

Sun on Broadway

Alfred-Almond C.S. and Alfred University alum Shaminda Amarakoon, who was graduated from grad school a year ago, has since been working on Broadway as an Assistant Technical Supervisor. His parents, in a recent visit from their home in Virginia, brought him a few issues of the Alfred Sun to read. "It was great to get a little bit of Alfred in the big apple," he said, adding, "I thought you'd appreciate a couple pictures of the Sun on Broadway!" "Lucky Guy" (with Tom Hanks) was one of the shows his company worked on.

AU 'strong' in art/design, engineering

ALFRED—Alfred University (AU) makes the lists of "strong" small colleges and universities in "art or design" (one of 24) and "engineering" (one of 19) in the 2014 edition of the Fiske Guide to Colleges.
The guide also includes the AU as an affordable higher education choice under the "inexpensive" private colleges and universities category.
AU is one of close to 300 "of the best and most interesting institutions in the nation" selected for inclusion in the guide out of more than 2,200 U.S. colleges and universities.
"The university boasts highly respected programs in art and design, as well as ceramic engineering. Innovation not only shapes the curriculum, but also has a profound effect on campus life. Small classes and friendly competition support this diversity while encouraging individuals to succeed," reads the guide.
Compiled by former New York Times education editor Edward B. Fiske for 30 years, the guide looks at a broad range of subjects, including student body, academics, social life, financial aid, campus setting, housing, food, and extracurricular activities.
"The university and its students share a no-nonsense approach to education," the guide maintains. "Whatever their major, all students enjoy small classes and the quality of teaching is described as very high ... Most classes are taught by full professors, with graduate students and teaching assistants helping out only in lab sessions."

"Fiske Guide to Colleges 2014" (ISBN: 9781402260643; JULY 2, 2013; $23.99 U.S.; College Guide/Reference; Trade Paper) is available in bookstores and online purchase. The guide is also available as an iPad app on iTunes and a Web app on CollegeCountdown.com. "Fiske Interactive" ($19.99) allows families to go beyond the book by viewing photos of each campus, creating school lists, and taking virtual notes.
Founded in 1836, Alfred University became the first coeducational institution in New York State and the second in the nation. About 2,000 full-time undergraduate and 400 graduate students work and live in 52 buildings on a scenic 232-acre hillside campus adjoining the village of Alfred.
The University is comprised of the privately endowed College of Professional Studies, housing the School of Business, and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, as well as the state-sponsored College of Ceramics housing the Kazuo Inamori School of Engineering and the School of Art and Design. Bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees are awarded.

Three Alfred University faculty members in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences were named endowed chairs in the college this summer. They are (from left); Joseph Petrillo, associate professor of mathematics, to serve a second term as the Dr. Sanford S. Cole and Frances Halderman Cole Chair in Mathematics; John D'Angelo, associate professor of chemistry, as the Dr. Sanford S. Cole and Frances Halderman Cole Chair in Chemistry; and Cecilia Beach, professor of French, to fill The Margaret and Barbara Hagar Professorship in the Humanities. After he was appointed the position of the University's first carillonneur, Wingate held that title until his death, having arranged over 5,000 selections for the carillon and composed nine suites.

Powers speaking in New Zealand at International Neon Workshop

ALFRED—Angus Powers, associate professor of glass at Alfred University (AU), is set to bring his avant-garde sculpture and an old world appreciation for functional glassware to New Zealand as guest lecturer at the 2013 International Neon Workshop in Auckland this week.

The summer seminar is sponsored by Neon Workshops, a working and educational studio based in West Yorkshire, Great Britain.

Established in 2008, Neon Workshops aims to expose, explore, and teach neon as a method of expression and cultural production, as well as confront common limitations of the material. Neon Café in West Auckland is host for the 2013 program where Powers will present July 25-28.

Powers was a clear choice for the position. His neon and glass works explore technology and the effects of its pursuit on human nature. In understanding the relationship between people and technology Powers has striven with projects such as "Roman Furnace" and "Glass in Space" to better know glass as a medium with both a crucial history and brilliant future of endless possibilities.

In his most recent endeavors, Powers has focused on being both a contemporary glass sculptor and a potter of glass.

"It is a significant moment for me that my interest in teaching ancient glass technologies aligns with a new series of work I have planned based on principles rooted in Roman glass," said Powers.

Perhaps one his greatest accomplishments on campus may be the personal construction and installation of a Roman-style furnace, which he now uses to teach his students. Powers attributes his ever-growing appreciation for utilitarian glassware to a visiting artist residency served at Copenhagen's Danish Design School, where much greater emphasis on usability is learned and accounted for.

"Although I will continue my use of large and small glass sculptures in my own work, I have recently decided to devote a great amount of my research to understanding the virtues of function and utility, as a directive for a parallel body of work. I am embracing the term 'glass potter' and am looking to strengthen the glass design element within our (AU's) curriculum with this research."

