"Tody" Rhodes Elected New Senate President Kellogg, Aylor, Merriman Win Senior, Junior, Sophomore Presidencies In Election Schreckengost, Burdick Elected To Student Life Committee Posts

Students and Student Senators alike expressed a desire last week to travel the "Rhodes" which lead to bigger and better campus improvements when Ralph "Tody" Rhodes was voted into the most sought for campus office, that of President of the Student Senate.

Rhodes, the nominee of Klan Alpine, captured the post in a dual battle with Arthur Petri, candidate of the Independent group. A popular campus figure, Rhodes has held in past years the presidency of the sophomore class, vice-presidency of the junior class, membership on the Intramural Association Board, Sports Director of the Interfraternity Council, and has earned his Varsity "A" two years in a row in basketball togs.

Class office elections resulted in George Kellogg holding the senior presidency; Margaret Aylor, the junior; and Grant Merriman, the sophomore. Betty Stangl was chosen as student representative on the Student Life Committee, with faculty representatives Prof. Don Schreckengost and Prof. H. O. Burdick. Elton Gamble won the post of Vice-Chairman of the Athletic Governing Board; and Reginald Miner captured the secretaryship of the same board.

Manning Chosen First President Of ACF Group

R. Douglas Manning '42 was elected first president of the newly organized Alfred Christian Fellowship at a meeting Sunday evening at Social Hall.

The organization, which has been formed by the merging of the Y.W.C.A. and the A.U.C.A., will be conducted as a one-year experiment to determine if such a set-up should be established permanently.

Other officers elected for the year 1941-1942 were first vice-president Mary Johnston '43; second vice-president, William Woods '43; and secretary-treasurer, Beatrice Nash '42.

Faculty advisors also chosen at the meeting Sunday evening were Miss Lavinia Creighton, Mrs. S. R. Scholes, Miss Marian Fosdick, Prof. Kenneth B. Floyd, Dr. S. R. Scholes and Dr. Everett Lund.

Before the election of officers William Woods gave a report of the spring council meeting of the Student Christian Movement of New York State which he attended at Columbia University, recently.

Plans were also discussed for the retreat which will be held Friday and Saturday, to which all students interested are invited. Miss Kay Duffield and Ray Sweetman, travelling secretaries of the S. C. M., will be on campus to take part in the retreat.

Dean Degen Is Delegate

A Jaunt to the "Libe"

The house or dorm is too noisy, so you decide to take a little jaunt to the "Libe" as it is fondly termed.

As you lope up the steps, all the tumult and the shouting that you may have been making, dies in mid-air. Silence is the first rule for inside.

So, you step inside the door and look about you. Care in the proper selection of a table is of primary importance. You must be where you can see the entrance and departure of everyone. You must consider who ever may be at the desired table or in its immediate vicinity. Compatibility is a great help to your evening.

Must Remove Coat

When your location is finally determined, you must remove coat, and deposit books, pen, pencil, and paper on the table. The next step is to test the chair and make sure that it does not squeak. Some of them are known to do so, and you will only bring down the wrath of the other students (not to mention the effect on your own nerves) if you sit on such a chair.

With the preliminaries out of the way, you saunter over to the desk, stopping en route to view the latest exhibit or to leaf through the newest novel. When you do ask for the book

High School Senior Girls Entertained

Three recent alumnae of Alfred were included in the speakers who addressed the group of high school girls who visited the campus as guests of the University on Saturday.

Following the luncheon at Social Hall, Chaplain William Genné acted as master of ceremonies for the program of speeches. He introduced various members of the faculty to the high school girls after Dean Dora K. Degen had given the welcome from the University.

Speaks On Teaching

Concetta Russo '39, spoke on the teaching profession. Miss Russo is now teaching at the Allentown High School. Miss Marjorie Wilson, Children's Agent of Allegany County, spoke on social work. Evelyn Konanz '40, laboratory technician in the Rochester General Hospital, discussed her work there.

Margaret Aylor '43 told the high school group about the new secretarial course and its possibilities. Lois Burdett '37, who is now employed by Sibley, Lindsay and Curr in Rochester, spoke about her field, merchandising.

The faculty members who attended the luncheon and tea were Dr. H. O. Boraas, Prof. Wendell Burditt, Miss Lavinia Creighton, Dean M. Ellis Drake, Miss Eva Ford, Prof. Varick Nevins III, Miss Agnes Pearson, Prof. C. Duryea Smith III, and Miss Ruth Whitford.

