Plans Revealed For Moving-Up Day Exercises

Alfred's traditional moving-up day assembly will be held Thursday, April 22.

At this time new campus officers will officially take over. William Schuster '43 will introduce the new Student Senate president, and will present the incoming campus officers. Margaret Aylor '43, vice-president of the Senior Class, will turn the Senior cane over to the new class president, in the absence of Lawrence Bickford '43, president.

Several honorary organizations will tap new members; Pres. J. Nelson Norwood will give an address and present the awards; and Mrs. Ada Becker Seidlin will play the processional and recessional for the program.

At the conclusion of the program, students will leave the hall in the following traditional manner: the Juniors will leave first and will form a line on each side of the walk leading to Kenyon Hall. The Sophomores and Freshmen will march through this double line and continue to form the lines where the Juniors stopped. The Seniors and the Faculty, in academic gowns, will march through these lines as everyone sings the Alma Mater, accompanied by Dr. Ray Wingate on the Carillon.

Army Medical Representative Okays Alfred

Lieut. Louis N. Atshuer, a physician and member of the Medical Corps of the Second Service Command on Governors Island, was in Alfred April 13 and 14, inspecting the rooming and boarding facilities and the health program offered by the colleges.

Lieut. Atshuer is one of the inspectors looking into the facilities of the University for the Army Specialized Training Program. Both the College of Ceramics and the College of Liberal Arts have been listed for inspection and possible contract to train a unit of 250 or 300 men who are to become officers.

Lieutenant Atshuer expressed satisfaction with the facilities as he found them. University officials are expecting another inspection which will cover safety elements on the campus, before any contract will be signed.

Alfred Seniors Will Graduate Monday, May 10

Commencement Exercises for Alfred University's Class of 1943 will be held on Monday, May 10 at 2:00 p.m. in Alumni Hall.

Alfred Women To Change Residences

If a group of army men is assigned to Alfred for the specialized training program it will be necessary to use both the Brick and Bartlett Dormitories, it was recently announced by Dean Dora K. Degen. In that case, the women at Alfred would have the experience of living next year in smaller units, and would at the same time be helping in the war effort.

The University would probably take over some of the larger houses in town and fit them up as residences for women. As the army would not use the furniture in the Brick, the same furnishings could be moved to other houses. It is probable that several of houses would be used for freshman residences, and another for girls in the other classes.

Footlight Club, Wee Playhouse To Give Joint Program Next Week

The Footlight Club and the Wee Playhouse will each present a one-act play in their jointly sponsored benefit for the University War Scholarship Fund to be given Wednesday evening, April 28, at Alumni Hall.

For the first time in eight years this benefit brings together on the same program student and community productions. The planned accent is an entertainment through comedy.

Margaret Aylor '43, president of the Footlight Club and Theta Alpha Phi, and well known throughout her college career for many outstanding assignments, is directing Thornton Wilder's "The Happy Journey from Camden to Trenton." The cast includes: Edgar Abramson '46, Gladys Imke '46, Margaret Long '45, Robert Roderick '46, and Raymond Dry '44. John Heebner '44, originally cast for the role now scheduled for Raymond Dry, faces an early induction call, and will remain in the cast as understudy. Mary Lou Jeffrey '44 is bookholder.

"The End of the Beginning" by Leon O'Casey, is the Wee Playhouse offering, directed by Prof. C. Dureya Smith, a member of the Alfred com-debating team. He is president of both the Forensic Society and Blue Key, and vice-president of Phi Psi Omega, the honorary fraternity for men outstanding in scholarship, athletic ability, character, and loyalty to Alfred. He has been elected secretary-treasurer of A. C. F. for next year, and is an active member of the War Adaptations Committee. In the field of sports, he has been a member of the varsity football team, the track team, the basketball team and the volleyball team.

Meyer's opponents for the office were John Baker '44 and Andrew Kulakowich '44. These three were chosen at the primaries from a field of seven candidates.

Kaplowitz Senior Class President
Fred Kaplowitz '44 was elected president of the Senior Class. Verle Campbell '44 and Augustus Hathaway '44 ran against Kaplowitz for the office. Janet Secor '44 won the election for vice-president over John Heebner '44 and Carolyn Howe '44. The secretary of the class will be Jerome Schwartz '44 who defeated Elmer Fitzsimmons '44 and Elleen Hannell '44. Raymond Dry '44 was elected treasurer, defeating Robert Bowman '44 and Mary Lou Jeffrey '44.

Gardner Junior Class President
Jean Gardner '45 was elected president of the junior class. Her opponents for this office were Marjorie Muenzenmaier '45 and Helen Dreher '45. Eugene Bodian '45 will be vice-president, triumphing over Robert Frost '45 and Margaret Lord '45. Ernest Faulk '45 won the secretaryship from his opponents, Margaret Sutton '45 and Francine Robbins '45. Jo Ann Lindsay '45, running against Stuart Kidd '45 and Jeanette Milnes '45 was elected treasurer.

Edward Bruner '46 defeated Ann Hathaway '46 and Dorothy Burdick '46 for the office of secretary. Allen Currey '46 was elected treasurer over his two opponents, Margaret Conroy '46 and Ann Hathaway '46.

