OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF TOWN AND VILLAGE OF ALFRED AND ALFRED-ALMOND CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

Vol. 134, No. 44 Alfred, Allegany County, New York State, U.S.A. 14802 Thursday, November 14, 2019

Bring on all that snow!

Town of Almond ready to maintain roads with new salt shed

ALMOND—Just in the nick of time, the Town of Almond is better equipped to maintain the town's many miles of roads during winter weather, thanks to a newly completed salt shed.

Almond Town officials gathered on Wednesday morning, Oct. 30 to cut the ribbon on the $431,000 facility that will store 6,000 tons of salt and sand. Town Supervisor Dawn A. Wildrick-Cole said that thanks to a state grant received a few years back, the Town's share of the cost is about 20%.

Town Highway Superintendent Jamie Mansfield said the facility will allow the Town to now save on salt and sand cost. He said the Town had suffered lost sand and salt when it was stored on the ground.

Wildrick-Cole said ground was broken on the building this past summer. She credited "the highway guys" for moving the old pile, putting down the floor and doing all of the prep work. She said the Town provided much of the labor, the site preparation and pouring and all the blacktop work.

"The building went up fairly quickly once the materials got here," added Mansfield, estimating that the building was constructed in about two weeks time.

Wildrick-Cole said that grants are a lot of work.

"We had a grant administrator that has helped us through those bumps and they've been invaluable to us," she said, adding, "It has been a long road, a labor of love. It's exciting that it's here and done."

It's as if the Town of Almond Highway Department is saying, "Snow in the forecast? Bring it on!"

But don't blame the Almond Town Highway Department for this week's early winter weather.

ALFRED STATE COLLEGE

College receives $2.25 million Title III grant

ALFRED—Alfred State College is pleased to announce that it has been awarded a five-year $2.25 million grant from the US Department of Education as part of the Title III Strengthening Institutions Program.

This program is designed to help eligible colleges and universities expand their capacity to serve low-income students by providing funds to improve and strengthen the academic quality, institutional management, and fiscal stability of eligible institutions.

To be eligible for the Title III grant, an institution must have at least 50 percent of its degree students receiving Title IV need-based assistance or have a substantial number of enrolled students receiving Pell Grants, and also have low educational and general expenditures.

Alfred State will now utilize the grant to increase several target areas, including student retention, associate degree completion rates for students considered "at risk," bachelor's degree completion rates, student satisfaction with advising, and the college's endowment fund. It will also seek to reduce financial services' caller wait times and abandon rate.

Dr. Skip Sullivan, president of Alfred

State, said, "Our college is grateful to have been awarded the Title III grant and we look forward to implementing several strategies that will enhance student success. I applaud Betsy Penrose for leading the effort that made it possible for us to receive this grant."

Dr. Kristin Poppo, provost, said, "Alfred State College is committed to helping each of our students meet their goals and attain a higher educational credential. The Title III Strengthening Institutions grant allows us to enhance our student support so that more ASC students are successful. Students are our first priority at ASC, and we are thrilled to be able to enhance their experience through this grant."

Betsy Penrose, vice president of Enrollment Management, said, "The Title III Strengthening Institutions funding will help us build upon the strong student success foundation at Alfred State. We plan to expand academic advising, improve student onboarding, and increase the college's endowment to support students in the future. This grant is an unwavering commitment to our students and an investment in their success."

A recent trip to Geneseo

On a recent trip to Geneseo, NY, to dine at Euro Cafe' with friends from our Alfred University days, we were attracted to the items in the photos. The first was a drain to the city's storm sewer. Of course, the Genesee River runs nearby, on its way to Lake Ontario. The second was to a patriotically painted former mail drop box. Please see photos for explanations.

CRAIG BRAACK

Historical Society will meet Nov. 17

ALMOND—Come to the Almond Historical Society November meeting on Sunday, Nov. 17 and listen to Allegany County Historian Craig Braack give an exciting account of his personal celebration in May in Utah of the sesquicentennial of the completion of the Transcontinental Railroad.

The Hagadorn House on the corner of Main and Kardale Avenue (at the red light) will open at 2 p.m., with the AHS annual meeting to be held at 2:30. Louise Schwartz, president, will conduct the election of officers and report on this year's activities.

Refreshments will be served.

Second annual Polar Plunge to aid H2O for Puerto Rico

ALFRED—Alfred University's H2O for Puerto Rico initiative will sponsor a polar plunge into icy Foster Lake from 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 24. This is the second year students, faculty, administrators and community members will be (briefly) plunging into Foster Lake to raise money for a water-related charity.

Last year, over $4000 was raised for the Navajo Water Project at the plunge, which was just one of many fund raisers to raise money to install running water in homes on the Navajo reservation.

This year, funds are being raised to install a new well in the village of Buenos Aires in Puerto Rico through the charity RCAP Solutions. Many communities on the island, including Bueno Aires, are still recovering from the devastating effects of Hurricane Maria two years ago.

If you would like to register to "plunge" or if you would like to pledge money to someone who is plunging, please visit <http://polarplungeforpuertorico2019.myevent.com>.

If you would like to come to the plunge, come to Foster Lake on Sunday, Nov 24 by 1 p.m. Because parking is right at the lake, consider parking on Lake Road and walking in (it isn't very far). There will be a bonfire and hot chocolate at the event for warmth.

If you have any questions, contact Jeff Sluyter-Beltrao at jsluyter@alfred.edu or Michele Hluchy at fhluchy@alfred.edu.

SUNNY SIDE UP

By ELLEN SHULTZ
Alfred Sun Columnist

John Bull Sauce...like Uncle Sam

[Editor's Note: Like most of the recipes she shared with our readers over the past couple of decades, Ellen Shultz's Sunny Side Up columns are worth repeating.]

Carl Shively gave me the recipe this week. He says Sylvia used to make this delicious sauce to go over raisin or spike cake. It was always one of his favorites in the fall. I used it over pumpkin-raisin cake and it delighted my family.

Carl said he didn't know why it was called John Bull Sauce, so I looked up John Bull on Google and found as the first listing a distinguished English keyboard player who lived from 1562 to 1628. Perhaps by keyboard they meant harpsichord.

The next entry said that John Bull is the personification of England much like our Uncle Sam stands for the United States. The origin is traced to a character in John Arbutnot's The History of John Bull published in 1712. John Bull then appeared in cartoons in the Punch magazines. He was accompanied by an English bulldog. The characterization was used even through World War II, but appears only infrequently now. There is, however, an English outdoor clothing company that now bears this name.

John Bull Sauce

Mix together: 1 stick butter, melted, 2 c. milk

Add: 3 T. cornstarch, 1/4 c. sugar, cinnamon to taste

Mix cornstarch to a smooth paste with a little of the butter and milk mixture, then add to the rest, stirring constantly. Heat slowly to a boil and until thickened, stirring carefully. Watch not for scorching. Cool a little, then add sugar and cinnamon. Serve warm over raisin or spice cake.

Now serving sarcasm all day!

Dear Editor:

The Alfred-Alfred Station Community Chest kicked off its 2019 drive the week of October 15. We have held our budget meeting and have set our goal for this year at $ 36,965 (over $800 less than last year). The need for charitable donations around the world continues to be great. We hope that those who have been so generous in the past will continue to help the agencies that provide support for our young people, for our older citizens, and to the less fortunate of our community. We also encourage new members of the community, and those who have not donated recently, to step up and replace the gifts of those who have left the area recently. New members of the community are encouraged to send donations to

ISIS PICKS A NEW LEADER...

Last Hurrah—Or Should I Say, Last Huffing-And-Puffing Or,

From Now On We're Going To Call Them "The Great Sweaty Mountains",
And Since We Were At Their Highest Peak Till After Sunset,
I Suppose We Should Rename That To "Clingman's Gloam"—
But That Might Be Asking A Lot

We went to the Smokies for last-minute hiking before Old Man Winter's big show.
"Why not Adirondacks?" we're frequently asked.
Look around you—you really don't know?!

No, it seems we prefer just to torture ourselves up the steep Stairs of Chimneyith Ungol:
To end with no heart attack—or broken leg—
why, we see THAT as being a fun goal.

(Of course, in the process of scaling the Stairs, you'll maybe encounter a spider;
If perchance it should be quite the size of a bear...
you might give it a berth a bit wider.)

Now, when hiking a trail up a tall and steep mountain, has this ever happened to you?
You've climbed all the way to the top of the peak—then forgotten to look at the view.

Yes, I—after starting down—turned back around,
and brought my descent to a halt
So to take in the vista—but did it darn quick, lest I turn to a pillar of (ba)salt.

—Ungolymous

Quite frankly, we'd like you to subscribe to the Sun!

Back in 1884, a simple item appeared in the Alfred Sun that said,
"Wanted, one thousand subscribers to the Sun."

