Greeting.

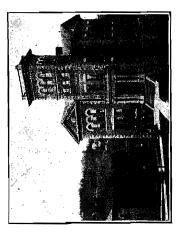

In the name of the Christian Associations of Alfred University we extend to you a hearty greeting and present to you this book that you may become acquainted with the various features of college and its work, especially its religious activities.

We welcome you to the privileges and activities of the University, and trust that in all your giving and getting there may be fostered an increasing purpose for a wholesome, vigorous, Christian life.

We welcome you to the Christian Associatious. They furnish the very best of college life. Come to their meetings. They need your help and you cannot afford to be without theirs.

Hoping that you will at once identify yourself with the Associations and their work, we again extend to you a hearty greeting.

H. EUGENE DAVIS,
Pres. of Y. M. C. A.
RUTH H. MASON,
Pres. of Y. W. C. A.

Annual Reception.

The Annual Reception to the new students will be given on the first Thursday night of the school year. You are cordially invited to this reception. This is a very pleasing event and you cannot afford to miss it. The reception is strictly informal and gives an easy opportunity to meet all students, both old and new.

The privileges offered in the community for social intercourse are many. Not only the college but the townspeople as well show a keen interest in the welfare of students. Alfred residents will make you feel at home.

The Y. M. C. A. of the University is a branch of the great central organization of Y. M. C. A., which is reaching out with its influence to all parts of the world

OBJECT.

The object of this Association is to aid in the spiritual growth of its members and train students for active Christian service. We desire for greater sympathy among the students, so that we may each do our part in living for Christ and working in our every-day lives for the advancement of His cause.

MEMBERSHIP

The Association makes no denominational distinctions or requirements. All Christians are welcomed, and a simple acknowledgment of allegiance to Christ is deemed sufficient for admission to active membership.

Any one of good moral character ' may join as an associate member.

Christians are invited and urged to identify themselves with the Association and its work. Help the Association and the Association will help you.

New students are earnestly urged to take up active work in the Association early in their course.

CONFERENCES AND CONVENTIONS.

The Association has gradually been growing, as is evident by the delegations which are sent each year to the conferences and conventions. Delegates are sent to the Northfield Summer School, State Convention, Presidents' Conference, and various other conferences.

These have been great helps, not only to the individuals who attend, but give a new life to the Association.

The State Secretary of the Intercollegiate Y. M. C. A. visits the Association several times each year and gives interesting and helpful talks.

The Association desires to extend sincere thanks to all who have in any way helped the Association to make its work effective and to make its power felt in the lives of men.

MEETINGS.

Meetings are held Sunday evenings in Memorial Hall. All young men are invited to attend.

Extracts from the Constitution.

ARTICLE III. - MEMBERSHIP.

SECTION 1.—The active membership of the Association shall consist of men, either students or members of the Faculty of this institution, who are members in good standing of an evangelical church, and have been elected by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any meeting. Active members only shall have the right to vote and hold office.

SECTION II.—The membership fee shall be twenty-five cents per semester, payable at such time or times as the Association may determine.

Inter-Collegiate Y. M. C. A.

FOUNDED JUNE, 1877.

The general supervision of the Association work among the colleges of North America is in the hands of the College Committee of the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations. The most far-reaching result of this movement is that it has made possible the formation of the College Young Woman's Christian Association, the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, and other organizations world-wide in their influence.

The inter-collegiate movement employs traveling secretaries and one office secretary, through whom intercollegiate relations are maintained. The traveling secretaries visit the colleges, assist in strengthening existing Associations, organize new Associations, conserve results, concentrate energy, and broaden the field of influence of the Christian men in the various institutions. The Secretaries also plan and conduct the World's Student Conferences held yearly in Northfield, Mass., Lake Geneva, Wis., and Knoxville, Tenn.; and in many other ways train leaders for the college work.

The Alfred University Association is actively connected with the Inter-collegiate movement. Delegates represent the local Association at the Northfield Presidents' and district conventions, This connection with the movement is of inestimable value to the work of our home Association in deepening and broadening the religious lives of the Christian students as well as in winning souls for the Master.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. in the University was organized nearly ten years ago, and has steadily grown in numbers and influence since, although it may not be as prosperous as is possible.

OBJECT.

