

Alfred State honors employees for service years

ALFRED—Alfred State College recently honored its employees for their many years of service at the college.

Topping the list of honorees was Robert Albrecht of Alfred Station, SUNY Distinguished Teaching professor, English & Humanities at Alfred State, who was honored for his 45 years of service at the college. He received a certificate and a college pocket watch to commemorate the occasion.

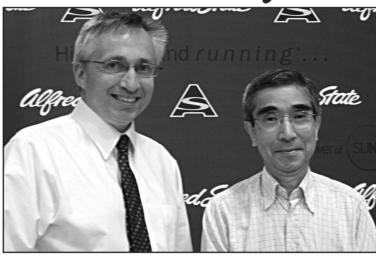

Honored for 35 years of service were: Roger Gelser of Angelica, general mechanic, Facilities Services; Barbara Greil of Alfred, librarian, Library Services; Dawn Linke of Andover, instructional support specialist, Instructional Technologies; and Nancy Shearer, Hornell, dean of research services, Academic Affairs. Those honored received a college weather station and a certificate to commemorate the occasion.

Those honored for 30 years included Mark Amman of Andover, professor and chair, Physical & Life Sciences; Michael Foster of Hornell, fire and life safety manager, Facilities Services; Jeffrey Goodrich of Alfred Station, senior programmer/analyst, Technology Services; and Takao Takeuchi, Alfred, professor, Mathematics/ Physics. Honorees received a college watch and a certificate to commemorate the occasion.

Employees honored for 25 years service included Colleen Argentieri of Hornell, director of alumni affairs, Institutional Advancement; Annette Burdett of secretary Hornell, Nursing/Physical & Life Sciences; Joy Carlson of Alfred, professor, Architecture and De-Gertrude Dorsey of sign: Belfast, janitor, Facilities Services; Laura Giglio of Hornell, director of peer tutoring, The Learning Center; Diane Kilbury of Bath, library clerk II, Library Services; Willard Mlott, general mechanic, Facilities Services; Valerie Nixon of Canisteo, interim president, President's Office; Mary Scholla of Angelica, secretary II, School of Architecture, Management and Engineering Technology; and Thomas Stolberg, associate professor, Business. Honorees received a college chair and a certificate to commemorate the occasion.

Employees honored for 20 years service included Kurt Boxhorn of Belmont, plant utility engineer II, Facilities Services; Kathleen Ebert of Wellsville, professor and chair, Mathematics/Physics; Gerald Fong, professor, Physical & Life Sciences; Garth Grantier of Wellsville, academic adviser, The Learning Center; Steven Jakobi of Canisteo, associate professor, Physical & Life Sciences; Teresa Jaycox of Almond, keyboard specialist. Pye delivers keynote at Int'l Congress on Glass the Czech Republic. In his address, "Glass and the Nanotechnology Paradigm," Pye explored how some of the major developments in glass science were, in fact, milestones in the advent of the nanotechnology era.

ALFRED–L. David Pye, dean and professor of glass science emeritus at Alfred University (AU), delivered the keynote address at the 23rd International Congress on Glass Monday, July 1 in Prague, the Czech Republic.

"Nanoscale science and engineering have become arguably the foremost conduit for focusing on how modern materials are viewed, fabrication, characterized and utilized throughout society," said Pye, who received his B.S. degree from Alfred University in 1959, and his Ph.D. from AU in 1968.

"Glass is the quintessential nanotech material," said Pye, who was a founding director of the National Science Foundation's Industry-University Center for Glass Research at Alfred University. Pye was also instrumental in creating the doctoral degree in glass science at AU, making the University the only institution in the United States and only the third in the world to offer the degree.

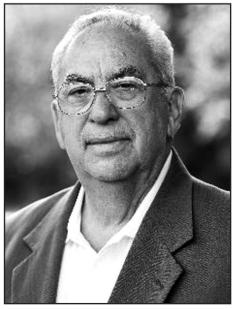

Long before nanotechnology became a buzzword, glass scientists were working on microcrack theory, amorphous phase separation, photosensitivity, photonucleation, ligand field theory, controlled crystallization, ion-exchange and resolution of glass theory, all processes that occur at the nano-level.

"Our understanding of glass at the nanoscale level has led to some remarkable applications in such diverse fields as energy, medicine, photonics, architecture, trans-portation and communications," Pye noted, saying his address focused on "the origin and growth of the nanotechnology paradigm," showing its "connection to both historical and modern-day glass science theory, and potential future applications of glass."

Pye retired after a 34-year career at Alfred University as a professor and administrator.

He is past president of the International Commission on Glass (ICG), and the American Ceramic Society. He is an honorary member of the German Society of Glass Technology, honorary fellow of the British Society of Glass Technology and a distinguished life member of the American Ceramic Society.

Pye has received numerous awards, including the ICG's President's Award for Lifetime Achievements and the State University of New York Chancellor's Award for Scholarship and Creativity. He currently serves as founding editor of the International Journal of Applied Glass Science, and is an aspiring stained glass artist.

OBITUARIES

VERNE D. HIGGINS Master mold maker, music lover CORTLAND-Verne D. Higgins, 58, formerly of Alfred Station, passed away Tuesday (June 25, 2013) at home in Cortland.

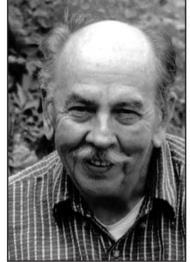

Mr. Higgins was born on Oct. 16, 1954 in North Hornell to Wallace C. and Norma B. (Miller) Higgins. He was a 1973 graduate of Alfred-Almond Central School and earned his Bachelor of Arts degree from Alfred University in 1977.

Verne was a master model and mold maker for Pfaftzgraff China in York, PA for many vears. With a passion for his trade, he also worked for Lennox Porcelain, Syracuse China as well as locally for Earth Forms of Alfred.

In addition to his parents, Wally and Norma Higgins of Alfred Station, he is survived by a brother, Don (Cathy) Higgins of Ossian; two sisters, Laurie (Dick) Higgins-Lang of Alfred Station and Sharon (Dan) Stiller of Andover/Gaithersburg, MD; his former wife and friend, Cindy Earl Higgins; 9 nieces and nephews, Samantha Higgins Tiano, Sarah Higgins, Mellisa Higgins, Shanley MacCrea, Casey Keenan, Bethany Stiller, Sarah Stiller Huckabone. Thomas Stiller and Andrew Stiller; and several cousins.

