

NOTED AUTHORITY ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY ON WORLD AFFAIRS

Speaker Declares We Are Living At End of Epoch And Are Fast Approaching a New One

Dr. Francis A. Henson, world-traveler, author and recognized authority on International affairs, spoke to students and faculty of Alfred University in the first assembly since holiday recess, Thursday in Alumni Hall.

Declaring that "today we are living at the end of an epoch and fast approaching a new one" Dr. Henson in graphic words unfolded a vivid analysis of the present as compared to the past from which his conclusions were drawn.

"Epochs are gradual and not sudden changes, as dates in our history books would lead one to believe," said the speaker as a matter of clarification in opening his address. "And looking back into history it is not difficult to note these changes and come to the conclusion that we are entering a new era."

The eminent authority, a graduate of Yale Divinity School and Columbia University, added that "the down-strokes of a number of social cycles are conjoining to bring about this new epoch, which when interpreted adequately in their inter-relationship of world affairs" left with the speaker five major conclusions, which formed the body of his address.

His first conclusion was that we "are on the verge of an economy of plenty, whereas the past has been one of scarcity with the significance of this previous experience being one of production. Today though the significance or problem is one of distribution."

At this point, Dr. Henson assailed those who believe that a remedy for what is mistaken as "over-production," should be the destruction of invention, and production to discard the surplus, when in reality the whole problem is one of the new epoch to solve—that problem of inefficient distribution.

"What a tragedy that after years and years of sacrifice to obtain this leisure and comfortable living, we have individuals who cannot recognize that the new era is at hand and that the problem is not one of destruction, but the making more abundant to all this new happiness of living."

He gave two methods by which this distribution may be achieved—one, by the historic method of new markets outside of our own country. The other was a citation of the N.R.A. program—the spreading of a buying power to all persons with which to purchase these goods, one characteristic of the "New Epoch" that was inevitable.

"People think of the N. R. A. as the riding of the crest of a wave over (Continued on page four)

Five Professors Give Chapel Talks This Week

Due to the absence of Chaplain McLeod, five different teachers from the University are giving the Chapel talks for the week. The substitutes began Monday with Doctor Binns, who presented an inspiring and worthwhile talk on "The Potter's House".

Today, Dr. Scholes talked interestingly and forcefully on the subject of "Sincerity". Tomorrow, Professor Nease will address the students on a topic yet to be decided upon. Thursday, Dean Conroe conducts the Chapel exercise with a talk on "Alice in Wonderland" followed Friday by Professor Crandall, who asks "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

Intramural Basketball For Women Starts

With the conclusion of the fourth inter-home basketball game, the relative standings of the houses are becoming apparent, although they may be upset yet.

Last Tuesday evening, January 9th, Pi Alpha Pi defeated the Question Marks (a team composed of women from the Brick and outside) by a score of 36 to 12. This game was rather slow and erratic while the next one between Theta Theta Chi and Sigma Chi Nu was faster and was marked by better passing. The result of the second game was 28-15 in favor of Theta Chi. The Sigma Chi cheering section added much to the interest of this game.

The last Tuesday before the Christmas vacation Pi Alpha Pi succumbed to Sigma Chi at the rate of 16 to 10 while the Brick team took over the Question Marks 32 to 12.

The members of the various teams, at least, are looking forward with enthusiasm to the games tonight when Pi Alpha and the Brick team play each other at 7:15 and Theta Chi and the Question Marks clash at 8:15.

Representative Reports On Y. W. C. A. Conference

At the usual meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Sunday night, an interesting talk was given by Jean Latta, who attended The Canadian-American Student Conference held at McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario, during the Christmas holidays.

Miss Latta said that there were three committees: One on race; another on nationalism; and a third, of which she was a member, on unemployment. They discussed all matters of unemployment pertaining to the entire world, as there were several foreign representatives present and the subject is one of national concern. They went deeply into the causes of unemployment and then turned to the topic of direct relief. It was decided that this type of aid is not beneficial to the people because it is apt to level men too much and thus decrease individualism. The abolition of child labor, shortening of hours, and, finally, the raising of wages is what the ideal government will do to abolish unemployment. They discussed Roosevelt's recovery program in full and she mentioned several things he has done so far.

