WINE AND CHEESE RECEPTION

Saxon Glass Technologies celebrates 20th year

ALFRED—Saxon Glass Technologies, Inc. celebrated its 20th anniversary over a wine and cheese reception held Wednesday, August 10 at the Ceramic Innovation Center in Alfred.

At hand to welcome the guests were company president Dr. Arun Varshneya, CFO Darshana Varshneya and COO Kajal Varshneya. Several key staff of their customers, Gerresheimer Glass and Meridian Medical Corporation division of Pfizer, were present to express their appreciation for the 20 years of close partnership.

Among local dignitaries invited were Alfred Village Mayor Justin Grigg, Hornell City Mayor Shawn Hogan, Steuben Trust Company president Brenda Copeland, Innovation Center director Alan Rae and Nancy Kirby, Alfred University President Mark Zupan, Provost Rick Stephens, Engineering Dean Alastair Cormack, TransitAir CEO Dhruv Sharma, START-UP NY local facilitator Craig Clark and other Allegany County Business Development staff.

Following the reception, Dr. Varshneya presented a summary of the company's achievements, primarily emphasizing the role of the Saxon staff in bringing high quality chemically strengthened glass product under their registered trademark Ionex® used in EpiPen from a failure rate of roughly 10% 20 years ago to less than one part per million.

The staff could be proud of the fact that they help save thousands of lives each year. Three members of the staff were then recognized for their longtime service to the company including: Lisa Porter for 20 years (nearly as long as the Company), Loretta Conderman for 15 years, and Cindy Cornell for 10 years.

Varshneya also thanked the Alfred Fire & Ambulance services for their attention to company needs and the Alfred Village Police staff for parking a squad car next to the Innovation Center property keeping an eye on the traffic.

A tour of the facilities was given to the guests earlier. Several of the dignitaries noted the importance of small but critical businesses in western NY that fill a national need.

$56,500 IN SCHOLARSHIPS PRESENTED

About 250 attend A-A Alumni Association banquet

ALFRED—The 56th annual Alfred Almond Alumni Association banquet, attended by around 250 alumni and guests on July 23 at Alfred State College, featured the presentation of $56,500 in scholarship awards to 23 AACS grads, Hall of Fame inductions, the Outstanding Service Award, and recognition of decades of service of officers and board members.

President William Pulos, assisted by Lisa Patrick Porter, introduced the scholarship winners and announced that during the past two years, the AAAA has given $120,000 to deserving A-A graduating seniors and another $5,000 to undergrads for summer camp awards. Since 2000, the AAAA has awarded just over $500,000 to AACS students.

Pulos also conducted the Hall of Fame inductions, supported by powerpoint presentations. The Sports Hall of Fame inductees were Karen Patrick Sweezy, '80, and Marcia Lichtman, AACS ski club and softball coach. Teresa Stuart Johnson was presented the Outstanding Service Award for her decades of service to the community, and especially to the AAAA as database manager.

Brooke Harris as master of ceremonies, introduced the powerpoint presentation, "Thanks for the Memories," which recognized the many alumni who have served as AAAA board members and officers in the past 56 years. The Class of 1966 was well represented at various events during their 50-year reunion weekend, with Bill Parish of Mechanicsburg, PA, speaking for the class.

Scholarship recipients were: Alec Gray, son of Brian Gray and Teresa Stever, the Rachael Amato Baldo/ Tom Murphy Memorial Scholarship; Levi Bayus, son of Andy and Kathy Bayus, the Greg Norton Memorial Scholarship; and Savannah Lee, daughter of Daniel Lee and Corrie Burdick, the Anne Wenslow Memorial Scholarship.

The Susan M. Fowler Scholarship was presented to Marilyn Prigmore, daughter of Philip and Carol Prigmore, and John Matthew Mayes, son of the late J. Steven and Debra Mayes, and the Juanita Whitaker Pulos Fine Arts Memorial Scholarship went to Leah Depra, daughter of Joe and Becky Depra and Jesse Crosby, son of J. Stephen and Luanne Crosby.

Sixteen seniors received the Jean Hanks Palmiter/Dale Lorow Alumni Scholarships: Elizabeth Allen, daughter of Larry Allen and Amy Padden; Kelsey Cline, daughter of Jeff and Susan Mulligan Fontaine; Bailey Comer, daughter of Chuck and Becky Schwartz Comer;

Caitlin Cook, daughter of Dan and Ann Cook; Dylan Dirlam, son of Kier and Lisa Dirlam; Tayler Fox, daughter of Deborah Blackman; Noah Holmok, son of Keith and Anne Gaisser Holmok; Brooke Jeffers, daughter of Adam Jeffers and Teresa McMahon; Aeowyn Kendall, daughter of David and Gerogina Beristain-Kendall; Levi Lawrence, son of Mark and Kelly Snyder Lawrence; Savannah Lee, daughter of Daniel Lee and Corrie Burdick; Brayanna Ormsby, daughter of Timothy and Karleigh Swackhamer Ormsby; Pria Rao, daughter of Moah and Prabha Rao, Paige Schmidt, daughter of Herb Schmidt and Cara Dobson; Laura Sweezy, daughter of Donald Sweezy and Karen Patrick Sweezy; and Alyssa White, daughter of Karen Patterson. Ruth J. Mullen, 86, loved Buffalo Bills, game shows

RUTH J. MULLEN
Ma, Grandma to many
CANASERAGA—Ruth J. Mullen, 86, of 9986 County Road 13, Canaseraga, passed away peacefully, Friday, Aug. 19, 2016 at home surrounded by her family.
Born in Hornell, Feb. 7, 1930, the daughter of Irving L. and Frances (Thomas) DuBois, she was a lifelong area resident. On March 23, 1950, she married Daniel J. Mullen Jr., who predeceased her on July 19, 1991.
Ruth was a member of the Larger Parish Church in Canaseraga, a life member of the Canaseraga Fire Department, where she also served as Vice-President for many years, the Canaseraga Legion Auxillary Post #1582, and the Young at Heart Club.

She enjoyed the Buffalo Bills, the Game Show Channel, going out to dinner, taking school trips with her beloved grandchildren, of which she enjoyed spending time with. Ruth's house was always open to her family, and anyone else who needed it. She was a Ma, and Grandma to so very many, and will be greatly missed.
She was predeceased by her parents; her husband; six brothers, three sisters; and a grandson, Adam Kenyon.
She is survived by three sons, Daniel J. (Beverly) Mullen III of Wadsworth, Steven F. (Deborah) Mullen of Canaseraga, John J. (Ann) Mullen of Hornell; four daughters, Margaret A. Giblin of Bolivar, Cher L. (Robert) Scott of Prattsburgh, Catherine G. (Stephen) Kenyon of Canaseraga, Norma J. (Rickey) Timothy of Dalton; two sisters, Sylvia (Gary) Mosher of Canaseraga, Bonita (Ernie) House of Bradford; a brother, Fred DuBois of Cameron; several grand, great-grand and great-great-grandchildren; two special angels, Jessica Mullen, and Pastor Jesse Flint, several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Calling hours were held from 4-7 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 21 at the Bender - Brown & Powers Funeral Home, 354 Canisteo Street in Hornell. Funeral services were held at the Larger Parish Church in Canaseraga on Monday (Aug. 22, 2016) with Pastor Jesse Flint officiating. Burial followed at Canaseraga Cemetery.

