and test riding.

The recumbent manufacturers exhibiting at this year's RCC show voted and selected the Bicycle Man as recipient of the prestigious award from among their top dealers.

Started in 1969 by Peter Stull in his parents' basement with two donated bikes, Bicycle Man grew into a local bicycle shop selling traditional bicycles and repairing any bikes a customer would bring in. They still serve their local customers with sales and repairs of typical bikes and have also become a broad based powerhouse. Serving local, regional and national clients, it is now one of the largest recumbent bike and trike dealerships in the United States. At the 4,400 sq. ft. Bicycle Man facility in Alfred Station, the staff of seven sells, services, designs, manufactures and tests recumbent bikes.

At the RCC show Bicycle Man introduced their 2014 Linear recumbent bikes including two new folding models which were well received by the diverse convention attendees.

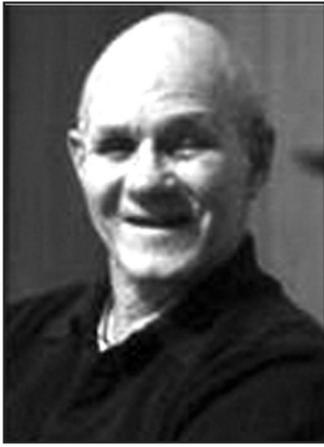

Stull, an Alfred University alumnus, has worked with senior engineering students from Alfred University, Alfred State College and Purdue University on Linear recumbent frame designs and testing equipment. Stull has also served as guest lecturer at Cornell University on mechanical engineering and at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute (RPI) on bicycle frame engineering and testing.

With a strong staff Bicycle Man LLC has grown into a company with a national profile. Now, with the Recumbent Cycle Con Dealer of the Year award, Bicycle Man LLC is cruising on the road to the future – continuing to serve their local customers and assisting recumbent riders nationwide.

PETER STULL, aka "The Bicycle Man," receives the Recumbent Cycle Con "Dealer of the Year" award at the RCC national tradeshow in Pomona, CA.

UNICEF drive nets $654.07

ALFRED--The Oct. 27 Alfred-Almond community UNICEF Drive collected $654.07 as a result of the generous response of area residents when children knocked on their doors and from donations put in the UNICEF boxes located in area businesses. The funds are donated in support of UNICEF's lifesaving programs worldwide. The event was organized by the Union University Church. Special thanks go to the 50 or so children and youth who braved a chilly and rainy Sunday afternoon to go door-to-door with their collection boxes. Thanks also to the parents who drove or walked with the children and the older youth and college students who guided the children from door to door. At the end of the Drive, everyone was treated to refreshments at the Union University Church Center. Residents who weren't at home the day of the Drive may make contributions by a check made payable to: U.S. Fund for UNICEF either left at or mailed to the Union University Church, 29 N. Main St., Alfred, N.Y. 14802.

Cream cheese in all kinds of recipes

These days cream cheese seems to be turning up in all kinds of recipes and also in all kinds of flavors, including pumpkin. That kind is especially delicious on bagels.

This recipe is from a cookbook published by the First United Methodist Church of Fredonia, New York. It comes with the suggestion of stirring 1/4 teaspoon of ground nutmeg into 1 1/2 cups thawed Cool Whip topping and spreading over the cooled cupcakes.

Pumpkin Cream Cupcakes

- 1 (2 layer size) pkg. spice cake mix
- 1 (8oz.) pkg. cream cheese
- 1 (3-4 oz.) pkg. Jello vanilla flavor instant pudding
- 1/4 c. sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 c. canned pumpkin

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Prepare cake batter as directed on package. Add dry pudding mix and pumpkin; mix well. Spoon into 24 paper lined muffin cups. Beat cream cheese with mixer until creamy. Blend in sugar and egg; spoon over batter. Swirl gently with small spoon. Bake 18 to 21 minutes or until toothpick inserted in centers comes out clean. Cool 5 minutes; remove to wire racks. Cool completely. Add above topping and refrigerate.

County Historian Craig Braack will speak at Nov. 17 meeting

ALMOND—Allegany County Historian and Almond native Craig Braack will be the speaker at the Sunday, Nov. 17 meeting of the Almond Historical Society.

The 1830s Hagadorn House Museum located at 7 Main Street will be open from 2 to 5 p.m., with Craig's talk set for 3 p.m. His topic will be "Architectural Styles of Almond Homes."

Craig's lively and informative presentations are popular among historical societies and civic groups, where he speaks more than 80 times a year.

"My program on the architectural styles of homes in our Almond area will be a 'photographic tour' of the area. The houses shown will be familiar to most people. We'll see examples of Georgian, Greek Revival, Italianate, Gothic Revival, Mansard and Queen Anne. These styles were popular in the country from about 1750 to 1910. Non descript (for lack of a better term) houses of the 20th century will also be included, albeit briefly, with these houses generally called one-story ranch homes," Craig explained.

At 2:30 p.m., AHS members will gather for the annual meeting, which will be conducted by Louise Schwartz in the absence of President Lee A. Ryan. Officers will be elected for 2014.

Cindy Banker is in charge of refreshments. The public is invited to attend.

Fixing feral felines

Dear Editor:

Over last week and weekend the village, helped by several stalwart Alfred residents, carried out a successful project to capture, spay or neuter, and return ten cats. Ten cages were put out in strategic locations, and cats were welcome to snag a treat periodically for two days prior to setting the traps to close.

Within several hours of entrapment they were transferred to a protective barn prior to their trip to the Hornell Humane Society for care. All cats were found healthy on arrival. In addition to the "fixing" operation, each received rabies and distemper vaccinations, and treatment for fleas, ear mites, intestinal parasites, and heartworm prevention. Their left ear is clipped for identification.

