

80 Temporary Housing Units In Alfred To Be Completed By February 1

First Units Ready December 6; Prospective Tenants Urged To Contact Dean Stone Immediately

The end of the Alfred housing unit construction under the temporary management of Frank Heasley is now in sight. Although the lack of parking space and bad roads are still problems to be solved, all the dwellings are expected to be completed by February 1. The first housing units on the Belmont Road were ready for occupancy December 6.

There are eighty houses in all with 34 two-family buildings, 40 eight-family units, six three-family dwellings and three barracks housing 61 men each.

All those who are interested in one of these units should see Dean Stone in Greene Block, immediately, and place their names on a tentative waiting list.

The following articles will be furnished to residents of federal housing units at Alfred University to the limit of their availability from surplus supplied to the University: Double decker beds, blankets, sheets, pillowcases, pillows, chairs, 2½ gallon soda and acid fire extinguisher, ice box, gas range, gas heater, a few tables, and a few sideboards to be used as bureaus.

These articles will not be furnished: curtains, shades, rugs, extra chairs or tables, floor lamps, study lamps, book cases, desks, davenport, easy chairs or any other articles of furniture which could be considered "necessary for comfort" items.

People with their own furniture will find it to their advantage to furnish their own apartment, supplemented by articles from the list. They may arrange for reduction in the six dollar a month charge for furnishing.

It is probable that the University will expect the occupants to help with sewing grass seed, painting interiors, and other odd jobs that may be necessary to keep the premises in good condition.

First Post-War Interfrat Event Planned Dec. 19

The first post-war Interfraternity Ball will be held in the Men's Gym on Thursday evening, Dec. 19. Music will feature Hal MacIntyre and his orchestra.

This dance is sponsored by the fraternities on the Alfred campus and is open to all Fraternity members, pledges and to all faculty members of Alfred University.

A brief biographical sketch of Hal MacIntyre might read as follows:

Hal's story begins on December 8, 1936, in Cromwell, Connecticut. He was Cromwell's local boy making good. He had an eight piece band, plenty of assignments, and a weekly half-hour program on a local radio station. His band had a reputation and Hal was known as an ace man with the alto-sax and clarinet. Things were going nicely for Hal, according to his diary, when on December 8, 1936, . . .

"Received a call this afternoon after the show from a fellow who said he was Benny Goodman. Told me he liked the band and my playing and wanted me to sit in with his boys to night. I didn't believe it was Goodman and told him to call me at my home at 9:30 if it was on the up and up. Darned if it didn't turn out to be Goodman after all. He called again and I sat in with the Goodman Orchestra."

Edward Sayers To Give Vets Medical Advice

To answer questions concerning insurance and medical and dental care, the Veterans' Administration has assigned Edward Sayers, contact representative from Hornell, to come to Alfred one day a week. He will be at his office in the Ag-Tech Library every Thursday from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Mr. Sayers will help all Public Law 346 and 16 veterans to secure the benefits to which they are entitled. These include out-patient medical and dental treatment, hospitalization and insurance.

Veterans may pick a doctor of their own choosing for treatment of a service-connected disability.

Veterans who have had dental work done in the service are entitled to apply for dental treatment. Veterans may select a dentist as long as that dentist is willing to comply with the standard fees paid by Veterans' Administration. Prima facie evidence of dental service-connection will be accepted if a veteran applies for dental treatment within a year after discharge.

Veterans desiring hospitalization either for service or non-service connection should apply to this contact representative for the necessary forms.

Deadline for conversion of National Service Life Insurance policies is the last day of January, 1947. After that date veterans who desire to reinstate NSLI will have to submit to physical examinations.

There are many new insurance clauses that Mr. Sayers will be glad to talk over with any veteran who desires information along these lines. Benefits include a liberalization in the selection of beneficiaries, a new disability rider, new endowment policies, and now lump-sum option.

Members Of Frozen Food Association Attend Dinner, Dec. 5

The Frozen Food Association of Alfred University had a dinner in Wellville at the Pickup Hotel, Thursday evening, Dec. 5. A spaghetti dinner was served to the forty-three members who attended.

Mr. Paul Orvis, the director of Ag-Tech, who was one of the guest speakers, spoke on the organization of school clubs. Mr. Orvis believes they are an asset to the students because after graduation they tend to bring the students of related fields together.

Another speaker was Mr. Nelson, superintendent of Frozen Food, Inc., of Freeport. Mr. Nelson stated that the future of the industry depends upon the quality of the foods produced. In the course provided at the Agricultural and Technical Institute the student is able to enter the frozen food field immediately after graduation as a competent worker.

The Production Manager of the Brockport plant, Mr. Foster; Mr. George Robinson, Mr. Joseph Pellegrino, and Mr. Charles Magwood, professors for the Frozen Food Division; and Mr. Andy Ferguson, an experienced meat-cutter, were also guests at the dinner.