The aim of the organization is the development into symmetrical Christian womanhood. It aims to be the inspiration of all young women toward the highest spiritual and social ends, by associating them together in a work of mutual helpfulness. This work consists in devotional, evangelistic, temperance, and missionary meetings; in Bible study classes; in receptions and socials.

MEMBERSHIP.

Every young woman as she enters college should identify herself with her fellow students in definite Christian work. The membership has no denominational limitations. All church members and professed Christians are welcome as active members, and any young woman may join as an associate member.

CONFERENCES AND CONVENTIONS.

The Association has been represented for four years in the summer conferences of the student Y. W. C. A., and at various State conventions. Much help is gained by the visits of State secretaries.

MEETINGS.

Prayer meetings are held on Sunday evenings at seven o'clock in the Gothic. All girls are cordially invited to attend these meetings, and it is desired that here shall be a "home spot" for all. An invitation is extended to new student girls to identify themselves with us, and it is earnestly hoped that, with the united co-operation of all, the Association may become a greater power in the College.

Inter-collegiate Y. W. C. H.

The Y. W. C. A. is under the Intercollegiate Y. W. C. A., at whose head is the General Corresponding Secretary, with the central office at Chicago. The Association is helped by the Traveling Secretaries and the Conferences of the general organization.

Bible Study.

No person can be said to have a liberal education if he has omitted from his college course a comprehensive and practical knowledge of the English Bible. As a student you should become familiar with that book, which has done more than any other book to establish our Christian civilization. As a Christian man, you need some thorough, systematic course of study.

V .

Give the Bible the same thoughtful consideration you give your college studies. It is worth your while and wil yield you larger returns for the same amount of work than any other one college study.

The Bible study department of the Young Men's Christian Association has enjoyed a growth during the past year, and this year will enter upon a system of grading Four courses are offered this year.

- 1. Progressive Bible Studies. (Goodman.)
- 2. Studies in the Life of Christ. (Sharman), based on Stevens and Burton's Harmony of the Gospels.
- 3. Studies in the Acts and Epistles. (Bosworth).
- 4. The teachings of Jesus. (Stevens). Course one will be for Academy students. Courses two and three will be open to Freshmen and Sophomores. Course four will be for Juniors and Seniors, or those who have completed courses two and three, and will be taught by Dr. A. E. Main.

Further details will be given at the Bible study rally, to be held the second Sunday evening of the first quarter.

Centennial Fund.

This is a movement to increase the value of the endowment and property to one million dollars by the centennial year of the University, 1936. All friends, and all those interested in the good of the University and higher education, are subscribing to this fund as soon as the matter is brought to their notice. One dollar makes you an Annual Member. For full information see Treas. Crandall. In this work the records are being revised to show regarding every ex-student of the University, date of entrance, address at that time, and if living, address and occupation at the present time. Any information of this kind will be used and appreciated greatly if given to Ernest Brown, the Centennial Register.

Grounds and Buildings. Campus.

The University Campus is picturesque and attractive. It covers about sixteen acres of ground, ornamented with a large variety of trees and shrubs forming an Arboretum of rare beauty and value. It is fully furnished with cement and gravel walks. Its lawns, walks, and drives are finely kept up by a special endowment.

Athletic Field.

A short distance below town is situated the Athletic Field. This was recently purchased and graded by the citizens of Alfred. It has a baseball and a football field, and a place for track athletics. The tennis courts are on the old athletic field on the campus proper.

Academy.

The Academy was the first of the University buildings to be built. It is a substantial frame structure, and contains the large hall in which Chapel exercises of the Academy are held each morning; the Academy office, the recitation rooms of the Academy, and the assembly rooms of the Alleghanian and Orophilian Lyceums.

Memorial Ball.

The Kenyon Memorial Hall, named in honor of President William C. Kenyon, is the executive building of the College. It contains the College Assembly Room, the Library, the offices of the President and Registrar, and the lecture rooms of the departments of Philosophy, History, Greek, Latin, English and modern languages.

Che Steinheim.

The Allen Steinheim Museum, a memorial of President Allen, built by himself and given to the University by himself and his widow, Mrs. A. A. Allen, is a picturesque building of stone. It is the Natural History building of the University. In the outer walls there are over seven thousand varieties of rock found in the drift near Alfred. The interior is finished in natural, woods, every available variety being represented. This building contains the collections in Archæology, Palæontology, Mineralology, and Conchology, made by the late President Allen, in all about thirty thousand specimens, all of which are accessible to students. It also contains the laboratory, department library, lecture room, and the cabinet of the Department of Natural History and Biology.

