Ghost steals his Alfred Sun...

BILL CRANDALL, formerly of Alfred and now of Port Charlotte, Florida, visited the Karnak Temple during a recent tour of Egypt back in April and May 2010. Bill was holding and reading the ALFRED SUN to get caught up on things in his old hometown, when the ghost of Tutankhamem (King Tut) came and stole it away, so the photo didn't catch it.

Dr. Sundaram named Inamori Professor

ALFRED-Dr. S. K. Sundaram, former chief materials scientist at Pacific Northwest National Laboratory, has been appointed an Inamori Professor of Materials Science and Engineering at the Kazuo Inamori School of Engineering at Alfred University.

The Inamori Professorships were created in 2005, when the Kyocera Corporation, one of the world's largest manufacturers of advanced ceramic materials, made a $10 million gift to the University's endowment to support the School of Engineering. The gift honored Kazuo Inamori, founder and chairman of the board of Ky-

The University, in consultation with the Kyocera Corporation, agreed to use the income generated by the $10 million endowment to support four Inamori Professors, all recognized experts in their fields. Sundaram is the third Inamori Professor to be appointed to the AU faculty. Others are Scott Misture, Inamori Professor of Materials Science, and Mark Towler, Inamori Professor of Biomaterials.

"We are excited to have Prof. Sundaram join the faculty as an Inamori Professor," said Doreen Edwards, dean of the School of Engineering. "Sundaram is internationally recognized for his interdisciplinary work in advanced materials processing and characterization. He possesses a depth and breadth of knowledge that will undoubtedly strengthen our materials science, biomaterials, and glass science programs."

Sundaram says he is just as excited to be at Alfred University and the Inamori School of Engineering, which he sees has the potential to develop into a center of excellence in materials for energy and environmental applications. He sees possibilities for "strategic alliances" with Pacific Northwest National Laboratories, Richland, WA, and Savannah River National Laboratory, Aiken, SC, where there are several AU alumni, and the Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island.

"Alfred is perfectly positioned," he said. "Alfred University will continue to grow, and great things can happen here."

Sundaram, who joined Pacific Northwest Laboratory in 1994 after earning his Ph.D. degree from the Georgia Institute of Technology, became chief materials scientist at the lab in 2002, and has more than 16 years of scientific, technical and managerial experience.

Sundaram's major areas of interest include THz /millimeter wave science and technology, multi-scale materials processing, live-cell spectroscopy for rapid screening, and ultrafast materials science and engineering. He is internationally recognized for his interdisciplinary approach to research, and has considerable experience in assembling highly functional multidisciplinary research teams.

During his career, he has made more than 100 presentations; edited or contributed to 11 books; published more than 75 peer-reviewed publications and technical reports; mentored and/or supported more than 40 students; and organized or co-organized several national and international symposia on advanced topics in materials science. He has authored two patents and three patent applications, and has several invention disclosures.

He is the recipient of numerous awards, including four R&D 100 Awards, two for millimeter wave technologies in 2001 and 2006; one for multi-scale materials processing in 2008; and one for IncubATR®-Live Cell Monitor in

Sundaram is an elected Fellow of the American Association of Advancement of Sciences (2006), American Ceramic Society (2006), and Society of Glass Technology UK (2009). He is a member of the New York Academy of Sciences (NYAS), Materials Research Society (MRS), American Society of Metals (ASM), the International Society for Optical Engineering (SPIE), and American Physical Society. He is also a life member of Indian Ceramic Society and Materials

Research Society-India. He has been inducted in to Keramos, Sigma Xi, and Order of Engineer in 1994, 2000, and 2006, respectively.

As an American Association for the Advancement of Science Fellow, he was honored for his "leadand innovative ership contributions to a diverse crosssection of materials sciences, particularly new tools for synthesis and characterization of novel materials, diagnostics and nanomate-

He earned an executive certificate in Strategy and Innovation from Sloan School of Management, Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) in 2007. He has been an adjunct faculty at School of Mechanical and Materials Engineering, Washington State University, Pullman, WA (1997-2010). He is a visiting scientist at MIT (since 1998) and has held visiting scholar appointments at Harvard (2002) and Princeton (2005).

His undergraduate work was completed at Indian Institute of Ceramics in Kolkata, India, and his master's degree at the Indian Institute of Technology in Kharagpur, India.

