'Love your work,' Schneider tells AU grads

ALFRED—Stanley G. Schneider, one of the nation's top-rated criminal defense attorney's offered Alfred University's (AU) Class of 2015 some well-deliberated advice — "love your work and your relationships; don't settle for less."

Schneider, a 1971 AU alumnus, spoke Saturday morning

(May 16) before a capacity crowd in the Galanis Family Arena at the McLane Center on campus.

His message was taken from his own life experiences, he explained, noting "Success is defined in many different ways Judge yourself (don't let others do it for you). Success comes from your own sense of decency and accomplishment. Find your passion in life. Create your own style, follow your heart and your intuition. I followed my heart to a rewarding career."

Schneider urged the graduates to "feel a tremendous responsibility to look at today as a true commencement, a beginning of the next chapter of the as yet unwritten" story of your life.

"Life is something you experience. There is no core curriculum, it's all electives and the results are uncertain."

When he left Alfred, Schneider said he was uncertain how his life story would play out. Following law school his first job was in a prison where he was assigned to the death row inmates - "It changed my life forever."

At his first meeting with a death row inmate, he shook hands with the inmate when he arrived and left. Upon leaving the cell a guard took him aside and said if he ever touched a death row inmate again he would be fired.

"They are to have no human contact. It (that admonishment) gave me a sense of inhumanity and shame that was overwhelming." From thereon in he knew his role was to have a "quest for justice and fairness," even with those who had been charged with unimaginable crimes.

Over a 40-year career Schneider has been "driven by the desire to help and protect people. I enjoy getting up each morning I love what I do," he said urging "find your love in work and in relationships."

A partner in the Houston-based law firm Schneider and McKinney, Schneider, a history major at AU, has represented numerous death-row inmates, and has been successful in getting convictions overturned in several landmark cases.

He gained national attention when he won a new trial for Wanda Holloway, known in the media as the "Cheerleader Mom," for hiring someone to kill the mother of one her daughter's rivals. Holloway had been convicted on her first trial and sentenced to 15 years in prison. Schneider successfully argued one of the jurors for her first trial was ineligible. Rather than face a second trial, Holloway pleaded

About 900 awarded degrees at Alfred State College

ALFRED—Alfred State recognized approximately 900 May 2015 graduates during commencement ceremonies on Sunday. Dr. Skip Sullivan, president, presided over the event, held at Pioneer Stadium on the Alfred campus.

Offering some welcoming remarks was Eunice Lewin, State University of New York (SUNY) Board of Trustees member. Lewin serves on several boards of directors, including as commissioner of the Niagara Frontier Transportation Authority, founding member of Roswell Park Alliance, and member of Buffalo Urban League, Hispanic United of Buffalo, and Canisius College Board of Regents. She is also a member of the Erie County Chapter of Links, Hispanic Women's League, and Buffalo Niagara Guitar Festival Originators.

The student speaker was Kory Shick, who earned his human services associate degree in December 2014 and is working toward his bachelor's degree in human services management. Shick is also the student representative on the Alfred State College Council, past president of the Greek Senate, a brother of Pi Rho Zeta, executive vice president of the Student Senate, and president incumbent of the Commuter Council.

Keynote speaker for the ceremony was Dr. J. Gregory Ferry, chaired professor of the Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology at Penn State. Ferry is a fellow of the American Academy of Microbiology and past editor of the Journal of Bacteriology. He has served on numerous national committees and currently is co-chair of the Committee on Astrobiology and Planetary Science that advises the federal government on matters of space exploration.

A former member of Alfred State's undefeated wrestling team, Ferry received his AAS degree in agronomy from Alfred State in 1963, followed by BS and MS degrees from the University of Georgia. He continued his education at the University of Illinois, where he earned a PhD in biochemistry in 1974.

Ferry was appointed assistant professor of microbiology at Virginia Tech in 1976 and rose to the rank of professor. In 1995, he moved to Penn State to accept an endowed chair in the Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology. He has authored more than 200 scientific publications.

Ferry recently created the James G. and Marilyn A. Ferry Endowed Scholarship to assist students with a strong desire to learn and who have the need for financial assistance.

Specially recognized at the ceremony were Merrill B. Allen, of Gowanda, who earned his AAS degree in radio communications from Alfred State in 1943, and Donald M. Bergreen, of Olean, who attended the college from Oct. 5, 1942, until June 25, 1943, also majoring in radio communications.

Allen and Bergreen were two of several men who, in the years between 1942 and 1945, left their homes, families, friends, and the opportunity to finish their college career or attend graduation to serve in the military to help defend and preserve the American way of life. Many of these men were unable to attend graduation, even if they were fortunate enough to complete their course work, as they were swept away to serve in the military immediately upon or before fulfilling their degree requirements.

Allen was presented with a diploma recognizing his graduation from Alfred State, and Bergreen was given a certificate in recognition of his time spent studying at the college.

Another highlight of the ceremony was the presentation of the Paul B. Orvis Award for Excellence to five graduating students. The award honors Paul B. Orvis, a former president of Alfred State and State University of New York dean for two-year colleges. Recipients must meet the criteria of service, leadership, character, and scholarship.

Receiving the award were Jessica L. Baier, Rochester (School of Applied Technology associate degree recipient); Samantha J. Duquette, Churchville (School of Architecture, Management and Engineering Technology baccalaureate degree recipient); Sheyenne N. Hooker, Angelica (School of Architecture, Management and Engineering Technology associate degree recipient); McKenzie E. Mallaber, Livonia (School of Arts and Sciences baccalaureate degree recipient); and Emily A. Gilfert, Wellsville (School of Arts and Sciences associate degree recipient).

The Alfred State Men's Quartet performed the national anthem and the college's alma mater. Students were led out in recessional to the music of the Gates Keystone Police Pipes and Drums.

ALMOND—Rodney Norman

Spokane, WA.

Stevens, 55, of Almond, died Thursday (May 14, 2015), from complications after a heart transplant in Rodney was born May 15, 1959, in Hornell. After graduating from Alfred-Almond, he worked for the Department of Transportation. In the early 90s, Rodney moved to Shelby, Montana where he enjoyed the rest of his life hunting and fishing.

He is survived by his mother and father, Charles and Sandra Stevens, of Almond; three sons, Shane Stevens and his wife Casandra, of Arkport, Charles Stevens and his wife Shelly, of Almond, and Nicholas Stevens and his companion Lydia, of Co-hocton. He also left behind six grandchildren, Natalie, Bella, Liberty, Rainey, Bristol, and Traebry.

He is preceded in death by grandparents, Eugene and Marion Stevens of Almond; Ralf and Evelyn Pierce of Arkport; and his sister, Caroline Eason of Almond.

A private gathering will be held for loved ones at 5 p.m. today (Thursday, May 21) in Almond.

In remembrance of Rodney's love for the great outdoors, contributions can be made to the Almond Rod & Gun Club, Inc., Karr Valley Rd, PO Box 143, Almond, NY 14804.

Pauline Campbell, stay-at-home mom, dies May 10

PAULINE A. CAMPBELL

Stay-at-home mother

ANDOVER—Pauline A. Campbell, 77, passed away Sunday (May 10, 2015) at her daughter's home, surrounded by family.

and Loanie (Dash) Fowler.

Pauline spent most of her time as a stay at home mother, tending to the care of her family, for which she was most proud. It is fitting that her role as a mother would come to a close on Mother's Day.

In addition to her duties as a mother, she worked at Industrial Steel in Monroe, MI, for five years as a spot welder and for Unimart in Andover for another five years as an assistant manager.

Pauline is survived by three daughters, Janice (Calvin) Lewis, Sue (Robert) Rogers and April Campbell, all of Andover; two sons, Robert Ordiway of Ohio and Thomas (Cara) Ordiway of Ocala, FL; one sister, Jessie Giles of Monroe, MI; one brother, Philip (Barbara) Fowler of Dearfield, MI; one sister-in-law, Jeanette Fowler of Petersburg, MI; ten grandchildren, Amanda (Dan) Vankirk, Joseph (Amanda) Lewis, Jamie (Clint) Caladine, Danielle (Nate) Richmond, Robert Ordiway, Jr., Thomas Ordiway, Jr., Deborah Ordiway, Daisey Ordiway, Kodi Merrell and Kylie Campbell; 7 great-grandchildren; and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

She was predeceased by four brothers, James Fowler, John Fowler, Jr., Joe Fowler and Johnny Fowler and two sisters, Melba Poley and Kathleen Starr, her twin.

Pauline enjoyed gardening, crocheting and knitting. She appreciated the solitude and beauty of the great outdoors, but to her, the greatest love and joy was her family. Her family meant everything to her and she demonstrated that to them in many ways.

There will be no prior visitation. A memorial service will be held at the convenience of the family.

Arrangements are under the direction of Baker-Swan Funeral Home in Andover. Online condolences may be offered at www.baker-swan.com.

Memorial contributions in Pauline's name may be made to: 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 38105.

David Meacham graveside service

DAVID KEITH MEACHAM

AU grad, U.S. Army veteran

MARLTON, N.J.—David Keith Meacham, 66, of Marlton, N.J., formerly of Hornell, passed away Thursday, Feb. 19, 2015 in New Jersey.

David was born in Hornell and was a graduate of Andover Central School and Alfred University. He served his country as a member of the United States Army from 1971-1973 and had resided in New Jersey the past 20 years.