Scientific investigations have shown that the best way to control feral cat numbers is to spay/neuter and return. This counters a "vacuum effect" that will cause cat populations to increase when their numbers are intentionally reduced.

Great thanks go to Barn Cat Outreach, a Springwater, NY organization providing know-how and equipment for carrying out this humane work. Veterinarian Kimberly Wilson and vet tech specialist, Mary Nizbet performed these services for a mere $20 per feral cat.

We are appreciative, too, of the wonderful help provided by AU student Sharnea Spencer and residents Sally Hopkins, Linda Lewandowski, Kathy and Tim Koegel and Jason Rodd. In the course of this project and the public communication around it, we received calls from other Alfredians with thanks and offers of help in future endeavors. We learned that feeding stations for feral cats are the right and responsible way to follow up on this first step. Students, permanent residents and community youth interested in establishing a feeding station project are encouraged to call the village office (607-587-9188) with name and contact.

Barn Cat Outreach will, of course, be happy to receive donations which are richly deserved. The address is Barn Cat Outreach, P.O. Box 11, Springwater, NY 14560.

Community Chest goal $38,275

Campaign at 73% of goal

To the Community:

The Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest drive has now received pledges for about 73.1% of our 2013 goal ($2100 less than last year at this time), We are now at $27,962 out of $38,275 so we will need $10,313 to conclude this year's drive. It is not impossible. We know we are in difficult times but we also know that in these times we can count on YOUR support in order to help our local charities, so would you please consider your pledge this week?

The Alfred Box-of-Books Library is one of the recipients of Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest funds. Stating their true function, as the "Alfred Public Library," the Box-of-Books is dependent on various sources of local funding for its existence. Community Chest funds make up a small but non-trivial portion of its operating budget. While there are college libraries in town, the Box-of-Books exists for townspeople needing current titles, as well as, for the use of the town's children. The many young people in our area find the services of the Box of Books an important part of their 'enhanced' education. (The library is adjacent to the Montessori 'barn'.)

From its inception, the Board of the Box-of-Books has made the seniors and the very young their priorities. Thousands of titles are loaned each year and we have many young 'readers' that can be 'identified' by their Alfred Box-of-Book's library card.

If you are looking for current best sellers, a story hour, or a July reading program, they exist on the corner of Main and West University. In order for the Box-of-Books to remain active for the town and village of Alfred, please consider giving to our Community Chest and its commitment to community oriented charities. As you make a contribution to support our campaign, remember how the community is dependent on its citizens, and your good fortune to be giving to the community's many worthy organizations through your pledge.

Many thanks to those of you who have already made a contribution to the campaign. We ask those of you who have not yet made a donation or pledge to join your friends and neighbors in making our drive a success. If, for some reason, you did not receive a pledge card, donations may be left at the Alfred Pharmacy in Alfred, the Canacadea Country Store in Alfred Station, or may be mailed to Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest, Box 603, Alfred, NY, 14802. We look forward to your continuing support.

Sincerely,

Your Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest Board

FROM THE DESK OF DAVID PULLEN

By DAVID PULLEN
Allegany County Legislator

NEW BEGINNINGS – COUNTY LEGISLATURE

It is Sunday afternoon, November 10, 2013, and I am sitting near the beach in Cape Charles, Virginia. We traveled here on Friday to attend my nephew's wedding. That took place yesterday in a chapel founded in the early 1700s by Rev. Thomas Pullen. Though the "coincidence" is intriguing, to the best of our knowledge there is no actual family relationship. My wife, son and I have had a great time visiting with family members who have gathered for the wedding. We plan on driving home on Monday so I can get back to work and attend the Board of Legislators meeting on Tuesday.

The 2013 elections are now history. The unofficial results have been released giving the identities of the apparent election winners. This enables us to anticipate the composition of the new Legislature that will take office in early January. Here are some interesting facts about the election winners and "Legislators-Elect" for the new Board:

- There will be 11 returning legislators. They include three from District 1 (Curt Crandall, Ted Hopkins, myself), two from District 2 (Norm Ungermann and Dwight "Michael" Healy), one from District 3 (Dwight Fanton), three from District 4 (Tim O'Grady, Karl Graves, Kevin Laforge), and two from District 5 (Phil Curran and Aaron McGraw).

- There will be four newly elected legislators. They include one from District 2 (David Decker), two from District 3 (Scott Burt and Debra Root), and one from District 5 (Charles "Chuck" Jessup). Charles Jessup is in a special category since he has been serving as an appointed Legislator filling the vacancy created by the death of Douglas Burdick. I have included him as a "new" legislator since this represents his first elected term on the Board.

- There will be 14 Republicans and one independent member (Kevin LaForge) of the new Legislature. That means that the Republicans will remain the majority party and caucus for the Board.

- Although all five districts are basically the same size, District 1 had the most votes cast, and had the top two vote-getters (Ted Hopkins and Curt Crandall) of all the candidates.

- The new Legislature will be an interesting mix of experienced legislators and newcomers.

It is impossible to predict what the new Board will be able to accomplish. There are simply too many unknown factors. However, there are some factors that are known. These give us some ideas about the challenges that we will face. For example, this will be the first Board in more than a decade that won't be faced with meeting a major state mandate. However, we know that we will need to make some difficult decisions regarding the County Landfill. We will also have to negotiate new employment contracts with the four labor unions representing County employees.

Challenges are just opportunities in disguise. I believe that we are poised to make some major progress on behalf of the County and its residents and taxpayers. Economic development should be a major emphasis for the new Board. Improving efficiency in various county agencies will be an ongoing challenge. I am optimistic that the new Board will be up to the challenges and opportunities before it.