Friends may make memorial contributions to: Canaseraga Volunteer Ambulance, or the Larger Parish Church.

LESLIE J. MONAHAN
Generous unless playing poker
ANDOVER—Leslie J. Monahan, 82, passed away Saturday, August 20, 2016 at Wellsville Manor Care Center, Wellsville.
Mr. Monahan was born on July 25, 1934 in Andover to James J. and Hazel (Sanford) Monahan. He was a 1954 graduate of Andover Central School. He served in the United States Army from 1954-56. On Nov. 23, 1960, in Wellsville, he married Carol A. Clark, who survives.
Leslie worked as a foreman for Capital Plastic Button Factory in Wellsville for 25 years until the factory closed in 1981. He worked for a short time for the Town of Almond until he retired in 1982.
In addition to his wife of 55 years, Les is survived by one son, James R. Monahan of Andover; four daughters, LeDorna D. (Frank Smith) Monahan of Andover, Kim L. Kemp of Scio, Kelly L. (Mark) Piscitelli and Nola R. (Zach Barrett) Monahan, both of Wellsville; and one son-in-law, Tom Bailey of Canisteo.

Additionally, he is survived by 15 grandchildren, Angelee Clark, Robert Clark, Michael Clark, Jolene Green, Frank Smith, Jamie Smith, Cody Smith, Wayne Kemp, William Piscitelli, Trey Piscitelli, James Piscitelli, Kyra Lounsberry, Brett Lounsberry, Jr., Ayiana Barrett and Joshua Barrett; 22 great grandchildren; and several nieces, nephews and cousins.
He was predeceased by two sons, Donald J. Clark and Darren L. Monahan; one daughter, Valerie J. Monahan; three brothers, Arnold LeBar, Russell A. Monahan and Ronald J. Monahan; four sisters, Irma E. LeBar, Muriella Dolph, Phyllis Carlin and LeDorna Pendleton; and one son-in-law, Vic Kemp.
Les enjoyed playing cards, especially poker. Except for when he was playing poker, he was known for possessing a very generous heart. In his younger days, he was an avid hunter and fisherman and during high school, he excelled at basketball and baseball. Additionally, he was a long time member of the Wellsville American Legion Post 702 and the Wellsville VFW Post.

Some of his children's favorite memories were the times picking blackberries, blueberries and apples. He often loaded up the family and took long rides in the countryside, stopping at the former Little Red Hen restaurant in Alfred for a bucket of chicken and have an impromptu picnic at the end of a secluded road.
Calling hours were held from 6 to 7 p.m. Wednesday, August 24 at the Baker-Swan Funeral Home in Andover. A memorial service, with full military honors, was held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, August 24 at the funeral home immediately following the visitation with Rev. Carl Kemp of Knights Creek Evangelical Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be at the convenience of the family. Online condolences may be offered at www.baker-swan.com.
Memorial contributions in Leslie's name may be made to Wellsville Lions Club Diabetes Center, C/O Jones Memorial Hospital, 191 N. Main St., Wellsville, NY 14895.

Light refreshments will be served.

ALFRED UNIVERSITY

ALFRED UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT MARK ZUPAN

Zupan says, 'Fiat Lux'

ALFRED-Alfred University's (AU) second president, Jonathan Allen, may have established "Fiat Lux" – Latin for "Let there be light" – as the motto for this 180-year-old institution, but its newest president, Mark Zupan, says it can guide the future of the institution as well. He made his comments at the University's opening breakfast for faculty and staff in Ade Hall Tuesday morning.
In his first 50 days as AU's 14th president, and even before he took office officially, Zupan has toured the country, meeting with alumni from Boston to Boulder. He's had hundreds of email conversations, telephone calls and face-to-face meetings with alumni, parents, students, faculty and staff, both current and retired.
Through it all, Zupan said, he's consistently heard three themes – the impact Alfred University has on people's lives; the caring community that comprises AU; and the strength that emanates from the diversity of people and programs on our campus.
Many of the stories he's heard talk about the influence of a particular mentor, and how the lessons taught by an Alfred faculty or staff member have illuminated and guided the lives of former students.
Don McPherson, who earned his master's and Ph.D. degrees from Alfred University, holds the patent on a glass that can correct color-blindness in an estimated 300 million people around the globe. McPherson, co-founder and now chief scientific officer of EnChroma, the company that makes the corrective lenses, told Zupan that under the tutelage of Dr. L. David Pye, emeritus professor of glass science and dean of the College of Ceramics, and the late Dr. VanDerck Frechette, professor of fractography, he "learned how to solve any problem in the world," a skill that has stayed with him for decades.

For Enid Borden, a 1972 alumna who is founder and president of the National Foundation to End Senior Hunger and Meals on Wheels, her passion for social justice began at Alfred, and has illuminated her career for the past five decades.
The caring community, Zupan said, is evident in the stories he's heard from countless alumni who tell him "someone at Alfred took an interest in me. That kind of magic is very potent stuff." He finds it today in the faculty and staff, both current and retired, who stand ready to help students and the institution, something that is rare on most large college campuses today.
As he spoke, a photo of 20 emeriti faculty with over 600 years of cumulative service to Alfred flashed on the screen behind him. At his meeting with them several months ago, each of them reiterated his or her commitment to helping the University thrive.

SUNNY SIDE UP

By ELLEN SHULTZ
Alfred Sun Columnist

Dorothy Bouck worked at University

[Editor's Note: Like most of the recipes she shared with our readers over the past couple of decades, Ellen Shultz's Sunny Side Up columns are worth repeating.]

Dorothy Bouck worked many years for Alfred University in the offices of President Drake and President Miles, as well as in the University Library. Before that she taught business courses for the University and math at Alfred State College. She also served for more than forty years as the treasurer of the Union University Church.

In the early 1940s, Dorothy began to serve this cake and it quickly became a part of the family's Christmas tradition. She referred to the inclusion of a can of Campbell's tomato soup as "the secret ingredient." Before serving it with the Fluffy Hard Sauce, she usually warmed it in the oven or microwave.