An ordained pastor, he leaves his wife Karen; his devoted children, Heidi (Jason) Burdick of Alfred Station, David Przyborski and Timothy (Leah) Meacham of Philadelphia, and Daniel at home.

Also surviving are his sister, Michele (Al) D'Agostino of Honeoye Falls; his brothers, Robert (Diane) Meacham of Maine, and Jon Meacham of Hornell; as well as six grandchildren. David was predeceased by his parents, Reynard Keith Meacham and Eunice Jane Meacham.

Family and friends are invited to attend a graveside service to be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, May 23, 2015 at Woodlawn Cemetery in Canisteo. Funeral arrangements are entrusted to Bender-Brown & Powers Funeral Home of Hornell.

Caroline Littell memorial service

CAROLINE LITTELL

Travel Photojournalist

ALFRED—The life of the late Caroline Littell of Alfred, a noted travel photojournalist and a former director of Alfred University's language laboratory, will be celebrated in a remembrance ceremony at 3 p.m. Saturday, May 30 in the Church Center of the Union University Church, on Church Street, in Alfred.

All are invited to attend. There is no charge for Saturday metered parking in the village.

Mrs. Littell died March 18 in Pasadena, CA, where she had been in hospice care because of complications of acute leukemia. She was 75.

Born in Egypt of English parents, she was educated in England and later studied languages in France, Spain, Austria and Greece. For more than 30 years, her black-and-white and color photography illustrated articles on tourism and travel in dozens of newspapers and magazines in this country and in Europe.

Mrs. Littell immigrated to the United States in 1962. She moved to Alfred in 1968, when her husband, Alan Littell, a radio editorial writer in New York City, was appointed to the administrative staff of Alfred University. The May 30 memorial will include a display of her published work.

Gasoline prices rise slightly

Average retail gasoline prices in Rochester have risen 0.4 cents per gallon in the past week, averaging $2.74/g on Monday, according to GasBuddy's daily survey of 319 gas outlets in Rochester. This compares with the national average that has increased 5.0 cents per gallon in the last week to $2.71/g, says gasoline price website GasBuddy.com.

Including the change in gas prices in Rochester during the past week, prices yesterday were 106.8 cents per gallon lower than the same day one year ago and are 16.4 cents per gallon higher than a month ago. The national average has increased 26.9 cents per gallon during the last month and stands 94.0 cents per gallon lower than this day one year ago.

"The rise we've seen in the national average over the month is showing signs of fading," said Patrick DeHaan, GasBuddy senior petroleum analyst. "Crude oil prices have fallen from their 2015 highs and currently stand some $2/bbl lower at $59/barrel. While higher demand is expected for this Memorial Day weekend, crude oil inventories remain plentiful and stand some 86 million barrels higher than a year ago. That reminder could inspire some selling in crude oil, as could bearish comments recently made by OPEC, or data showing that the 24-week decline in oil rigs is greatly slowing down."

Monthly comparisons show all fifty states seeing higher prices than they stood four weeks ago, with the largest jumps taking place in Ohio, Michigan and California, where prices moved up by at least ten cents a gallon.

Therapy dogs help students 'de-stress'

ALFRED—Six dogs were able to bring some much-needed relief to Alfred State students studying for final exams on Monday, May 11, during the Hinkle Memorial Library's Dogs in the Library event.

From 6-8 p.m., the dogs and their handlers came to the library to visit with students and help them relax and de-stress during finals week.

Five of the canines are registered through Therapy Dogs International, an organization that trains, regulates, and certifies therapy dogs and their handlers for service in community settings, such as libraries, schools, and nursing homes.

Another dog was affiliated with Pet Partners of Syracuse, a group of volunteers who promote the health benefits of the human-animal bond.

Amie Acton, instructional support assistant at the library, said, "The event has quickly become a mainstay during finals week and something students consistently look forward to attending."

Hazel Humphreys of Box of Books

[Editor's Note: Like most of the recipes she shared with our readers over the past couple of decades, Ellen Shultz's Sunny Side Up columns are worth repeating.]

When I was an undergraduate, Hazel Humphreys was the proprietor of The Box of Books, the only bookstore in Alfred. Her store was only the size of the front room of the current Box of Books Library. She ordered and sold all the textbooks for the University. If you had to stand in line for books at the beginning of the semester, you had to stand outside because there was no room inside. Stacks of books balanced precariously all over the shop, which also contained six or eight of Hazel's current dogs. She was the local "humane society," taking in any dog that was a stray and needed a home. Despite the cramped quarters, she always knew instantly where each book was and would supply it with a smile.

Hazel had a speech problem, which caused her to hesitate in her words, but as secretary for Wee Playhouse she could read smoothly the wonderfully humorous notes she recorded for each meeting.

I wanted to write about her and her amazing sense of humor, but I searched futilely for a recipe that I might attribute to her. So I am using a recipe for a special dinner for dogs. I am sure she would approve.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

District 3 Legislator offers counterpoint on Late Fee resolution

To the Editor:

No malice intended here whatsoever, just observation, clarification, and a view from a different perspective.

Legislator Pullen and I have what I believe to be a healthy relationship of mutual respect. We both often bring different ideas to the table, and each and every time, we go to great lengths to ponder each other's points and views on various topics. This makes for great productive debate, and in the end, we both force ourselves to take a good long look at each other's opinion and position. Sometimes we agree, sometimes we don't.

I have read Dave's article he has written for this week's Cuba Patriot entitled Practical Realities (it appears on this page). I am writing to offer a counter to his interpretation of what was stated and occurred before Proposed Resolution #115-15 officially came to vote.

I want to remind you his article is clearly one legislator's interpretation of what went on and should not be taken as fact just because it is written in the newspaper. Everyone is entitled to their opinion, but the style his articles are written in leads readers to believe his opinions are indeed fact. This is simply the result of his chosen writing style, and I'm sure unintentional.

Resolution #115-15 proposed a 1.5% monthly charge upon any amount owed the county that is 45 days past due. To be clear, it was I who authored and personally pushed for this Resolution, with the strong urging of my constituents. I asked for and received help from the County Attorney in regards to proper wording and procedure. It was graciously co-sponsored by Legislators Ungermann and Decker, who strongly believe in it.

In his article Dave states "We would collect less money than we would spend on the collection process." I sat in the same pre-meeting caucus that he did; I never officially heard that as a dollar and cents truth. Therefore, that is opinion, not fact.

He also stated "In addition, most of the accounts that actually go beyond 45 days involve towns and villages within the county." I don't know where he got that from. The County Administrator and the County Treasurer said to us in that pre-board meeting that there are indeed only a few accounts that historically ever go 45 days past due, and they listed them verbally, but never listed any municipalities.

Here is the history of this Resolution, and what was stated: It was given a chance at committee months ago to be moved to the full board but was squashed because it was stated that municipalities could not pay within 30 days. The reason was that they meet only once a month. Right or wrong, that was clearly the hook that the committee hung its hat on to end the discussion. I was paying extremely close attention.

Board Rules state legislators themselves are allowed to bring a Resolution to the full board as long as proper procedure is followed. Since the committee wasn't going to bring the Resolution, I decided I would. I asked the County Attorney to guide me in the procedure and followed it step by step. I altered the 30-day-to-pay clause to the proposed 45-day-to-pay Resolution wording. That would resolve the stumbling block encountered at committee.

Mr. Pullen's article talks about "complicated set-up process that would last for only one year." What's so complicated about billing folks? Especially if as Mr. Pullen points out, there are only a "handful" of accounts involved. Being only a "handful" of accounts, wouldn't now indeed be the proper time to put it in place to work out any kinks?

This Resolution covers all outstanding county bills, therefore why would it last only a year as he claims? He also talks about it being "labor intensive" needing "additional staff to set up and operate those accounts". For only a "handful" of accounts? I don't understand where he gets that from. Again, opinion being presented as fact.

I agree we are presently talking about just a small amount of accounts, but doesn't he remember that just those "handful" of accounts were 10s of 1000s of dollars in arrears back in January as I proved by using the Freedom of Information Law to obtain official county records of past due accounts? And that some of those accounts had been past due for months on end? How quickly he forgot that. The taxpayers certainly haven't.

One and a half percent of those massive accounts back then certainly would have covered any administrative costs. More importantly, since this Resolution was not passed, there is now nothing in place to prevent them from skyrocketing again.

Three of the elected legislators voted in favor of charging the proposed late fees; Mr. Ungermann, Mr. Decker, and myself. Yes, Dave, it did, and still does seem like a no-brainer to me... and I strongly believe it was, and still is a no-brainer to those who put us in office.

Finally, he ends with "This turned out to be a solution in search of a problem." Mr. Pullen is the only one that stated that. It certainly has a nice ring to it and is fun to say, but again, just his opinion not based in fact.

Please remember that there are 15 of us, all with different ideas and interpretations and just because it is written in the paper it is not fact. When you read Mr. Pullen's weekly articles, you are hearing only one viewpoint and should take it with a grain of salt. For that matter, the same goes for this rebuttal.

Respectfully submitted,

Scott Burt

PRACTICAL REALITIES

The May 11th session of the County Legislature started with the Pledge of Allegiance. Former Army Specialist Fifth David Fleming of Angelica led those present in reciting the Pledge. He had served during the Vietnam Conflict, from 1966 to 1968. David was joined by his mother, and twin brother, Donald Fleming. Their family has given back a lot to our community.