Defense Dept. to test Alfred's strengthened glass

Technologies of Alfred under the trade name "Ion-ArmorTM", for transparent lightweight armor applications.

The strengthening process is based upon alkali ion exchange that develops a high surface compression over a large depth which, in turn, imparts the high strength characteristics.

"Ion-ArmorTM is stronger than any glass commercially produced by man. When bent, the glass is stronger than steel", explained Dr. Arun Varshneya, Saxon's president. What is yet to be understood technologically is how it withstands the impact of projectile in real situations.

"The DoD agreement is merely a first and a small step in a battery of tests that would need to be conducted to estimate its ballistic performance for suitability to be incorporated in any product," Varshneya said.

Some civil applications such as hurricane- and earthquake-resistant glass windows may also develop from such testing. Saxon Glass is a market leader in the area of chemically strengthened pharmaceutical glass syringes for auto-injector applications

ALFRED--The US Department of De- used as emergency anti-dote in life-threatenfense has agreed to test chemically strengthing situations arising form allergies to beeened glass, manufactured by Saxon Glass stings and peanuts, for example. Saxon has also helped with the development of the high-strength glass window for cell phone applications.

The company is a "Qualified Empire Zone Enterprise" in NY State's Friendship-Cuba Empire zone.

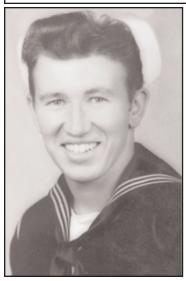

"Job growth within the region through new technology developments is always on our minds. We remain hopeful that Ion-ArmorTM will meet DoD expectations; that should eventually translate to more jobs at Saxon Glass", said Varshneya, a 28-year resident of the region who recently retired from Alfred University as professor of glass science and engineering.

That university connection should also be helpful in terms of a powerhouse of facilities and intellect next door. Varshneya is the 2007 recipient of the "President's Award" by the International Commission on Glass for lifetime professional contributions, the author of the 13-page "Industrial Glass" entry in Encyclopedia Britannica, and the author of "Fundamentals of Inorganic Glasses" used as a textbook by materials engineering science students and professionals worldwide.

STRONGER GLASS/SAFER VIEWS--Chemically strengthened glass manufactured by Saxon Glass Technologies of Alfredcould be used for lighter weight yet safer transparencies in armored vehicles. Saxon Glass President Dr. Arun Varshneya says the Department of Defense will test the glass for transparent lightweight armor applications.

Allegany Arc celebrates its 50th Anniversary in 2011. Allegany Arc was founded in 1961 and began as a grassroots effort by a small group of parents determined to give their children with disabilities a better life. What started as a TREE Workshop (for Training, Rehabilitation, Education, and Experience) in Friendship, NY, has now grown into Allegany Arc, an agency that is dedicated to providing the highest quality opportunities for people with special needs and their families.

The first Arc services consisted of group activities, sheltered work, and provided a safe and nurturing environment for people with disabilities and their families. The agency also provided a critical support system for parents dealing with a child with special needs.

During the past 50 years things have certainly changed in terms of options available for people with disabilities in Allegany County.

No longer are families expected to find their way alone. Chris Koehler, Senior Vice-President of Sales and Marketing says of the milestone, "As we approach the Golden 50th Anniversary of the Allegany Arc, I find myself thinking about our founding parents and their courageous struggle to change society's disregard for the needs of their children with developmental disabilities. These parents fought for the rights of their children to be treated like human beings, able to live and work where they choose. These parents wanted more than institutions and special schools for their loved ones. They wouldn't settle for the closed doors and the separate worlds of hiding their children at home."

He continues, "Fifty years ago it must have been so exciting for those families who founded the Allegany Arc. What has happened since certainly must have exceeded their wildest expectations. Today, our comprehensive services provide the necessary supports to enable individuals with disabilities to grow with dignity while achieving a high level of independence."

Marygail Geffers, Allegany Arc Program Instructor, has worked at the agency 17 years. She says, "The best thing about working at Allegany Arc is the people. People with special needs are the most accepting people in the world. They're encouraging and appreciative of everything you do. I've met some amazing people during my time here and they have certainly added more to my life than I could ever dream of adding to theirs."

Allegany Arc currently serves over 300 people with special needs. The agency is devoted to "putting people first" and allowing individuals with developmental disabilities to have greater control over and live richer lives.

