Babysitters sought by Non-Traditional Student Union

The Non-Traditional Student Union, working on behalf of students who are also parents, will be creating a "babysitter contact sheet" that will assist parents in finding care for their children while they attend AU classes.

Many parents struggle to find daycare for those rare days when their children are off from school but AU is open. It is NTSU's hope that AU students can watch children while their parents attend campus classes and the AU student can make some money in the process.

If you are interested in either being on the list or receiving a copy of the list, please e-mail Eric at etc1@alfred.edu.