The subject of fascism in Italy was then taken up and, at a later meeting, it was decided that fascism was a hindrance in the progress of any country and that it held people down by keeping them to their farms and denying them freedom.

There was also a most interesting talk on China, emphasizing the idea of nationalism. The main subject of this discussion was the bringing together of all types of people and teaching (Continued on page four)

NOTICE

On Thursday evening, January 18th, at seven forty-five, there will be a meeting of the Mathematic and Physical Science Club at Social Hall. There will be a short business meeting followed by an interesting exhibition by Donald Morris. Anyone who is interested in joining this club will be welcome at this next meeting.

University Plans Other Collegiate Centers AWAIT STATE SANCTION

Similar Experiment Successful

Tentative plans are being formed for the establishment of an emergency collegiate center at Jamestown and one at Bath under the direct supervision of Alfred University. Negotiations are under way between Alfred and these cities, but the whole operation still awaits the definite sanction of the New York State Education Department.

If arrangements can be completed, these centers will be fully accredited freshman colleges, open to recent high school graduates who are eligible for admission to college. A complete curriculum of the standard freshman course would be taught by unemployed college and university professors with advanced degrees or college teaching experience. Alfred University will have jurisdiction over these institutions, including the classwork and examinations from week to week as well as all finals.

Because of Alfred's high scholastic rating, all credits granted here would be transferable to any college in the country.

The success of a similar collegiate center established in Greenwich, N. Y., in September has elicited for Alfred University the praise of the State Department.

McLeod Attends A. A. C. Meeting In St. Louis

Chaplain McLeod is attending the annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges in St. Louis, Mo., representing Alfred University. He will also attend the meetings of the Church Board of Education and the Association of Church Workers in Colleges and Universities of United States. The Chaplain is president of the latter organization.

During the absence of Chaplain McLeod this week chapel will be conducted in the following manner:

Wednesday—Dr. Nease
Thursday—Dean Conroe
Friday—Professor Crandall

Student Senate Revives Purple Key Society

The Student Senate has recently reorganized the honorary association of the Purple Key. This organization was discontinued in 1932, and since then there has been no one to perform their duties.

The purpose of the Purple Key is to entertain all athletic teams and other visitors coming to Alfred. It will be composed of a Junior and Sophomore from each group on the campus, fraternities and non-fraternity. Lester Henry, of the Student Senate will be advisor.

It is expected that through the functioning of the Purple Key, Alfred will become noted for its hospitality and courtesy to visitors. Interscholastic Day will be one of the most important events for this group. At this time, teams from near-by schools come to Alfred. Their members are prospective college men, and the Purple Key will welcome and entertain them, showing them around our campus, and presenting Alfred to them in the most advantageous manner.

Magazine Prints Address By Late President

In the December 23d issue of "School and Society" is published the Inaugural address of Dr. Paul E. Tittsworth. He had corrected the proof sheets of this address, "The Creative Teacher", only a few days before his death on Dec. 10.

The same number of this magazine contains an item in regard to the election of Dr. Norwood as Acting President and Professor Conroe as Acting Dean.

NOTICE

Any one wishing to have material printed in the Fiat must have it in by Friday afternoon. Material arriving later cannot be made ready for publication.

Alfred University's basket ball team today know in part the potentialities they possess as a team, by virtue of their 30-20 victory over the highly reputed Niagara University quintet in Track and Field gymnasium Saturday night. The triumph was the Saxon's fourth straight of the year.

Displaying an airtight defense and a steam roller offensive, Coach John Galloway's men literally ran rough shod over the boys from the Cataract City—the same team which a few years ago beat John Marshall by a margin of 32 points and which lost a few weeks ago to Colgate by four points, to say nothing of the narrow defeat St. John's team handed them. St. John's, last year's Eastern champions.

Throughout the game, the visitors were held at bay by Galloway's midgets—and Alfred's men were comparatively speaking, midgets, for every one of Niagara's cagers stood head, and in some instances, shoulders, over their respective Saxon opponents. Not until the last three minutes of the first half did Niagara chalk up its field goal.

This in itself bespeaks the strong defensive playing of the Purple. On the other hand though, the Saxons were equally as brilliant on their offensive. Where Niagara found it an impossibility to penetrate the Alfred defense, Galloway's charges literally ran circles around their gauky-like opponents, scoring time after time on knife-edged passes and clock-like formations.

