PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

To the Trustees of Alfred University:

The President has the honor to submit his nineteenth annual report, namely for the year beginning June 4, 1913, and ending June 9, 1914.

Necrology

Alfred University has sustained a loss by death of three honored and loved members of the board of trustees, also one who formerly was a member of the board and who served as president of the board for a number of years.

ORSON C. GREEN, a vice-president of the board of trustees, died at the Steuben Sanitarium, June 3, 1913, in the seventy-sixth year of his age. His death occurred on the day of the annual trustees' meeting one year ago, soon after the hour of adjournment, but he had just been re-elected vice-president of the board.

He was born in Alfred, New York, in 1837, and was the son of Luke Green, in whose home the select school was held in 1836, which was the beginning of Alfred University. Thus he was born in the same house with Alfred University and six months after its beginning. He was a student in Alfred in the days of its academy work and has always been a loyal, staunch friend of Alfred. In 1909, he was elected a member of the board of trustees, and also vice-president. He was a man of conservative business judgment and his advice and opinions as a member of the board were highly esteemed. At his death he left a substantial evidence of his love and devotion to Alfred in the bequest of the Green Block, a good brick business block, conservatively valued at $7,000; also $3,000 in cash, one thousand of which is left as an endowment of the Green Block, the income only to be used for the up-keep of the building; and one thousand dollars each for the founding of the Orson C. Green Scholarship and the Selenda I. Green Scholarship. Thus he has perpetuated his memory and still further endeared himself to the trustees, alumni and friends of Alfred as a real benefactor to the institution of which he was a life-long friend.

ELWOOD EUGENE HAMILTON was born at Alfred, November 28, 1861. He was educated in the schools of Alfred and graduated from Alfred University in the class of 1884. Soon after graduation he entered the employ of the University Bank as cashier, a position which he continued to hold until his death. Mr. Hamilton was elected a member of the board of trustees of Alfred University in 1894, and gave an uninterrupted service in this capacity until the time of his death. During much of this time he has been a member of the executive committee and for many years chairman of the committee on janitors and supplies. He served the board also as secretary and auditor of the State Schools of Clay-Working and Ceramics and of Agriculture and was treasurer of the Alumni Association of Alfred University from 1893 to 1911. His wise counsels and faithful service to Alfred University were always cheerfully and generously given. He died June 23d, 1913.

CHARLES STILLMAN, eldest son of David R. and Martha Greene Stillman, was born at the Stillman homestead in Alfred, August 17, 1851. He was educated in the public schools and in Alfred University. In 1892, Mr. Stillman was elected a member of the board of trustees of Alfred University, which position he continued to hold until his death, February 16, 1914. In 1897, he was made a member of the executive committee and secretary of the board of trustees, positions which he has since filled. He also served the University on many special committees, including the board of managers of the State School of Agriculture since 1909. During all these years he has been one of the University's most valuable, active and faithful supporters. He has given generously of his means to the University and has spared himself no time or pains that were necessary in order to render any service within his power.

ALBERT BOARDMAN COTTRELL, though not a member of the board of trustees at the time of his death, was for many years a member, and served as president of the board for thirteen years. Mr. Cottrell was born November 20, 1842, in the town of Wirt, Allegany County, New York. He attended school at Richburg, New York, and at Alfred University.

In 1861, he enlisted and entered the service of his country in Company C. 85th New York Volunteers. After an honorable discharge from the service, he again entered Alfred University for a short time and then began the work of public school teaching. In 1888, he was elected to the Assembly in the New York State Legislature and was again elected in 1889. In 1888, he was elected a trustee of Alfred University and continued to fill that position for twenty-five years. During thirteen years of this time, from 1896 to 1909, he was president of the board of trustees. He was deeply interested in education and particularly in Alfred University. He gave much time, valuable counsel and labor to the University in a period of great stress and anxiety. He was a generous contributor to its means and in every way a loyal friend. He died at his home in Richburg, New York, April 3, 1914.

In the student-body two deaths have occurred as follows: Mr. Charles W. Reimann of Gloversville, New York, a second year student in the Agricultural School, who died March 13, 1914, from pneumonia; also Mr. Charles Lytle of Angelica, a member of the senior class in the Agricultural School, who died April 7, 1914, of cancer. Both of these young men were good students and their loss was deeply felt.

Faculty

Few changes have occurred in the college faculty during the past year. Mr. Frank J. Weed, A. B., a graduate of Bowdoin College and of the New England Conservatory of Music, has been added to the teaching force of the music department as instructor in instrumental music. This is the first year in which two men have been employed in the music department, one a specialist in voice and the other in piano. The department of music has grown rapidly within the past two years and has justified this addition to the teaching force.

Other members of the faculty have continued their services during the year with marked efficiency and it is hoped that but few changes will be required in the faculty for the coming year.

Miss Bessie Lee Gambrill, professor of philosophy and education, requests a leave of absence for one year in order to pursue studies leading to the doctor's degree in Columbia University.

Miss Myrta A. Little, associate professor of English, requests a year's leave of absence that she may accept an appointment as head of the English department in the American College for Women at Constantinople.

Mr. Hubert Porter Colton has tendered his resignation as instructor in physical training.

Necessary Additions to the Teaching Force

The growth of the attendance has so greatly increased certain departments of the College that additional instructors have become imperative. In the department of modern languages with over one hundred fifty registrations in the several classes, and with demands for about thirty hours of teaching work per week, including German, French and Spanish, it is impossible for one instructor to carry the work. Student assistants have been employed for the past three or four years. This year three in number. It is believed that it will be for the efficiency of the department to secure one competent instructor who shall assist the professor in the conduct of the classes of this department.

Also in the department of philosophy and education, where over one hundred sixty students are registered and where more than twenty hours of recitation work is required, it has become necessary to have an assistant to the professor. Student assistants have been employed but it is now necessary to employ a qualified instructor to aid in the work of this department.

Secretary to the President

Miss Ellen R. Peck has tendered her resignation to begin June 19th, after nearly two years of efficient service.