Band Uniform Drive Reaches $300 Goal

The Band Uniform Drive ended Friday night as the thermometer reached the $300 mark. The exact figures are not available as yet, since all contributions from pledges have not been received.

This campaign for uniforms will mean a great deal to the University, student body, and band in the near future, and it has only been accomplished with the invaluable aid of various groups on the campus.

The Band is indebted to the Blue Key and its members for their continual assistance, to the Fiat Lux for the support it graciously gave to the drive, and to the Women's Student Government for its moral support and financial aid.

The Band would like to thank the following groups and persons on the campus whose monetary contributions, spontaneously given, helped the band reach its goal: President J. Nelson Norwood, Blue Key, Theta Gamma, Student Senate, Lambda Chi, Senior Class, Pi Alpha, Women's Student Government, Kappa Nu and Sigma Chi.

It is impossible to list all the contributions from the faculty and student body, so the Band wishes to extend its sincere gratitude to everyone who in any way participated or supported the drive.

HALF-HOLIDAY ANNOUNCED

Special attention is called to the fact that there will be no classes Thursday afternoon, following the assembly. All seniors will be dismissed from classes at 10:30 A. M. to permit them to change to caps and gowns.

bird who got the book-(worm) may have decided that he can relinquish it to you. At any rate, you find something to do and earnestly apply yourself.

The unearthly, shattering sound of the gong jerks you to your feet, and you must cease work. Too bad. You put on coat, pick up books, pen, pencil, and paper from the table. You are free.

Two minor innovations have been introduced by this year's Senate which has allocated funds for two loving cups, one for the women's softball game and the other for the step singing contest.

Juniors, sophomores, and freshmen will start the ball rolling by reaching Alumni Hall as soon as possible after their 10:00 o'clock classes in order to be seated when the cap and gown procession of seniors and administrative officers file in to the strains of the orchestra.

New Prexy Will Bow

The musical end of the program is next in line with the singing of "Where, Oh, Where" by the student body, two selections by the orchestra, and vocalizing by the Women's Glee Club, the Men's Glee Club and the Men's Quartet.

Retiring Student Senate President, Charles Rosenberg, will make his announcements and will introduce the new president, Ralph Rhodes, who will read the list of newly elected campus officers. The platform will then be turned over to the honor societies, Phi Psi Omega, Pi Delta Mu, and Blue Key, who will tap new members.

Following the tapping, Russell Pardee '41, president of the senior class, will present the senior cane to George Kellogg '42, next year's senior head.

Closing the program, President J. Nelson Norwood, will make his annual speech and will make the honorary awards.

Juniors To Leave First

Juniors will leave the hall first, lining up beside the walk to Kenyon Chapel, the sophomores will follow, lining up after the juniors and the freshmen will repeat the procedure, backing up the sophomores. The seniors, leaving the hall last, will march through the aisle to Kenyon Hall, and the entire student body will sing the Alma Mater accompanied by Prof. Wingate on the carillon.

Fresh, Sophs to Compete

The afternoon's program will be inaugurated by the freshman and sophomore women who will vie with each other in a softball contest at the practice field. Immediately following will come the day's highlight, the dog-eat-dog pushball contest between freshman and sophomore men.

The campus vocal talent is scheduled for airing at 7:00 o'clock in the evening on Kenyon Chapel steps with groups of ten or less competing for a cup. Any entries should be handed to Jim Wygant at Lambda Chi as soon as possible. The judges will be faculty members, and the singing cup and contest cups will be presented to the winners during intermission at the free Moving-Up Day Dance in the gym. The hop will start immediately after the step-singing with recorded music. Twelve o'clock permission has been secured for women.

Dignity to be the Key-note

Dignity is to be the key-note of the Moving-Up Day assembly which is to be held Thursday. In the past this dignity has been somewhat interrupted by the loud stamp of feet at various times between 11:00 and 11:15. Late-comers stumbling over feet in an effort to get to their places, cause a commotion that up-sets the whole program. In addition to the stamp of feet there is the noise caused by the twisting necks. Not that we mean that the necks of the curious creek, but the students do make noise when they turn their heads to see who is coming in.

Freshmen, sophomores and juniors, are asked to be in their places promptly at 11:00. Then there will be nothing to interfere with the procession of the seniors and administrative officers who are to march to the assembly from the library.

Coming: Examinations

Within three weeks begins the period of reckoning for Alfred University students. The coming of spring to Alfred is heralded by a moving-out-of-doors process. Students who have spent the winter doing a variety of things, including studying, are now paying particular attention to outdoor sports, picnics and informal social gatherings on the campus.