Local Musicians, Eastman Graduates To Present "Messiah", Sunday Night

Prof. William Fiedler Directs Over 100 Singers, Instrumentalists From Alfred, Rochester, Nearby Towns

Because of unforeseen difficulties which have arisen, the "Messiah" will be presented only on one night, Sunday, Dec. 15, according to Prof. William Fiedler, director.

Kurt Singer, Writer, To Be Assembly Guest

Kurt Singer, former European newspaperman, for years closely associated with the undergrounds of several nations, will be Alfred University's assembly guest, Thursday, Dec. 12. His lecture subject will probably be on spies and traitors of World War II or related subjects.

Mr. Singer was born of Czech stock in Vienna in 1911. He has lived in eight countries, coming to America from Scandinavia in 1940. He published one of the earliest German underground papers and the Nazis issued a warrant for high treason against him. In Sweden, Mr. Singer was held a short time when Goering demanded that the Swedish Government confiscate Singer's biography of the Luftwaffe chief.

He is the author of thirteen books, the latest being "Spies and Traitors of World War II." Among his books are biographies of Goering and Martin Niemöller, and articles by him have appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, Liberty, Coronet, Washington Post, This Week, The New York Times, and The New York Herald Tribune. He is also a contributing editor of This Month magazine.

Footlighters Give Plays December 17

The Footlight Club will present three one-act plays on Tuesday, Dec. 17, at 8:15 in Alumni Hall. The admission will be $5.00, tax included.

These plays represent a revival of the Frosh-Soph plays presented each year until the war. Once again the student directors will have the opportunity to show their ability when these three plays are performed:

"A Day in the Vineyard"—directed by Joan Heise.

"Swappin' Fever"—directed by H. Dean Root.

"In the Shadow of the Glen"—directed by Richard Tracy.

Kappa Delta Elects Representatives

The members of the Kappa Delta Sigma have elected Charles Raymond and Donald Hartman as representatives to the Interfraternity Council. Harry C. Blatchley was elected fraternity representative to the Student Senate.

Principles in group of over 100 people who will participate in the presentation are concertmeister, Albert Purga, Wellsville High School music department head; assistant concertmeister, Hugo Witerhalder, Canisteo High School music department head; pianist, Ada Becker Seidl, Alfred faculty; and organist, Katrina G. Munn, Wellsville M. E. Church organist.

The four soloists from the Eastman School of Music are Raeburn Stubbs Ingle, soprano; Barbara Matz, contralto; Norman Rose, tenor; and Paul Ruhland, baritone.

Professor Fiedler has drawn musicians from Canisteo, Hornell and Wellsville as well as from the campus for the orchestra. Students who will play are Juel Andersen '49, cello; Joan Baird '48, cello; and Roberta Wells '47, flute.

The four soloists are all graduate students at Eastman. Raeburn Stubbs Ingle received both her bachelor's and master's degrees from Eastman. After leaving there, she joined the faculty of Wesleyan Conservatory in Macon, Ga., where she taught voice, chorus and voice repertoire. At present, she is soloist at Brighton Presbyterian Church, Rochester. She is a member of the Eastman Vocal Quartet and is heard regularly over Station WHEC.

Barbar Matz attended Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa., before entering Eastman. She has studied at the Juilliard Summer School, Chautauqua, N. Y., where she sang with the Chautauqua Opera Company. Miss Matz is a member of the Eastman School Opera Department and is scheduled to sing the role of Hansel in the forthcoming production of "Hansel and Gretel". She is contralto soloist at the United Congregational Church, Rochester.

Norman Rose studied at the Curtis Institute, Philadelphia, before coming to Eastman. From 1942 to 1945 he served in the Army and returned to music to sing the tenor role in the first American performance of Boccherini's "Stabat Mater" given in Kilbourn Hall in February, and the leading role in Randall Thompson's "Solomon and Balkis" produced by the Opera department. He is a member of the Eastman Vocal Quartet.

Paul Ruhland, a special student at Eastman, has recently been honorably discharged from the Army after services in the Pacific. He attended Potsdam State Teachers College, where he studied music. He has had considerable concert work and is bass soloist at the Third Presbyterian Church, Rochester.

Freshmen Plan All-Campus Hop Jan. 10

Scheduling of a dance for January 10, 1947, was the main business of the freshman class meeting held Thursday night. Dwight Brown, class president, conducted the meeting.

Freshmen in show-of-hand votes decided to make the dance open to the campus and to assess each member of the class one dollar to create an operating fund. Payment of the assessment must be made this week to the class treasurer, John Jilts.

Thomas McShane was appointed general chairman of the dance by the president. Other volunteers for committee work are Jerry Allen, Joan Bloor, Nancy Campbell, Betty Champin, Arthur Chatfield, Edna Dimon, Joanne Ducey, Jean Feucht, Stanley Garr, Evelyn George, Gerald Goldman, Richard Hallburgh, George Harris, Nancy Kelly, Jeanette Klimajski, Lucille Losche, Peggy Pausewag, Katherine Rigas, Dean Root, Allen Sanford, Janice Scheehl, Kenneth Spring, Barbara Theurer and Phyllis Weatherby.

