

Bloodmobile's Drive Falls Short of Goal

The Bloodmobile held in Alfred on Wednesday, October 15, received 121 pints of blood from the donors. This fell twenty-nine pints short of the goal, which was one-hundred-fifty pints.

In addition to the 121 who donated, there were thirty-six people who were rejected due to health, weight, or other reasons. Had these people been able to donate, the goal would have been reached.

Many students and faculty members who gave blood donated it to

Christian Fellowship

The Mid-Week Christian Fellowship will hold a meeting tomorrow evening at 7:00 p.m. in "The Gothic."

Featured on the program will be the Reverend Alton J. Shea and his wife, Rev. Shea, a baritone soloist, will sing for the group. Mrs. Shea, a former art teacher and a Pulitzer Art Scholarship Award winner in 1937, will do chalk illustrations.

Nation Follows Donkey; New York the Elephant

Last week, the Political Science Club devoted its meeting to a discussion of election trends for 1958 and 1960.

Professor Engelman, the first speaker, discussed the general shift of the labor, farm, business, and "white collar" vote toward the Democratic Party. On the basis of polls indicating that 57 per cent of the nation's voters will put in their ballots for Democratic representatives, he predicted that in 1958 the Democrats will take possession of the Senate by a minimum ten seat majority.

The second speaker, Gail Kelts, stated her belief that a Democratic victory in 1958 may lead to an even greater victory in 1960. In support of this conclusion, she cited the controversial political position of Vice-President Nixon, who is the probable candidate for the Republican Party in 1960. Mr. Nixon's failure to insure the solid support of the Party for himself would be most injurious to the chances of

Studies Group Is Led by Bernstein

Dr. Melvin Bernstein will preside as president at the annual fall meeting of the American Studies Association of New York State at Cornell University this Saturday.

The representatives from universities throughout upper New York State will discuss the topic, "Some Aspects of Race Tension in America." Speakers from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, the Maxwell School of Citizenship of Syracuse University, and State University College on Long Island will present papers during the afternoon.

Other AU faculty members belonging to the American Studies Association are C. D. Smith III, Theodore Klitzke, Frederick Engelman, and David Leach.

Young Dems Will Hear Candidates

The first meeting of The Young Democrats will be held Thursday, October 30, at 8:00 p.m., in Howell Hall.

On the occasion of this meeting Clarence Donovan Schaffner, democratic candidate for assembly, and George Bliss, Allegany County Chairman, will speak.

Dr. Frederick Engelman, advisor of the group, stresses the fact that anyone who is interested is welcome.

Prof. Charles M. Harer, former chairman of the department of design, who retired in the spring. Harer has leukemia and will be spending the winter in Texas.

As a result of the donation in Alfred, he will receive from the Red Cross, free of charge, all the blood he needs.

Graduate Award Directory Is Now Available for Information

Complete information on how to obtain graduate study funds, ranging from $200 to up to $10,000, is now available in the second volume of the World-Wide Graduate Award Directory. Over 250 universities and foundations from almost every State, and over 100 foreign universities have sent information to be included in this new volume.

Among the awards are many that have gone begging in former years because qualified applicants didn't know about them. This guide to graduate study awards is published annually by The Advancement and Placement Institute to provide the needed communication link between administrators of assistance programs and potential candidates.

Current information about the fellowships, assistantships, scholarships, loans, prizes, and self-help programs includes candidates' prerequisites, place of application and descriptions of the study programs.

Copies of both volumes of the World-Wide Graduate Award Directory may be examined at many graduate schools, university placement or dean's offices, libraries, or may be ordered from the Institute, Box 99H, Greenpoint Station, Brooklyn 22, N.Y.

Exchange Students

Information concerning the International Association for the Exchange of Students for Technical Experience may be obtained from Dean Gertz.

This program arranges for juniors, seniors and graduate students in science, architecture and engineering to go abroad during their summer vacations and gain on-the-job training in industry.

The students must be planning to return to the U.S. to continue their studies.

Southwest's Kinship System Anthropologist Tooker's Talk

by Emmalyn Heed

Dr. Elizabeth Tooker, instructor of anthropology at the University of Buffalo, was the guest speaker at the Sociology Club meeting last Wednesday evening in Howell Hall.

