Middle States Monitoring Report and Upcoming Team Visit

Last year at about this time AU was hosting a visiting team from the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. This was part of our decennial reaccreditation, which included evaluation of the University's comprehensive self-study. In late June the Commission ruled on the visiting team's report. The specific result of that ruling was that AU was required to submit a monitoring report to the Commission, and host another team visit this spring.

The monitoring report has been submitted to the Commission, and we are now in preparation for hosting a small team from the Commission April 13-15. After meeting with various campus constituencies, the team will report out its initial findings at an open meeting on April 15th.

Between now and the arrival of the visiting team, you may want to familiarize yourself with the monitoring report. While the majority of campus personnel will not be in meetings with the visiting team, simply due to a compressed schedule, it is nonetheless important that you are aware of the issues raised and our responses to those issues. You can find the monitoring report at the link below. It is a large file (12MB) and in order to have full functionality of the PDF document it's recommended you save it to your computer. Please note an AU login will be required.

If you have any questions regarding the report, or your participation in the team visit, please do not hesitate to ask. It is in all of our best interests to be well informed and ready for these next steps in our accreditation.

Dr. Rick Stephens
Provost and VPAA

Randall Chair Exhibition

with Joanna Wright and Alex Ashcroft

Exhibition: Monday, April 6
Time: Noon - 4 P.M.
Location: Robert C. Turner Gallery
Cost to Attend: Free

Please join us to celebrate the work of Spring 2015 Foundations Randall Chairs Joanna Wright and Alex Ashcroft. On Monday, April 6, stop by the Turner Gallery from noon - 4 p.m. to see an audio-visual work-in-progress, called "Atomfa" as well as hear some examples of Alex's experimental ambisonic pieces.

Alex Ashcroft is a Sound Designer and Sound Engineer. As an engineer he has worked with The Royal Shakespeare Company, Cirque du Soleil, The BBC and British film maker Ken Loach. His work includes studio recording and location recording projects, film work, audio-visual gallery installations and live performance.

His collaborations have been shown at Venice Biennale, Cannes and MoMA amongst others. He is based in North Wales and works internationally.

Joanna Wright is a Welsh documentary film maker, artist, and educator. Her work has been shown internationally including the British Film Institute, the Institute for Contemporary Art, the Berlinale, Gavin Brown's enterprise and the UN. She is a founder member and chair of Documentary Wales, an organization set up to support documentary in Wales across creative media.

She is a contributor to the first Arts Council UK survey on sustainability and the arts.

What about Design? Lecture Series

What about Design? Lecture Series

Date: Monday, April 6

Time: 5 P.M.

Location: Nevins Theater

Cost to Attend: Free

Nan Goggin is the Director of the School of Art Design. Goggin's practice extends from the printed book to virtual reality narratives. As an artist and designer many of her collaborative projects have initiated new ways of reading and understanding visual culture and literacy, linking fine art and new technology.

@art gallery was one of the first curated art spaces on the web. Goggin co-founded the New Media program in the School of Art Design, served as an Associate Provost Fellow and Interim Head of Landscape Architecture.

She is also designated as a Illinois University Scholar, NCSA fellow, and Ifoundry and Center for Advanced Study fellows.

She is an award-winning graphic designer with multiple book and poster designs in national and international publications as well as a recognized pioneer in electronic art. Awards include the National Endowment for the Arts, the Type Directors Club, the Art Directors Club, the University & College Designers Association, the American Center for Design, and SWSW.

Other projects include "Writing with Video,"; 360, a virtual narrative in the Beckman CUBE in collaboration with Joseph Squier; and Ninthletter, where she is one of the founding editors of the literary/visual culture magazine Ninth Letter, (www.ninthletter.com <<http://www.ninthletter.co...>> <<http://www.ninthletter.co...>>), which has received over 20 awards since its inception in 2004.

Leadership, Work Motivation, Job Satisfaction, Men and Women at Work...

If these topics sound interesting, these undergraduate and graduate summer course offerings in management are for you! Courses are open to most students but may be subject to instructor permission.

MGMT/WGST 305: Gender and Organizations - This course builds an understanding of gender issues within organizations as well as policies that organizations can implement to create a more equitable work environment.

Topics of discussion encompass the impact of gender on communication, influence, and perceptions of competence, what progress has been made regarding gender equality, and what still remains to be resolved.

Prerequisites: Junior standing or permission of instructor

MGMT 328: Management and Organizational Behavior - Get this business core course out of the way before the fall Management and Organizational Behavior (OB) examines the organization using evidence-based behavioral science. During this course, we will answer the question of why people act the way they do at work. We will study management roles and functions, work motivation, attitudes, teamwork, creativity, decision making, and a lot more!

This class incorporates a multitude of ways to get you involved and engaged so prepare to participate.

Prerequisites: Junior standing or permission of instructor

MGMT 300/MBA 600: People Analytics - This course focuses on the tools, procedures, and analyses used to inform data-based human capital decisions in organizations.

The methods taught in this course will be applied to HR and OB policy in organizations including but not limited to staffing, training, and measuring employee performance and satisfaction. Identification of the appropriate tools and statistical procedures for analyzing human capital will be emphasized along with the ability to effectively interpret and communicate statistical analyses into organizational policy recommendations.

Prerequisites: Statistics, MGMT 300, permission of instructor

MBA 610: Leadership Dynamics - Leadership is a complex phenomenon. In practice, leaders want to inspire and motivate workers to do the best they can for the organization, and must continually monitor the environment they have created for this success to blossom.

In this class, our goal will be to learn and understand the theories that underlie leadership, but at the same time try to put these leadership theories into action. So, our class will be focused around discussing a variety of theories pertaining to leadership, and how these theories inform and explain leadership in organizations. More importantly, we'll give you a chance to reflect on your own leadership style - or discover it for the first time. Prerequisites: graduate standing.

If you're interested in learning more about these course offerings, contact Dr. Jennifer Griffith at griffith@alfred.edu. I look forward to hearing from you!