William Pangborn '46 was elected president of the sophomore class and Wesley Bell '46 became vice-president. A re-vote was taken in the Brick and Bartlett dormitories Sunday evening on these offices as the first vote resulted in a tie. Jerry Stratton '46 was tied with Pangborn for president, and there was a three-way tie for vice-president between, Bell, Richard Betts '46, and Ann Hathaway '46.

Jerome Schwartz '44 was elected vice-chairman of the Men's Athletic Governing Board. His opponents were Andrew Kulakowich '44 and Robert Meyer '44. The secretaryship of the Board was won by William Cottrell '44 who defeated Robert Meyer '44 and Alfred Cooper '45.

community theater organization. The cast is composed of: Elsie Binns, John MacMahon, and Lynn Vars.

Rehearsals are in full swing, and the seasons final dramatic production offers a welcome relaxation for the community.

The Death Knell

"Death to—not from Tuberculosis" has become the watchword of all Americans interested in the preservation of human life and the eradication of contagious diseases.

Tuberculosis is one of the worst enemies of civilized man. No person is safe from it until all are safe.

The colleges of this country have been taking an active part in the early diagnosis and prevention measures which are the ammunition with which the enslaver of human health can be overcome.

In 1931-32, the case finding program was first introduced at six universities and colleges. This year, only eleven years since the work was begun, over three hundred institutions have as a regular part of their medical program, compulsory T.B. skin testing or chest x-ray. During those same years the percentage of positive reaction on any one campus on which regular testing is maintained has decreased from 35% to 20.7%. Each year more and more cases of tuberculosis are being discovered at an early stage when the victim can be done the most good and his associates the least harm.

There has been no draft to support this movement. All the backing has come through the enlistment of interested and alert people. "However there is plenty of room for volunteers left in the ranks of the forces fighting disease, misery and death." The health offensive must not bog down.

Solid Support

The days of voting and suspense are over and the campus officers have been chosen by the students. That is to say by the 172 who voted.

Now we are no longer separate little factions pulling for various candidates. We are no longer interested in election politics. We are Alfred backing the leaders whom we have chosen.

The jobs of the new senate and the class officers will be difficult enough even with the support of the every student on the campus; we cannot let them down.

In order to intelligently participate in the student governing program we should utilize every available means of discovering what is being done and how it is being done. We should attend meetings and hear what the issues before the senate are, we should discuss them at house meetings and express our personal views, individually and through our elected representatives. We should demand to know what action has been taken on every issue, what the vote was and who voted.

We should demand regular printed reports of the senate's work and proposed work. We should make sure that the Student Senate is really a representative student organization which works for the best interests of the majority of the students.

The Senate cannot represent the composite view point of all the students unless we make a conscious effort to be represented. The officers have a great responsibility, but we have one which is just as great; that of making the Alfred Student Senate the most active and vital group on the campus by our interest and support throughout the coming school year.

Exams Are Here Again!

Work — work — work
Til the brain begins to swim
Work — work — work
Til the eyes are heavy and dim

Those words of Thomas Woods strike a familiar chord in our thoughts today as we scan exam schedules, frantically finish term papers and try to do in twenty-four hours what, in the catalogue, is called a semester course receiving two semester hours credit.

For some of us this is the last exam period we shall ever know at Alfred, for others the first. Those of us who have seen finals come and go for four years now can think back over the pots of coffee which wasn't very strong by the time the grounds had been used seven times, the trays of cigarette butts, the sight of the sun as it comes over the hill, and the sound of the clock at four a. m. when we flop wearily on the davenport for a thirty minute rest.

We all can remember mid-term resolutions about homework and papers, determinations about marks, desires to get out of here as quickly as possible and moments when it had seemed impossible that two or three or four years are gone already.

Now we think forward to the summer of vacation, work, relaxation or study as we:

Cram — cram — cram
Til the page begins to blur
Cram — cram — cram
Til the print begins to whir.

Letters From Servicemen

Several letters from Alfred alumni, now in the services, have been received by the Alumni Office. Exerpts from some of them follow:

Dear Mr. Spicer,

Being a "cadet," I am at no one address longer than two months during training—after that the periods will probably become shorter.

My next station, or post, will be advanced flying training which should bring those long worked for wings.

I have been receiving the Fiat regularly, so I am pretty well posted on the Alfred affairs. It is a particular enjoyment which greatly helps this one in receiving and reading news from Alfred. I believe we all feel that way who had a taste of the "Saxon" environment, so any more news sent us will be greatly appreciated.

Thank you again for your interest.

Very sincerely,
Martin E. Dykeman '39

Dear Sir:

This letter is to let you know that I am in the Armed Forces of our country. I consider myself fortunate in being able to get into the Air Corps down here in sunny Florida. I expect to be sent to Weather Observer School shortly. Although I don't envy you Alfredians up in the midst of the cold Alleghenies while I am acquiring a nice tan the hard way, I do sincerely miss the campus and the friendships I made. Alfred will always hold pleasant memories for me.

I do also wish to let you know that I have been recently engaged to Miss Florence D. Zeale of New York City. Somehow or other the Alumni News has stopped coming to me. I miss it as it was the only link I had with the Alma Mater. I would appreciate your putting me back on the mailing list.

