MasterCard Changes Coming

We're making some changes to the MasterCard administrative process. To allow individuals time to become familiar with the new program features, beginning with the next reconciliation cycle you will have the option to scan and upload receipts in the Smartdata system or submit hardcopy receipts with your statement.

For those who have found the scanning option convenient, please continue to use it. If you elect to upload your receipts you will not need to submit hard copies with your monthly statement. Rather, you should retain your receipts until you have been notified by Office and Procurement Services that your information has been verified. You will still need to print your statement, initial it, and send to your card manager.

If you elect not to upload your receipts during this transition period, you must continue to attach all receipts to your statement and submit. Missing receipt forms should still be completed and submitted in paper form due to the necessity of signatures.

We will review the process again in August and it is our hope that cardholders will be more comfortable with this new Smartdata system feature.

[Please note that original receipts for travel charged to the MasterCard must still be attached to the Travel Expense Report and sent to the business office.]

We have also worked with the Chase Program Team to find alternatives to using personal information on the card application. Effective immediately we will begin to replace your Social Security number with your Banner ID number. Since we must continue to request verification information, we will use month and date of birth (ie: April 1 would be 0401) in lieu of mother's maiden name. The cardholder will be responsible for knowing this information should they have a need to contact the card issuer (JP Morgan Chase) directly, or should the card issuer need to contact the cardholder.

To transition to this new setup, current cardholders should update their information using the revised application available on the Office and Procurement Services website or by requesting one directly from our office.

For your convenience, we have also attached the new application form to this notice. The revised form will replace the one on file, which will be appropriately discarded (shredded) upon updating with the new data. New cardholders can obtain a copy of the revised form as instructed above.

Please note that Alfred University is liable to JP Morgan Chase for all charges made on the MasterCard. By obtaining a MasterCard an individual's personal credit will not be impacted.

Hot Dog Day Needs Volunteers!

Hot Dog Day raises thousands of dollars each year for local charities. This cannot be accomplished without the generous time donation of our student volunteers.

Several of our committees still need volunteers to help with the day's tasks. The committees still in need are:

- Provisions - Helping stock the hot dog and soda booths
- Carnival - Helping organize the carnival games and accounting for club participation
- Vendor Fair - Working with local artisans and vendors to situate them on Main Street

Hot Dog Day is on Saturday, April 27 and volunteers will typically assist beginning at 8 a.m.

Please consider volunteering! It is a great way to be involved in community service and to get a free T-shirt!

You can sign up to volunteer by visiting the attached link and filling out the form. Limited number of volunteers needed, act quickly!

Volunteers Needed!

Volunteers are need for Children and Youth Learning Initiative programs! Children and Youth Learning Initiative is a program where every week area middle and high school students are brought to campus for hands-on educational programming that focuses on encouraging students to attend college. This is also a great opportunity for future educators to interact with students in a learning environment before you get into the classroom.

These programs run select days during the month from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. To volunteer for the programs you do not need to be an expert in the subject, you can learn as well. To sign up for one of the programs all you have to do is select the date or dates you would like to volunteer and email CYLI@alfred.edu the name of the program along with the date and I will send you further information such as where to meet and a further description of the program.