SQUASHED:

Organic gardening grows on Reynolds

By SHERRY VOLK
Alfred Sun Reporter

ALFRED—Denny Reynolds of Quest Produce on Route 21 just outside of Almond “squashed” his audience, speaking at the monthly meeting of the Amandine Club in Alfred on Thursday, Nov. 8.

Denny and Bridget started Quest six years ago, Denny having retired after thirty years in law enforcement. The meeting was called to order by Sandra McGraw, with Kay Snyder Chapman giving the thought for the day, several of her memories of growing up on Edgewood Farm.

Denny explained the Reynolds’ reasons for choosing organic gardening by reading a lovely poem, which concludes; “The work of the world is common as mud. Botched, it smears the hands, crumbles to dust. But the thing worth doing well done has a shape that satisfies, clean and evident. The pitcher cries for water to carry and a person for work that is real.” Marge Piercy “To Be of Use,” lines 19-22, 26-27 (1973).

“Why organic?” he asked,

then gave the U.S. Department of Agriculture definition; “...an ecological production management system that promotes and enhances biodiversity, biological cycles, and soil biological activity. It is based on minimal use of off-farm inputs and on management practices that restore, maintain, or enhance ecological harmony.

The primary goal of organic agriculture is to optimize the health and productivity of interdependent communities of soil life, plants, animals and people. Organic farms do not use toxic synthetic chemical pesticides, herbicides, and fertilizers, nor do they use artificial hormones or antibiotics.” He compared and contrasted the practices of traditional agriculture (since World War II) with organic agriculture.

While Denny (Bridget stayed at Quest to run the store) is committed to organic production, he gave insight as to the difficulty that this determination sometimes causes, mentioning the depredations of various insect pests and how the organic producer must plan to work around these hungry hordes which are following, he says, “The sweet odor of, for example, potato plants.”

Following Reynolds’ very engaging talk, delicious pumpkin cheesecake was served by Hostess Linda Butts. During this time, Denny provided an activity. Having baked and processed the four winter squash in exactly the same way, he gave us all samples of each and asked us to try to name them; providing both a taste treat and an instructive lesson.

I’ll go out on a limb here, and suggest that anyone interested in this growing (pun intended) vocation stop at Quest and chat with Denny or Bridget. They are open until Christmas and will reopen in May, purveying locally produced meats, baked goods, honey, cheese, and delicious vegetables and fruits.

The December meeting of the Amandine Club will be at 2 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 5, and will feature Luan Ellis speaking about the Alfred Station Food Pantry. Visitors are very welcome.

CHRIS, RICK and MONTY who comprise the local rock band Zoar, will celebrate their 25th anniversary in a concert at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 23 at the Wellsville Creative Arts Center. (Photo provided)

Zoar to celebrate 25th anniversary at Nov. 23 concert

WELLSVILLE—Zoar will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 23 at the Wellsville Creative Arts Center. Advance tickets are $10, $12 at door. Members save an additional $2. Tickets may be purchased online at www.WellsvilleCreativeArtsCenter.com or at the Art Center Coffee House. For more information visit the website or call (585) 593-3000.

Established in 1988, Zoar will celebrate their 25th anniversary at the Arts Center with a special performance of original music. The song list for this show will be compiled from their 1992 Debut, Long Hard Road (1995) and Desperate Hours (2006) albums with several new songs as well.

Zoar has logged many miles, but make no mistake-- the engine roars. As popular in 2013 as they were in 1988, a Zoar performance usually guarantees a good time will be had by all. Zoar’s incredible family tree has branches that connect current and former members with many area bands such as The Rogues, Gambler, Tarkus, Peace Pipe Mafia, Mojo Hand Blues, Onyx, White Raven, Ice Water Mansion, Moondance, Fat Brat and so many more.

With over 1,500 gigs to the band’s credit, Zoar continues to perform everywhere and anywhere. From summer festivals to benefits, weddings and gin mills, expect to see “Zoar” on a Southern Tier marquee sometime soon.

Come celebrate this extraordinary milestone with this very special performance...You can bet that Rick, Chris and Monty will be pulling out all the stops!

ASC Drama Club to stage ‘Grease’

ALFRED—Everyone’s favorite musical is making its way to the Alfred State stage this semester. Set in 1958, Jim Jacobs and Warren Casey’s masterpiece, Grease, follows the story of a group of teenagers—the “Burger Palace Boys” and their female counterparts, the “Pink Ladies”—as they deal with the complexities of high school romance and coming of age.

Performing canon favorites like “We Go Together,” “Greased Lightning,” and “Summer Nights,” the Grease cast and musicians will have the crowd popping out of their seats to show off their best hand jive.

Directed by Janna Buckwalter with music direction by Eric Prentice and pit direction by Jerry Ives, Grease is presented by special arrangement with SAMUEL FRENCH, INC.

Alfred State’s production stars Tyler Ribble as Danny Zuko, Michaela Olin as Sandy Dumbrowski, Hannah Leffler as Betty Rizzo, Andrea Szwajbka as Frenchy, Brittany Richards as Marty, Kelly Beachner as Jan, Jerrod Comer as Doody, and Kris Majka as Kenickie.

The Alfred State Drama Club will perform this hit Nov. 21-23 at 7 p.m. and November 24 at 2 p.m. in the Cappadonia Auditorium in the Orvis Activities Center. Tickets are $7 for general admission and $2 for students, and will be available at the door or can be reserved in advance by calling 607-587-4079. Get yours before they sell out!

Alfred's project awarded AmeriCorps VISTA grant

ALFRED—Only three new projects in the State of New York earned a coveted AmeriCorps VISTA grant for Nov. 2013 to Nov. 2014. And Alfred State, with its focus on nutritional literacy and community-based gardening in collaboration with Literacy West NY, Inc. and Alfred Community Garden, was one of the fortunate recipients.

