

Biodiversity topic for Environmental Series talk

10/26/04

Clarence Lehman will be lecturing on Nov. 19 at 12:20 p.m. as part of the Environmental Studies Speakers Series. His title is "Biodiversity and our planet's changing ecosystems." Lehman is a faculty member at the University of Minnesota. He is also the associate director of the Cedar Creek Natural History Area. His research interests include theoretical ecology and computation in biology, biodiversity and ecosystem functioning and habitat restoration. He received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Minnesota. The Environmental Studies Speakers Series, held every Friday while the University is in session, is from 12:20 to 1:10 p.m. in room 228 of the Science Center. The public is invited with no charge. Refreshments will be served.