That goal suggested by Sun co-founder and legendary Editor and Publisher Frank A. Crumb, was met before the new millennium. But now

CENTER FOR TRADITIONAL ACUPUNCTURE

Renowned Acupuncture Instructor Visits Alfred

Submitted by KEVIN FERST
Licensed Acupuncturist

As many of you know, The Center for Traditional Acupuncture continues to operate in Alfred. We are open one day a week, by appointment only, and practice in the back of Hair Care. The rest of the week we are open in our main clinic in Hamburg, Southtowns Acupuncture & Herbs.

Over the past year we have had the good fortune to host one of our teachers, Dr Martha Lucas, in both our Alfred and Hamburg locations. Dr Lucas is a well known acupuncturist who lectures throughout the world on a variety of specialized topics including pulse diagnosis, cosmetic acupuncture, women's health, and more. In addition to our regular weekly clinics with Kevin in Alfred, we have held several special clinic events in Alfred throughout 2019, in which Dr Lucas worked with both Sarah and Kevin on advanced pulse diagnosis. We were able to serve over 50 local patients in these specialty clinics in 2019. It has been a great pleasure to have her with us in Alfred, and she has come to love this community as much as we do. We look forward to having her return in 2020. Please email us at clinic@alfredacupuncture.com if you have any questions. Now a letter that Dr. Lucas wrote to Alfred.

Acupuncture in Alfred:
View from the Rocky Mountains

Submitted by DR. MARTHA LUCAS

Licensed Acupuncturist

Hi Alfred!

Some of you already know me: I'm Martha Lucas, a Research Psychologist and Practitioner of Chinese Medicine living in Denver. In the last year, I have visited Alfred three times, have been welcomed, and have met some wonderful people from the area. Let me explain how I even ended up visiting Alfred.

In April of 2018, I met Kevin and Sarah Nelson Ferst. Sarah was attending a class I was teaching in Cosmetic Acupuncture in Toronto. The weather was frightful; my flight out of Toronto was canceled so I changed to a flight out of Buffalo. Kevin and Sarah knew I needed a ride to Buffalo, offered to give me one, and we have been friends ever since. As we were getting to know each other on that trip, they told me that Kevin practices acupuncture in Alfred. Even though I am originally from Northeastern Pennsylvania, I didn't know much about Alfred maybe just that there is a renowned ceramics school there because one of my brothers is a potter, but not much more than that. I became interested though and wanted to learn more.

As I said in my first sentence, I am a Research Psychologist who now practices Chinese medicine. How did that happen, you might ask? Well, my research was with cardiovascular bypass surgery patients so I saw some very dramatic modern medicine at work. But I was always curious, as research scientists are, about what else was working in the patients' body to keep it working.

I knew that the surgeons fixed the engine, as it were, but what other processes, more subtle processes, were at work. So I started to study what some people call "energy medicine." A few years of study led me to Chinese medicine school. I felt that Chinese medicine is the oldest, most time-tested medicine there is so I wanted to further my study of it. Chinese medicine is a complete system of medicine even though the most commonly known therapy is acupuncture, and most practitioners are called Acupuncturists. But the medicine includes Chinese medicine massage therapies, herbal medicine, nutritional recommendations, and teaching patients techniques to reduce stress (meditation).

The goal of every practitioner is to determine the cause of your symptoms, address those, and renew your good health. That sounded wonderful to me and it made sense: treat the cause, not the symptoms. I signed up and in my very first semester of the four year long program, I met my pulse diagnosis mentor, Dr. Jim Ramholz. Pulse diagnosis is an important diagnostic tool that Chinese medicine practitioners/acupuncturists use to determine what is out of balance in your body or what is causing your symptoms. I describe it this way: imagine that your body has a highway system running through it. When I take your pulses on the right and left wrists, I can feel whether or not the highways are flowing, whether there are traffic jams or roadblocks, and then I work to fix those roadblocks and restore traffic flow using acupuncture and other Chinese medicine therapies.

Jim, my pulse diagnosis teacher, showed me that the body works like a biofeedback loop. That means that, once I feel the imbalances, I put acupuncture needles in and then re-take the pulses to see exactly what imbalances those needles shifted. When I heard that I thought, "oh my, that's like every person's body is a little research project!" I was so very excited that I was going to learn to actually see how acupuncture works rather than just trust that it works.

For 20 years, pulse diagnosis has been the basis of my acupuncture practice. I feel the person's pulses, put in acupuncture needles, take the pulses again to see the changes, and then keep going until I feel a state of balance in those pulses. It's a beautiful and effective system.

It's so effective that I am teaching as many acupuncturists as I can how to become better diagnosticians. Kevin and Sarah are part of my pulse diagnosis internships. When I found out that they came from a rural setting, I was very curious about how what I call "big city pulses" (all of the pulses I feel in Denver) would differ from "rural pulses".

The Research Psychologist in me had some hypotheses about how the pulse diagnoses might differ. I asked Kevin if he thought I could come to Alfred to study this idea, he set it up for me, and I've been to your village three times now. The first time I came, I was welcomed by the sign I sent with this article and the people I've met, and treated, and have been so very gracious and friendly, they've made me fall in love with Alfred and I hope to visit you even more!

ALFRED UNIVERSITY

Hansen delivers first Global Studies Lecture

ALFRED—Alfred University's Global Studies Program last week welcomed journalist Suzy Hansen, author of "Notes on a Foreign Country: An American Abroad in a Post-American World," as Hansen delivered the inaugural Global Studies Lecture at Alfred University.

Hansen's lecture, "Seeing America from a Distance," was a reflection on her years living in Istanbul and drew from "Notes on a Foreign Country." The book was named winner of the Overseas Press Club of America's Cornelius Ryan Award, as well as a New York Times Book Review Notable Book and a Finalist for the 2018 Pulitzer Prize in General Nonfiction.

Hansen also met with students and faculty member during classes and a panel discussion Thursday, engaging them in dialogues that built on her earlier remarks.

Her well-attended lecture in Nevins Theater summarized challenges she faced after settling in Istanbul to work as an American journalist. As she writes in her introduction:

"My learning abroad was threefold: I was learning about foreign countries; I was learning about America's role in the world; I was also slowly understanding my own psychology and temperament and prejudices – the very things that had made it so impossible to acquire worldly knowledge in the first place."

Alfred University Associate Professor of Political Science Jeff Sluyter-Beltrao, who introduced Hansen, said the issues she examines in "Notes on a Foreign Country" pose key questions for Americans living in a post-Cold War world.

"What makes her book unique is the way it weaves in her personal story of relentless self-examination and soul-searching," Sluyter-Beltrao says, "as she interacts with people from many different countries from her home base in Istanbul. And that personal dimension enables the reader to grasp how incredibly important it is that we Americans question and overcome our limited understandings of the wider world."

Hansen is an ASU Future Security Fellow at New America, a Practitioner-in-Residence at New York University's Kevorkian Center for Near Eastern Studies, and in 2020 will serve as a Ferris Professor of Journalism at Princeton University.

Hansen's lecture was organized by the Global Studies Program with support from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the Alfred University's Provost's Office, and the Divisions of Social Sciences, Human Studies and Psychology and Communications. In introducing Hansen, Director of Global Studies Dr. Meghan Jones noted the program offers a unique cross-disciplinary major as well as a minor.

SUZY HANSEN (center) discusses her work in a question-and-answer session held at Herrick Library.

Alumnus Garth Ehrlich '77 makes $600,000 bequest to AU

ALFRED—Alfred University alumnus Garth Ehrlich '77 recently made a $600,000 bequest to the University's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences which include commitments to endow two scholarships and a lecture series.

The Heritage Circle bequest includes scholarship commitments that honor Ehrlich's late mother, Evelyn Ehrlich, who served on the staff at Alfred University's Herrick Library from 1967-80, and the late John Stull, a physics professor at Alfred University and founder of the University's Stull Observatory.

Ehrlich also committed to endowing a lecture series in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. He had previously created an endowed scholarship honoring his late father, Robert Ehrlich, who

served as a mathematics professor at Alfred University from 1967-80.

Ehrlich, who earned a bachelor's degree in biology from Alfred University in 1977 and a Ph.D. in molecular biology from Syracuse University in 1987, is professor of microbiology and immunology, otolaryngology-head and neck surgery at Drexel University College of Medicine in Philadelphia, PA.

He is the executive director of three Research Centers of Excellence in the Institute for Molecular Medicine and Infectious Diseases in Drexel's College of Medicine: the Center for Advanced Microbial Processing, the Center for Genomic Sciences, and the Center for Surgical Infection and Bacterial Biofilm. Ehrlich also serves as executive director of the Genomics Core Facility, which is a University-wide sequencing and bioinformatics service core.

Herrick Library to host Team Trivia Saturday

ALFRED—Alfred University's Herrick Memorial Library will host its final Team Trivia Night of the fall semester from 8 to 10 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 16 in the library's Book-end Lounge.

Host of Herrick Library's Team Trivia Night is Mike Allen of Elmira. His trivia questions cover a broad range of topics such as current events, sports, geography and history. He intersperses his trivia questions with pop music, making for an enjoyable evening for those participating.

This will be the eleventh year that Mike has been hosting Team Trivia twice a semester at Herrick Library. He has also been hosting at Hornell area restaurants for at least another ten years.

