

New York University professor Hasia Diner to deliver Lefkowitz Lecture in Jewish Studies
10/11/19

Hasia Diner

ALFRED, NY – Hasia R. Diner, the Paul and Sylvia Steinberg Professor of American Jewish History at New York University, will deliver the 10th annual Lefkowitz Lecture in Jewish Studies on Thursday, October 17, at 5:30 p.m. in Nevins Theater, Powell Campus Center.

The lecture is titled “Immigration: An American Story.” Drawing on her expertise in American Jewish history and global migration, Diner will detail the inspiring history of Jewish immigration to the United States and will reflect on the way this history can help us think about the current immigration crisis in America.

A reception and book signing will follow the lecture, which is free and open to the public.