Registration

The registration of the University for the past year has been as follows:

College	167
Academy	89
Seminary	7
School of Clay-Working and Ceramics	47
School of Agriculture	193
Specials in Music (total 104)	23
Total	526

Of these, the duplicates are 66, making a total registration of 460 for the year.

School of Ceramics

The annual appropriation for the State School of Clay Working and Ceramics was increased the past year from $13,350 to $16,000. The special appropriation made two years ago of $25,000 for the construction and equipment of an addition to the main building and for the heating and further equipment of the entire plant has been expended and the new wing was formally opened April 30th, but has been in use during the entire college year. An appropriation of $17,600 has been made for the maintenance of the school for the coming year.

Mr. E. T. Montgomery, M. E., a graduate of the Ohio State University and for some time expert chemist in the United States Department of Standards, has been added to the faculty of the Ceramic School and made assistant director and assistant professor of ceramics.

The attendance of the Ceramic School is larger than in any previous year and the prospects are good for a continued growth in attendance. The director of the school is carrying on experiments and investigations for the Governor and the State Commissioner of Highways with a view to the establishment of brick plants in connection with state prisons and reformatories for the purpose of manufacturing paving brick for use on state roads. This service is giving the school a much wider popularity than ever before and is enabling it to render a very notable service to the State.

School of Agriculture

The attendance of the State School of Agriculture for the past year has slightly decreased from the previous year although the present attendance is very gratifying, aggregating one hundred ninety-three students.

Two changes have occurred in the faculty. Mr. H. E. Austin, assistant in dairy laboratory, resigned his position, which was filled by the appointment of Mr. Adelbert Sheffield. Miss Bertha Titsworth resigned her position as instructor in Home Economics and this position was filled by the appointment of Miss Grace Lucille Cheesman. Both of these new members of the faculty have given good satisfaction in the service rendered.

The appropriation for the coming year has been increased from $35,000 to $43,300.

Theological Seminary

No change has occurred in the Theological Seminary faculty during the past year. Its members have continued the uniformly high grade of work which has characterized their services.

Alfred Academy

Two members resigned from the Academy faculty last year, Mr. Gilbert M. Fess of the modern language department, and Miss Mary Irish from the English department. The work was redistributed and one teacher was employed in the place of the two, Miss Ruth L. Phillips. With the close of this year Mr. Paul Burdick tendered his resignation and also Miss Ruth L. Phillips and two new teachers should be employed to take their places.

The attendance of the Academy is eight less than last year and is mainly made up of residents of the local school district and students from neighboring districts which do not have high schools. A revision of the contract with the public school district has been made whereby half of the deficit for the maintenance of the Academy which occurred under the former arrangement is to be met for the next year by the district. It seems probable, however, that still further modification of the contract or its discontinuance and a new contract will prove satisfactory to the district and advantageous to the University. The committee appointed by the trustees a year ago has been in consultation with the board of education of the district and will doubtless report recommendations looking to such alteration.

The assembly hall was redecorated at a considerable expense during the last summer vacation, and repairs were begun on the roof which has come to be sadly in need of repair.

Library

Following the dedication of the Carnegie Library, which occurred at Commencement last year, the books of the University were transferred to the new building. During the summer it was formally opened and made ready for the use of students and citizens of Alfred during the present year. About ten thousand books have been drawn by something over five hundred individuals, more than half of whom have been village residents. This is the largest patronage that the library has ever had. The village has also voted an appropriation of $100 toward the maintenance of the library for the coming year. Nothing has been added to the equipment of Alfred University in recent years which has compared with the addition of the new library, both in efficiency of the work of the University and in the adornment of its campus.

Improvements

During the year minor improvements and repairs have been made to many of the buildings of the campus, but no extensive repairs have been made on any buildings.

Rose Real Estate

On July 19th, 1913, the old store building on the corner of Main and University streets, known as the Rose Building, was destroyed by fire. This property had been purchased with endowments at the cost of $3,600. It was insured for $3,200 which amount was collected in full. By vote of the trustees at the September meeting, the remaining $400 of the cost price was charged off the endowment books and this lot was annexed to the campus. It has been graded and improved from the E. Lua Babcock Fund for the grounds and is a valuable addition to the campus.

Summer School

Four members of the college faculty made a request to the executive committee for the privilege of organizing and conducting a summer school. This request was granted on the condition that such summer school should not obligate the University in any way or incur any expense chargeable to it, and that the buildings and property used for the same should be used subject to the approval of the professors who are held responsible to the University for the care of such buildings or equipment. For many years it has been evident that a summer school would meet a long-felt want in this part of the state, and it is believed that this venture will prove the beginning of a permanent summer school organization which, it is hoped, may come to be of great value to the University not only in advertising and in accommodating its students but increasing the revenue of the University.,

Interscholastic Meet

The sixth Interscholastic Meet was held on May 20th, at which a large number of contestants were admitted and much enthusiasm was shown. A larger number of schools was represented and a larger number of entries made than in any previous year. The cup was won by the team of the Batavia High School.

College Paper

The students have this year published a weekly paper, entitled, "Fiat Lux," and discontinued the publication of the •Alfred University Monthly," which has been regularly published for the past fifteen years.

The Dr. Thomas World Peace Prize Contest

The Dr. Thomas World Peace Prize Contest had four contestants. The fifty dollar gold prize was won by Aaron MacCoon of the junior class, and the twenty-five dollar second prize was won by Robert Greene of the sophomore class.

Gifts and Bequests

The largest gift of the year is the bequest of the late Orson C. Green, which aggregates ten thousand dollars. This consists of the Green Block, valued at $7,000, one thousand dollars of endowment for the maintenance of the Block, and one thousand dollars each for the establishment of the Orson C. Green and the Selenda I. Green Scholarships.

The bequest of Mrs. Mary E. Rich of two thousand dollars for the endowment of two scholarships of one thousand dollars each bearing the names of the Mary E. Rich and the John and Harriet Edwards Scholarships, has been received.

Colonel and Mrs. William Wallace Brown have established each an additional scholarship in memory of their respective mothers, namely, the Mary Brownell Brown and the Laura Clarke Crandall Scholarships. This makes in all six thousand-dollar scholarships established by Colonel and Mrs. Brown and makes them the largest benefactors in the history of the University in the matter of the establishment of scholarships.