Sally Murphy was hired as the AmeriCorp VISTA member who will oversee this project. She is the first AmeriCorps member to serve at Alfred State and her presence will enhance the ability of the college community to engage the issue of nutritional literacy while also addressing community challenges. Murphy will begin her service Nov. 25.

"Over a quarter of Allegany County adults do not eat the recommended servings of fruits and vegetables per day" says Jonathan Hilsher, director of civic engagement at Alfred State. "This is just one example of local nutritional challenges, which are compounded by the food security issues that come with living in a county with one of the highest levels of poverty in New York."

Although the data looks grim, members of Alfred State, Literacy West NY, and the Alfred Community Garden believe that an integrated, community-based gardening and nutritional literacy campaign will help to address the interrelated challenges of poverty, food insecurity, and nutritional deficiency in the area. The VISTA project will leverage the power of community-based gardening and collaborative programming to promote both awareness of and access to nutritional, local, and affordable produce for low-income individuals and families. "This will require partnerships with key members of the community—school districts, health care facilities, and food pantries to name a few."

Coordinators of the program have a fairly simple goal—increase food security and nutritional literacy among individuals and families in Allegany County. But the execution will be startlingly complex with a multitude of constituencies and stakeholders. Through research, collaboration, mobilization of volunteers, programming, and promotional events to raise awareness, VISTA and its community partners hope to inspire others to act and build the capacity for this work to continue.

"We want to mobilize the campus community," Hilsher says. "And build on the strengths of our partners and the assets already present in our community to address food security and nutritional deficiencies. We want this initiative to eventually serve as a living laboratory for delivering educational opportunities while acting as a model for other communities."

struction."

"I was awarded a grant from the National Science Foundation to study a flipped calculus model, allowing me to create videos of lessons and examples for an online format" says Petrillo, an associate mathematics professor. "Engineering students are required to take Calculus I and some don't succeed the first time around. By offering this course during Allen Term, students have a second chance at succeeding."

"I have some experience teaching online courses so I know what to expect," says Maiden, a psychology professor. "Online courses are a great way to get to know your students through a chat room or discussion board."

"Students must demonstrate discipline, motivation and time management maybe more than they would for a class in a 'regular' semester, simply because of the compressed time frame," says Overton-Healy, director of Leadership Programs and the Women's Leadership Center. "My approach will be the same as it is in a brick-and-mortar setting: clear expectations, open and respectful communication, provide reasonably rapid feedback, be accessible to provide help."

Black-Eyed Susan Cafe hosts guest musicians this weekend

ANGELICA--Outstanding musicians perform at Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café in Angelica every weekend in a wide assortment of musical genres.

On Friday, Nov. 15 we revel in the return of singer-songwriter John Sonntag of Lambertville, NJ, a road-wise singer-songwriter with a voice from heaven and a soundtrack of groove and grit.

The always fresh and forever grooving John Sonntag takes the stage at Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café on Friday, Nov. 15 at 7:30 p.m. Traveling the American road with a trunk full of restless anthems and heartfelt life stories, Sonntag seems to know the words to our deepest hurts and dearest wishes. John has performed at CBGB's Gallery in NYC; Grassy Hill Ker-ville New Folk Festival; the Cutting Edge Music Conference in New Orleans; and the New Jersey Folk Festival, where he was selected as a winner in the New Folk Artist Showcase. Hear John's music at www.johnsonntag.com

On Saturday, Nov. 16 join us for a night with singer-songwriter Tristan Omand of Manchester, NH for an evening of country and folk songs that hearken back to an earlier time.

Twenty-six year old New Hampshire based singer/songwriter Tristan Omand has stories beyond his years. They unfold in finely crafted songs, accented by an unchained, yet clear and galloping style of folk flat-picking.

His latest album, "Wandering Time" marked a new chapter in his own story, as it was recorded in a glorious sounding 19th century Victorian home, with a Kickstarter campaign funding the pressing of the album on vinyl. Tristan has had the pleasure of opening for acts ranging from Livingston Taylor, to Side One Dummy Records artist Audra Mae, and nationals Larry & His Flask, among many others all over the east coast, in addition to multiple tours spanning from New York to New Orleans. Alfred University football Saxons closed out their season in a 27-0 loss to C.W. Post in a game played at Brookville, L.I. Bob Codispoti scored on two long runs for the Saxons, but both were nullified by penalties. Cody returned a punt 57 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter. Late in the game he scored again on a 43-yard pass from John Forsythe. Despite the 2-6 season record, the Alfred football outlook is far from dark. Only four seniors are lost thi syear. This means that such players as Codispoti, Carl Zandi, John Thorne, Joe Adamczyk, Dick Morabito, Gerald Label and Bill Baker will be back next year. Along with these stalwarts is an array of promising talent from this year's freshman squad.

The Alfred Business Association, at its annual banquet Thursday night, Nov. 3, awarded its first annual "Golden Broom Award" to the Gallery. The award, an engraved plaque, recognizes the efforts of member businesses in "keeping up their appearance." Faith Palmer, owner of The Gallery, received the plaque with appreciation. Receiving honorable mention in the competition, which was judged by non-business members of the association, were Stanlee Hardware, Alfred Sub & Pizza Shop and Steuben Trust Company. ABA President Sandra Ware offered a "Very Special Award" to Mary-Lou Cartledge for her dedicated volunteer work for the association. Mary-Lou recently resigned her secretary-treasurer position to become manager of the ABA's Blue Cross/Blue Shield accounts. She operates the Wooden Shuttle gift shop on Main Street. Guest speaker for the banquet, held at Alfred University's Howell Hall, was Gertrude Butera, associate professor of business administration at Alfred State College. Flint's Auto Center is the newest addition to the Almond business community. Located in the former Almond Farm & Home building on Main Street, it is owned and operated by John Flint. John, a native of Canisteo, resides in Andover with his wife Cindy and children Chad, Kristi, Katie and Shelly. He was formerly employed by GE and M-K for ten years. Previous experience in auto body work and at a gas station will be useful in the operation of his new auto center...