Alfred led at halftime, 14 to 8. Three minutes previous, the score was 13 to 3. In the last three minutes though, both Alfred and Niagara added a point each to their scores on a double foul, when Niagara garnered four points, when long shots proved to their advantage.

With the start of the second half, Alfred opened up with a bang, after Minnick made good on a set shot from the corner. There was little scoring though for a few minutes after this, although the floor game alone with Alfred holding the limelight, entertained plenty.

Then Niagara slowly began to climb up to Alfred's score, following two successful free throws that a couple of their men registered. With seven minutes to go they were within one (Continued on page four)

Beta Phi and Kappa Psi Lead Intramural Leagues

Beta Phi Omega and Kappa Psi Up-silon first teams were leading Leagues A. and B. respectively of the Intramural Basketball Conference, according to the official standings up to and including Sunday, as released today by Joseph Teta, president of the conference. Both teams have yet to be defeated.

In League A, the Beta Phi team has engaged in four games. Delta Sig is tied with them for first in standing of 1,000 per cent. However, Delta Sig has to date played only two games, as compared to Beta Phi's four that have been played and won. In League B, Kappa Psi leads with a 1,000 per cent. However, they too have only played two games, while the Non-fraternity team and Theta Nu's quintet—both teams of which are tied for second, have played a total of four games, losing one game, each.

There are two sides to every question. We read histories which establish our own righteousness. The Sioux felt this way about it.

I am a Sioux!

My fathers were the rulers of Dakotah;

The Pale Faces have made their children slaves!

The white man came for Gold!

We did not want him!

He took our lands.

We did not wish to fight!

But were we squaws?

Refuse protection of our homes? Our country?

He saw not the luster of the sunset;

He saw Gold!

He heeded not the frenzied winds—the passion tears of heaven;

He scorned the bleeding hills—the death-cry of the pines;

Laughed at their wounds—mocked at their agony;

He wanted Gold!

Did he keep peace? His treaties?

No! He wanted Gold!

What law have I broken?

Is it wrong for me to love my own?

Is it wicked in me because my skin is red?

Because I am a Sioux?

Because I was born where my fathers lived?

Because I would die for my people and my country?

They tell you that I murdered Custer.

It is a lie!

His eyes were blinded and he could not see.

He was a fool and he rode to his death.

He made a fight, not I.

Whoever tells you I killed the Yellow hair is a liar!

I want only this remembered:

I was the last man of my tribe to give up my rifle.

I have spoken.

McKee

There is parallel to this case in our modern world. Let us weigh it carefully and with open minds. There are two sides to every question.

THE QUESTION OF THE WHITE SWEATERS

The question that we will have to answer in this week's assembly is, shall we award white sweaters to Senior Athletes earning their letter. It is well that we should think about this matter before we decide. It is believed by some that giving this extra award will promote greater interest in athletics; that it will persuade the less outstanding to come out for the squad. Many feel that we should show our appreciation with extra award. Other colleges reward the athletes with sweaters each year. On the other hand, many of the senior athletes have already received one sweater and those who have been on the squad for three years without earning their letter will undoubtedly receive theirs and a sweater this year. Many will receive gold footballs, others basketballs, etc. The money that these extra white sweaters will cost can be used to further other worthwhile activities and enterprises. These are just a few arguments for and against this added award and no doubt others will come up in our minds. We should consider before we vote.

GRAPPLERS LOSE 1ST MATCH TO BUFFALO

Handicapped by injuries, Alfred University's varsity grapplers lost their opening match of the 1934 schedule to University of Buffalo's wrestling team by a 21-15 score in the gymnasium, Saturday night.

The lads from the Bison City institution garnered their points in three falls and two time decisions. The Saxons obtained their points with three fall victories, all of which came in slam bang fashion with the opening three matches.

The match nung fire, however, until the last bout, due of course to the big advantage piled up by Evans, Silowitz and Tolbert of the Purple. Coach Gus Felli at the climax of the final bout then felt more seriously the injuries his squad has incurred, especially Captain Lou Greenstein, who because of a wrenched back was forced to view the match from the sidelines.