The Orrin Thrall Higgins thousand-dollar scholarship has been established by Mrs. Frank Sullivan Smith. Also Mrs. Ervilla Goodrich Tuttle has given on the income gift plan one thousand dollars to found a scholarship to be known as the Ellen Goodrich Ford Scholarship.

The late Dr. Asa W. Bullock, of Allegany, New York, a student in Alfred in 1865, made provision in his will for the establishment of a $1,000 scholarship to bear his name. This sum will doubtless be paid over by the executor of his estate at an early date.

McLennan Memorial Fund

A movement has been inaugurated to establish a fund in memory of the late Justice Peter B. McLennan, and a committee consisting of Irving G. Vann, Syracuse; Thomas Carmody, Albany; Frederick Kruse, Olean; Nathaniel Foote Rochester; Charles H. Brown, Belmont; Adelbert Moot, Buffalo; Liberty H. Bailey, Ithaca; Edward W. Hatch, New York; John G. Milburn, New York; Ira A. Place, New York; Boothe C. Davis, Alfred, and Curtis F. Randolph, Alfred, has issued a circular letter to the alumni of the University and to friends of Judge McLennan soliciting contributions to this fund. Something over seventeen hundred dollars has already been subscribed to this fund and it is hoped to increase it to at least twenty-five thousand dollars.

Finances

It is gratifying to see from the preliminary report of the treasurer that the income for the year has been about five hundred dollars in excess of the expenditure during the same twelve months. The budget of one year ago was conservatively made and has been exceeded by the income. In several items of the budget the excess of expenditure above the budget seems to be permanently necessary and an increase has been provided in the budget proposed by the treasurer for the coming year in the matter of salaries, administration, fuel, repairs and supplies.

The bequest of the late Mrs. Ann J. Rushton has not yet been paid, but it is expected to be in the hands of the treasurer before the opening of the next college year, but not counting any income from this fund for this year, it is believed that the income which may be depended upon is sufficient to meet these increases in the budget still enable the University to run within its income.

Every effort should be made, however, to still further increase the endowments of the University so that the salaries and other expenses may be materially increased. The budget is still figured on the most economical basis and five or six thousand dollars should be added to the income of the University at the earliest possible date.

Gymnasium

The President has repeatedly called the attention of the trustees to the need for better gymnasium facilities. During the past year many letters have been written to alumni and friends of the University urging this need upon the attention of individuals believed to be able to supply it. Up to the present time no encouragement has been received of any large gift for this purpose. It must, however, be constantly urged until the need is met.

The most economical proposition for a gymnasium would be the purchase of the brick building now used as a livery barn. This building is entirely surrounded by property owned by the University. It is not for sale to the general public but the owner, Miss Susan M. Burdick, has generously given a very reasonable option upon the property for the use of the University. It would require several thousand dollars to put this property in condition to be used for a gymnasium. Ten or twelve thousand dollars would, however, reasonably well meet the requirements for the purchase and improvement of the building. To construct a new building and adequately equip it, would cost from twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars.

Assembly Hall

A second need in equipment which in some respects stands even first in importance, is an adequate assembly hall where general assemblies of the University, entertainments and commencement exercises can be held. There is no building owned by the University and there is no building in the village which meets adequately this requirement. It is earnestly hoped that there may be found at an early date, some one who will build or make provision for the building of an adequate assembly hall which could be built at a cost of about $50,000.

Other Reports

The reports of the Dean of the College, the Librarian, the Curator of the Museum, the Dean of the Seminary, the Principal of the Academy, the Director of the State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics and the Director of the State School of Agriculture are transmitted herewith as a part of this report.

Acknowledging the blessing of Almighty God upon Alfred University and its activities during the past year and with special thanksgiving for the spiritual and religious awakening which has been manifest among our students during the year, this report is respectfully submitted.

BOOTHE C. DAVIS,

President.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

To the President and Trustees of Alfred University:—

I hereby submit my report for the year ending in June, 1914. The year has been an especially interesting one in view of the fact that it has been spent in our new quarters. The summer of 1913 was spent in moving the entire library of about 25,000 volumes from Memorial Hall to the Carnegie building. In this work the librarian was ably assisted by Professors W. A. Titsworth and Walter L. Greene. The Superintendent of the Campus, with horse and wagon, also rendered valuable service when lifting and carting were necessary. Several double stacks and a number of single ones were built to meet the requirements of shelving the books. As the library now stands we have about 7,000 volumes on the main floor, the remaining volumes being in the stack room in the basement. During the current year these books have been fully catalogued and arranged on the shelves in a way to best serve the patrons of the library. Several thousand new catalogue cards have been made and at the present time there are 15,000 or more cards which serve as a dictionary catalogue for all the books in the library. Each case of books has been marked with easily distinguished white letters, indicating the numbers and class of the books it contains.

To meet the additional expense of moving and caring for the library during the past year a committee was appointed a year ago to secure additional funds. As a result of this canvass, in which $500.00 were asked for, $608.00 were pledged and I believe the entire sum has been paid to the treasurer. Seventy-five different persons contributed toward the fund.

Nine thousand four hundred and fifty books have circulated during the year. There are at the present time 517 registered borrowers. Of this number 122 are residents of the town, the remainder being students. This takes no account of many more who use the library for reading but who have not yet registered as borrowers. In addition to the regular hours the library has been open on the afternoons of Saturday and Sunday and on Monday and Wednesday evenings during both semesters. This was made possible through the voluntary service of the professors of various departments fifteen of whom have participated in this work. The library has been fairly patronized during these special openings.

Six hundred and thirty-four books have been added to the library during the year. Of this number 409 were gifts. The total number accessioned to date is 25,392, and there are still several thousand unaccessioned books elsewhere on the campus. Sixteen hundred and fifty magazines have been drawn. Of this number 900 were drawn from back numbers for reference purposes. It is interesting to the librarian to note the wide range of subjects upon which material has been furnished. It includes such timely and varied topics as child labor—woman suffrage—Mexico—cost of living—labor unions—country life—Philippines—Cuba—parcel post—China—news-papers—Canada, Labrador—and scores of others.