Chairman Curt Crandall appointed Jason Carmen and Ryan Paulsen to the County Hazard Mitigation Team. He also joined with the Legislative Chairmen from Cattaraugus, Chautauque, Erie, Genesee, Niagara, Orleans and Wyoming Counties in declaring May 3rd through May 9th, 2015, as Western New York Armed Forces Week. He also declared May 8th, 2015 as Wally Higgins Day in Allegany County, and declared May 2015 as Foster Care Month in Allegany County.

The Board began its deliberation of resolutions with Proposed Resolution #115-15, which would have imposed a 1.5% monthly interest charge upon any amount owed that remains unpaid 45 days past its due date. Those supporting this resolution presented it as a "no-brainer." Unfortunately the reality and the theory didn't match. The Legislators learned from the County Administrator and County Treasurer that there are only a handful of accounts that ever go past due. We would collect less money than we would spend on the collection process. In addition, most of the accounts that actually go beyond 45 days involve towns and villages within the county. That means that we would be increasing expenses for those municipalities. Finally, the accounts involving the County Landfill will be changing dramatically within the next year when the Landfill closes. Why go through a complicated set-up process that would only last for one year? This entire process would be labor intensive, but its advocates hadn't allocated any additional staff to set up and operate those accounts. After considerable debate the Legislature defeated the proposed resolution by a vote of 3 to 10. This turned out to be a solution in search of a problem.

Resolution #116-15 designated the Crossroads Waterline Project and the Alfred Center for Technology Transfer (ACTT) Project as this year's top two projects on the County's U.S. Economic Development Administration Priority Designation List.

Resolution #117-15 expressed support for establishing Statewide Benchmarks for measuring the efficiency of State and Local Government Functions.

Resolution #118-15 approved an Application for a Workforce Innovation Opportunity Act Adult and Dislocated Worker Program Grant.

Resolution #119-15 approved an Application for Workforce Innovation Opportunity Act Title 1 Youth Program Grant.

Finally, Resolution #120-15 designated the Legislature Chairman as the Chief Elected Official for approval of a Multi-Jurisdictional Agreement, and authorized him to execute the Agreement.

Allegany County and all other local governments in New York State, are facing a huge fiscal crisis. Three years ago Governor Cuomo and the State Legislature enacted the Tax Cap that says that no local government can increase the amount of money it raises from property taxes by more than 2% or the rate of inflation, whichever is lower.

That sounds good, but it only addresses one side of the Budget process. The State still controls most of our spending through various mandated programs. These mandated programs are taking up more and more of our available funding. That leaves less money available for important but non-mandated programs. Since most taxpayers oppose higher taxes, elected leaders have no good alternatives.

Over the next several years Counties, Cities, Schools, Villages and Towns are going to have to cut back on essential programs and layoff employees. At the school level that will mean laying off teachers and staff. For Cities, Counties, Villages and Towns it will mean less money for highways, bridges and other essential services. Over the long haul even that won't be enough. Simple inflation will ultimately mean that taxes will have to rise just to keep up with mandated programs. Unfortunately Governor Cuomo won't engage in any meaningful dialogue about this situation. Difficult times are coming.

MostArts Festival ready for another weeklong run

ALFRED—Following a successful inaugural year, the MostArts Festival at Alfred University (AU) returns this summer for a weeklong run, Sunday, July 5 through Saturday, July 11, with a series of musical and art events highlighted by the Young Pianist Competition.

The mid-summer celebration is “committed to enriching the cultural, economic, and educational potential of the Alfred community by inviting internationally renowned musicians to the region to share their passion for music and to engage in the broader dialogue between music and the vibrant world of Alfred art,” said Dr. Lisa Lantz, the guiding force behind the festival. She is chairperson of the AU Division of Performing Arts, professor of music, and conductor of the University Symphony Orchestra. She is also an adjunct professor in Italian for the Division of Modern Languages.

“The brilliance of timeless classical music and art” will once again “infuse the summer life of the AU community,” she added.

The 2015 Piano Competition is open to high school students ages 13-18. The contest goal is to encourage and promote excellence in the world of classical music and performance, said Lantz.

As part of the final round of their competition, eight finalists will be selected to come to the AU campus to perform the first movement of their selected Mozart Concerto with the MostArts Festival Orchestra during festival week. This concert will take place before an audience and an international panel of judges. In addition, the finalists will perform previously submitted solo works in a combined recital.

The competition will culminate with a $10,000 first prize; $2,500 for second place award; $1,500 for third; two $500 Audience Awards; and a $500 Discretionary Prize.

Applications, along with a non-refundable $100 application fee will be accepted through Friday, April 24, 2015; applicants must not be under professional management. You will find detailed information and an online application by visiting: <http://mostarts.alfred.edu/competition.cfm>

All applicants will be notified by late May.

In addition to the July musical programs, there will be two- and four-week workshops offered by internationally recognized artists Wayne Higby: “Raku,” Walter McConnell: “Big Clay-Raw,” John Gill: “Intensive Workshop,” and Linda Sikora: “Timeless/Timely,” all AU professors of ceramics; In-Chin Lee, professor, Department of Ceramics and Glass, Hongik University, South Korea: “Intensive Workshop,” and Matthew Metz, studio potter, Alfred Station: “Timeless/Timely.” Their workshops will offer a unique opportunity for participants to learn from artists on their own turf; sharing their facilities, libraries, and community. Each day will be full of demonstrations, lectures, and one-on-one conversations with faculty, graduate teaching assistants, and workshop participants. Other workshops for 2015 include, “The Teacher’s Studio” with Jason Green, adjunct professor of ceramics, Foundations program, “Ceramic Science for the Artist,” Bill Carty, professor of ceramic engineering and materials science, “Ceramic Science for the Artist,” and “The Art of the Bonsai” with Jim Doyle.

For more information on any of the art workshops – email summerceramics@alfred.edu; phone 607.871.2413; or visit www.art.alfred.edu/summer-school/ or www.alfredceramics.com

The Opening Festival Concert will mark the first in the weeklong series beginning at 7:30 p.m. and featuring the 2014 Young Pianist Competition Grand Prize Winner Mayuki Miyashita, a ninth-grader from Maryville, TN. She will perform with the MostArts Festival Orchestra – a small, Mozart-sized ensemble - with Lantz conducting. A gala reception will follow the program ($10).

At noon, Monday, July 6 “Sound Bites Sampler #1” the first in the chamber music series, will open in Holmes Auditorium, Harder Hall. These sessions will showcase chamber music with various groups of musicians who will speak about the works to be performed in an informal atmosphere as the audience enjoys lunch or dessert. That evening’s concert will feature Concert Pianist Anthony Pattin.

Tuesday’s itinerary will include “Sound Bites Sampler #2” in Holmes; a 6:30 p.m. carillon recital with guest artist Joey Brink; and the 7:30 p.m. concert with German Concert Pianist Andreas Klein and Yuval Zaliouk, conductor.

Wednesday’s program will again feature the noon “Sound Bites Sampler #3 as well as two free recitals by the Young Pianist Competition finalists at 2 and 4 p.m. in Miller Theater. At 7:30 p.m. there will be a new addition from last year—a Big Band Dance—“Music Under the Stars”—by John Piazza Jr.’s “Little Big Band” from Syracuse, at the McLane Center; a cash bar and food will be included in the price of the evening’s ticket.

Thursday will offer “Sound Bites Sampler #4” along with the 7:30 p.m. evening program with the MostArts Orchestra conducted by Steve Thomas and featuring the piano competition finalists. There will be a “Meet and Greet the Artists” reception following the concert.

The Chamber Music Series continues Friday with “Sound Bites Sampler #5 at noon. From 1-2 p.m. “What’s Hot at the AU Hot Shop?” will feature a glassblowing demonstration with Angus Powers, associate professor of glass, in the Alfred Glass Studio – “Hot Shop” – Binns-Merrill Hall. The evening performance will once again feature piano competition finalists with the MostArts Festival Orchestra conducted by Thomas; a meet and greet artist reception will follow.

On Saturday, July 11, from noon-3 p.m. there will be a Roman Glass Furnace Workshop with Powers at 1306 State Route 244, a mile from campus, on the right. Also, at noon, Higby will present a Raku Extravaganza at the “Hair Pin Turn” above Miller Theater (weather permitting).

The evening Gala Concert with the MostArts Festival Orchestra will feature Grammy Award winner Angelin Chang, with Lantz and Zaliouk conducting. Award announcements and presentations will be made following the program. Festivities will conclude with a Grand Finale Gala Reception; there will be a $10 donation taken at the door.

MostArts Festival activities will include both daytime and evening events open to the public. All daytime concerts and activities are free; the Evening Concert Series requires a ticket.

An “Applause Pass Patron” $100 ticket will provide entry into all six evening concerts in Miller Theater; single evening tickets are $20. Special rates for senior citizens are available at $50 for six evenings, $10 single ticket; student rates are $25 for the week or $5 for a single evening ticket. Special group and family discounts are also available. For information please visit MostArts@alfred.edu or call 607.587.2828.

Area Wind Ensemble offers season finale May 23

HORNELL—The Hornell Area Wind Ensemble will offer its season finale performance at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 23 in the Hornell High School Auditorium.

Since 2000 the Hornell Area Wind Ensemble has invited esteemed conductors from the premiere military bands to its podium.