While much of his latest interest has been devoted to building into his artistic foundation a concept of "glass potter," much of Powers' work is devoted to creating adroit manipulations of his medium.

Powers' glass sculptures are characterized by finesse, balancing the use of neon throughout his pieces against the greater conceptualization of the work. His technique results in a quirky combination of attention-grabbing humor and sensibility. Powers' artistic dynamism pushes viewers of his work to interact the sculptures on multiple levels of understanding.

Summer drink recipes for children

In an old cookbook I have had for many years I found ten recipes for summer drinks for children. The book is entitled A Book of Favorite Recipes compiled by The Hannah Circle of Good Hope Evangelical Lutheran Church in North Lima, Ohio published in 1984. I have no idea where I found this book, but I always buy cookbooks put out by church groups because that's where you find the really delicious recipes.

Each recipe uses a blender and equals two servings.

Vote on Fair Tax Act!

Letter to the Editor:

Dave Camp, chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, seemingly intends to ignore The Fair Tax Act again. Perhaps he's going to tweak the existing God-forsaken, income tax code and pass it off as his promised "comprehensive tax reform."

The entire W/M committee seems to support him in this. Shame on them all! The FairTax legislation has been in this committee for 12+ years; it's never been voted on. It's a taxation plan designed by economists to save the economy; it's backed by $22M in research.

No other proposed tax reform measure promises the dramatic positive effect on the economy as the FairTax. All the research collectively predicts our economy will grow by over 10% in the first year, 5 times the current rate. Capital will flow into the US at an unprecedented rate; MILLIONS of new jobs will be created. But, it will cost our elected congressmen, the governing elite, their power to control "we the people," punish their enemies and reward their contributors by selling tax favors.

Your representative, Tom Reed, is a member of the W/M committee. Email him through his web site and call his Washington DC office ((202) 225-3161 and ask: "What is going on?"

Sun Spots*Ineffable

No words describe a thunderhead approaching
As on clear blue skies it's silently encroaching,
A force as irresistible in strength
As eclipsing visibility in length.
The brilliant sun, just barely hid behind it,
Intensifies the seam that's silver-lined it –
A mountain cloaked in thick and swirling smoke
Unapproachable by ordinary folk
But with mountaintop that's glowing as with fire,
And magnificently rising ever higher,
Stark majesty, ensconced in radiant hues
Of whites and grays, and purples, pinks and blues,
Billowed pillars bathed by late-day light,
Soon transformed to lightning-fire by night...
No, words cannot describe a thunderhead –
Especially directly overhead.

FROM THE DESK OF DAVID PULLEN

By DAVID PULLEN
Allegany County Legislator

AN ABUNDANCE OF COMMON SENSE

On Thursday, July 18th, at 2:00 pm, the Allegany County Legislature held its second monthly meeting at the Allegany County Fairgrounds. This was the 5th consecutive year that the Legislature has done this. We were joined by Boy Scouts, veterans, various State and local officials, and (most importantly) by members of the general public. This is a great way of bringing government "to the people." On the 150th anniversary of the Gettysburg Address, it was a tremendous way to fulfill Abraham Lincoln's call to have government "... of the people, by the people and for the people ..."

The meeting began with a presentation of the flag by a color guard comprised of members of Angelica Boy Scout Troop 736. Those Scouts were Nicholas Cobin, Gunther Krohn and Conner Cockle. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by former Navy Petty Officer Alan B. Cole. Special recognition was given to 4-H honoree Rachel Beiler and Fair Book dedication recipient Paula Van Dyke.

State Senator Cathy Young addressed the Board and those present. She acknowledged the importance of agriculture to our region, and the important contributions made by farmers and the numerous volunteers who make the Allegany County Fair possible. Assemblyman Joe Giglio was also in attendance and addressed our meeting. He noted that his Assembly District now "proudly" represents all of Allegany County. Congressman Tom Reed was in Washington and unable to attend this session. His District Representative, Joe Sempolinski, spoke on his behalf. He noted that matters in Washington are gridlocked. The political situation for the federal government is largely dysfunctional. He observed that it was refreshing to visit Allegany County where people possess traditional American values, and where "there is an abundance of common sense."

There were six resolutions before the Board of Legislators for consideration at this session. Resolutions 118 and 119 involved conveyance of 2013 tax sale properties to the high bidders. Resolution 120-13 conveyed a 0.426 acres parcel in the Town of Amity to Robert and Buena Fuller. Resolution 121-13 designated the Wellsville Daily

Reporter as the sole official newspaper for the week of August 11th, because the Cuba Patriot and Free Press will not be publishing that week. Resolution 122-13 authorized filing an application for State Assistance for disposal of household hazardous waste products. Resolution 123-13 approved the 2013 Resource Allocation Plan Agreement with the State Office of Children and Family Services, and appropriation of $47,502 in grant funds to various youth programs.