Verne was a lifelong music lover which began during his guitar playing days. He was an avid artist where it came out in his drawings and pottery work. He loved nature and animals, whether domestic or wild. In later years, he volunteered his time to many causes. To him, everything was "beautiful," and that word was his favorite to describe the world around him.

There was no prior visitation. A private graveside memorial service was held at Maplewood Cemetery in Alfred Station at the convenience of the family with Rev. Laurie DeMott of the Union University Church in Alfred, officiating. She will be assisted by Verne's brother-in-law, Rev. Daniel Stiller. Arrangements were under the direction of Baker-Swan Funeral Home, in Andover. Online condolences may be offered at www.baker-swan.com. Memorial contributions in Verne's name may be made to SPCA Serving Allegany County, 1374 SR 19, Wellsville, NY 14895.

ALAN CHRISTIAN KRUGER

A jack of all trades WELLSVILLE-Alan Christian Kruger, a gifted craftsman, outdoorsman, engineer, gardener and jack of all trades, who single-handedly harvested and milled his own boards, built a barn, and with his son and friends constructed a wooden canoe from scratch, passed from this life peacefully in his sleep, at home, on Thursday, June 27, 2013 at age 72.

Born in Wellsville in 1940, Alan was raised on the family farm on Meservey Hill, graduated from Wellsville High School in 1958, and won numerous awards in FFA.

He joined the U.S Army in 1960, and was discharged as a Corporal in 1962, then served in the reserves from 1962-1966. In the army, he was stationed in Oahu, HI. In 1964 he attended Williamsport Tech. He purchased his grandfather's 50-acre farm in Wellsville in 1965. where he and his wife raised their family. Alan married Maxine Louise Youmans in 1968, and worked at Worthington for over 38 years as a manufacturing engineer. He made several trips to Europe with his wife over the years. He retired in 2003, traveled with his wife via RV across the country to Alaska and back, then split his time in recent years between Arcadia, FL and his home in Wellsville.

He was a member of the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church in Wellsville, and also attended Grace Lutheran Church in Arcadia, FL.

A proud, private, and hardworking man, Alan was a remarkably gifted craftsman, outdoorsman, engineer, gardener and jack of all trades, accomplishing such feats as singlehandedly harvesting and milling his own boards, building a barn and other structures, crafting his own intricate parquet floor tiles, and, with friends and his son Jonathan, constructing a beautiful wooden canoe from scratch. He always had a larder packed with lush, homegrown produce. He will be remembered fondly for his broad intelligence, encyclopedic knowledge of "country skills", sense of humor, and willingness to lend his know-how to his church and friends, when time in later years allowed.

Alan was predeceased by his parents, Muriel Kruger and Christian Kruger of Wellsville, and his sister, June Meierjurgen. He is survived by his wife Maxine Kruger, his brother Glen Kruger (Brenda) of Wellsville, his children Jonathan Kruger of Seattle, WA, Kathryn Koegel (Tim) of Alfred, Melissa Reid (Brad) of Renton, WA, and his grandchildren-Vianna five Koegel. Donata Koegel. and Lucas Koegel of Alfred, and Kate Reid and Maximilian Reid of Renton, WA, as well as several nieces and nephews and some very special friends.

Calling hours were from 2-4 and 6-8 p.m. Tuesday, July 2 at Mulholland-Crowell Funeral Home in Wellsville. Visitation was 10 a.m.-12 noon Wednesday, July 3 at Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, with a memorial service at noon, followed by lunch. Dr. Reverend Carl Knitter officiated with the assistance of Reverend Bill Willson.

The art of creating a Mosaic Jell-O

This recipe was recently in the Democrat and Chronicle newspaper, probably with the advent of July 4th. I also have been doing a lot of talking about the A.U. art camp that is coming up soon, so I was intrigued by the mosaic nature of this creation. Looks like it is very easy to create and makes a lovely presentation.

Mosaic Jell-O

four 3 ounce packages of Jell-O, of different colors

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin

1 14 oz. can sweetened condensed milk

In a medium bowl, dissolve 1 package Jell-O in 1 c. boiling water. Stir for about 2 minutes, or until dissolved. Pour into a small square or rectangular container that has been lightly coated with cooking oil. (Container should be approximately 5 inches square.) Repeat with remaining packages of flavored Jell-O and chill for two hours or until firmly set. Meanwhile, in a large bowl, stir the unflavored gelatin into 1/2 cup of cold water until dissolved. Let stand for one minute. Add 11/2 cups boiling water and the sweetened condensed milk and stir until blended. Allow to cool. Lightly coat a 13x9 inch baking dish with oil. Remove the flavored Jell-Os from their containers and cut into cubes. Gently toss and mix the cubes in the baking dish. Pour the cooled milk mixture over and chill for three hours. Cut in cubes and serve.

Sun Spots

The following poem was written on July 5, 1983, to commemorate New York Yankee pitcher Dave Righetti's no-hitter against the Boston Red Sox 30 years ago, on July 4, 1983. The author, a Red Sox fan, had decided at the last minute along with his father and brother to go to the game to root for their Bosox against the rival Yankees. However, despite Boston losing to New York on this day, he recognized that he had witnessed a rare feat, and felt inspired to memorialize it in verse. THE MODERN-DAY YANK

(a poem that tries hard to rhyme!)

Listen my friends, and you shall hear, Of a Yankee dream that will last many a year. On the 4th of July we thought of all those great men, Jefferson, Hancock, Adams-and good old Ben!

It has been 207 years since the Declaration; It was then when thoughts of independence stirred a forming nation

It was against the unfair British that they raised their gripes-

But now, it was the Red Sox who tried to fight the "pinstripes.

Yesteryear their hope was in the classic "one if by land and 2 if by sea,'

But the modern day Yanks put their hopes on a young Dave Righetti

Dad, Bri, and I thought going to the game would be fun, Not unlike earlier fans and their hoopla at the Tea Party in Boston!

But the boys from up north found things not so neat-Indeed, from the young southpaw they found nothing but heat.

Leading off the first it was Remy, Boggs, and Rice, But by the time the Yanks came to bat the Sox had whiffed thrice!

For the Bosox it was the young John Tudor on the mound

A good lefty whose arm is sound.