Following that tradition, this year Lt. Col. (Ret.) Beth Steele, United States Army, will be guest conductor. Along with Steele, Sergeant Major (Ret.) Joel Dulyea, United States Army Field Band, will be guest as tenor soloist.

Beth Steele earned a Bachelor of Music degree in Trumpet Performance and a Master of Music in Conducting from Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois. After receiving her commission in 1988, Beth began a stellar conducting career in the US Army.

From the White House to Carnegie Hall, Moscow’s Red Square, London’s Horse Guards Parade Ground, Arlington National Cemetery, New York City’s “Ground Zero” and everything in between, Lieutenant Colonel (Ret) Beth Steele was honored to lead professional Army musicians in performances and witness first-hand, the tremendous power of music to inspire, reassure, exhilarate, influence and unite people.

Beth recently retired from the Army and she and her husband, Mike, also a retired military musician, live in Breckenridge where she is an advocate for community music. Beth currently conducts the Summit Concert Band, the Summit Community Orchestra, the Alpine Orchestra, teaches trumpet, enjoys biking and hiking with their dog, Mocha.

During a distinguished military career with The United States Army Field Band of Washington D.C., Tenor Joel Dulyea traveled the world with the Soldiers’ Chorus singing public concerts for the Office of The Secretary of the Army.

He is a proud graduate of Muskegon County Public Schools, The University of Michigan and Bowie State University in Maryland, holding degrees in Vocal Performance plus an MA in Counseling Psychology. Currently he enjoys the collaboration of singing with the Central United Methodist Church Choir, the White Lake Choral and His Men from Grand Haven. On Mondays he can be found volunteering with Kids Food Basket in Muskegon.

Area family and friends are invited to this special concert to honor our veterans, past and present, on this Memorial Day Weekend.

The musicians have been working extra hard to offer the best concert possible. The program will feature marches, a selection from The Music Man, an energetic piece by famed John Williams, some light hearted music involving some corn and some cows.

In addition, the Hornell Area Wind Ensemble will have those poignant pieces intended to pay tribute to our nation’s fallen heroes and our veterans, along with those currently serving in the military.

Our featured soloist, Sergeant Major (Ret.) Joel Dulyea, United States Army Field Band, will perform Bring Him Home from the play “Les Miserables.” The lyric is a prayer sung asking to bring home a man who is young and afraid in battle, to let him rest and be heaven blessed, to let him live and to bring him home. (Paraphrased.) This is a selection that pays tribute to our serving military men and women whom we honor this Memorial Day weekend.

Another highlight of this concert, and featuring Joel Dulyea, will be Band of Brothers Suite/Requiem For A Soldier. The Band of Brothers Suite was written for a miniseries produced by Steven

SGT. MAJ. (Ret) JOEL DULYEA

Spielberg and Tom Hanks to honor The Greatest Generation. The series follows Easy Company, an army unit during World War II, from its initial training to the conclusion of the war.

Within the suite, we have Requiem For A Soldier, the theme from Band of Brothers, honoring the heroes who paid the ultimate sacrifice. This music is very moving and appropriate to the theme of our concert.

The ensemble’s grand finale will be Stars and Stripes Forever with Joel Dulyea. Plan to make the Hornell Area Wind Ensemble concert part of your Memorial Day Weekend celebration at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 23 at the Hornell High School Auditorium.

Activities center on Wellsville campus renovated

ALFRED—Thanks to an investment by the Educational Foundation of Alfred, Inc., the Alfred State School of Applied Technology campus in Wellsville made a number of significant improvements during the current school year, including renovating the Student Activities Center.

For the 2014-2015 academic year, the foundation allocated $549,500 for a number of upgrades and repairs to various buildings and locations on campus. Of that amount, $65,000 went toward renovating the activities center.

According to Justin Cornelius, coordinator of student affairs at the Wellsville campus, improvements upstairs in the main gathering space have included new painting, trim, doors, and ceiling tiles, and the creation of a revamped computer lab with new stations, and a mind spa that focuses on stress reduction. Student Senate has also provided funding for new foosball tables, a new ping pong table, furniture, and new, modern computer desks for each of the seven stations in the lab.

"By combining capital improvements with updated equipment and furnishings," Cornelius said, "our returning students noticed an amazing transformation throughout the 2014-2015 academic year."

Jared Good, an electrical construction and maintenance electrician major from Andover, said he thinks the changes to the Student Activities Center are fantastic.

"The best thing about the Activities Center is that it is a place where students can come in to relax," he said. "It is important for students to stop in simply be-

Visiting artist working on digital prints

ALFRED—The Institute for Electronic Arts (IEA) and the Division of Expanded Media at Alfred University (AU) is hosting Traci Molloy of Brooklyn in an artist-in-residence program through Friday, May 22.

Throughout the residency, Molloy is working on a series of digital prints, in partnership with adolescents from the surrounding community, superimposing their responses to the prompts "I Am, I Will, I'm Afraid" in their handwriting over photographs of themselves.

The words will obscure their image and with the body of work as a whole represent the collective feelings of the adolescents of the Southern Tier region, said Molloy. These images will be printed in larger-than-life scale as well as life-scale for future exhibitions.

The public is welcome to stop by to see the work in progress from 8 a.m.-3:30 p.m. each day in room 507, Harder Hall.

Molloy earned a master of fine arts degree from Ohio University, Athens. She sees herself as artist and social activist exploring adolescent culture, loss, and violence through photography, digital arts, installation, painting, and print-making.

More on Molloy's work may be found on her website at: <http://www.tracimolloy.com/>

The IEA Visiting Artist Program is sponsored in part by the NYS Council on the Arts with the support of Gov. Andrew Cuomo and the NYS Legislature.

cause of all the great activities and services the center has to offer."

Also upgraded through Educational Foundation funds were the stairwell and two downstairs bathrooms. The "largest footprint that was left by the Educational Foundation funding," Cornelius said, is the revamped gymnasium, which had been used for building trades classes, but is no longer.

"After the space was cleaned, an entirely new synthetic floor went over the existing floor that was original from the early 1980s," Cornelius said. "With that came fresh paint and freshly painted lines. This was a major improvement, as students now use the space for health- and wellness-related activities."

Cornelius said outside vendors have also been increasingly interested in using the gymnasium area.

"Having a clean, updated space really allows us to make a positive impression on those who step foot on the campus," he said.

Also recently made available to students and the community is a racquetball court, which was previously used for storage. Cornelius said he would be very excited if the court also drew interest from community members.

"On a small scale, we have been able to have community members sign liability waivers and use the space," he said. "I am not entirely sure how it would work if we were to, say, start talking about a community league with larger numbers and more routine use. I am pretty confident that something could be arranged that would make this a possibility."

The Educational Foundation of Alfred, Inc. is a private foundation representing faculty, staff, and friends dedicated to improving the Alfred State community through support of education programs. The foundation provides monetary support to enhance learning opportunities for students through scholarships, work grants, and academic club activities.

Alfred State students play basketball in the newly renovated gymnasium at the Student Activities Center on the School of Applied Technology campus in Wellsville.

THE ARTS

26th A-A Literary Festival held

By KIM DONIUS

Special to the Alfred Sun

ALMOND—the past 26 years, the Alfred Almond school libraries have initiated and hosted an annual Literary Festival. The Festival has always been an opportunity for Alfred-Almond students to share their writing talents with a live audience!

Bold students gathered at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 6 in the high school auditorium to present stories, poems, and essays.

The Literary Festival has long addressed learning standards! For example, the Alfred Almond Festival helps students with key ideas and details. Students consider the craft and structure of writing, while integrating their knowledge and ideas.

Students identify characters and settings and set up major events in their stories. In addition, writers build vocabulary. Students practice fluency while preparing and presenting their work. Finally, many students research information for stories, adding details and clarifying ideas, thoughts, and feelings as they prepare their finished product.

The Committee commends all Alfred-Almond teachers for encouraging their students to participate and present their student's finest work.

Along with the teachers, readers of the Alfred Sun may also encourage A-A students to enter the 27th Annual Literary Festival. All student work written after April 27, 2015 may be submitted for the 27th Annual Literary Festival.

The Literary Festival Committee members for 2015 included: Claudia Burr, Kim Donius, Mae Backer, Jessica Dunning, Kirsten Wiesniewski, Shawn Carstens, Casey Roche, Beth Symeslatini, Betty Sprague, and Megan Saxton. Special recognition goes to Kathi Chambliss, who has volunteered time and effort with the presentation this year (and the many past years).

NOTES from the BOX OF BOOKS

By MELANIE MILLER
Alfred Box of Books Director

Insomniacs take note!

Rima O'Connor offers the following:

Do you have trouble sleeping? Here's an idea: download a free audiobook to your smartphone or tablet and then play it once you are in bed. It's like having your own personal Scheherazade with a bedtime story! There are some great readers whose accents can be especially soothing, like the oh so British voice of Simon Russell Beale, or Frank McCourt's Irish lilt. You can also set the audiobook to shut off automatically after a specified period of time.

Just come to the ePLACE at the Alfred Box of Books Library on Thursday, May 28 from 2-4 p.m. and learn how to download your favorite books onto your device. If you don't have a device, the Library has some tablets you can borrow to see if a nighttime story can help you sleep.

All you need is a valid library card and photo ID! Please call the Library ahead of time at 607-587-9290 to register for this class, and let us know what kind of device or phone you plan to use.

