

PLANS FOR TOMORROW'S MEET NOW COMPLETE

80 Entries For Track Events—Speaking Contests Larger Than Last Year

Last Monday there were only three High Schools that had returned their entry blanks and things looked pretty blue for the Interscholastic management. But by using the telephone continually for nearly three days Manager Sherwood rounded up the stragglers and now reports that he has just eighty entries for track events. There were about eighty contestants in last year's meet because of one school not coming. So the Meet this year will undoubtedly be fully as large as that of last year. The cross-country run has three schools entered and promises to be a record breaker. Henry Harrington has been appointed as manager of the cross-country. Mr. Harrington reports that the course will be the same as that of former years.

The competing schools for tomorrow's events are as follows:

Andover High School
Bradford High School
Canisteo High School
Haverling High School (Bath).
Hornell High School
Scio High School
Warsaw High School.
Corning Free Academy.
Masten Park High School.

The speaking contests will be larger than last year. There are thirteen entries thus necessitating having the boys' and girls' contests on separate evenings. There are six girls entered and seven boys. The girls' contest will be on Tuesday evening at 7:30 and the boys' contest and the awarding of trophies and medals at 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening. The speakers are as follows:

GIRLS

Corrine Harsch—Olean
Barbara Kriger—Corning F. A.
Katherine Lynn—Corning N. S.
Helen Razy—Hornell
Laura Smith—Alleghany
Esther Vroom—Haverling.

BOYS

James Austin—Scio
Clarence Brisco—Corning N. S.
Joe P. Frushone—Silver Creek
Charles Maker—Hornell
Mather Parker—Haverling
Morgan Prytherck—Binghamton
Lester Sisson—Prattsburg.

Prof. Thornton reports that there are eleven entries in the stock judging contest which will be held Wednesday morning at the Ag Barns. There were only nine entries in the stock judging contest last year. But Prof. Thornton's efforts have been rewarded by beating last year's record by two schools.

To close the events of Interscholastic Day, there will be the usual Track Meet dance on Wednesday evening. Though one of the most informal dances of the year, this dance is always looked forward to as one of the most enjoyable dances of this year. Wiley's orchestra of Hornell will furnish the music.

With each quarter saved buy a Thrift Stamp.

LOYALTY MEDAL IS AWARDED TO CLIFFORD POTTER '18

By vote of the students last Wednesday morning, Clifford Potter '18, was proclaimed as the student who has done the most for Alfred during the present year, and is thus the winner of the gold loyalty medal. Each year a gold medal is given by a member of the Twentieth Century Club through that organization in recognition of the student who, in the opinion of the students, had done the most for Alfred during the present year.

"The purpose of the donor of the loyalty medal is not to provide some trinket for the most popular chap, but rather that the medal shall be a symbol of appreciation from the entire college." We think that in the selection of Clifford Potter, the students have well fulfilled the purpose of the donor, for Mr. Potter is well-deserving of the honor that has been bestowed upon him. He has been an active and faithful worker in nearly every phase of college activities since his entrance in college. He was assistant Interscholastic manager during his Sophomore year, and manager of the Track Meet in his Junior year. This year he was varsity football manager. Last year he was one of the Junior representatives on the Student Senate, and this year, before his leave for government service, he was president of the Senate.

Early in April Mr. Potter answered his call to service and is now at Camp Dix.

"LE BOURGEOIS GENTILHOMME" TO BE GIVEN

Commencement Week Footlight Club Will Present a Moliere Comedy—Characters Have Been Chosen

