

Visiting artist to lecture at Alfred University

4/13/18

ALFRED, NY – Visiting artist Elizabeth Atterbury will give a lecture at Alfred University on Wednesday, April 18, at 4:30 p.m. in Nevins Theater, Powell Campus Center.

The lecture is presented by the Alfred University School of Art and Design, Division of Drawing, Painting and Photography. It is free and open to the public.

In sculpture, photography and installation, Atterbury constructs minimal objects that frame, intervene and alter space. Drawing on personal history, these objects are both familiar and surprising – the scale and finish shifts any reference to utility and context. Her background in photography is clear, as one moves through her work, individual objects alter in their relationship to the whole, creating new associations.

Atterbury received her BA from Hampshire College and her MFA from Massachusetts College of Art and Design. Recent solo exhibitions include Mrs., New York; Document, Chicago; The Colby College Museum of Art, Waterville, ME; and kijidome, Boston. She has been included in group exhibitions at Et. al, San Francisco; Western Exhibitions, Chicago; TSA, Brooklyn; Bodega, Philadelphia/New York; KANSAS, New York; and The ICA at Maine College of Art, Portland, ME, among others.