On Wednesday, July 17th, Allegany County lost long-time Farm Bureau President, Ernest Ramsey. "Ernie" volunteered in various capacities for many years, and provided dedicated leadership as head of the County Farm Bureau chapter. His leadership and dedication will be greatly missed in the years ahead.

"Common sense" is defined by the Merriam-Webster Dictionary as "sound and prudent judgment based on a simple perception of the situation or facts." The Cambridge Dictionary defines it as "the basic level of practical knowledge and judgment that we all need to help us live in a reasonable and safe way." I agree with Joe Sempolinski that our County and its residents possess and value common sense. This is demonstrated by our County's approach to many issues and problems. We value hard work and personal responsibility. We have adopted and maintained balanced budgets for the past seven years. Our County Legislature believes that good business practices usually represent good government practices. We have adopted, and are now updating, a County Comprehensive Plan.

Unfortunately, "common sense" is no longer "common" in Washington and Albany. Congress couldn't perform its most basic function and agree upon a federal budget. Instead it adopted the unworkable and foolish "Sequestration Plan" that called for "across the board" cuts in all programs. Earlier this year Albany passed the so-called "New York SAFE Act." By declaring a non-existent "emergency," Governor Cuomo pushed through this law without meaningful debate or discussion. It was/is a bad law. I'm proud to be from Allegany County where there is an abundance of common sense.

Angelica's Heritage Days set August 2-3-4

Dave Fleming back with walking tours of Angelica National Historic District

ANGELICA--If you come to Heritage Days in Angelica for the focus on local history, you're sure to enjoy this year's program. Back on the schedule after a three-year absence, Dave Fleming will lead walking tours of the National Historic District on Saturday at 12:30 & 2:30 p.m.; Bob Dorsey will conduct the tour on Sunday afternoon at 1:30.

On Saturday and Sunday afternoon (1:30 each day) in the Grange building, Craig Braack, Allegany County Historian, will present a slide show and talk on the Battle of Gettysburg. This year is the 150th anniversary of that crucial Civil War encounter—July 1-3, 1863—between the Union and Confederate armies.

If you come to Heritage Days in Angelica for the music, you're sure to enjoy this year's lineup. On Friday night, in St. Paul's Episcopal Church sanctuary, The Band Anastazja will perform at 7:00 p.m. There will be music at Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café beginning at 7:30.

The entertainment schedule on Saturday in Park Circle features the Olean Barbershoppers Quartet; Salty Austin, back for another year at age 94; local favorite Sound Foundation; and Buffalo guitarist Doug Yeomans. There will be music again Saturday night at Black-Eyed Susan, and a band under the tent at the American Hotel.

The Sunday music schedule in the park includes Mountain Air from Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., and the Twin Tiers Band.