At last the Footlight Club committee on selection have finished the arduous task of selecting the play which the Footlight Club will present at Commencement time. The final choice is Moliere's "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" or "The Citizen Gentleman." In the presentation of this production, the Alfred public will be offered something entirely different from anything which has heretofore been presented here, for this is the first time that a production of Moliere has ever been attempted in Alfred. "The Bourgeois Gentilhomme" is a comedy, as are most of Moliere's works, for he was the greatest comedian of all times. Living in the age of Louis XIV, an age which surpasses all others for its brilliancy and splendor, Moliere's works reflect the true spirit of the age. It was an age of prosperity in France an age when the chief ambition of the ordinary person was to participate in the brilliant court life of Louis XIV. It was such an empty ambition as this which makes Mr. Jourdain, in "The Citizen Gentleman" so very ridiculous. M. Jourdain is a rich commoner who seems to have acquired his sudden wealth by inheritance, and like many thus of which he is a type, he is seized with a desire to rise in the social world. On every turn he makes himself most ridiculous, making every endeavor to attach himself to the shady wonders of the nobility. Such a man is well known,—it is a type which is renewed in every generation, and Moliere, by fixing it in literature, has but shown the breadth and keenness of his observation.

"Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" was written and first presented about 1670, and from that time until the present, it has remained one of the standard plays at the Theatre Francais. It is a comedy, and a "comedy ballet" for in it acting, singing and dancing are intermingled. From the beginning to the end of the piece, there is no episode nor scene which is not a complement to some previous episode or situation.

In the choosing of the characters for "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme," the Footlight Club has found it necessary to go beyond the members of the Club. However, persons who are asked to take part in the play should consider it a great honor, for this will determine in part, what new members will this year be admitted to the Footlight Club. The caste of characters is as follows:

M. Jourdain—A Parisian Merchant
Morton Mix
Mme. Jourdain—His wife
Laura Keegan
Lucile—His daughter Hilda Ward
Dorimene—A Marquise
Mary Hunting
Dorante—A count in love with Dorimene
Norman Whitney
Cleonte—A suitor to Lucile
Adolph Vossler

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS VOTED ON WED.

At the meeting of the student body last Wednesday morning at the Assembly hour, the proposed amendments were considered and voted upon. All of the amendments, with the exception of one or two changes, were passed. The amendment to Article II, was passed by a large majority. The Article as it now stands will read as follows: All Freshmen are required to wear either a green cap with a short visor and a large gold button, or a green toque with a short gold tassel, through the period covering the first two terms of the college year, and the Interscholastic Track Meet. Moving up day shall be set by the Freshmen class with the approval of the Student Senate. The amendment to Article III, pertaining to under class contests was modified. The amendment, as proposed, would imply that all underclass contests, which would include banquets, should be umpired by an upperclassman in connection with the physical director. The amendment, as passed, says that all athletic contests shall be umpired by upperclassmen in connection with upper classmen.

In regard to the amendment regarding banquet season, as suggested in Article IV, there was much unnecessary and useless discussion. The amendment, as finally passed, provides that underclass banquets are to be held during the third week in October, any time between Monday morning at five o'clock and Thursday evening at sunset. Amendments to Article V were passed as proposed. The three provisions under Article VIII were unanimously passed. According to this article, all officers of any student organization of Alfred College or School of Ceramics which last throughout the college year, shall be classified according to a definite system of credits, the number of credits being in proportion to the demand of each office upon the time of the student. The values to be given to the different offices will be decided later.

SOPHS ENTERTAIN SENIORS AT MAY PARTY

Following the well worn precedent of years, the graduating class of the college was entertained by its sister class last Monday evening. The party was held in Firemens Hall. The hall was charmingly decorated in pink, green and white, following out the idea of May and the spring time. The stage was banked with apple blossoms and lilacs, and the hall canopied with curling ribbons of the three colors, giving the effect of a spring bower.

The Seniors were entertained first by a play of sophomore talent, "Oberon and Sitania." The play is a short farce based on part of Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream, and it was well and cleverly presented. The rest of the evening was most enjoyably passed in dancing. At eleven supper was served, the menu being:

Fruit Salad Saltines
Olives
Ice Cream Little Cakes
Coffee
Nuts Candies

The color scheme of pink, green and white was faithfully carried out, even in the supper.