Groups are welcome to come compete as a team; individuals are also welcome to play either solo or to join others to compete for the prizes awarded to the top teams.

Pizza and soft drinks along with milk and cookies will be provided, free of charge, to all participants.

Spring Semester Team Trivia events at Herrick Library during the 2019-20 academic year have been scheduled for Saturdays, Feb. 15 and April 4.

Grad's parents facilitate gifts

ALFRED—The parents of a recent Alfred University graduate have facilitated gifts that will create unique new opportunities in the University's School of Art and Design.

Norman and Sarah Keyes and parents of Mary-Hall Keyes, who earned a B.F.A. degree from Alfred University in May. The Keyeses have created opportunities for faculty, staff, and students in our School of Art and Design to utilize a seacoast property in Maine for collaborative and creative projects, curriculum development, and skill building.

Inspired by their daughter's experience at Alfred University, Norman and Sarah Keyes also facilitated an anonymous $1 million endowment gift to establish a Special Projects Fund for the School of Art and Design.

The Fund will support academic innovation and collaboration, student scholarships, visiting professorships, and other programs aimed at enhancing educational opportunities in the School of Art and Design.

Meet your future with confidence.

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE GAMES

AU's Art Force 5 celebrates women's empowerment

CLEVELAND, OH—Alfred University's Art Force 5, a program that uses community-based art to inspire discussion on topics of equality and social justice, was at the Cleveland Browns-Buffalo Bills game Sunday, Nov. 10, as part of the group's effort to celebrate women's empowerment.

The event outside Cleveland's First Energy Stadium is part of an initiative in which representatives of Art Force 5 travel to various NFL cities, joining fans in painting tributes to women's empowerment icons associated with those communities.

Art Force 5 kicked off the project at Buffalo Bills Training Camp in July. The group engaged fans in painting tiles to create a mosaic of women's rights icon Susan B. Anthony. An image of the mosaic was embossed on a t-shirt of the blue and red Bills colors, with the number 19 on the back. Plans were made to visit several other NFL cities and invite fans to create mosaics to local women's rights leaders, with associated t-shirt giveaways.

On Sunday at the Browns' game, Art Force 5 held an event honoring Cleveland's Dorothy Dandridge, an entertainer who was the first African-American actress nominated for an Academy Award, for the 1954 film Carmen Jones. The Dandridge design adorns commemorative t-shirts in the Browns' orange and brown colors.

This was the fifth NFL-related project for the Art Force 5 program, which uses creativity to address difficult issues of violence, poverty, and equality. In January, the program was featured on an NFL360 program as they paid tribute to Atlanta's earliest African-American police officers. In July, the program was invited to pay tribute to Susan B. Anthony at the Bill's training camp in Rochester, and in September in Pittsburgh, the group held a mosaic-painting tribute to Nellie Bly alongside Steelers fans. The team honored Harriet Tubman in the Baltimore Ravens' parking lot Nov. 3.

The program plans to honor Shirley Chisholm in New York City before the completed exhibit begins a tour of conferences, museums, and other special events.

The series of mosaic portraits—designed in the host team's colors—aims to raise awareness of women's empowerment as the country prepares to pay tribute to the centennial of the 19th amendment, giving women the right to vote. The first five mosaics will be on exhibit at The Strong National Museum of Play, Rochester, in January 2020 for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Day.

Dan Napolitano, Assistant Dean of Art and Design at Alfred University and program founder, stressed that this is a grassroots effort and not endorsed by the National Football League.

"It is important that this comes from the students and shared directly with the fans," Napolitano explained. "Similar to the women we honor, they were outside of a system of power trying to be heard and respected. This tribute is a bit scrappy in finding places to set up a pop-up art-build and convince tailgating fans of the merits of paying tribute to these icons."

The football jerseys are designed by Alfred University alumna Jillian Mullen '17 (B.F.A.) and produced by Alfred University students model t-shirts adorned with an image of Cleveland native and Academy Award nominee actress Dorothy Dandridge.

Logo Print Services of Hornell. Each has the number 19 on the back (for the 19th Amendment) and the name of the icon above a portrait on the front.

"Our society is totally comfortable with women wearing sports jerseys with men's names on them," Napolitano said.

"This is an opportunity for women and men to own and wear a jersey showing they're a fan of women and equality."

Non-Stop Thinking

NON-STOP THINKING

"Maybe you're thinking too much," my wife once suggested. She was not the first to do so. Nor, to paraphrase John Lennon, am I the only one. "Non-stop thinking," Thich Nhat Hanh has called it. And in our present hyper-connected, information-driven era, that common human tendency has become ever more prevalent.

For centuries Zen masters have warned against over-reliance on conceptual thought. According to Zen teachings, our dualistic concepts—subject/object; self/other; up/down—interpose an "ego-filter" between our minds and our sensory experience. They mediate between what is and what we believe it to be. Likewise the abstract words we use to frame our experience. They impose a yardstick, as the Soto Zen teacher Shohaku Okumura Roshi puts it, on a universe that is in reality boundless, indivisible, and ungraspable.

Take, for example, the term Village of Alfred. That term designates a geographic entity. Its boundaries have been delineated, its contours mapped. But were you to fly over the Village of Alfred in a small plane, as I did once with the pilot Ray Wells, you would perceive no fixed boundaries. Rather, you would see a deciduous wilderness, in the midst of which a configuration of impermanent man-made structures, many of them bearing terracotta roofs, has been created. Village of Alfred is an abstraction, a thought-form superimposed upon an amorphous space. At once useful and artificial, that form is easily mistaken for reality itself.

And the same is true of other mental constructs, however real they may appear. Zen practice is in part about gaining awareness of thought-forms, especially fixed, habitual thought-forms, and their sometimes harmful impact on our lives. Beyond this fundamental point, however, the practice also aims to liberate us from unnecessary thinking, obsessive thinking, and attachment to what the American philosopher Thomas Kasulis has called the "retrospective reconstruction of reality."

With respect to unnecessary thinking, one venerable piece of advice, attributed variously to a Stoic philosopher, the Dalai Lama, and a sagacious baseball player, can provide a practical corrective. "If you can't control it," so the saying goes, "then why worry about it? And if you can control it, then why worry about it?" To that general guideline Buddhist teachings would add a specific corollary. Pain is one thing, suffering another. Pain is what we experience; suffering is what we add to that experience, often by way of fear-based speculation. Mindful of the difference, we can abstain from speculation and focus on the experience itself: the pain and ways to relieve it.

One Time, One Meeting

By BEN HOWARD

Obsessive thinking is another matter. Psychologists speak of "thought-loops," by which they mean endlessly repetitive patterns of thought. Leading nowhere and yielding nothing, our thought-loops return, time and again, to where they began. Teachers of vipassana ("insight") meditation urge us to probe the emotional subtexts beneath our habits of mind: the fear beneath the compulsive planning, the regret beneath obsessive reminiscence. By and large, Zen practitioners refrain from such analysis. The practice is rather to note our thoughts as they arise and disappear. The more acutely we recognize their insubstantial nature, the more we free ourselves from their grip. And over time, if we persist in the practice, even our obsessive thoughts diminish of their own accord.

Beneath these practical measures, Zen teachings offer a deeper critique of thought itself. Taizan Maezumi Roshi, a twentieth-century master, expresses that critique succinctly:

Thinking is an abstraction. It is not being, it is thinking about being. And since we are born and die seven thousand times in one second, the conditions that we think about are already gone. We are thinking about shadows rather than being this very life itself.

All thinking, in other words, is after the fact.

Concurring with Maezumi's perspective, Thomas Kasulis, in his book Zen Action, Zen Person, draws an analogy between the process of thinking and the actions of a batter at the plate. "Being" is what happens when the bat hits the ball. "Thinking" is what happens a moment later, as onlookers reconstruct what has just occurred: A line drive to third base. A high fly ball to right field.

Thinking is a natural activity. No one is proposing to demote it. The objective is rather to strike an even balance between "thinking" and "being." By so doing, we not only become present for the speeding ball. We also empower ourselves to reflect, clearly and concretely, on those experiences that constitute our lives.

Ben Howard leads the Falling Leaf Sangha, a Zen practice group in Alfred.

Nutrition in a Nutshell

Thriving Recipe: Brussels Sprouts Medley

Winter has quickly invaded Alfred with frigid temperatures and light blankets of snow. Our long and beautiful harvest has finally ended, but I am still enjoying the produce from the end of the season. I created this recipe from the bounty of fresh fruits and vegetables provided by local farms. Living Acres grew the vegetables and the apples are from Sunny Cove Farm.

This has been one of my favorite vegetable dishes this fall!

Brussels Sprouts Medley

Ingredients:

3 Cups Brussels Sprouts sliced in half
 1 large Onion
 2 small Apples (if organic, leave the peel on)
 4 cloves Garlic
 3 sprigs Parsley (or 1 tsp. dried)
 3 Tbsp. Grass-fed Butter

Himalayan Salt

Directions:

Melt butter in skillet (I use cast-iron) on medium heat.