The Alfred Sub & Pizza Shop dates its origin back to 1967. In that year, Les McKay (now owner of the Andover Trading Post) began the Alfred Sub Shop at 56 N. Main Street (presently Doug's Flower Shop.) Mark O'Mear purchased the business in 1974 and operated it until 1981. Desiring to pursue his career in school administration, Mark sold the little shop to Jim and Linda Grillo. A year later, they moved the business to the corner of Main and Church Streets (present location of People's Deli). The Grillos added to their business endeavors in 1983 when they purchased the Alfred Pizzeria and Gentleman Jim's from Gary Brown. When Wheaton Agency decided to move its office from 31 N. Main Street to smaller quarters the vacated facilities were acquired by the Grillos, who moved the sub shop there in the summer of 1985 and changed the name to the Alfred Sub & Burger Shop...

AU 'storms' past Canisius--The Saxons kept their playoff hopes alive with a 9-3 win over Canisius at Merrill Field, where the winning TD was scored on a fourth-down one-yard leap by Bob Jones during a rainstorm of hurricane proportions. AU junior tailback Ray Rogers rushed for 123 yards on 25 carries while senior QB Paul McDonnell ran for 98 yards on 13 carries. McDonnell also passed for 110 yards, completing 7-of-19. McDonnell suffered a broken finger in his left hand on a run on the play just prior to Jones' TD. He probably won't see any action at Buffalo State...

Whether we're standing at bus stops, delivering the mail, or out shopping, weather affects all of us in powerful ways. At times, Alfred's weather varies greatly from Hornell or Wellsville, with just a few degrees difference bringing snowy or icy conditions. Finding the current Alfred temperature has been nonexistent...until now. WETD 90.7 FM recently announced the installation of an AWS Weather Station on the Alfred State College campus. The station provides accurate local weather information for the Alfred community, including faculty, staff, students, and their families who may be traveling in harsh weather. The weather station also promotes Alfred State College regionally over television station WIVB, Channel 4, Buffalo, by broadcasting current Alfred weather conditions and alerts on a regular basis...

Area churches plan to participate in 'Operation Christmas Child'

"Let my heart be broken with the things that break the heart of God." Bob Pierce wrote these now-famous words in his Bible after visiting suffering children on the Korean island of Kojedo. This impassioned prayer is what guided him as he founded and led the ministry of Samaritan's Purse in 1970. His mission for this organization was "to meet emergency needs in crisis areas through existing evangelical mission agencies and national churches."

After World War II, Bob Pierce traveled throughout Asia as an evangelist and journalist with Youth For Christ. While on a university lecturing circuit in China, he stumbled across some courageous women who were living among lepers and orphans, sacrificing everything to share the love of Jesus Christ. Through their selfless love, God gave Pierce a vision for ministry. He dedicated himself to finding and supporting other such Christians who were caring for the poor and suffering in the distant corners of the world.

In the summer of 1973, Bob Pierce met his eventual successor, an adventurous young student named Franklin Graham with a growing heart for world missions. Intrigued by his many stories from the field, Franklin began to spend more and more time with the seasoned Christian statesman. In 1975, he accompanied Bob on a life-changing tour of some of the world's neediest mission fields. Franklin saw the poverty of pagan religions and the utter despair of the people they enslave. God had captured his heart for missions.

Bob Pierce died of leukemia in 1978, and a little over a year later, Franklin Graham became President and Chairman of the Board of Samaritan's Purse. Through 30 years of earthquakes, hurricanes, wars, and famine, Franklin has led the ministry in following the Biblical example of the Good Samaritan all across the globe. God has blessed the organization under Franklin's leadership, and the ministry has seen explosive growth.

"Go and do likewise," Christ commanded after explaining the parable of the Good Samaritan in Luke 10. So we do. Samaritan's Purse travels the world's highways looking for victims along the way. We are quick to bandage the wounds we see, but like the Samaritan, we don't stop there. In addition to meeting immediate, emergency needs, we help these victims recover and get back on their feet.

No matter where we go or what we do, we offer more than help. We offer hope. To suffering people in a broken world, we share the news of the only One who can bring true peace—Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace.

One of the Programs of Samaritan Purse is Operation Christmas Child. Since 1993, more than 100 million boys and girls in over 130 countries have experienced God's love through the power of simple shoebox gifts from Operation Christmas Child. Are you able to share to fill a shoe box in order to give hope to a child and let them know someone cares.

The Evangelical Christian Community of Alfred and Almond (ECCAA), is partnering to promote in this area Operation Christmas Child. Almond Union of Churches, which has for many years participated and promoted this concern for others has taken the lead among ECCAA and is acting as a relay station, being a collection center for this region to send boxes to the next stage of collection. THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, November 14

On this date in 1872, J.A. Reed related in a letter to a friend what President Abraham Lincoln had said to him in late December, 1862:

"I hold myself in my present position and with the authority vested in me as an instrument of Providence. I have my own views and purposes, I have my convictions of duty, and my notions of what is right to be done. But I am conscious every moment that all I am and all I have is subject to the control of a Higher Power, and that Power can use me or not use me in any manner, and at any time, as in His wisdom and might may be pleasing to Him."

