Four Preps to Star at IFC Weekend

Quartet Is Noted For Versatility

The Four Preps, one of the nation's most famous vocal groups, will highlight the Interfraternity Weekend with a Saturday afternoon concert in Alumni Hall from 1:45 to 3:45.

The Preps became national celebrities with "26 Miles," recorded in 1958. They began recording with Capitol Records in 1957 with "Dreamy Eyes." Other smash hits included "Down by the Station," "Big Man," and "Cinderella" from the motion picture "Gidget."

The quartet is composed of Bruce Belland, Glen Larson, Marvin Ingram, and Ed Cobb. The boys attended Hollywood High School together, and got their start when they sang in a high school talent show in 1955. Of the four, only Ed is a native of Hollywood. Glen was born in Long Beach, Calif., Marv in Shreveport, La., and Bruce in Chicago, Ill.

Since high school days, the Preps have appeared on many television shows, among them the Ed Sullivan Show and the Ernie Ford Hour. Their college appearances have taken them to every state of the union. In addition, they have played almost every major state fair in the country and all of the top night spots, including Los Angeles' Cocoanut Grove, Hollywood's Crescendo, Reno's Riverside Hotel, San Francisco's Facks II, the Dune Hotel in Las Vegas and Harrah's Club, Lake Tahoe.

Listening to and viewing The Preps' smooth vocal blend, outrageous quick wit, and uncanny sense of timing, one must marvel at the fate that brought together four lads of such compatible talents, said one reviewer.

If there were any doubts about the Preps' versatility, one of their hit records, "More Money for You and Me," should have cleared them up. In it, The Preps spin off amazingly accurate imitations of other vocal groups ranging from The Fleetwoods to the Four Freshmen.

In high school, the boys had not planned on musical careers. They were all active in sports; Glen and Bruce were track stars, Ed was an All-City football player and Marvin lettered in basketball. They also had their careers chosen. Glen planned on being a TV writer; Bruce, a public relations man; Marvin, an attorney; and Ed, a research chemist.

Glen and Ed attended Los Angeles City College until their careers monopolized their time. Marvin and Bruce attended U.C. L.A., Marvin long enough to obtain a bachelor's degree.

Richard Maltby Orchestra Will Play at Friday's Ball

The annual IFC Weekend sponsored by Alfred's six fraternities will be held this Friday and Saturday.

Highlight of the weekend will be the appearance of the Four Preps whose college performances have taken them to every state of the union. At the University of Minnesota, Illinois and South Dakota, to mention a few, they broke all existing attendance records.

The versatile vocal group will appear at 1:45 p.m., Saturday afternoon in Alumni Hall.

The IFC is particularly happy with their choice of the dance band which will play at the Ball, Friday night in the Men's Gym, according to Jay Wanderman, IFC publicity director. Richard Maltby is one of the top conductor-arrangers in the country, Wanderman added. Life Magazine called Maltby "an enterprising band leader in tune with the times."

The featured event at the Ball will be the crowning of the IFC Queen, who will be selected from seven candidates chosen earlier by the Interfraternity Council.

Sigma Chi Nu will be represented by queen candidates Gail Gregory and Gerry Slavik. Nominees Madeline Gallo and Myrna Ottaway are residents at Kruson. Kihm Richardson is representing the Castle. The other two candidates are freshmen Maureen Klein and Sue Schreier

The jeweled crown will be placed on the queen at midnight by Otto Eleuteri, president of IFC.

The fraternities will have parties on both Friday and Saturday nights. This will be the first big weekend for the newly tapped fraternity pledges.

The Friday night parties will be regular parties while the Saturday night parties might feature bands. On Saturday, cocktail parties and buffet dinners will follow the concert.

Maltby Orchestra Rated Outstanding

Richard Maltby and his orchestra will perform Friday night of IFC Weekend in the Mens Gym at 9 p.m.

Malthy has transferred the big band image into living reality, aimed at the feet of the dancing public. Through the years the Malthy formula has remained clear and bright. He is a multifaceted musician—conductor - arranger - instrumentalist—all fused into a signature highly honored in musical circles.

To cite Maltby as an innovator, one need only mention such solid hits as "St. Louis Blues Mambo," which practically started the standard-to-mambo-beat fad, or "Theme from the Man With The Golden Arm," which preceded by a number of years the current boom in motion picture theme song recordings. The Richard Maltby Octet is a nucleus of the big band which can also act as a separate entity. Consisting of only reeds (4 reed

Whatever the trend, one can always expect the Maltby group to offer a variety of styles, sometimes marked by a wistful restraint and a relaxed, smooth feeling, sometimes by a raw urgency and a stunning emotional the sound is solid, the arrangements are distinctive, and the selections are those today's dancers demand.

Maltby's startling career almost ended before it began. His first professional engagement was with Fritz Miller's dance band at the Royal Frolics Club on South Wabash Avenue which was controlled by Al Capone. Amid the flurry of gangland revels, the 16 year old trumpeter wasn't exactly a good insurance risk. He stayed one night and moved his trumpet chair to Little Jack Little's outfit to barnstorm the country on one-night stands.

Maltby left the one nighters in 1940 and stayed in his home town Evanston, Ill, where he secured a staff arranger's job at WBBM, writing everything from romantic background music to dramatic shows including the original music heard on the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine shows during the war years.

He later moved to New York, started his own musical series on ABC radio and participated in a number of recording sessions.