Ross Evans, bantam grappler on the Saxon roster, as well as "Toby" Silowitz in the 126 pound class, both displayed scientific and spectacular grappling in throwing their opponents for fall victories. Evans' time was slightly more than three minutes, while Silowitz pinned Conjur of the Bisons in less than two and a half minutes.

The stellar bout of the night, perhaps, was that between Tolbert and Cuthbert of Buffalo in the 145 pound division. In the opening seconds, Cuthbert happened to get a lucky hold on Tolbert, who managed to squirm out of it and in less than two minutes and fifty seconds from the starting signal, turned the tables completely on Cuthbert for a fall victory.

Bertini and Roth of Alfred, matched against veterans of the Buffalo team, displayed exceptional stamina to withhold their opponents from fall victories. Bardoe's advantage of better than five minutes gave him victory over Bertini, while Zuh of Buffalo piled up better than eight minutes in time to defeat Roth.

The summary:
118—Evans of Alfred, fall over Dirusa of Buffalo. Time 3:1 and 4/5.
126—Silowitz of Alfred, fall over Conjur of Buffalo. Time 2:16.
135—Bardoe of Buffalo, decision over Cuthbert of Buffalo. Time 5:20.
145—Tolbert of Alfred, fall over Cuthbert of Buffalo. Time 2:50.
155—Seubert of Buffalo, fall over Chaouse of Alfred. Time 2:29.
165—Pusateri of Buffalo, fall over Perkins of Alfred. Time 1:47.

RADIO CLUB OBTAINS OPERATING LICENSE

The Alfred Radio Club is now licensed to operate an amateur broadcasting station at the Terra Cotta. The club was assigned the call letters, WSLHK, and has been broadcasting since last Wednesday.

A four tube short wave receiver was purchased from Harold C. Whitford of Hornell. Seven members of the club, Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Cortelyou, Howard Gould, Oliver Young, Burdette Nash, Clyde Saunders, and Earl Beeton visited K8DHQ, Mr. Whitford's station, to inspect the apparatus, and purchased it Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Cortelyou, Burdette Nash, and Earl Beeton attended the monthly meeting of the Southern Tier Transmitting Amateurs' Club after dinner at the Whitford home. The S. T. T. A., of which Mr. Whitford is president, met at the home of Edward O'Connor, who operates station WSICT.

At present Alfred's station, WSLHK, has only two licensed operators, Howard Gould, and Oliver Young. Mr. Gould is conducting a code class every Wednesday evening to aid club members in their code practice. Henry Blanchford, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Cortelyou hope to be able to take the government examinations for amateur operators during Easter vacation.

A class in radio theory is being conducted by Earl Beeton. The class meets every Wednesday from 9:30 to 10:30 P. M. in the new Ceramic Building. This Wednesday Mr. Beeton will give a lecture on "The Role of Induction and Capacity in Radio Tuning", the fourth in the series.

A special business meeting will be held in lecture room B in the new Ceramic Building at 8 P. M., Wednesday.

SPOTLIGHT

The picture which you have waited for and longed to see is coming Thursday night, Jan. 18. It will pay you to see "Gold Diggers of 1933". It is all that you expect and more. Your favorite movie stars will be featured in it, including Joan Blondell, Ruby Keeler, Dick Powell, Aline MacMahon, Warren William, Ginger Rogers, and Guy Kibbee. Beats "42d Street". It's a colorful musical comedy with pleasing songs and unusually elaborate dance ensembles. Furthermore, for your entertainment, "Buddy's Day Out" and News.

For Saturday, Jan. 20, a Lionel Barrymore picture, "One Man's Journey". A really swell picture that cannot fail to please everybody. Barrymore is assisted by Dorothy Jordan, Joel McCrea, and Frances Dee in this picture of a small town doctor. Walter Donaldson, well-known composer, works on deck while supposed to be taking a sea voyage. Some popular numbers and dances that are worth seeing.

Is this news! A certain student invited a co-ed to have dinner with him at "Hill's" and to his regret she did not show up. Imagine a girl tossing up a dinner engagement, I hope she hasn't signed the NRA code (which states that a girl shouldn't eat more than the requirements.)

Fanny the Frosh says she wishes the posters had pictures on them of those wrestlers that are going to be such an attraction Wednesday night.