Dr. Tooker did field work as an assistant in archaeology and made an extensive study of the Papago and the Yaqui Indians while studying in Arizona. She received her BA from Radcliffe in 1949, MA from the University of Arizona in 1953 and her Ph. D. from Radcliffe in 1958.

Interested in the living cultures of societies other than our own, Dr. Tooker chose as her subject the southwest Indians of Arizona and New Mexico. She explained that there are some twenty groups living in the U.S. today who lead a completely separate life from that in the rest of the country. They have their own codes, beliefs, religions, methods of livelihood and of structuring society. The more familiar of these tribes are the Navaho, Apache, Zuni and Hopi Indians.

It is interesting to note, Dr. Tooker said, that these societies

Campus "Barrel" Ends; Ugly Man Still Mystery

Last Friday, this year's Campus Barrel drive ended with an approximate total of two hundred and fifty dollars collected.

The Campus Ugly Man will be crowned at the Student Senate Assembly on November 13. The candidates for this year's contest were: Mike Weiner, Bartlett; Dave Daignault, Lambda Chi Alpha; Marv Mansky, Tau Delta Phi; Steve Elkin, Kappa Nu; Fred Grayson, Cannon; Norm Graham, Kappa Psi Upsilon; Joe Yannuzzi, Delta Delta Sigma Phi; Bob York, Barressi; Ace Miller, Klan Alpine; and "Skip" Dickens of Rhodies.

Though the total money collected fell short of the "hoped for" goal of the Senate, it far exceeded their expectations.

As in the past, the money collected by the Campus Barrel will be donated to charity. This year it will go to three organizations: the World University Service, which sponsors exchange programs of material between countries; the Mental Health Foundation which works to promote mental health; and the University Service of Japan which grants scholarships to Japanese students who would otherwise be unable to attend college.

Pre-Med Society Meets at Cornell

On Saturday, November 8, 1958, Alpha Epsilon Delta, the national pre-medical honor society, is sponsoring a regional convention to be held in Statler Hall at Cornell University.

The convention is a one-afternoon affair and will consist of a banquet-luncheon followed by talks on all phases of medicine education given by representatives of the following medical schools: Buffalo, Cornell, Einstein, Albany, Upstate, Rochester and Columbia. After the talks, those attending will have a chance to talk personally with these representatives and to clear up any questions about medicine and medical school.

The price of a ticket to the banquet and convention is $3.50. All those interested contact Jim Tenzel at Klan Alpine by Friday.

Alfred Rifle Team Announces Squad

This year, for the first time, the members of the Rifle Team organized by the ROTC will receive varsity letters.

Eliminations took place yesterday, when the fifteen member squad was chosen out of a group of over forty students who had previously qualified.

The schedule for the 1958-59 season will include fifty postal matches. These are shooting contests which take place on the separate college campuses and are reported through the mail by the team coaches of the competing schools.

Interpersonal Conflict Theme Of AU Thespians' Production

The Footlight Club, in conjunction with the department of speech and dramatic production, will present Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke" on November 14 and 15.

Centered in Glorious Hill, Mississippi, the play is a chronicle of two lives crossing each other's orbit frequently, yet somehow never actually touching. The hero and heroine are never quite ready for each other at the same time.

The heroine, Alma Winemiller, has an indistinct view of life. Her aims and desires are as unclear to herself as to the young man with whom she is involved. A recent graduate of Johns Hopkins Medical School, the young man, John Buchanan arrives at self understanding only too slowly.

The Rev. Winemiller is a righteous man who must bear the cross of a wife who has reverted to childhood. He is completely perplexed by Alma's actions towards John. Dr. John Sr. is Alma's father confessor, to whom she turns when life becomes too oppressive. Roger Doremus is the only man who ever proposes marriage to her.

As a Mexican seductress, Rosa states, she can't hold John, but Nellie Ewell learns that she can. Other characters include Mrs. Bassett, the gossip troublemaker, and Archie Kramer, a traveling salesman. Among the townsfolk there are Vernon, Rosemary, Gonzales and Dusty.

Commence Plans For Military Ball

Preparations for the Seventh Annual Military Ball, to be held on November 21 in the Men's Gym, are now being made.

Dave Schuler, social chairman of the Eyes Right Club, has selected committee heads from members of the Junior Cadet class and they have started work on the various phases of preparation.

Plans are now being made for the selection of a queen and company sponsors.