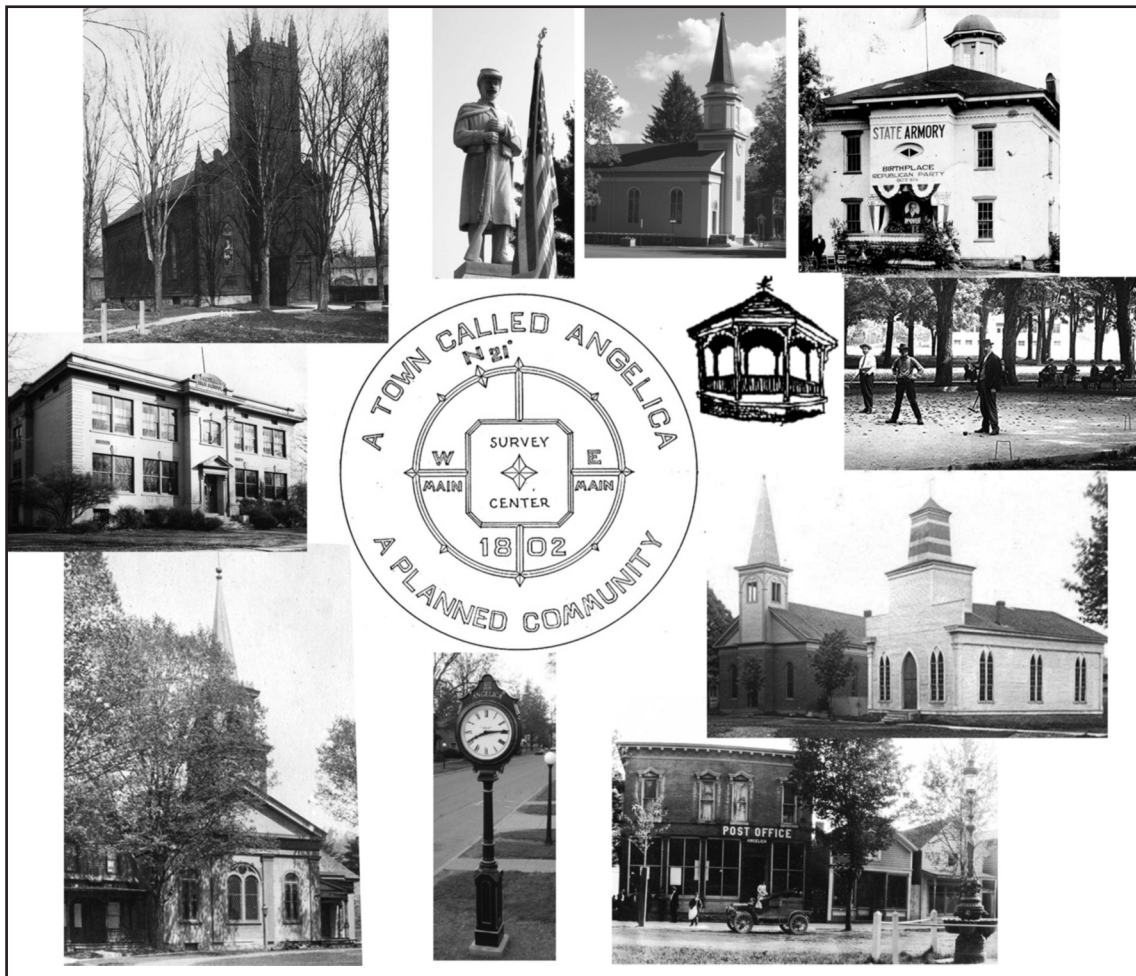

Corporate sponsorship of Heritage Days entertainment is provided by Angelica Enterprises Inc., Angelica Spring Co., Angelica Winery, Bainbridge Family Farm, Brown & Powers Funeral Home, Community Bank, East End Market, Hart's Jewelry, Phillips Angelica Forest Products, PR Engine Science, Steuben Trust Company, and Stoney's Storage.

If you come to Heritage Days in Angelica for the food, you won't go hungry. Stop at the sausage stand at the American Legion on Saturday and the pancake breakfast at the Legion on Sunday morning; and at the chicken BBQ at the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon. The Booster Citizens refreshment stand will be up and running in the park both days, along with offerings on Saturday from the American House & Hotel.

When you come to Heritage Days in Angelica, you also can browse the large art, craft, and antique market; load up on tickets for the theme basket auction; watch the croquet matches on the unique "roque" court; visit the Colonial Rooms museum at the Angelica Free Library; see the "Made in Angelica" displays in the downtown store windows; enjoy the antique equipment demonstrations; and take a tractor-drawn wagon ride around the park and along Main Street.

Angelica is located in the heart of Allegany County, at Exit 31 of I-86, Southern Tier Expressway. Heritage Days is sponsored by the Angelica Booster Citizens. For more information (including market vendor participation) call 585-466-7930; email info@angelicaboosters.com; visit www.angelicaheritedays.com; or the Booster Citizens on Facebook.

Carillon Recitals conclude Tuesday, July 30

ALFRED--Alfred village will be ringing to the tunes of yet another Wingate Memorial Summer Carillon Recital Series hosted by Alfred University (AU) and AU Carillonneur Laurel Buckwalter throughout the month of July.

Admission is free for each performance by a guest carillonneur, beginning Tuesday, July 9 and continuing each Tuesday thereafter from 7 to 8 p.m. The performances will be held rain or shine at the University's Davis Memorial Carillon, located on upper campus between the Steinheim and Susan Howell Hall.

Guests may sit in the lawn adjacent to the carillon and can feel free to bring lawn chairs or blankets to ease their listening experience. If inclement weather persists, Howell Hall will be open to visitors.

This summer's remaining featured carilloners and the dates of their programs are:

- Tuesday, July 30: Philippe Beullens, assistant carillonneur, City of Leuven, Belgium, will offer pieces by Bach, Borodin, and Rachmaninov.

The Wingate Memorial Carillon Recital Series honors Dr. Ray

Winthrop Wingate (1886-1968), who was a professor of music at Alfred University for 56 years. After the installation of the bells in 1937, he was appointed to the position of University carillonneur and held that title until his death, having arranged more than 5,000 selections for the carillon and composed nine suites.

The Carillon at Alfred University is made of a double row of rounded oak levers, called batons, and a pedal board tuned in the fifth octave. The carillon tower's ground floor display has information on its historic legacy. Guests are welcome to climb the tower's 69 steps to the top, enjoy the view, and watch the guest artists at work.

