Dear Ruth:

I have your letter and am very sorry to learn of the situation. I do not see what else you can do and I fully expect that after you summer work, something satisfactory will open up for you. I hope you will keep me advised of any change in the situation.

I have an excellent group of seven pieces which I am sending to New York next week. I am also to serve on the art jury at that time.

The family join me in very kind regards.