Very sincerely yours,
Charles C. Forbes '42

Dear Alfred,

Who else can I address this letter to and still feel I have done the writers justice.

Your letter was the best letter I have received. I could not answer promptly because I was at a loss as to what I should write you and to whom I should write. I enjoyed all the fine letters and they came at a time when I was feeling a little low, so I am especially appreciable. I could actually see you all again as I read the letter over and over. Now I know you were right, Mrs. Russell, when you said the longer you are away from Alfred the more you long for it.

It is impossible for me to completely answer your questions, but I feel free to say "southern weather is good, southern chicken is better, but southern belles are the best." Seriously I like it very much here. I am studying exactly what I wanted to study in war or peace, except I do not feel at home in the absence of a plaster lab. None of the professors have Prof. Nevins' sense of humor but all in all I am satisfied. The University of Virginia cannot be in any way comparable to the Boardwalk.

I can imagine that St. Pat's was a grand affair but I really haven't seen the festival, so my imagination would probably mislead me.

Changing the subject rather abruptly, I thought would mention that thing, Albridge, a former Alfred Aggie, is staying here at the Albermarle and is also a free meteorological student. Once in a while we get together and practice Alfred's Alma Mater in Prof. Wingate's style.

I know you are busy at the office so I won't write too long a letter for fear some of those envelopes might get stuffed. Thank you again for the copy of the Alumni News, to me it is a memorial of days gone by. I cannot conclude without stating, "I am tall enough to see out of a low cockpit, large enough so the army hasn't swallowed me up yet and indebted to you for your very fine correspondences." Thank you again.

Guest Column

What Kind Of A Post-War World?

by Prince Hubertus zu Lowenstein

The young men who have to leave school and give up whatever they had planned for their future, have a particular right to ask, what kind of a world the statesmen will mould out of the blood and the tears of all the suffering peoples. Surely, it must be a world which in ethos and practice attempts to realize Divine and human law as completely as mortals can do—it must be a world, in which peoples and nations, individuals and groups may live according to their historic and personal vocation, a world, in which the sources of new wars and totalitarianism, of mental and economic slavery are being closed; a world finally, which becomes conscious once more of the inherent law of human brotherhood, and in which the teachings of Christ don't resound just from the pulpits, but become the guiding principles of all national and international activities.

For hundreds of years mankind, once reawakened to its divine origin has been longing for such a world—a mirror and type on earth of the Kingdom to come. Will we achieve it this time? Certainly not in the sense, that with the end of the war all problems will be solved and the ideal becomes complete reality. It is the essence of an ideal, never to find full realization within our human time-space relationship, for only at the end of time will we attain to the great synthesis of the Two Cities, since St. Augustin the very goal of all Christendom. But what matters is the ideal as such, and that men will be found, who in their generation fulfill the task which History has assigned to them. With this in mind, we may outline a number of very practical tenets:

Since this war has been brought about by universal guilt, by a departure from the rules of Life, a process stretching over many generations and manifested in its utter depravation by modern totalitarianism, only universal atonement can be the basis for the future peace. This means a humble and contrite attitude on the part of all nations, the oppressed and the free, and complete collaboration between all, as soon as the curse of totalitarianism in its worst form has been broken. Peace plans, which envisage Nazi methods against the vanquished are evil, simply because there should be no vanquished apart from the Nazis, Fascists and their intellectual kins themselves, but Victors only: namely the truly United Nations, regardless of the language which they speak.

I would think of an international organization at the end of the war, in which all peoples receive their due share. Only then will national hatred be overcome. According to the example set by the history of the United States I could well envisage a similar body of nations in liberated Europe, an Occidental Commonwealth, united with America, Russia, the British Empire and other large federations, by bonds of closest moral and legal agreements. International arbitration, international education, and complete international economic solidarity should be among the pillars of that future World's Republic.

Youth in all countries, which is called upon to fight and die for the guilt of the preceding generations, is chosen to take a leading part in such reconstruction. Fighting with a clean heart and a clean sword, unstained by hatred, greed and vices, Youth may then discover, that it is truly their own world which they have to build. I knew a good many young men, in whom this spark is very much alive—some of them fight in the allied armies, others in the underground armies of the oppressed countries. All understand, that they are embraced by the same community of destiny, that they have the same friends and the same enemies.

When they come home, it will be their duties to stand actively for the same idea, whether they are educators, writers, ministers or members of the technical profession. "Isolationism," moral and political, at the end of the war, would undo once more, what their fight itself has accomplished. It is my conviction, that the American Colleges must be in the forefront of the struggle, when the new world is being built.

Fiat Staff To Publish Commencement Issue

A Special Commencement issue of the Fiat will be published May 10, Commencement Day.

This paper, which will deal mainly with this year's seniors and their activities during four years at Alfred, will be the only Fiat to be published between now and the end of the term.

College Town

Since our professors here at Alfred add so much to the college, I've decided it is only fair to dedicate this week's column to them. After all what would classes amount to if it weren't for those intellectual PhD's? I made an intensive survey in order to find out the "line" of each professor. The result of that survey, I will present to you now.