Village of Alfred declares Aug. 8 'Str8 Eight Day,' Terra Cotta to host tourney

ALFRED--At the July meeting of the Alfred Village Board, the Trustees adopted a resolution of support proclaiming August 8th – 8/8 – to be Str8 Eight Day, a day to celebrate the card game invented in Alfred by Peter McClain.

John Ninos has offered use of the Terra Cotta Coffeehouse for the inaugural Str8 Eight Day events.

Starting at 6 p.m., Mr. McClain will provide instruction on how to play the family-friendly game. The tournament will begin at 6:30 p.m. with the winner crowned at 8 o'clock.

Additionally, a perpetual plaque will be hung in the coffeehouse memorializing the tournament winners. There will also be a grand prize of an $88 gift card from the Terra Cotta for the winner as well as prizes of $8.88 gift cards and a deck of Str8 Eight for the top score in various age categories. Phil Curran of the Alfred Sports Center has donated tee-shirts for the first adults to register for the tournament. To register, sign up at the Terra Cotta Coffeehouse counter.

In addition to the tournament, there will be a coloring contest and balloons for children. The game inventor will be autographing cards and decks.

The Terra Cotta will also be running a special of 2 focaccias for $8.88 and 8% off all other menu items at the coffeehouse all day on August 8th. So, stop in to the festivities during the first Str8 Eight Day and enjoy the game that is so much in the spirit of Alfred, that the town's name is on every card!

Almond 20th Century Club Library

By TAMMY KOKOT

Almond 20th Century Club Library Director

Action! Thrills! Adventure! All of these describe Almond-born (John) David Fenner's book ~ Before His Time: The Spirit Warrior, released in 2008 by Strategic Book Publishing. Tate Publishing has taken over the book from Strategic and is totally running with it, much to Dave's delight.

Taking from a review provided by Dave from "Delane", Reviewer for Coffee Time Romance ~ "Bryan McKay, a high school history teacher, has always felt he was incomplete and that something was missing. As a talented martial arts student and instructor, he has spent his life honing his fighting skills. The day he goes to the dentist will change his whole life and show him his destiny."

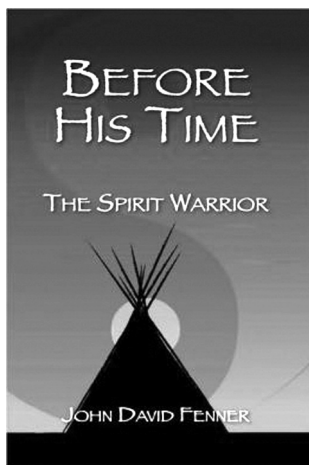

Dave (The Rave) Fenner is coming "home" from Huber Heights, Ohio to visit Almond the fourth weekend in July and will be spending time at the Almond Library on July 27th from 11-1. During that time, Dave would love to see folks come in who are curious about his book and the life that he has led. He'd appreciate having visitors share their personal stories with him...especially those involving his family.

Although Dave left our little hamlet at the innocent age of one, his connection to Almond continued as he and his family, Andrew, Esther and sisters Carol (author and Caldecott Award Winner) and Faith, would ride the "rattling Erie" from NYC to visit grandpa William Laverne Fenner, owner of Fenner's General Store. Maiden aunts Phyllis Fenner (author) and Jessamine Fenner would also trek from New York City via train and a family gathering would ensue. Coming back to Almond on a yearly, if not twice-yearly visit, created memories that Dave still has with him to this day.

Grandpa's store (most recently Coslos) was the town gathering place, resplendent with chairs for the locals who'd cut off a bit of cheese from the huge wheel and settle in for some local gossip. Women would "finger" fabric and children would look longingly at penny candy. Families would leave with seed, machinery parts, needle and thread and maybe even a toy or two depending on finances.

After a couple of conversations with Dave, I've decided that he would definitely be the "fun" uncle, the "wild" grandpa and certainly is a man that has led a most interesting life. He has an amazing zest for living and adventure and delights in sharing his experiences. I'm certain that I, personally, could spend several hours being entertained and laughing 'til my sides hurt while in Dave's company. And in fact, we have a "date" set up for that weekend (look out Muhleisen's!).

So come pay Dave a visit at the Almond 20th Century Club Library on Saturday, July 27. He will have books on hand for sale and will gladly "affix" his name to it.

First performance in hometown in 25 years

Todd Larsen to premiere solo show

ALFRED--Todd Larsen, Alfred-Almond Central School alumnus ('83) and son of John and Barbara Larsen, returns to premiere a new solo theater production: The In-Between, before its Hollywood, CA, and New York City performances beginning in the fall. This will be Todd's first performance to his hometown in over 25 years.

The In-Between is a cleverly woven tour de force performance of acting, movement, and visual images in which Todd shares his creative journey from Alfred, NY, to his adventures in Hollywood, CA.