Juniors

All juniors are invited to attend the Junior Masquerade Party to be held on Halloween, October 31, at 9:30 p.m. at Klan Alpine Fraternity.

Talk?

There will be a meeting of Debating Society on Friday at 3:30 p.m. in Kanakadea Hall. All those interested are welcome.

Letters to the Editor

HOW TO FILL A BARREL

To the Editor:

Is it necessary to relegate a community chest drive to a competitive rat-race if this worthy cause is as worthwhile as we supposedly believe? It is really necessary to know who gave or who didn't? Does this ostentatious display then become our reason for donation? If so, haven't we lost perspective?

Is it really necessary to step all over someone (a colleague, a friend) in order to achieve a psychopathic propagation of self and then wrap it in the blue bunting of self-righteousness morality?

Can college administrators possibly expect to fill the gaps in the riddled ranks of national leadership by spoon-feeding men and women of college age? Could the problem of the immaturity of American college students stem in some way from this? Could the administration's responsibility to parents result in the ignoring of their responsibility to the students and the nation. Which way is A.U. headed?

If the shoe fits.

GO FRATERNITY

To the Freshman Men:

It occurs to me that since the Publicity Director of the IFC took the trouble to write you a letter attempting to solicit your interest in fraternities on this campus, someone ought to say a few words about the independent situation. Actually this won't be the same sort of thing because what I have to say about being an independent will probably not sell you on the idea. More important than the choice you make, I think you ought to think about a few things.

First of all, in a sense, I hope for your own benefit that you do GO FRATERNITY!! Actually you'd be crazy if you didn't since the administration is so inclined to make this your only choice if you want to have any social life here at Alfred. So let's say, either GO FRATERNITY or go transfer.

Looking at Chaleff's letter, I was particularly impressed by the fact that he mentioned that fraternity men have higher combined cumulative indices than non-fraternity men, and that he talked about "competent help in any subject that he is having trouble with," and that he gracefully avoided one of the real reasons, which is of course, the rather dubious file of backtests accumulated by the fraternity. So GO FRATERNITY if you want to play it cool and perhaps a little dirty (incidentally, if you think this sort of thing is all on the up and up, how come it wasn't mentioned?).

Now here you are, at glorious Alfred University, the intellectual center of Western New York between the Alfred-Almond Central School and Wellsville High, and the enrollment is increasing, and the fraternities can only take about half of the new freshmen (or is it less? and oh boy but you guys must feel like gods come the last week of rushing), and what does the administration do for the other half, but make it impossible to have any sort of social life if you don't belong to a fraternity by putting the dampers on non-fraternity parties. So, in a brilliant move designed to completely mess up the works for about half of the freshman boys (to say nothing of the rather apathetic upperclass independents) the administration, from whatever pulpit the administrations stands on (and I hardly think it's liberal, progressive, thoughtful or sensible) has seen fit to completely damn (oops! Excuse me) the last possible hope for non-fraternity men (of which about half of you guys will be if you don't really get in there and GO FRATERNITY) by stamping out non-fraternity parties, on account of the town's complaining.

So freshman, GO FRATERNITY, as there is nothing else to do, unless you want to open your eyes and take a long, hard look at this thing called an institution of higher learning.

Fraternity Potentials Advised To Attend All Rushing Parties

by Steve Chaleff
Publicity Director, IFC

In many ways, this is a very experimental year in fraternity rushing. The schedule now in effect is completely different from anything ever used at Alfred.

Particularly new is the concept of an informal rush season. Unfortunately, and for reasons unknown to the IFC, many freshmen seem to feel that the informal rush parties are not important, and therefore they do not bother to attend them. Included in this group are many men who are very much interested in becoming fraternity men. It is mainly to these men that this article is directed.

The informal rush season was very carefully planned by the IFC to be an integral part of the overall rushing system. It was designed to introduce freshmen to fraternities and fraternity men to freshmen.

Its value lies in the fact that it enables all this mutual orientation to go on at a minimum cost of valuable time, and in an efficient manner. Rushing in the Union can never take the place of this system.

To freshmen, the IFC has this to say: you have two important decisions concerning fraternities that you will have to make. The first is whether or not to go fraternity; the second is which fraternity to go. To make intelligent decisions, you will have to "know the score." For this, you will have to rush wisely and rush well. This means that you will have to adhere to the schedule set up by the IFC.