But like the ferocious battle on Bunker Hill

To be the victor one needed to have more than just the stronger will.

Through the 2nd and 3rd innings Righetti continued to throw,

Mixing curve, slider, and fastball, he gave the Bosox many a woe-

Into the middle of the game the lefty strongly hurled, Unaware that his efforts would be as famous as the "shot heard round the world."

In the 95-degree heat the Sox hoped Righetti would wilt.

But the modern-day Yank couldn't forsake his fans in "the house that Ruth built."

Getting the Boston boys on easy grounders and flies, It was as fateful as waiting to shoot "until you see the whites of their eyes.

Fooling Boston's big batters was Righetti's flair-They looked as surprised as the British when Washington crossed the Delaware! Into the latter innings the Sox still had no hits And when the Bosox could bat the ball it always found Yankee mitts!

Although Tudor was pitching a good game, The Yanks would not let him go down in fame. By getting a run in the fifth inning, The New Yorkers certainly helped their pitcher's chances of winning.

HE ALFRED S "A pretty darn good newspaper serving Alfred since 1883"

Into the Eighth the whole park began to jitter-"Could the southpaw actually be throwing a no-hitter?" A great performance like this would put a smile on owner George;

And the same would happen to a great General if extra rations were brought to his ragged army at Valley Forge

By adding 2 more, to four-to-two the Yanks raised the score

Certainly this game was going down in baseball folklore!

... But to the top of the ninth it all came down.

... Righetti needed but three more to be on top of the "town".

To the first batter the count went full-

Then ball four-was the lefty in a lull?? On Hoffman, though, the Yanks nearly turned two-And Remy went down—was there anything the Sox could do??

... Now all Righetti needed was Boggs, Boston's second batter-

But hitting at a .357 clip, he was surely no easy matter! By this time, of course, the fans were on their feet, Full of happiness and joy, like earlier patriots at the British defeat!

Throwing strongly the Yanks' pitcher continued to overpower

Like Washington, this was his Yorktown, his victorious hour.

Then . . . with one final windup - throw - and swinging strike three, This modern Yank's heroism thrusted him into the pages of history!!

COUNTY MID-YEAR REVIEW – 2013

We are almost exactly halfway through the "new year," 2013. That makes it an appropriate time to review what has happened so far, and what is pending for the balance of the year. However, I will begin with a brief review of the June 24th Board meeting. It began with the Pledge of Allegiance, led by former Army Sergeant Kelison R. Helms, III. He served in the Army from 1986 to 1989, and in the Army Reserves from 1989 to 2004. We are indebted to veterans, like Kelison, who have given years of their lives to protect our nation.

Chairman Curt Crandall presented Retirement Plaques to three retiring County employees. Steven Presutti, Director of the Real Property Tax Services Office, was recognized for 26 years of service. Kim Toot, Director of the Office For the Aging, was recognized for almost 26 years of service. Adele Finnemore, Deputy Clerk of the Board and Journal Clerk, was recognized for 21 years of service. We wish all of them the best in their retirement. All will be greatly missed.

Privilege of the Floor was also granted to County Dairy Princess Alyssa Santangelo. She described some of her responsibilities as our County Dairy Princess. NYS Farm Bureau Field Advisor Timothy Bigham gave a report on their programs and initiatives. Farm Bureau provides outstanding support for farms and agricultural operations in the State. Allegany County needs a strong farming sector to prosper. We are fortunate to have NYS Farm Bureau as our partner. Most of the Board resolutions were of the "routine" variety. The Board approved the 2013 tax sale of foreclosed properties. It appointed Joseph Budinger as Interim Director of the Real Property Tax Service Agency, appointed Madeleine Gasdik as Director of Office For the Aging, supported appointment of Linda Edwards as Chair of the Community Services Board, and appointed members to the County Board of Health. The Board accepted State COLA funds for the Children With Special Health Care Needs and Lead Poisoning Prevention Programs, and accepted two grants from the State DCJS for an extension of the ATI Shared Services Project. The Board approved a contract for Monitoring Services between BI Incorporated and the County Probation Department. The Board also approved an engineering contract with Clark Patterson Lee for review of sanitary sewer engineering work.

The Board approved a contract between the County and ION HOLDCO, LLC, for broadband internet services for the County. The new contract will increase our internet service speed by more than 17 times, while saving the County more than $9,000 per year. This is an example of what improved technology can do for us. We also approved numerous Office of Children and Family Services subcontract agreements that passes funds to numerous valuable programs throughout the County. The Board also passed a resolution proposing that the County serve as Lead Agency for SEQRA review of the Updated County Comprehensive Plan, and directing preparation of the Environmental Assessment Form.

In the first half of 2013 we learned that Allegany County again ended the prior fiscal year in the black. Our un-appropriated fund balance remains secure. We completed the update of the County Comprehensive Plan, and have scheduled the public hearing on the Updated Plan. We received a State Broadband Grant for $800,000, and are working on providing enhanced broadband service to un-served and underserved regions of the County. The County "Radio Task Force" has worked to meet the need for compatible radio equipment to link our fire service, emergency responders, law enforcement and 911 Emergency Dispatch services with one another. Several grants have been received that will go a long ways towards resolving current needs. We have also conducted numerous interviews to fill leadership position openings created by retirements. The State is not currently pushing any large capital projects down our throats. However, we are still struggling to pay for numerous ongoing mandated programs. We are still waiting for the State to fulfill its promises of "mandate relief." I'll believe it when I see it.

Mystery Guest to visit Almond Library

ALMOND MYSTERY MAN—Who IS this man standing by a candy apple red Mustang? Hmm... A couple of hints ~ grandpa owned a grocery store here in Almond and crank phones and partylines were here thanks to that same grandpa. Look to "The Sun" for more info on this man of interest, but be sure to reserve Saturday, July 27 to come see him in person at the Almond Twentieth Century Club Library from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. (Photo provided)

AU offers Carillon Recital Series offered four Tuesdays in July

ALFRED–Alfred village will be ringing to the tunes of yet another Wingate Memorial Summer Carillon Recital Series hosted by Alfred University (AU) and AU Carillonneur Laurel Buckwalter throughout the month of July.

Admission is free for each performance by a guest carilloneur, beginning Tuesday, July 9 and continuing each Tuesday thereafter from 7 to 8 p.m. The performances will be held rain or shine at the University's Davis Memorial Carillon, located on upper campus between the Steinheim and Susan Howell Hall.