Upcoming Events at the Box of Books:

STEM Story time will be held Wednesday, May 27 at 11am. Join us as we explore how science, technology, engineering and math are all around us every day!

Reminder- The library will be closed Monday, May 25 for Memorial Day!

Baker's Bridge Historical Assn will 'strike oil' on annual trip

ALFRED STATION— Baker's Bridge annual field trip will take place on Friday, June 5. Members and friends will visit the Pioneer Oil Museum in Bolivar which houses early drilling and oilfield tools and engines, scale model drilling rigs and numerous artifacts, maps, photos and documents as well as oddities and signs of the times.

In 1881, near the town line of Bolivar and Wirt, a well was drilled to a depth of 1204 feet. Shortly after, it was bringing in 300 barrels a day. "The BOOM had begun!"

According to their website, the museum "is located in what used to be the McEwen Brothers Oilfield Supply Store in the heart of the old 'Allegany Oil Field.'" The oil fields in Allegany County are the northernmost extensions of the nation's oldest oil-producing region: Northwestern Pennsylvania. For over a century the "Penn Grade" fields of Appalachia have been the source of the world's finest lubricating oils."

In addition to the main exhibit building on Main Street, the museum is developing a six acre site with additional buildings that will be included in the historical group's tour.

On Friday, June 5, we will gather at 10 a.m. at the museum building on Main Street in Bolivar (across from the public library). For those who wish to carpool, the gathering spot and time are the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church at 9 a.m. The tour is open to all who would like to join in and lunch will be on your own.

Use leftovers; reduce food waste in your home

WASTE NOT WANT NOT: Did you know up to 40 percent of food in America goes to waste? Do you constantly toss leftovers that were never eaten? Try these tips on how to conserve, reuse, and reduce food waste in your home. Let me know how they worked for you or share your favorite "leftover" recipe!

5 TIPS:

1. Lessons in Leftovers- when you don't know what to make for dinner, get creative! Use your leftover prepared food to make a new dish, it's quicker than starting from scratch. Treat leftovers like ingredients. For example leftover chicken is precooked for pot pie or chicken and biscuits. Cooked veggies go great in a morning frittata, and almost any leftover tastes great wrapped in a tortilla for lunch!

2. Stock Up- I keep one drawer in the bottom of my fridge specifically for "questionable" produce. Any veggie that is no longer palatable for raw consumption is great for making stocks and bone broth. You can also add things like cheese rinds, shrimp shells, corn cobs and vegetable trims to boost the flavor and nutrition of your broth.

3. Redefine "Sell By"- products with expiration dates on them are not necessarily spoiled on that date. These suggested dates are set by manufacturers to inform grocers of when to rotate stock. Use your best judgement and your five senses to determine if in fact a product is spoiled.

4.Frozen Treats- freezers are especially useful if you have a smaller sized family. I usually cook and bake for an army so often times I freeze one meal sized portions for a busy day. I especially like to freeze muffins and other breakfast items. HOT TIP: bread and cake become more moist after freezing!

5. Compost- so you couldn't save everything...before you toss those scraps into the landfill start a compost pile/bucket. Your garden will thank you for all the wonderful nutrients that composting brings. If you don't garden ask a neighbor I'm sure most gardeners are grateful for any extra compost, they might even share veggies with you come harvest time!

MEMORIAL DAY

Barbecuing safety tips offered by NY Firemen's Association

NEW YORK—With Memorial Day Weekend swiftly approaching, many people will begin hosting backyard barbecues and using their grill for the first time in many months. The Firemen's Association of the State of New York (FASNY) reminds residents to make this favorite summertime activity a safe one by following some important fire safety tips.

According to the National Fire Protection Association, grill fires spike in the warm summer months. From 2007-2011, U.S. fire departments responded to an average of 8,800 home structure fires and outdoor fires involving grills, hibachis, or barbecues each year, including an average of 3,800 structure fires and 5,000 outside fires. These 8,800 fires caused an annual average of 10 civilian deaths, 140 reported civilian injuries, and $96 million in direct property damage.

"Everyone should take extra precautions to make sure that accidents don't ruin what should be a pleasant get-together for family and friends," said Firemen's Association of the State of New York President Robert McConville. "It is extremely important when gatherings include children that adults establish a kid-free zone around the grill of at least three feet; and never leave the grill unattended." Other tips:

BEFORE BARBECUING:

- Check your grill thoroughly for leaks, cracking or brittleness before using it.
- Check the tubes leading to the burner regularly for blockages. Check your specific grill manufacturer's instructions.
- Make sure the grill is at least 10 feet away from your house, garage or trees.
- Store and use your grill on a large flat surface that cannot burn (i.e. - concrete or asphalt).
- Don't use grills in a garage, on a porch, deck or on top of anything that can catch fire. Never use a propane barbecue grill on a balcony, terrace or roof: it is both dangerous and illegal.
- Keep children away from fires and grills. It is a good idea to establish a safety zone around the grill and monitor children to remain outside the zone.
- Before getting a propane cylinder filled, check for any damages to it.
- Never transport or store propane cylinders in the trunk of your automobile.

DURING BARBECUING

- ### BARBECUE
- Keep children away from the grill.
 - Don't wear loose clothing that might catch fire.
 - Use long-handled barbecue tools and/or flame-resistant mitts.
 - Never use any flammable liquid other than a barbecue starter fluid to start/freshen a fire.
 - Never pour or squirt starter fluid onto an open flame. The flames can easily flash back along the fluid's path, to the container in your hands.
 - Keep alcoholic beverages away from the grill; they are flammable.
 - Never leave the grill unattended.

BARBECUE SAFELY

- When lighting your propane barbecue, make sure all the connections are secure and open the lid and strike your match or lighter before turning on the gas.
- Always shut off the propane fuel at the grill and at the bottle after you have finished barbecuing. Otherwise, this will lead to fire hazards, such as leaks and faulty regulators.
- Store your BBQ grill and propane cylinder outdoors.
- Follow the manufacturer's instructions for the safe use, cleaning and maintenance of your grill.
- Test your cylinder for leaks on a regular basis. When testing for leaks, never use matches or an open flame. Use soapy water or a leak detector.
- Store your cylinder away from heat and insert a safety plug on the valve.

AFTER BARBECUING

- Always follow the manufacturer's cleaning and storing instructions that accompany the grill.
- Keep your grill clean and free of grease buildup that may lead to a fire.
- Never store liquid or pressurized fuels inside your home and/or near any possible sources of flame.

IN CASE OF A BARBECUE FIRE

- For PROPANE grills - turn off the burners. For CHARCOAL grills - close the grill lid. Disconnect the power to ELECTRIC grills.
- For PROPANE grills - if you can safely reach the tank valve, shut it off.
- If the fire involves the tank, leave it alone, evacuate the area and call the fire department.
- If there is any type of fire that either threatens your personal safety or endangers property, ALWAYS call the Fire Department.
- NEVER attempt to extinguish a grease fire with water. It will only cause the flames to flare up. Use an approved portable fire extinguisher.

Retired prof publishes short stories

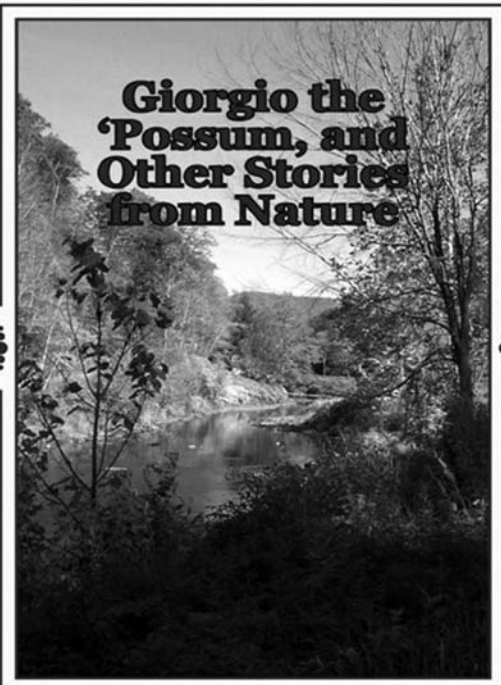

ALFRED STATION—Retired Alfred State College professor and Alfred Station resident, Steven Jakobi, has just published a collection of non-fiction short stories, titled Giorgio the 'Possum and Other Stories from Nature.

The 28 essays cover the spectrum of life forms, from bacteria and fungi, to plants and animals. Each story is presented in a non-technical fashion and prior knowledge of biology is not required to understand and enjoy the topics.

There are also autobiographical sketches to illustrate how biology and love of nature have shaped the author's life and attitudes. The book is available at Amazon and on Kindle reader.

Steven Jakobi, Ph.D. is a native of Hungary who emigrated to the U.S. in 1967. He has attended colleges in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and his dissertation work on the control of chestnut blight was conducted at West Virginia University. Jakobi has taught biology at several colleges over a nearly three decades teaching career. He taught many biology and environmental science courses over a 20-year career at Alfred State prior to retiring in 2014.

A facility that's as advanced as the technology it houses is the goal of a construction-rehabilitation project at Binns-Merrill Hall on the Alfred University campus. The structure is no longer adequate to accommodate some of the most highly advanced research in the nation conducted with it, said Susan Strong, co-acting dean of the N.Y.S. College of Ceramics at Alfred University. "At the end of the project, Binns-Merrill will be a state-of-the-art lab facility," said Strong. The college is now in the design stage, working on plans to renovate the building and to allow research and teaching to continue during the construction phase, she said. Work is being financed by the State University of New York Construction Fund; the college is part of the university system...