"Aspects of the production are based on my life," Todd says, "but it is truly about each one of us, and our gifts of creativity. It's everyone's story and how we must realize our dreams and pursue them."

He plays over 30 characters, both real and imagined, in this provocative, funny, unique theatrical production.

Todd first began acting in his parents' productions at Alfred State, where they directed the drama department from 1965-1993. Along with his acting at Alfred-Almond CS, he began studying mime and movement and has gone on to be awarded as one of the top movement theater creators in the United States. He currently lives in Hollywood, CA, working as an actor and entrepreneur.

The premiere performance takes place on Friday, July 26, at 8 p.m. in the Orvis Activities Center Cappadonia Auditorium on the Alfred State campus. Admission to the performance is free and open to the public with an option to donate to the new Barbara and John Larsen Scholarship for excellence in theater.

Any questions regarding the show or scholarship can be directed to Janna Buckwalter at buckwajb@alfredstate.edu.

Family Life to hold Youtheatre Workshop

BATH—Family Life will hold its 5-day Youtheatre Workshop at its facilities in Bath from August 12 to August 15. Performing arts instructors will offer aspiring students ages 8-15 training in theatre arts, including acting, stagecraft, makeup, costuming and voice. Workshop sessions are every morning, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. An afternoon workshop is available from 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day as well.

On Friday, August 16, about 60 young drama enthusiasts in first to ninth grade will showcase their newly learned skills with a musical production of The Prodigal Clown, written by Cyndi Nine, Rob Howard and David Guthrie. Friday's performance will be held at Family Life at 11am. Admission is free. The ministry is located at 7634 Campbell Creek Road.

The five-day drama workshop is a Christian-based program that aims to help young people explore and develop their artistic talents.

"Each student works incredibly hard on and off stage - singing songs, memorizing lines, and learning how to work together," said Darren Litz, director of performing arts for Family Life.

"The best part is watching these budding young actors discover their abilities and find new ways of making the Bible come to life," says Litz. "Workshop after workshop, we see students growing in their faith as they learn about God through the arts. It's an honor to be involved."

The Prodigal Clown is a modern interpretation of a Biblical story about the prodigal son, interwoven with clowns, lion tamers, trapeze artists and human cannonballs. The spotlight comes up on the Parabalini family circus. Antonio, the father, is a good and fair man who makes a living as a circus leader. AJ, the oldest son, and Giorgio, his little brother, both work for their father.

One day, after complaining about his situation, Giorgio asserts that the world must have more fun things to do. Decidedly, the youngster son goes off in selfish pursuit and spends his father's money. During his long and difficult journey, Giorgio comes to the realization that being in his father's circus was where he belonged all along. Giorgio returns home ashamed, but to his great delight, is joyfully welcomed back by his father despite his mistakes.

Registrations are $95/student and $80 for each additional sibling, and can be made by calling 1.800.927.9083 or by visiting www.fln.org. Only 60 youth are accepted for the workshop on a first-come, first-served basis and classes fill quickly.

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, July 25

Charles G. Finney was the most inspired--and inspiring--evangelist in the first half of the 19th century. He taught that salvation was only the beginning of religious experience and that the proper test of love of God lay in overcoming one's self-interest and acting in a benevolent manner toward all humankind.

The converts, preached Finney, began a new life in which "they have no separate interests... They should set out with a determination to aim at being useful in the highest degree possible."

State Police announce Tough Mudder traffic pattern

ANDOVER—The New York State Police in cooperation with the Allegany County Sheriff's Department; Village of Andover Police and the Alfred Police Department, recently released traffic pattern changes for this weekend's "Tough Mudder Buffalo Event" taking place at the Kent Farms on Jones Road in the Town of Andover in Allegany County July 27-28.

It is estimated that on Saturday July 27, 2013 more than 6,000 vehicles and more than 15,000 participants and spectators will gather for the event. To minimize traffic congestion, the following routes should be utilized to enter the designated Mudder parking areas:

From the Buffalo area:
SR-400 South to end, continue on SR-16 South to I-86 East to exit 30 (Belmont), take SR-19 South to SR-417 East, to CR-12 North (continue past Jones Road) to McAndrews Road

South, to Pingrey Hill Road South into parking areas.

From the Rochester area:
I-390 South to Exit 4 (Dansville), take SR-36 South to I-86 West to Exit 33 (Almond), take SR-21 South to SR-244 West; to CR-12 South to McAndrews Road South, to Pingrey Hill Road South into parking areas.

Area residents will be impacted by the influx of vehicles attending this event. In order to lessen the burden of the residents certain measures will be put in place as follows:

Pingrey Hill Road

-Starting at the intersection of McAndrews Road to Swain Hill Road Pingrey Hill Road will become ONE WAY TRAFFIC flowing South then East to Swain Hill Road.

