

New York Pro Musica Program Will End Season's Forum Presentations

by Howard Miller

On Sunday, April 26, at 8:15 p.m. in Alumni Hall, the Alfred University Forum will present its final program of the season, the New York Pro Musica Antiqua.

Founded in 1952 by its present musical director, Noah Greenberg, the New York Pro Musica is a unique ensemble which has entertained audiences throughout the country by bringing back to life the masterpieces of past days. With a wide repertoire the Pro Musica features music performed during the Baroque period in the courts of Spain, France, and Germany; madrigals of the Italian Renaissance; and both elegant and earthy from Elizabethan England.

The eleven members of the Pro Musica include two sopranos, a counter-tenor, two tenors, a bass, and four instrumentalists who have mastered such rare instruments as a family of violas, a series of recorders, and a harpsicord.

The Pro Musica has been greatly acclaimed during the past season performances at New York's Town Hall, Metropolitan Museum of Art, and the Frick Collection Series. At the Cloisters, the group attracted nation-wide attention for its production before 10,000 people of "The Play of Daniel," performed last in 1250.

The ensemble has also been featured at major music festivals at Tanglewood, Ravinia, and Stratford as well as the Stratford-Ontario Shakespeare Festival. The Pro Musica has appeared before television audiences on "Omni-bus" and "Camera Three," and record fans may enjoy their many recordings for Columbia, Period, and Decca-Gild Label.

States the Christian Science Monitor, "A New York Pro Musica concert is an exciting excursion into the pages of history, spelling enchantment and a musical thrill."

AAUP Will Analyze The Conant Report

The Alfred Branch of the AAUP will sponsor a panel discussion of Dr. James Conant's book "The American High School Today" on Tuesday April 28 at 8:30 p.m. in Howell Hall.

The panel will consist of Dr. Joseph Seidlin, dean of the graduate school; Peter Finlay, assistant professor of biology; Dr. Edward Sittler, professor of German; and Dr. William Pulos, associate professor of psychology. Dr. Joseph Norton, associate professor of education, will serve as moderator.

"The American High School Today" is a report of a study of American schools which Conant began in 1957 under the auspices of the Carnegie Corporation. For the study he visited a large number of schools and attempted to determine the sort of programs that can best meet the educational needs of our democratic society.

Included in the report are some criticisms of the American educational program and proposals for changes and developments which he feels would be beneficial. Primarily, the aim of the book is to gain public attention and support to the needs of our schools.

Members of the panel will discuss the Conant report from different points of view. These view points will include the reaction of a scientist, an educator, a psychologist, and a teacher of language. Each will present reactions and criticisms of the report from his points of view.

Spanish Festivities Come to Conclusion

Spanish Week came to a close Friday evening with the showing of the film "The Miracle of Marcelino" after a full week's program of speeches, slides, student discussions and a fiesta.

A synopsis of the plans scheduled for the week was broadcast Saturday, April 11, on the Campus Caravan as the official beginning of the activities.

April 12, Spanish-American students at Alfred discussed "Spanish America As We See It" on station WLEA, Hornell. In the afternoon Dr. Ray Wingate gave a carillon concert of Spanish and Spanish-American music.

"Venezuela — A Story of Progress" was the topic of an illustrated talk by Mr. Kenneth Smith of Creole Petroleum Corporation, given the evening of April 12 in conjunction with the week's activities. Smith pointed out that the country was progressing rapidly, particularly in industry. The major industries in Venezuela, he said, are American owned. However, the profits from these companies are practically reinvested in the country, itself. Following the talk there was a question and answer period during which American diplomacy was discussed.

The following evening Dr. Theodore Klitzke, professor of art in the department of ceramic design, spoke on the history of Mexico. He accompanied his speech with slides.

The evening of Pan American Day, April 14, Dr. Willis Russell,

Political Conference to Probe Campus Activity

A campus conference of politics is being sponsored by the Up-State New York affiliate of the Clearing House at Genesee on May 1-2.

Clearing House is a non-partisan group organized to promote and help finance political activities on college campuses. The purpose of this conference is to acquaint students with the workings of the Clearing House and to give information on politics, primarily of the present state and national administrations.