"OLIVER TWIST" PRESENTED SATURDAY EVENING

Juniors Score Big Success In Dramatization of Dickens' Novel

Fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters, sweethearts and more critical spectators were there to watch the Juniors pull off their annual Kanakadea play, Saturday evening, May 11. Instead of an old-line play the class put on the boards a dramatization of Dicken's "Oliver Twist." The piece was not so much of a drama, as a series of loosely connected but characteristic scenes from the long novel which Dickens has so webbed with circumstance.

The play had the Dickens flavor all right. It recalled to us how in our fast-fading youth we pored over Dickens with delight, how we trembled for and loved wistful, little Oliver, how we had creepy feelings all up and down our back when Slimy Fagin appeared, how terror-stricken we grew at the thought of Bill Sykes, how enchanted we were at the author's whimsies, how we gloated in the bluster of his crochety, glutty, good-hearted old gentlemen, and how we shuddered at the terrible fates of Sykes and Fagin.

In spite of necessary long interruptions for scene-shifts, the play was a great success. It was a hard job finished off in a delightful fashion by Miss Elsie Binns and her troupe of Junior players. True, some parts were marred by stiffness, weakness of voice, and forgotten lines. On the other hand, we should like to mention the names of those who especially delighted us were the list not to long. On account of the shortage of men—is the male becoming extinct in this region?—a number of masculine characters were impersonated—and to the great satisfaction of the spectators—by girls.

The caste is given below:

Mrs. Corney	Ethel Larson
Mrs. Corney's Cat	Nigger King
Mr. Bumble	Leroy Fess
Mr. Brownlow	Ethel Burnett
Harry Maylie	Donald Hagar
Oliver Twist	Dorothy Baxter
Mrs. Bedwin	Mary Hunting
Mr. Grimwig	Vincent Axford
Artful Dodger	Elsie Swallow
Tom Chiting	Hazel Stillman
Charles Bates	Gladys Pidcock
Betsy	Florentine Hamilton
Fagin	Adolph Meier
Bill Sykes	Frank Lobaugh
Bill Sykes' Dog	Bepo King
Nance	Hazel Humphreys
Barney	Ruth Canfield
Mrs. Maylie	Mary Elizabeth Wilson
Rose Fleming	Elizabeth Davis
Giles	Donald Fuller
Brittles	Wayland Burdick
The Cook	Elsie Tefft
Monks	Donald Fuller
The Maid	Gertrude Wells

Corporal Finla G. Crawford, Alfred '15, was in Alfred for several days last week. Corporal Crawford is on a week's furlough from Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill.

AN APPRECIATION

Last night's occasion will long be remembered by the seniors who were generously entertained by their kind-hearted sophomores. We can readily appreciate the work involved in creating an aesthetic atmosphere, which was so conspicuous during the evening. We extend our sincere gratitude and thanks to our hosts, and trust that they may be frequent participants of many more such joyful gatherings.

Y. M. C. A.

At the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday evening Adolph Vossler told something of the work of recreation committees in some of the various towns and camps in which his sister has had an opportunity to work. The question for discussion was just what our recreation should be in these times and how it should be organized.

At this meeting Dr. Hudson J. Ballard of Hornell and Dr. Stohl of College Hill were nominated as the speakers for the Christian Associations for Commencement. These names and also the nominations of the Y. W. C. A. will be voted upon next Sunday evening.

Y. W. C. A.

An unusually interesting meeting was held in Y. W. Sunday night. The topic, "Every Girl" was discussed by Helen B. Keis and Beatrice Streeter. After the reading of brief papers, there was an informal argument as to the path a girl's duty should take. There are three possible ways: her duty may lie to herself, to her parents, or to her country. The statement was made that a girl's duty lies first to those people who have sacrificed the most for her. If a girl feels she can develop herself more, and with true value to the world by giving to college, is she right to leave her parents? This year especially, it is very hard to arrive at a decision because it is a time beset with difficulties and trials. Pleasures are changed—the greatest pleasure is obtained in work for others. Duty to country calls the girl who sees the soldiers going across, and who asks to do her part. The following creed is a very good plan of action to adopt:

"Be honest, be fearless, be just, joyous, kind. This will make your part in life great, and as yet not fully understood play one of greatest glory, and we need then stand in fear of nothing—life nor death; for death is life. Or rather it is the quick transition to life in another form; the putting off of the old coat and the putting on of the new, a passing not from light to darkness, but from light to light according as we have lived here; a taking up of life in another form where we leave it off here; a part in life not to be shunned or dreaded or feared, but to be welcomed with a glad and ready smile when it comes in its own good way and time."