Alfred Sets World Student Service Fund Goal At $2200.

Alfred launches its drive for the World Student Service Fund, Thursday, January 9, seeking to top by $600 its record contribution of $1,600 donated last year, thus making a goal of $2,200.

The campaign has three major objectives: (1) to educate the campus to the needs of students and professors in countries which suffered severely the chaos of World War II; (2) to raise substantial sums of money to relieve this suffering, which not one, or two, or even five years of peace can obliterate; and (3) to foster the realization on the part of Alfred students that there is an international political concern for America in her response to the need of foreign student relief and rehabilitation, as well as a human one. This fund is direct student to student aid—not charity, but rather sympathy and understanding—a big idea and a commanding cause. "The future of man rest in the minds of the students of the world."

World Student Service Fund money will be allocated in this manner in 1946-47: European Student Relief Fund (including U.S.S.R.), 33.3%; New Fields (Burma, Philippines, India, and East Indies), 1.7%; Emergency needs, 15%; Special Projects: European Students, 1.7%; Educational and Operating Budget, 15%.

Exact use of the money includes all the basic necessities of life—food, shelter, clothing, medical care for tubercular students, as well as purchase of printed text-books and the minimum laboratory equipment and financing of student self-help projects. That there is urgent need for food is substantiated by the official list of average daily calorie consumption of students in these countries: "Holland, 1630; France, 1500; Norway, 1115; Greece, 970; Germany, 900-1500; Austria, 760; India, probably less than 500; China, 30,000,000 face starvation now; United States, 3300. The rock bottom healthful diet is about 2000 calories, provided it includes a proper amount of high protein foods like meat and fats, now quite unobtainable in Europe and Asia," at least to the student classes.

The W.S.S.F. administrators aid in places where it is needed most urgently—contributors can be certain their donations will reach the hands of those most desperately situated. The organization works through other existing agencies, cutting down its own administrative expenses, and leaving more in the treasury for actual relief.

"W.S.S.F. is a non-governmental, international organization that works impartially without reference to race, nationality, religion, or politics, to meet human needs." Its officers are distinguished educators of whom American George N. Shuster is president. It is supported by Pax Romana, World's Student Christian Federation, Hillel Foundations, as well as by individual sponsors such as John Foster Dulles, Mildred McAfee Horton, and Albert Einstein.

The United States is not the only contributor. Her quota is only $1,000,000. American students can afford to help—they spent $38,700,000 for college football and $17,800,000 for fraternity fees and dues this year, statistics show.

The drive on Alfred campus will be conducted from January 9 through the 21st, by personal solicitation and a series of benefit projects. Historical explanatory and official material on the W.S.S.F., and its functions, are on display in the library periodical room for student reference.

A committee of appointees and volunteers will take charge of the drive, under local sponsorship of the R.F.A. and the Student Senate.

Remember the goal for this year—$2,200!

VA News Release

A few days ago we received a news release from the Veterans Administration Branch Office in New York City that we deemed important enough to reprint. It in effect is as follows:

The Veterans Administration in New York announced yesterday that it has begun a state-wide check to insure that instruction facilities for student veterans at schools and colleges conform to agreements under which the Government pays tuition and expenses for ex-servicemen and women studying under the G. I. Bill.

David P. Page, Deputy Veterans Administrator for New York State and Puerto Rico, stated that adjustment of charges by educational institutions and claims by the Government for amounts already paid would result from the survey if a review of conditions at individual schools indicated such action was necessary.

The Deputy Veterans Administration said, "We are determined to make certain that the Government gets a full and fair return for all money spent or obligated in behalf of student veterans, and that the veteran himself gets the highest attainable return on his investment of time and study. The intention of the basic legislation and the clear obligation of those who administer it, is to assure a high standard of performance by those institutions which contract to aid in the education and occupational rehabilitation of the veteran."

The check will take the form of a survey by Veterans Administration Training Officers assigned to institutions. The Training Officers will solicit the comments of individual veterans studying or training under the G. I. Bill. If evaluation of those comments so indicates, a more thorough investigation of circumstances will be made as a basis for action by the Veterans Administration.

VA action might include withdrawal of disabled veterans studying or training under the provisions of Public Law 16 and recommendation to New York State authorities that approval of unsatisfactory institutions for the training of veterans be suspended. In other cases where actual performance by an institution is found to be below the standards upon which the VA is billed, a move will be made to reduce tuition charges and other expenses, and institute claims for refund of money already paid.

If investigation determines that an institution has deliberately violated a contract with the government and has defrauded the government, appropriate court action will be requested by VA.

In general, the VA does not propose to withdraw able-bodied veterans in training under Public Law 346 when individual veterans and State authorities are satisfied as to the performance of a school. Action to modify the payment of charges, however, may be taken in such cases.

