SHARED SPACE: Tuesday's Pizza with Police (FREE LUNCH)

As our nation struggles to address issues involving police conflicts, Alfred University is trying to build communication between local police and our students (see flyer of programs). AU students are sought to meet with police, every-other Tuesday (coming this week), throughout the semester. These lunch discussions are our opportunity to ask difficult questions and engage in civil discourse about these issues. If students would like to be involved, they are encouraged to contact Dan at d2d@alfred.edu

University, local police to host barbecue for students

Alfred law enforcement and safety officers want college students to meet their families. On October 25th, a family barbecue is being coordinated by Alfred University Public Safety, the Village of Alfred Police Department, and Alfred State's University Police as a way to bridge the national divide locally between law enforcement and the student community. The family-friendly event is intended for college students to view officers as real people with shared interests of family and safer communities. The event will occur from 5pm-6:30pm on Tuesday, October 25 at the AU Welcome Center (at the town's only traffic light).

The program is one in a series entitled "Shared Space" which finds opportunities for police and students to communicate in productive settings. Various pizza lunches, cookie drop-offs, and coffee hours have already brought students in positive contact with officers. The barbecue with families is the next step in building trust and respect within the Alfred community. Those students wishing to attend (as well as additional officers) are asked to complete an on-line RSVP form to help with personalized nametags and food orders.
