Viral Gastroenteritis

Health Services continues to see cases of viral gastroenteritis on campus. It has been confirmed that the stomach illness circulating around campus is not bacterial nor is it food poisoning.

The attached resources can provide some insight into basic information on viral gastroenteritis, including diagnosis and treatment, as well as dietary recommendations for recuperating from stomach illness.

If you notice any signs or symptoms of viral gastroenteritis, please call Health Services immediately-607.871.2400 to speak with a nurse about your symptoms or make an appointment if necessary.

One of the best ways to prevent viral gastroenteritis from occurring is to practice good hand washing (signs are up throughout campus bathrooms on proper hand washing practices). The Wellness Center has face masks and hand sanitizer available for further preventative measures.

Second Annual AU Mathematics Integration Bee

AU Mathematics will be hosting its Second Annual Integration Bee, Friday, April 1 in Myers 334 from 3:30-5:30 p.m.

Buzz by our website to register before the Qualifying Exam on Friday, March 18.

<http://aucs.alfred.edu/in...>

This bracketed competition consists of multiple duels where finalists go head to head at the white board on various integration problems.

Integration problems in the competition can be solved using the variety of techniques taught in Calculus I and II courses such as:

U-substitution

Integration by Parts

Trigonometric Integrals

Trig Substitution

Partial Fractions

Improper Integrals

Integrals Involving Quadratics

Long Division

etc.

Integrals requiring multivariate calculus (Calculus III) are NOT a part of this competition.

We highly encourage participating and/or spectating from any AU student who is interested in this competition. Much can be learned from participating or attending, and you will be amazed at the skills students bring to the final competition on April 1st.

Since the competition is highly competitive, is recommended that you prepare if you wish to advance. However, every AU student who is interested may participate in the qualifier and spectate at the final competition on April 1st, 2016.

IEA Visiting Artists: Jason and Debora Bernagozzi

Date: March 14-18, 2016

Location: The Institute for Electronic Arts at the School of Art and Design, College of Ceramics

Cost: N/A

Sponsored: The Institute for Electronic Arts and the Division of Expanded Media

Jason '10 and Debora Bernagozzi '02 are an artist team focused on electronic arts based in Owego, NY. Co-founders of Signal Culture, an artist space dedicated to video, sound, interactive, tool making, and hacking electronic arts also based in Owego, NY, both hold MFAs from the Electronic Integrated Arts graduate program at the New York State College of Ceramics and have shown their work nationally and internationally.

Jason's work investigates the significant features of time-based media as an evolving world language, exploring liminal states of language, time, and memory through the lens of glitch aesthetics, performative/participatory media, and aleatoric database sequencing of video.

Debora's work consists of gestural, abstracted videos created through a hybrid of analog and digital methods using real-time video and audio processing techniques, creating works resonating as opposed to representative works alluding to time as a layered tapestry rather than a series of moments.

During their residency, Jason and Debora intend to bridge their shared practice of fluidly mixing the analog and the digital into the print realm, drawing on images created through processes such as data-moshing, sonification databending, and frame buffering to create work with silk screening, wood block, and other traditional printmaking techniques.

More information and Jason and Debora's work can be found on their respective websites: <http://www.seeinginvideo....> & <http://deborabernagozzi.c...>

IEA Visiting Artist: Brian Murphy

Date: March 21-25, 2016

Location: The Institute for Electronic Arts at the School of Art and Design, College of Ceramics

Cost: N/A

Sponsored by: The Institute for Electronic Arts and the Division of Expanded Media

Brian Murphy of Castle Creek, NY, will be participating in an artist residency at the Institute for Electronic Arts the week of March 21. Co-founder and director of Transient Visions: Festival of the Moving Image, Brian creates systems and processes to explore and interpret data sets using video, film, sound, photography, artist books and new media.

His work has been exhibited at the Western New York Book Arts Center in Buffalo, the Gagosian Gallery in New York and at the Visual Studies Workshop, Rochester.