"On the whole," Mr. Page said, "we feel that the educational program is going extremely well. Veterans in this area benefit from the high standards traditionally maintained by New York State in granting approval to educational institutions. We have found educators to be most cooperative in meeting the special requirements of adult veteran students, in expanding their facilities, and in other ways meeting the problems raised by the unprecedented enrollments of veterans."

"In some instances we realize that arrangements entered into in good faith have broken down in details, as the result of conditions beyond the reasonable control of institutions. In such cases, we will welcome the voluntary proposal of the schools regarding adjustment of charges. It may well be that individual veterans will prefer to continue under such modified arrangements, in view of the obvious difficulties of transferring to other institutions."

"Adjustments which may result from the current survey will not effect the payments of subsistence to veterans who continue in full time study, but only the payments to the institutions of charges which, we now have reason to believe may in some cases be exclusive for the actual service being rendered."

"Where the veterans may wish to make a change due to the inability of the particular school to provide the curriculum for which he enrolled, we will endeavor to arrange for his transfer with a minimum of administrative delay. Our purpose, and that of the great majority of schools is to assure the highest quality of instruction to the individual veteran."

Music And Musicians

By Robert Roderick

Lots of people are going to 'get stuck this Christmas with poor record players. There have been admonishment in Fortune, The Consumer's Guide, and a number of other revealing publications. Here are a few of our suggestions about buying record players. Right now they seem made of inferior materials, and are too expensive. However, decent models are now coming out, and it is expected that with a flood of good machines on the market, prices will be more reasonable. Above all, listen to the machine before you purchase it. Trade names don't mean a thing. A wooden cabinet seems better acoustically than a metal or plastic one. The larger the speaker, the better the sound. If you are interested in a record changer (this little gadget and its patent right adds twenty or thirty dollars to the price) it is inadvisable to get one with the mechanism in the open. When the mechanism is enclosed in a cabinet, with a well for the records to drop into, there is a good air-cushion created between records when they fall, thus making the operation of record-changing very gentle and harmless. And now with all current admonitions about record players, you will undoubtedly enter a store fairly quaking with fear!

An important step has been taken by the Technichord Records people. The Bach Cantata No. 106, God's Time is the Best, with the Harvard Glee Club, Radcliffe Choral Society, and Chamber Orchestra of the Boston Symphony has been recorded on high fidelity, red vinylite. What is so novel about this album is the miniature score included. A fine idea and one which should be adopted by other record companies.

After finishing with "The Messiah," the choral group will probably start working on the Easter performance, Bach's "St. John Passion."

College Town

by Muddlehead

Well everybody's smiling now, the coal strike is ended and all's well. I predict a little discord in the martial situation though when the fellows realize they can keep warm this winter without tying the knot. One of our local beauties is still pondering one of our wolves parting shot, "Has Birdseye got a patent on you." Maybe she better check with one of our Frozen Foods majors. Speaking of the quick freeze which Alfred girls originated not Birdseye (Mr. Robinson to the contrary. I asked twenty of them to go steady with me last week. Now don't jump to conclusions, they all didn't say no. One of them said she would until she got off social campus. What a life!

The birth rate in Alfred seems to be rising (maybe we should have movies on Tuesday night too). There are some real cute kids here though and clever too. I was utterly amazed after chucking one little codger under the chin and saying "Whose little baby are you," to have him from and answer "D— if I know."

The use of logical argument was well expressed by Miss Taylor the other day in a discourse on the harmful effects of tobacco. It seems McShane was chewing on an empty pipe. She said, "you know you can't smoke in class". He said, "I'm not it just helps me to think." She said, "well you don't use a crutch when you run down the street." I guess he doesn't, but I saw him come out of the Sherwood one time when he could have used two.

Latest excuse to go up Pine Hill, hunting for Christmas trees. What will they think of next? Flash!—Local poolroom remodeled—Got a new cueball. Beating around the Bush dept' and excerpts from Elementary Economics book—"Consider for example, the article with which young women improve upon the color imparted by nature to their lips." Maybe the author was writing a theme for Doctor Barnard and had to make his quota of five hundred words, or maybe he couldn't spell lipstick.

Wonderful dance over to the Brick t'other night. I was greatly impressed by the silhouettes done by Marcia Lawrence. They were very real looking. In fact so real that when I reached to feel the material of one of the two at the back of the dance floor, I got my face slapped. Too late I found out there was only one there.

Webster's definition of nylon—"Synthetic fibre made of coal, water and air, capable of being made into fine or coarse materials."

My definition—da dum de dum—Synthetic fiber made of coal, water and air, capable of being put over fine and coarse materials.

According to latest rumor "Flatfoot" Turner must be practicing carrier landings down to Delta Sig. It seems George Mooney landed on him.

Couples seen having a good time at the Brick, Flo and Clark, Joan and Hat, Corky and Jaun, Julie and Mike, Kay and Art, Jean and Bill, Ricky and Al and Numerous others. Due to various threats, I will have to omit my list of couples not seen but having a good time. . . . If this column bores you this week,

The I. S. U.