A Sunday drive on Allegany's Mid-County Tour

Stone and wood barn at Paige road on the Mid-County Tour of Allegany County. (Elaine Hardman Photos)

In the Vandermark and other State Forrest lands we saw patches or lines of larch trees, deciduous conifers that grow new green needles in the spring and shed them after they turn yellow in the fall to be bare all winter. On the Vandermark, the trees were near the road so their needles covered it in golden yellow.

Often on this road we've seen wildlife. Rick has sprinted around a flock of turkeys and ducking deer (or not) is common. At times I've gotten out of the car to get a turtle off the road before it's flattened. We've seen woodchucks, porcupines, rabbits and foxes on that road but today we only noticed a pair of blue jays.

On the right was Allen Forrest road, a good gravel road that goes through the mixed hardwoods for just over a mile with what looked like camping sites along the way. On the left going in all the land is private mixed hardwood forest with dozens of warnings about staying off the property. On the right is the state land, less attractive because of recent harvesting.

Just after Earl Brown Road is a burial site for 2 members of the Sprague family – both named David and buried in 1834 and 1860. It's surrounded by white metal pipe resting on private property before the Phillips Creek State Forrest.

The Mid-County tour takes a right turn onto Route 244 but if you have time, turn left, park at the Phillips' Creek Trail parking area and take a hike in the woods. The trails are clearly marked and there are choices ranging from just over a mile to closer to 10 miles with many of the trails suitable for horses or cross country skiing. Rick and I have logged many miles there thanks to the DEC.

We chose to follow the route so turned right onto 244. At Alfred State's farm we found Phil Schroeder who said that the farm is pretty open to visitors so if you see someone there and want to stop by, feel free.

The farm's hay fields are certified organic, which only required that they switch from chemical fertilizers to cow manure since they hadn't been using pesticides or herbicides. There are 2 dairy herds and barns: conventional and organic. All 80 Ag Students learn both farming methods and the 180 Vet Tech students spend time with both herds as well as the other farm animals.

Cows do a lot of work to turn grass into milk. They drink about 50 gallons of water every day. They are large animals so it's not hard to accept that they need that much water but I'm still working on the statement that Rick found posted on the wall: each cow drools about 30 gallons of saliva a day.

The cows stay on the farm until they don't produce well and right now some of them are 9 years old. That's pretty unusual but as long as the girls turn water and grass into saliva and milk,

The female calves are likely to stay on the farm but a bull calf will cost more to ship than it can be sold for. No milk, no value.

The conventional dairy barn has a milking parlor that takes 6 cows at a time but the organic dairy barn has a robotic milking system. The organic barn also has a cleanliness standard so don't just walk in.

We left the drive on Route 21 to zip into the village of Alfred for lunch at the Collegiate. We had front row seats to the choreography of the grill cook, kitchen crew and general team work that gets a restaurant packed with customers fed well and quickly.

We also drove around the block to stop at the old Kinfolk Natural Grocery. Elliott and Jessen Case sold the business to Dawn Bennett so now it's the Rogue Carrot. It's enlarged again (Do you remember when Mary Lou Cartledge had the back corner for her store, the Wooden Shuttle?) and offers produce, meat, fish, dairy, cereal, pasta, bulk, snacks and Michael's T-Shirts.

Back on the driving tour we saw where Sean Hyland is building a timber frame structure and passed Alfred Martial Arts and Tinkertown Hardware (If you need it, they've got it.) as well as terra cotta roofed homes and the Bicycle Man's recumbent bike factory that draws people from around the world.

In Almond, we saw the Lions Club Park. It has soccer and baseball /softball fields and a playground. It must take quite a few Lions to build and maintain the park.

Karr Valley Road (Route 2) had several cemeteries and houses decorated for Thanksgiving or Christmas and just as snowflakes appeared we saw a wonderful stone and wood barn (Route 2 and Paige Road) advertising Marquette Fine Appliances. We also found the beautifully restored church that is now the Town of Ward Town Hall.

Much of this driving tour goes along state land including Palmer's Pond and lots of farms, ponds and forest land. Places offered firewood and brown eggs.

We stopped outside the Allegany County Poor House, a building slowly falling into itself. It was first built in 1820, burned in 1923, rebuilt and now abandoned. Find its history at www.rootsweb.ancestry.com.

Angelica is packed with places to stop and stroll - around the park in the center of the lovely town circle or through any of the Main Street shops. Restaurants also abound for ice cream or full meals.

The Angelica Library is a beauty, as are many of the Libraries in our county. Even if you don't have a card, stop in and look. It's part museum.

We finished our drive on the Back River Road back at Route 19 in Scio. We drove 65 miles, spent a little money, collected some mud on the tires and used about 4 hours.

There are 6 scenic driving tours mapped out for your day drive. Call Office of Tourism (800-836-1869) and ask for your copy.

Stephen, a 2012 graduate of AACS and current Canisius College sophomore, was the first teenager to cross the finish line with a time of 3:51:59. Matthew, an AACS junior, won first place in the under 18 age group with a time of 4:22:56. This was the first marathon that the brothers ran. Congratulations Brothers Johnson! (Photos provided)

Utica scored on its second possession of the third quarter to make it 31-24, but Alfred boosted its lead back to two touchdowns, at 38-24, on a seven-yard run by Bain that capped a 10-play 74-yard drive with 2:09 left in the third. Utica scored on its first play after recovering an AU fumble at the Alfred 23-yard line—just the Saxons' second turnover in four games—to make the score 38-31. Alfred scored the game's final 10 points, on a 38-yard Gioia field goal with 7:39 left in the fourth and a 35-yard TD pass from Johnson to senior fullback Chuck Beckwith (Victor).