Brian plans to work with both digital and analog tools to create visual, textual and audio scores using data from his DNA that was sequenced at Yale School of Medicine. Brian intends to use this material in text, performance, and installations.

More information and Brian's work can be found on his website: <http://www.sybil16.com>

How Does Google Decide Who Makes the Cut as a Googler?

If these topics sound interesting, these undergraduate and graduate summer course offerings are for you! Courses are open to most students but may be subject to instructor permission.

MGMT 300 01/MBA 600 03: People Analytics - This course focuses on the tools, procedures, and analyses used to inform data-based human capital decisions in organizations.

The methods taught in this course will be applied to HR and OB policy in organizations including but not limited to staffing, training, and measuring employee performance and satisfaction. Identification of the appropriate tools and statistical procedures for analyzing human capital will be emphasized along with the ability to effectively interpret and communicate statistical analyses into organizational policy recommendations.

MBA 600 02: Modern Issues in HRM - This course emphasizes five contemporary HRM trends in the workplace. The Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) lists several of these trends as critical for HR professionals' success in the coming years. These trends include management of knowledge workers, contemporary hiring strategies, workforce training and gamification, work/life balance, and demographic issues in talent management. An evaluation of the utility of HR departments in the modern workforce is also examined.

If you're interested in learning more about these course offerings, contact Dr. Jennifer Griffith at griffith@alfred.edu. I look forward to hearing from you!

Buy Your Dinner Theater Tickets by Thursday

You are invited to accompany Alice to Wonderland and through the looking glass during the Alfred State Drama Club's fifth annual dinner theater performance, "Alice in Wonderland," Thursday, March 31 to Saturday, April 2 at the Lake Lodge, 6107 Terbury Road, Alfred Station.

Performing Eva Le Gallienne's and Florida Friebus' adaptation of Lewis Carroll's Alice books, a cast of 16 actors will portray more than 30 characters from both "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" and "Through the Looking Glass and What Alice Found There."

This year's Alice-themed menu is pear salad, glazed carrots, duchess twice-baked potatoes, penne with rustic marinara, orange marmalade haddock, and flank steak with chocolate sauce and sautéed mushrooms, cheesecake with assorted toppings, and coffee and teas served at intermission.

As in previous years, there will be a full cash bar open during the dinner hour and at intermission. Dinner begins at 6 p.m.

Tickets for dinner theater are $20 per person and must be reserved by Thursday, March 17 through the Alfred State Campus Store at 607.587.4020. As ASC is on break this week, bookstore hours are 8 a.m.-4 p.m. The store accepts cash, check, credit cards, student campus spending account, and meal swipes.

If you'd like to visit Wonderland without dinner, please come to the Wednesday evening performance on March 30 at 7 p.m. Tickets for that show, which will be available at the door and for reservation through the campus store, are $2 for students and $5 for general admission. A bus will run to and from campus before and after the performance, and there will be an opening night dessert reception after that show.

"Alice in Wonderland (Le Galliene and Friebus)" is presented by special arrangement with Samuel French, Inc.

'Votes For Women: The Successful Campaign in Allegany County in 1917'

Join the Baker's Bridge Historical Society as it celebrates Women's History Month!

Rusty Tobin will present a Powerpoint presentation on the woman suffrage movement from 1893 through 1920 with a particular focus on Allegany County and the Alfred area.

Women in New York State gained full suffrage in 1917, three years before the Constitutional amendment in 1920 that gave all women in the country the vote. Women in New York State became increasingly well organized in the 20th century and merged all of the individual suffrage clubs into a single statewide organization.

In 1913, the organization changed its name to the New York State Woman Suffrage Party and organized itself like a political party with Assembly District leaders and captains for each election district. Allegany County was very much a part of this campaign. The New York State victory was the result of a statewide referendum of male voters and 56 percent of Allegany County voters recorded a pro suffrage vote.
