Jewish High Holy Days Accommodations/Policy

Soon it will be the season of the Jewish High Holy Days.

Rosh Hashanah begins Wednesday evening, Sept. 24 and runs through Friday, Sept. 26.

Yom Kippur is Friday evening, Oct. 3 and Saturday, Oct. 4.

Some observant students will not attend classes during Rosh Hashanah. Some students may wish to go home for the holidays and might ask for some concessions. Professor Greil, adviser to Hillel, will advise students to observe the holidays according to their conscience. He will advise them to request any special consideration in advance, to be responsible for the days' work, and to make arrangements to complete any work missed.

Professor Greil hopes his colleagues will accommodate the students in this conflict of calendars. These arrangements are consistent with University policies regarding religious observances for students, faculty, and staff.

Alfred University Policy on Discrimination, Harassment, Sexual Misconduct

Alfred University's Discrimination, Harassment, and Sexual Misconduct Policy has been adopted to ensure that all students, faculty, staff, and guests may work, study, and enjoy the society of the University community without being subjected to discrimination, harassment, or any form of non-consensual sexual activity.

To emphasize our commitment to keeping our community safe from unwanted acts Dr. Charles Edmondson, president of Alfred University, has issued the attached letter to reinforce this fact. You will also find a link where you can view and/or print out the policy.

If you or someone you know of has been subjected to any of the prohibited actions listed in the policy you are encouraged to report these violations to any of the officials listed in the policy document.

Looking for Students Interested in Diving!

The swimming and diving program is looking to fill a few diving spots (both male and female). We are looking for students who would like to compete in a collegiate sport (now-February).

We will work with anyone (even beginners) who is interested in giving it a shot. Preferably, all candidates will be athletic, have good coordination, and great movement and body awareness. Former athletes, especially gymnasts could make great divers. You must have a willingness to try doing flips and twists (forward and backward) on the diving board.

Feel free to contact Head Coach Brian Striker at striker@alfred.edu if even the slightest bit interested.

International Exhibition of Contemporary Student Printmaking

Location: Robert C. Turner Gallery
Date: Friday, Sept. 19
Time: 7-8:30 P.M.
Cost to Attend: Free/Open to the Public

The International Exhibition of Contemporary Student Printmaking will showcase the newest directions in contemporary printmaking at 15 participating institutions in nine countries across the world and it will also be exhibited at Southern Graphics International Council 2015 Conference at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville.

Three students from the School of Art and Design are represented in this traveling exhibition: Maggie Wilson 2014, Tim Pauszek, and Ting Liu. Each participant made 15 prints to allow a print to be sent to each institution for exhibit and then will become part of their permanent print collection.

Thirty-nine Prints from this exchange will be exhibited in the Turner Student Gallery opening Friday, Oct. 19.

This print exchange and resulting exhibits are a result of a previous collaboration of International Print Media Faculty event that was held at the Xi'an Academy of Fine Arts, CHINA at the "2013 Xi'an *International Printmaking Workshop" in October 2013.

Joseph Scheer attended this workshop representing the College of Ceramics, School of Art and Design's Printmaking area, which is in the Division of Expanded Media.

A Matter of Balance Program

Have you turned down a chance to go out with family or friends because you were concerned about falling? Do you have a fear of falling? If so, A Matter of Balance: Managing Concerns About Falls is a program for you.

Fear of falling can be just as dangerous as falling itself. People who develop this fear often limit their activities, which can result in severe physical weakness, making the risk of falling even greater. Many older adults also experience increased isolation and depression when they limit their interactions with family and friends. A Matter of Balance can help people improve their quality of life and remain independent.

A Matter of Balance is designed to reduce the fear of falling and increase activity levels among older adults. Participants learn to set realistic goals to increase activity, change their environment to reduce fall risk factors, and learn simple exercises to increase strength and balance.

The Allegany/Western Steuben Rural Health Network, Inc. in conjunction with the Allegany County Fall Prevention Collaborative is offering the course A Matter of Balance: Managing Concerns About Falls Thursdays and Mondays, throughout the months of October and November 2014, starting Thursday, Oct. 16 and ending Monday, Nov. 10. The class is scheduled 2-4 p.m. at the Union University Church, Alfred. Each class will build upon the previous week making it extremely important to attend all sessions.

The registration fee is $10. Scholarships are available upon request. A workbook is provided and refreshments are served.

Pre-registration is required by contacting Melissa Biddle, Community Health Program Manager at the Allegany/Western Steuben Rural Health Network, Inc. at 585.593.5223 ext. 15, by Friday, Oct. 10, 2014. Space is limited so don't hesitate to register today.

The class agenda is as follows:

Thursday, Oct. 16 Introduction to the Program

Monday, Oct. 20 Exploring Thoughts and Concerns About Falling

Thursday, Oct. 23 Exercise and Fall Prevention

Monday, Oct. 27 Assertiveness and Fall Prevention

Thursday, Oct. 30 Managing Concerns About Falling

Monday, Nov. 3 Recognizing Fall-ty Habits

Thursday, Nov. 6 Recognizing Fall Hazards in the Home and Community

Monday, Nov. 10 Practicing No Fall-ty Habits Fall Prevention