Guests may sit in the lawn adjacent to the carillon and can feel free to bring lawn chairs or blankets to ease their listening experience. If inclement weather persists, Howell Hall will be classics such as "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star," and much more.

• Tuesday, July 16: Sally Harwood, assistant carillonneur, Michigan State University, will perform classics such as "Moonlight Serenade" and "Dancing Queen.'

• Tuesday, July 23: Tim Sleep, City Carillonneur, Naperville, IL, will play renowned pieces such as Pachelbel's "Canon in D" and a medley from "Les Miserables.'

• Tuesday, July 30: Philippe Beullens, assistant carillonneur, City of Leuven, Belgium, will offer pieces by Bach, Borodin, and Rachmaninov.

The first performer, Lens, began her carillon studies at Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, MI. In 1971, Lens continued her studies at the University of Michigan and then, from 1972 to 1974, attended the Netherlands Carillon School in Amersfort where she studied with Leen't Hart and played many recitals, including a series of five at the Palace in Amsterdam.

The Wingate Memorial Carillon Recital Series honors Dr. Ray Winthrop Wingate (1886-1968), who was a professor of music at Alfred University for 56 years. After the installation of the bells in 1937, he was appointed to the position of University carillonneur and held that title until his death, having arranged more than 5,000 selections for the carillon and composed nine suites.

The Carillon at Alfred University is made of a double row of rounded oak levers, called batons, and a pedal board tuned in the fifth octave. The carillon tower's ground floor display has information on its historic legacy. Guests are welcome to climb the tower's 69 steps to the top, enjoy the view, and watch the guest artists at work.

THE NAME'S THE THING

One reason why I like to attend Elderhostel Road Scholar programs is their informality. The handling of name tags assures that participants start right out addressing each other in the same way as we would old friends. When we enroll we are asked to indicate what first name and surname we wish to appear on our tag.

Upon arrival we receive a list of attendees with these same forms of our names, and the place from which we come. Also, each of us is given a standard name tag to dangle around our neck throughout the program. First or nicknames are always shown on one line in prominent print, and surnames below them in smaller print. This keeps us on a sociable basis, whether we have a good memory for monikers or not.

As a female, my use of the old fashioned nickname of "Matt" for Martha has proven to be an especially good conversation opener. Most people reading the Road Scholar attendees list expect me to be a male. I tell enquirers that I was named Martha Ann and nicknamed Matt after my mother's grandmother. She was born in the 19th century. At that time, Matt and Mattie, along with Patsy and other variants, were still common nicknames for Martha.

On my recent Road Scholar experience in Green Lake, Wisconsin, a glance at the list of participants revealed a surprise to me. Twelve of the twenty-six attendees hailed from Wisconsin! A couple of reasons for this soon became clear.

One was that the five night, six day program was entitled, "All About Wisconsin." Together, lectures, performances, and field trips covered the state's geology, its original and living American Indian inhabitants, and Green Lake's local Amish population. Not all current Wisconsin residents would have partaken in such inclusive exposure before.

Also, the group's average age appeared to be somewhere in the mid-seventies. This was higher than that in previous programs which I have attended. A greater age can lead to a desire to travel a shorter distance, while still fulfilling one's craving for new experiences.

Helpfully, Elderhostel, Inc. gives its programs a rating based on their physical requirements. The scale runs from "Easy," through "Moderate," "Active," "Moderately Challenging," to "Challenging." "All About Wisconsin" was rated "Easy." I can, and do, still manage both "Easy" and "Moderate" programs without difficulty. Our names were "living" giveaways as to our generation. There were seven married couples on the list: Tom & Louise, Joe & Roberta, Lindy & Sue, Cal & Judy, Jim & Mary Jo, Dennis & Gloria, and William & Betty. Singles other than myself included Helen, Guelda, Ilene, Bev, Judy, Elaine, Mary Lou, Maxine, Lee, and also, Vicki, whose husband was travelling elsewhere.

Lindy and Sue observed their 58th wedding anniversary during the week. We all sang "Happy Anniversary to You." One day as he was passing me in a hallway, I asked Lindy whether his name was or was not a nickname. As I had suspected, it was derived from his first and middle names which were Charles Lindbergh

During our opening get-acquainted session I sought out Helen from Madison, Wisconsin, to tell her that she shared my mother's first name. Not only did she agree that once common it is now rarely given, she rattled off statistics. She belongs to a club of women who are named Helen, and told me both how many members it had had open to visitors.

This summer's featured carillonneurs and the dates of their programs are:

• Tuesday, July 9: Carol Jickling Lens, University of Denver carillonneur, will play old British folk songs, upbeat variations on

HORNELL--The Hornell YMCA is pleased to offer a sixweek oil painting class for teens and adults ages 15+ beginning July 2

Taught by local artist Craig Prophet, the class meets on Tuesdays from 5-6:30 p.m. The class is open to beginners as well as more experienced painters and includes instruction in composition and color-mixing as students bring a painting to completion.

Participants are asked to bring an inspiration photo or two (Mr. Prophet will also provide subject matter for projects). The class costs $90 for Y members and $108 for non-members. All supplies are included in the cost of the class.

For more information or to enroll, contact the YMCA at 607-324-5520 or visit www.hornellymca.com.

to start with, and how few are still living.

I began wondering about the formal names of Road Scholars in another fifty years. For possible answers I have consulted the Alfred University Commencement program for May 18, 2013. Among today's graduates were women called Danica, Jacalyn, Stephine, and Tracie. Among the men were Cheyne, Erik, Jordan, and Joshua. They may be the scholars on the road in 2063.

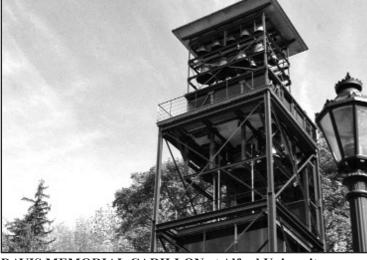

By being a Martha, I scored a coup in a privately run motel en route to Green Lake. Call the affair "Extinction Distinction." Did you ever learn that the last living Passenger Pigeon shared my name? Martha died at the Cincinnati Zoo in 1914.