Koehler added, "I am proud of my 27 years of service carrying the torch for these loving parents of 1961. I feel privileged to do this work, which I love so much. Whenever the frustrations and stress of the job bring me down, I remember our founders, and find myself inspired. We must remember that as successive generations dream new dreams, we need to be ready to make it a reality. Just imagine the opportunities that await people with disabilities in 2061!'

Mike Damiano, Allegany Arc's Chief Executive Officer, says "This Anniversary marks such a huge milestone for our agency. During these turbulent times, our work can seem daunting but we have a team filled with eager and dedicated employees who go out of their way to ensure the very best possible services are given on a daily basis. We move forward fighting the good fight to ensure we remain a valuable resource to people with special needs, not only for today but for 50 years from now as well."

Allegany Arc is planning for some magnificent events to celebrate its 50th Anniversary. For information, www.AlleganyArc.org.

Soup & Bread Dinner raises $1740 for clean water

By SARAH ROZARD

Special to the Alfred Sun ALFRED--Over thirty Alfred area residents volunteered their time, soups or supplies to Friends Peace Teams to Indonesia's Soup and Bread Dinner on Wednesday, Jan. 20 at the Parish House in Alfred. The dinner raised $1,740 and donations keep coming in. The funds go towards Nicholas and Sarah Rozard's one-year volunteer trip to work in Indonesia on ceramic water filters with an Indonesian non-profit, Society for Health, Education, Environment and Peace (SHEEP).

Many thanks go to Alfred area residents who generously volunteered to make the event happen: Scout, Jenny Hillenbrand, Dave Snyder, Connie Penisi, JoEllen del Campo, Jane Cockran, Ann Wenslow, Wendy Bush, Carol Seager, Laurel Buckwalter, Jeanne Hyland, Mary Huntington, Amanda Snyder, Sandy Dennison, Sharon Burdick, Lisa Underwood, Barb McNulty, Mary Jane Lloyd, Chelsea Buffard, Devin Henry, Stryder Underwood, Jesson and Elliot Case, the Seventh Day Baptist Women's Society, Nadine Hoover, Joe Dosch, Nancy Evangelista, Jessmynda Dosch-Evangelista, Becky Prophet, Sarah Rozard, and Nick Rozard.

It takes a village, and on a cold, overcast night over 75 village people attended the dinner. They enjoyed the array of hearty soups, snowflake rolls and homemade cookies, brownies and cake. People chatted and laughed in the Parish House dining room, seated across four long tables. Pitchers full of clean water provided refreshment and reminded people of the gathering's purpose.

Twice during the course of the evening Nadine Hoover and Sarah Rozard gathered everyone's attention for brief talks on Friends Peace Teams to Indonesia's overall, grassroots, peace work and the upcoming water filter development. Today most Indonesians boil water in lieu of filtration, slowly deforesting and degrading the environment and walking further and further for wood. Ceramic water filters would eliminate the need to boil water and provide safe drinking water to those are not able to boil their water.

Nadine Hoover, one of the organizers for the event, commented, "This was a culmination of all the love and care, conscience and faith that we all bring! Alfred's the perfect community to help synchronize the right people with the right knowledge, and Nick and Sarah are the perfect people to help make that happen. So many of our friends need clean water to heal from their pains and illnesses, but the Earth also needs these filters to heal from the deforestation caused by boiling water. I'm so proud to be part of a community that's so persistent and encouraging in this effort."

Jeanne Hyland, the other event organizer, was likewise very pleased with how the event went, commenting, "I thought it was great. I thought it was very good, very nice in fact. Everybody seemed to enjoy everybody, and they absolutely enjoved it. The food was delicious. and we hope to do it again some Nick and Sarah are accepting on-going contributions towards their monthly stipend and costs for a water-testing laboratory and a kiln to support this work. Donations may be sent to: Friends Peace Teams (memo line: Indonesia/Rozard), 1001 Park Ave., St. Louis, MO 63104. Thank you!

Tomato Soup with Smoked Gouda

February 5th is International Ice Cream for Breakfast Day. It was actually started in the 1960's by a Rochester mom who needed an outlet for her kids' winter cabin fever. So, she declared the first Saturday of February as Eat Ice Cream for Breakfast Day. She suggested having them sprinkle their cereal over their ice cream. That has nothing to do with this week's recipe-it just struck my fancy!