By Ingram Paperny

One of the most common and obvious symptoms of this Age of Speed is our reliance upon initials in lieu of full names. All we have to do is pick up our daily newspaper and our eyes are immediately filled with UNO, OPA, FHA, UMW, CIO, AFL, NAM, UNESCO, and countless other examples of this tendency. As if there weren't enough to thoroughly confuse us already, a new one, the ISU, has been recently created. Of course, like all the others, these letters can be expanded, and in this case they stand for the INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS UNION.

Essentially, the ISU is an attempt to form another plane of understanding and harmony between the nations of the world. We have the International Labor Organization (ILO), an organization for the workers, and the United Nations Assembly for the alleged statesmen of the world, but up to now the students have been homeless in the international sense. Aside from being simply a meeting place for ideas, these groups have no other function that is almost as important; they also serve as a sounding board to the world for the opinions of their members.

Realizing the need for a similar vehicle for student opinion, representatives of 38 nations met in Prague during August to set up an International Students Union, through which students could work together to solve their own problems. The American delegation, consisting of members of the National Intercollegiate Christian Council, the Student Federalists, Youth-builders and some other groups, was impressed with the fine work done by the unified foreign student organizations and decided to try and unite our students groups in the United States.

At this point, I should like to try to clear up a confusion that may have resulted from the World Student Service Fund drive that has just begun. There is absolutely no conflict between the WSSF and the ISU; quite the contrary, both organizations are striving for the same goal of co-operation between the students of the world. The WSSF is primarily concerned with the material problems of food, clothing, materials and housing, while the ISU places its emphasis on intellectual and political harmony.

But the world is looking towards America for leadership on all levels including that of the student. We must either be ready and able to assume this responsibility or be willing to relinquish it to others.

It is due to the fact that I am racking all my efforts to dreaming up corny skits in collaboration with our famous corn maestro, George Klinetsky. The show will be after Christmas vacation and it sounds like a riot especially if DVoskin is a chorus girl as the present setup indicates.

Late Flash—The famous French bathing suit has received its typical American economy touch down in Florida. They are now using ear muffs as an essential part of their wardrobe. As one Floridian aptly put it. If they don't need them, they can always wear them on their ears. . . .

Student Senate

The Student Senate voted to give $25 toward the expenses of Alfred's representative to the International Student Conference at Chicago. The University is also contributing a portion of the expense money. This conference is a meeting of students which has among its aims the improvement of opportunities for worthy students to receive higher education. The Alfred representative plans to discuss more fully in next week's Fiat some of the projects and activities of the organization.

The request of the School for American Craftsmen for Senate representation was found to be unconstitutional. Since they are a school and since none of the schools are represented as such, the request had to be refused.

The problems of the waste and inconvenience involved in the decoration for dances was brought up. The president suggested that an organization might be formed which would do more or less professional decorating. Such a group would be hired by groups sponsoring dances, etc. With materials on hand and some sort of standardized methods, such a group should prove quite successful in eliminating some of the confusion and ill-directed effort now involved in decorations. The Senate would be glad to hear from anyone interested in such a project.

The Senate has been hearing much lately about the innumerable drives to which Alfred students are exposed each year. It must be admitted that by sheer weight of numbers they constitute a problem of pocket-book versus conscience to the average student. The Senate is more or less obligated to sponsor each and every drive that comes up. The various organizations which depend on public appeals to continue their constructive work all deserve the support of Alfred's students.

It was suggested that this situation might be remedied somewhat by the introduction of a Student Community Chest. Such a drive would be conducted for one month each year. It should be understood that the contributions to this appeal would have to be spread over a large area. However, there would be no other Senate-sponsored drives during the year. The money received would be divided among the various organizations normally conducting independent drives on the campus. The Senate is asking you to express some definite opinion on the subject through your representative.

The purchase of the new ceiling for the College Gym at $520 was approved by the Senate.

The members were asked to take back to their residence units the suggestion that Christmas vacation be lengthened to include Thursday and Friday, January 2 and 3. This would illuminate the necessity of students traveling on New Year's Day. It is understood that the time lost would be made up at some time later in the year.

J. Jones To Speak At Annual Contest

Jack Jones '48, will represent Ag-Tech in the annual New York State Grange Prize Speaking Contest at Saratoga State Armory on Thursday, December 12. His topic will be "The Grange—a Rampart".

Rennie Coates '48, will act at alternate with a topic on frozen foods, the course in which he is enrolled at Ag-Tech.

This marks over 15 years of participation in the Grange prize speaking competition for the Ag-Tech. For the past ten years, Alfred's representatives have taken not less than third place and frequently first or second.

The five other State Agricultural and Technical Institutes will compete with Alfred for the Grange championship. They are located at Canton, Cobleskill, Delhi, Farmingdale and Morrisville.