Cut brussels sprouts and apples into bite size pieces. Dice onion and mince garlic. Add all to skillet.

Sauté for about 10 minutes. Add chopped parsley.

Finish sautéing until brussels sprouts are tender and onions are lightly browned.

Salt to taste.

Pair this with a nourishing protein dish and enjoy!

The DIY Farmer's Wife Approach

By KRISTINA SNYDER
Alfred Sun Columnist

Do It Yourself Switchel

I read in a recent Alfred Sun Jude Frechette's request for the Switchel recipe but I couldn't find mine, either! The janitor couldn't pinpoint it in the Sun archives, either (digitization of 130+ years of the paper would make it much easier to search).

Thank goodness, long-time subscriber Betty Giles saw Jude's plea as well and wrote to the editor: Dear David:

Jude Frechette asked for a recipe for Switchel. My husband, Paul Giles, grew up on a farm and when they did the haying, his mother always made Switchel to ease their thirst. When we bought our farm and Paul and the children did the haying, I made Switchel for them.

Here is Paul's Mother's recipe for Switchel:
Giles Family Farm Switchel

2/3 cup sugar

2/3 teaspoon ground ginger

4 Tablespoons vinegar

Put into quart jar and fill with 6 ice cubes and water.

Best wishes,
Betty Giles

AU Glass Professor Sarah Blood has had her work, “Sanctuary,” selected for an exhibition marking the 10th anniversary of the Lumiere Light Festival in Durham, England.

Prof’s work exhibited in UK

ALFRED—Alfred University Assistant Professor of Glass Sarah Blood’s work “Sanctuary” will be exhibited at the 10th anniversary edition of the United Kingdom’s largest light festival, Lumiere, in Durham, England from today (Nov. 14) through Nov. 18.

Sanctuary was originally commissioned in 2013 by Artichoke, an art events organization, and the founders of Lumiere. It consists of 12 neon birdhouses in the churchyard of St. Oswald’s Church and accompanied by a soundtrack of birdsong. The exhibit invokes the need for protection from the looming winter, while the birdsong heralds the coming spring.

Following its commissioning, Sanctuary has been exhibited in Crown Hart Gardens for Lumiere London 2016, which also included Blood’s Dissect I and Dissect II.

Blood’s work explores light through glass, luminous gases and mixed media in sophisticated, elegant works that have been exhibited internationally, including in Europe, the UEA and the US.

AU dance program plans Dec. 5-6 performances

ALFRED—The Alfred University dance program will host its End of Semester Showing Dec. 5 and 6 in the CD Smith III Theater of the Miller Performing Arts Center, with each performance beginning at 6 p.m. The performances are free and open to the public.

The End of Semester Showing is an informal performance of the learning and growth in Alfred University’s dance program. Each night will have a different lineup of works that include student performances from dance professors Chase Angier and Colleen Wahl’s dance courses, Composition 1, Fundamentals of Dance, Modern 1, and African Dance, as well as contributions from independent choreographers.

Alfred University’s dance program is composition based and designed to develop artistry in dance making, performance and site-specific performance. The program is open to students of all levels regardless of experience or past training and promotes excellence in dance, as well as encourages cross-disciplinary work.

Audience members can support and applaud students of all levels and skill as they demonstrate their learning experiences of this semester and experience the challenge and excitement of performing live dance.

Kellogg article published

ALFRED—Dr. Richard Kellogg, professor emeritus of psychology at Alfred State College, is the author of an article appearing in the most recent issue of Paperback Parade, a quarterly publication for paperback collectors and readers. The article is titled “Uncle Abner: Seeker of Justice.”

The author comments that Melville Davisson Post (1871-1930) created a series of remarkable detective stories that feature a backwoods sleuth identified only as Uncle Abner. Although Abner works as a farmer and livestock dealer in the hills of Virginia, his strong moral values lead to his involvement in the solving of numerous crimes.

Abner’s investigations often involve homicide, stolen livestock, and legal disputes concerning deeds and wills. His frequent quoting of Bible verses is reminiscent of the Old Testament prophets. Abner feels that his apprehension of criminals is doing the work of God.

As for Melville Davisson Post, he earned his law degree in 1872. He practiced both criminal and corporate law before becoming a full-time writer. His famous anthology of Uncle Abner adventures, titled “Uncle Abner: Master of Mysteries,” was published originally in 1918.

Dr. Kellogg is a frequent reviewer of books in the mystery genre. He’s also creator of the Barry Baskerville series of mysteries for children. Barry Baskerville and the Buried Treasure” (Airship 27, 2019), is available at the Amazon website.

Baker’s Bridge will meet

ALFRED STATION—Baker’s Bridge Historical Association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 18 for a program about “Women of the Civil War.”

Allegany County Historian Craig Braack will talk about women’s roles and their impact on the war during this painful period of American history.

The Baker’s Bridge Historical Association meeting house is located at 5971 Hamilton Hill Road, Alfred Station.

Following the 7:30 p.m. program, refreshments will be served.

Alfred Sun Editor and Publisher

50 Years Ago, November 13, 1969

(Photo) Alfred University Carillon Club workers are pictured before start of kick-off fund raising dinner at Howell Hall on the University campus last Saturday. Al Loohn, Hornell; Ben Palmer, Jr., Alfred; Clarence Pfeil, Canaseraga; Robert Elsenheimer, Hornell (carillon campaign chairman), Dr. James MacFarland, Hornell; and Tom Turner, assistant director of development at Alfred University. The Carillon Club, an integral part of the University's annual giving program, has set its 1969-70 fund-raising goal at $25,000. The overall goal for University giving by alumni, trustees, parents, corporations and foundations, is $205,000.

The Rev. Herbert L. Polan, retired Seventh Day Baptist minister, died Nov. 8, 1969 at the Dearborn Heights Convalescent Home, Dearborn Hts., Mich., where he had been a patient for just three days. He had been living for 18 months in the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Turck, and family at Livonia, Mich. His second wife, the former Ruby Tappan Clarke, had died Sept. 22, 1969 in a Livonia Nursing Home. The funeral service was held Nov. 11, in Battle Creek, Mich., where he lived from August 1951 until failing health meant closing their home. His pastor, the Rev. Eugene Fatato, and his son-in-law, the Rev. David Clarke officiated. A memorial service was held at the Milton (Wis.) Seventh Day Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon with burial in the Milton cemetery. Mr. Polan was born March 7, 1883 at Lick Run, Doodridge Co., W.Va., the son of Charles Lewis and Frances Hoult Polan. His parents moved soon to Ohio, where he was baptized afterward at Jackson Center, at the age of 12 by the Rev. Willard D. Burdick. His education was delayed by helping on the farm while his father was ill. He graduated from Milton College in 1910 and was married on June 21 of that year to Adeline Almira Shaw of Milton. They both taught public school, and then he continued his education at Alfred and Union Theological Seminaries. He served as pastor at New Market, N.J., Nortonville, Kan., North Loup, Neb., Brookfield, NY, Daytona Beach, Fla., and served a three-year term on the S.D.B. Commission in the late 20s... A son, Dighton, AU '38, lost his life as a Navy Pilot early in World War II. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Roy Potter (Nina) of Ft. Myers, Fla., three daughters: Mrs. Philip (Muriel) Baber, Keeseville, NY, Mrs. David (Frances) Clarke, Alfred, NY, Mrs. William (Lura) Turck, Livonia, Mich....

Alfredians—Mrs. Lillian Nevins was in Philadelphia, Pa., last weekend to visit her sister, Miss Carol Texiere... Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Obergfell entertained 23 soccer players at a spaghetti supper Friday evening. The spaghetti was prepared in authentic Italian style by Jim Freeney and Marco Guilano, both from Rome, Italy. They are both ceramic engineering students at Alfred University. Mr. Obergfell is soccer coach at AU... Mr. and Mrs. David Rossington and family were weekend guests Nov. 1 of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Levitt at Cleveland, Ohio... Mr. and Mrs. Robert Place drove the "Doc" Parish automobile to Scottsdale, Ariz., where the Parishes are spending the winter. The Places will return home by plane... Grey and Jonathan Tappan, sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Tappan, missed only one day of school when they transferred from Alfred-Almond Central School to Tripoli, Libya, in North Africa. They attend the American School maintained by Oasis Oil Company, by whom Mr. Tappan is employed. The Tappan family left for Africa Oct. 26...

One observer, watching on a very wet and rainy afternoon, more or less summed it up. "They simply ran out of miracles." This was something of the story as the Alfred Saxons, after two brilliant victories, bowed out of the 1969 season by losing to Union, 10-7 after being favored by two touchdowns. But the Saxons were still chasing the miracle right down to the last second. They ran off 15 plays in the last 2 minutes and 20 seconds and were down on the Union 28 when it ended...

The November meeting of the Baker's Bridge Historical Association will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 21... Donald Cameron, president, will preside at the business meeting... We will hear of the progress made on the installation of the new heating system in the Old Meeting House that the Association is renovating on Hamilton Hill. The evening's program will feature Carol (C.B.) Burdick presenting a program, "An Evening with Abigail Allen."...