A while ago a friend invited me to lunch in the culinary arts building on the Alfred State College campus in Wellsville. The meals are served in a little gem of a dining room called the Foundation Room. The students run the kitchen and dining room. Lunch is served from 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m., but they stop seating at 12:15.

They have a soup and appetizers table, a salad bar, an offering of two entrees, and dessert. The price is unbelievably low-for instance $1.95 for soup and appetizers. Reservations are required. The campus number is 1-585-593-6270. They can direct you where to call for reservations.

This was the soup the day we were there. It is exquisite as was everything! Try it.

Tomato Soup with Smoked Gouda

attended the Allegany County Board of Legislators meeting on January 24, 2011. There will be an Open House at the new Court House Addition on February 11, 2011 from 2 - 6 PM. All residents are invited.

There were 14 resolutions. Resolution 23-11 was moved to be the first order of business for the Appointment of Karl Graves as County Legislator from District IV for period January 24, 2011 to and including December 31, 2011. Mr. Ungermann spoke to this resolution and made a motion to table this resolution for more time for the legislators to review, there was no second and the board voted with 12 ayes, 1 no (Mr. Ungermann) and 1 absent (Mr. Benson). Mr. Graves was then sworn in by Judge Parker.

After I looked at the voting results from 2009 it is my opinion that perhaps Michael Mc-Cormick should have been appointed to the vacant position as Mr. McCormick received 948 votes and Mr. Graves received 674. It seems to me that the votes of the people don't matter in this situation. All other resolutions were passed.

Again, when it came to the Audit (Paying the Bills) Mr. Ungermann questioned Mr. Margeson about an item for $2,129, and once again Mr. their mothers make a better life

Sewing machines needed

To the Editor:

Have you ever wanted to make a difference in someone's life or in the world? I am looking for people who can help me to bring hope to women in one of the poorest countries in the world. I am looking for used sewing machines - donated or available for purchase at a modest price – that will be part of a project that is sure to change the lives of Dominican girls and

Some 30-percent of the people in the Dominican Republic (DR) live at or below the poverty level. The key to breaking the cycle of poverty, according to the United Nations, is to educate girls. By keeping girls in school, they are able to get paying jobs and support their families. However, many of the girls in the DR are missing up to 20-percent of their education just because they get their period each month and do not have the means to purchase menstrual products. These girls end up missing 2-5 days of school each month because they must stay home, using whatever is available. This is a major educational disadvantage. Often, once they fall behind, the girls quit school, get pregnant and continue the cycle.

So how can your donation of a sewing machine help? The Mariposa Foundation – founded by Ithaca resident Patricia Suriel, who is living and working in the DR - is dedicated to helping Dominican girls and for themselves. The foundation has received enough LunaPads, reusable sanitary pads that last up to five years, for several hundred girls. Supplied with the reusable products, these girls will not miss school each month, will continue their education and break the cycle of poverty. In addition to donating the pads, the company gave the Mariposa Foundation the pattern so that thousands of other girls can be helped as well.

The plan is to solicit money from Dominican companies-including banks, hotels, and government agencies-for needed supplies. The sewing machines donated will be used by Dominican women to sew the pads so that each of the 7,000 adolescent girls in the Cararetearea will be supplied. Eventually, the project will reach out to other areas of the country.

I will be working with the women to teach them how to sew the pads. I will also be teaching them to sew quilted wall hangings that they can sell to tourists, which will enable them to earn a living and provide

FRANK CRUMB'S DREAM SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN FOR THE ALFRED SUN WANTED: one thousand subscribers to the SUN Keeping the Dream Alive 120 115 110

Frank Crumb's Dream Subscription Campaign Update

107 down, 18 to go Back in 1884, a simple item appeared in the Sun that said. Wanted, one thousand subscribers to the Alfred Sun." It's been 125 years since legendary Sun Editor Frank A. Crumb. with the Sun from 1883 to 1951 set the millenary goal. Not knowing of Frank Crumb's Dream, I, too, had set a goal of 1000 subscribers when I joined the paper in 1976. That goal was finally reached in January 1999. But we want to keep Frank's dream alive.

The late Eugene T. Van Horn, who owned the newspaper from 1951 until 1973, told us one time that circulation peaked in the 1960s at 700. It's now over 900. We've added 104 new sub- scribers since Jan. 1, 2009.