After a cold winter, who is there that doesn't welcome the warm sunshine. But, on the other hand, the examination period near at hand is not to be forgotten, at least not by those who would wish to leave a fine record for themselves. College life is designed to give a broad education, but the academic side should not take a back seat for the social side which is particularly pleasing at this time of year. Therefore, think not only of today and this week's pleasure, but think also of the critical judgment of a few weeks hence.

Keep Campus Grounds Tidy

In assembly Thursday, President J. Nelson Norwood stressed the importance of keeping the grounds in front of his office free from papers. It is important that all students cooperate in this matter since this is one of the first places on the campus that visitors notice.

Somewhat papers and junk have found their way into the Kana-kadea in front of Burdick Hall. These may have been dropped there by careless students or they may have been blown there from the lawn. At any rate they do detract from the beauty of our campus. A little care with papers will keep this spot, which is normally attractive, one of which we can be proud.

It is essential that students cooperate with the grounds committee in keeping the campus attractive.

It Can Be Done

The successful conclusion of the drive for band uniforms proves that when students are really interested in a project, they are willing to work and make it a success. The question of band uniforms has been discussed by the students for a number of years and it is certainly a commendation for this present student generation that the program was finally carried out.

The enthusiasm shown by students for this enterprise might well be carried over into some other fields of campus activity.

ACP—Barnard is the latest college to introduce a course in development of American institutions.

The course, according to Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve, will include a study of the state, the family, business enterprises, the school, the church, class structure, and the community. It will be a continuation and expansion of a course in American studies given for the first time this college year.

"There are in the United States far more universities, colleges and other operating institutions, and far more voluntary organizations for worthy purposes than the nation can possibly afford. In the years to come many of these are bound to disappear." Dr. Frederick P. Keppel, president of the Carnegie Corporation of New York, predicts a weeding out of universities and philanthropies.—ACP.

Editor's Mailbag

Editor, Fiat Lux:

For the entire year, our Senate, like any other Senate in former years, has been criticised. Now that we are through, may I say in behalf of the Senate that we really have not minded it. As a matter of fact we have welcomed it. It seems that the men and women on our campus will only open their mouths and minds in a critical tone. If that was the only way we could get a consensus of opinion, all well and good. We tried to encourage it. If students stopped criticising we would have no method of peering into their minds, and then we would be at a complete loss.

You all realize that the minds of eleven student senators are not capable of conceiving all of the necessary reforms in an ordinary college year. The Senate was not set up for the purpose of thinking up reforms. They were put there to act on reforms. The founders of the system felt that the student body was capable of doing the thinking, and the Senate, the judging. There was only one fallacy in the system these founders set up. They took it for granted that the students would gladly run to the first Senate meeting to bring up their propositions. Yes, they even had dreams of eventually using Alumni Hall as a meeting room to accommodate the crowds. A normal student body does have many new ideas constantly coming up. A normal student would like to see his ideas carried into effect. Therefore, the founders felt that that normal student would gladly sacrifice a few minutes of one evening to bring action on his project. It hasn't worked out that way. That was the fallacy!

A few students have come to our meetings. They have seen their propositions come into being. We take off our hats to them and thank them, heartily. Most of our students find that they cannot spare the time. They do have well-planned ideas and opinions, but they seem to lack the courage of their convictions. They merely stand in front of the post-office all day all day handing out these opinions freely. We even thank them. They are serving a useful purpose.

There is only one type of critic for which we have no thanks. He is a common pest of mankind—he criticises merely for the sake of criticising. It is his method of making sure he is heard. He wants people to hear his voice and name. He will not usually make concrete statements. If he does, he is not particularly interested in the truth. Disraeli once said, "It is much easier to be critical than correct." Or, as Socrates put it many years before, "Wind puffs up empty bladders; opinions, fools."

Such was the case of the author of that Fiat editorial last week. He wrote a biting editorial, used no care with words, facts or truths, set his imagination at work, and gave us the mess he called an editorial. I won't say that he is a liar. That is impolite. But he certainly made some glaring, erroneous, and exaggerated statements. Certainly, our author is not well informed about everything about Alfred and the Student Senate, especially when you remember that our authoritative author has not attended so much as one single Senate meeting during the entire year. He based all his facts on erroneous information—information that he garnered by walking into the voting office, filling out a ballot, and walking right out again, a process which took him two minutes. What a basis for the statements he made!

