Would you provide a good interview?

One of our media outlets is "looking for professors and administrators in several categories: They have quirky passions and hobbies (on or off the campus); They have good travel stories about their academic travels; They have unusual expertise in food (cooking it, studying it, whatever); They have found innovative ways to work sports and recreation into their academic schedules."

If you have a suggestion, please forward to Debbie Clark at clarkd@alfred.edu by Thursday, Dec. 14. Thank you.

Community Outreach Through The Arts (COTTA)

COTTA's mission is to create lasting public art projects within the Village of Alfred. We are currently working on revamping the bus shelter on the corner of West University and North Main streets. COTTA is seeking input from the community to help develop a concept design that reflects the Village of Alfred.

alfredcotta.blogspot.com is COTTA's Web site where comments can be left regarding 4 concept designs. Secondly COTTA has placed informative posters with comment cards in local businesses for public input. Any other questions can be emailed to alfredcotta@gmail.com. COTTA hopes to complete the project by the beginning of May 2007.
