

Four alumni to serve on ceramic/glass industry board

4/23/15

The Ceramic and Glass Industry Foundation (CGIF) will install its first Board of Trustees during the inaugural Ceramics Expo Trade Show, April 28-30 in Cleveland.

An initiative of The American Ceramic Society, the CGIF's mission is to ensure that the global ceramic and glass industry is able to attract, inspire, and train the highest quality talent available to work with this unique class of engineered materials.

The Foundation's international Board represents a cross section of the world's top materials manufacturers and academic institutions. Among the 19 members are:

Richard Brow, AU Class of 1980, curators & professor, Missouri University of Science & Technology-Rolla

David Pye, AU Class of 1959, dean and professor emeritus of glass science at AU and CEO of Empire State Glassworks LLC, Little Falls, NY

Kathleen Richardson, AU Class of 1982, professor of optics and materials, University of Central Florida-Orlando

Jon Tabor, AU Class of 1955, president and CEO, Allied Mineral Products, Columbus, Ohio
