

Festifall will feature Chamber Singers, Jazz Ensemble

10/23/07

Alfred University's Chamber Singers and Jazz Ensemble is set to share the stage in Powell Campus Center's Knight Club, Friday, Nov. 2, 2007, at 8 p.m. for the traditional fall celebration of jazz called Festifall. The Chamber Singers, under the direction of AU's Luanne Crosby, associate professor of voice and chorus, will perform Berlin's "Blue Skies," Rodgers and Hart's "Funny Valentine," and several other pieces. The Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of AU's Christopher Foster, instructor of music and director of bands, will be performing bebop, funk, and cool jazz works such as "Tenor Madness," "Mercy, Mercy, Mercy," and "Chameleon." Come by for a relaxed evening of mellow ballads, swing tunes, and cool jazz. This event is free of charge to the public. Wings and beverages will be available for purchase.