Letter to Freshman Women

Intersorority Council

The Intersorority Council, composed of members of the four sororities on campus, has tried to explain to the freshman women the value of belonging to a sorority while a student at Alfred. In conjunction with this effort, the council held an open meeting with freshmen to answer any questions they might have had on the sororities and the rushing system.

Despite this meeting, rumors have been prevalent concerning the sororities. As is usually the case with rumors, they are mainly false.

The four sororities on the campus are local. NO GIRL IS DENIED MEMBERSHIP IN ANY ONE OF THEM DUE TO RACE, CREED, OR COLOR. Any girl who so wishes can join a sorority.

Sororities are of great value to women on campus. They provide congenial living quarters with other women whom you would like to associate with. They offer companionship and added social life in the form of parties. Also, sororities have desserts with the various fraternities and parties given by their honoraries.

In a sorority, any girl having trouble with an academic subject will be able to receive competent assistance from another member of her house. This tends to improve scholarship on the part of sorority women.

On November 23, the annual Intersorority Open House will be held. At this time, all freshman women and transfers will be invited to visit the four houses for their first glimpse of sororities. Before the Open House, all women will receive a pamphlet put out by the Council giving the fees of each sorority and a short description of each house, and its history and aims.

Sorority rushing begins the second week of the second semester After Preferential Sunday, the women receive bids and are pledged by the respective houses. HOW EVER, THIS DOES NOT MEAN THAT YOU ARE IMMEDIATELY A MEMBER OF THE HOUSE TO WHICH YOU PLEDGE.

Pledging lasts for approximately six weeks. During this time, the sorority sisters will get to know you better and the reverse will hold true. If the sorority sisters feel that they have made a mistake in pledging you into their sorority you may be asked to depledge. If you feel that you have made a mistake in pledging a certain house you can depledge yourself. After a month, you are eligible for pledging another house.

Sororities, and sororal living, are a valuable addition to the college career of any woman.

WSG Government Is Under Survey

The project this semester for W.S.G. is to study the effectiveness of the present Women's Student Government. A committee has been appointed to visit various coed institutions in the area.

A study of handbooks from several colleges is also underway.

A proposed system of government will be set up and taken to each residence for discussion. When an acceptable plan has been formulated, it will be taken to the Administrative Council for final approval.

Many ideas will also be collected from the New York State Conference of the Inter-collegiate Association of Women Students to be held at the University of Rochester on November 22.

Counselor Helps Students in Search For Unanswered 'Mystery' of Being

by Dr. Melvin Bernstein
Hillel Counselor

(This is the third in a series of articles to be written by the campus chaplains or counselors—Ed.)

The work of a B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundations Counselor on a university campus is the work he can fit into his regular instructional, community and family budget of time.

With the help of students interested in the continuance of the vitality and integrity of the inheritance of the 4,000 years of Jewish civilization, the Counselor serves the regular worship needs of the students (Sabbath and holiday) and stands ready to advise and comfort in moments of personal stress. This is the core of the matter, for at the heart of the Jewish civilization is the practice and the refreshment of prayer to the one God who is by definition above man's reproach.

The remainder of the Counselor's program of Jewish community service, as I see it, is to take every legitimate and positive advantage of the intellectual surroundings promissory in the university pattern of our daily lives. The historic values of Judaism point the way.

"The People of the Book" have always prized literacy. This literacy is grounded in one of the most valuable, artistic, and morally ver-tebrate books the mind of man has ever produced. The variety of the insights of the Bible, amplified in a voluminous literature and in a dense history, generates varietist points of view, incites discussion, promotes self-direction confined by social well-being, and points man to the transcendent values which are both the joy and grief of his living days.

Idealism, democracy, discussion, consensus, history-mindedness, and Utopianism—these are some of the Jewish values that make Jewish civilization the usable material it is for Hillel programs and for its incorporation into the daily university life of Alfred's students. Needless to add, I do not claim these values as exclusively Jewish; they are, simply, there, in the record; they are eminent options for all men.

My task is to help students to the strenuous activity of seeking not dogma but rather the dedication to the search of the still unanswered mystery of Being and human being. Judaism is an experiment of long duration; it is research on a cosmic yardstick. It confers dignity on man to participate in the quest, and man endows the quest by his aspiring humanity.