Robert S. Rockwell, 38, formerly of Alfred, died at his home in Pennsylvania on Monday, Nov. 7, 1994. Bob was born in Elmira on Aug. 7, 1956, a son of the late Blanche Clair Rockwell and Robert Rockwell. A 1976 graduate of Alfred-Almond Central School, he was an avid swimmer and excelled in the diving competitions at Alfred-Almond. He also attended the Wellsville Vocational School. In addition to his wife, Tricia Baker Rockwell, he is survived by his son, Robert E. Rockwell; his sisters, Elizabeth Yavovone of Burlington, VT., Suzanne Rudd of Lake Hiawatha, N.J., and Linda Wisniewski of Seaside Park, NJ and one brother, William Shaw of Fredonia. He is also survived by the Kenneth Snyder family of Alfred Station, with whom he grew up...

Notes from Palmiter Hill (By Rev. Albert N. Rogers) A recent letter from our friend Joanne Dropers in Washington, D.C. says she has discovered an Opportunity Shop like the one in Alfred at the St. Alban's Church near where she lives... Reading a history of my home town, Brookfield, New York, I was struck with the large number of men from there, 330, who served as soldiers and sailors in the Civil War, and the shock that struck the nation at the death of President Abraham Lincoln... Carrol Burdick of Angelica has written something of the history of the old church in Andover where the Seventh Day Baptists worshipped years ago, now standing empty with the passing years. Two of the members were strong supporters in the development of Camp Harley in Alfred Station. Edson Langworthy who worked many days to level the playing field and build the main lodge, and Lelia Livermore who although nearing 80 years of age, cooked for the campers two seasons or more. A church is really people, not just a building.

Sunbeams—Alfred-Almond graduates Brien Pye and his sister Lori Angeline have begun a business at the Ceramic Innovation Center marketing pottery and glass wares made in the Alfred area... Diane Martin is a patient at Rochester General Hospital... Mario Prisco, former dean of the School of Art and Design at the NYS College of Ceramics at Alfred University, delivered the keynote address at a banquet celebrating the National Association of Schools of Art and Design's (NASAD) 50th anniversary, held recently in Kansas City, MO... Alex Sich, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dmytro Sich of Jericho Hill, Alfred, may appear on the Nov. 20 segment of Sixty Minutes. Alex, a 1980 graduate of Alfred-Almond Central School, is tentatively scheduled to appear in a segment based on research he conducted for his doctoral thesis that involved Chernobyl...

With five minutes remaining in the game, in the press box at CUA Field in Washington, D.C., Catholic University officials were singing praises to the Cardinals and celebrating a certain NCAA playoff appearance. But five minutes later, it was AU Coach Jim Moretti singing the praises of the resiliency of his 1994 Saxon football team. Moretti's Saxons, to the delight of a substantial D.C. area crowd of A.U. fans, came back from a 29-20 deficit to miraculously pull off a 35-29 shocker. The loss dashed Catholic's NCAA playoff hopes and its planned entry in the NCAA Division III record books with the best turnaround. They still tied the best turnaround (7-game improvement), finishing 8-2 after last year's 1-9 season. Alfred finished with a 6-3-1 record...

Mario Prisco's family is smiling, hugging, resting and trying on shoes in portraits from the Recollections series hanging now in the Wellsville Creative Arts Center. The images look as warm and welcoming as the people likely did every Sunday when they gathered to eat and talk at his grandmother's home in Brooklyn during the years that he holds dear in his heart and offers to us in his work. Prisco's grandfather came to the United States from Italy in order to create public sculptures. Details of his work were lost because after being brought here, the man promptly died leaving the family in some chaos. The older kids went to work and the younger went to school. The faces represented in the paintings at the Wellsville Creative Arts Center are from those siblings and their families who found their lives in Brooklyn...

Donations to the Organ Restoration Fund for the Alfred community's 1930 Moller pipe organ located in the First Alfred Seventh Day Baptist Church have picked up considerably, and the end of the campaign is near...

The Piano Project has surpassed its goal with one more contribution that came in after I emailed off a recent report to the Alfred Sun... we have managed to raise over $16,000 for this piano in less than three years while at the same time we have raised almost $27,000 for the Organ Restoration Fund...

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, November 14

On this date in 1872, J.A. Reed related in a letter to a friend what President Abraham Lincoln had said to him in late December, 1862:

"I hold myself in my present position and with the authority vested in me as an instrument of Providence. I have my own views and purposes, I have my convictions of duty, and my notions of what is right to be done. But I am conscious every moment that all I am and all I have is subject to the control of a Higher Power, and that Power can use me or not use me in any manner, and at any time, as in His wisdom and might may be pleasing to Him."

Alfred-Almond Bible Church designated drop off site for Operation Christmas Child

Submitted by DONNA B. RYAN

Special to the Alfred Sun

ALMOND--The Alfred-Almond Bible Church located at 6751 State Route 21 (near Alfred-Almond Central School) has been designated as an official drop off site for Operation Christmas Child boxes the week before Thanksgiving.

Individual boxes, as well as collections from area churches, can be left at the Bible Church during the following hours:

Monday, Nov. 18 (4-7 pm)

Tuesday, Nov. 19 (1-3 pm)

Wednesday, Nov. 20 (4-6 pm)

Thursday, Nov. 21 (11 am-1 pm)

Friday, Nov. 22 (1-3 pm)

Saturday, Nov. 23 (10 am-1 pm)

Sunday, Nov. 24 (1-5 pm)

Monday, Nov. 25 (9-11 am)

Operation Christmas Child is a project of Samaritan's Purse, an international relief organization which collects and ships simple gifts outside the United States to children affected by war, poverty, natural disaster, famine, and disease; and to children living on Native American reservations in the U.S.

The world's largest Christmas project of its kind, Operation Christmas Child uses gift-filled shoeboxes to demonstrate God's love in a tangible way to children in need around the world.

Because of the generosity of donors across the United States, Operation Christmas Child collected more than 8.8 million shoeboxes in 2018. Packed with fun toys, school supplies and hygiene items, these gifts bring joy and the eternal hope of the Gospel to children around the world.

"It's incredible to see the difference a simple shoebox gift can make in the life of a child. They bring the message of unconditional love and forgiveness found only in Jesus Christ," said Franklin Graham, president of Samaritan's Purse. "There's still nothing like seeing how one gift can impact the eternal destiny of a child."

Combined with those collected from partnering countries in 2018, the ministry is now sending more than 10.6 million shoebox gifts to children in more than 100 countries.

As an official drop-off point in 2018, the Alfred Almond Bible Church collected 823 shoebox gifts. It is hoped that the total will be even larger this year. Anyone wishing to donate may assist with a $9 gift, which pays shipping and handling for one shoebox gift.

Contact the Alfred Almond Bible Church office, 607 276-6700 or aabible.org or aabible@gmail.com for further information.

ALFRED STATE COLLEGE

Alfred State Day of Giving set Tuesday, Nov. 19

ALFRED—For the fourth consecutive year, Alfred State is calling upon Pioneers and supporters everywhere to make a big difference in the lives of students by participating in the college's annual Day of Giving.

This year's event, which will take place Nov. 19, is looking to raise $200,000. Each donation, no matter the size, makes an impact on current and future students, with gifts benefiting scholarships, programming, athletics, new technology, and so much more.

Alfred State Director of Development Trish Haggerty said, "As we head into our fourth annual Day of Giving here at Alfred State, we truly hope this is becoming a tradition that alumni and friends of the college recognize as a special day. We have a lot of fun and engaging events planned on campus for students and faculty to enjoy, and we strongly encourage our alumni everywhere to join us and show their Pioneer Pride by making a gift. Over 700 students benefit from scholarships to Alfred State every year, many of which might not attend without that assistance. They need your support."

In helping to reach its goals, Alfred State is making it as easy as possible for people to give and be a part of this great event. Any gift made to Alfred State between now and Nov. 19 will be counted toward the Day of Giving. Donations can be made:

- Online at www.alfredstate.edu/make-a-gift
- Over the phone when speaking to one of the college's volunteer callers that day

- By mailing in a gift to Alfred State Institutional Advancement, 10 Upper College Drive, Alfred, NY 14802.

Those looking to be a part of the action that day are encouraged to:

- visit www.alfredstate.edu/make-a-gift,
- "like" facebook.com/AlfredStateAlumni,
- follow twitter.com/AlfredStateAlum, and share the Day of Giving ing toolkit content. The toolkit, found on alfredstate.edu/make-a-gift, will enable supporters to download social media cover images, as well as a profile badge showing they gave.

Furthermore, Alfred State will be hosting a number of exciting on-campus events on Nov. 19 for Day of Giving to engage and educate students about the importance of giving back.

For more information on Alfred State's Day of Giving, contact the Office of Institutional Advancement at 607-587-3930 or at ia@alfredstate.edu.

Alfred State Building Trades Department students were able to learn more about residential trades professions during a recent Careers in Construction event.