Attention

In connection with the Interfraternity Ball scheduled for Thursday, December 19, it might be well to point out, for the benefit of those who may have heard false rumors, that only members and pledges of fraternities on this campus and all faculty members are invited. In other words, this will be a closed affair to all but the afore-mentioned faculty and fraternity members.

Movie Time - Table

Wednesday, December 11—"The Last Chance," an English film presented by M-G-M. Shows at 7:30 and 9:30—feature at 7:42 and 10:12.

Friday and Saturday—December 13, 14—Walt Disney's "Fantasia". Everything will be run once starting at 7:40.

To Dance --- Or Not To Dance

Question: In order to have dancing at the Union, the Union will have to pay a 20% cabaret tax. Would the students be willing to pay extra in order to cover this tax and therefore have dancing at the Union?

Katherine Rigas—"If the students really want to dance in the Union, they will be willing to pay the extra 20% amusement tax, or it could be eliminated by having a room where no food is served and have the phonograph owned by the students. No fee is required for this method of amusement."

Annette Argan—"A majority of the students want dancing in the Union. It is our Union and I don't see why a room can't be cleared of tables for dancing. I was under the impression the University buildings are tax free if they don't cater to the townspeople, which the Union doesn't. How can we be taxed 20% I'm wondering?"

Betty Davis—"Since we're already assessed for the maintenance of the Union, why shouldn't we have dancing if the majority of students want it? I think the Union Board should vote on this issue and, if approved, the hours for dancing should be such that they would not conflict with luncheon and dinner hours."

Dick Metzker—"Yes, we need dancing at the Union and should partition off part of the new extension for this purpose, and serve no food in the dancing area. Therefore there will not be any tax. Hence the problem is solved."

Jean McDermot—"There should be dancing in the Union. Since it would be difficult to pay the cabaret tax, I suggest the Union Board set aside a few hours when the Union is not serving meals and use one room for dancing only. This was done last term and I'm sure it would meet with student approval."

Jack Hillman—"On week-ends or during the course of the week when meals are not being served it would be practical to have dancing in the Union. That is, if the students will have an understanding point of view and cooperate with the regulations set forth."

Virginia Reitz—"As you will notice, the Union's trade has been greatly depleted since that of last year. The answer to this is simply the fact that no dancing is allowed in the Union. After all, what is a college campus without a certain amount of recreation? Do we have to wait for the new addition? Can't we start now?"

Howard Tucker—"The Union should provide a place for dancing. I am all for an increase in prices so that the students might be entertained the way in which college students should be. A place to dance will eventually lead to a higher school spirit. Why should there be any controversy about having dancing on a college campus? It should be taken for granted."

Research Notes

Prof. J. F. McMahon returned to the Research Station last week after a two-week vacation.

Mr. Berman and Mr. Rowe of the Navy Department, were in Alfred on December 4, inspecting the progress of work on the Navy research program.

Prof. C. R. Amberg, Head of the Research Department, addressed the Wellsville Exchange Club, Wednesday evening, Dec. 4, on the topic, "Atomic Energy".

Mr. Robert McDonald, who has been working on the R. G. Allen Company fellowship, left recently. He will soon be replaced by another employee of that company.

Meet Your Professor—

Miss Jane Clark came to Alfred this September as English teacher in the Ag-Tech. Miss Clark is organizing a program of English especially adapted for Ag-Tech students. This is the first time an English course has been offered in the Ag-Tech.

Miss Clark received her B.A. degree from Syracuse in 1943 and her M.A. degree in English from Syracuse in 1946. From 1943 to 1945, Miss Clark taught English in the Liberty, N. Y., high school. During the past year she was an instructor in English teaching methods at Syracuse University.

Miss Clark is a native of Massachusetts and is now making her home in Alfred, which she considers a very friendly town.

Brockport Team Edges Saxons 31-28 In First Varsity Clash Of Year

A.U. Squad Man Henderson Tallies Highest With 10 Points; Argentieri, Griswold, Johnson Shoot Total Of 13

The Saxons at the hands of Brockport Normal dropped their opening game Saturday evening. Fielding practically the same team which gave the Saxons a close game on the Brockport court last year, the hosts were able to edge the Warriors, 31-28.

Having control of the ball for the greatest percentage of time with many scoring opportunities, the A. U. hoopsters just couldn't make the shots drop. At the end of the half the score was 15 to 14 in favor of the teachers. In the second half, Henderson was able to drop seven points to bring his total to 10, the highest tallying for any Saxons. But this wasn't enough as the State team's Mastuson accounted for 11 points to give them the game 31-28.

Following Henderson, the score was pretty evenly divided among Johnson, Argentieri and Griswold for Alfred; while most of Brockport's team broke into the scoring column.

Intramural Teams Get Into League Season

The Intramural Basketball Leagues got underway last night. There were some good ball games and there are going to be a lot more, since there are over a hundred games planned. The nineteen teams which comprise the National and American Leagues are studied with stars. Ellis Manor, last year's undefeated champs, have a strong team, while the fraternities and independent teams boast of much talent.