U.S. Schools Apply Knowledge According to Mexican Student

by Florine Markowitz

Rolando Jose Hoyt, a graduate engineering student from Monterey, Mexico, arrived in the United States just two months ago. He was sent to Alfred to study for his post-graduate degree by his boss, Walter Gardner, who is himself an alumnus of Alfred.

Rolando, whose father was an American and whose mother was Mexican, studied at the Monterey State University, Universidad de Nuevo Leon. The trouble, he says, with Mexican schools is that there is not enough opportunity given to apply one's knowledge, while in the United States the student is given an opportunity to do this. This, he feels, is one of the reasons the United States is one of the leading nations of the world.

He is thoroughly pleased with Alfred, both because of the beauty of its landscape, and because it is quiet and conducive to study. The people are extremely friendly and, though he was homesick at first, he now feels that Alfred is his second home.

Rolando feels especially grateful to Dean McMahon and to the Rodriguez-Diaz' for the kind attention they gave to him. He was very impressed with the dinner the American Association of Women of Alfred gave for the International Club, of which he is a member.

Rolando's hobby is baseball. He is an avid fan and is especially proud of Monterey's championship Little League team. His musical tastes run from jazz to classical music with the exception of Rock 'n Roll.

As he makes new friends, learns to speak English, and participates in the many new experiences that Alfred has to offer, Rolando is coming to like his new life very much.

Three Graduates Publish Papers

An Alfred graduate, Rabindar Singh, who is now a director in the National Buildings Organization of the Government of India, is co-author of a technical paper appearing in the October issue of the Journal of the American Ceramic Society.

R. J. Ryder, who graduated from Alfred in 1953, published a paper in this month's Journal. He is now working toward his Ph. D. degree in Ceramic Technology at Penn State.

A 1941 graduate of Alfred, J. F. Lynch, collaborated with two others at Battelle Memorial Institute Columbus, Ohio, on a Bulletin report concerning the use of ceramics in rocket motors. Principal ceramist at Battelle since 1946, Lynch has more than ten years' experience in research and development of refractory ceramics for aircraft and missile applications.

Clark Joins AU Faculty As English Instructor

by Anne Francese

The faculty of the department of English have had their number increased by the addition of John R. Clark as an instructor.

Mr. Clark is a native of Philadelphia. He received a Bachelor's degree from Pennsylvania State University, and a Master of Arts degree from Columbia. At present, Mr. Clark is working for a doctorate.

Mr. Clark first taught at Bloomfield College in Bloomfield, New Jersey. At Alfred, he is serving on the Civ. Panel and is teaching Readings in Modern Literature. Last year, Mr. Clark worked for a television and motion picture research firm in New York. He has served in the Navy for a two year term.

When asked for his impressions of Alfred, Mr. Clark replied that he likes the school very much. He added that he is much impressed by the beautiful fall weather and scenery.

by Gail Kopper

'Twas quiet on the AU campus this weekend. Could be many were recovering from the gala parties of the weekend gone by or perchance they fled for a brief respite.

Not all was somber silence though. Friday night the gals of Theta Theta Chi and their dates donned costumes for a Halloween masquerade. If you were frightened by hobgoblins be assured that they only came from the house high on the hill.

Pi Alpha kept things rolling with a Fall Scavenger Hunt party. Dinner guests on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith.

Sigma Chi's Sunday dinner guests were Dean and Mrs. Nelson Marshall.

The pinning spirit hasn't died out at Lambda Chi. Dan Sanders '60 pinned Andrea Klaess of Rockville Center. Wednesday night, the guys played host to Theta Chi at a dessert.

Tau Delt's dinner guests Sunday were Dean and Mrs. Fred H. Gertz and children.

Sunday morning Klan Alpine had an honorary breakfast.

Gifts went to the highest bidders at Kappa Psi's "Auction Party" Saturday. Sounds like fun.

Kappa Nu had an "ice cream soda" party Saturday night, Regresson setting in, gentlemen?

Hilltoppers Down Saxons 18-8 Harriers 2nd at Canisius; Finnerty Sets New Mark

by Al Siegel
Special to the Fiat Lux

HARTFORD, Conn. (Oct. 25) — Trinity, showing the poise expected of a club in its class struck like lightning in downing the Saxons.

Alfred's first visit to the state capitol ended in an 18-8 win for the Hilltoppers, as TC pulled its mark to 3-2, but the Saxons gave Trinity quite a battle.