Several hundred slides have been loaned by the State Department at Albany for the use of the professors. These have come through the library, as have also several books that have been borrowed from the State Library and from Cornell Library as inter-library loans for the use of students.

One hundred and thirty-two years of magazines have been or are being bound, including all the standard magazines. The librarian is collecting old newspapers and magazines to sell as old paper from which he hopes to realize something toward the expense of a very much needed magazine rack for the reading room. Aside from his regular work the librarian has conducted during the year a class of five in library economy which met once each week. Sixty-two years of the Sabbath Recorder have been indexed and catalogued. We now have more than 2,000 cards covering material of importance in this periodical, making perhaps the most complete index of denominational material in existence. At the request of the Chief of Public Libraries of the State the librarian participated in two round table discussions, one at Olean, the other at Hornell.

The following persons and organizations have remembered the library during the year by gifts:

Cornell University	L. A. Saunders
Carnegie Endowment for	Mrs. L. B. Crandall
International Peace	J. P. Altgeld
U. S. Government	W. C. Whitford
N. Y. State	Stephen Babcock
Massachusetts	W. L. Greene

P. E. Titworth	Mrs. E. M. Tomlinson
Mrs. B. F. Rogers	Reilay Potter
Charles Stillman	John Kirkpatrick
A. R. Heubach	Ruth Prentiss
Mrs. Elizabeth Sherman	Mrs. Allen Barber

There has recently been installed in the north end of the main room of the library directly over the fire place, a bronze tablet with this inscription:

"This building is the gift of Andrew Carnegie.

The ground is given in memory of William Clarke

Burdick by his wife and daughter Amanda M. Burdick and Susie M. Burdick."

Thinking the library would be incomplete without a time-piece, the librarian interested the class of 1892 of which he is a member, to provide this needed addition. Through the generosity of Messrs* A. A. and Dana Shaw, an additional clock was placed on the walls to duplicate the one given by the class of 1892, thus we have an electric timepiece in both ends of the room.

During the college year, when the library is regularly open for its primary purposes, as a college library, the bulk of the librarian's time is needed for desk and reference work. Although every available moment is employed in other lines of library work, and much has been accomplished, as already reported, there is still much of this extra work for which the librarian cannot hope to find time when college is in session. He would therefore suggest that the Board make an appropriation of $25 to be expended for such service as the librarian may be able to supply during such portion of the vacation period as he may remain in town.

Respectfully submitted,

C. R. CLAWSON, Librarian.

ALFRED ACADEMY

To the President of Alfred University:—

Sir:—I have the honor to submit to you the following report of the work of Alfred Academy during the year ending June 22, 1914:

During the summer, the study hall was re-decorated, and the pictures purchased last year were hung. Through the efforts of the students and faculty, aided by some of the trustees of the University, a Kimball piano has been purchased and placed in the study hall. Already more than half the cost has been raised. Your courtesy in signing the contract with me made it possible for us to enjoy the use of the instrument while we are raising the funds to complete the payment for it. As the piano is used by the students of the University at their recitals, I would respectfully suggest that any aid the University may see fit to give us in paying for the instrument, will be gratefully received.

The Academy building has been partly re-roofed. I trust this work may be completed during the coming summer.

The total registration for the school year was eighty-nine, of whom fifty-six were resident students, sixteen non-resident for whom the state paid tuition, six non-resident from whom tuition was received, and eleven were members of the training class.

The work of the students has kept well up to the standard set a year ago. It may even surpass that standard by the end of the year. The training class has maintained its usual standard of excellence.

About forty volumes, mostly reference works, were added to the library during the year. Under the direction of the teachers of English and history, the students have made very free use of the library. Some requests have been made for the use of the library in the afternoon and it is quite probable that arrangements will be made to have the library open certain afternoons each week when a teacher will be present to take charge of the library and especially to aid the students in its use.

The senior class consists of thirteen members, of whom all but four will enter college this fall, and three of the others will enter at the end of another year.

During the present year, courses in commercial geography and intermediate algebra were added to our schedule. The addition of the latter makes it possible for our students to compete for the state scholarships. Owing to the slight demand for French, no new classes were started this year. On the other hand, the interest in German is so strong that the third year class has asked the privilege of having a fourth year of the language next year, volunteering to come outside the regular hours if the request is granted. Needless to say, it will be. A revival of interest in Latin was shown by the entering class, all but three of whom elected to take Latin rather than German, for their first year work.

Permit me to express my appreciation for the hearty co-operation of the President in all matters pertaining to the Academy.

Respectfully submitted,

HUGH L. GILLIS, Principal.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

Covering the Period from June 1, 1913, to May 31, 1914

To the Trustees of Alfred University:—

The following report is submitted in behalf of the Committee on Buildings and Grounds:

During the year no special improvements or extensive repairs have been undertaken. Minor repairs have been made on all the buildings named below to the extent of the amount stated. The Carnegie Library has had larger outlays than would naturally be expected for a new building but it will be remembered that funds for the building were insufficient to provide furniture and lighting fixtures for the stack room. These had therefore to be provided out of the University funds. The Academy Hall greatly needed reroofing and it was decided to put on tile. The work was begun but was not completed and should be finished during the coming year. In Burdick Hall, three unfinished rooms were plastered and decorated.

The work on the grounds has been more extensive than formerly. A balance of $1741 in the E. Lua Babcock Fund was reported on hand May 1, 1913. This and the income of the year has been fully needed to keep up the grounds and to make the extensive improvements in grading, sidewalks, shrubbery, etc., necessary for the improvement of the grounds surrounding the new library building and the adjacent lot added to the campus after the fire which destroyed the Rose building on the corner of University and Main streets. This has all been done, however, within the funds available for the grounds.