The National League consists of the following teams:

Kappa Psi	Kappa Delta
General	A. S. R. E.
Indies	"Macs"
Bone Crushers	Lambda Chi I
Klan Alpine	Kappa Nu
The following teams are in the American League:
Sloe Joes	Ellis Manor
Lambda Chi II	Cold Cutters
Rural Engineers	Theta Gamma
Collegiates	Delta Sig
Frozen Foods

It should be a good season and Coach Minnick and the teams extend an invitation to everyone to attend the games.

The games will be played on Monday and Thursday nights at nine and ten, and on Tuesdays and Wednesdays there will be four games, seven to eleven.

Student Affairs Report

The Student Affairs Committee held its regular meeting at 7:30 Wednesday evening in Physics Hall. It was decided that a representative of the Craft School should be added to the membership of the S.A.C.

The idea was discussed of delaying classes until after January 2, in order that students would not have to travel on New Year's Day. This matter has been referred to the Student Senate for further consultation.

Professor McMahon introduced the idea of organizing the national scouting fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, on the campus. Further contemplation on this matter will be made at a later date.

Ping Pong Deadline Set

Another deadline set for tomorrow is for the Men's All-College Ping Pong Tournament. Anyone interested in competing in this tournament should see Coach Minnick before Wednesday afternoon.

Support the teams by helping the cheer leaders.

Alfred Invited To Play Bridge In Tournament

Alfred University has been invited to participate in the First National Intercollegiate Contract Bridge Tournament which will be held in 1947.

The 1947 tournament plan includes a preliminary round at each of 300 colleges and universities with final playoffs at Chicago, April 18 and 19. Costs of transportation, hotel accommodations, meals, and incidentals for the finalists in Chicago are borne by the sponsoring committee. There is no expense to the participating university or its players.

The United States has been divided into eight zones, each of which contains between 34 and 45 colleges. Participating colleges will select four pairs each to play a set of prepared hands. These hands will be played on campus. Results will be mailed to the committee.

The two highest pairs in each of the eight zones will be invited to Chicago for the final playoff on Friday, April 18, and Saturday afternoon. A cup will be awarded to the winning university for a year's possession. Two smaller cups will be given the winning pair to keep.

The played-by-mail round for the eight players on each campus consists of 18 hands. Play of these hands must be completed in one evening and should require from two and a half to three hours.

Refrigeration Group Writes Constitution

At the Thanksgiving meeting of the refrigeration students, their constitution was drawn up by a committee consisting of John Simon, Jack Bast-rude, Palmer Smith, Raymond Goren-flo and Dick Metzker. This was approved and was to be presented to the Student Senate for approval.

The club will be called the "Alfred Student Refrigeration Engineers (A. S. R. E.). These initials coincide with one of the most prominent organization of refrigeration in the country, the "American Society of Refrigeration Engineers". The club is endeavoring to have the refrigeration students enrolled in this national organization. They are also trying to start a local chapter of the A. S. R. E., here at Alfred to be merged with the refrigeration club.

Louis Ranieri, vice-president of the club, says, "This will be one of the best things that can happen here, as all of the refrigeration men will benefit by it in many ways, such as, a subscription to the magazine "The Refrigeration Engineer," which contains the latest technical advice in refrigeration and air-conditioning. Speakers, lecturers, movies and demonstrations could be presented before our club."

A committee was appointed to arrange for speakers. This committee includes Leonard Dziekowic, Anthony Smikel and Bob Rifenburg.

Speakers from the Kelvinator Company and General Electric are going to give lectures on the latest information in refrigeration and air-conditioning in the near future. One of their lectures will be on the "Thermo-Bank".

Girls Sports

By Norma Jacox

Socially and athletically speaking, there is a lack of class spirit on campus. Most of the functions are carried on through sorority houses and the Brick. From now until Christmas vacation, class basketball teams will be organized and interclass games will be played on after vacation. All those who can loop the ball through the basket or keep their opponents from doing so, are urged to come out for all the practices. The Junior Class offers a bold challenge to the other three classes this year with six members from the All-Alfred Basketball team chosen last year rarin' to go: Taffy Macaulay, Miriam Tooke, Grace Congdon, Mary Ann Goodrich, Lou Phillips and Norma Jacox. Last year the Senior Class, also with a few All-Alfred team members, won the interclass trophy! ! ! This year's team managers are: Seniors, Molly White; Juniors, Rosemarie Springer; Sophomores, Jane Lytle. The Freshman manager will be announced next week.

Life Saving

All those who are interested in life-saving should contact Grace Bradley, who is giving instruction at the Y.M.C.A. in Hornell on Tuesday nights.

Volleyball

The Interhouse Volleyball Competition is entering its final week with Pi Alpha leading in five straight wins. Last week Sigma Chi was victorious over Brick I with a score of 54-27, and Pi Alpha defeated Brick II, 42-24. Thursday night's game was a thriller (for those playing—there was no audience!) with Theta Chi and Sigma Chi on the court. The score was tied twice, the last time with only three more minutes playing time, the score then being 30-30. Sigma Chi finally emerged the winner with only a two-point advantage, 34-32.