While I was checking in with a receptionist, the manager or owner overheard me say "Martha." He burst out of his office and talked with me about the Passenger Pigeon. He then gave me a substantial discount on my room charge and directed me to the dining room

After a filling meal, I requested no dessert. However, my waitress told me that the boss had ordered my choice of one to be delivered to my room free! I ate it at the dinner table instead, regretting that the slice of bread pudding was twice as large as I could swallow

Now I am mulling over a symbolically grateful return visit to Martha's memorial bronze statue at the Cincinnati Zoo. If only we could share leftover bread pudding crumbs...

Martha Ann "Matt" Mueller, Alfred University associate librarian, emerita, is a resident of the Village of Alfred and former Alfred Sun reporter on the "village beat," whom some readers thought for years that she was a young "male" reporter.

8 THE ALFRED SUN, Thursday, July 4, 2013 In The Alfred Sun 50, 25 and 10 Years Ago

Compiled By DAVID L. SNYDER Alfred Sun Editor and Publisher FIFTY YEARS AGO, JULY 4, 1963

Dr. Seymour B. Dunn, Visiting Scholar at the University of Michigan for the past year, has been appointed Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at Alfred University, President M. Ellis Drake announced today.

The A.E. Crandall Hook and Ladder Company is offering a course in first aid to all of its members. The course will be a Standard American Red Cross Course and will be taught by Cliff DuBreuil of the Alfred University faculty.

As a boy, Waldo Rosebush roamed the hillsides around Alfred and found music in the clop, clop of the horses' hoofs as they traveled the peaceful streets before the trucks and cars took over. It must have been incidents like this that prompted the Rosebush brothers to continue heavily to the wonderful pipe organ in the Seventh Day Baptist Church. It must have been this influence also that prompted Waldo, the youngest of the Rosebush boys, to bequeath the income from shares in Alfred Mutual Savings and Loan Association, to the village for an annual music festival. He expressed the desire that music ring out in the hills once each year...

Dean John F. McMahon of the College of Ceramics at Alfred University touring England with American ceramists, was honored at a special luncheon, given by Dr. Arthur L. Roberts, Dean, The Houldsworth School of Applied Science, Leeds University, recently.

Dale Lorow of Almond was re-elected president of the Alfred-Almond Central School Alumni Association at the second annual picnic held Sunday afternoon at the school picnic grounds. Also re-elected were Mrs. Anita Evans, vice president; and Mrs. Jean Palmiter, treasurer. Mrs. Kay Nesbit was elected secretary to fill the vacancy which occurred when Mrs. Lee A. Ryan resigned. Carl Rigby was re-elected to a three-year term as director. Around 60 persons attended the event sponsored by the organization which was founded last year. Following a basket lunch picnic, a business meeting was held in the school cafeteria, at which time the officers were elected. President Lorow announced that the organization had presented the first annual alumni association award in the amount of $100 to Miss Linda Knudsen, a June graduate. He noted that Miss Knudson will enter Olean Business Institute in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Earl Dungan were honored at an open house celebrating their 59th wedding anniversary Saturday afternoon in the parlors of the Methodist Church. The couple was married June 29, 1904 by the Rev. J.F. Bennett in the Methodist parsonage at Fremont, New York. Mr. Dungan was a muck farmer at Arkport for several years, and was last employed as a janitor of the Alfred High and Grade School for ten years, and then as janitor at Alfred-Almond Central School for five years...The Dungans have resided in Almond for the past 23 years.

Alfredians--Mrs. Eugene T. Van Horn and Christy accompanied Mrs. Donald Van Horn of Albany, to Allentown, Pa., Sunday where they spent two days while attending the Pennsylvania Dutch Folk Festival at Kutz town. They returned home Tuesday by way of Hershey, Pa. where they toured the famous Hershey rose gardens.. TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO, JULY 7, 1988

Disneyland, CA and ran through 15 states and 40 cities, covering 4,000 miles. The July 3 finish was in Boston, MA....As the cars drove through Alfred they were led by two Texans driving a 1916 Packard who were just 15 seconds off "perfect time" in competition to Cincinnati, OH.

The Alfred Village Board Tuesday night adopted an amendment to the Village Housing Law, after more than 25 residents and landlords offered their input for nearly an hour. The amendment introduces a "certificate of compliance" which is required before premises can be rented in the village. The certificate can be attained only after the village's housing law enforcement officer has inspected a rental unit and found it to be in compliance with the village housing law...

The Alfred Village Zoning Board of Appeals Tuesday night unanimously approved variances to give the "go ahead" for construction of a medical arts building on Church Street. Developer Gary Brown, whose purchase of the property from John Hyslip was contingent upon the granting of variances for the project, said closing date on the property is in August. He estimated the facility would be completed in November 1988...

(Photo) First Customer—The first customer this spring at the new Terra Cotta Coffeehouse was Vice-President for Student Affairs Jerry Brody. The coffeehouse, open from 8 a.m. to midnight, also offers an upstairs entertainment venue that plays host to musicians and will also be the site of theatrical readings by Alfred Community Theatre on July 23 and 30 following the band concerts.

The Alfred Village Board....reviewed a letter from Becky Prophet on which no action was required. She proposed a 30th anniversary party in June 2004 in honor of the installation of the only traffic light in the Village. At the meeting she spoke of its arrival as "a great mo-ment in Village history," and the intention to make the multi-faceted celebration a lighthearted, family oriented one. After the meeting a local unofficial speaking on the condition of anonymity proclaimed, "The traffic light has prevented more accidents than it has caused.

Sunbeams—Jim and Faith Palmer of Alfred Station, together with Frank and Jean Snyder of Belmont, Ed and Sue Palmer, Jack and Marilyn Palmer, all of Avon Park, FL, spent a few days at Niagara on the Lake for their "Sibling Reunion."...Jud and Margaret Stearns spent two weeks in Lafayette, IN with their daughter Linda and husband Sam Conner. Sunny Side Up—Since it will soon be reunion time for the alumni of Alfred-Almond Central School, here is a recipe I got from the cooks in the school cafeteria many, many years ago. This was back in the days when they were baking their own rolls and serving up a good hearty lunch; no choices-just one menu, each day. This salad was a favorite of mine; no doubt a lot of you will remember it as well. Orange Sherbet Gelatin: 6 oz. orange jello/ 1 c. boiling water/ 1 pint orange sherbet/ 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges/ 1 c. heavy cream, whipped. Dissolve the jello in boiling water, add the sherbet and mix well. Refrigerate. When partially set, add oranges and then fold in the whipped cream. Pour into a mold and chill thoroughly.