-Pingrey Hill Road will then be closed at the intersection of Swain Hill Road. No traffic will be permitted to travel uphill (West) on Pingrey Hill Road from Swain Hill Road during the event.

-Access to Pingrey Hill Road will be made from the McAndrews Road intersection only.

**Residents who live in Pingrey Hill Road will only be permitted to follow this modified traffic pattern from 6 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Saturday and 7 a.m.-6 p.m. on Sunday.

Barrett Hill Road

-Barrett Hill Road will be closed at State Route 417 beginning at 6 a.m.-6 p.m. on Saturday.

-This is the primary entrance for emergency vehicles and event staff.

**Residents of Barrett Hill Road will be the only other vehicles allowed past the police check point.

Jones Road

-Jones Road will be closed to vehicle traffic beginning at 6 a.m.-6 p.m. on Saturday as part of the race course crosses the public roadway.

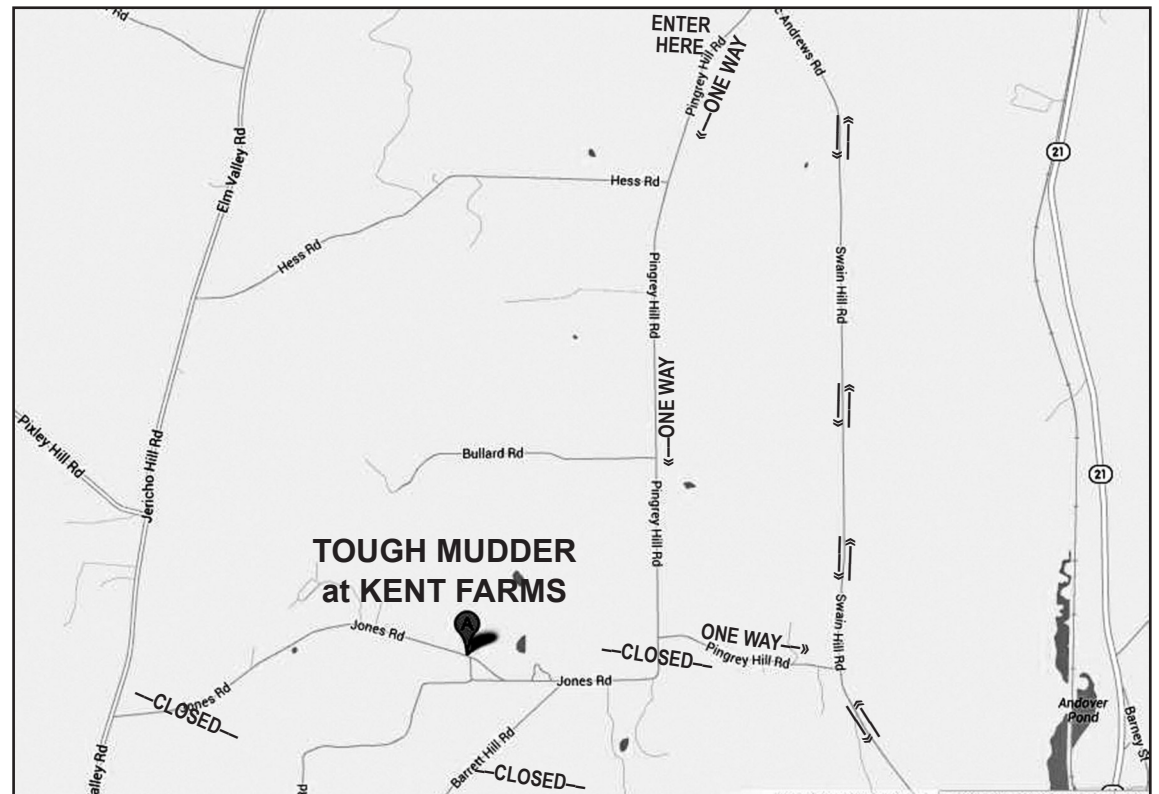

-Jones Road will also be closed at the intersection of Pingrey Hill Road.

-The portion of Jones Road adjacent to the Kent Farm property will be open to pedestrian traffic only.

** Residents of Jones Road will be allowed to pass the police check point at County Road 12, however; no vehicles are permitted to travel East on Jones Road past the road block near the Kent Farm property.

On Sunday July 28, attendance is expected to be considerably less, with only about 3000 persons in approximately 1000 vehicles expected to arrive. The listed traffic pattern changes will be in effect beginning at 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

'Texas Hot Day' in Cuba to benefit Opera House

CUBA—Cuba Friends of Architecture (CFA) is holding its third annual Texas Hot Day. Besides selling Texas Hots and desserts, the CFA will have a Chinese Auction, a craft fair, sidewalk Chess, a surprise gift box drawing and a 50/50 raffle. The event is scheduled for Saturday, August 24 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The committee is looking for chess players to participate in a chess tournament. Winner of each game will receive a free Texas Hot. The winner of the tournament will receive a trophy. The fee to enter the tournament is $2.00 and applications can be made out at time of entry.