The team standings thus far are:

Interfrat Event Planned

for ten straight days. Before Goodman pulled out he told Hal he was wasting his time in Cromwell. Said he in essence, "You belong in big time. You've got the stuff that makes top bandmen." Goodman told him of a young fellow, Glenn Miller, who was organizing a band in New York. Hal was doing nicely with his own band but kept thinking about Goodman's appraisal of his own talents and predictions of great things for Miller's band.

Hal raced to New York in time to catch a front seat on the Miller skyrocket. For four years he roomed with Glenn and all of Benny Goodman's predictions came true. Hal was riding the wave—then, from Hal's diary, dated August, 1941:

"Glenn suggests that I give up the best job in the world, with an unlimited future and lifetime security—and start my own band! I didn't sleep all night thinking about it. I roomed with Glenn for five years. I saw the story that's written between the lines of story-book rises. There are enough hardships, frustrations, setbacks and heartbreaks to make anyone wonder how a band ever does click. However, Glenn certainly proved that there's no limit to success. In the end I based my decision on Glenn's judgment. He's rarely wrong!"

And so, the Hal MacIntyre band was born!

The next weeks were the busiest of Hal's career. From the 7th to the 22nd he even lacked time to jot diary notes. Then: "October 22, 1941: We started rehearsing today. The past two weeks were spent in finding and auditioning musicians. We were looking for experienced men, rejecting the popular misconception that only young men can give a new band 'life'. We were looking for enthusiasm with experience.

Exactly nine days later, Hal was on the high road. "October 31, 1941: We played our first job tonight, nine days after we started. We subbed for the band that was playing Glen Island Casino. When we finished the managers of the Casino came over with a term contract. It was for five months beginning January, 1942, with ten to fifteen radio shots a week. Glen Island was where Glenn Miller started. The radio time is just what I want for my new band. This may be it.

"November 23, 1941: We played a repeat date at the Glen Island Casino tonight, Glenn came out to hear the band and I've never been so nervous about anything.

"But there was no need to. Glenn thought the band was fine and held nothing in reserve when he congratulated us.

"January 21, 1943: Highly successful opening at the Century Room of the Hotel Commodore. Half the battle is won."

The other half has since been won as Hal has risen steadily to fame.

Hal is married. . . . has a little boy, Hal, Jr. . . . lives on Long Island. . . . hobbies are listening to phonograph records, swimming and golf. . . . is about 6 feet. . . . weighs 175. . . . dark hair and very brown eyes. . . .

W. Navin Seeks Alumni College

William Navin '23, president of the Alfred University Alumni Association, broadcasts an appeal this month in the Alumni News for suggestions and contributions toward the forming of an "Alumni College".

The idea is still in the germ stage, but when developed would prove of benefit to alumni, students and faculty. Crux of Mr. Navin's idea is that alumni come to Alfred a day, a week-end or a week each year to meet in lectures and panel discussions on some topic of professional interest to them.

Mr. Navin suggests "someone in the Department of History and Political Science might give a lecture on the "World of Tomorrow," followed by a panel discussion involving the whole department. Education in its various phases is another subject that will interest many and there are scores of other topics that could employ the services of the Liberal Arts, Ceramic and Ag-Tech facilities."

"From the angle of alumni teaching," Mr. Navin writes, "any number of worthwhile projects might be instituted using 'alumni-lecturers' in various fields such as newspaper work, the medical and dental professions, law, public relations, personnel work, different phases of the ceramic field and agriculture and allied fields."

Newmans Give Club Breakfast

A Communion Breakfast for the Catholic Congregation was sponsored by the Newman Club at Social Hall, Sunday, following the general communion services conducted by Father Gerard McMinn at Alumni Hall. Kenneth Stille, assistant football coach at St. Bonaventure's College, was guest speaker in the stead of Hugh Dwan. Mr. Stille gave a brief talk in introduction of films of the 1945 Navy-Notre Dame football game which he presented, he himself narrating. Stille, a good Catholic man, and former All-American tackle of Notre-Dame (1936), first coached a high school team in Allentown, Pa. He left there to become assistant coach under Hugh Dwan at Notre-Dame, and is now working with Dwan at St. Bonaventure's College.

Dr. Geen, Dean of Women, and Director Paul B. Orvis, representing the University and Agricultural Institute, respectively, were among the 130 guests who ate in the atmosphere of candle-light, evergreens and chrysanthemums. Frank Snyder '49, Newman Club president, acted as toastmaster.

No smoking in the gym during the games.

Don't forget Badminton practice at South Hall every Monday night!

All members of the Fiat staff are requested to report to Kenyon Hall tonight (Tuesday) at 7:00 p.m., to vote on the new members of the staff and discuss other important matters.