Mom's Fruit Cake

2 c. sifted cake flour	1/2 c. shortening
3 tsp. baking powder	1 c. sugar
1/2 tsp. soda	2 1/2 c. prepared mincemeat
1/2 tsp. cinnamon	2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 tsp. cloves	1 can Campbell's tomato soup
1/2 tsp. nutmeg	1 c. chopped walnuts

Stir together flour, baking powder, soda and spices. Cream shortening and sugar. Add mincemeat and mix thoroughly. Blend in the eggs. Add flour mixture alternately with the soup. Mix in the walnuts. Pour into a greased 9 1/2 x 3 tube pan. Bake at 350 degrees about 80 minutes or until done. Cool.

Hard Sauce: Thoroughly cream 1/2 c. butter with 2 c. sifted confectioner's sugar. Stir one beaten egg yolk into the creamed mixture. Fold in one stiffly beaten egg white. Chill.

Indiana the first stop in the long journey from 'coast-to-coast'

First stop on the 'coast-to-coast' excursion was Indiana, homeland of the late great Alfred University Football Coach Alex Yunevich.

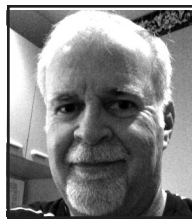

One of my favorite movies is "Hoosiers," based on the true story of how a small high school (Milan H.S. Indians) won the Indiana State Basketball Championship in 1954 with a win over Muncie Central.

While the origin of the "Hoosier" nickname for Indiana inhabitants has long been debated, I have my own theory, based on my experiences there.

From childhood I learned that I am to "love the Lord your God with all your heart, soul, mind and strength" and to "love your neighbor as yourself."

In Indiana most folks I've met there answer the question of "who's your" neighbor with acts of care and concern to all, much like the Good Samaritan.

They are "Hoosier" neighbors. Just like Lauren "Ren" Celenzano has experienced since her recent move from the Rochester area to Springport, IN just south of Muncie.

Snyde Remarks

Editor, Publisher and Janitor

She hosted me on her small farmstead that included dogs, cats, chickens, goats, quail, ducks, a pig, a donkey and who knows what else. I had to ask her which animals would I be sleeping with? She assured me I would have a room and a bed to myself.

Ren, a Long Island native, played trumpet in the AU Pep Band while she was studying at Alfred. She became a real fan of the Saxons in general, and one Saxon in particular, Julio Fuentes. (See story on Pg. 16).

But it was an AU football game after Ren graduated and was living in Rochester that I most fondly remember her for.

It was 2010 and the Saxons had captured the Empire 8 title and with it an NCAA Tourney bid. AU defeated SUNY-Maritime at home in the first round, and next traveled to play at SUNY Cortland. It was Thanksgiving weekend and only the kazoo player and I (a wannabe drummer) were available to go. Ren was with family on Long Island for the holiday and opted to leave a day early for her return to Rochester, joining us en route home, for the game in Cortland.

So our band (using that term very loosely) had a kazoo, a trumpet and a bass drum. And it was about 20 degrees F. with a wild wind to boot.

At halftime, I visited the huge heated press box on the Cortland side to warm up and use the facilities. While waiting my turn, I witnessed a Cortland official hand a CD to a sound person and instructed them, "Whenever anything good happens for Cortland, blast this music into the stadium. We need to pump our boys up. They've got that pep band over there!"

But getting back to Indiana, after a breakfast boost of fresh coffee and homemade zucchini sweet bread (that one of Ren's Hoosier neighbors had dropped off for her) and a fun tour of the little farm, I was off to the Indiana Football Hall of Fame in Richmond.

In Richmond, I reactivated the decades-old nomination of Alex Yunevich for induction. After all, Yunie had been a four-year letter winner at Bicknell and a force to be reckoned with. Recruited by Knute Rockne to play at Notre Dame but ending up at Purdue, he played a big role in the Boilermaker's unbeaten 1929 season. Were it not for his three touchdown runs against Michigan in the fourth quarter, leading Purdue to a 30-16 win, they'd likely have been denied their first Western Conference title.

From Richmond I drove southwest, completing the day's drive with a stop at the public library in Bicknell to say hello to Debbie Kean before setting up camp at Ouabache Trails Campground. Debbie has been of immeasurable assistance in my research on Yunie.

Likewise, most everywhere I go, the folks in southern Indiana are most helpful. Case in point, my second day of research in Bicknell, I locked my lone set of keys in the car. The Bicknell Police officer who came to my aid took immediate interest in my project and said he'd like to read it when I complete it.

After three days there, I chose to have my breakfast at the Denny's Diner in Vincennes. I sat at the counter. Next to me was a local guy. We talked. One thing led to another and before you know it, I was selling him a subscription to the Alfred Sun!

Later on in the trip, in Arizona, I had a chance encounter with a couple more Hoosiers. Josh Rafte and I, at Chase Field prior to their opening the gates for the Arizona Diamondbacks-Washington Nationals baseball game, decided to see who could get to our seats first.

I went to a gate I thought was closer to our section. There, I saw a kid with a "Wabash College" shirt. A chat ensued.

I learned that he was enrolling at Wabash in the fall and was from Muncie. I mentioned that Muncie Central was the team that lost to Milan H.S. in the 1954 Indiana State Basketball Championship.

He then introduced me to his grandfather, who had played for Muncie in that "Hoosiers" game.

Josh beat me to our seats. But I met another Hoosier neighbor.

Allegany County Legislator

NASTY DOUBLE STANDARD – NYS "TAX CAP" HYPOCRISY

In 2013 the State imposed a "Tax Cap" on Allegany County (and all other NYS municipalities). At the time Governor Cuomo declared that local governments must learn to "live within their means." The Governor's comments represent extreme hypocrisy. Most local officials don't want to raise taxes or spend more money. The problem is that they don't have control of their budgets. NYS controls almost every aspect of local government operations. NYS dictates what we must spend money on, and also dictates how much we must spend. Of course, the Governor ignores those "insignificant" details.

The hypocrisy regarding "tax caps" is explicit, but is usually missed or ignored. The state-mandated "tax cap" that applies to local municipalities is a cap on how much revenue each county, town, village, and school district can raise from real property taxes each year. That "cap" was supposed to increase by 2.0% each year. However, the formula that NYS established has never actually been that large. The allowable rate of increase has been significantly lower. The annual increases have been 1.7% in 2014, 1.6% in 2015, 0.7% in 2016, and will be 0.4% in 2017.