We are glad to note that the use of the path across the park has been almost entirely discontinued. Perhaps the mere suggestion of the real detraction of the campus from the use of this path was enough to convince us of that truth. And then perhaps we have ceased to use the cross-cut because of the "do not cross here" sign which has been put across the path. At any rate, we are glad that something has done the good work.

Tomorrow will be one of the biggest occasions of the whole college year. Interscholastic time always means a big crowd, and though under the prevailing war conditions, one might expect less this year than usual, the efforts of Manager Sherwood have assured us that the Meet will be fully as large, if not larger than usual. There will be many people here, and they will be not merely passersby, but they will be the guests of Alfred. The attitude which we take toward them will determine largely the attitude that they will take toward Alfred in the future. Moreover, they will be strangers here, they will be our guests, and it is our duty to give to the guests which we have invited here the best of everything. Do your part!

OUR NEW ALMA MATER

"Nestled Away Among the Empire State Hills" is to be Alfred's new Alma Mater. This is the result of the action taken by the student body last Wednesday morning, when it was unanimously voted to adopt this as our new Alma Mater. However, the new Alma Mater will not go into effect until the beginning of next year.

"Nestled Away Among the Empire State Hills" was written by an Alfred man, and in adopting this as our Alma Mater, for which it was originally intended, we will have an Alma Mater which belongs distinctively to Alfred. The words are exceedingly appropriate for an Alma Mater, and the song is one which is known and loved by every Alfred student.

WHY SHOULD STUDENTS PETITION CONGRESS

Twice Mr. Hoover has said, and there are other indications that the opinion has wide prevalence at Washington, that the prohibition forces of the country have not yet given the government sufficient evidence that it would be properly backed by the nation in adopting prohibition as a war measure.

The food, financial, labor, and moral strength being lost daily to the nation through drink, and the use of food materials in the manufacture of intoxicants, are becoming more and more evident to all. The government knows these facts—there is no doubt of that. But it wants to know and deserves to know that the people as a whole will stand by it, and against those financial interests which think more of profits than of preventing waste—more of (liquor) "business as usual," than of applying every resource to win the war.

Citizens everywhere are sending petitions, telegrams and letters; they are showing patriotic support of war prohibition. But there is a very special reason why colleges and students should do so, as well, in addition to the fact that they are responsible citizens sharing the obligations of all democratic citizens in war time.

Perhaps no other class or group in the whole country is sending such a high percent of its men, nor so able and efficient a class of men, to the army and navy, as are the colleges. Therefore, the attitude of the colleges will have special meaning and special force with Congressmen, who are facing the question of war prohibition. The colleges have a right and a duty to let their attitude be known.

It is recognized that the liquor selling and heavy drinking classes can not, however patriotic they may desire to be, furnish as many able-bodied men, proportionately, to army and navy; as a class they have blighted their military efficiency in advance of the moment of the nation's need. Why their "interests" count so much at a time like this? Why should their activity against war prohibition be more pronounced than that of the colleges of the country for it. For the colleges are sending, or will send next year, almost all their men of sufficient age to the front.

The occasion for college students and college professors to express themselves effectively is very concrete and immediate. The obligation to do so is unique and heavy. And the expression which counts is that of personal letters, student body resolutions by wire, fraternity, class, department, group resolutions, sent to Congress through the Representative and Senator from that district.

UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION

The United States Food Administration at Washington has sent out the following appeal to college men:

If you cannot get into the ranks, you can yet fight with your fellows who have gone. Will you?

The battlefield is here. The battle is now.