175—Rich of Buffalo, fall over Fedor of Alfred. Time 4:21 and 4/5.

Unlimited—Zuh of Buffalo, decision over Roth of Alfred. Time 8:50.

Referee: Seidlin, Cornell, former National Intercollegiate Wrestling Champion; Deegen, Alfred, scorer and timer.

CHAPLAIN JAMES C. McLEOD

By Elizabeth Hallenbeck

Chaplain James C. McLeod

Four years ago Rev. James C. McLeod came to Alfred University as the first chaplain. As this was a new office at Alfred, it offered to the Yale Divinity School graduate a unique opportunity to serve.

The desire to be a minister was a well founded one long before college days. At the age of seven, Chaplain McLeod delivered lengthy, religious discourses out of the telephone book from the top of the stairs. After preparation at Mercersburg Academy, Lafayette School and Nichols Preparatory School, he matriculated at Middlebury College to major in philosophy and English. He was president of the freshman class, and thoroughly enjoyed participating with the college track team, work on the weekly publication as editor, associate editor of the literary magazine, and filling the columns of the "Blue Baboon," the humor magazine.

With the aid of a scholarship, pastorates in three churches, and coaching soccer-football and basketball at Hopkins Preparatory School, Chaplain McLeod worked his way through Yale Divinity School. Even though his notes did blow off the speaking stand when he spoke as a candidate at Alfred, the fall of 1929, found him chaplain at Alfred University.

The chaplain is a voracious reader. He admits his keen interest in athletics, but gives reading as his hobby for publication. However, secretly, his ambition is to write a novel. Up to now, he has written many short stories and much poetry. Incidentally, any time the Chaplain doesn't mention the author of unfamiliar, poetic quotations, they are his own.

Chaplain McLeod is vitally interested in all campus activities. He is affiliated with Delta Upsilon, Kappa Phi Kappa, Pi Delta Epsilon and Pi Gamma Mu.

"Ideas are best that come off hand," the Chaplain says. In his desk there is a special drawer for "spur of the moment" thoughts. He keeps all sermons, chapel talks, and speeches, systematically filed in his study. It is interesting to read what one has written two years ago and see how much two years of experience alters view points.

Chaplain McLeod's dream for Alfred is to have a chapel equal or superior to any college chapel in the country. It would be a place where the student could find an atmosphere of beauty, creativity, energizing spiritual power and strength.

LIBRARY NOTES

A BELATED GREETING

All Right:

We vowed we wouldn't say it. We reflected coldly that it had been said approximately one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three times before, and that was plenty. But we found it wasn't. We found that we craved to say it, and say it from the bottoms of our hearts with a fervent, friendly grin. All right. We give up. Here it is. Happy New Year—and we mean it.

No. 4183

That is the current number of one of our favorite resolutions. It is about the best resolution we make. Just the same—even at the risk of weakening our character with eternal making and breaking—we're going to resolve once more: To give our most efficient service to the students and faculty of Alfred University, during 1934.

ALUMNI

The National American Alumni Council will meet at Sky Top, Pa., in the Poconos, April 26, 27 and 28.

Alumni group meetings are to be held as follows: Rochester, April 7; Olean, April 14; Albany, April 21; Chicago, April 28. The meeting at Buffalo is expected to be held May 5.

Mr. George H. Garnhart, class of '25, who was president of the Buffalo group, has resigned, and Mrs. Lawrence Bailey, ex-'23, has been appointed in his place.

Wardner Williams, class of 1880, and a resident of Pueblo, Colorado, and Rev. L. D. Seager, ex-'76, of Farina, Illinois, both died recently.

SOCIAL NEWS

Delta Sig

Week-end guests at the house included "Ken" Dunbar, James Deegan, Kenneth Dimon and Fred Trump, all of Elmira.

Turner, Hackett and Murray descended to honor us at dinner with their lady friends, Miss Helen Palmer, Miss Dolly Earl and Miss Evelyn Wilday, respectively.

We wish to take this opportunity to announce the formal initiation of Philip P. Adessa, Raymond Lesh, and Robert Bruce.

Theta Theta Chi

Once more back for work, but so far it has been more talk than work—all the girls had a grand vacation, everyone found home rather a nice place and enjoyed sleeping through eight bells.