The State has boasted that it must live within its own "tax cap." The hypocrisy is that NYS has established a totally different type of "cap" for itself. It has established a "State spending cap." That cap has existed since 2013. However, the State's spending cap works very differently. For example, the State uses a 2.0% growth factor regardless of the actual rate of inflation. The State also uses its "operating funds budget" as the threshold for applying the 2.0% limit. This allows actual growth to occur at a 6.5% annual rate. The State "Spending Cap" excludes capital project expenditures. The municipal "Tax Cap" doesn't contain any similar exclusion. Finally, the State "Cap" excludes anything that it defines as "extraordinary costs." The County isn't permitted to do that.

Perhaps the biggest difference is that the State "Spending Cap" is entirely voluntary. It simply represents what the State intends to do. As noted above, the State can (and does) exceed that Spending Cap annually for extraordinary expenses. There needs to be flexibility in the system to permit the State to respond to truly unexpected circumstances. However, local municipalities also have emergencies and unanticipated expenses. The hypocrisy is that the State operates on a double standard.

The hypocrisy only grows when you consider that NYS requires local governments to contribute to "State" programs that every other state fully funds. For example, last year counties and NYC contributed more than $12 billion to support Medicaid and public assistance social welfare programs. School Districts raised another $35 billion in local school taxes for public education costs.

Local governments are facing increased costs, many of which are imposed by NYS or the federal government. Obamacare now requires employers (including local governments) to insure dependents of employees up to age 26, rather than until they turned 18 or were emancipated. This has driven up healthcare costs. Mandated contributions to the State Retirement System have increased. This year NYS significantly raised the minimum wage rate. This will result in higher personnel costs. Last January (2106) Governor Cuomo issued an Executive Order requiring all counties to provide shelters for the homeless if temperatures drop below freezing. Of course, NYS didn't provide any funding to help pay for this new mandate.

Since 2008 the federal government has dramatically increased its payments to the states to help them pay for increased costs for federally mandated social programs. This money helped NYS balance its budget and stay within its "Spending Cap." That extra money could have been passed down to the counties that are actually paying for many of these programs. That hasn't happened. Last year 86% of the counties (including Allegany County) kept under the "Tax Cap." If NYS continues to operate on its double standard this will become harder and harder to achieve.

ROCHESTER—A portfolio of travel photojournalism by the late Caroline Littell of Alfred has been acquired by the George Eastman Museum, in Rochester.

The museum, the world's largest repository of photographic images, announced recently it had obtained for its permanent collection three of Littell's gelatin-silver prints.

Eastman officials extolled the quality of the acquisitions. "When photojournalist Caroline Littell passed away last year," said Lisa Hostetler, the museum's curator-in-charge of the department of photography, "she left behind an extensive body of work, with beautiful images from her adventures all over the world.

"We are pleased to accept a piece of her legacy."

One of the black-and-white prints selected by the Eastman Museum is of a glen in the Scottish Highlands. The other two depict street scenes in Colombia and Greece.

For nearly 30 years, Littell's photography appeared in the travel pages of dozens of newspapers and magazines in this country and in Europe. Major publications featuring her work included The Los Angeles Times, Travel & Leisure Magazine, The San Francisco Examiner, The Milwaukee Journal, The Athens (Greece) News, The Denver Post, The Dallas Times Herald, Diversion Magazine, and Ocean Navigator Magazine. Many of her photographs appeared in The Alfred Sun.

The destinations she covered ranged from North and South America to Europe, Asia, Africa, the Middle East and French Polynesia.

Littell's tools were simple. For much of her professional life, she relied on 35 mm. film cameras generally fitted with the wide-angle lenses she considered essential for capturing close-up views, even on occasion when photographing game in Africa. An expert darkroom technician, she developed and printed all of the black-and-white images she created for media distribution.

Born in Egypt to British parents in 1939—her maiden name was Caroline Jane Penelope Byass—Littell was educated in England and Scotland. She later studied languages in France, Spain, Austria and Greece. She immigrated to the United States in 1962, living first in New York City and moving in 1968 to Alfred with her journalist husband, Alan Littell, and their two sons.

Caroline Littell died in Pasadena, California, on March 18, 2015. She was 75.

Rochester's Eastman Museum is the legacy of George Eastman, pioneer of popular photography and founder of the Eastman Kodak Company. The museum's holdings are housed in the entrepreneur's century-old mansion and an adjoining annex.

'Let there be light'

"We gain strength from diversity," Zupan said, and that is evident, too, in his conversations with alumni. One of those he talked to was Kristen Beck, who graduated from Alfred University in 1989 as Christopher Beck. Beck went on to become a decorated Navy Seal, someone who advised the Joint Chiefs of Staff on operations, until in 2013, she acknowledged she wanted to become a woman. During her transition, she told Zupan, the "Alfred University community was very supportive." She offered to help the University strategize how to capture the power in diversity. "There is some powerful stuff here," Zupan said.

He acknowledged the University at times in its past has stumbled on its progressive path, recounting the story of Warren Sutton, a member of the Class of 1961 and a star basketball player. He was African-American, and he fell in love with the daughter of a highly placed Alfred administrator. Even with its history of inclusiveness, some—but not all—of Alfred University struggled with acceptance of an interracial relationship. Both Sutton and the woman left Alfred and went on to complete their educations elsewhere. In a conversation with Zupan, Sutton told him that in spite of the actions of the few, he felt the support of most of the community. "What he said about our Alfred University family and how people stood up for him" brought tears to his eyes, Zupan admitted.

"I want you to think about light and how it ties all these themes together," Zupan told the faculty and staff. "Light illuminates, and thereby dispels darkness. Light also warms, and the warmth our students feel tells them 'People care for me here. They introduce me to new things, and they encourage me to do things I didn't think I could.' Light is powerful, but it is made up of a rainbow of component colors that combine to deliver the strength that is light.

"Fiat Lux"—Let there be light—Zupan reminded faculty and staff as they begin the 181st academic year at Alfred University.

UNITE ROCHESTER CHALLENGE

AU's superhero-themed team completes Rochester project

ROCHESTER—A superhero-themed team of Alfred University students brought closure to their "Unite Rochester" summer by displaying eight art projects, each work requiring participation by hundreds of Rochester residents.

The August 18 reception at the Visual Studies Workshop also featured student reflections, presentations by city officials, and an animated documentary about their adventures.

The showcased artwork included six large 361-piece mosaics, each painted by hundreds of residents at a diverse array of locations. The team visited over forty sites including schools, camps, nursing homes, offices, construction sites, parties, street corners, and baseball fields to engage Rochester in the art-building process.

Each mosaic depicted a community issue such as poverty, homelessness, education, violence, and justice while often featuring comic art tied to each topic. By asking residents to replicate a chosen pattern onto one 2" x 2" ceramic tile, the greater image came into focus. While residents painted the tile, short discussions occurred regarding the topic and the resources available.