Our esteemed author claimed that "a good share of the time only one election officer was on duty in the office." "A good share of the time" consists of somewhere between four and six minutes on Thursday afternoon. At all other times, two or more election officers were always present. He also felt that "one person could not possibly handle the crowds". Has he ever tried it? We, who have, seem to feel that even a person with a sub-normal intelligence could handle the job. I'll bet that even he could have done it. But even at that we did have two senators present. Our author spoke of "ample opportunity to vote as many times as they wished." Can he explain how anyone could possibly vote more than once if the names of the students were checked off a list and individual ballots were handed out personally by the Senators? He went on to make a dozen such beautifully phrased statements, definitely without foundation. That, he called an editorial.

Charles Rosenberg,
President, Student Senate

Editor, Fiat Lux:

After reading the Collegiate Digest this week, it was more than interesting to read about the new "fad" at "Williams College". (Page 6 Col. Dig.) It seems that this small College has actually given some material aid for the cause the British People are undertaking.

It is more than safe to say that the

COLLEGE TOWN

By the Editors

Beware! Take care! There are Nazi agents in the New York State College of Ceramics! Their activities have already won over (at the latest count) ten persons, including one member of the faculty.

This discovery was made known to a startled world last Friday by a farmer's wife residing near Stony Brook Park. As she was peacefully pursuing her customary activities on her hill-farm, she caught sight of a group of suspicious-looking individuals with sketch pads surveying her property (no doubt on the lookout for military objectives).

Was she daunted? Did she scream for the minions of the law? Nay, this courageous woman hailed the nearest member of the party and demanded that the intruders remove themselves from her immediate proximity—or, as she put it, "You get off my land, you Nazi spies!"

This intrepid female, probably a member in good standing of the local D.A.R., would doubtless have been gratified to learn that, before their day of nefarious activity was concluded, several members of the party got their swastika arm-bands all wet by tumbling into the swift and frigid waters of the brook.

All students are hereby warned against the infiltration of alien propaganda and the spread of sinister subversive activities via the Ceramic College!

entire sentiments of this campus are behind the British People.

After all the mental aid which we so generously bestowed on Britain, it is about time that we, too, as a Student Body, give some material aid. How about having the fraternities and sororities on this campus take notice of the "Anti-Corsage Dances" in favor of a "Buttons for Britain Campaign". We are sure that the girls of this campus would favor Buttons today instead of "Poppies" in the future.

Sincerely,

Editor, Fiat Lux:

Referring to the letter written by Mr. Roland M. Ross, that appeared in the Fiat last Tuesday, we admit that the situation, as far as the Interfraternity Council is concerned, is an unusual one. However there are several obvious disadvantages to the Ag School, which will be introduced if the Ag fraternities become members of the Alfred University Interfraternity Council.

1. If the Ag School fraternities were to become members of the University Interfraternity Council, their rushing rules and customs would necessarily need to be altered to conform with ours.

2. An alteration of Ag School rushing to conform with ours would lead to one of two things:

a. All male students at Alfred regardless of the school they attend, will be invited to all fraternities during the rushing season. This is obviously absurd because, at the present time Ag School students are not pledged to University fraternities. This situation would lead to a waste of time and money.

b. All Ag School students would be invited to the Ag fraternities during rushing season. This is a physical and financial impossibility for the two fraternities.

3. Students at the Ag School attend classes only two years, or but a fraction of lack of three years. This makes impossible the carrying out of a long range program with the co-operation of Ag School fraternities.

The only evident advantage of Ag school fraternities, if they are members of the University Interfraternity Council, is a social one.

The annual Interfraternity Ball at Alfred is one of the two outstanding social events of the year. Unfortunately, this event is so popular that the gym is crowded beyond capacity, making it impossible to provide dancing and lounging room for any more couples.

We hope that we have settled a few of the questions that have arisen regarding this situation.

As far as intramural athletics and other campus activities are concerned, we hardly feel that we are the right organization to question.

The Interfraternity Council feels that any action on this matter to change existing conditions so that co-operation between Ag School and University Fraternities should originate higher up.

Very truly yours,
CARL KAHN,
Pres. Interfraternity Council

In The Air

Here's a spot of hot news that is really quite interesting, and illustrative of the subtle changes in the music business.

Gene Krupa has recently augmented his orchestra by the addition of one trumpet-player. This is important in two ways: the musician is that high-register miracle-man, Roy Eldridge, who formerly bossed a hot Negro band; Krupa is following the lead of his former maestro, Benny Goodman, in defying the tradition of the commercial music business, which holds that colored and white musicians should not play together, meaning that mixed bands are OUT. While Eldridge plays only in the capacity of a featured soloist, his presence with Krupa denotes the trend towards combining the talents of both Negro and white musicians in the production of better music. In the future, there will, doubtlessly, be less discrimination of race, which will contribute a great deal to the further progress of our music.