First of all there's good old Doc Ross who says "just as sure as the Lord made little green apples" or still better "just like a bat on a june bug." Have you heard Doctor Barnard lament, "Well, I wouldn't expect a Freshman to remember that anyway"? Seidlin says, "Now if you don't remember another thing in this course, I want you to remember this point." (Naturally he says this for every point in the course.)

Red Glaser likes Dr. Russell because the Doc obliges his classes by saying, "Now I don't much care if I give you a test or not." And Dean Drake pads his lecture with, "suffice it to say." Then Dr. Boraas explains to his classes what a "fixation upon a frustration is" or a "frustration on a fixation is." Oh, well, what difference does it make anyhow? Doc Watson pounds into his chem students the value of the proper lab technique. Then he takes the cork out of the bottle and spills acid all over himself. Amberg says, "Now you've gotta dig, dig, dig." Doctor Warren talks of the typical Sophomore attitude. Doctor Lund wisely advises his students to use "deliberation and discretion."

Before I close this column, there is one badly needed criticism to be made. It is the deplorable condition of the telephone system in Alfred. First of all it is impossible to make a local call when the operator is a nervous wreck over a long distance call from Almond. Secondly, what this country needs is cooperation, but when the operator cooperates in your personal calls that is to much. It is like the wire tapping system in Germany. Of course there is a good point in it because the operator always knows what time the second show begins, and who hasn't got a date and why. (Though sometimes I wish she'd leave out the why.)

Well, I've got to stop now because I have to make a phone call to the Collegiate for a ten cent cherry coke. I hope I don't die of thirst before I get the operator.

Weasels Victorious In Contest With Faculty

End Season Undefeated; Take Volleyball Championship Trophy

The Weasels rose to new heights Thursday evening when they rallied after a first game setback to take the highly touted faculty into camp, two games to one.

This long awaited meeting turned out to be a hard fought, grueling match in which the smooth teamwork of the Weasel aggregation finally overcame the valiant spiking efforts of Russell, McLane, Minnick and Company.

By winning this match, the Weasels ended the 1943 season undefeated, taking the championship and the Volleyball Trophy. Incidentally, the boys also won a spaghetti dinner in taking the match.

Other action this week saw Lambda Chi going down to defeat before the Faculty, as also was the fate of the Plebes. The Faculty itself was beaten by Delta Sig and Kappa Psi. The Weasels downed Delta Sig to sweep their seven game schedule. Kappa beat Kappa Psi.

A few games have not been played. However, due to scheduling difficulties, these contests have been cancelled.

The final standings:

Teams	Won	Lost
Weasels	7	0
Faculty	4	3
Kappa Psi	4	3
Lambda Chi	3	3
Delta Sig	2	2
Dorm	1	5
Plebes	0	5

Women May Soon Work As Bankers

Women college graduates, in a limited number, will soon be employed by the Chase National Bank of New York City.

Although accounting and economic majors are preferred, those women who have majored in other liberal arts courses may also be considered. Women will be trained in various phases of bank clerical work and later permanently assigned to positions for which they are adapted.

Starting salaries are liberal, working conditions pleasant and there are opportunities for advancement.

Interested seniors are invited to interview the firm through its personnel department.

Further information may be obtained from Dean Dora K. Degen.

A Modern Wonder!

If, when you turn on your radios these days, you hear a distinct rumble, don't be alarmed, because it isn't thunder. And it isn't static. It's Marconi turning over in his grave.

The radio is a wonderful thing. Through it we can bring into our very rooms world famous symphony and swing orchestras, operas, the voice of people from all corners of the earth, and yet what do we hear when we turn the magic dial? "Rinso white, Rinso white, Happy Little washday song" or "Gimme a packa Beeman's Pepsin Chewing Gum, pleez." In nearly every inter-between station we are forced to listen to some simple little ditty, apparently designed to appeal to the more moronic percentage of the radio audience. Does the average radio listener have a mental age of 10, so that he cannot understand things told to him in a simple direct way, but must have them sung to him?

Here's hoping that after the war the "Soap operas," as they are fondly called, are either taken off the air or at least substituted by some really good drama or music. "Now we bring you the story which asks the question 'Can a girl raised in a small mining town in the West find happiness as the wife of England's richest and most handsome lord?' " or "Now we bring you 'The Romance of Helen Trent,' the story which proves that a woman can find love and romance at the age of thirty!" Do housewives, with their own worries, also have to worry about Young Doctor Malone's troubles? About the farthest call from real life drama are these tear-jerkers, in which there is never a dull moment for the characters. With a few exceptions they are either grappling with Jap or Nazi spies, or eternally involved in some deep emotional situation. Any person exposed to the life they lead for a year would soon find himself cutting out paper dolls in the nearest nut house.

Now we come to the last "Radio Bugaboo." You've guessed it—those hair-raising, gangster-chasing, nightmare-encouraging programs which infest the air waves from 4:30 until 7:30, or thereabouts. "It's a bird—it's a plane—it's SOOOoper Man." "Wave the flag for Hudson High, boys, show them where we stand," etc. Everyone agrees that the children do listen to them, but what else is there for them to listen to? How do we know that a little higher form of entertainment wouldn't be received just as well. There could be stories just as thrilling and entertaining written by some clever writers, which wouldn't have to tell us how the G-men riddled the gangsters with their tommy-guns, or how Wung Lung Gone, leader of the Jap spies was tossed overboard by Little Orphan Annie and was immediately consumed by sharks. Do programs have to be gruesome to be exciting?