Both Rochester Police's Deputy Chief Wayne Harris and Monroe County Legislator James Sheppard were on hand at the reception to thank the students for using the power of creativity to address conflict within the community. Harris presented colorful keys (to the city) while Sheppard offered an official proclamation in support of the program. The Democrat & Chronicle Newspaper's Julie Philipp and Sheila Rayam also received special recognition for creating the Unite Rochester challenge, which inspired and funded the initiative.

In February, the team's idea was selected as the winning entry from a pool of eighty-nine submissions, receiving $5,000 in support from the D&C and Rochester Area Community Foundation.

From May until August, the team assembled for art action twice weekly while completing professional internships on the remaining weekdays. The team members and their respective internships included Mawia Elawad (The Grants Office), Hakiere Parker (Center for Youth), Joyce Parker (Jordan Health), DeAndre Vaden (Recreation and Youth Services), Sade Moten (Monroe County District Attorney), and Noah Mitchell (WXXI). All but Mitchell are from Rochester and had attended Rochester City schools.

"Our art is more about the process than the final product," shared Mawia Elawad, "Finding an opportunity to engage thousands of residents in small conversations was our contribution toward building a better community."

While all students are returning to their college studies in Alfred, they plan to continue to strengthen their relationship with Rochester and beyond. The team will seek grant funding to return to Rochester for summer 2017 with additional plans to build a new Art Force 5 Harlem chapter in 2018 to raise awareness during the 100th anniversary of the Harlem Renaissance. Questions can be directed to D2D@alfred.edu.

Angelica Cruise Night has finale tonight

ANGELICA—If love classic cars, pack up your family and friends and come to Main Street on Thursday, August 25 from 6–8 p.m. for Angelica Cruise Night. In June and July, more than 100 cars were on display along Main Street, which is closed to traffic during Cruise Night. It's a perfect family-friendly way to spend a summer evening!

Angelica Cruise Night is held three times a year—on the last Thursday of June, July and August. These events are great opportunities for owners of vintage vehicles to display their automobiles and for admirers to enjoy them.

Angelica Cruise Night is free of charge to car owners and visitors. Registered car owners will vote for their favorite and select a "Driver's Choice" winner, and be eligible for lots of other giveaways. Registration begins at 5 p.m. in front of Black-Eyed Susan Café.

Find your ultimate dream car while you listen to flashback 50's music. Take a stroll around the Park Circle National Historic District or grab a juicy burger and an old-fashioned root beer float. Visit the shops, or simply sit on a park bench and visit with your friends and neighbors.

The Cruise-Inn Food Stand offers burgers, hot dogs and sausage sandwiches. Proceeds benefit the Angelica Hose Company, and Angelica Community Radio (WRAQ.org) will raffle off a scrumptious homemade pie.

For more information, call 585-466-3399.

Reading program finale a big success

The Summer Reading Program finale party was a huge success! 43 patrons enjoyed pizza from Little Sicily, as well as watermelon and other snacks provided by members of the community. Mrs. Owlett made sugar cookies for the kids to "paint" with icing, and it was a big hit!

After everyone ate, the prizes were awarded. Lauren Kelly, Riley Ormsby and Grace Yarnal each received $10 gift certificates from the Big Dipper to thank them for their hard work in designing and implementing the Summer Reading Program for the K-3rd grade group. This project was the culmination of their work on their Silver Award for Girl Scouts. You can see a picture of the three girls in front of the library sign on the cover of last week's Alfred Sun!

The Grand Prizes were awarded by drawing the winning tickets from the jar. Krystal Feenaughty won the Kindle Fire tablet, and Jami Snyder and Lucas Quintana each received brand-new copies of Harry Potter and the Cursed Child. Everyone who attended the party left with a prize and a new book! The prizes were purchased through the generous donations of community members and businesses: Sherry Daniels, Deb Pierce, Family Health of Alfred, Alfred Knitting Studio, and Dr. DelCampo.

Feel free to contact the library with any questions you might have about our upcoming programs or anything else, and don't be sure to check our website and facebook page for up-to-date information: www.almondlibrary.org.

NOTES from the
BOX OF BOOKS

By MELANIE MILLER
Box of Books Library Director

The Alfred Box of Books Library will be accepting donations for a memorial for our beloved volunteer, Toni Olshan. Toni served in many capacities at the library and gave generously of her time. Perhaps most importantly, Toni was a tremendous supporter of the library and provided a great deal of encouragement to me.

There have been many changes in the BoB recently, as we try to maximize our space, and make room for our growing collections. It is our goal to make the library as versatile and accessible to everyone.

With that being said, we need more mobile shelving units. Joe Dosch provided an estimate on a customized mobile shelving unit that will match our new circulation desk and help us utilize our limited space efficiently. The estimate is $1,140. If you would like to give any amount toward this memorial, please make checks payable to the Alfred Box of Books Library with "Toni Olshan Memorial" in the memo line. If you have any questions about this project, please feel free to contact the library at 607-587-9290 or at Alfred@stls.org.

Upcoming Programs & Summer Reading Update!

Summer Reading Wrap Up Picnic Sunday, August 28 from 12-4 p.m. Bring a picnic lunch to share with your family on the library lawn. The Box of Books will provide watermelon, beverages and cookies for dessert. We will have games and activities, and will announce winners of the Summer Reading Program. Prizes are awarded for adults, teens and children.

During the Summer Reading Wrap Up Picnic, we will also accept seeds for our seed library! Patty Sherman from Cornell Cooperative Extension will be on hand to answer any questions and also provide a seed saving presentation at 1 p.m. Anyone who is new to seed saving or wants to learn more can attend the presentation.

DIY mock coconut cream pie

Yum! It's squash season, I can feel it in the air. Spaghetti squash is one of the most versatile autumn vegetables and it is thrilling to discover new ways to use it.. One of our family favorites is Mock Coconut Cream Pie! This dessert is so delicious you can't just eat one piece of pie!

DIY Mock-Coconut Cream Pie

- 1 c. sugar or (1/2 c. stevia, 1/4 c. xylitol)
- 3 eggs
- 1/4 c. butter
- 1 T vanilla extract
- 3 c. cooked shredded spaghetti squash
- 1 pie crust
- 1 t. nutmeg & 1 t. cinnamon
- 1 ¼ c. homemade whipped cream (optional)

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Roll out pie crust in dish. Beat together sugar (or substitute) and eggs. Slowly fold in butter, vanilla, spices, and finally squash. Pour into pie dish and bake for 40-45 minutes. Serve with homemade whipped cream and hot coffee!

If you have a household tip to share or questions for The Farmer's Wife, e-mail: Kristinamariesnyder@gmail.com or write her at: The Farmer's Wife, 1724 Randolph Road, Alfred Station, NY 14803.