Santa must have made a stop here on the twenty-fifth, because on our arrival we found four new dining tables and a Welch cabinet. Indeed, the dining room looked very different and since the new curtains are up, there is quite a sunny appearance to the room.

The new year resolution of wasting no time has taken effect, and every one is very busy and they expect to be more so with exams looming above the horizon.

Pi Alpha Pi

Saturday night we danced to the rhythm of the Fitch Brothers at our annual winter formal held in Social Hall. The orchestra added much humor and zest by their fast and peppy numbers and helped to make the party a success. Their novelty numbers were unusually clever. Refreshments were served during intermission by the able and willing (?) sophomores. Our greatest desire was to "turn back the clock", but all good things must come to an end. Even "Susie" herself seemed to be having a good time.

Our chaperones were Miss Larkin, Mrs. Ellis, Professor and Mrs. Harder and Professor and Mrs. Amberg.

Nice going teams! Keep up the good work.

Kappa Nu

Well vacation is over and we're all ready for work (?) Most everybody is back.

"Bull" sessions are rampant. Cries of "Where's my other sock?" "Who took my shirt?" ring out through the house in the morning. Yep, school's on!

"Dishing the Dirt" (with our deepest apologies to Winchell and Orzano) What football player is sort of "incoherent" about a certain little miss whose first name is somewhat similar to an after shaving lotion? (It starts with "Witch," you finish it!)

We wonder if Woloshin gets up at that unearthly hour of seven, Saturday and Sunday morning, just because he's fond of horses.

Morty Kempler, the ole smoothie, is whispering sweet things into L. C.'s eardrums.

The Marquis deGoldstone has formed a Buck Rogers club. Nize boy, drink up all the Coco Malt.

And if you think that every moment that Roth was wrestling, Berger was not suffering, you're crazy!

Captain Greenstein was also tired

FRESHMEN DEFEAT ANGELICA HIGH 36-17

Yearling cagers of Alfred University with an inconsistent brand of ball garnered their second victory of the season over Wilsonian High School of Angelica by a 36-17 score here, Wednesday night.

Angelica's team, coached by an Alfred alumnus, Eugene Guinter, put up a game battle against the natural advantages of height that the yearlings possessed. Likewise, however, the Saxon freshmen were handicapped, inasmuch that after a three weeks' holiday vacation, they had only practiced together twice since returning to school last Monday. And that the freshmen were sadly in need of rehearsals was proven in the first quarter and early minutes of the second. During the initial period, Angelica battled the yearlings tit for tat with the lead alternating three times with Alfred stepping out as the curtain dropped to take the lead at 12-10.

From this time on, Alfred never lost the lead. Slowly during the early minute of the second, the yearlings added points to their total, while their checking began to tell on the Wilsonian cagers, Angelica clocking in only two points during the quarter. At half time the count was 22-12.

In the third quarter, both teams again played on a par offensively with the ledger reading 27-16 at the start of the fourth. In the last period, the visitors failed to chalk up a basket and registering only one free throw.

Davis, lanky six foot three pivot man, and Oberhanick, stellar right guard, were the two men who in the major brought victory into the Alfred camp. Between the two of them, 24 points were scored by Oberhanick, hooking in 15. On the other hand, Lytle of Angelica kept pace with Davis, to also chalk up nine points to win offensive honors among his teammates. Young played a good game at guard for the visitors.

Alfred made two out of five attempts in charity throws, while the Wilsonian team garnered three points out of a possible nine.

Ball: "Oh, that's all right; tell her that I am glad I didn't come."

Girls, I see that Gale is back in circulation (Sotto Voice, "So What?") Call Burdick Hall, 29Y4, anytime. But if you hear a feminine voice, hang up.

I ask you, was our cross country star embarrassed at a recent basket ball game when his two rival "Mal de Coeurs" met? I'll pick Alfred.

The outstanding event of the week, Alfred has gone mad. Can you imagine yourself in the Collegiate from four until six p. m. waiting for a certain professor to get his evening mail so that you can get a look at his head gear? Don't give up for I'm sure that he will show up yet.

Unpopular? No, I would just say that the "Gabled" sorority girls were just showing some of the boys that they did not need escorts to take them to last week's game. Delta Sig isn't doing so bad either, what do you say boys?

