"Student dinner with Faculty / Staff" Thursday night series

Hello Alfred colleagues,

One of the most touted small-town college perks is "dinner at my faculty's house" and something we hear from alumni as a true highlight of their Alfred experience. Unfortunately, as less and less faculty live nearby, the number of students having this personal and impactful experience has declined. I am sure you realize the lasting impact YOU have on students and I am certain many of you already invite students to your homes for dinner.

We are launching a fall program that spotlights this connection while offering a nice perk to those willing to be spotlighted.

Here's how it works;

- * We will publicize a Thursday night series of dinners with one host per week for 14 consecutive weeks.
- * Each week's chosen faculty (or staff!) will host 10 students to their home for a meal.
- * That host will personally invite FOUR students from their classes , clubs, or other involvement.

* CSI office will create a RSVP or raffle system and randomly choose the additional six students (likely three pairs of two) and connect everyone the week prior.

* CSI office will organize ride-sharing with final 10 if you are not within walking distance.

* As a thank you for your effort, we will offer you personally either a 20-meal dining hall credit ($100 value) or a $50 reimbursement for a grocery receipt.

So what would you need to do?

* Say YES!

* Pick your top three Thursday night choices (see dates below) and await a confirmed date

* Send Dan (Napolitano@alfred.edu) your picture (feel free to include your partner/family if you're comfortable) and the name of dish you plan to make (for publicity purposes) by August 8.

* Connect with me a week prior about 6 people joining you

* Connect with me afterward for reimbursement or meal plan.

Allow more time for AU Interlibrary Loans

Scholes Library's Interlibrary Loan (ILL) assistant will be retiring July 28th. There are plans to cover Scholes Library ILL with staff from Herrick Library until a replacement is hired. However, our quick response time, of which we are justly proud, will necessarily be somewhat slower. So if you are planning to submit ILL requests, for either library, please send them in a little sooner. As always, we want to get you what you need, but we will be operating shorthanded for a while. In addition, during this time, Document Delivery will be suspended. Articles available from the Scholes Library print collection will need to be retrieved by the library user.

Dean of Alfred University Libraries and Director, Herrick Library