Pigskin Picks Football Contest

IT'S ALMOST FOOTBALL SEASON!!

It's that time of year again when readers of this newspaper attempt to out-pick the competition in the always fun Pigskin Picks Football Contest!

Each week, the best entry receives $10. At season's end, an entry will be pulled to award a $50 cash prize. Prior to the start of the NFL season, we've got ten Division I football games from which to pick. Then, as D3 games turn to playoffs, Pigskin Picks turns to the major college football games.

It's easy to participate! Enter your guesses of winners of the 20 football games (found in the ads on these pages) and predict the score of the MNF game as the tiebreaker in the form below. Enter today! The entry form below is due by 5 p.m. Friday, SEPT. 2. This is the 2016 contest debut!

Send entries to: Pigskin Picks, PO Box 811, Alfred, NY 14802 or take to the ALFRED SUN mailbox on the porch of the home office located at 764 Route 244 in Tinkertown. Good luck!

The Soviet people are so dissatisfied with conditions in their country that they may not react strongly to the coup that ousted Mikhail Gorbachev earlier this week, a political scientist at Alfred University says. "I would guess that there will not be a huge outpouring of Russians into the streets to protest this counter-coup," said Thomas Rasmussen, professor of political science at AU. "Many people in the Soviet Union are not all that happy with the way things have been going in terms of shortages, rising prices, threats to the social order and higher crime rates"...

Unhappy with the Alfred-Almond Central School Board of Education's decision over A-A veteran wrestling coach John Ninos, concerned parents and students are fighting for a reversal of its 1991-92 coaching appointment. The school board appointed Jim Ruch wrestling coach at the July 22 meeting. More than 100 students and parents protested the decision in a picket in front of the school July 25. About 25 students and parents attended the school board meeting August 14 to request a reversal of the board's decision not to reappoint Ninos as wrestling coach...

His job's been one of the tough ones. As vice president for student affairs at Alfred University, Donald H. King has been the University's point man—its disciplinarian, its spokesperson in troubled times, one of those most likely to gain public attention, and criticism. Yet that's been only a minor part of his role, says King, who resigned effective July 31 to pursue a business venture. "The highlight of my 22 years at Alfred University has been the students, and the relationships with them that I have developed," says King. "It's been rewarding to see some of the programs we've developed having a positive effect on their development and growth." Another highlight, he says, are the AU people. "I've had the good fortune, over the years, to have worked with some very good people," particularly those on the Student Affairs staff, says King. "Together, we have been able to make significant strides" in providing services to students... The Alfred University of 1969 was a far cry from what it is today in terms of Student Affairs and residence hall life, King recalls. Then, men were housed on one side of campus, women on the other. They had separate dining halls, and limited "visitation," times when members of the opposite sex were permitted in the residence halls. The use of alcohol was regarded as a "social" problem, and the University's role was in loco parentis, meaning that the Student Affairs people were, in effect, acting in the place of students' parents to enforce the rules. Legally, in loco parentis is long gone. Within a few short months in the early '70s, the concept of "visitation" was gone, too. The residence halls were co-education, as were the dining halls, King says. Today, he says, Alfred University is dealing with a greater number of students from dysfunctional families, and they tend to have more serious problems, which intensifies the need for support programs on campus...

Returning students and faculty as well as visitors arriving on the Alfred State College (ASC) campus have noticed big (and dusty) changes in the works this fall. In its biggest construction phase since the 1960s, ASC is adding a town-house style complex to its residential facilities and enlarging the Central Dining Hall to allow for a common gathering space for students. Each of these projects is in its beginning stages, although some of the townhouse structures can be seen rising from the earth mid-campus. Other, smaller projects have also taken place during the summer including the installation of new windows in Peet and Braddon residence halls as well as fresh paint in many of the rooms around campus. Anticipating is high regarding the future of the ASC Centennial Farm where the college is looking to implement new programming, investigate the use of alternate energy sources, begin organic farming, and initiate sustainability measures. Faculty hit campus Aug. 14 to gather for Interim President Dr. John Clark's opening remarks...

More than 600 new students--freshmen, transfer and graduate students--arrive at Alfred University this week, and four years from now, many of them "will look back on that day as the luckiest day of their lives, and their four years spent at Alfred University as the best years of their lives," said President Charles M. Edmondson at this morning's session that marked the start of the 171st academic year at Alfred University. Edmondson told faculty and staff the students "come here believing we can help them achieve their hopes and dreams... We accept them, we engage them in hard work, we inspire them. We change them all, and we transform many of them." Higher education in America is under attack with a ferocity that hasn't been seen in several decades, Edmondson said, and much of the furor centers on the cost of higher education... "Alfred University has not done badly at managing costs," said Edmondson, and, in fact, has done better than most at spending its resources on things that matter. "Because of our location, we offer our students an array of services that other institutions do not, he noted. Nationally, colleges and universities now have fewer than 52 percent full-time faculty members, but at Alfred University, the percentage of full-time faculty is much higher than that. At AU, roughly 93-95 percent of the courses are taught by full-time faculty...

Janet Fuller Love, 81, of 171 Deseyn Drive, Canandaigua, died Tuesday, Aug. 15, 2006 at home... She and Bob were married in 1948 and moved to Rushville where Bob taught school and they began their family. In 1953 they moved to Alfred where they lived for 50 years. Janet was the consummate mother and homemaker and was active in the life of her family, church, and community. Janet was a charter member of the Alfred United Methodist Church where she served as secretary for several years, taught Sunday School, sang in the choir, served on numerous committees and was an integral part of the church's ministry and outreach. She was a 55-year member of the Order of the Eastern Star and a member and officer of the Gideon Auxiliary Camps in both Hornell and Canandaigua...

More than three hundred alumni and spouses attended the 46th annual Alfred-Almond Alumni Banquet held on July 22, 2006 at Alfred State College Dining Hall. A "cruise" theme was carried out by decorations and props designed by Carl Leathersich '60 and Richard "Butch" Lorow '61. Guests were welcomed aboard the S.S. Eagle by Janice Burdett Leathersich '62 and Barbara Allen Baker '55. "Captain" Lee A. Ryan '55 and his crew were dressed in navy white uniforms, with David Snyder '74, cruise director, acting as master of ceremonies. Ship's captain, Michael Stuart '63 offered the invocation...

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, August 25

John Adams, our second President, faithfully served our country for over half a century. Writing to his son, John Quincy Adams, who at that time was Ambassador to Russia, he stated:

“It is essential, my son, in order that you may go through life with comfort to yourself, and usefulness to your fellow-creatures, that you should form and adopt certain rules or principles, for the government of your own conduct and temper.... It is in the Bible, you must learn them, and from the Bible how to practice them. Those duties are to God, to your fellow-creatures, and to your self.”