The subdued low-register thrilling of clarinets distinguishes the fine danceable music of Johnny Long, and his orchestra, from N.Y.C.'s Roseland Ballroom. Johnny has been in the business ever since the formation of his band at Duke University, and, aided tremendously by his wonderful personality, he has steadily climbed up the well-worn ladder. The top is finally in sight for this fine group, which plays good hot, and equally enjoyable sweet.

Spain has contributed to the world's stock of music, both in the classics and the dance field. In addition to its material donations, it has given us numerous artists in both fields. Xavier Cugat, who is credited with making the music of his country-men popular in our nation, is a fine example of the excellent musicianship which is typical of the Latin race. Cugat's orchestra features rumbas, tangos, and congas, but its unlimited repertoire enables it to exhibit its versatility in playing the usual type of music connected with commercial groups. It would not be possible to say that Cugat's organization is the best of its kind, but we can safely state that it is among leaders. Cugat's regular Thursday evening program comes over the NBC network at 7:30 o'clock.

Victor Records give us a jazz collector's item in Sidney Bechet's cutting of Coal Black Shine, and Baby, Won't You Please Come Home. Henry Allen and J. C. Higginbotham both shine in this. Mitchell Ayres and band do Minnie From Trinidad, and Schottische at Sunrise for the Bluebird label. Also, for this imprint is Johnny Hodges' That's the Blues Old Man, and Queen Bess.

Ithaca Cindermen Fall Victim To Powerful Saxon Onslaught; Smith, Leahy, Greene Sparkle

Short Shots of Sport Shots

By Bob Moebus

With Moving-Up Day coming up on Thursday, and the impending "softies" game of pushball following the morning ritualistic exercises, we have notice that there is a definite lack of rivalry and good-natured hate between the combatants—the class of '44 and the class of '43. Usually at this time of year the menu calls for various threats of one kind or another being brought out by spirited members of both classes. The rivalry waxes hotter and hotter until on Moving-Up Day the feeling is intense, and the ball game or fight is truly a corker with the gallant warriors from each class out to uphold their class traditions. Such was the case last year and Moving-Up Day was a huge success. Such has been the case in previous years—as we understand it—and we would like to see such be the case this year—ALL FROSH AND SOPH MEN PLEASE TAKE NOTE!

At the Ithaca track meet last Wednesday afternoon, Harold Glinzky, Alfred's hope in the javelin throw, apparently thought he had 3rd place locked in his event, and was in the clobber resting when one of the managers came barging in to inform him that an Ithaca man had beaten his throw for third place. Called on to do his duty, Glinzky again donned his shoes and proceeded to outthrust his challenging opponent by a rather large margin. Quoting Coach Yunevich—"It just goes to show the part psychology plays in this game!"

Overheard in a baseball discussion between two hot fans: A staunch backer of the St. Louis Browns was expounding on the merits of his ball club, and the recipient of the remarks rapidly was becoming filled to the hilt with the aggressor's babble. Finally he brought up the fact that the Brownies weren't quite as high in the league standings as their apparent greatness should warrant.

"Shucks!" replied the Brownie fan, "we can't win them all!" At present the St. Louis club is playing about 200 ball.

Apparently, unless Mike Greene breaks a record every time he tosses the shot or the discus, his ardent admirers, of which he has a great many, are sorely disappointed. In sporting circles, the man who wins is usually the best man—whether he breaks records or not—and certainly Mike has proved that has been the best man in many instances. His double wins in the shot and discus have added many points to the Alfred score—look for a new set up as far as Intramural league business is concerned in the future—Perhaps a little late, but Alfred's team in the Penn Relays did a wonderful job in so far as Saxon laurels are concerned—Running against the cream of the crop of runners, the McLane coached men turned in very creditable performances in the relay races, and also in the field events . . .

THINGS WE WOULD LIKE TO SEE:—Some sort of Intramural Athletics to occupy the minds of the men who do not participate in Varsity Cross Country or football in the fall seasons . . . We would suggest an Intramural Touch Football league for campus competition in the fall . . . Any comments on this suggestion will be very welcome from all concerned . . . other suggestions for competition during the fall will also fall in line with our efforts to inaugurate some fall sports activity . . .

Taking firsts in all of the track events, the Alfred University track team, for the second successive year, trounced the trackmen from Ithaca College by a score of 85½-45½ in a meet held at Merrill Field last Wednesday afternoon.