Get connected to this community. If you would like to contribute to Frank Crumb's Dream, send your name and address or that of a loved one together with your check payable to "Alfred Sun" to: Frank Crumb's Dream, c/o Alfred Sun, P.O. Box 811. Alfred. NY 14802. Thank you!

If you have a sewing machine that you no longer use – or know someone who does – please contact me at home by calling 585-268-5705 or by emailing me: Sherrydog3@aol.com. I will pick up the machines.

If it is more convenient, you can drop them off at the Alfred Pharmacy on Main Street in Alfred or at Judy Burt's office at Jones Memorial Hospital in Wellsville. Don't worry if the machine needs a little work, each machine will get a tune up before being shipped to the DR in the early summer.

My husband and I have spent time in the Dominican Republic over the past 11 years, as tourists and as medical mission volunteers. The Dominican people are hard working, warm, family-oriented people. I will be spending several days a week for several months each year working with the Mariposa Foundation and will keep those who are interested updated as to the progress of the women and the project. If you are able to donate a machine, I promise you that your donation will make a difference.

Sincerely, Sherry Herdman, NP

FROM THE DESK OF DAVID PULLEN

Allegany County Legislator

MOVING FORWARD

The January 24th session of the Board of Legislators began, as usual, with the recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance. Former Army Sergeant Gary Rathbun, of Friendship, led the Pledge. It was good to see Gary, who is a longtime friend and lifelong public servant. Our County is fortunate to have many dedicated citizens like him.

Early in this meeting the Board took a somewhat unusual action. We needed to appoint a replacement to fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Legislator Daniel Russo. The Board had received a recommendation from the Republican Party committee members from District IV, the legislative district with the vacancy. The Republican Committee members nominated Karl Graves, of Wellsville. By unanimous voice vote the Board approved a resolution appointing him to serve until December 31, 2011. By law, the balance of the term must be filled by voters during the fall election.

Legislator Ted Hopkins introduced a proposed local law requiring payment of an administrative fee by those required to attend meetings of the County STOP DWI Victim Impact Panel. Later in the meeting the Board set a public hearing on this local law for February 14th, at 2:00 pm. I intend to support this law and imposition of this fee. I think convicted violators should pay for this program, not taxpayers.

The Board considered and approved a total of 14 resolutions. Four of those resolutions approved the reconstruction of town bridges, and authorized payment of 80% of the cost for each project. Each town involved in these bridge repair projects must pay 20% of the cost. The town share is usually paid in the form of "in-kind" services. Legislator Fanton noted that the County is not borrowing to pay for its share of these bridge projects. This represents significant progress.

The Board also approved several resolutions involving State mandated services. One resolution created 4 positions in the "Early Intervention Program." Another resolution approved a contract for legal services for indigent individuals in criminal court or family court. We are forced to provide services by State mandate, but receive limited funding assistance from the State.

On a positive note, the Board approved acceptance of two gifts from generous donors to the Office For the Aging. The generous bequest from Estate of Edna E. McAndrews and the generous donation from the Moogan Family Foundation will permit OFA to continue important programs for senior citizens. Their generosity and compassion sets a wonderful example for the rest of us.

Chairman Crandall had appointed Michael D. Hennessy, of Wellsville, to replace Scott Spillane as Director of the Veterans' Service Agency. This appointment was supported by most of the veteran organizations in the County. The Board voted unanimously to confirm that appointment. I look forward to working with Mike over the coming months and years.

On Tuesday evening, January 25th, we held a special Committee of the Whole meeting at the Crossroads Center in Belvidere. This "brainstorming" session was designed to address special concerns, rather than routine business matters. Most of the meeting focused on economic development issues, and governmental efficiency issues.

The Board authorized the County Planner and Economic Devel opment Director to hold some meetings with local leaders from towns and villages across the County. The purpose is to determine if there are ways we can work together to be more efficient. We know there are grant funds available for creative and innovative programs achieving consolidation and efficiency. I am excited about some of the ways we can cooperate to reduce expenses. Hopefully we can obtain some grants to assist on some cooperative programs.

Over the next several weeks Governor Cuomo will release his proposed State Budget, and proposals for reforming Medicaid and education. Those two programs represent over 75% of the entire State budget. We will find out whether we will see change, or more of the same old politics. Stay tuned.