Babcock Hall,

named in memory of the late George H. Babcock, contains the well equipped chemical and physical laboratories, which are supplemented by a large lecture room and a department library. The Department of Industrial Mechanics also has rooms in this building, viz: A department library, a draughting room, a machine shop, and a woodworking shop. Fifty horse power Babcock & Wilcox boilers furnish power and steam heat for the building.

Rogers Observatory

consists of a circular room surmounted by a revolving dome nineteen feet in diameter, and contains an equatorial refracting telescope with an object glass of nine inch clear aperture and nine and a half feet focus.

"The Brick."

Ladies' Hall is a dormitory for young women, with the University boarding department in the basement. It also contains rooms for the faculty and the Assembly rooms of the Athenæan and Alfriedian Lyceums.

Burdick Kall.

named after the late Mr. William C. Burdick of Alfred, is a dormitory for young men. The students in this hall board in a club conducted in the building.

The Cothic,

which receives its name from the style of architecture employed in its construction, is the Theological Seminary Building. It contains the office of the Dean, lecture rooms, and a library.

The State School.

Adjacent to the college campus is the New York State School of Clay Working and Ceramics. This school gives instruction in all branches of the technology and practice of clay ware production. The building contains offices, lecture rooms, laboratory, art studio, modeling room, rooms with heavy clay working machinery, and near the main building is the kiln house, with high and low temperature kilns. This school is built and maintained by New York State, and tuition is free to all students of the state. A Summer School is conducted.

Equipment. The Library

contains over 14,000 volumes and 7,000 pamphlets. Additions are made to it yearly. It is chiefly made up of works bearing on the courses of instruction, together with the encyclopedias, dictionaries, and general works of reference. The books are classified by subjects according to the Dewey Decimal System, and a card catalogue is provided. It is open every college we'k day from QA, M, to 12 M, and from 1 P. M. to 5 P. M. Students are allowed free access to the shelves, and are encouraged to make diligent use of the books. Tables and chairs are arranged for their convenience, and the Associate Librarian is always present to assist them in an intelligent use of the books and to give council and aid in any line of reading and research. As a reference library, it is free to all; but any of the books, excepting encyclopedias, dictionaries, and general works of reference, may be drawn for home use, under prescribed regulations by the Faculty, the Board of Trustees, and the active members of the several Lyceums; one thousand volumes have been set apart, however, as a free circulating library. The library is under the supervision of a Board of Directors consisting of the President, Librarian, and one representative each from the Board of Trustees, the Faculty, the Alumni Association, and the several Lyceums, well supplied with newspapers and periodicals is maintained in connection with the library. All students have access to the reading room and are charged a fee of fifteen cents per quarter for its maintenance.

H Reading Room

The Physical Laboratories

in Babcock Hall of Physics contain a great variety of apparatus for illustrating and establishing physical laws. In connection with these laboratories there are the machine shop and carpenter shop, in each of which practical instruction is given in constructing apparatus to be used in the department.

The Chemical Caboratories are located in the west wing of Babcock Hall. They are well ventilated and lighted, and provided with tables for the use of students in performing the practical work of the department.

The tables are supplied with individual sinks, water faucets, natural gas,
Bunsen burners, the ordinary re-agents, and the appliances required for the courses offered. The laboratory is equipped with the apparatus necessary for Blowpipe Analysis, Quantative
Analysis, Qualative Analysis, Organic
Chemistry, and Clay Analysis.

Che Biological Laboratory

is equipped with microscopes, microscopic materials, dissecting instruments, an aquarium supplied with running water and other facilities.

Che Natural History Museum

is well supplied with specimens illustrating the various departments. The collection of shells, skeletons, insects, birds, flowering plants, fossils and minerals is especially complete and valuable.

Gymnasiums

The Gymnasium for men is an attractive and well furnished room in the basement of Babcock Hall. Its equipment includes apparatus for both light and heavy work, dressing rooms and lockers, bath, etc. Ladies Hall has a commodious gymnasium for ladies. Its equipment is the usual apparatus for light work—clubs, dumb bells, etc.

The Alfred Ceramic Society.

This is an organization formed by the students of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics.