Double wins by "Tex" Smith in both hurdles races, and Everett Leahy in the hundred and two twenty yard dashes coupled with Mike Green's duo in the shot put and discus throw led the Alfred men in scoring. Other outstanding performances included Roger Marks winning the four-forty yard dash, and Frank Morley taking the mile. The four-fifths of a mile relay was won by the Saxon team handily as Marks the lead off man gave his teammates a lead which they never relinquished.

The summary:
 Mile—Morley (A), Hall (A), Tuttle (A). Time, 4:30.5.
 440 yard—Marks (A), Heasley (A), Dorg (I). 53.7.
 100 yard—Leahy (A), Kelly (A), Carleton (I). 10.4.
 120 high hurdles—Smith (A), Marshall (I), Dierks (I). 16.9.
 880 yard run—Hall (A), Morley (A), Dabber (A). 2:08.7.
 220 yard—Leahy (A), Kelly (A), T. Carleton (I). 23.2.
 Two mile run—Nordquist (A), Tuttle (A), Lancaster (I). 10:26.
 220 low hurdles—Smith (A), McMann (I), Murphy (I). 28.5.
 Relay—won by Alfred (Marks, Hall, Gamble, Heasley). 2:44.4.
 Pole vault—Tied between Rolseth (I) and Mooney (A); tied between Sheard (A), Elsel (I). Height, 11 feet, 6 inches.
 Shot put—Won by Greene (A), McKillop (I), Glinzky (A). Distance 43 feet 2 inches.

Two Win Gold Pins In Stenography

Two students in advanced stenography convinced the judges recently that they could write "chicken tracks" at the rate of 120 words per minute and then read them back accurately, so now these two secretarial stooges, Jean Fitzgerald '43 and Alice Schryver '42 are sporting pretty little gold pins for their dexterous accomplishments.

Runners up in the test are quite pleased with the certificates given for the 100 words-per-minute accomplishments. Holders of these certificates are Judith Clausen '42, Barbara Hill '42, Dorothy Pertain '41, Frances Polan '42, Elaine Richtmyer '41, Carole Sheldon '41, and Myra Whitney '42, besides the two expert pen pushers mentioned above.

Several students are now grooming themselves for the ink-spreading monthly tests now being given in the hopes of soon acquiring the coveted gold pins. After winning the pins, they will then try for the 140-word, and the 150-word awards.

Glee Club Sings For Schoolmasters

For the past week Alfred University's Glee Club and Male Quartet have been displaying an unusual amount of activity. High-light of the week was the program put on by both singing groups under the direction of Professor Ray Wingate for the Allegany-Steuben county banquet, Tuesday night, at the Brick.

Last Sunday morning the University Male Quartet sang at the Park Church in Hornell. Sunday night, the same group sang at the University Church here in Alfred.

Monday afternoon, the Ladies' Glee Club sang at the Community Club House. Professor Wingate gave a song recital at the Dairymen's League meeting, Monday night.

Frosh Coeds Overpower Juniors in Softball

Clouting with all the viciousness of an enraged Joe Louis, the Freshman women's softball team battered their way to an overwhelming victory over a hapless Junior team by a 35-7 score last Saturday morning.

The Frosh hit hard and often and the Junior women were powerless against them. Each team played with only six players lining up as follows:

Frosh	Juniors
Peg Hopkins	Millie Pivetz
Jean Gates	Betty Jane Curry
Peg Ohlander	Betty Baldrige
Rhoda Large	Esther Miller
Margaret Gibbo	Sally Jane Morris
Helen Bell	Eleanor Jensen

Education Receives Two Alfred Seniors

Two graduating seniors have received teaching positions. They are Miss Jane Colberg, who will teach French and Latin in the Andover Central School, and Kenneth Ripley, who will teach Mathematics at the Alfred-Almond Central School.

Eight Alfred alumni have received new positions. They are James D. Sproul '32, who has been appointed District Superintendent of Schools of Cattaraugus County. He was the former principal of Castle High School.

Whalen Livermore '29, who taught Science at the Malone High School, has been appointed District Superintendent of Schools of Franklin County. Otto Seward, M. A. '40, has now taken over the District Superintendency of Livingston County.

David J. Neil '40, has accepted a position with the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company at Buffalo. He is working in the claim department.

Faculty Members Liberal Contributors

Faculty members and staff at Alfred University have contributed more than $30,000 toward the support of the University since 1930, said President J. Nelson Norwood in the last faculty meeting.