Dr. Frank Munger, of Syracuse University, and other members of the Up-State branch of the Clearing House will tell how the group operates on the various college campuses. Representatives from state committees and Senator Erwin, chairman of the Finance Committee of the State Senate will talk of "Political Participation on the Part of College Students."

Saturday there will be a brief discussion on "The Role of Teachers in Politics." Following this, Andrew Hacker, of Cornell, and Stuart Gerry Brown, of Syracuse, will talk on the Eisenhower administration.

The conference will close with a discussion of the Rockefeller administration by Pat Moynihan, former assistant secretary of Governor Harriman, and John H. Terry, assistant appointment officer in the Rockefeller administration. Dr. Frederick Engelmann will be moderator for this discussion.

All students interested in attending the conference should contact Dr. Engelmann.

"Oedipus at Colonus" Is Next Footlight Club Dramatization

by Gary Spitulnik

"Oedipus at Colonus" by Sophocles will be presented as the Footlight Club's annual arena style performance to be given as part of the AU Fine Arts Festival. The play which will be presented May 15 and 16 at the Men's gym is under the direction of C. Duryea Smith III. Professor Ronald Brown is technical director.

"Oedipus at Colonus" is believed to have been written in 406 B.C. by Sophocles when he was eighty-nine years old. This play is the last of more than one hundred plays which he wrote.

Senior Meeting

There will be a short meeting of the senior class this Thursday evening at 7:15 p.m., in Room 14, Physics Hall. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss and vote on the senior gift which will be presented to the University. All seniors are urged to attend.

The tragic story of King Oedipus is one of the great dramas that Western culture has inherited from ancient Greece. Towering above the gallery of characters created by Sophocles are two who stand as universal symbols of human nature in its frailty and strength—King Oedipus and his daughter, Antigone.

Oedipus, king of Thebes, will be played by Glen Van Ingen. Oedipus unknowingly killed his father and married his mother. He atones for those crimes by inflicting himself with wounds which cause his blindness.

Antigone, portrayed by Joanne Wendover, places right and dignity above life as she helps her troubled father through life.

"Oedipus at Colonus" shows the blind and feeble king led from land to land by Antigone. Polyneices (Sam Chororos) has gathered an army to fight against his younger brother and gain the kingdom of Thebes. The oracles, however, have declared that Thebes will prove fortunate only if the exiled Oedipus dies there. If his body is buried in Attica, the city of Athens will flourish instead of Thebes.

The action of the play centers around Creon (Jerry Reicher) endeavoring to trick Oedipus into returning to Thebes while King The- seus (Dickson Shaw) offers him protection.

Others in the cast include Cy Berlowitz as the countryman, Grace Brookheim as Ismene, and Robert Meltzer as the messenger. The chorus will consist of Larry Berkowitz, Stuart Serxner, and Howard Siegal.

The play will be presented in a manner as near to Greek style as possible. Costumes are being designed by Jerry Reicher and Sue Schenker, chairman of the costume department, will be in charge of having them made.

For twenty-two years McMahon has worked as a labor organizer with the Rochester Joint Board of Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

McMahon will speak on the Taft-Hartley law, the right-work laws, and why there are differences between Unions.

All who are interested are invited to attend.

Getting Married . . .

The series of talks dealing with the problems of mixed marriages, to be held every Thursday evening through May 14, Rooms 357-358 in the Ag-Tech Industrial Building, will start at 8 instead of 7 p.m.

The Reverend Robert Bone, Episcopal Chaplain, will speak on sex and birth control from the Roman Catholic, Protestant, and Episcopal points of view this Thursday evening.

Wilkins Will Be Speaker At Silver Lake Retreat

The retreat, to be held at Silver Lake, will begin this Friday after classes and end Sunday afternoon. A period of religious self-inspection, education, worship, and discussion will be offered to those attending. In addition, there will be recreation in the form of square dancing, singing, and hiking through Letchworth Park.

treat is about $2.50. All students are cordially invited to attend, and those interested should contact Chaplain Bredenberg.

by Marilyn Chapel

Dr. Van Derck Frechette, of the College of Ceramics, will travel to East Germany next month as guest lecturer for a mining and metallurgy conference.