There is still space for craft vendors. Call 585-968-2812 for more information or to request an application.

The Friends of Architecture have been working on the restoration of Cuba's Palmer Opera House in the center of its Historic Main Street, since the roof collapsed in 2001. Through funding from NYS grants, donations from current and past residents of Cuba and fundraising efforts, the restoration is almost complete. There is an elegant stairway, leading to the opera house that will have a railing made from the original broken roof beam.

The second floor opera house is complete with the stage restored according to the original plans. Graffiti from as early as 1879 and much from the 1930s and 40s, including basketball scores have been preserved. Visitors have enjoyed finding names of ancestors or old friends. While the organization has used the playhouse for fundraising programs, it cannot be officially opened until the elevator is installed.

If you haven't seen the opera house, come to Texas Hot Day and get a tour or give us a call (585-968-2812) and we'll give you a personal tour. Proceeds from the event will go toward the purchase of this much needed elevator.

It was another busy weekend past, to say the least, as daughter Lauren was back in town from NYC as we were getting ready to go on vacation. Yes...a (richly deserved) vacation as the ADK's, Indian Lake awaited. Been going to the Lone Birch Motel in Indian Lake now for 10-11 years but it doesn't seem to get any easier as pre-vacation prep goes! Part of it is due to my making sure, or attempting to make certain, that things are ok at work before I depart. Not always the easiest to accomplish. This year much the same with a few wrinkles tossed in for good measure.

After a monster day at work on Friday, it was late-nite flight in for 3L from NYC to Rochester. An arrival at 11:30 pm soon became midnight and then eventually close to 1:00 am. Made for a long day still had some work to do the next morning at Frito Lay before we were to take off for the Waterloo Outlets. Yikes. Did accomplish that, went for a haircut, stopped at Firestone, then off we went to Waterloo. Lauren had a race on Sunday so she 'needed' some race-wear. I was able to secure good apparel from Izod so a decent trip!

The third annual Lindsay Matthews 5K run/walk was being held in Orchard Park at a soccer complex that Matthews used to play at when growing up. Later a teammate of Lauren's at SUNY Geneseo. We stopped over to get Jess Herbst as she would be running in this event for the second straight year. A former soccer player at Webster Schroeder/UVM. The middle Sunday of three-straight races the duo would participate in together. Utica last week and the Tough Mudder in Andover this coming Sunday.

The race in Orchard Park has grown each year as it is a very organized event. Lauren took third place in her age group last year (20-24) and I told her this year, top 10 overall and third female should be goal. A former Geneseo cross country girl zipped around the course in 2012 to grab top honors and I told 3L to just 'shadow her!' No need. That girl wasn't there, the second place female from last year was, but Lauren seemed quite focused on the race.

About 22-minutes later she crossed the finish line ninth overall.... And the first female! Herbst had a good showing as well as she was 20th overall and seventh female. Only problem was, six of those females were in the 20-24 age group. A total of 182 runners competed. Matthew West from Niagara Falls, Canada cruised to the win. Herbst and Lauren quite pleased with their finishes, as they should be!

Prior to the race I spotted a guy running with a Belmont basketball jersey. Talked to him, of course, and he was indeed from Belmont! Think his name was Sal Aquila and he took 7th place. A Belmont jersey. Shades of Bob Baker.

After the race I spotted a vehicle with STEEPL. Soon thereafter the guy came by who owned it and his name is Bill Weigel, the cross country/ track coach at Franklinville high school. We got to talking, he asked where I was from, told him about Alfred connections and he says.... Do you know Gary Moore? So we talked some more and then had a great conversation. Great guy.

Lauren won a $50 gift card from a place called Runners Roost in Orchard Park so it was off to there next to spend it. Some more race gear! Finally we departed for Webster, after chatting with a couple from Hamburg that graduated from Geneseo. A cookout awaited at Baker's in Penfield. Herbst unable to join us (sadly) so I ate her portion of cheesecake from Cheesy Eddies.

Just a great time chatting with John and Colleen as they filled us in on their recent journey to Mt Kilimanjaro and Africa.

A great weekend and vacation started Monday. Stopping in Utica/ Whitesboro on way to Inlet (hike) to have breakfast with Doris Springer. After that it is hiking Chimney and Crane mountains, Castle Rock, and probably a canoe trip to Blue Mountain Lake. Herbst, Milko, Brooke Easton, Meg 'Pam' Verdino and virtually everyone else.... Busy. 3L and I off to the ADK