Alfred: 'lake it or leave it' on June 4--The Lake Alfred celebration is approaching faster than any glacier! In only a bit more than two weeks, we hope to see every Alfredian and every visitor who cares to join, paddling along in the parade, enjoying events of the celebration, taking a geology walk, and sharing in a community-wide potluck picnic. We're looking for a few good fossils. Who among us is brave enough, honest enough, tough enough, hard enough, or mature enough to ride in a float labeled "Alfred's Fossils?" If you are old enough to have an AARP card or your children have told you more than once that you belong in a paleontology lab, then you should call Becky Prophet or Hope Zaccagni to reserve your space on the Alfred's Fossils Float. (Hey, I know that when I'm as old as any of the Devonian brachiopods in this area, I won't look that good or be that solid! I'm proud of the comparison...I think.) The parade will step off from the area of the Brick promptly at 5 p.m. Saturday, June 4...

Stuart Smith will walk again. The Alfred University Professor of Education Emeritus is organizing another walk to benefit the Genesee Valley Habitat for Humanity affiliate. Two years ago, more than $3,000 was raised in a walk that covered Allegany County along Rt. 19 from the Pennsylvania border to Wyoming County. A year before that, Dr. Smith walked from Alfred to Houghton to raise funds...

The Alfred Station Fire Company recently placed a new pumper into service. While in keeping with the department's requirements to maintain a fleet of fire vehicles that meet the needs of the communities served, Alfred Station has purchased a 2005 Peterbilt pumper, built by 4 Guys Fire Equipment of Meyersdale, PA. This new pumper, designated Alfred Station #1, is equipped with a 1250 gallon per minute Hale pump and holds 1500 gallons of water. This is an increase of 250 gallons per minute pumping capacity and 500 gallons of water from the former Engine #1...

Silver & Old & New is the theme for the May 21st festival at the Call Homestead Museum in Hartsville. The extensive collection of 19th and early 20th century antique furnishings, farm tools, and vintage items has been spruced up for the season which runs from May through October. The farmhouse now has a newly-organized Civil War room with photographs, a drum, and other interesting pieces from the 1860s. This year's gala on Saturday, May 21st, from noon to 4 p.m. features old-fashioned toys and games such as whimmydiddles, stilts, and ring toss. In addition, ultra modern technology will be available to take instantly-printed, period-style photos of visitors in top hats in the Buggy Room. Spike Jones from Angelica will demonstrate blacksmithing and talk about the comprehensive smith tool sets in the Museum's collection...

...Presenting (Joel) Moskowitz for the honorary Doctor of Science degree was Jeff Maurer, a 1969 graduate of Alfred University, as well as a fellow trustee and close friend of Moskowitz's. "What Joel--and the other ceramic engineers at Ceradyne--have done is provide a definitive answer to that age-old question: 'What do ceramic engineers do?' Their answer is simply 'We save lives,'" said Maurer. He drew applause for Moskowitz from the standing-room-only crowd that filled the gymnasium when he explained, "Ceradyne manufactures the ceramic plates for the body armor worn by U.S. troops in Iraq and Afghanistan. The armor is credited with protecting thousands of lives with Ceradyne's lightweight ceramic plates that are capable of stopping an AK-47 bullet," said Maurer...

Thirty-one people—members and families of Alfred-Almond Cub Scout Pack 1026 and Boy Scout Troop 19—showed up Saturday afternoon, May 16, to place flags at Alfred Rural Cemetery's veteran's graves. Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, moms, dads, grandparents and siblings. One of the Cubs timed the group and reported that it took 27 minutes to place over 300 flags. That's certainly evidence that "Many hands make light work." (Photo provided)

ALFRED STATION—Join your friends and neighbors at the 11 a.m. Sabbath Worship Hour Saturday (Sabbath), May 23 at the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church, "A 3 C church: Connect-Care-Community."

In celebrating the Memorial Day weekend, it will be "Red, White and Blue" Sabbath and all are invited to wear their Red, White and Blue to the worship service.

The Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church meeting-house is located at 587 Route 244, Alfred Station. If you have questions about us, please call the church office at 607-587-9176.

DAR to hold annual meeting

WELLSVILLE—The Catherine Schuyler chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the Revolution (NSDAR) will hold its annual meeting at 1 p.m. Thursday, May 21 at the Wellsville Country Club, Rt. 19, Wellsville.

Hostesses for this event are Molly Chapman and Virginia Vossler, and the program (which will follow the meeting this time) will be given by member Sheary Carr. Sheary will talk about the project she and prospective member Mary Lindquist have been working on for Homeless Women Veterans.

Two new officers (Vice-Regent and Registrar) will be installed at this meeting and all will welcome new member Shallee Lauzze.

Each Committee Chair will be presenting a two minute report of the committee's 2014 activities.

Also a drawing for the Good Citizens quilt and the pewter coin set will be held at this meeting (if you haven't "cast a voice," there will be an opportunity before the drawings). And, if you have labels, boxtops or used ink cartridges, bring them along.

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, May 21

Robert E. Lee was as noble in defeat as he had been in victory. During the times of bitterness following the end of the war, Lee's spirit of reconciliation and forgiveness did much to heal the chasm between North and South. When a Southern clergyman spoke caustically in his presence of recent actions taken by the federal government, after a silence Lee said to him softly, "Doctor, there is a good old book which...says 'Love your enemies.'" Then he added, "Do you think your remarks this evening were quite in the spirit of that teaching?"

More than 500 awarded degrees at Alfred University

nolo contendere (no contest) to the charges before her second trial and served six months of a 10-year sentence.

Presiding over the day's program was Dr. Charles M. Edmondson, AU president, with Provost W. Richard Stephens Jr., provost and vice president for Academic Affairs, serving as master of ceremonies where more than 500 (note: numbers include those who completed studies in August and December 2014) degrees - six doctoral, 87 master's, 414 bachelor's, and 30 advanced studies certificates (credentials allowing practice professionally as a counselor) were awarded.

Prior to giving the keynote address, Schneider was presented by Dr. Gary Ostrower, professor of history at AU and Class of 1961, for the award of an honorary doctor of laws degree-honoris causa in recognition of Schneider's life's work in the criminal justice system. Gregory R. Connors '92 and Frederick A. George '75, both members of the AU Board of Trustees, performed the hooding ceremony for Schneider.

Dr. Nancy Evangelista, associate provost and dean of the School of Professional Studies, assisted with the awarding of doctoral and master's degrees.

Just before the undergraduate portion of the ceremony, Brennan O. Ferguson and Daniel G. Totten, the 2015 Marlin Miller Outstanding Seniors who were members of the stage party, addressed their classmates. They were introduced by Kathy Woughter '93, vice president for Student Affairs.

Ferguson, a chemistry and environmental science double-major with a minor in mathematics from Destrehan, LA, and Daniel Totten, an art and design major with a concentration in sculpture from Red Hook, NY, were chosen as the young woman and young man in the AU senior class who have "contributed most to the life of the University overall" and who have "built uncompromised reputations" for this highest all-around recognition of accomplishment the University bestows upon a student.

Also, four graduating seniors were recognized during the exercises for achieving top honors in their respective areas of study. They were part of the official stage party and seated on the Commencement platform throughout the ceremonies.

Tops in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is Ferguson, who earned a bachelor of arts degree with an overall 3.97 GPA (grade point average) out of a possible 4.0. She is a daughter of Sam Ferguson and Barbara Owens and a graduate of Ursuline Academy.

Nicole R. Anderson, an art and design major from Hubbardsville, NY is the top students in the School of Art and Design earning a bachelor of fine arts degree with a 3.97 GPA. She is a daughter of Christine Rossi and Theodore Anderson and a graduate of Hamilton Central School.

A glass and engineering science major from Webster, Elizabeth Ann Clark, is the outstanding academic senior in the Kazuo Inamori School of Engineering. She earned a bachelor of science degree with a 3.86 GPA. Clark is a daughter of Richard and Suzanne Clark and a graduate of Bishop Kearney High School.

An accounting major who earned a bachelor of science degree, Kelly Jo Marjorie Stein from Scottsville tallied a 3.94 GPA. She is a daughter of David and Kathleen Stein and a graduate of Caledonia-Mumford Central High School.

Baccalaureate degrees were conferred, in order, by Dr. Louis Lichtman, dean, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences; Dr. Gerar Edizel, interim dean, School of Art and Design; Dr. Doreen Edwards, dean, Kazuo Inamori School of Engineering; and Evangelista.

Leading the Commencement procession for the culmination of the 179th year was Grand Marshal Dr. Wilfred Huang, professor of management information systems. Faculty marshals included Dr. Wesley Bentz, professor emeritus of chemistry; Dr. Frederick Beaudry, assistant professor of environmental science; Dr. William Carty, professor of materials science and engineering; Dr. Hope Childers, assistant professor of art history; Dr. Kate Dimitrova, assistant professor of art history; Dr. Elizabeth Ann Dobie, professor of art theory; Dr. Juliana Gray, associate professor of English; Dr. Theresa Gunn, assistant professor of accountancy; Mark Lewis, visiting clinical instructor of business; Dr. David W. Lipke, assistant professor of materials science and engineering; Susan P. Morehouse, professor of English; Dr. Steven M. Pilgrim, professor of materials science and engineering; Angus M. Powers, associate professor of glass; Dr. Joseph W. Rosiczowski, professor of mechanical engineering; Dr. Jeffrey Sluyeter-Beltrao, associate professor of political science; Dr. G. David Toot, professor of physics; Kelly Williams, clinical instructor of education; and Christopher Yartym, clinical instructor of athletic training.