And now a last word to my friend, Marconi. If you had an ideal or dream of the heights to which your brainchild could climb, don't be discouraged, for it is achieving it now, and will go to ever newer and greater heights, ones which even you never dreamed of. And don't be discouraged because one of man's greatest inventions, your invention, is being ill-used, for it is only an era, I think, that we are passing through, and perhaps even after the war, people everywhere will realize the potentialities of the instrument which knits the world into closer

Navy In Need Of Engineers

The Navy has urgent need of trained engineers to handle and maintain ultra-high frequency radio equipment and is offering commissions to qualified men, the Third Naval District announced recently.

"Hundreds of billets," the Naval statement said, await electrical engineers now engaged in work not essential to the war effort.

Wartime expansion of the Navy has greatly increased the need for men with ultra-high frequency experience, according to Capt. Kenneth G. Castleman, U. S. N. (Ret.), Director of Naval Officer Procurement. To fill this need the Office of Naval Officer Procurement has been permitted to relax the usual physical requirements. Applications will be accepted from qualified engineers up to 50 years of age with slight physical defects which would not interfere with performance of duty.

"Experienced men holding degrees in electrical, radio or communications engineering, or with background in physics and mathematics, are technically qualified for electronics work," the announcement said. "Newly commissioned officers in ultra-high frequency work are given the Navy's three-months course in electronics at either Harvard University or Bowdoin College, followed by an additional three months' laboratory course at M. I. T."

Applicants may communicate with the Office of Naval Procurement.

Latin Club Has Annual Banquet Thursday Night

The annual Roman style banquet was held by the Latin Club last Thursday, April 15, in Social Hall.

Guests dressed in togas and stolas, "slaves" wearing short robes, and a Roman chicken dinner, in charge of Mary McCarthy '43, added to the Roman atmosphere.

A play, "Lysistrata" made up the main part of the program. Evelyn Stevens '43, Elaine Beckstrand '44, Emma Jo Hill '43, Jean Barber '46, Margaret Wingate '42, and Miss Hazel Humphreys took part in this play concerning Greek women, who, tiring of war, stopped hostilities by leaving their homes and going into seclusion until peace was made.

Miss Humphreys gave three recitations, "The Moderns and Pan," "Marpessa" and "To Helen, Middle Aged." Miss Wingate and Miss Stevens sang, and Miss Beckstrand recited "How Athens Got Her Reputation."

Donald Dreyer Reports For Naval Flight Work

Donald Dreyer '41 has reported for Naval Aviation Flight Training at Baylor University, Waco, Texas.

If successful at this training school, Dreyer will continue with preliminary and advance training. Upon completion of his course, he will be commissioned as an Ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve, receive his designation as Naval Aviator, and be assigned to duty with the Fleet.

Soldiers To Be Relieved Of All Home Worries

In keeping with the Army tradition that the soldier on the fighting front should not be handicapped by worries regarding the home front, Colonel John M. McDowell announced today that the Army Emergency Relief Office at District No. 4, Second Building, 25 North Street, Rochester, New York, is fully prepared to assist dependents of soldiers residing in Monroe, Livingston, Steuben, Allegany, Wyoming, and Genesee counties.

Army Emergency Relief was organized to meet the emergency relief needs of the wives, parents, children, or close relatives of Army men who previously contributed to their support. After careful investigation shows the case to be worthy, the relief may take the form of cash grants, loans, or other aids.

Typical needs for Army Emergency Relief assistance occur when induction into the service disrupts the family budget; when a soldier dies and insurance or death benefits have not arrived; or when serious medical problems arise in the home. In short, Army Emergency Relief steps in and affords temporary relief to the dependents of a soldier in any financial crisis resulting from his presence in the Army.

Army Emergency Relief does not, however, compete with, or replace, the American Red Cross or other worthy local welfare agencies with which it works in closest cooperation.

Colonel McDowell pointed out that the funds used by AER have been raised in large measure by patriotic civilians or by the military personnel through such shows as Irving Berlin's "This Is The Army." "Assisting soldiers and their families in this way we do not consider as charity," said Colonel McDowell, "because the emergencies requiring our assistance have been created by the call into the service of the nation. We view our aid, therefore, as a friendly act of one neighbor to another, just as happens constantly in every community in the country."

Sports Shorts—

The triumphant Weasels now reign undisputed champions of Alfred volleyball. A fine bunch of players, working together with that all important spirit of teamwork so necessary in any sport, they showed that they had what it takes Thursday night last when they swatted down their most dangerous rivals the formidable Faculty. Sports leaguers this week—the Weasels. Congratulations, fellows!

Despite the rather hurried schedule, the volleyball season just closed certainly justified advance expectations. Competition was tough but good-natured, and no team was too weak to put up a good scrap. Too bad time didn't permit a second round.

Inasmuch as there will not be another issue of the Flat before the Middle Atlantics, let us draw your attention to the participation of Ed Mooney in this meet. Our outstanding track star will be trying for another pole vaulting record, this time seeking to top the mark of 12' 10 1/2" set by another Alfredian some time ago in that meet. We'll all be pulling for Ed in this, his last time out under the Alfred colors. We know he can do it.

