

University adds Spanish instructor, alumna to faculty

8/14/08

Kathryn Stricker, an alumna, has joined Alfred University's College of Liberal Arts & Sciences as a visiting Spanish instructor for the 2008-09 academic year. Stricker received a master of education degree in childhood education with a bilingual extension from State University of New York (SUNY) at Buffalo. She received bachelor of arts degree in Spanish and elementary education from Alfred University. She has had bilingual teaching experience in the Buffalo (NY) Public School District and in Guadalajara, Mexico at the Writing Center on the I.T.E.S.M. Campus, Guadalajara. At AU, she has been a language lab assistant and a tutor to students taking Spanish. She received the Faculty Award for Academic Excellence in Modern Languages and was in the Alfred University Honors Program. She was inducted into the Phi Kappa Phi National Honor Society in 2004.