Accompanied by the AU Symphonic Band, under the direction of Dr. Christopher Foster, seniors Aubrey Fry, Katherine Turnquist, Vanessa Romance, Ben Proctor and Liam Maillero led the crowd in singing the "National Anthem" prior to the ceremonies. The Symphonic Band also provided pre-ceremony music and processional and recessional selections.

The invocation and benediction for the ceremony were provided by The Rev. Laurie J. DeMott, interfaith adviser and minister of the Union University Church, Alfred.

Schneider was named the outstanding Criminal Defense Lawyer by the State Bar of Texas, Criminal Justice Section, 1997. He has been listed in "Best Lawyers in America" in Criminal Defense and White Collar Defense from 2004-12. "Texas Lawyer" has listed him as a "Super Lawyer" from 2004-14. "Texas Lawyer's 2007 Go-To Guide" named him one of four "Top Notch Criminal Defense Lawyers in Texas."

In 2012, he was named the "Go-To Criminal Defense Lawyer in Texas" in "Texas Lawyer" newspaper's 2012 Go-To Guide. In 2011, "Texas Lawyer Magazine" named Schneider one of the "Twenty Five Greatest Texas Lawyers of the Past Quarter-Century." "Super Lawyers" named Schneider to the "Top 100 Houston Texas Super Lawyers 2011 List." And in 2007, he and a fellow Houston attorney received the "Order of Merit" from The Republic of Argentina for their work on a death penalty case involving an Argentine national on Texas' death row.

Mix recognized for volunteer work

HARRISONBURG, VA--An Alfred-Almond Central School graduate has earned more honors in his work at James Madison University in Harrisonburg, VA.

Donnie Mix of Grottoes, VA, was recognized as the Veteran Civic Learning Program's "Volunteer of the Year."

In a recent letter, R.J. Ohgren and Madison Holzman of the Veteran Civic Learning Program, said Mix "has consistently volunteered your time to our office and to students in the Civic Learning Program since 2008 and we feel your dedication to helping students deserves recognition."

The letter explained, "In their exit interviews and reflection papers, your mentees have repeatedly described the positive impacts you have had on their lives."

Some comments from a few of his mentees over the past seven years included, "Donnie was a great listener and also had great advice and experiences of his own to share with me," while another said, "It was nice for me to be able to talk to someone that could give me a much different perspective of life. With most people you meet, you don't exactly get into conversations like these that stimulate your thinking and growth."

Donnie, son of Kay Chapman of Alfred Station, resides with his wife Lydia in nearby Grottoes, VA.

Saxon softball season extended to NCAA World Series

SALEM, VA – The Alfred University softball team travels to Salem, VA, with a chance to make history, as the Saxons will be seeking the school's first-ever, NCAA team title. AU is one of eight teams competing at the NCAA Division III College World Series, which runs Thursday, May 21, through Tuesday, May 26.

AU (40-5) will take on Linfield (OR) College (37-13) at 1:30 p.m. today (Thursday, May 21) following the tournament's opening matchup between Texas-Tyler (47-3) and Kean University (30-13-1). If the Saxons beat Linfield, they will take on the winner of the Texas-Tyler/Kean University game at 4 p.m. Friday. If Alfred loses to Linfield, AU will play the loser of the Texas-Tyler/Kean game at 11 a.m. Friday.

Other teams in the double-elimination tournament are: Two-time defending champion Tufts University (46-0), Alma College (30-15), Salisbury University (35-6) and DePauw University (35-14). DePauw plays Salisbury at 4 p.m. Thursday and Tufts takes in Alma at 6:30 p.m. The winners of those games play at 6:30 p.m. Friday; the losers play at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

For more information and team capsules, visit: www.gosaxons.com.

Regional All-Stars

Alfred State Sports Round-up

Track & Field:

Six Pioneers traveled to Springfield College to compete at the ECAC Championships last week. The ECAC Championships featured athletes from 83 colleges.

The 4x100 relay team ran the 9th fastest time in school history to highlight day two. Zach Woodard (South Jefferson), Kyle Jones (Wilson), John Woodworth (LeRoy), and John Adewumi (Bordertown) finished in 43.11 to earn 16th place out of 32 teams.

Adewumi finished 15th in the 100 m dash preliminaries (11.03) and was 18th in the triple jump (13.26 m).

Victoire Kothor (Greece Odyssey) was 14th in the shot put (12.32 m) and was 24th in the hammer throw with a toss of 44.19m while Angel Bresnahan (Mexico) was 13th in the long jump (5.19).

End of Year Awards:

The athletic department recently held the annual end-of-year awards ceremony. Congratulations to the following recipients.

- Pioneer Award – Kay Pflughardt (Volleyball), Ryan Hierlwimmer (Baseball), & Tommy Hutson (Basketball)
- Athlete of the Year – Haley Witchella (Basketball) & Rasheed Williams (Football)

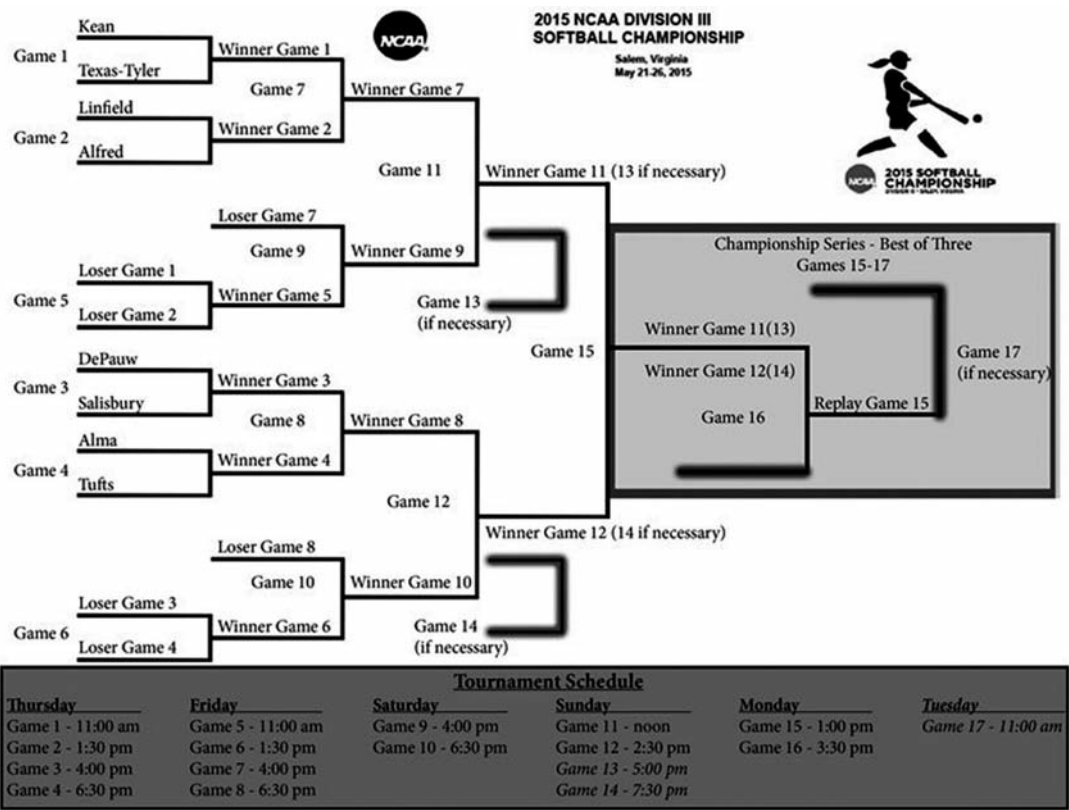

- Newcomer of the Year – Victoire Kothor (Track & Field), Aaron Buck (Lacrosse), & Bryce Cutler (Swimming)
- Leadership Award – Destiny Brito (Basketball) & Dylan Lewis-Ellison (Baseball)
- Sportsmanship Award - Lera Braun (Volleyball) & Nick Smith (Baseball)
- Academic Award – Lacey Hill (Soccer) & Brandon Teboe (Track & Field)
- Pioneer Honors – Morgan Franchina (Athletic Department Photographer)
- William Havens Award - Gene Doorley (Volleyball & Fitness Center).

Five members of the Alfred University softball team have been named National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA) regional all-stars.

The NFCA announced its all-region teams Monday and senior utility player Alison Wickwire (Towanda, PA) and sophomore third baseman Liz Thompson (Horseheads) were named Northeast Region First Team all-stars.

Junior shortstop Nicole Maher (Newark, DE/Caravel Academy) and sophomore first baseman Sophia Chiavatti (Tustin, CA/Foothill) were named to the Second Team; junior second baseman Dana Torchia (Pompton Plains, NJ/Pequannock Twp.) earned a spot on the Third Team.

The Saxons (40-5) won last weekend's NCAA Division III Super Regionals at Tiffin, OH, taking two from host Heidelberg, 3-2 and 8-6, after dropping the best-of-three game series.

