Action Required: New Antivirus Software for Alfred University

Alfred University ITS will no longer be supporting Sophos as our Antivirus software. We will be implementing Microsoft Forefront Antivirus for all Alfred University-owned machines.

Forefront is a very reliable antivirus solution that allows ITS to remotely maintain virus updates on University-owned computers.

For those who have already received an Alfred University Dell Windows computer this summer, you are currently running Microsoft Forefront and no further action is needed. For those who have an existing computer, in order to implement the new antivirus software, Sophos will need to be uninstalled from your machine and Forefront installed.

In the first few weeks of October, ITS will push out the Forefront application across the University network. This automatic installation will happen when you start your machine and you will get a prompt asking you to complete the installation process.

For those who would like to manually install Microsoft Forefront before the automatic network installation in early October, here are some important notes:

University Windows Computers:

If you are currently using Sophos you will see an icon that looks like a shield in the bottom righthand corner of your computer screen. Before you begin the installation of Microsoft Forefront, you will need to uninstall Sophos.

To uninstall Sophos and install Microsoft Forefront on your University Windows machine go to: U:\public\ITS\Antivirus\SophosToForefront.exe, double-click and follow the directions.

University Mac Computers:

If you are using SOPHOS on a Mac machine, you will need to uninstall Sophos by dragging and dropping the program out of Applications and into the Trash. If you are interested in installing an alternate antivirus software for your OS X machine here is a suggestion: <http://www.clamxav.com>

Non-University Windows Computers:

If you are using Sophos on a non-University-owned machine (your personal home machine) you will need to uninstall Sophos from the Control Panel>Add/Remove Programs then install an alternate anti-virus solution, such as Microsoft Security Essentials (Microsofts free antivirus software which is comparable to Forefront) <http://www.microsoft.com/...>

If you have difficulty, please call the Helpdesk at 607.871.2222 and we will help walk you through it.

Washington Semester Program for Spring 2011

Dr. Heineman of the Social Sciences Division is now taking applications for the Washington Semester Program for Spring 2011.

The Washington Semester Program is sponsored by American University and enables students to spend a semester in Washington, D.C., studying public policy in a variety of areas. Students who have participated in the program have used their experience and contacts to obtain excellent positions in Washington and elsewhere.

In addition to taking coursework, students will meet with government officials and political leaders in seminar sessions and will participate in an internship of their choosing. In addition to its major focus on American national government, the program also has a number of options utilizing non-governmental resources in the Washington area, including working with interest groups and art and cultural institutions. Some of these are: journalism, law enforcement, public law, economics, international business, international organizations, and women and politics.

Course credits and grades are fully transferable to the student's transcript. Students can obtain additional information on the program at www.washingtonsemester.co.... Juniors or seniors are eligible to participate and scholarships are available.

Over the past year, Steve Patterson and Kristin Edward Brown attended the program. Those interested should contact Dr. Heineman in room 209 of the Olin Building. Applications should be completed by Friday, Oct. 29, 2010.

Tuesday, Oct. 5 at 7 p.m.

David A. Howe Public Library

New York's wild frontier was a dramatic crossroads where settler dreams confronted native ways of life that changed through trade, war, and diplomacy. Powerful new attitudes arose and remade the landscape and their cultures in bold and enduring ways. Distinct regions, especially Appalachia, would face similar challenges and opportunities - developmentally, energy-wise and environmentally - which link us today.

This program is sponsored by the New York Council for the Humanities, Speakers in the Humanities. The program is free and open to the general public.
