'Faculties of Solace'

Saturday, May 4

Time: 5-9 P.M.

Location: The Belfry, 406 Canisteo St., Hornel

Cost to Attend: Free

"Faculties of Solace" is a group exhibition, featuring new work by Chris Taylor, Mahlon Huston, and Shawn Murrey curated by Ian McMahon at the Belfry in Hornell.

A "studio" can be quite disparate from artist to artist; it is an arena taking many shapes and forms. It becomes a place to corral ideas, develop, explore, uncover, turn over, and create. Perhaps it is a specific location or just a state of mind; a mental platform that is climbed upon to ponder, question, and reexamine.

Although specific studio practice is quite varied for these three artists there is a paralleling quest, quandary and aptitude that occurs within their handling of material. The art of crafting, tooling, and working materials becomes not just a means to create but a mental and physical retreat, a place in which doubt, pain, and pleasure can move out of the mind through the shoulders, arms, and hands eventually passing through the fingers into tool and material.

"Faculties of Solace" consists of three new works exhibited in the sanctuary of what was once a Methodist church. The building and its original functions came to light as an appropriate, and in turn influential, subject and setting for new sculptures inspired by the conversation surrounding the composition of making. Not unlike religion, the transformation of material by the hand becomes a ritual within which there is room for reflection. Faculties within craft become mechanisms for investigation. Making becomes a place of solace.

The Belfry will be a stop on the Hornell Arts Walk. Shuttle buses will be running from the Hornell Community Arts Center located on Center St. parking lot (down from Paddy's Pub)

The Belfry is also open by appointment, contact: underthebelfry@gmail.com

Multiple Sclerosis Walk 2013 - The Grey DOES Matter - Please Read

It is time for everyone touched by MS to share information and raise awareness about multiple sclerosis.

I will be walking in Walk MS 2013 in Wellsville on Sunday, May 5, 2013. Please use the link below to make a donation to the National MS Society for me and my team, 50 Shades of Grey Matter.

I have personally seen what the National MS Society has done and will do for local people suffering from MS. They will pay for the uninsured person's medication if needed, they provide transportation to and from appointments, they provide free workshops, (I have attended a yoga for people with limitations workshop, and a managing MS pain workshop) they have even offered to remodel one woman's bathroom so she will be able to get into her shower.

If a person with MS needs anything, all you have to do is call them and they will be there to provide help and support.

You can also join the team to walk with me on May 5 or you can start your own team. Sign up, pledge, donate. MS needs a cure. The grey DOES matter!