ALFRED STATE

Kent Baker named cross country, track & field coach

ALFRED—Kent Baker has been named the head coach of the Alfred State Cross Country and Track & Field programs. Baker will begin his duties immediately.

"We are excited to announce Coach Baker as the new leader of the Cross Country and Track & Field programs," said athletic director Dr. Kelly Higgins. "He has big shoes to fill, but he brings the breadth and depth of successful experiences on multiple levels of competition we were looking for to build upon our program's strong foundation and lead the program successfully into our NCAA future!"

College president Dr. Skip Sullivan echoed Higgins. "Alfred State is excited to have someone with the experience that Kent Baker brings. As a new era in Cross Country and track begins we are in good hands."

Baker is excited about the opportunities at Alfred State. "It is a tremendous honor to follow Gary Moore and I will give my greatest effort to continue his legacy of academic and athletic excellence. I am equally excited to begin working with the Alfred State student-athletes, assistant coaches, athletic administration and college community."

Baker joins Alfred State after spending the last three three years as the head coach at Keiser University (West Palm Beach, FL). At Keiser, he coached eight All-Americans during the 2014-15 season.

Prior to coaching at Keiser,

Baker was a successful high school coach at American Heritage School (Plantation, FL), Pinecrest School (Fort Lauderdale, FL), and Gulf Coast High School (Naples, FL). In 2010 and 2011 he was named the girls Coach of the Year by the Miami Herald News and the Sun-Sentinel News. In 2011 he was also named the girls Florida High School Coach of the Year in Class 2A.

A native of Detroit, MI, Baker earned his bachelor's degree in Sociology from the University of Michigan and followed by post-graduate work in Physical Education and Athletic Administration at Central Michigan.

Baker began his coaching career at the collegiate level, serving as an Assistant Coach for Track and Field at Central Michigan University. His roles starting out including coaching the sprint events, meet management, academic advisor, and head recruiter.

After two years at Central Michigan, Baker accepted the Track and Field and Cross Country head coaching position at the University of Toledo. While at Toledo, Baker administered all phases of the Men's Track and Cross Country program and during his 13 year run, the varsity programs enjoyed some of their most successful seasons in school history. At Toledo, Baker produced five NCAA Division I All-Americans, four Olympic trial qualifiers, fifty Mid-American Conference (MAC) champions, six MAC conference record holders, five MAC conference athletes of the year, and Toledo's first Olympian, 110m hurdler Paul Sehzie.

Coach Baker is married to Adrian James and has one daughter, Rachael James-Baker who is a varsity member of the women's tennis team at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Baker replaces Gary Moore who had been at the helm of the Pioneer program since 1978.

cludes physical therapy and occupational therapy.

"With OT, I'm working on my upper body, to help me control my legs. With the PT, I'm working on my gait, trying to get stronger as far as walking goes."

While he spends most of his time in a wheelchair, Fuentes said he's made incredible progress.

"In therapy, I can walk unassisted with a walker. I can move my arms and my legs while sitting down, I can stand on my own," he said "Over the last four or five months, I've really made tremendous improvements. I hadn't sweated in 10 years, and now I'm starting to work up a sweat."

Fuentes credits his therapists for pushing him to work hard in his recovery. "They've always shared my optimism," he says.

When asked if doctors have offered a revised prognosis for his continued recovery, he said he's never asked for or received one.

"I haven't consulted doctors. I feel I can do what I put my mind to," he said. "I don't want a judgment where someone puts limits on me. I've proven them wrong."

Fuentes has another goal: going back to school and earning his degree. A criminal justice major during his time at AU, Fuentes hopes to return to college soon, with aspirations of earning a degree in counseling.

"I definitely want to go back to school," said Fuentes, who has taken some on-line course from Jamestown Community College. "I've done well. I want to go back; I will go back. I want to get a counseling degree and help people in my position. I've been through a lot. People who are hurt like I was are initially down and out and don't know what to do. I was in that position and needed someone to help me."

Fuentes looks forward to returning to campus for the Saxons season opener Sept. 3. He enjoys watching his brother play and occasionally, he'll meet up with some of his old teammates at Saxon home games.

"I've been to almost all (Maleke's) home games and a handful of road games," he said. "I'm really looking forward to being there."

The Dugout

It was off to Frontier Field in Rochester on Friday evening past as it was "Miracle on Ice Night" at the "AAA" ballpark, home of the Rochester Red Wings. Four 1980 Olympic hockey gold medal winners for Team USA were on hand for autographs, to "slap shot" the first pitches and sign more autographs in the concourse area. In a summer of sweltering temperatures it turned out to be one of those perfect summer evenings that have been rare this year. In the ninth-inning it was still a pleasant 75-degrees out at the park.

Noted area photographer, Leo Nealon called me the day prior to see if I was interested in going and definitely was. Usually go to one Red Wings game a season and hadn't been yet this year so a perfect tie-in. Miracle on Ice members, an absolutely perfect evening to see a baseball game, food and drinks at the park plus free tix compliments of Jeff Dodge. Brother Scott O. Lorow is the Food Service Manager for the Norfolk Tides (Orioles) in the International League and Dodge holds the same position with the Red Wings (Twins). Many "thanks" to Jeff!

Nealon and I go to ballpark relatively early for the 7 pm contest and the autograph line was already crazy. Wasn't going to wait in line to get anything signed anyhow but was just amazed at the fans who were willing to do so. There was a break in the line, much like a line you would see in some banks and in that gap was space to get to a concession stand. Sent Nealon to fetch food for us and I casually wandered over to the table where the Olympians were signing away. No one stopped me, a few guys gave me a curious look, but got up relatively close and took a few photos with my iPhone. Was prepared to tell them I knew Jeff Calkins if anyone stopped me or "Hair" Torrey as a second option. Wasn't needed.

Neal Broten, Dave Christian, Mike Ramsey (Sabres) and captain Mike Eruzione were at the table this year, the second consecutive season the Red Wings have had "Miracle on Ice" Night! Obviously I knew all about the 1980 men's hockey team that won gold in Lake Placid, have been to the arena with Jason (Bourne) when 3L was out running the LP Half-Marathon and recently watched the Miracle movie on my ADK vacation with Lauren and Jess Herbst. A perfect evening to go see a minor league baseball game.

The visiting Buffalo Bison wore Team USA replica jerseys in blue and the Red Wings wore Team USA replica jerseys in white. The uniforms would be auctioned off (not washed) after the game with proceeds going to a charity. In addition, when the players from both teams came to the plate to bat the scoreboard had them pictured with hockey helmets on instead of the standard baseball cap. Between in-nings highlights on the board were of the USA-Russia game including the game winner by Eruzione! An excellent overall production by GM Dan Mason and his staff.