Building Trades students attend 'Careers in Construction' event

ALFRED—Alfred State Building Trades students recently had the opportunity to learn more about in-demand residential trades jobs at a daylong "Careers in Construction" event in Canandaigua.

Hosted by the Rochester Home Builders' Association (RHBA) and the Construction Industry Foundation, the event allowed students to tour the Riedman Design Studio, the NextGen Building Components facilities, and a new home construction site at The Cottages at Canandaigua.

According to the RHBA, homes within the Rochester area are taking longer than usual to build, repair, or remodel because of an ongoing shortage of skilled carpenters, engineers, plumbers, and framers. The RHBA states that the industry is still recovering from the housing downturn and market recession that forced many contractors out of the trades.

Jack Jones, chair of Alfred State's Building Trades Department, said the Careers in Construction event provided students with great insight into careers in the residential arm of construction.

"Students were able to see the great need for their skills sets in the industry today," Jones said. "They were also able to speak with successful Alfred State alumni who encouraged them to work hard, use their skills to get involved in the community, and capitalize on networking opportunities. These events help students make the mental jump from classroom theory to tangible career options that can be rewarding, satisfying, and lucrative. The Building Trades Department is grateful for the Rochester Homebuilder's Association hosting this event and their commitment to education in the trades."

Career fairs 'maxed out' with employers

ALFRED—For the past few years, Alfred State College's career fairs have grown significantly as more employers than before are coming to both campuses to recruit Pioneers.

While that trend continued this fall, an important milestone was achieved for the first time in the history of Alfred State career fairs: both events featured the maximum number of employers possible.

According to Elaine Morsman, director of Alfred State's Career Development Center, the Alfred career fair at the Orvis Activities Center gymnasium drew 121 employers, while 96 came to the Pioneer Student Union on the Wellsville campus to recruit students. These numbers were even higher than last fall's career fair totals of 112 for Alfred and 84 for Wellsville, which were records at the time.

"This was the first time that both campus career fairs maxed out," Morsman said. "We even figured out how to fit more employers into each one, so these career fairs truly maxed out."

With more employers than ever before coming to recruit Pioneers, the fall career fairs featured several new companies, including Kodak, Panasonic, Dominion Energy, and Whiting & Turner Construction. A number of employers came from outside of New York State, as well, including Schlumberger (Texas), Main Drilling & Blasting (Maine), and Balfour Beatty (Virginia).

Employers came away very impressed with Alfred State students, Morsman said.

"We received great feedback from employers," she said. "A representative from D.P. Tool who attended the Wellsville career fair said, 'We met some very impressive students at the job fair. This is one of the best recruiting events I've been to.' Regarding the Alfred career fair, reps from Dominion Energy and Kodak both stated this was the best recruitment event they have attended and plan to continue coming back."

Students are just as enthusiastic about meeting with employers at these events. This fall, more than 560 students attended the career fair in Wellsville, while 471 students attended the one in Alfred.

In addition to being able to network with employers and hand out their resumes, students attending the Alfred career fair were also able to get a professional headshot taken for their LinkedIn profile, courtesy of the college's Business Professionals of America Club. Also, any student who dropped off their resume at the registration table at either career fair was entered in a drawing for $100 in merchandise from the campus store.

Catch a glimpse into the excitement of Alfred State's career fairs by checking out the Career Development Center's Facebook page (Career Development – Alfred State, SUNY College of Technology), Twitter account (@AlfredStateCD), and Instagram account (alfredstatedcd).

Hands-on project helps nursing student learning

ALFRED—To Jennifer Ross, a lecturer in the Alfred State Nursing Department, introducing a new applied learning project into her course curriculum just made sense.

As a hands-on learner herself, and as an employee at a college that greatly emphasizes applied learning in its programs, Ross felt that first-year students in her Nursing I course could greatly benefit from a hands-on experience, rather than just listening to a lecture. At the time, the students were learning about growth and development of patients at different stages in their lives.

"I am a hands-on learner and I felt that, with so many of our students being very young, it might be harder for them to have a perspective on caring for patients as nurses without actually seeing how the information they are learning relates to the human body at the different stages," Ross said.

Hands-on learning is a major component of Alfred State nursing, as students learn by working with manikins and other state-of-the-art equipment, as well as by taking part in clinical rotations at area hospitals. First-year students at this stage in their academic careers, however, have had little to no experience with patients so far.

For the new project Ross created, 15 guests from different age groups were invited to come to the nursing facilities on campus to be examined by students. The age groups included infants, toddlers, pre-kindergarten, school-age, adolescent, young adult, and middle aged.

The "patients" provided basic medical information beforehand that Ross used to create medical charts for the students to use. Students were then divided into 15 groups of six, with each group interviewing and performing a health assessment of one patient.

"If they were done interviewing, they could move on and observe the other interviews that were going on," said KathyAnn Sager, co-chair of the Nursing Department. "And then they reported on what they learned to the whole group."

The project, Ross said, aligned with what the students were learning in class concerning the different age groups, including their nutritional needs, their sleep needs, milestones they should be achieving, etc.

"It's just establishing each age group's issues, concerns, what we expect, and what happens if they don't reach a milestone," Ross said.

At first, the students were a little shy about speaking to their patients, Ross said. After a while, however, they eased up and "got so much more information" than Ross thought they would, which they were very excited to share with the entire group.

"They spent 40 minutes with their patient and by the end, you could see they were much more comfortable, and that's where the fun began," she said.

Sager noted that, through this project, Ross was able to take learning to the next level.

"She took it to student-led vs. faculty-led and that's where the next generation of learning is going to happen. It's with the hands-on, student-to-student-led, and that's what this was," Sager said.

Reflecting on the project, Ross said she was very grateful to all of the support she received from her fellow nursing faculty members, as well as the patients themselves. In addition to support, she also received plenty of positive feedback from students.

"They ended up having a lot of fun with this project and it was a really good learning opportunity," she said.

ALMOND LIBRARY

Library raises $1,700 with Election Day activities

Dear Editor,

Many thanks for your support of the Almond 20th Century Club Library's Election Day activities! They were very successful this year, raising over $1,700 toward the Building Fund, including several generous donations.

We sold out of soup just as the luncheon ended at 2 p.m., and there were just enough sandwiches and pie, too.

Special thanks go to Twila Ervolino at Alfred-Almond, who compiled a large order and made it extra easy to fill, and to all the staff who participated.

And thanks, as always, to all who came to our little lunchroom for soup and conversation. We hope everyone enjoyed their lunch!

We are grateful to everyone who donated and came to buy tickets for the basket auction, as well. We'll have a complete list of donors next week. Chris Kernan was the happy winner of the quilt, made by Carolyn Powers and Doris Martin. Thanks to all who bought tickets throughout the year.

CHRIS KERNAN was the happy winner of the quilt made by Carolyn Powers and Doris Martin as a fund-raiser for the Almond Twentieth Century Club Library. (Photo provided)

I would especially like to thank all the 20th Century Club members and other friends of the library who pitched in to help in so many ways, including Louise Schwartz, Bev Schmidt, the Norris and Rech families, Kathy Costello, Helen Spencer, Betty Aftuck, Helen McKnight, and Julie Philips with the luncheon; Mary Fairchild, Maggie Mitchell, David Jimerson, and Elva Owlett with the baskets; Mary Jane Essex, Eric Ewald, Liz Sherwood, Linda Staiger, Chris Carter, and Carla Yarnal with telephoning, setting up, and sales.

If I have forgotten anyone, please forgive me.

The Library exists to serve the community, and it's a community effort to keep it going.

Thanks to all!

Yours,

Susan Steere

A-A fourth graders present on Crayfish Project

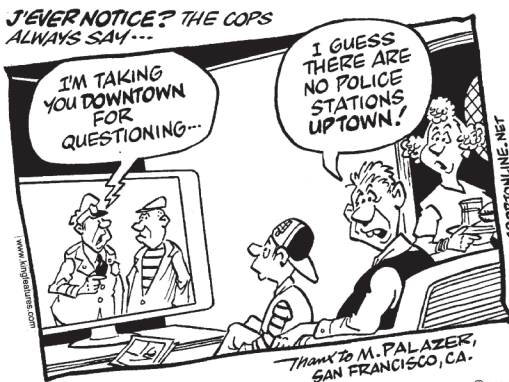

By KATHI CHAMBLISS
Special to the Alfred Sun
ALMOND—Mr. Mix's 4th grade science class at Alfred-Almond Central School recently completed a study of crayfish, culminating in classroom presentations. The project spanned several weeks and included cross-curricular activities.

The scientists first had to collect the crayfish specimens from their natural habitat and then spent time learning about and observing the crayfish behaviors in the classroom. During the course of study, the students painted sections of the crayfish in art and created informative slideshows to orally present to classmates.

Natalyah Papworth and Morgan Fawley give their presentation.

AU men open basketball season with 74-65 win

ALFRED—The Alfred University men's basketball team kicked off the 2019-20 season Saturday afternoon at Westfield State, MA. The Saxons (1-0, 0-0 Empire 8) led by as many as 23 points in the second half on their way to a 74-65 victory.