Another softball challenge has been received. Those athletic marvels, Weasels, jubilant over their volleyball success, have challenged the men of Kappa Psi to a diamond duel. Have they perhaps bitten off a trifle more than they can chew? Time alone will tell. How about some more challenges, guys and gals? A few female fricases would liven up the campus no end, so come on, you ladies, needle your neighbors into some softball slugfests.

Hiking is a favorite sport these balmy (brilliant!) spring days. Some claim, however, that said activity is unpatriotic in these days of shoe rationing. In this connection we bow in deepest respect to a certain group of Alfred co-eds who, last week one day, padded home all the way from Almond with arches bare. A commendable spirit, if not carried too far!

Tommy Harmon, old '98 of Michigan gridiron fame, who had been reported missing in action, has been found. Harmon, frequently ranked with Red Grange as one of football's immortals, has for the past year been serving in the Air Corps. Somewhere over the South American jungle, his plane had been lost for several days and little hope was held for his chances of survival.

The entire sports world felt for the safety of Tommy Harmon, All-American halfback, All-American guy. The man who outscored Red Grange in intercollegiate competition, 33 touchdowns to 31 for the Galloping Ghost, who led his Michigan teams for three years of smashing victories, who has heard himself praised to the skies by enthusiastic sports experts for his sensational running, has often been quoted as saying that his two greatest thrills came from a game saving tackle and a field clearing block.

The tackle was counted against Ohio State on a man in the clear whom Harmon overtook and downed from behind to save Michigan's lead.

Alfred Enters Ed Mooney In Penna. Meet

Ed Money '43 will represent Alfred in the University of Pennsylvania Relays April 23 and 24 at Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

Competition in this meet is really tough. The best athletes of eastern colleges compete in this meet, which often produces world records.

Bob Meyer '44 and Ed Mooney will be Alfred's entries in the Middle Atlantics Meet which will take place May 8. Bob will compete in the dashes. Ed in the broad jump and pole vault.

Charley Clark, an Alfred man, some years ago set the current pole vault record in the Middle Atlantics Meet of 12' 10 1/2". Mooney has a good chance to raise that mark this year.

Peggy Conroy Winner Of Table Tennis Tournament

Peggy Conroy '46 is the new table tennis champion of Alfred by reason of a very close 21-18, 21-19 victory over Evelyn Grossman '45. This playoff match, held Thursday, was the culmination of the series of monthly tournaments, the winners of which met in the final elimination.

The doubles team of Locke '46 and Conroy defeated Grossman and Fisher '46 21-19, 21-18 to take the doubles crown.

of 21-14 and bring her home the winner. The block was one thrown by Harmon on a charging Illinois end which enabled his teammate Forest Evashevski to score a brilliant run and touchdown against that team.

Subject to all the petty snipping endured by every publicized star, Harmon's standing with football fans of the middle west, in particular, who remember him in action, is yet deservedly high. '98' has come through again, and the entire sports world joins those who knew him in giving thanks.

It is an interesting observation, suggested by the above, that leaders in sports make good leaders in warfare. Self-confidence, coordination, initiative, quick thinking, and countless other physical and mental benefits acquired from competitive effort, are the very traits necessary in good officers. Yet another reason for more sports in Alfred! Let's have all we can in days to come.

In closing this week's column, let us again salute those triumphant Weasels and the hard-fighting Faculty in appreciation of their volleyball prowess. Most important item yet to come in our waning sports season is Ed Mooney's final pole vault attempt. Watch also for those softball challenge games to be played off as soon as possible.

That's all for sports for now.

A. C. F. Spring Meeting Held

At the Spring Conference of the A. C. F. held in Susan Howell Social Hall last Saturday afternoon retiring president, Mary Johnston '43 reviewed the year's work of that organization.

Beginning with the assignment of the Big-Sisters and the preparation of the Handbook before school opened last fall up to the closing service next Sunday night, the A. C. F. has sponsored from two to five programs each week.

Outstanding in the programs offered have been visiting speakers who have been brought to Assemblies, classes, Chapels and Sunday evening forums. These have included Dr. A. J. Elliot of Chicago, Mrs. Way Sung New of Shanghai, China, and Mrs. Edith Magruder of New York City.

At the Sunday evening forums ten different faculty members have been presented as well as programs dealing with world affairs.

More than a dozen Faculty Fire-side Groups have been held, promoting friendly relations between student and faculty. Friday chapel services have been led by the Alfred students.

Over 20 students have been able to attend Intercollegiate Conferences where they have represented Alfred among the colleges of the state. At the Rochester Conference, Alfred was the only school invited to conduct one of the worship services.

Through participation in the state and national Student Christian Movements and membership in the World Student Christian Federation, the A. C. F. has furthered its international interests.

President Johnston expressed her appreciation for the fine cooperation of the retiring cabinet and all the members who have made such a program possible.

Sigma Chi, Kappa Psi Awarded Cups

Sigma Chi Nu and Kappa Psi Upsilon were awarded the faculty scholarship award cup in assembly April 8.