"Faculty members have contributed to the support of the University all during its 104 years," he added; "else it wouldn't be here."

In each of the last two specially directed finance programs, one in 1930, the other in 1935-36, the average contribution was over $200; the smallest was $5; the largest $2,000. Thus the average donation for the 10-year period was near $500; the average donated each year was about $3,000.

Under the new finance program set up this spring and directed by W. Harold Reid, A. U. '20, the University officials hope to liquidate the outside indebtedness of the University within a few years.

Fourteen-man Spike Squad Set For Friday's Middle Atlantic Track and Field Competition

Saxonette . . . Sports

Main topic of conversation among the Saxonette warriors this week is softball . . . Frosh and soph women are especially interested as they meet on moving up day. . . . speaking of Sophs did you see Lambda Chi Alpha giving the soph gals practice last week on the archery field behind the gym? . . . Also the worn spots in front of Kenyon resulted when the sophomores, on their way to practice, found that they had no bat, and so decided to stop there and have a catch. . . . so far it sounds as though the Sophs have had all the practice, but numerous Frosh women have been spending their spare moments playing catch and striving to raise the batting averages. . . . Yes, Thursday is Moving-up day and even with all their determination the sophs are going to have a hard time of it. . . . the Frosh are good, powerful . . . and will be out to win. . . .

The song of a well-strung racquet, connecting with a well-hit ball is the song to which many women are dancing this spring. Nor do these musicians seem to be union workers for their song and dance begins at six in the morning and lasts until eight or nine at night. Every one of the 16 women who signed up for the spring tennis tourney is finding out that the other participants are better than she thought and that having a consolation tournament may not be such a bad idea after all.

Sweet sixteen and never been to college yet. Such describes the high school girls for whom fencing, badminton and archery demonstrations were put on last Saturday. All three sports were unfamiliar to several of the girls and an afternoon of enjoyment was had by the demonstrators as well as by the visitors.

Congrats to the Theta Chi I team of Janet Howell and Betty Tim Kaiser for winning in their section of the Intramural badminton Tournament. . . . Alfred archers are pursuing the sport of Dan Cupid more ardently than ever in practice for the coming Inter-collegiate Archery Tournament.

Yunevich Requests Tennis Matches Be Played Soon

A request by Coach Alex Yunevich has been made to the effect that all of the men entered in the all-campus tennis tournament to decide a team to represent Alfred University in a Match with the University of Niagara on May 24, will please play their scheduled opponents so that a team can be picked and coached before the match.

Archery, Badminton Tennis Demonstrations Held for Visitors

Visiting women to the Alfred campus were entertained last Saturday afternoon by demonstrations in archery, badminton, and tennis by campus coeds and men.

In badminton, Esther Miller and Janet Howell were matched in a singles game, and Eloise Bassett and June Chisholm played Janet Howell and Esther Miller in a doubles match. Fencing meets found Rhoda Ungar defeating Harriet Klees 3-2, and Jane Wilson downing Rhoda Ungar 3-2. Both Betty Cosby and Virginia Shaner bowed to Reta Farnham by the score of 3-2.

Paced by Kay Kastner, Eloise Bassett and Mary Johnston took second and third places respectively in a demonstration Archery Tournament, while Bud App, Ellie Hauth and Bill Dennis, and Arnold Johnson finished in that order in the men's tourney.

Theta Chi Leads In Intramural Badminton Tourney

The Theta Chi I team of Betty Tim Kaiser and Janet Howell won two matches this week to lead in the first section of the Intramural Badminton tournament.

In a three game match they defeated June Chisholm and Eloise Bassett by a score of 15-9, 10-5, 15-10. In the match against Lois Creighton and Kay Kastner of Sigma Chi I, the Theta Chi girls again returned the winners 18-13, and 18-16.

Winners of the singles women's badminton tournament held last Wednesday evening were Janet Howell, who defeated Esther Miller in the finals, 11-2, 11-9, and Betty Tim Kaiser who defeated Millie Pivetz in the consolation finals, 14-9, 11-7.

Seeking to better their showing of last year when they finished one point behind Franklin-Marshall to gain fourth place, fourteen varsity and four Freshmen trackmen will journey to Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pa., this week-end for the annual Mid-Atlantic Track Festival.

Mike Greene will be aiming for a repeat double triumph in the shot and discus titles which he won last year. Topsy Hoitink will also be jumping to duplicate, if not to surpass, his performance of last year, when he tied with Bo Johnson for second place in the high-jump.