The following is a summary of expenses on each of the several buildings on the campus with a statement of the expenditures on the grounds chargeable to the E. Lua Babcock Fund:

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON ALFRED ACADEMY CONTRACT WITH DISTRICT NO. 3

Alfred, N. Y. June 9, 1914

To the Trustees of Alfred University:—

The committee appointed in June, 1913, to confer with the Board of Education of District No. 3, or a committee appointed by such board, would respectfully report that two joint meetings have been held with representatives of the Board of Education; also a number of meetings of sub-committees have been held, with the result that the Board of Education recommended to the District at the school meeting on May 5, 1914, an increase of $800 in the appropriation from the District for the maintenance of the Academy or a sum equal to one-half the deficit, the same not to exceed one thousand dollars. The District voted to approve the arrangements for one year, so that the committee would recommend the continuance of Alfred Academy on this modified contract of the District meeting half the deficit for the coming year.

Of the total attendance of 89 students for this year, 11 are members of the training class, for whom the State provides instruction. Of the remaining 78, 56 are residents of the District; 16 are non-residents of the district and come from districts in which there are no high schools, so that the State pays their tuition at the rate of $20 per year; 6 are non-residents of the state, from whom tuition is received. The present attendance of the Academy therefore is little more than might be expected in a high school. The committee also finds that the attendance of the training class is little more than the minimum required by the State and that it is always something of a problem to maintain the required minimum of ten members in the class.

The public school building has three unoccupied class rooms which could be utilized for high school purposes, and it is believed that with some alteration the building could be adapted to these purposes and provide adequate accommodations for a high school maintained by the District. It is also believed that a high school could be conducted which would be approved by the Department of Education and prepare students for college at but little cost above that which the district will pay under the arrangement now made for next year.

It is also ascertained that, if Alfred Academy continues to do high school work in the building now used for that purpose, extensive improvements will be necessary upon the building and particularly upon its heating and ventilation equipment. The committee believes that Alfred University would not wish to make these extensive repairs and that the District would not be willing to meet even half of such repairs.

The State of New York requires that "a high school shall maintain an approved four year course of study and shall have apparatus worth at least $250 and a library worth at least $500. It shall also provide adequate laboratory facilities for individual experimentation." There are a number of such approved high schools in the state that do not have to exceed three teachers doing high school work. The books and apparatus owned by Alfred Academy exceed in value the amount required by the State for an approved high school. If this equipment of books and apparatus, on which the State has duplicated in payment, were turned over to the high school department of the Alfred Union School, District No. 3, as would probably be necessary under the ruling of the Education Department, it would meet the State's requirements.

In view of the foregoing facts, the committee is of the opinion that the District could maintain an approved high school without a serious increase of appropriations and that the time is now ripe for turning over the high school work to the District.

The committee would recommend that notice be given to the Board of Education that the present contract will cease in June, 1915, with the expiration of the school year.

Also we recommend that the trustees of Alfred University make to Alfred Union School, District No. 3, a proposition to contribute the sum of $500 per year for five years, beginning in September, 1915, toward the maintenance of a high school department of such district, provided the District will maintain a four year high school course approved by the Department of Education, preparing students for college, and provided opportunity shall be given in such high school for students in the department of education in Alfred University to have practice teaching and observation opportunities, the details of such arrangements to be left for mutual adjustment between the executive committee and the Board of Education.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

Alfred, New York, September 4, 1914

To the Board of Trustees of Alfred University:

Gentlemen:

I have examined the accounts and vouchers of our Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, and the securities held by him on June 30, 1914. This report does not include the Betterment Fund, nor the accounts of the State Schools.

I have verified the cash in bank by evidence of deposit; the income from securities by an examination of such securities, the income from students by an examination of the record of bills rendered by the Registrar and of the scholarship allowances granted them.

I have verified the Report of our Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, to which this report is annexed, consisting of the Endowment Report, Schedules 1 to 9, inclusive, and the Income Report, Schedules 15 to 27 inclusive, and also Schedules 29 and 31 by comparison with his accounts, and find such report correct in all respects.

Accrued interest on investments held by the Board (exclusive of Endowment Notes and Gifts) was in arrears on June 30, 1914, for one year and upwards in but two cases, namely, No. 302, Charles E. Bryant; and No. 739, Oliver D. Sherman.

The diligent efforts of our Treasurer in the collection of income, as well as the manner in which his accounts have been kept and his other duties performed are worthy of commendation.

Respectfully submitted,

HERBERT G. WHIPPLE, Auditor.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PRESIDENT to the Board of Trustees at the annual meeting in June, 1910:

1. That an Investment Committee of five be appointed by this Board to be one of the permanent Committees of the Board, and to be responsible to the Board rather than to the Executive Committee; and that this Investment Committee be instructed to make a careful study of our investments and the possibility of reinvesting such of our funds as may be deemed by it desirable, and to make such reinvestment, safeguarding the interests of the University more fully if possible, both as to the size and length of loans and as to the permanent and increasing value of property on which loans are made.

2. That a Finance Committee of at least nine members be appointed to undertake at once the raising of additional endowments and to provide for other enlargement of the equipment and efficiency of the University.

3. That a Trustee-Auditor be appointed who shall audit all principal accounts and securities as well as revenue and expenditure accounts.

BY-LAWS

Adopted by the Trustees at the annual meeting in June, 1910.

No money shall be invested in loans on real property not capable of producing an income, saving, in the case of loans for the purpose of constructing a building.

The endowment may be invested in such other forms of investment as are authorized by the Savings Bank Law of the State of New York.

APPROVAL—No investment in any bond and mortgage shall be made except upon the approval in writing of at least three members of the investment committee, subscribed by the members approving the same, who shall certify to the value of the premises mortgaged or to be mortgaged, to their best judgment; and such written approval shall be filed and preserved among the records of the University.

LOANS TO CERTAIN PERSONS PROHIBITED—No trustee or officer of Alfred University, nor the wife, father, mother, brother, sister or child of any trustee or officer, nor any professor in the employ of the University, shall directly or indirectly, for himself or herself, or as an agent or partner of others, borrow any of its funds, or in any manner use the same, except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by the Board of Trustees; nor shall any trustee or officer, nor the wife, father, mother, brother, sister or child of any trustee, nor any professor in the employ of the University become endorser or surety, or become in any manner an obligor for moneys loaned by, or borrowed of, the University.

HONORARY DEGREES

ALEXANDER DAVID MILLER, presented by Professor Bessie Lee Gambrill.