Minnick and Audrey have gone to the well for water once too often, I could never understand why students always studied in pairs, but now I find that it just makes your lessons a bit more interesting. You will find some very, very interesting books on "Romeo and Juliet" in the basement of our library. "I didn't know that!"

DR. HENSON IN ASSEMBLY

an ocean of trouble, but it is more significant than that and marks a new step in the development," he declared.

The second major point in his discourse was that "we are living in an interdependent world and have since the fall of the Roman Empire. One must not study the present trends of nationalism but look towards the developments of the years past that tend to bring the peoples of all nations closer together," citing more efficient communication and faster travel as illustrative.

At this point the authority declared that "a second world war is inevitable unless the major peoples of the world come to recognize the deeper developments that tend to bring the world into inter-dependence, instead of the more emotional appeals at chaotic times of nationalism—a myth of self-attained patriotism."

A growing class consciousness, in the broad sense and throughout the world, was his third point. Bringing this point nearer to home interpretation, Dr. Henson again cited the N. R. A. program, which he said was developing and encouraging of different classes—such as, unification of employers, the middle class of workers and other groups.

"Although the primary objective is one of economics, other aspects of social and culture developments will express themselves in these groups, especially the growing middle-class proletarian, who in the near future because of his growing numbers will be more able to express himself and be heard," declared the speaker.

Dr. Henson, a Virginian by birth and boyhood environment, cited his next point as a "growing intelligent antagonism between creeds and races"—placing a particular stress upon the "intelligent antagonism".

"I am convinced that the old philosophy is gone and that qualitatively there is something new in the sense of relationship, after talking to what are called the 'new intelligents' of these suppressed races of Negroes, Chinese and the like, who are coming to realize their own abilities and strength of numbers."

He cited as illustrative, the rise of Japan to a world power, after once being taught by the man of the west, as well as another illustration—that of Ghandi of India, "who literally threatens the very foundations of the British Empire, by his passive resistance to their control."

Dr. Henson's fifth and final point was that "our cultural, religious and political sphere as it is now changing is in a direct, striking contrast comparable to that of the Renaissance or the Protestant Reformation—new philosophies that are finding individual expression in art and literature."

"In other words," he said, "we are moving like the swing of the pendulum in the opposite direction and about ready to start the down-stroke and with it the collectivist society is disappearing for the good of the individual."

With regard to religion he cited that all men must be inspired by a God to be purposeful toward other human beings, otherwise no religion or creed, which is merely the form of worship of this God or Divine Spirit, can come to mean much to anyone.

He urged also that before drawing conclusions an individual should study the past in relationship to the present, and not only to study and draw these conclusions, but actually do something to bring about the results that an intelligent study should bring a person to realize.

She: Why-er-ah I don't know how to ask you—

He: Oh, do go right ahead.

She: Why a-a I was wondering of you would, that is my sorority is having a dance and—

He (gasping hopefully) Yes, go on.

She: I was wondering if you'd lend me your waxer to wax our floors.

(That's oke if you don't get splinters in it.)

Teacher: "Where is your brother?"

Boy: "We were having a contest to see which one could lean out the window the further and he won."

HOBART LOSES FAST GAME TO ALFRED

Rallying in the last two and a half minutes of play, after a Hobart College barrage had put that team five points in the lead, Alfred University's cagers came back to chalk up ten points to give the Saxons a 35-30 victory over the Deacons from Geneva in the gymnasium, Wednesday night.

It was Alfred's third straight victory of the season, and the second in New York State (Little Ten) Intercollegiate Conference play. With the triumph, Coach Galloway's charges more firmly imbedded themselves in a first place tie with University of Buffalo and St. Lawrence University, inspired and ready to meet another conference team in Alfred, Saturday night, Niagara University.

During the first half, it was nip and tuck. At one time Hobart led 6-3. Then Alfred came back to deadlock the count at eight. With five minutes to go, Captain Young chalked up two free throws, followed by a long steve from mid-court to give the Saxons a 14-9 lead. In the remaining three or four minutes though, Hobart rallied to pull up on the short end of a 14-13 count at the half.