These cups are awarded to the men's and women's groups which have the highest indices for the preceding semester. Sigma Chi had an index of 1.72 while Kappa Psi boasted 1.31.

A group is given permanent possession of the cup after having won it three times, not necessarily in succession. Sigma Chi has already won the custody of two such cups in this manner.

The indices of the other sorority and fraternity groups are as follows: Pi Alpha Pi, 1.69; Theta Theta Chi, 1.25; Delta Sigma Phi, 0.68; Kappa Nu, 1.06; Kappa Alpha, 0.82, and Lambda Chi Alpha, 1.28.

New A. C. F. Cabinet Members Named

New members to the cabinet of the A. C. F. have recently been announced by Mary Lou Jeffrey '44, president.

A Chairman of Discussion, and an Ag-Tech representative have not yet been announced. The chairman of special project committees will be added to the Cabinet from time to time.

At a special Easter meeting of the A. C. F. next Sunday evening at 7:15 in Susan Howell Social Hall, the newly elected officers and the chairman will be installed.

Three Accept Teaching Posts For Next Year

Three seniors who are majoring in education have accepted teaching positions for next year.

Mary McCarthy will teach English and social studies at the Belfast High School. Mathematics will be taught by Jeannette Torrey and Ellen Hodges, Miss Torrey teaching at Central Islip, Long Island and Miss Hodges at Ellcottville, New York.

To Speak Before Math Club

Robert Burgess '43 and Jeannette Torrey '43 will speak on "Paradox Lost" and "Paradox Regained" at the meeting of the Math Club to be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Physics Hall. Election of officers will be held at this time. Following the meeting refreshments will be served. Everyone is invited.

Carillon Publication Cancelled This Year

It has been decided that the Carillon, the college humor magazine sponsored by Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, will not be published this spring as had been planned.

Mary Walker '43, who was to have been editor-in-chief of the Carillon stated, "Due to present world conditions we were unable to obtain financial backing through advertising which in former years would have enabled us to put it over."

The Carillon was to have been the successor of the Saxonian, the college's literary venture in humor of a few years ago.

All Seniors, Faculty to Meet at Kanakadea in Morning

All Seniors and faculty members are requested to meet in front of Kanakadea, in academic gowns, Thursday morning, April 22, not later than 10:50, in order to form a processional to Alumni Hall.

Ag-Tech Hears From Soldiers

Ag-Tech students in the armed services are receiving an Alumni Bulletin which is being sent out by the Ag-Tech Institute. The bulletin contains news about fellow students, and Alfred.

Following are some letters which have been sent in appreciation of the Ag-Tech Alumni Bulletin:

Dear Mr. Orvis,

I just received your swell paper yesterday. It is sure swell to know where the fellows are. I had lost track of a good many of the fellows. I suppose that there are others that feel the same way.

Since I have been overseas almost seven months now, I haven't seen or heard of anyone that I knew.

I have often thought about school and the fraternity. I have said to myself that I would give anything to be back there, and to have a good reunion at the fraternity house. Someday it will all come to be; the whole trouble is that someone of us just won't get back.

I have often wondered where "Duke" Dutkowski was. What a swell football team we had when "Bo," "Duke," "Pike" and Johnny were all playing together. They certainly ran over everything that year. They are just memories now, but very pleasant ones.

I'm awfully sorry I can't tell you anything about the fellows, but if I do run into any of them, I'll drop you a line.

I would love to see the Alfred campus without any men on it. It would sure be a sight to see.

Again the "Sons of Alfred" have gone to war. They will come home again, victorious, in a few months.

Say hello to any people around the school that I know, please. Keep the papers coming.

Sincerely,

Harry Gass '41

Dear Mr. Orvis,

Thanks a million for your most welcome letter.

The bursts of machine gun fire, the whine of falling bombs, and the roar of planes overhead in these war torn countries of North Africa is quite different from the cheery laughter of the students and the notes of the carillon drifting down the valley.

I do appreciate the moments of relaxation afforded by you and the bits of Alfred gossip, and sincerely hope that soon again I will be able to visit the peaceful enclosures of the Institute.

Sincerely,

Eddie Poshadel '41

Pi Delt Elects New Members

Eleven new members were elected to Pi Delta Epsilon Fraternity on Sunday, April 11.

The newly-elected members are: Helen Dreher '45, Jeanette Milnes '45, Betty Van Gorder '45, Margaret Gibbo '44, Eileen Hannell '44, Francis Di-Laura '43, Gene Bodian '45, Leo Pozefsky '44, Elmer Fitzsimmons '44, Alvin Glaser '45, and Hazel Guthrie '44. An initiation service will take place shortly before the end of the term.

Pi Delta Epsilon is a national honorary journalism fraternity whose purpose is to promote a high standard of journalism in college publications such as yearbooks, newspapers and handbooks. With the starting of the Alfred Chapter on May 16, 1942, Alfred joined many other colleges throughout the nation, who are members of this organization.

In order to become a member of Pi Delt, college students must have been in school at least two years, and must have done outstanding work on a college publication at least one year of the two.

William Cottrell '44, the successor of Robert Williams '44, now in medical college in Albany, is the present president of the Alfred branch of Pi Delta Epsilon Fraternity.