The Dugout

By DOUG LOROW
Alfred Sun Sports Columnist
dugout2@gmail.com

It was off to Alfred for the second straight Saturday to take in the final regular season game for the Alfred Saxons. Coach Dave Murray's squad would be playing the Utica Pioneers in an E8 tilt which was a "must win" contest for AU as they were still in contention for the league championship. A league first-place and an automatic NCAA Division III bid to the post season football tournament. Otherwise known as the "Mount Union Invitational."

Departed from Henrietta with the official Alfred University sports photographer, Leo Nealon on a rather gray, overcast morning. Next stop was the Country Kitchen in Hornell for our "obligatory" breakfast when heading to AU football games! An excellent meal, as always, then over to Wegmans for some more Salt Rising bread, Angelica style and then we were off to Yunevich Stadium in Alfred. The Saxons needed a win over Utica, for Salisbury to beat Ithaca in Maryland and then a victory over SJ Fisher this coming Saturday at Growney Stadium to grab the Empire Eight championship.

Ran into Kay Chapman (not literally) as we were parking the car and getting our warm-weather gear on. Me, layers of clothes and Nealon, camera gear galore. Always good chatting with Kay. Told her I had a conversation with The Mixer in Virginia two evenings earlier. Next in line was the press box to see Cody ... The Voice of the AU Football Saxons, along with Paul Vecchio ... the athletic director. Vecchio was (briefly) explaining the football schedule for next year and beyond, with Brockport coming in as an official league member and a current open spot on the 2014 slate. Enjoy listening to the "inner-workings" of things like that. How two schools decide to get together, contract-talk concerning years, etc. Spotted John and Jean (Clinger) Yorio soon after. Promptly called him Frank! Anyhow, hadn't seen them since the last year of the LPGA Corning Classic. John a former AU player. Woodie and Sue (Clinger) Lange there as well. Almost time for the game, looked around for Paul McDonnell, spotted him and settled into a seat beside him and one of his buddies from back home. Go Saxons!

From the start it was an offensive showcase, both ways as the defense wouldn't be doing much stopping this day, especially not the visitors. The Saxons rolled up 526-yards of offense on Senior Day at Merrill Field and the team continued to impress in all phases of their attack. The Pioneers aren't a bad team with a decent QB, some excellent WR's, but they were no match for AU this day. Alfred drills them, 48-31. Great. Bad news ... Salisbury loses in OT to Ithaca as the Gulls miss a "chip-shot" FG at the end of regulation and a PAT in overtime. Ouch. The Bombers are regular season champs with the tiebreaker their way as they beat AU. Guessing Alfred and Ithaca would be co-champs if the Saxons beat SJ Fisher but the Bombers have the automatic berth locked up for the NCAA's. Very surprised Salisbury lost at home.

Had a chance to chat with Lyndsay Murphy at halftime as she is a GA for the women's basketball team for the second straight year. The women cagers begin play this Saturday in the PS-Behrend tournament. Coach Jay Murphy at the helm. Will probably see them in action at Brockport, Fisher and 'Naz plus one AU home game heading to Alfred with Nealon. Always good talking to Lyndsay, catching up on things.

The Saxons are at SJ Fisher this Saturday in the Courage Bowl with proceeds of the game going to charity. Alfred probably has an outside shot for an "at large" berth to the NCAA tourney due to strength of schedule. The RPI loss looms large but wins over Salisbury, Fisher, Montclair State, Buffalo State and Brockport might be impressive enough to land them the spot. SJ Fisher will have their Senior Day as well, they are looking at a post-season slot as well and have a very potent offense. Could be a 40-37 shootout! Either way, have to believe Alfred gets at least an ECAC Bowl and quite possibly at home.

A most enjoyable Alfred football game, once again, and fun sitting with McDonnell.

HITS AND MISSES:

In other Division III football action of local note it was: Cortland and Morrisville in a wild one with the Red Dragons winning, 62-49 (sorry, Dave) ... Hobart blasting St. Lawrence, 37-7 ... Fisher stomping Buffalo State, 24-6 ... and Brockport was all over Montclair State, 24-0. Ithaca won, 24-23.

Mount Union and John Carroll (A-A) collide in the Ohio Athletic Conference finale for both this Saturday with their league title on the line. Both are 9-0 overall and 8-0 in conference. Yikes! The Purple Raiders are #1 in the latest (all year) D3.com poll while John Carroll is in at #9. Have to believe both make the NCAA's but the loser just might be traveling. Mount Union has lost exactly ONE conference game since 1999 and that was to Ohio Northern. They beat John Carroll last year, 59-17. Mount Union is "only" 203-9 since 1999. Egads.

And how about this conference in Wisconsin, the WIAC. UW-Whitewater is (9-0) and #5 in the country, UW-Oshkosh is (8-1) and in at #8, while UW-Platteville is (8-1) and in the #10 slot. Whitewater beat the other two to inflict their lone losses on them. Whitewater who joined Mount Union for five-straight years in the Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl Championship, 2007-2011. Guess they have

Offensive onslaught: AU defeats Utica, 48-31 in shootout

ALFRED—The Alfred University football team piled up 526 yards of offense and the defense forced three turnovers in a 48-31 victory over visiting Utica College on a chilly Saturday afternoon at Yunevich Stadium.

With the win, the Saxons improved to 7-2 overall and 5-1 in Empire 8 Conference play. AU came into the game hoping for a Salisbury win over Ithaca, which coupled with Alfred victories in its final two game – against Utica and next weekend at St. John Fisher – would have given the Saxons the conference's automatic bid to the NCAA championship tournament. Ithaca defeated Salisbury, 24-23 in overtime, meaning the Saxons will look to beat Fisher and maintain a slim hope that they receive an at-large bid to the NCAAs.