The membership is drawn from those registered in the ceramic courses, and meetings are held monthly for the discussion of questions bearing upon the art and science of clay-working. The study of the history of pottery also forms part of the object of the society. Officers are elected half-yearly.

S. B. EVERTS, '04, Director.

The Bi-monthly Publications

of the University are published during the college year. These consist of Bulletins, Announcements, Reports, etc. Published and mailed free.

Musical Interests.

A most excellent opportunity is provided for the study of all branches of music. The best of instruction can be had in both instrumental and vocal. A chorus class, also, is conducted. The musical department holds recitals quarterly.

Athletics.

All the Athletic interests of the University are in charge of the Athletic Association. This is governed by the Executive Committee, consisting of the officers of the Association, Ex-Officio, and six other members chosen from the Faculty, Trustees, Alumni and undergraduates. The annual dues for active membership are 50c.

An excellent new athletic field has been recently provided on which all games and meets take place.

It is becoming recognized the world over that athletics go a long way toward keeping up the standard of a college. To have good clean athletics it is positively necessary to have a strong association back of the enterprise. To have a strong Association, each member of the University must give his support, not only with financial aid, but with personal work.

Alfred athletics have never been on a firm financial basis, but by the untiring efforts of a few the Association has been kept afloat, and good progress has been made. Measures were put on foot last year to pay off the entire liabilities of the Association. Good success was had, and it is hoped that with a little farther help the Association will soon be out of debt, and then, with expected support, athletics in Alfred will be self-supporting.

Let every member of the University attend all the games played here, and let everyone who takes any active part in any branch of athletics, join the Association, and the financial embarassment of the Association will be at an end, and athletics will be self-supporting.

Football.

The football season begins the week after school opens. The call for candidates is issued and a systematic practice begins under the direction of an experienced coach who has entire charge of the men.

An improvement has been made during the past few years which is gratifying to the officers in charge, as well as to the entire student body, and it is the further desire of the present officers to have the improvement continue, and an endeavor will be made to realize this wish. A good schedule will be arranged and a renewed spirit in the game is hoped for. Several of the old men are to return, and the prospect for a winning team is bright.

We want to awaken within the team a feeling that spirit and confidence in self and team is the factor which helps more to win than any other one thing. To excite this feeling it is quite necessary for every man to play in practice as if the success of the team depended upon the dash with which every play is executed. Let every man remember these words and play for a record season.

Season tickets for year, four firstclass games, $1.00; or 35c per game.

Buy a season ticket of the manager or of the treasurer of the Athletic Association.

The officers are:

H. E. DAVIS, Manager. D. C. BABCOCK, Captain.

Baseball.

Baseball candidates are expected to take light preliminary work in the gymnasium, beginning with the second semester. Active training and competition for places on the nine begins at the opening of the spring quarter. The positions are awarded to the best men, whether they have played on the 'Varsity team before or not. All students are eligible to compete for places on the nine.

Cennis.

Lawn tennis at Alfred is coming to be recognized as the leading recreation for those having only occasional leisure moments. Expense cannot possibly deter one from joining the Tennis Association. The fees are very small, being fifty cents for admission, and a tax of twenty-five cents per semester. The Tennis Association possesses two courts, and steps are being taken for the putting in of a third. The courts are open to members of the Association at any and all times.

The officers are:

G. A. FARWELL, President,

G. F. BAKKER, Sec. and Treas.,

T. G. DAVIS, Marshall.

Crack Athletics.

The past two years has seen a revival of interest in track athletics at Alfred. The past season no regular University team was organized, but considerable interest centered around the dual meet between the College and the Academy, which was held during Commencement week. The future promises a more general participation in this branch of athletics on the part of Alfred students.

Basket Ball.

This is a comparatively new branch of athletics here, but the game is growing in favor with the young ladies. Good outdoor facilities are provided for the game, and all young ladies should enjoy the privileges in this line.

Debating.

Debating in Alfred forms a strong branch of University activities. A most invaluable opportunity is given to gain knowledge and practice through debates and literary programs. Everyone has a chance to engage in active, useful work with credit to himself and honor to the University.

The general organization for the conducting of intercollegiate debates is the Lyceum League.

The four Lyceums conduct debates both independent and inter-lyceum. Also the Academy Debating Club has a series of debates.

During the ensuing year it is expected that there will be an inter-lyceum debate between the men's lyceums; each men's lyceum will conduct a debate with some outside club; the Academy will debate with some outside High School or Academy; the Lyceum League will hold a debate with the Cornell Debating Club.