Alfred Community Theatre plans to publish a cookbook honoring Alfred women, past and present. The cookbook will also contain pictures and tidbits of history of the Alfred area. This is ACT's next project to raise money to restore and refurbish the 1890 Firemen's Hall Theater.

Earl Pierce was re-elected president of the Alfred-Almond Central School Board of Education at its reorganizational meeting held Tuesday, July 1. Gary Acker was elected to serve as vice-president for the 2003-04 school year. Nadine Shardlow, who was elected to the Board of Education last month was administered oath of office. She replaces Licio Pennisi, who did not seek reelection.. The Almond Lions Club held its 31st charter night on Saturday, May 31 at the Italian Villa Restaurant in Hornell...Lion Ralph Rossman received the prestigious Robert J. Uplinger Award for his excellent service and dedication to lionism. Ervilla Crandall was presented the Citizen of the Year Award for her deep involvement in area youth sports. Lion Sandy Quick was presented with the Lion of the Year Award for her dedication and hard work for the club. Lion Ken Almeter and Lion Ralph Rossman were presented with 30 year pins, while Lion Charles Fox was presented with a 25-year pin. All of these awards were presented by Lion Dick Stuart. Lion Ken Almeter replaced John Meehan as President...

Vintage Racers 'Parade' Through Alfred—Alfred area residents had an early Fourth of July Parade Saturday, July 2, although the "parade" proceeded a little faster than your average pompous exhibition. Try 82 miles per hour along a street posted 35 mph. Some four or five Interstate Batteries Great American Race participants garnered Alfred souvenirs in the form of speeding tickets. In all, some 100 vintage cars Saturday traveled along Rt. 244, through Tinkertown and Alfred Station, to Rt. 21 south to Andover. They were enroute from Erie, PA to Corning in the Southern Tier leg of their 12-day cross-country excursion...The races started June 22 in

'Livin' Forgiven,' Luke 15:11-31

By LINDA STAIGER

ALMOND-So, we have reached the end of a five part series: "Forgiveness: the real F word" at the Almond Union of Churches. To recap: The younger son is bored--wants adventure, wild living. Leaves Dad, blows all his money and realizes that he had it good back home. This is the story of The Prodigal Son---a parable not just of one man, but of all mankind. The son finally 'came to his senses' and goes home hoping that Dad will forgive him. Well, Dad does and all is well. The son wandered away, but returned.

The question is: what's it going to take to turn US back to God? Then, the next question is: what will we do with that forgiveness? How will we live? Are we living forgiven? Have you received God's forgiveness and, if you have, what's different?

Many of us understand His forgiveness in our heads, but we haven't accepted it in our hearts. As a result, we still walk around with a lot of heavy burdens. We cannot forgive ourselves or we cannot forgive others yet. Life is hard with burdens we carry.

Karl Menninger, a famed psychiatrist, once said that if he could convince every person in a psych hospital that they were forgiven, 75% of them could go home the next day. That's how much a part forgiveness plays in our lives! God wants to replace heavy burdens in your life.

First, we struggle with The Burden of Doubt. Doubt is define as an uncertainty of belief that interferes with decisionmaking. You are so unsure of yourself that you, perhaps, turn down a promotion because you don't think you can do it. FDR said. "The only limit to our realization of tomorrow will be our doubts of today." Replace Doubt with Security. God's forgiveness provides security.

Second is The Burden of Guilt. Guilt is knowing that you have messed up and you're experiencing the blame for that mistake. Probably you have asked God's forgiveness, but you haven't actually forgiven yourself yet...that'll weigh you down, for sure. Replace Guilt with Peace.

Third is The Burden of Grudges. We are consumed by grudges, but we are the only ones who are hurt by it. The one who hurt you is not suffering from the grudge---you are. No satisfaction, just another burden to carry around. Replace Grudges with Freedom.

Fourth is The Burden of Regret. Regret is defined as sorrow aroused by circumstances beyond one's control. Understand something here, if it's beyond your control, thinking about it is a waste of time. Replace Regret with Hope. "When one door closes another door opens, but we so often look so long and so regretfully upon the closed door that we do not see the one that is open for us." (A.G.Bell)

And finally, Fifth we have The Burden of Fear, perhaps the greatest burden of all. We are afraid of failing, of rejection, of financial struggles, of being foolish---take your pick. But hear me now---God did NOT create you to be afraid. Replace Fear with Courage. Courage is the strength to venture, to persevere and to withstand fear. Step outside vour comfort zone and take a step to do something you are afraid of. This reporter cannot resist a quote from "THE WIZ"---Dorothy, when talking to Lion about his fears simply says "Be a Lion!". That's it in a nutshell.

Know this: these burdens we do not have to bear. An old African American Spiritual says.."Gonna lay down my burdens, down by the riverside ... !" Doesn't get much simpler than that, my man. Let go of your burdens and lay them at God's feet. You can be "livin' forgiven."

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Signed by the deletates to the Continental Congress in 1776, The Declaration of Independence of the United States contains these phrases:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness....

"Appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions...'

"With a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence...'

Four AU profs cited for 25 years

ALFRED--Four members of the Alfred University (AU) faculty - Peer Bode, William B. Carlson, Gordon Godshalk, and Robert A. Myers – were honored for their 25 years of service to AU with certificates and gifts at the University's spring Honors Convocation.

Professor of Video Arts and Co-Director of the Institute for Electronic Arts Peer Bode of the School of Art and Design is an internationally exhibited artist who is known for expanding the periphery of arts and academia. In citing Bode for his service, Provost Dr. William Hall noted that "Since joining the faculty in 1987, Professor Bode's contributions to teaching and service have been numerous and significant. His leadership within the field of video, performance, and sonic art has strengthened the reputation of Alfred University and the School of Art and Design.'

Professor of Systems Engineering Carlson of the Inamori School of Engineering has been "one of the faculty members to truly bridge art and engineering," and was instrumental in helping establish the Institute of Electronic Arts and the current first-year curriculum," said Hall.

Two professors in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences were recognized for their longstanding commitments to Alfred University.