Sprinters Joe Kelly and Ed Leahy, 440-men Roger Marks and Frank Heasley, hurdlers Tex Smith and Carlos Morales, distance men Morley, Hall, Tuttle, Nordquist and Gamble, and field men Greene, Hoitink and Mooney will be the Varsity contenders.

The Frosh will compete as a Medley Relay team. Members of the team have not yet been chosen.

8 Listed In University "Who's Who"

Eight Alfred seniors are represented in the latest volume of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges which will be released the second week in May.

Those who achieved this award, based on scholarship and extra-curricular activities are Betty Tim Kaiser, James Francis Lynch, Franklin Pershing Morley, Morris Charles Musgrave, Elisabeth Jeannette Olshov, Russell Edgar Pardee, Charles Harvey Rosenberg, and Robert Arthur Whitwood.

As stated by the editors of the publication, the purpose of Who's Who is to serve: as an incentive for students to get the most out of their college career; as a means of compensation to students for what they have already done; as a standard of measurement for students comparable to such agencies as Phi Beta Kappa and the Rhodes Scholarship Award; as a recommendation to the business world.

NATIONAL DEFENSE TRAINS 400 MEN

Nearly one-third of the men who have taken or are at the present taking courses in the National Defense program at the Ag School are now employed.

Of the total 400 men, part of whom are still in training here, 142 have been placed in various branches of defense work, according to a report released today by Prof. W. B. Harrison, Supervisor of Defense Training.

Forty-two of the men employed were full time students while the remainder took only night classes. The Alfred and Wellsville programs have each placed 59 men in industrial work while the Dansville program has placed 34 men.

Work studied by these men include classes in Machine Shop, Welding, Radio, Drafting, Blue Print Reading and Shop Math.

There are at the present time still 200 men who are taking training. Some of these will finish this month while others will stay in training until June. Those who finish this month will be succeeded by a new class.

Some of the men are now employed in plants such as Curtiss-Wright, Bell Aircraft, and Ford Motors Company in Buffalo.

Bottle Testing Topic of Ceramic Meet

"Man and his bottle are inseparable. During babyhood, it's the milk bottle. On reaching callow youth, he turns to the whisky bottle which inevitably leads to the medicine bottle for the rest of his life," said Dr. L. E. Ghering at the meeting of the student branch of the American Ceramic Society, recently, when he spoke of the physical testing of bottles.

Dr. L. E. Ghering is a research chemist of the Preston Laboratories, Butler, Pa. At present, he is working on a fellowship for the American Glass Container Association.

Dr. Ghering gave comparative strengths and tests for various types of bottles such as Coca Cola, Pepsi Cola, one-trip milk, and one-trip beer bottles. He made known that such defects as only a tiny scratch on the inside surface of a bottle may decrease the bottle's strength to 10% of its normal strength. He also stressed the point that several tests were needed to determine the true strength of a bottle.

Roman Food, Songs, Quizz Feature Dinner

Make Recordings

In conjunction with the musical programs sponsored by the National Youth Administration, the Glee Clubs of the New York State Agricultural and Technical Institute made a series of recordings Thursday night.

The recordings, sponsored by the National Office at Albany, under the direction of NYA Administrator, Aubrey Williams, are to be sent to South America. Gordon Taylor and William Savesta of Lima made the recordings.

Also promoted by the National Youth Administration are a number of symphony orchestras, made up of youth on the program. These symphony orchestras are to broadcast a series of Sunday concerts dedicated to the contributions of foreign-born citizens to American democracy. This series of nation-wide broadcasts—"NYA, Music for Americans"—is sponsored by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, and James C. Petrillo, President of the American Federation of Musicians.

This symphonic series is part of the NYA's broader music program which has as its major objective to fit young people for jobs by giving them practical experience and otherwise assisting them in obtaining private employment. These broadcasts are being presented as a public service by the National Broadcasting Company and the National Youth Administration.

Salvation Army Band Plays for Ag Assembly

The Eastern Territorial Officers and Soldiers Band of the Salvation Army was the highlight of the Ag Assembly last Friday.

The band, composed of soldiers and officers of this organization, represents 50,000 Salvation Army junior and senior bandmen throughout the world.

During their tour of the U.S. the band is making 16 appearances in New York state, of which the Ag School is one.

Since its organization 50 years ago, this well-known band has played for all presidents of the United States beginning with Theodore Roosevelt. George Bernard Shaw called it one of the finest bands of its type that he had ever heard.

In addition to the concert program, members of the band made up the Staff Male Chorus that sang for the assemblage.