Now Alfred's four seniors—Bill McAlee, Bob Cranston, Lyle Wiedeman and Joe Brill all get set to make their final appearance on Merrill Field as the Bombers of Ithaca College come in for the last home clash of the campaign. Ithaca, tops in the east on defense, looked "impressive" to Pete Smith last Saturday as they downed C. W. Post 18-0.

Eliminate the initial nine minutes of play and the final score would be 8-0 Alfred. At 3:30 of the clash John Kenney scored the first of three TD's. This one came on a 9 yard end sweep.

A 55 yard pass play from quarterback Ron Reopel, Kenney shedding tacklers, saw the halfback go over for his second score. This came at 5:50 of the clash.

The Bantams final score came at 9:30 on a final jaunt by Kenney. This was set up by a 64 yard run by Bob Johnson, Trinity's All EC-AC back, who picked up 139 yards rushing.

The Saxons lone tally came with 6:10 left in the clash on a blocked punt on the 4. With Lyle Wiedeman crashing through on Ron Reopel's attempted quick kick, the Saxons' Bill McAlee, Tom Cechini, Wiedeman and Joe Kelly all chased the illusive pigskin.

Soph Joe Kelly caught up with the ball on the one and fell into the endzone, picking up the purple and gold TD. Fullback Jim Ryan went through tackle for the conversion and the Saxon 8 points.

Now the Saxons, 1-4 for the campaign, get set to face Ithaca with a 5-1 mark. Under the leadership of a new coach, Dick Lyon, former Wellsville high mentor and assistant coach Mike Greene, former AU grid star. The Bombers have come a long way from their 2-5 mark of last year.

This will be the 12th meeting between the two clubs, the first clash being '33. AU leads the series 6-4-1, Ithaca ending the AU 15 game win skein 31-13. Game time is set for 2 p.m.

PRESS BOX NOTES—Five Saxons didn't make the trip due to injuries. They were regulars Joe Yanuzzi, Bob Cranston and Bob Parke along with Neil Ritz and Dave Manko . . . Three Warriors went full 60 minutes—Tom Cechini, Bill McAlee and Dave Brosnan. Juergens was in for 57 minutes at quarterback.

Alumni group from New England area was in attendance at game . . . crowd held to 1500 due to rain. Team trainer and basketball manager Norm Hecht had quite a weekend — announced his engagement to Judy Rosenberg, Pi Alpha '58, just before game.

Saxons blocked three Trinity punts, two in succession . . . Team was quartered at Ideal Motel, Berlin, Conn., just outside of Hartford. Trinity used the "Lonesome end."

Confusion in pressbox and stands as to Saxon TD maker due to AU's gold uniforms covered with mud. Andy Lopez led AU ground attack with 47 yards . . . Ithaca had two scouts at Hartford. After Ithaca, trip to Brockport closes season.

Alfred's Frank Finnerty won the Canisius Invitational at Buffalo, New York, last Saturday with a record breaking run of 23 minutes, 31 seconds over the 4.6 mile Delaware Park course. Finnerty finished 5 seconds ahead of Niagara's Bob Blassey and in doing so cut the old record of 23 minutes, 34 seconds, by 3 full seconds.

From the start, Blassey and University of Buffalo's Becker were pressing Finnerty for the lead. After a mile and a half Becker dropped back into the pack and Frank had only Blassey to contend with. At that, Blassey just wasn't quite fast enough to pass the speedy and sensational Alfred runner. Unde-feated this year, Finnerty seems to run a better race each time out. He will undoubtedly be one of the favorites in the New York State Small College Meet which will take place on November 8.

On an overall basis, the Saxon Harrier finished second in a field which had 79 runners representing 12 colleges and universities. Completing the scoring for Alfred were Carl Blanchard who finished 8th, Warren Sutton, who finished 24th, Larry Eaton, who finished 25th and Joe Connor, who finished 28th. This gave Alfred a total of 86 points and second place behind

Roberts Wesleyan College's first place total of 75 points

The order of finish for the 12 competing schools was as follows:

1. Roberts Wesleyan College	75
2. Alfred University	86
3. Ontario State Aggies	87
4. Cobleskill Junior College	105
5. University of Buffalo	124
6. Buffalo State	137
7. Cortland State	157
8. Oswego State	179
9. Niagara University	233
10. Erie County Tech	253
11. Canisius College	302