Professor Gambrill said:

Mr. President: I have the honor of nominating for an honorary degree, an alumnus of Alfred University of the class of 1892, who since his graduation, has devoted his services to the cause of education. Through research work and also as a speaker and writer, this alumnus of Alfred has advanced his chosen field of work. In recognition of his services to the cause of education, I have the pleasure, Mr. President, of presenting for the degree of Doctor of Pedagogy, Mr. Alexander David Miller, Bachelor of Philosophy, Bachelor of Education, Doctor of Philosophy, Principal of the Mahanoy City High School, Pennsylvania.

President Davis said:

Professor Miller, son of Alfred, teacher, educator, Alfred welcomes you back after these years of your successful service in the field of education and gladly admits you to the honorary degree of doctor of Pedagogy with all the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Alexander David Miller was born in Troupsburg, N. Y., in 1866. He prepared for college in Woodhull Academy and entered Alfred University in 1887, stopping out to teach winter terms of school, and graduated with the class of 1892. After graduation he taught school in New York State until 1900. In 1901-02 he pursued graduate studies, and became superintendent of schools in Stockport, Ohio in 1902. In 1908 he became principal of the Mahanoy City High School, which position he continues to hold. In 1893, he was married to Leona Belle, daughter of Ervin and Sarah Roberts of Howard, N. Y.

WILLIAM CHARLES MINIFIE, presented by Prof. Binns.

Professor Binns said:

Mr. President, I do not suppose that a reminder is necessary, but it sometimes comes to me to recall that my birth took place upon the other side of the water. On these occasions it has fallen to my lot more than once, to present to you the name of a one-time fellow countryman., By that I mean that I was compelled awhile ago to renounce especial allegiance to her late majesty, Queen Victoria. It is perhaps of the nature of an anomaly that we send a representative to the British Isles and command him to hold his tongue and that we receive a visitor from the other side and ask him to talk, and this, notwithstanding the fact that the Englishman is supposed to be taciturn and the American loquacious. Nevertheless, we have from time to time, had visitors from the other side whom we are particularly glad to welcome and I will now present to you the name of a gentleman who has made himself known to many of us by more than one visit. The gentleman whose name I have the honor to present, was educated in the English school in connection with the London University from which he received the degrees of doctor of philosophy and doctor of divinity. He was instrumental in founding the branch of the Y. M. C. A. by means of which the group of Christian people was made to include young men and youths of impressionable age. He acted as assistant private secretary to the late Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon, who is so well known in the Christian world and a part at least of whose mantle I venture to think has fallen upon our guest. I have the honor to present to you, sir, for the degree of Doctor of Literature, the Rev. William Charles Minifie, Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Divinity, of London, England.

President Davis said:

Dr. Minifie, your second visit to this college has added to the endearment which you won for yourself on your first, and we now gladly welcome you into the fellowship of the honorary alumni of Alfred University. Son of Great Britain, Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature in England, distinguished preacher and orator, I gladly admit you to the honorary degree of Doctor of Literature in this University with all the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

William Charles Minifie was born in Lewisham, Kent, England. At fifteen he was preaching in the Grand Theatre, Islington, London, to a packed audience. One year later he founded the Youth's Section of the Y. M. C. A. in London and became its first secretary. At seventeen, he entered the college of which C. H. Spurgeon was president. Upon his graduation he entered pastoral work and his success in building up congregations is marvelous. He was a warm personal friend of Charles H. Spurgeon, and served for a time as his private secretary. Both as a clergyman and as a lecturer he has won a wide and enviable reputation. His address is London, England.

HEINRICH STERN, presented by Dr. Daniel Lewis.

Dr. Lewis said:

Mr. President, Alfred has often honored statesmen, lawyers, men from all walks of life, but seldom have we conferred an honorary degree on a man who has devoted himself to medicine. I have the pleasure of nominating a man who has devoted his life to the science of medicine, who has won great distinction from small beginnings until now his name is known on both continents as a man versed in diagnosis. I propose to you the name of Dr. Heinrich Stern of New York City, for the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

President Davis said:

Dr. Stern, the recommendation of the man who has proposed your name for this degree carries with it so much weight with the trustees of this University that, were there no other reason, we should be glad to comply with his wish and his request as your personal friend and admirer. But the distinguished career which you have achieved in science and scholarship, and as an author and editor, makes it all the more gratifying to us to welcome you to the fellowship of our honorary alumni, and therefore, by the authority of the trustees, I gladly admit you to the honorary degree of doctor of laws in this University, with all the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Dr. Heinrich Stern was born at Frankfort on the Main, Germany, Jan. 28, 1868. He received his education at the Philanthropin, the celebrated high school founded toward the close of the 18th century. From 1884 to 1886, he was a student at Senckenbergianum which, in the present year, has been made the medical department of the newly created University of Frankfort. There he studied natural sciences, especially biology and anatomy. He received the degree of doctor of medicine from College of Physicians and Surgeons in St. Louis in 1889. The next six years he devoted to post-graduate work, medical research, more especially in the chemico-physiological line and literary pursuits connected with biological and kindred studies. In 1894, he settled in New York. Since then he has been devoted to the clinical side of medicine. He has taught in both undergraduate and post-graduate institutions. In 1897, he received the gold medal of the Medical Society of the County of New York for original work done on the "Pathology of Diabetes." Since then he has received a number of other official recognitions in the shape of medals or cash prizes. He is the founder and editor of "The Archives of Diagnosis," the only journal in the world devoted exclusively to the study and progress of diagnosis and prognosis. He is the author of over one hundred articles, monographs, etc., on medical subjects, written in English and German.

ADELBERT MOOT, Presented by Professor Clawson.