Frechette has received an invitation to lecture at the Mining and Metallurgy Conference held at Bergakademie in Freiberg. His lecture is on the refraction of glass and has been co-authored by Dr. C. L. Greene.

"I expect to find this trip very interesting and instructive," said Frechette when questioned about his visit to East Germany.

Frechette will spend ten days, from May 15-27 in East Germany.

He intends to visit ceramic porcelain plants and labs in that zone "to observe the type of relationships existing between university laboratories and industrial plants under Soviet control."

After he leaves the East Zone on May 27, Frechette plans to visit the industrial centers in West Germany, Austria, Italy and France. He will visit several friends in Italy to discuss microscopy, a subject of particular interest to him.

This will be Frechette's fourth trip to Europe. On his last trip in 1955, he spent a year teaching at the Gottingen University in West Germany.

chairman of the history and political science department, spoke on "The United States and Pan Americanism." America can dominate political affairs in South America through commerce and aid, maintains Russell. The problem is how much power to exercise "because it is even difficult for us to determine which government we approve . . ."

He then discussed the regimes of Batista and Castro. "Pan Americanism," he said, "can be a strong force in developing political harmony between the United States and the Central and South American countries."

A Spanish fiesta was held April 15 at 7 p.m. in Howell Hall. On the entertainment program were Carol Sue Goldberg, singer, and Jim Ellis, accordionist. Pilar Calef and Bob Klein did a Cha Cha for the group; Sara Tufano and Max Sluchak danced "La Petit Fleur." "Fiesta," a movie of Puerto Rico, was shown to the party goers.

Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison B. Hook of Corning, N. Y. a movie entitled "Glimpses of Spain" was shown April 16. Hook took the pictures in Spain himself, clearly depicting the typical and various changes found in the many provinces of the country.

The program concluded with a film shown at the Campus Theater Friday night through the courtesy of Professor and Mrs. William Varrick Nevins.

"Sodom" Talk Ends Annual Malino Visit

by Kathy O'Donnell

The evils of Sodom were transposed to our own society as assembly-goers heard an address by Rabbi Jerome Malino here last Thursday.

Returning for his fourteenth "engagement" Malino chose as his topic this year, "The Manner of Sodom." He described the Bible as an "economical document . . . which extracts the moral meaning from chronological history." As he pointed out, at the time when the story of the twin cities of Sodom and Gomora and their destruction was written in the scriptures for men of all ages, the actual event was but a hazy recollection.

Men living under the dictatorship of the royal Roman empire tried to decide how wicked the cities must have been to bring on God's wrath. They chose those faults from the Roman empire which they considered to be most evil and projected them on the two fated cities.

Thus, we see attributed to Sodom the sins of sexual perversion, ill-treatment of their brethren, cruel punishments and one-sided justice. These are in fact the faults that the people living under the domination of Rome most often complained of.

Since we in modern society seem to have a sense of charity, a judicial system of which we may be reasonably proud, and have not otherwise committed those misdeeds which are attributed to the men of Sodom it is difficult for us to transpose the meaning of these scriptures to our times.

Malino pointed out the transition point: " . . . there are certain characteristics among men . . . and there is the man who says, 'what's yours is yours and what's mine is mine.' " This middle of the road attitude is what Malino maintains is the true "Manner of Sodom."

This attitude depicts not the Golden Mean but rather a " . . . suspended judgment with a live option. The middle of the road is tolerant of immorality." We should remember this in not only our own affairs, but Malino suggests that it should be applied to the so-called diplomacy which is used among our representatives abroad.

He ended with this prediction: "If man does destroy himself, it will be because he acted in this Manner of Sodom."

by Gail Kopper

A gay ol' time was had on this campus last weekend. The Alfred party goer chose from a number of varied social functions. Many attended sorority spring formals, while others went to a Bermuda party, roaring twenties celebration, picnics, and parties to initiate newly renovated basements.

Pinnings to report include: Sue Kroll '62 to Bert Rein '60, Carol Yeager '62 to Bud Sales of Colgate, and Jackie Zinke '61 to John Plusch '60.