Changes Made In Regulations For WAVES, SPARS

A few changes have been made in the rules regulating the WAVES and SPARS.

WAVES and SPARS will now be recruited from all U. S. Navy Recruiting Stations. Previously women were able to enlist in these branches only through Naval Offices of Officer Procurement.

Educational requirements have also been changed. Two years of high school or business school is all that is now required.

WAVES and SPARS are now permitted to marry men in their own branches of service upon completion of indoctrination and training courses.

Additional training schools have also been opened.

Chinese Relics Shown At Museum

Jade, cornelian, ivory, agate and turquoise handcarved snuff bottles collected by Dr. Ellen Sutton during her years in China are among the Chinese relics on exhibit in Allen Steinhilf Museum.

Dr. Sutton has a collection of about 600 of the snuff bottles as well as many samples of needle work, weaving and pottery. Samples of all are in her exhibit loaned to Steinhilf for a few weeks. Some of the snuff bottles are 200 to 250 years old; they are not being made now. A worker would make 10 to 20 cents (American money) a day in their manufacture.

"It is amazing," said Dr. Sutton, "to see the quality of the work performed by the Chinese considering the crude hand tools which they used."

In general the snuff bottles are about three inches high, two inches wide and an inch thick. One group is made of quartz crystals, hollowed, fitted with caps and finished on the outside; all the work being done with hand tools. One group is made of glass, hand painted, but the decorations are on the inside. Some pieces are ceramic ware showing patterns of underglazed enamel and others overglazed.

One bottle is made of a peach pit; another from a large bean. Some are intricately carved lacquered wood; others are overlaid in metal filigree.

The needlecraft and weaving pieces show Mandarin squares, official badges which are mostly the product of home pastime of ladies in the households.

A.C.F. Gives Books To Carnegie Library

The special display of Lenten reading materials currently exhibited in the Library include the complete set of the Hazen Books on Religion. This set of twelve volumes was given to the Library by the Alfred Christian Fellowship.

The Hazen Books are specially designed for students. They are brief, usually between sixty and one hundred pages, and in a form easily carried in the pocket. They are written for the typical undergraduate by some of the outstanding religious writers in the country. Each volume discusses one of the major questions in the field of student religious thinking, as "Christians in an UnChristian Society" by E. F. Tittle; "Christian Faith and Democracy" by Gregory Vlastos; and "Christianity and Our World" by John Bennett, which has had eight printings.

"What Is Man?" by R. L. Calhoun, Yale University, is one of the most stimulating and enlightening books in the series. Other titles are "Reality and Religion," "The Bible," "Prayer and Worship," "Jesus," "God," "The Church," "Religious Living" and "Toward a World Christian Fellowship."

Each volume sells for fifty cents. The whole project was sponsored by the Edward W. Hazen Foundation which is interested in combatting the religious illiteracy among college students. These brief, readable booklets will clear up many misconceptions, and provide many new insights into religion.

Two Japanese Students Talk Before A.C.F.

Yutaka Kobayashi '46, formerly a freshman at San Francisco Junior College, and Henry Nakamura '45, formerly a sophomore at the University of Washington, spoke on the Japanese-American evacuation of the West Coast at the A. C. F. meeting Sunday evening in Susan Howell Social Hall.

They told about the history of the Japanese-American relations, the significance of the evacuation, and personal experiences and observations during this movement.

Japanese-American relations have been strained for some time, especially since the Alien Exclusion Act of 1924. Conditions have become worse, until now the pressure groups and super-patriots have succeeded in discriminating against Japanese aliens and citizens to the extent that they have been almost completely segregated.

The first place a Japanese-American goes when he is evacuated from his home is an assembly center. These are usually made from converted fairgrounds or such places and include crowded numbers in a small space. The supposedly short time which often stretches into months is spent in inadequate buildings and with the use of very crude facilities.

After leaving the center, the people are sent to one of the ten relocation camps, where they usually live in barracks and have facilities which are a little better than before. In these camps, where 110,000 Japanese-American refugees have been sent, some chances are given for education. Conditions in these camps are very different from the people's lives because everything they do is under close, military supervision.

This evacuation is significant in many ways. It takes away the rights of some citizens guaranteed by the constitution. The possibility of sabotage by Japanese is no greater than by Germans or any other nationality in this country. The economic loss to Japanese-Americans has been very great because they have had to dispose of most of their possessions prior to leaving for camp. The Axis has and will use the evacuation as a potent weapon in its propaganda system.

Kobayashi ended the program by stressing the idea that these people have been American citizens who have been removed from their homes, and that "We must remember what we have set out to defend: decency, liberty, and justice."

ASK THE GENERAL IN AFRICA

"OH, FOR AN ICE-COLD COCA-COLA"

"I'M WRITING HOME ABOUT HOW I WISH I COULD GO DOWN TO THE CORNER FOR A COKE WITH THE GANG"

"In his letter home, even a general in Africa recalled happy moments with ice-cold Coca-Cola. There's something about Coca-Cola. Ever notice how you associate it with happy moments? There's that delicious taste you don't find this side of Coca-Cola, itself. It's a chummy drink that people like right-out-of-the-bottle. Yes siree, the only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself."