RULES FOR INTER-LYCEUM DEBATES

SEC. I. Any organization of the University may challenge another. The challenging party shall have the right to propose the question, provided the question has the approval of the Debate Committee. The challenged party shall have the choice of sides. The challenge shall be presented in writing, and signed by the secretary of the challenging organization. The reply shall be in writing, and signed by the secretary of the challenged organization.

SEC. II. The date of the debate, and the number of participants, shall be determined by mutual consent.

SEC. III. Participants for debate shall be undergraduate students of the University. A student shall be considered in the college if a majority of his hours are in college, or a student in the Academy if a majority of his hours are in the Academy.

SEC. IV. Each participant in debate shall be allowed ten minutes for his first speech and five minutes for rebuttal, unless otherwise provided by mutual consent. The speeches of the affirmative and negative shall be made alternately, beginning with the affirmative. The speeches in rebuttal shall be given alternately, beginning with the negative.

SEC. V. There shall be three judges, no one of whom shall be a member of either organization. Each organization shall choose one judge, and the third shall be chosen by the Debate Committee.

SEC. VI. The points on which discussions shall be rendered in debate shall be argument and delivery. Argument and delivery shall count equally.

SEC. VII. All disputes arising over points not covered by the above rules shall be referred to the Debate Committee for arbitration.

College Songs.

Alfred

By the old Steinheim a-dreaming,
When the sun is in the west,
When the bird notes are the sweetest,
And the village is at rest;
When the wind is in the pine trees,
And the Chapel bell is still,
There is rest for mind and spirit
At this haunt upon the hill.

CHORUS

You may go where'er you please From the north to southern seas, And you'll find no music sweeter Than the wind in old pine trees; How each restless thought it stills, How the heart with rapture thrills, When the green comes back in springtime

To the dear old Alfred hills.

Tell us not of larger colleges
With greater wealth endowed,
For, despite their great attractions,
Of A. U. we still are proud;
Scarce we understand the reason,
But the very soil seems dear,
And we always breathe the freer
In this pure, clear atmosphere.

Chorus.

Now the violet is blooming
And I dream the oriole calls,
And my heart is faint and restless,
Far from classic paths and halls;
When the heart is only longing
Little sympathy it finds,
And I sigh for dear old Alfred
And the wind among the pines.

CHORUS.

EDNA BLISS, '90. (Music in Alfred Songs) hail to Chee, Alfred.

Nestled away 'mid the Empire State hills,

'Neath the watch-care of sentinel pines;

Where the murmuring song of the brook hums along,

And a favoring sun ever shines;

In a valley so fair where the forest trees share

Dominion o'er hillside and glen; Stands the pioneer college of Western New York, Alfred, the mother of men.

Crionria

CHORUS:

Hail to thee, Alfred, thou guide of our youth,

Sweet, benign mother, all hail! Sing on thy anthems of duty and truth; May thy clear ringing music ne'er fail.

She was founded in toil, cemented with blood,
And nurtured thro' yearnings and tears, Her treasure the hearts of brave heroes who stood

Undaunted thoughout trying years. Each stone was a prayer and her battlements there

Have mem'ries of purposes strong. Staunch daughters and sons are her monument fair,

And they lift up the grateful song.
CHORUS.

Others may boast of prestige and size, Of numbers and treasure and fame; But Alfred's pride lies in manhood's clear eyes.

And womanhood's high, stainless

Old Alfred, we say; Alfred now and for ave—

Kenyon and Allen and Main, And the gallant young leader we honor to-day,

Her honor and power maintain.

Chorus.

L. C. RANDOLPH.
(Music in Alfred Songs)

Lecture Course.

It is a pleasure to announce that a course of lectures and entertainments has been arranged which will maintain the high standard of last year. The generous support given last year has made it possible to put out the course this year. This series of entertainments is one of the most pleasing and profitable features of Alfred life. Determine to patronize them.

The course for 1902-1903 includes: Brooke and his famous Chicago Marine Band Orchestra; Captain H. E. W. Campbell, soldier, traveller, lecturer, in a popular illustrated lecture; The Wesleyan Male Quartet in a high-grade concert; Senator J. P. Dolliver of Iowa in a lecture on some live question; May Parker's Little Pickannies and Concert Co. in a novelty variety concert.