The Saxons were solid on offense against Utica. After punting on their opening possession and spotting the Pioneers a 7-0 lead with just under nine minutes left in the opening frame, the Saxons responded, driving 66 yards in four plays, with freshman quarterback Tyler Johnson (East Syracuse-Minoa) tossing a 43-yard TD pass to senior wide receiver Jonathan Ruffin (Copiague).

Utica went up 10-7 on a field goal with 6:52 left in the first, but AU answered with a seven-play 73-yard drive that ended with the first of four TD runs by sophomore cornerback Calvin Bain (Rochester/East), from six yards out. Utica reclaimed the lead, at 17-14, 3:18 into the second, but Alfred scored 17 unanswered touchdowns to win, 48-31. (Continued on Page 15)

bounced back after not making tourney last year. All three go to NCAA's?

Was a busy sports Saturday for the Paul McDonnell family of Ballston Lake in Section II. His daughter, Danielle's girls soccer team at Burnt Hills-Ballston Lake won their quarter-final "A" game, with ease and are off to Cortland this week. Mom, Penny (AU soccer) at that game while the AU Hall of Famer was in Alfred. Then, the BH-BL football team lost the sectional title game to Queensbury that nite with Paul on the sidelines as an assistant coach and Penny-Danielle in the stands. Queensbury (10-0) handed BH-BL their only two defeats this season. Guy that McDrip and I hooked up with during a round of golf at Lake George this summer, Matt is on the Queensbury staff and played college ball at Hobart. This Saturday for McDonnell it'll be SJ Fisher for the AU game and Cortland for semi-final high school soccer.

The Section Five girls won 4/5 games versus Section Six over the weekend in state quarter-final soccer action. Last year they walked away with five wins. Headed to Cortland are: Webster Thomas in AA, Honeoye Falls-Lima in A, the Hornell Red Raiders in "B" after winning in a PK shootout and Jasper-Troupsburg in "D" action. Burnt Hills-Ballston Lake would meet HF-L in the "A" finals if both win. HF-L undefeated and ranked #1 in the state. Ironically, the only Section Five team not to beat their Buffalo counterparts was Keshequa and they were undefeated prior! Thomas plays North Rockland, HF-L versus Goshen, Hornell draws Oneonta and J-T gets Chazy. Seems like Chazy is there every year and in girls softball. North Rockland and Oneonta are ranked #2 in NYS in their respective classes.

The Jasper-Troupsburg boys are also headed to the state semi-finals in soccer play as they beat Ellicottville, 3-0. The J-T girls also beat Ellicottville to advance. The boys play Watertown with the other half of the bracket: Fort Ann-Chazy.

Coach Kent Brown of the Webster Schroeder girls soccer program is the Section Five "AA" Coach of the Year! Richly deserved honor. Was hoping to see WS top WT in the sectional finale but the Warriors lost, 1-0 on just a miserable nite.

Stephen Baker and his UPenn teammates are one win away from claiming the Ivy League men's soccer championship and the automatic NCAA slot that goes with it. On the other hand, Harvard is as well and they play each other on Saturday. UPenn beat Princeton on Saturday at Rhodes Field in Philly, 2-1 to knock the Tigers out of the picture and need to do the same this Saturday. An injured Baker played 17-minutes on Senior Day/Homecoming Weekend in the UPenn win. Rhodes Field, which sits one parking lot away from Franklin Field ... the original home of the Philadelphia Eagles!

Mixer on the "chain gang" at James Madison University a week ago Saturday as Villanova in town. The "cage man" running the sidelines and daughter Jessica (Fairfax) in school there. JMU now #22 in the nation in the FB-Sub Division.

Was quite the run for Coach Wiley's women's soccer team at SUNY Geneseo in the conference playoffs. The Knights were the #6 seed, traveling to #3 Cortland and beating them in a PK Shootout, then upending #2 Buffalo State in Buffalo, 2-1 ... before falling in the SUNYAC title game, 4-1 to #1 Oneonta at Oneonta. A very young Geneseo squad. Would've made trip if Geneseo-Brockport game or (perhaps) to Oneonta if a healthy Beale available.

Spotted some vanity plates here and there: HOT AIR ... balloons in Dansville, EAST AVE ... in Rochester, BELLAUNO ... Masotti, BILZ FAN ... dwindling, REDSX6 with BoSox logo ... should not be allowed on NY plates, CNC4WOOD ... Frank on par 3 at Cove Cay and TALKTANK ... 3L.

A-A grads Jake Taft and Our Man Frank took in the RibFest in St. Pete's (FL) on Friday nite past ... minus Scum. REO Speedwagon performing. Aimee and Jamie (A-A/Lyons) were there the next day. Jamie Bennett a former judge of this event back when he was mayor.

The "Traveling Sports Fan" from Almond has been busy of late to a few events. Back-to-back Alfred football games and a week ago Sunday at Ralph Wilson Stadium for a Bills contest. The ex-cager at A-A ran into former AU QB, Tom Secky at the Bills game. Go figure!

How about this recent stretch of golf for the 2013 Masters winner, Adam Scott. He won the Grand Slam of Golf pitting the four major winners (minus Phil Mickelson) and just won the Australian PGA in his native Australia last week. This week he is in the Australian Masters and think the following week it is the World Cup, also in his native Australia.

Daughter Lauren busy this past weekend as she took bus to Binghamton from NYC with Aileen Sweeney, a friend from Geneseo days. Then, upon returning on Sunday, Jess Herbst (Schroeder/UVM) in town and stayed with 3L.

Headed to the Alfred-Fisher football game this Saturday in Pittsford. Go AU!

Belated "thanks" to all the veterans and those serving our country ... Veterans Day 11-11-13.