Professor of Biology Godshalk helped to build the environmental studies program before stepping in as chairman to help rebuild the Division of Biology

"Throughout his career, Gordon Godshalk has taught numerous classes in both the biology and environmental studies programs, published widely, and has made important contributions to his field as an educator, as chair of the Education Section of the Ecology Society of America, and as an expert in aquatic ecology," said Hall.

Professor of Anthropology and Public Health Myers has "books on Dominica, Nigeria and Ghana that are standard reference works in the nation's libraries. His numerous op-ed pieces appearing in major newspapers around the country demonstrate his ability to bring an anthropological perspective out of the classroom and into cultural commentary for a wider, popular audience," noted Hall. But "perhaps Bob's most important contribution to Alfred has been the stability and integrity that he has brought to our offerings in anthropology ... efforts leading to the addition of the comparative cultures and global studies majors to the curriculum."

ions to pillows and everything in between; jewelry, soaps, pottery, vases made to hold lavender stalks, sculptural bead work, quilted items, herbal products, scarves, baked goods and sachets to name just a few.

Dark Hollow Woodworks will be there with those flowers you're seeing all over the county, our own Angelica Winery will have their Lavender White Wine in addition to their other varietals, and the Sweet Shop on Main Street will have their home-made Lavender Ice Cream that sells out every year!

Start your day off with buckwheat pancakes sprinkled with lavender buds from the Catbird Griddle and return for lunch or snacks at the Griddle or the American Hotel stand, and don't forget the Amish baked goods! Satisfy your thirst with freshly squeezed lemonade and several types of freshly made ice tea. Stroll or sit at one of picnic benches while you eat and listen to the live music in the Gazebo.

Don't forget to buy your raffle ticket at the Lavender booth as each of the vendors will be contributing a lavender inspired item to be included in the baskets that will be raffled at 2 pm.

The popular Lavender High Tea will be hosted again this year by the American House & Hotel at 2 pm. Bring your favorite Tea Cup & Saucer and a fun hat to participate in the door prizes. For reservations or info, please call 585-466-3397 or 800-924-5193.

New this year, you will see 'hospitality' chairs painted in varying shades of lavender along Main St. The merchants eagerly got on board with this creative idea to honor the festival and provide an inviting place for our visitors to rest.

As it does every year, the Lavender Festival will join the Angelica Farmer's Market in the Park Circle, promising great produce, plants, baked goods and artisan crafts from the market's vendors.

• Come to book club with an open mind.

• Try not to read ahead in the novel—or, if you do read ahead, don't give anything away.

• Be ready to discuss the chapters you read.

• Be polite in discussions and wait for the person speaking to finish

• Ask questions ~ The best part of a book club is asking questions to further the rest of the group's understanding of the novel.

Bonus Note: As this is run through the library, you are encouraged to read outside books, as well. For each book that you read outside of the book club, please complete an "Un-Book Report" to hand in. These will be collected and displayed at the Circulation Desk, so other teens can see what they should read next. The person who reads the most books outside of the book club (and completes a provided "Un-Book Report" for each), will receive a prize at the end of the month.

HITS AND MISSES:

It was indeed time for some New York Collegiate Baseball League (NYCBL) action a week ago Tuesday as noted area photographer, Leo Nealon and I ventured over to the Basket Road Complex in Webster to watch the Hornell Dodgers in action. The Dodgers were on the road taking on the Rochester Ridgemen, formerly the Athletes in Action team that was based in Alfred. We got there early so I had a chance to meet and chat with the GM of the Ridgemen. Chris Rainwater. Told him I was from Alfred (Almond) and he started rattling off some names I knew of host families to the team in the past. Touched base ... no pun intended, with Coach Kenney of the Dodgers prior to the contest as well. He the new skipper on very short notice! Shortly thereafter Paul Welker wandered in. The Webster native, now the SID at Alfred State College and the GM of the Dodgers. A man of many hats. Later on, his brother Andrew Welker came to the game and had a chance to catch-up on things with him. He was Lauren's high school basketball coach her senior year at Webster Schroeder. Good game, beautiful summer evening and fun chatting with all. The Dodgers stood at (9-11) as of this Sunday past. The league All-Star game will be held this coming Tuesday at McDonough Park in Geneva.

The NYS All-State high school softball teams were announced last week and "congrats" are in order to Greta Howland of Andover who was named to the third-team in class "D." Ace hurler Alex Flint of Keshequa was named to the first-team in class "C.

There is something called the National Pro Fastpitch league with four teams in it. The NY/NJ Comets, USSSA Pride (FL), Akron Racers and Chicago Bandits comprise this softball league. Remember back in the day there used to be a team called the Raybestos Braketes that dominated women's fast-pitch softball.

As Major League Baseball heads into the traditional half-way point around July 4th, the Pittsburgh Pirates had the best record in all of MLB as of Sunday past. Yes, the Bucs! Savo, The Mixer and Z Curran can now get those old black & gold hats out of the closet/garage and wear them around.

Another "triple crown season" in MLB? Miguel Cabrera of the Detroit Tigers accomplished that rare feat last season, is headed towards another potential trifecta this year and so is Chris Davis of the Baltimore Orioles! They rank 1-2 in all the major categories as the as the All-Star break approaches with the game at CitiField in NYC this year. Back-to-back years of a Triple Crown winner?

Jake Taft (A-A) took in the Tigers at Tampa Bay Rays game on Saturday past as the home squad prevailed and eventually took 2-of-3. Scummer was in "move mode," Jamie Bennett (A-A/Lyons) was in Nevada and Our Man Frank was "unavailable" so Taft off to contest alone with free tix acquired at Ferg's Sports Bar. Former 30game winner and prison inmate, Denny McLain signing autographs on the concourse prior to the game.

The New York Yankees "B" squad is beginning to falter and fall out of the AL East race after being right there most of the season. With all-stars Derek Jeter, Mark Texiera and A-Fraud out of the lineup virtually all year, plus Curtis Granderson, this team just doesn't score enough to compete. "Tex" is done for the season and who knows what Jeter and A-Fraud, aging veterans, will be able to contribute when (if) they return?

Stephen Baker is still busy playing summer soccer in Philly with squad in a 64-team league! Yikes.

Former Alfred University women's soccer coach, Jen Enke is now the assistant AD at Alfred State.

With Alfred State now moving into the NCAA Division III ranks from the NJCAA, will ASC and AU compete against each other in certain sports?