Professor Clawson said:

Mr. President: I have the honor to suggest the name of the Hon. Adelbert Moot for an honorary degree in Alfred University. Mr. Moot was educated in the normal schools of New York and the Albany Law School. He was president of the New York State Bar Association from 1909-1910. He is a member of the Commission appointed to consolidate the statutes of the State from 1777 to 1909. At the present time Mr. Moot is a regent of the University of the State of New York. Therefore, Mr. President, I take pleasure in recommending Mr. Moot for the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

President Davis said:

Regent Moot, the career which you have achieved for yourself as a son of Allegany County, as a jurist and a citizen, has endeared you to the citizenship of your state and to the nation; and the high office to which you have been elected as a regent of the University of the State of New York makes it a distinct honor which you show Alfred University to be present at this time to deliver the doctor's oration. The strong, forceful and high spiritual ideals which you have presented in this oration commend you also for the honor that Alfred University gladly bestows. By the authority of the Trustees of the University, I therefore admit you to the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws of this University with all the rights and privileges belonging thereto.

Adelbert Moot was born in Allen, Allegany Co., N. Y., 1854, son of Charles D. and Mary (Rutherford). Educated in State Normal School and Albany Law School, graduating from the latter institution in 1876. Practiced law in Nunda, N. Y., and in Buffalo, N. Y., since 1876. President Unitarian Conference for Middle States and Canada. Independent Republican. Member Board Commissioners of Statutory Consolidation that consolidated all general statutes of New York from 1777 to 1909, and is now engaged in revising and simplifying civil practice. President New York State Bar Association, 1909. Member Board of Regents of State of New York. Present address, Buffalo, N. Y.

Appendix DNEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF CLAY-
WORKING AND CERAMICS*DIRECTOR'S REPORT

For Year Ending September 30, 1913

To the President of Alfred University:—

Sir:—I have the honor of submitting to you the thirteenth annual report of the New York State School of Clay Working and Ceramics.

The special appropriation voted by the Legislature in 1912, was apportioned in contracts for the erection of a fire-proof wing for kilns and furnaces and for a heating plant for the whole school. The balance will be expended in transferring the kilns from their original housing in the wooden shed to a spacious room especially planned for the purpose; in providing a full equipment of high temperature furnaces, in the purchase of pyrometric instruments; in the furnishing of the chemical laboratory and lecture room and in the purchase of new machinery. The heating contract was completed so far as the main building is concerned in time to enable the work to be carried on under the satisfaction of steam heat during the winter. Only those who have experienced the inefficiency and danger of gas stoves can appreciate the change which was wrought. The efficiency of the work was largely increased and the danger eliminated. The construction of the new wing was so far completed that the students were able to utilize the new equipment when the school opened in the middle of September, 1913. The new kiln house, within doors, dry and warm, is the greatest boon to the workers, and the furnace room with concrete floor and fire-proof walls has enabled necessary work with high temperatures to be carried on in safety. The professor of Chemistry has stated that the new laboratory is as well equipped as any in the state.

The entering freshman class is the largest in the history of the school and the work of the year has been begun in an enthusiastic manner.

It is a matter of regret that Mr. A. R. Heubach, who had proved himself an efficient coadjutor, was called back to Germany at the close of last year. He received an offer so advantageous that it was not possible to retain his services. Casting about for a successor, your board of managers selected Mr. Earle T. Montgomery who entered upon his work with the opening year. Mr. Montgomery is a graduate of the Department of Ceramics in the Ohio State University. He has had one year's experience in teaching in the University of Illinois. He has been engaged in manufacturing for three years and since then he has been employed as assistant Ceramic Chemist by the National Bureau of Standards for three years, so that he comes to Alfred with an unusual equipment for the work. He has entered upon his duties with an intelligence and earnestness which present high promise.

Pursuant to my suggestion of last year, the board appointed Miss Mabel H. Stevens as stenographer and secretary. Miss Stevens has served with efficiency and skill, having general charge of the office and technical library.

The art department of the school has been enlarged and developed and excellent work is being done under the instructors in charge-

No difficulty is found in placing the graduates; in fact there is always a larger demand than can be filled. It is worthy of note that one member of the class of 1913 has entered a partnership in Olean and is erecting a plant for the manufacture of floor tile, a new industry in this state. Another is about to engage in the manufacture of paving brick at Richburg, the material for the enterprise having been tested out at the school. A third graduate has entered the employ of the National Fire Roofing Company and a fourth has secured a position as instructor in the department of Ceramics at Rutgers College, N. J.

The State Board of Claims called your Director as an expert to determine the nature of certain clays appropriated in the construction of the Barge Canal. Samples have been secured and tests made for the purpose of determining the commercial value of the properties.

An important departure in the plan of instruction has been made possible by the increased equipment. Two new courses have been arranged, one is made more severely technical and will lead to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Ceramic Engineering; the other is in applied arts, and, while still directed mainly toward clay work, will be greatly enlarged in the department of design.

Short courses are also offered, the aim of which is to meet the practical need of students who are unable, either from lack of time or preparation, to enter one of the full courses.

The faculty of Alfred University has, as in previous years, rendered most efficient help in the instruction in their several departments.*

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. BINNS, Director.

NEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

To the President of Alfred University:—

Sir:—I have the honor to submit herewith the fifth annual report of the New York State School of Agriculture at Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y., covering the year ending September 30, 1913. During the interval since the last report there has been a decided increase in the student body and several important changes have been made, details of which will be given in succeeding paragraphs.

Faculty

The faculty now consists of twenty-one professors and instructors, twelve of whom give their entire time to the school. Five are employed jointly with other departments of the University, and three are student assistants from the college. The farm superintendent has charge of the instruction work in farm practice. Three of the full-time instructors are employed in the department of Home Economics. In most cases the part-time instructors teach academic subjects only. The treasurer of the University and the University librarian perform similarly their respective duties for the school and are compensated therefor.

The following changes in the personnel of the faculty have occurred during the year:

Mr. A. H. Remsen, a graduate of this school with the Class of 1911, and who has supplemented his work here with additional study at the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University, has been appointed Superintendent of the Greenhouse and Grounds and Laboratory Assistant. His appointment dates from April 1, 1913.

Miss Grace L. Cheesman, a graduate of the New York State Normal College at Albany, N. Y., has been appointed as Assistant in Home Economics to succeed Miss Bertha Titsworth, who has resigned to take additional work at Cornell University.

Mr. Claude Capel, a graduate of the short term dairy course at the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University, and a practical butter and cheese maker, has been appointed as temporary laboratory assistant in the dairy department to succeed Mr. H. E. Austin who has resigned to take up commercial work.