The struggle for Democracy is within you.

It is as important for you to do your duty at home as it is for the boys to do theirs "over there."

It is as necessary to provide food for our armies, and for the armies and families of the Allies, as it is to face the enemy.

Therefore,

1. Be intelligent; inform yourselves about food.
2. Create more food if you can.
3. Do not waste any.
4. Do not allow others to waste any.
5. Obey the food regulations,—they are the careful and honest work of those who know what they are doing.
6. By every legal means prevent their violation, by others.
7. Help everyone who is trying to serve in the cause of food.
8. Be aggressive agents of the Food Administration wherever you go.

What you are to be through life will be decided by what you do today in this crisis of human history.

RURAL EDUCATION COURSES AT ALFRED SUMMER SCHOOL

Are you ambitious to create a real rural school, the whole program of which shall connect directly with the problems and experiences of rural life? (It can be done without changing the subjects taught). Do you covet power to inspire farmer boys and girls with visions of the worthfulness of farm life? Would you like to see bed-making and vegetable growing so connected with the work of the rural school that these homely chores take on big educational value? Don't you long to awaken in your pupils a new sense of artistic value in dress, and in the farm home and its surroundings; or to be able to organize a jolly rural festival or get-together? Then come to Alfred Summer School and among other things get in touch with the Demonstration school—a real live rural school in full operation—and its expert teacher. She will solve lots of your problems. Write at once for catalogues to Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, Director, Alfred, N. Y.

WAR WORK DURING THE SUMMER

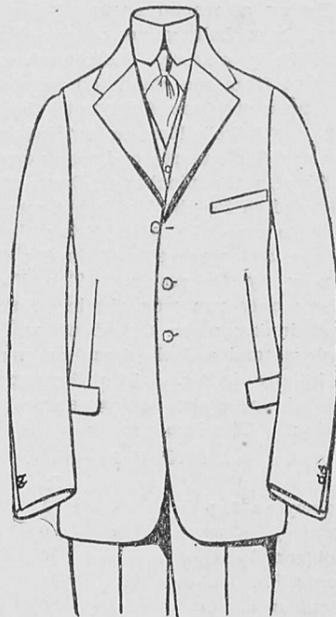

Besides the extensive cultivation of college war gardens during the summer, other plans have been made to turn the energy of college girls into patriotic work. A new summer school will be established at Vassar College, known as the training camp for nurses. This camp will open June 24 and continue until September 13. It will be under the auspices of the Council of National Defense and the Red Cross.

"Just as Plattsburgh was the beginning of a system to train educated men for the higher positions of military life in the shortest possible time, so the Vassar Camp is the first scientific attempt to fit educated women as quickly as possible to officer the nursing profession," is the statement of the publicity department of the camp. "The Vassar idea is the equivalent of the Plattsburgh system. It is designed to overcome the shortage of nurses that now confronts the country, when 12,000 scientifically trained women are needed for every million soldiers, when our Allies are calling on America for trained women to officer their hospitals, and when the public-health standards for the country are menaced by new working and living conditions and the growing scarcity of doctors and nurses." Further:

The three months at the camp will eliminate the "drudge period" of the nurses' training, doing away with much of the manual labor and elementary instruction, thus permitting the student to step right into advanced hospital work to complete her training for the "Registered Nurse" degree. The trustees have not only turned over the four large quadrangle dormitories for instruction purposes, but they have also made every effort to insure the physical comfort of the new students. The college farm will supply fresh vegetables and milk, and full maid service will be continued. In addition, the undergraduates have interested themselves in the newcomers so much that they have agreed to leave their rooms entirely furnished with all the knick knacks and comforts to make the "campers" feel at home. There will be a number of scholarships allowing students to take the course entirely without expense. One alumna of Vassar, for example, has offered to pay the tuition and maintenance fees of some younger woman. The regular fees will amount to $95, which will cover everything, tuition, board, lodging, and laundry—less than a woman could live on in her own home for the same period.