The second half in its early stages saw both teams playing air-tight ball. It was tit for tat with Alfred, however, holding the lead by a margin of a couple or three points, until Spies of Hobart cut loose. Edelson sunk one from under to open the scoring and put the Saxons on the long end of a 16-13 count. A minute or so later he added a couple via the free throw route, while Hobart garnered two points with a basket.

A minute or so lapsed until Adessa within close succession scored two more field goals for Alfred, giving the Purple an eight point lead. At first it looked like the Saxons were off to the races, but Hobart called a time out here. Nine minutes remained to be played and with time in Spies came forth with all the splendor of a "Dick Merriwell".

From the tip-off Spies dribbled down the floor to score and a second later duplicated from under the basket. Within another half minute, he dropped another. The score was tied at 22 all, but this was not enough for the wiry Hobart forward and within another fifteen seconds he chalked up another from the side to give Hobart the lead—but not for long. Trumbull came back for Alfred to deadlock the ledger at 24.

Spies' brilliant offensive, however, was an inspiration to his teammates and during the remaining four or five minutes, a basket by Hynes and another by Twardokus, as well as one also by Spies brought the count up to Hobart, 30; and Alfred, 25. Two and a half minutes remained to play. It looked like goose eggs for the Purple, and then Alfred's firey, spasmodic, "Red" Java went into the game.

His entrance into the game seemed to electrify the team into action, but it was a pass from Captian Young to Trumbull, who scored to bring the count up to 27-30, that really opened Alfred's brilliant comeback. A second later Java tried a long one and missed. Edelson, however, was under the basket and taking it from the backboard scored. Minnick next tried a long one. This time Java, under the board, tipped it in, giving Alfred a 31-30 lead. A half minute remained and in that half minute Edelson again scored as a result of another of Java's long steves, while as the last couple of seconds tipped off Trumbull registered from beneath to bring the count up to 35-30.

ST. BONNIES TO PLAY ALFRED THURSDAY

The Alfred University Basketball team will meet St. Bonaventure on the St. Bonnie's home court, Thursday night. The Saxons are looking forward to a plenty tough game. In fact it will be the first time this season that Coach John Galloway and his men have left the local lair to invade enemy territory. To date, Alfred has played four games at home and clocked in four straight victories.

According to reports the Bonnies will have, besides the home court advantage, another big asset in the comparative tallness of their men over the height of the Alfred cagers.

On Saturday night, Alfred will be invaded by the Bulls of the University of Buffalo for another New York State Intercollegiate (Little Ten) Conference game. Alfred's yearlings will meet Buffalo's freshmen in a preliminary, starting at 7:15 o'clock.

Both Buffalo and Alfred this year are represented by stellar quintets. And providing that the Saxons continue to show the same teamwork that they have in the past, win or lose, Buffalo, after Saturday night, will know that they have experienced some pretty tough opposition.

point of the Alfred total, 18-19 and for a few minutes, the Purple cagers called time out to talk things over.

With time in, they felt things out and then Minnick on a set shot started the barrage that proved Niagara's downfall. Five minutes remained to play and in those five minutes, Trumbull cut to score another, followed by another set shot by Minnick. Trumbull concluded the scoring with a tap shot.

There were no individual stars on the Alfred team. Where one man excelled in a specific department, another starred in some other phase, while all worked together as a unit.

ing them how to get along together. Many things were accomplished during this conference; the main things being that many new acquaintances were made. Also, a better understanding of common problems and the relation of Jesus Christ to our problems. Other Alfredian representatives were Chaplain McLeod and Howard Olsen.

ALFRED

Where the lazy Kanakadea
Rolls in pensive eddies by Cupped in hills whose wooded summits

Thrust into an azure sky,
Stand piles of rock and mortar
Built by hands long stilled and gone
Hands of workers whose long labors
Shaped the objects of this song.
"Dust thou art, to dust returneth"

Runs the poets ancient lay
Words like these can n'er embrace
Products wrought of living clay,
For your harvests have been plenty.
Reaped by hopes of more than gold
In your patient generous moulding
Of our youth's grouping soul.

Thus to thee, Old Alfred
Do we reverently lay
Oral wreaths in praise of service
Time may wear down living tissue
Bow a head once proud and high
But the fruits of thoughtful teaching
Keep increasing, never die.
