Faculty and Staff in Residence Halls - New Security Request

While we love having faculty and staff in residence halls for programming, workorder responses, and visits of all kinds, we need to step up our security a bit. Sometimes students are nervous when they see an unfamiliar person in their "home."

Starting in August, we are requesting that all faculty/staff visitors in our residence halls wear or display their AU ID. We realize it can be inconvenient but believe this is a reasonable safety request on the part of our students.

Thank you all for helping us with this and please contact Kathy Woughter (woughter@alfred.edu) if you have questions or concerns.

Computer Scam That Asks You to Call a Phone Number

This computer SCAM starts with a pop-up window saying that your computer has been infected and you should call a phone number to fix the problem. This is a SCAM. Once they get you on the phone they will try to remote into your computer. When you allow them remote access, they can put anything on your computer and possibly steal passwords to your bank records and/or charge card purchases.

If you see this pop-up, please reboot your computer without calling them. Once you reboot the pop-up should go away and not return. However, If you have called the number and have allowed them to remote in, please take your computer off the network immediately and call us for further instruction. 607-871-2222.

If this is your personal computer, please call your service provider ASAP.