Not only was the weather perfect it was a well played game as a bonus. Both starting pitchers did well, some solid hits, the Red Wings tallied a run in the ninth and a walk-off HR in the 10th to grab a 4-2 victory. Nealon and I hooked up with Leslie Schiff, a fellow photographer, mid-way thru the game as we "settled in" to some sweet box seats by the third-base dugout. Rick Wilbert was two rows in front of us. His daughter, Kim and 3L played soccer together at Webster Schroeder for Coach Brown. Had a chance to chat with him.

Enjoyable evening, a Red Wings victory and a couple of cold ones. Nealon and I usually hook-up for the Dick's Open golf tour-

ALFRED UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL

Julio Fuentes will be honored Sept. 3

ALFRED— A decade after a paralyzing injury during the 2006 season opener, former Alfred University football player Julio Fuentes will be recognized prior to the first game of the Saxons' 2016 campaign.

Fuentes will be on hand for Alfred's Sept. 3 noon contest against visiting Husson University at Yunevich Stadium. AU head coach Bob Rankl said Fuentes will be honored prior to kickoff and the team will hold a fundraiser the day of the game. Proceeds will be donated to Rehabilitation Today, a facility in Fuentes' native Olean, where he has been undergoing regular physical therapy treatments the last three years.

Fuentes is the older brother of current AU football star Maleke Fuentes, a junior running back-wide receiver. Maleke Fuentes, in his third season as a starter for the Saxons, earned Empire 8 Conference Rookie of the Year honors as a freshman in 2012.

Julio Fuentes, like his younger brother, established himself as a dual threat out of the backfield his freshman year in 2005. That season, as the backup tailback, he ran for 333 yards and a pair of touchdowns and caught 22 passes for 276 yards and two more scores. On special teams, he averaged 21.1 yards on nine kickoff returns.

He returned for his sophomore season entrenched in the Saxons two-deep at tailback, with a prominent role in the return game. But in the season opener, at home against Thiel College, Fuentes made a play that would change his life. Blocking on a kick return, he collided with a Thiel defender and collapsed to the Merrill Field turf with what was later determined to be a serious spinal cord injury.

Fuentes says doctors' initial prognosis was that he would be paralyzed from the neck down, with no chance of ever walking again. After a month spent at Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester, in which he was placed in an induced coma, Fuentes spent six months at the Shepherd Center, a catastrophic care hospital for traumatic brain and spinal injuries in Atlanta. He returned to the family home in Olean and began undergoing inpatient and outpatient physical therapy.

About three years ago Fuentes began receiving treatment alternately at home and at Rehabilitation Today, which has facilities in Olean, Cuba, Arcade, and Bradford, PA. Now 29 and living in Allegany, he goes to Rehabilitation Today's Olean facility for treatment five times a week. Contrary to what doctors told him initially, he has regained movement in his arms and upper body and, to a lesser extent, his legs and lower body.

Fuentes' goal, now and for the last 10 years, is to walk again. He is certain that he's on his way to making that happen. His treatment at Rehabilitation Today innament in Endicott and often for a strawberry festival in Niagara on the Lake in the summer but conflicts thwarted that this year. Good seeing him again and will probably head to an Alfred University football game together this fall.

HITS AND MISSES:

Speaking of the "AAA" International League, the regular season is coming to a close pretty soon and the leading team(s) in the South Division are 14/15 games below .500! One will make the play-offs. Yikes. Durham and Norfolk are tied for third and they are each 17-games below .500. Both in the race! Meanwhile, all four teams in the West have better records and 5/6 teams in the North have better records. The last place team is equal to the top team in the South. The Red Wings were at (71-58) as of Sunday past and out of playoff contention. Scranton WB and Columbus are in, looks like Lehigh Valley will be the wild card and brother Scott is rooting on the Tides for more revenue from the gate.

Roger "Hilly" Moses and his son, Max "Marvin" Moses recently completed a five-city MLB trip that took them from Detroit to Cincy to Pittsburgh to Baltimore and wrapping up in Philly. Complete details on this next week in this space as it is the second straight year the Holliston, MA duo has taken an extended trip to see MLB games. Hopefully I have the agenda right! Was texting The Rog (A-A) from Frontier Field as he and his son were at game in Pittsburgh the same nite. The former second sacker for Almond Mobil Reality in the AASPL asked me if one "Hair" Torrey was in attendance? Did not see him nor Our Man Frank.

Henry Clancy, grandson of Alan and Mary Clancy, received a practice game ball from Buffalo Bills QB, Tyrod Taylor after the practice mentioned last week, at SJ Fisher. Surprised it wasn't intercepted by "The Traveling Sports Fan!"

Speaking of the Bills, they win 21-0 over the sad NJ Giants last Saturday at New Era Field as Marcell Dareus enters rehab and the team cuts RB Karlos Williams.

Ended up watching more of the Rio Olympics than I originally thought I'd have time for and quite enjoyable! Going in I definitely wanted to see Michael Phelps and Katie Ledecky in the pool plus the two Team USA hoop squads. Thoroughly enjoy the swimming as much as anything and it didn't disappoint. Neither did "Bolt of Lightning!" Wow. Some great wins on the track for the USA plus their usual botched men's relay squad. Basketball was no contest. How was Serbia in the men's final?

Continuing with Team USA basketball, really wanted to watch Diana Taurasi and Sue Bird play, perhaps for the last time as teammates. My two favorites from their days together at UConn. Coach Geno Auriemma had five of his former players on the roster, four started and "almost" UConn star Elena Delle Donne was a force off the bench. Six straight gold medals and 49-straight Olympic wins. Guessing Auriemma will be back in 2020, if he wants to, but most likely not with Taurasi and Bird.

Coach K (Duke) and the men won another gold medal, the third in the Olympics for the Blue Devils head man. Couple other World Championships and a gaudy (88-1) overall mark for USA Basketball. Gregg Popovich assumes the slot now and while a great NBA coach, he is 67-years old now! He'll be 71-years old at the next Olympics. Again, "Pop" is a great-great coach, obviously but surprised Team USA went in this direction. He is actually older than Coach K. How about Brad Stevens of the Celtics next up?

Not a good weekend past for the Notre Dame football program as key players galore were arrested in a couple of incidents. Efforts to reach Stu and Waffle for comment were futile. The Irish take on Michigan State in their third game of the season and checking the overall schedule ... six home games, three away, three neutral sites? That correct, Obie?

Finally this week, the Batavia Muckdogs are having another miserable season in the New York-Penn baseball league. Not sure if Keith M. Holmok threw out the first pitch over the weekend in a birthday celebration for the A-A athletic director?