Received a text from former SUNY Geneseo field hockey All-American, Milko who works at Congressional CC in the summer and was taking in the AT&T tournament on the PGA Tour on Sunday. No Tiger Woods this year. Bill Haas emerged victorious.

Jamie and Aimee Bennett were in Nevada over the weekend past (117-degrees) and were then driving around the Grand Canyon to Phoenix to see daughter, Lyndsay.

Received a text last week from former Almond resident, Brian S. Granger as he was commenting on the stunning NHL Stanley Cup finish between Chicago and Boston. The ex-Top Shop first sacker in the old AASPL now lives outside of Atlanta.

ASC athletes get academic honors

ALFRED--Nine Alfred State athletes have earned Academic All-American honors from the NJCAA. Brian Edwards (Neversink/Tri-Valley) and Mary Monahan (Warsaw) were given the Pinnacle Award for Academic Excellence, Jennifer De-Novio (Guilderland) was award Superior Academic Achievement Award, while Travis Adams (Akron/Clarence), Colby Curran (Alfred Almond), Alex Farrell (N. Tonawanda), Alexis Flint (Arkport), Mark Pendleton (Beacon), and Sean Richardson (Silver Creek) were recipients of Academic the Exemplary Achievement Award.

Edwards, a member of both the indoor and outdoor track & field teams, earned a 4.0 in Engineering Science while Monahan, a member of the cross country team, earned a 4.0 in Architecture Technology.

Edwards and Monahan were

'Girls on the Run' planned at Jones

WELLSVILLE—The Jones Memorial Hospital Wellness Committee is sponsoring Girls on the Run, a 10-week character building program which teaches girls 8 to 13 very specific and well-defined social and personal skills. The program culminates in a non-competitive 5K run, giving the girls a chance to shine and a sense of accomplishment.

Organized by Brandie Dickerson, massage therapist in JMH Rehab Services, coaches will be attending a training session in Buffalo on July 31st. "Student sign-ups start in August for the 10-week session, runs through two of the 169 NJCAA Student Athletes that received the Pinnacle Award for achieving a 4.0 GPA.

DeNovio, a thrower on the track & field team, earned a 3.87 GPA in Forensic Science and is one of 592 athletes that were honored for having a GPA in between 3.80 and 3.99

Six Pioneers were part of over 900 student-athletes that finished with GPA's between 3.60 and 3.79.

• Adams (Football) finished with a 3.6 GPA in Welding

• Curran (Soccer) earned a 3.63 GPA in Pre Environmental Science

• Farrell (Track & Field) earned a 3.71 GPA in ArchitecGPA in Business Administration • Pendleton (Swimming) finished with a 3.77 GPA in Building Trades

• Flint (Soccer) had a 3.67

ture

• Richardson (Track & Field) earned a 3.62 GPA in Building Trades

This season, close to 60,000 student-athletes competed in the NJCAA across 3,500 teams in 28 different sports.

The 2012-2013 academic year marks the 30th consecutive season the NJCAA has recognized the success of its student-athletes in the classroom. With minimal changes, the NJCAA academic awards program has been in place since 1983.

The Dugout continued... roe CC in Rochester.

Inbee Park is making the LPGA Tour her private playground as she is now 3-for-3 in "majors" this year!

Kenny Perry won the Senior Players Championship over the weekend as he overtook Fred Couples for the trophy.

UCLA won the College World Series in baseball.

The "new" ... dumbest athlete in the NFL ... Aaron Hernandez (ex-Pats). Are you kidding me? You have a new child under oneyear old, a fiancee, a beautiful home, a new $40 million dollar contract, you play for the Patriots and Tom Brady is your quarterback! At 23-years old life should be quite sweet. And you now might very well spend the rest of your life in jail? Incredibly dumb.

Backing up to my recent trip to NYC, as Lauren and I were (once again) at Yankee Stadium one day before Oldtimer's Day. Yuk. Always used to be on a Saturday.

UCLA and Duke play each other in men's hoops this year. Yes! On a Thursday in NYC at MSG. Ouch.

Tim Chichester (Mt. Morris/SUNY Geneseo) took secondplace in the recent Airport 5K. Heather (Swarts) Webster finished fifth in the women's race.

Sympathies extended to the Higgins family of Alfred with the passing of Verne Higgins. Did not know Verne all that well but he was the younger brother of a classmate, Don ('70) from A-A.

A busy month of July will be kicking into gear as hitting the links with Johnny "Spock" Arena this Saturday in Webster. Looking forward to our annual outing. Upcoming is the Utica Boilermaker with 3L and Jess Herbst running, the Lindsay Matthews Memorial Run in Orchard Park, Indian Lake in the ADK's, the A-A alumni banquet and probably the Hornell Macker during the day, finishing up with the Andover "Mud Run" as Lauren and ex-soccer teammates/friends headed there. Whew. Where did June go?

The legendary Larry Bird is back at the controls of the Indiana Pacers in the NBA!

Bird's former team, the Boston Celtics are in major "rebuild" mode as Kevin Garnett and Paul Pierce are now with the Brooklyn Nets and coach "Doc" Rivers is with the Clippers in LA. The Celts were an aging bunch and GM Danny Ainge made a good move to ship out the pieces. The other traditional NBA power, the LA Lakers just might be in "rebuild" mode themselves with no Dwight Howard. Actually better off without him in that system.

Some "familiar" names were drafted by NBA teams last week including: Tim Hardaway, Jr. by the Knicks, Shane Larkin by Dallas and Glen Rice, Jr. is off to Philly. Sons of pro athletes

The Wegmans LPGA Championship will now be held at Mon-

Nov. 10," she explained.

There is a $150 registration fee for each girl, but that will be paid by Jones Memorial Hospital at the time the girls sign up.

'However, participants are expected to reimburse the hospital $50 at the first meeting on Sept. 9," Brandie said, noting that space is limited to the first 15 girls registering.

The goal of the program is to teach girls life skills and instill confidence through dynamic, conversation-based lessons and establish a lifetime appreciation for health and fitness.

"By reaching girls at an early age, we hope to prevent at-risk behavior such as eating disorders, substance abuse, depression, obesity, and adolescent pregnancies." Brandie explained

For further information about the chapter, contact Brandie at dickersonb@jmhny.org. More about the national program is available on the Girls on the Run website: www.girlsontherun.org.