After falling behind 4-0, AU broke off a 12-0 run to take an eight point lead just five minutes into the game.

A pair of 3-pointers from Brewster Marshall (Horseheads) and Anthony Ruffino (North Tonawanda/Niagara Wheatfield) helped AU extend an early 12-4 lead up to 22 points at just under the 12 minute mark of the first half. AU led, 42-24 at halftime.

Alfred pushed its lead to 23 points early in the second half when Cole Eells (Ithaca) hit the first of his two three-pointers of the game.

Marshall was the high scorer on the day with 18 points. He also added seven boards and blocked a shot.

Senior guard Sam Dagon (Hornell) had a productive first half and finished with 17 points, five rebounds and two steals.

Elliot Bowen (Salamanca/Ellicottville) had a big day inside as he finished with 13 points on 6 of 8 shooting.

Frosh guard Mike Schmidt (Olean) reached double figures in scoring with 10 points. Eells finished with 8.

"There were a lot of positives to take away from today," Head Coach Russell Phillips said. "We defended well as a team and were sharp with our rotations. Westfield State is a good team and forced us into too many turnovers. We weren't very sharp closing the game out, but we'll continue to build."

The Saxons will co-host the Special Tee's Tipoff classic with Alfred State College this weekend and will play SUNY Cobleskill at 5 p.m. Friday at Alfred State's Orvis Gym before hosting Clarkson University at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Saxon rally falls short

A late fourth-quarter rally from the Alfred University football team fell just short, as the Saxons fell to No. 25 Brockport by a 16-7 score in Empire 8 action from Bob Boozer Field Saturday afternoon.

Alfred drops to 5-4 overall and 2-3 in Empire 8 action. Brockport, ranked 25th in the latest American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) rankings, wins its eighth consecutive contest, improving to 8-1 and 5-0. In addition, Brockport wins its third consecutive Empire 8 title and will represent the conference in the upcoming NCAA Division III Football Championship Tournament.

For the second time this season, junior Raeqwon Greer (Buffalo/Canisius) has been selected to the D3football.com Team of the Week as a safety on Tuesday morning. Greer was named to the Team of the Week after the first week of October before after a 12-tackle effort against Morrisville State. This selection was based off of the career-high 15 tackles with a career-high 12 solo tackles against #25 (American Football Coaches Association national ranking) College at Brockport. Greer also had a solo sack for a loss of seven yards. Greer is now second on the team in total tackles for the season with 82 but is tied with Nick Milgate (Hilton) for solo tackles with 52. The junior safety and the Saxons will close out their regular season with a road game at Empire 8 foe, St. John Fisher College on Saturday, November 16 at 1 p.m. in Rochester.

It was a mixed bag offensively for the Saxons. Quarterback Casey Boston (Brooklyn/Midwood) had one of his better passing yardage totals of the season, throwing for 214 yards and a touchdown, but completed just 11-of-28 passes, throwing a pair of interceptions. Aaron Griffin (Queens/Holy Cross) rushed for just 38 yards on 17 carries, as the nation's best run defense (23.1 rushing yards allowed per game) entering the game held the Empire 8's best running back in check. Griffin also added a pair of receptions for 19 yards. In the air, A.O. Othman (Syracuse/Christian Brothers Academy) had his best effort of his collegiate career, pulling in four receptions for 127 yards and a touchdown. E.J. Staniszewski (South Wales/Holland) caught one ball for 44 yards.

The AU defense held a potent Brockport offense at bay, as the Golden Eagles were able to manage just 69 yards through the air and 5-of-18 on third downs. Leading the way was Raeqwon Greer (Buffalo/Canisius), totaling 15 tackles (12 solo), one for loss, and a sack. Nick Milgate (Hilton) tallied his sixth consecutive double-digit tackle effort, racking up 10 tackles, all solo, with two for loss. Jason Gauthier (Java Center/Pioneer) and Caleb Marshall (Owego Free Academy) also tallied a sack.

The Saxons will conclude the regular season Saturday, traveling to St. John Fisher College for a 1 p.m. contest.

Saxons split double dual

The men's swimming and diving team hosted the University of Rochester and Fredonia in a double-dual format Saturday afternoon from the McLane Center. The Saxons fell to Rochester by a 196-103 score, but defeated Fredonia, 197-93.

The men pulled a few victories during the day. Noah Koltenuk (Danville, Pa) won in a pair of distance freestyle events. He pulled away late, winning the 1000 yard event in 10:15.18. He barely touched ahead of Rochester's Eric Weidman in the 500 yard free, beating the Rochester foe by 19-hundredths of a second (4:57.23). Phillip Volaski (Poughquag/Arlington) won in the 200-yard backstroke, finishing in a time of 1:58.21. Volaski also finished second in the 100-yard backstroke, a time of 55.32.

Other strong times included a pair of second-place finishes by Dylan Canaveral (Queens) who finished second in a close call in the 100-yard butterfly (54.42) and in the 100-yard freestyle (50.24). Also placing second was Logan Cross (Olean) on the 1-meter boards, finishing a six-dive score of 261.70. Billy Mirenda (Middletown/Minisink) (187.55) and Max Sereno (Victor) (142.80) also competed at 1-meter.

S'women get good times

The women's swimming and diving team hosted the University of Rochester and Fredonia in a double-dual format Saturday afternoon from the McLane Center. The Saxons fell to Rochester, 226-48 and Fredonia, 158-98.

Individually, Ivy Vallyley (Lancaster) picked up a second-place finish, completing the 200-yard freestyle in 2:06.84. Caitlin Behr (Long Beach Island, N.J./Southern Regional) also finished second, completing the 100-yard freestyle in 58.86. Amanda Guariglia (Valley Stream) took third in the 200-yard breaststroke, finishing in 2:49.56.

ALFRED STATE SPORTS

Pioneers rally to beat SUNY-Maritime

The Alfred State football team scored 14 unanswered points in the 4th quarter as they rallied to defeat SUNY Maritime 21-17 in their season finale.

Neither team could much going offensively in the 1st half. The lone points came on the Privateers opening drive when Joseph Gagliardi connected on a 27-yard field goal. Maritime stopped two Pioneer drives with interceptions while Alfred State's Jeremiah Nixon (Staten Island/Curtis) forced a Privateer fumble on the one-yard line that Rylie Van Fleet (Maine Endwell) recovered for a touchdown.

The Pioneers got on the board and took their first lead of the game on their first possession of the 2nd half. Dashawn Wilson (Bronx/DeWitt Clinton) connected with Andrew Thomas (Bronx/Erasmus Hall) on a 73-yard scoring play just 2:29 into the half.

Maritime answered right back three minutes later with a 54-yard pass play from Jack Lynn to Andrew Geni to make it 10-7. They added to their lead on the first play of the 4th quarter when Hezekiah Williamson dove in from two-yards out.

After forcing a punt on the Privateers next possession, Van Fleet fielded the kick and returned it 75 yards for a score with 10:39 remaining to cut the lead back to one possession.

Alfred State was driving with under five minutes remaining but a potential game-winning drive was stopped when Maritime intercepted a pass with 4:01 left. The Pioneer defense stepped up and gave the blue & gold one more chance. Two plays after the interception, Jamel Guzman (Bronx/Herbert Lehman) ripped the ball out of the Maritime running back's arms and Nixon was able to recover to set Alfred State up with the ball on the Maritime 41 with 3:13 remaining.

Wilson had a big 3rd down run and then found Shy'rel Broadwater (Cicero North Syracuse) on a 19-yard pass to set the Pioneers up with 1st and goal. Jake Palmer (Albany/Voorheesville) powered the 1st down rush down to the one yard line and then was able to dive in from one yard out one play later to give the Pioneers the 21-17 lead with 1:20 remaining.

Maritime picked up one 1st down in their final possession but the Pioneer defense didn't allow another first down to seal the victory.

Wilson finished 10 for 22 for 195 yards and a score to go along with 88 yards rushing on 21 carries. Thomas recorded his first 100-yard game of his career finishing with six catches for 101 yards. Broadwater had three catches for 90.

Lynn was 14 for 34 for 243 yards and a score while Williamson finished with 137 yards and a score on 20 carries for Maritime (4-5, 3-2 ECFC).

Michael Zimmerman (Canan-daigua) led the defense with 11 tackles. He also helped convert a big 4th down with a 22-run on a fake punt. Van Fleet and Nixon each had seven tackles and a fumble recovery.

Prior to the game, Alfred State honored 12 student-athletes Wilson, Bladimir Vargas, Kahmani McLeod, Jean-Claude Previlon, Zimmerman, Guzman, Paul DellaRose, Bryce Chapman, Devon Clark, Zac Clendenin, Sam Van Valkenburg, and Justin Chalas who were playing their final games wearing the blue & gold.

The Pioneers finish the season with a 4-6 overall record and a 2-3 mark in ECFC play. The four victories were the most in a season since 2013.

