

DeCarli basketball camps bring 375 youngsters to AU campus

7/14/05

ALFRED, NY Alfred University hosted the 10th annual Ron DeCarli Basketball Camps for boys and girls over the last two weeks, drawing approximately 375 youngsters to the AU campus. The girls' camp, open to players in grades 6-12, drew 160 players and was held July 3-7. The boys' camp, which began Sunday, July 10, and concludes today (July 14), was attended by 215 players in grades 4-12. The camps are run by Ron DeCarli, former head men's basketball coach at St. Bonaventure University. Alfred University head men's basketball coach Jay Murphy said the camps stress fundamentals, with campers receiving instruction on everything from ball handling, shooting, passing, defense, fast breaks and conditioning. More than 25 coaches provided instruction to campers over the two-week period.
