back to topSend Email ReminderNew Year - Time to Update Your E2Campus Information

It's time to review your personal contact information on BannerWeb, particularly in connection with the E2Campus Alert System. You are strongly encouraged to provide cell phone and email addresses, in addition to home/office phone numbers, since there may times (such as Monday's power outage) when sending the information via the telephone system is not appropriate to the situation.

To set up and/or update your contact information, register through BannerWeb. After logging into BannerWeb, click on the "Personal Information" tab and then click on the "Emergency Alert Contact Information - E2Campus."

Should you need assistance, the ITS Helpdesk is available to direct you - Ext. 2222.

2014 W-2 Forms Ready in Banner Self Service

The 2014 W-2 is ready online. Directions for retrieving your W2 form from Banner Self Service are attached.

PLEASE NOTE: to reduce paper and postage, if you chose to get your W-2 online, a paper copy will not be printed.

Those who do not retrieve their W-2 online through self service will have a paper copy printed and mailed to their home address on file during the last week of January. Paper copies will not be available for pickup in the Business Office as they have been in the past.

If you have any problems or questions, please do not hesitate to contact Payroll or Human Resources.

Tony Hepburn, former professor of ceramics at AU, dies

Tony Hepburn, professor of ceramics at AU from 1976-92, died at his home in Chicago Jan. 5, 2015

Funeral services will take place at The Episcopal Church, Hammondsport, New York on Monday, Jan. 12 at 11 a.m. For further information, contact LeMarche Funeral Home, 35 Main St., Hammondsport, NY at 607. 569.2174.

Tony's contributions to the field of ceramics were wide-reaching, earning him not only the respect of his peers and students, but also awards from The American Craft Council (2008), The Virginia Groot Foundation (1991), the N Y S Council on the Arts (1986/1990), and the National Endowment for the Arts (1985). His work is included in numerous public collections around the world, from the Icheon World Ceramic Center in Gyeonggi-do, South Korea, to the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, and the Victoria and Albert Museum in London.

Tony is survived by his daughter Laura Hepburn-Para, son-in-law Kevin Para, granddaughter Elsa Milani and grandson Keegan Rawlins and daughter Abigail Kraft, son-in-law Steven Kraft and grandsons Oliver and Augustus Kraft.

Tony served as artist-in-residence and head of the Ceramics Department at the Cranbrook Academy of Art, Bloomfield Hills, MI from 1992-2008.

Paul Kotula who represented Tony later in his career through his gallery, Paul Kotula Projects, writes: "Tony Hepburn engendered hundreds of students that will continue his legacy through their work, writing and teaching.... He had an uncanny ability to know each of us before we knew ourselves. He was brilliant, sometimes frighteningly so, but our understanding of who we are and what art could be perpetually pushes us forward." Kotula crafted a detailed account of Hepburn's extensive career, which can be read in its entirety at the attachment below.

Calling All Alumnae Athletes!

Alfred University plans to highlight the role that the athletic experience played in women's lives at AU and beyond. We are looking for stories and photos that illustrate the experience of women athletes at AU throughout the decades. This is a collaborative effort among AU's Student Affairs, Athletics, Archives, and University Relations divisions. Plans include an online timeline and memory book, and will culminate in celebratory events at Homecoming 2015.

The recently concluded ScoreOne Campaign, and the dedication of Harrington Park in honor of Doris Harrington, a former physical education department chair who helped usher women's sports into AU in the 1970s, brought renewed attention to the history of women's athletics at AU. We want to know more! (see <http://www.alfred.edu/pre...>)

To inform and give life to all of this, we hope you will share your stories and photos with us. Please contact Anne Cornell at cornella@alfred.edu with your stories, comments and questions.