Sorority activities: Omicron initiated eleven new Honoraries on Wednesday night. Anna Georganta '58 was back for the weekend.

Pi Alpha held their annual spring formal for members and pledges. A buffet dinner at the Hotel Fassett was followed by a pledge skit done in pantomime and a dance. Ellen Lipsey '58 was back.

Sigma Chi's spring weekend consisted of a dinner and dance at the Hornell Country Club on Friday night. On Saturday, a picnic was held at Stoneybrook. Sophomore nurses were back for the festivities.

Fraternity events: Delta Sig pledges have been occupied with Help Week. A party on Saturday night was held in the House's newly renovated basement.

"Down with the old regime . . ." (of officers, that is) provided the ideas for a "speak easy party" at Kappa Nu on Saturday night. Besides the usual entertainment, some of the more talented brothers acted out a skit while others added harmony with a barbershop quartet.

On Saturday night, Kappa Psi brothers and their dates gathered for an informal Bermuda party.

Klan's annual stag weekend with Psi D ended with a dated casual party on Saturday night. Earlier in the day, their picnic at Stoneybrook was highlighted by a softball classic.

Lee is Joined by Wife and Daughter; Family Is Separated for Ten Years

by Emmalyn Heed

Mrs. Sui Kan Lee, wife of Paul C.Y. Lee, professor of mathematics at AU, and their daughter Grace arrived at Buffalo Airport on March 24, after a ten year separation.

The Lee family had not been together since 1949 when Lee left Hong Kong for the United States. Lee was unable to gain admission into this country for his family until he established himself as a permanent resident two years ago. The passage of the second refugee act by Congress in 1957 containing a section providing for reunion of families also helped make the Lees' admission possible.

Mrs. Lee had been teaching and living at a boarding school in Hong Kong while Grace lived with her uncle. The role of housewife would have represented quite a change for her even in China. But she says that compared to her 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. schedule in Hong Kong, keeping house will be much less work.

Mrs. Lee and Grace are adapting themselves to a new way of life in the United States. At mealtime, for example, both chopsticks and knives and forks are used simultaneously by the three members of the family as Mrs. Lee and Grace find it awkward to handle American tableware. Lee has lost neither the knack nor the desire to be "a real Chinese" occasionally.

Food poses another problem for the Lees, who are not used to extensive refrigeration. Coca-Cola is warmed on the stove, as Mrs. Lee and her daughter do not care for it cold. "In China cold things are dangerous to eat or drink," Lee explained. "People do not drink water right from the tap. It must be boiled first."

Grace, who is attending Alfred-Almond Central School, has been placed in the fifth grade because of her age. Principal Kenneth Cliequenois believes it will take a couple of months to determine what grade will be best for her. Each day she comes home from school practicing the new words she has learned. (Neither she nor Mrs. Lee speak English.)

Wednesday Grace was initiated into the Camp Fire group here in Alfred in a formal ceremony. She had been writing to the girls in the group while in China.

Lee received his B.S. in mathematics and surveying at National Central University in Nanking after which he took a position as teacher at the Chinese High School in Johannesburg, Africa in 1942. In 1946 he returned to China to serve as associate professor at Sun Yat-sen University at Canton.

When the Chinese communists seized the city in 1949 and took over the University, Lee was in Hong Kong. He felt that as his contact was with the Nationalist Chinese government, he no longer had a job. He took advantage of the opportunity to come to the United States where he attended Central Bible Institute at Springfield, Mo.

Golfers Open Season Against Cortland

The 1959 golf season could possibly be one of the best in the past few years. With the addition of Bob Blackmor and Bob Cranston, the team should definitely be strengthened.

Number one man for Alfred is Gary Girmindl. He is followed by Mike Tobias, Robert Blackmor, Lyle Weideman, Robert Park and Bob Cranston.

Last year Girmindl had a 4-1 record, while Weideman posted a 4-2 mark. Tobias had a 5-1 record, and Park finished the year with a 3-3 mark. Last year, the team won 2 and lost 2, and tied 2.

The scoring is kept with one point each for match play per man. Also, there is one point given out for the best ball among the four men competing against each other. The four men are comprised of two men from Alfred and two from the opposing team.