HITS AND MISSES:

The Alfred Saxons softball team (40-5) is off to the NCAA Division III College World Series with a chance to bring home a national team championship for the first time ever in AU athletics! Coach Olivieri's squad traveled to Ohio last weekend to take on Heidelberg University in Tiffin, and after dropping the first contest, the Saxons bounced back for two wins in the best-of-three Super Regional format. Alfred lost, 5-1 and won by the scores of 3-2 and 8-6. Obviously this is the greatest team in AU softball history and the Saxons are one of eight programs with a shot at a NCAA trophy! Alfred will play Linfield (37-13) from Oregon first in Salem, Va. Linfield won the Northwest Conference and an automatic NCAA berth. Others in the field include: Texas-Tyler and Kean, DePauw and Salisbury, Alma and two-time defending champion Tufts with a "nifty" 46-0 slate. Yikes! It is a double-elimination outing that starts Thursday so the Saxons will either play the winner of Kean and Texas-Tyler or the loser in their second contest. Salem is also the host site for the NCAA Division III Championship in football ... also known as the annual Mount Union and Wisconsin-Whitewater battle. "Congrats" to the Saxons on their first-ever visit to the College World Series as they were E8 regular season champs, E8 tourney champs and Alfred Regional winners along the way before they zipped past Heidelberg. Tufts ... 46-0 ... pretty amazing.

The previously undefeated and #1-ranked RIT Tigers will not be headed to the NCAA Division III men's lacrosse championship contest this weekend in Philly as the Tufts Jumbos topped them in the semi-finals, 19-12 at Tiger Stadium. Again, Tufts and RIT have squared off in the last five NCAA tournaments, the Tigers undefeated heading into that game the last two years in the semi's and Tufts have emerged victorious four of those five years. The Jumbos won the championship last year after beating RIT and appear to be on their way to another trophy this year as the game is at Lincoln First Stadium. RIT is (42-2) the last two years, with both losses in the semi-finals. Ouch. RIT beat Tufts in 2013 in the quarterfinals and eventually lost in the title game to Stevenson. Tufts will play Lynchburg which beat previously undefeated Gettysburg, 11-9 in the other semi-final game. Assume that game was at Gettysburg, where Becky Bergren (A-A) works, as they were the #2 seed.

In other college tourney action, in Division III women's play, Cortland advances to the semi-finals as the Red Dragons beat Catholic by a 13-12 tally. Think they will play Middlebury from Vermont next. Fredonia lost to Franklin (Rusinko) & Marshall (Moses) over the weekend past, 16-9. F&M will next play Trinity.

In Division I lax action it is down to the "Final Four" for the men and women. For the men: Notre Dame, Denver, Johns Hopkins ... which beat Syracuse and Maryland. For the women: Syracuse, North Carolina, Duke and Maryland. Almost an all-ACC gathering here with the Terps an ex-member of the conference. Guessing Milko (SUNY Geneseo) will be off to take in some of the lacrosse play. My "expert" predictions ... Notre Dame and Duke.

Took in game one of the East Division finals in the NLL with noted area photographer, Leo Nealon on Saturday past as the Rochester Knighthawks were hosting the Toronto Rock (Korn) at the BCA/War Memorial. Great game, crazy crowd as the K-Hawks prevailed late, 10-9. The three-time defending champion 'Hawks will have to beat Toronto again this Saturday to advance to the championship round which is 2-of-3 this year. If Rochester wins game two, they are all set. If the Rock win, they will have a 10-minute mini-game to break the tie. The winner will take on the Edmonton-Calgary winner, probably Edmonton. Arena GM, Jeff E. Calkins (A-A) joined us in the fourth-quarter and provided "expert" analysis of the pro indoor lax game. Always good seeing him and hope to see him again at the A-A alumni banquet this July. Tix compliments of WHTK and the John DiTullio Show. Obviously didn't pay for them.

Mark S. Gaisser (A-A) continues his late-career slow pitch softball run as his 50/Bob Johnson squad competed in the Atlantic Coast Championships this past weekend in Virginia and took third-place with a (6-2) slate. Gaisser, a brother of Alfred State women's soccer coach Anne Holmok, was a gaudy 23-for-29 at the plate in the event which earned him all-tournament accolades. The ex-Eagle first sacker will have his name included in the (ssusa) site for this particular tourney. Vernon Van Skiver (Canisteo) played for this squad as well after his 55+ team was eliminated in the tourney. Both are former members of the Bandits tourney squad and the Joker's Wild softball team based out of Brockport.

It is high school sectional baseball time and the Alfred-Almond Eagles (13-2) are the #1 seed in Class "DD" action. The Eagles of Coach Keith Holmok will play this Friday against the winner of Avoca-Finney at home. Arkport is seeded third, Genesee Valley fourth, Jasper-Troupsburg fifth and Fillmore seventh. A-A and Lyndonville (#2) would be seeded to meet in the finals. "Guessing" under the lights at Frontier Field in Rochester! Or maybe in Hornell. In the "D" bracket Andover is the #2-seed and will first play the winner of Whitesville-Friendship. Bolivar-Richburg is a five-seed in "C" with Cuba-Rushford in the 14th slot. Wellsville is the #3 seed in "B" ... Denny Miles still coach there? Hornell is on the #13 line. Webster Schroeder is the #1-seed in "AA" play.

The annual Lilac 10K race was held this past weekend and the Masters winners were Derrick Jones ... the tireless one, for the men and Heather (Swarts) Webster ... originally from Dansville and with Alfred University ties. Further, detailed results next week from this race that has seen the likes of A-A grads John Tuttle (Olympian), Gary "Doc" Moore and Big D ... Derck Frechette all run in it. All former members of the elite Torrey Painting Striders and all A-A Hall of Fame members!

Spotted a few NYS vanity plates here and there: PLUSHLDY, NOHATEN, BIGBEV, TIN RIB ... Scum Wing(s) and RESQWGON ... the Yanks limping out of the 'Trop last week in St. Pete's.

The NBA conference title games are set and it'll be Houston-Golden State in the West and Cleveland-Atlanta in the East. The Warriors and Cavs to advance but Cleveland will struggle. What on earth happened to the LA Clippers, up 3-1 over Houston?

Rory McIlroy ... yikes!

American Pharoah ... Triple Crown time? Doesn't appear to be much competition for his Belmont run.

The Houston Astros ... still with the best record in the AL as of Sunday past. Amazing!

A great Memorial Day to all and to all who have served ... THANK YOU !!

Saxons take two at Heidelberg to punch ticket to World Series

TIFFIN, OH—Super Regional Champions! That's what the Alfred University softball team became on Saturday when they defeated Heidelberg University twice during the three-game series, 3-2 and 8-6, respectively.

Both games came down to the final three outs in the bottom of the seventh innings with the Saxons (40-5) being designated the visitors for both contests. The two AU pitchers who picked up the wins on Saturday were senior Alison Wickwire (Towanda, PA) and freshman Kerri Keeler (Jamesville-DeWitt). Keeler also earned the tournament's title of Most Outstanding Pitcher.

Sophomore third base Liz Thompson (Horseheads) earned the Most Outstanding Player award.

After the host Heidelberg Student Princes had defeated the Saxons 5-1 Friday at Frann's Field on the Heidelberg University campus in Tiffin, OH, AU Coach Gino Olivieri's gals had their work cut out for them in the best-of-three-game series.

Alfred eked out a 3-2 win in the opener, handing the Student Princes their first loss on their home diamond. Junior Dana Torchia (Pompton Plains, NJ/Pequannock Township) drove in the game's first and second runs when she hit a double, bringing in Thompson and senior Alyson Hampton (Oxnard, CA/Oxnard) for a Saxon 2-0 lead in the top of the third.

After Heidelberg tied the game up 2-2 in the bottom of the fourth with a two-run homer, junior Nicole Maher (Newark, DE/Caravel Academy) hit a single past the third baseman in the top of the seventh to bring home Thompson for the 3-2 finale with bases loaded.

Wickwire improved her pitching record to 13-3 after she gave up two earned runs and six hits but struck out five batters.

After evening the series at 1-1, the Saxons got things started in the nightcap by lighting up the scoreboard in the first three innings.

Maher earned the first RBI with a single up the middle, scoring Thompson and advancing Wickwire to second where she would be replaced by junior pinch runner, Mackenzie Miller (Newport, OR/Newport). Junior designated player Jasmine Picini (Alexandria, VA/West Potomac) ripped a double to left center that advanced Miller and Maher across home plate for a 3-0 lead after one.

out to centerfield for the sacrificed play, driving in Hampton for a Saxon 5-0 lead.

Maher scored on a wild pitch in the top of the third to bring the Saxons' tally up to six with the shutout before the Princes rallied to bring it within one run 5-6 in the bottom of the fourth.

Alfred held the hosts at bay with a Thompson double to right field that scored both Schaefer and Hampton, extending the Alfred lead to 8-5 with the entire seventh inning to play.

Heidelberg managed to get a runner home in the bottom of the seventh but a heads-up defensive play ended the threat of further damage when junior right fielder Samantha Jauregui (Lindsay, CA) threw the scoring single to Torchia at second who relayed it to Maher for the third and final out and the Super Regional Championship win.

The Saxons advance to Salem, VA for the double-elimination College World Series tournament and will face off with Linfield College in the opening round at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.