The DUGOUT

By DOUG LOROW
Alfred Sun Sports Columnist
email: dugout33@gmail.com

The NCAA Division III football campaign heads into its last week of regular season action and it looks like Saturday will be the final game this year for the Alfred Saxons (5-4) program after a loss to Brockport. The Golden Eagles have wrapped up their third straight E8 title and with a win this week over Morrisville, it'll be three consecutive undefeated conference slates. AU lost their second straight game in league play, 16-7 on the road.

Guessing Alfred could qualify for an ECAC Bowl, where they have been very successful over the years, but it would probably depend on two things. First and foremost, a win over SJ Fisher at Growney Stadium on Saturday! Secondly, not sure which schools have "declared" they'll play in an ECAC Bowl? Some just don't go. Ithaca, Hobart, RPI and maybe Cortland will all be in the mix, seemingly, if they desire to go to one of those bowls.

On Saturday past, RPI drilled Ithaca at home, 38-12 to boost their chances as the Bombers dropped their second straight. Liberty League champ Union edged Utica, St. Lawrence smashed a hapless University of Rochester (0-9) squad by a 51-19 tally, Morrisville thumped SJ Fisher, Cortland eased by Hartwick, Hobart topped Buffalo State and gets UR next, Alfred State rallied to beat SUNY Maritime to finish at (4-6) and Bates knocked off Coach Murray's Hamilton team (4-5) in its finale.

On the national D3 scene it was Mount Union blasting Muskingum 51-3, Mary Hardin-Baylor prevailed over Texas Lutheran 41-3, UW-Whitewater topped UW-Stout and will face UW-Oshkosh next. The winners are all at (9-0) and off to the NCAA's. The fourth best team? How about Salisbury (8-0) as they thumped TCNJ, 62-20 in league play. Maybe the top four seeds next weekend as NCAA play starts, 11/23?

HITS AND MISSES:

In big-time college football, as previously unbeaten Penn State and Alabama both fell over the weekend ... to other unbeaten!, the field just might be set for the "Final Four," if everyone wins out. Ohio State and LSU are just about "locks" to get in. The Buckeyes are involved in (yet another) player eligibility case and this one with Heisman candidate, Chase Young. Ohio State will need to get by a sad Rutgers program, the Nittany Lions and their finale versus Michigan. Not easy, but they should be favored in all three. LSU plays a brutal schedule and will be in (almost) no matter what. Defending champ Clemson gets there by default from the weak ACC. That leaves Georgia as my fourth pick, but ... they are at Auburn this weekend. No easy task. They falter and 'Bama is right back in the mix. Outside looking in: Penn State, Minnesota, Oklahoma and Oregon.

The Alfred Saxons men's soccer team lost in the finals of the E8 championship, at Nazareth, by a 1-0 tally to the Golden Flyers. Former A-A keeper James Stuart took in the contest.

It was a crushing overtime loss for the Geneseo women's soccer team (15-3-1) in the finals of the SUNYAC championship as they fell in overtime to Cortland, 1-0. The two teams battled to a 1-1 tie in the regular season so about as evenly matched as you can get. The Knights will hopefully get an NCAA at-large bid and should with their record!

Coach O'Driscoll's eight-year run as AMCC women's soccer champs at PS-Behrend is over as his team fell in the conference finals to #1 seeded Pitt-Greensburg (19-0-1) in the title game by a 3-2 tally. The AMCC is the conference that Alfred State is now a member of.

Defending women's soccer champion Williams College might not make the NCAA field this year after a semi-final loss in the tough NESCAC playoffs. Team has won three of last four national titles but are at (9-5-2) after their loss to top-seeded Middlebury. Former Utica College head coach, Eileen Blumenauer is on staff at Williams now.

The third son of St. Bonaventure University Men's Basketball Coach Mark Schmidt to play basketball at Alfred University, freshman Mike Schmidt, is off to a great start, earning Empire 8 honors for Rookie of the Week off his performance Saturday at Westfield State.

Mike Schmidt named E8 Rookie of the Week

Freshman point guard, Mike Schmidt (Olean) of the Alfred University men's basketball team was named the Empire 8 Men's Basketball Rookie of the Week on Monday afternoon.

Schmidt helped the Saxons pick up a road, season-opening win at Westfield State on Saturday as he played 35 minutes and scored 10 points in his first collegiate start. He tacked on three defensive rebounds and three assists while stealing the ball once. Out of his 10 points, five were from the charity stripe as he was 5-for-6 on free throws.

Schmidt was joined on the Empire 8 list by teammate Brewster Marshall (Horseheads) who was named the Player of the Week.

AU will co-host the Alfred Special Tees Tip-Off Classic with Alfred State College this weekend. AU will meet SUNY Cobleskill at 5 p.m. Friday, Nov. 15 at Alfred State's Orvis Center then host Clarkson in the Terry S. Galanis Family Arena at 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 16.

As the Alfred-Almond/Arkport/Canaseraga boys cross country team captured the Class DD/D sectional title, who gets to display the Section Five trophy? Do they rotate it around? Do they each get one?

Was watching the Duke-Kansas men's basketball game on ESPN last week when I happened to see a Syracuse score of ... 48-34. Didn't think much of it, figured it was at the half. Nope! The Orange fell by that score, at home, in their ACC opener to Virginia. Guess they were too used to playing Colgate, Binghamton and Cornell that time of the year to actually compete. Apparently ex-SU cager, 'Melo gave a pre-game "pep talk" which probably explains their 13-for-55 shooting from the floor! Standard stats for Carmelo Anthony!

The much-heralded Memphis Tigers men's basketball program could be taking a huge hit soon as prize recruit, James Wiseman might be ruled ineligible by the NCAA. Why did they play Wiseman against somebody named the UIC Flames last Friday? Why not sit him until the issue is resolved? They hardly needed him in that game as they won, 92-46.

In baseball news, Zack Greinke won the Gold Glove and Silver Slugger awards ... in the National League with the AZ Diamondbacks. "Not bad" seeing as though he spent the second half of the season with the Houston Astros in the AL.

Mike B. Giedlin sent me a list of MLB stadiums he's been to in an attempt to top Pat Atwell, Bill Baker and myself. Good try, but he failed. Gids has been to: Memorial Stadium and Camden Yards in Baltimore as an O's fan, of course. Hope he wasn't counting that one time he and brother, Scott O. Lorow stood up Stu and I (weary travelers) at a Yanks-Orioles game! The former A-A pitcher has also been to both Cleveland stadiums, both in Atlanta, each one in Chicago, plus the Angels Park, Candlestick in SF, the Nats Park, PNC in Pittsburgh, Miller in Milwaukee, RFK in DC for an Old-Timers game, old Yankee Stadium, Shea Stadium, old Jarry Park in Montreal, the lovely Exhibition Stadium in Toronto and for baseball meetings at Fenway Park and Texas Stadium. "Nice" list, putting Gids in fourth behind us!

How about this Yanks trade? Giancarlo Stanton ... the "K Machine," OF Clint Frazier and IF Miguel Andujar for Mike Trout! The Angels have done nothing to help out the best player of this generation so time for the New Jersey native to "come home!"

The Clown known as Cris Carter has now been canned at FOX Sports to add to his list of ESPN, previously.

D3 hoops is underway and former Alfred University head coach, Dale Wellman begins his sixth season at the helm of the Nebraska Wesleyan Prairie Wolves, ranked #8 in D3hoops.com pre-season poll. His team won the national title two seasons back and he is (110-34) overall out in the midwest plains.

AU men's hoops opened the season on the road at Westfield State (MA) Saturday and won 74-65. The Owls had finished 16-11 last year and were MASCAC Tourney finalists.

Alfred University and Alfred State have a unique "cross over" tourney in men's b-ball this weekend as Cobleskill and Clarkson are in town. DH's at the Orvis Center and the McLane Center.

The Saxons will then host Coach Minton's Geneseo squad on 11/19 after the Knights get back from competing in the Gettysburg Tip-Off tournament.

Empire 8's St. John Fisher in the d3hoops.com pre-season poll at #25 off their 18-9 finish last year.

Looking at an expanded Sumo Tour South golf outing in March, over the past few years. Tentative participants include: new host Jake Taft, Brownie, Obie, "Charlie" Wakefield, Tom Stuart, Simbo, "Swanson," Mr. Timmer (part-time), Our Man (one round), McDrip if the illustrious Smitty commits and yours truly. Sites around the St. Pete's - Tampa area.

Took in the movie ... Midway last Friday. Excellent!

Think I'm going to wander over to SJ Fisher this coming week. Tuesday (11/12) Coach Murph's Union College men's basketball team plays the Cardinals and then Saturday ... depending on the weather, might meet Stu at the AU-Fisher football game. Right now, a "lovely" high of 28-degrees on Saturday. Good football weather, except to sit or stand out in it to watch! Then, on Monday the 18th, going to the Gallagher Center to see Niagara University hoops and new head coach, Greg Paulus (Duke) take on Bryant. Going with former Purple Eagles walk-on, Dave Houle.