The dean of the camp is Herbert E. Mills, professor of economics at Vassar; Dr. C. E. Winslow of Yale University, will be professor of bacteriology and hygiene; Miss Florence Sabin, Johns Hopkins, anatomy and physiology; Prof. Margaret Washburn, Vassar, psychology; Dr. Wm. H. Park, New York Department of Health, bacterology; Prof. Helen Pope, Carnegie Institute, dietetics. Anyone who wishes information as to the camp or the opportunities for nurses should write the Recruiting Committee, 106 East Fifty-second St., New York City, or address Dean Mills, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

AUDIT OF STUDENT ACCOUNTS

In accordance with the provisions of Article VII of the Campus Rules, all those students who have been or are "transacting any financial business for any student organization or in any activity involving students of Alfred College or School of Ceramics" will please bring their accounts, (including vouchers), to be audited on or before May 22d.

SOPHS 20—FROSH 1

Friday afternoon occurred the annual base ball game of the Frosh and Soph classes. Although outclassed from the start, the Freshmen put up a stubborn fight until the finish. "Spike" Kenyon twirled well for the Sophomores and was very effective in the pinches. Davis started to pitch for the Frosh but was unable to stop the hard-hitting Sophomores, and was relieved in the fifth inning by Ockerman. The Freshman's only run was obtained in the first inning when Ockerman walked, stole second and third and scored on a hit by Lyttle. The Sophomores scored in every inning except the eights. THE COSMICAL IDEA

Perhaps glancing down from some unknown planet,
My eyes beheld a spect where dwells the living man,
An image mirrored through the space of time,
Not a world that I know, but one which the seeing eye of mortal can.
Throughout the darkness that reigns amidst the solitude of night,
Golden spots glittering, mere pendent globes of the air,
A sun, a moon, a star, a planet shining on another world,
All are through me and for me existing, everywhere.
This sun, this moon, this star, this ever hanging world,
All know not me, but I know them because I know,
Yet in so far as man knows me, I am as the world,
All is idea, be it from above, on earth, or far below.

—BY AL.

THE COMICAL IDEA

Perhaps, spy glass in hand, I stand on Mars;
At last I find our queer and quarrelsome sphere,
And searching round, I find a college town
And wonder what these folk are doing here.
Some are engaged in work and some in play,
Some others I can see, just sit and dream;
I wonder what they're at so watch them close,
And find them writing poetry by the ream.
"This sun, this moon, this everhanging world,"
In some such fashion do they tempt the muse.
Why must they be and how they get that way,
Is more than I can tell—ask Mose.

—"Hush little Thrift stamp don't you cry, you'll be a war stamp by and by."

NO SAFER BACKER IN WORLD THAN UNCLE SAM.

Washington.—The credit of the United States was so high and unquestionable that in 1900, two years after the Spanish war, 2 per cent. bonds were offered at par and oversubscribed. This is a financial performance no other nation has ever equaled.
Back of the $250,000,000,000 to $300,000,000,000 of this nation's resources stands the rugged honesty of America. War-Savings and Thrift Stamps are the safest security in the world.

The United States has never defaulted on any of its bonds. Not one of its bondholders has ever lost a cent of principal or interest except those who have voluntarily taken losses by selling their bonds in a period of temporary price depression. One hundred cents on the dollar, principal and interest, has the United States always paid.

The War-Savings Stamps—"little baby bonds"—of the United States government are supported by the resources of the entire country, just as much as other securities issued by the government. This is the only security in the world which cannot decrease in value. It is always redeemable for more than you paid for it.

—WSS—

THE WAR-SAVINGS SOCIETY.

It provides an opportunity for a discussion of the war, which is the chief business in which this country is now engaged.

It furnishes an easy and convenient method of buying War-Savings Stamps. It furnishes a basis for competition and rivalry between societies, with a resultant beneficial effect upon individual savings.

It introduces the habit of regular, systematic saving and relieves the necessity of constantly urging the purchase of War-Savings Stamps upon the public.

It provides a medium through which the subject of thrift can be kept before the people over a long period of time.