In practice sessions Girmindl has been shooting a 71 or 72. At the same time Tobias has been scoring on the links with a 75 or 76. Blackmor has been shooting the same, while Wiedeman has been shooting in the high seventies. Park and Cranston have been shooting around 80.

The first match will be played this Thursday afternoon against Cortland State on the Wellsville course.

The addition of the four courts, which will be of a hard surface variety, will then make seven courts available to the student body instead of the present three.

Why did 14,436 sophomores enter advanced Army R.O.T.C. during 1958?

Many more applied. Not all were accepted. In more than 200 U. S. colleges, 14,436 college sophomores met the high standards set. These students were selected to continue officer training in the advanced R.O.T.C. course. Why did each of these young men decide that he would benefit by fulfilling his military obligation as an Army officer? Here are two important reasons. Perhaps they'll help you make your decision.

1...TRADITIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES

As an Army officer, you're in command of men. More men than the number supervised by many civilian executives years older than yourself. To meet your command responsibilities, you employ a great many of the LEADERSHIP principles acquired in advanced R.O.T.C. training. And your executive potential develops while you gather LEADERSHIP experience. The executive ability you gain as an Army officer will be an important advantage in any civilian career. That's why employment directors often prefer men who have served as commissioned officers. These men have already proven their capacity to handle executive responsibility.

2...TRADITIONAL REWARDS

In every organization, greater responsibilities mean greater rewards. The traditional prestige of an Army officer is matched by material advantages. A second lieutenant earns a minimum of $355.88 per month—plus substantial fringe benefits. Think you might want to marry soon after graduation? An officer's salary can make things a great deal easier for a married couple just starting out. What's more, an Army officer is entitled to take his dependents with him, wherever possible. Imagine sharing the fun of travel with your wife—in the United States or foreign countries like France, Germany or Japan.

Netmen Drop Opener To Cortland, 8 to 1

by Neal Gantcher

Last Saturday afternoon the Alfred netmen traveled to Cortland for their first match of the 1959 season. The Saxons got off to a poor start as they were defeated 8-1 by a strong Cortland squad.

Playing under poor weather conditions which included wind and rain, the Smithmen copped only one victory in matches. This came as a result of freshman Olie Clark's win over Cortland's freshman Larry Siegel. The score was 6-3, 6-2.

Senior Bob Good dropped his singles match by a close score to John Condon. After losing the first set 6-3, he came back to win the second one, 6-4. Condon finished strong as he took the third decisive set with a 6-4 score. Senior Reg Ehnserg lost the first set of his match with Hank Viex of Cortland by a 7-5 margin. Viex took the second set with less trouble with a 6-2 win. Junior Ed Horning lost his match to Cortland's John Nylis by the same scores.

Junior Art Bresnick's match with Harold Long went to three sets before Bresnick was defeated. It was a close match with results being 6-1, 3-6, 7-5. In the last singles match of the day Alfred frosh Joe Green was stopped by Charles Marshall 6-1, 6-2.

Cortland State swept all three doubles match but not without some trouble from the Saxons. The combination of Viex-Condon stopped Alfred's due of Ehnserg-Good 7-5, 6-1. In the second doubles match Horning and Clark lost to Siegel and Nylis 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. The final doubles play saw Bresnick and Green bow to Long and Dick Fern by a 6-4, 1-6, 7-5 score. This was one of the closest matches of the day.

Next week the squad meets the University of Rochester on April 25 here at Alfred.

New Tennis Court Rules

I. Play is permitted on the courts at all times except as follows:

1. During VARSITY PRACTICE or GAMES (Monday through Friday, 3-6 p.m.)
2. During INTRAMURAL TOURNAMENTS
3. During PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLASSES

II. When no one is using the courts at the scheduled hours others may play. However, if the groups scheduled arrive, it is expected that the courts will be released at once.

When others are waiting to play, the proper tennis etiquette is to release the court at the end of one set. Set not to exceed 45 minutes.

When a point is being played, wait until it has been decided before entering the courts, or calling for your balls. Do not cross the end of the court while a point is being played.

Proper rubber soled shoes and socks should be worn.