Professor C. O. DuBois has been given a six months' leave of absence to complete his studies at Cornell University, the same to begin April 1, 1914.

Growth of the School—Enrollment

The student enrollment for the year 1912-13 reached a total of 240 persons including short term special students, showing an increase of 420 percent in the last three years. This would seem to indicate that the work offered appeals to and meets the need of the young people of the community. More than 80 per cent of these students live in the eight counties of southwestern New York adjacent to the school.

Summary of Students

	Agriculture	Economics	Total
Seniors	33	11	44
Juniors	39	12	51
Freshmen	37	3	40
Specials	19	19	38
Short Course	21	—	21
College Students taking one or more courses	14	19	33
Academy Students taking one of more courses	—	13	13
Total			240

(f As the course consists of but three years' work there is no sophomore class.)

Buildings and Grounds

Minor improvements to the buildings and grounds about the school have been made during the year as follows:

- (1) The lawns about the school have been graded and planted.
- (2) A new recitation room made necessary by the increase in the student body has been fitted up in the attic of the dairy laboratory.
- (3) Minor changes in the heating system of the main building have been made in an attempt to secure more perfect heating at less expense.

At the farm the following improvements have been made:

(1) A small but convenient piggery and a poultry building have been erected which will provide quarters for several of the different breeds to be used for demonstration and class room purposes.

(2) Minor improvements have been made to the sheep barn largely for the purpose of improving sanitary conditions.

(3) A large amount of piling has been placed along the creek back of the farm buildings. This was made necessary by a landslide which materially changed the course of the stream so that it threatened the buildings.

(4) A considerable amount of tile drainage, especially in the young orchard, has been laid and a quantity of new fence has been erected.

Most of these improvements were made possible by a special appropriation by the legislature for that purpose.

The Farm

Aside from the improvements mentioned above, a small fruit plantation including several varieties of strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, grapes, currants, and gooseberries has been planted and a long term fertilizer experiment with a four year rotation has been started. The dairy herd has been gradually improved by eliminating the less desirable animals and replacing them with others more desirable. These have been largely secured by natural increase. The completion of the piggery and poultry house mentioned above makes it possible to properly house the more important breeds of farm live stock required for class room and demonstration purposes.

School Year

In the future the school year will consist of thirty-six weeks instead of twenty-four weeks. An important change in the course of study, however, makes it possible for students to attend either twenty-four weeks per year or thirty-six weeks and still complete the course. This change enables students who find it necessary to remain at home during the busy season of the year to attend during the winter months only, and at the same time offers a full year's work to those who are able to attend during the entire school year.

Short Winter Term

A short winter term of four weeks was offered for the first time during February, 1913. It was designed for those who wish to secure some scientific training in agriculture but who are unable to pursue the regular course- Twenty-one students enrolled for this course and the results were so encouraging that it will be repeated in 1914.

Publications

The fourth annual catalogue giving full information concerning the school, the course of study and a list of students has been published, also a sixteen-page pamphlet giving general information about the school and a circular describing the winter short course. In addition, a farm news service has been inaugurated. This consists of brief timely articles of interest to the practical farmer and is regularly supplied to the newspapers of the southwestern counties. This service has met with popular approval and will be continued.

Extension Work

The act by virtue of which this school was established made no specific provision for extension work, though it was probably implied; neither has the school received any specific appropriation for extension work. The calls, however, have been so insistent that some extension work has been done when it has been possible to do so without interfering with the regular teaching duties of the staff. The majority of this work has been done under the direction of Assistant Director DuBois, though every instructor has assisted. Three special institutes have been held under the auspices of the school—one at Cuba, Allegany County; one at Little Genesee, Allegany County; and one at Ischua, Cattaraugus County, the latter being entirely in charge of the department of Home Economics. The annual Farmers' Week was held in connection with the State Agricultural Department as usual during the first week in March and was well attended. Other extension work has been largely in the form of addresses at granges, farmers' meetings, teachers' institutes, etc. It is estimated that over 5,000 people have been reached at these meetings.

The following is a list of fairs at which educational exhibits were made: State Fair, Syracuse; Wellsville Fair Association, Wellsville; Allegany County Agricultural Society, Angelica; Cuba Fair and Racing Association, Cuba; Hornell Fair Association, Hornell; the Steuben County Agricultural Society, Bath.

It is to be earnestly hoped that some arrangement may be made to care for the many requests for extension work which come to us, and to do so without overlapping the work of other state extension agencies.

Student Farm and House Practice

A feature of the new course which deserves special mention is the increased emphasis placed upon actual farm practice by each student in the Agricultural course and actual house practice by students in the department of Home Economics. According to the present arrangement, each student in the Agricultural course, in addition to the regular laboratory work in the school, is required to devote one afternoon each week during his first term at the school to actual farm labor under practical farm conditions. He must have worked not less than three months during the growing season on some farm approved by the faculty of the school before he will be granted a diploma.

Needs of the School

The increased enrollment during the year has served to emphasize three imperative needs:

First: A new three story building, not less than 50x80 feet, to be used by the departments of Farm Mechanics, Chemistry, and Physics, with one floor so arranged that it may be used both as a gymnasium and as an assembly room in which may be held farmers' meetings, institutes, poultry, fruit and potato shows and other meetings designed to promote the interests of agriculture in southwestern New York. At the present time, we have no room large enough to serve this purpose and the chemistry, wood-working, drafting and forging laboratories and the gymnasium are located in college buildings.

Second: A cottage of six or eight rooms for the use of the department of Home Economics in carrying on the work in house practice, home decoration, etc. Such a cottage would provide a home for a part of the young women students and for one of the lady instructors, and should be practically self-sustaining.

Third: An additional greenhouse similar to the present structure and connected with it. This additional house could be cared for with but little additional expense except for heating and would provide for laboratory practice in the growing of crops requiring different temperatures which is impossible in the present single house.

These are real needs and unless provision is made to supply them, the progress of the school and its service to the people of southwestern New York will be limited to its present activities.*

Respectfully submitted,

W. J. WRIGHT, Director.