It is not necessary or desirable to lower the net when leaving the court, as these nets are on steel cables.

Help keep the courts clean by placing empty cans, boxes, etc., in the receptacle for them.

Trackmen to Compete in Penn Relays

On Friday, April 24, the Alfred University cindermen will travel to Philadelphia to compete in the Penn Relays which will be held Friday and Saturday at the University of Pennsylvania. Coach James A. McLane plans to take seven runners and two shot-putters to the meet.

The Saxon runners will compete in a Sprint Medley run, one mile relay and a possible second mile relay. In addition to the shot-put event Alfred will be represented in the hop, step and jump and the regular broad jump.

The sprint medley is a four man relay consisting of a 440, 220, 220, and 800 yard runs. The one mile relay, which will be the University of Pennsylvania class mile, consists of four 440 yard runs.

Larry Sweet will run the 440 leg of the sprint medley, while Don Ulmer will run the first 220 part of the race. This week Steve Kelly, Bob Clark, Tom Wonacott, Jim Rabinowitz, Dave O'Dell, Dick Kappus and Ken Mattuci will be running time trials to determine who will be the other 220 runner. Frank Finerty will be the anchor man, running the 880.

In the Class Mile Sweet and Ulmer will run the first 440's while Steve Kelly, Jim Rabinowitz, O'Dell, Kappus, and Mattuci will be competing for the third 440. Again Finerty will be anchor man, running the last 440.

Herman Lederberg and Gregg Powhida will put the shot while Kelly and Bob Clark will compete in the hop, step and jump and the broad jump.

Swimming

The Hornell Y will offer a course for the Red Cross Instructors Certificate. The sessions will be held May 4 to May 15, Monday through Friday. They will begin at 7 and are expected to last for three hours. Only those 18 years of age or older and holding a current Senior Life Saving Certificate are eligible.

Sports Day for Girls at U. of R.

There is going to be a Sports Day at the University of Rochester on the second of May. The events scheduled are tennis, softball and archery. Will girls who are interested in participating in this Sports Day please sign up in their dorms before April 20.

At the WAGB meeting the new Spring Schedule was decided upon. It will be released in the near future. The most important event of those planned is softball. Independent teams from the sorority houses and the dorms will be formed if there are enough girls who wish to participate. Practice will begin next week and as soon as the field is dry, which ought to be in about two weeks, the competition will begin. Any girls who are interested in competing can sign up in their residences. If there is a sufficient number of girls from each of the dorms, the Brick, the Castle, and Kruson, there will be a team from each of these dorms. Girls who are pledging for sororities can play on either their house or their residence team.

Interhouse badminton, a tennis tournament, and table tennis matches are also being planned.

Athletic Banquet

Last Saturday night three familiar faces around the Alfred campus journeyed to Smethport, Pennsylvania to be the guest speakers at an Athletic Banquet. John Nelson, Hornell Tribune Sportswriter, was the Toastmaster; while Dick Giedlin, Ag-Tech coach, was the featured speaker. Alfred University freshman basketball coach, Al Siegel, also spoke at the event.

Tri-County Sports Dinner Last Night

Last night the second annual tri-county sports dinner was held in Hornell at the Elks Club.

An award was given to the outstanding sportsman from this area. Guest of honor for the evening was Carmine Basillio who delivered the featured address.

Guests at the dinner were Coach McLane, Coach Yunevich, Dr. Tuttle, Pete Smith, Al Siegel, Johnny Nelson, who represented the Evening Tribune, Gene Van Horn, representing the Alfred Sun. Other representatives from Alfred University were Warren Sutton and Frank Finerty. Because of the FIAT deadline we will not publish the name of the recipient of the sportsman's award until next week.

Intra-squad Game Sat.

Spring football practice will reach its climax on Saturday, April 25, at 2 p.m. when a full-dress 60 minute intra-squad game will be played at Merrill Field.

The game will bring to a close three weeks of nightly practice sessions for the gridmen.

There will be no admission charge and all are invited. All high schools in the area have been invited to attend.

Coach Yunevich announced that the game will be played under regular game conditions. The next time the footballers suit up will be early in September for pre-season practice.