Alfred State students to stage 'Bang, Bang, You're Dead'

ALFRED—Students at Alfred State College will stage the oneact play Bang, Bang, You're Dead, Thursday and Friday, Feb. 17-18, at 7 p.m. and Saturday, Feb. 19, at 2 p.m. in the Orvis Auditorium on the Alfred cam-

Bang, Bang, You're Dead, written by William Mastrosimone, is strongly based on the events surrounding Kip Kinkel's shootings of his parents on May 20, 1998, and 27 of his classmates at Thurston High School in Springfield, OR, on May 21,

Mastrosimone intended Bang, Bang, You're Dead to be easily accessed and performed by teens "in any modest playing area," and therefore production requires "no set, no lights, no costumes (except for contemporary

Its purpose is to raise awareness of the beginnings of school violence, which, as Mastrosimone writes in his notes on the play, are not always easily seen. Mastrosimone hopes that the play will help people tragedy before it happens."

Bang, Bang, You're Dead is performed, as the playwright intended, by students for students, because ultimately the end of student-to-student harassment, bullying, and violence lies in the hands of students.

The play brings light to the ever-present issues of harassment, bullying, and general violence in schools. The play shows the main character, Josh, haunted by his peers who died by his hand during a school shooting.

The deceased force him to explore his past and future and give him a new perspective on the true impact of his actions. They show the trail that ended in his violent choice--the way his peers alienated and tormented him, being misunderstood by his parents, and the fond memories of his grandfather who taught him to hunt.

Alfred State Drama Club Adviser Janna Buckwalter hopes this show will "spread the word of the many adverse effects of peer harassment and violence and help end any such behavior in our community."

The cast and crew will be available after every performance to discuss any questions that come up from the show.

With their energetic blend of Hillbilly, Rockabilly, and Honky-Tonk, the Skiffle Minstrels have become Western New York dancers' favorites and winners of four consecutive Awards.

At every show, the band tears through classics by Hank Williams Sr., Johnny Cash, Buck Owens, Bill Monroe, Louis Jordan, and more - but don't be surprised if you also hear a Zydeco number, or even a little Kurt Weil. The Skiffles, who often adopt on-stage personas like "Skeet Willie" and "Pinky Rez," are also known for their crowdpleasing banter and audience interaction-what the Buffalo News calls "heckle-licious."

"The Skiffle Minstrels play classic songs of classic songwriters, country blues, swing and honky-tonk, and originals the same sets as Hank Williams. It's listening music, it's dancing music played with energy and joy."

-Scott Regan, WRUR Radio, Rochester, NY

"It is a wonderful treat to witness a group with such range, talent and joy, that can float across many genres, and more importantly appeal to all ages. They are helping to keep alive vital musical traditions and introduce new generations to wonderful, infectious music. Their mix of original tunes, time-honored classics, and fresh interpretations of standards make for a blast of a night!"

analysis of economic governance, especially the commons." The event was organized in collaboration with Sorrento Lingue, ASC's host Institute in Sorrento, Italy. ASC students were impressed by Sorrento Lingue teacher, English Marco Spiezia's, outstanding job in translating Professor Ostrom's responses for the Italian audience members.

At the end of the formal interview, ASC Associate Professor of Business, Dianne Tuzzolino, was invited to ask a question. Tuzzolino first explained that she was in Sorrento, Italy, with her colleague, Professor Jeffrey Johnston and 18 Alfred State College students. She further explained that the students are studying abroad this semester in Sorrento, Italy, with our partner, Sorrento Lingue. Her question for Ostrom was, "What do you believe should be the role of undergraduate colleges in preparing our students for the sustainability challenges they will face?"

In her response, Ostrom stated she believes this is an important topic and noted that she supports implementing sustainability education across the disciplines. She stated we should not wait until students attend college but begin this education at the high school level. This experience gave ASC students an opportunity not only to engage in global dialogue, but also to speak with a Nobel Prize winner.

JANUARY 2011 ANNIVERSARIES

Okay, I suppose I am a news junkie. It's all relative. I have friends who also do one or more of the following: listen to National Public Radio, read Time magazine, subscribe to newspapers, watch news programs on TV, open eye-catching items on the Internet, or mine other sources.

Trying to keep up with the innumerable subjects which interest me consumes so much time that many pressing items never do get ironed. I just wear wrinkled clothing and ignore fads and fashions.

This past January I became obsessed with one particular type of activities being reported. They did not deal with the latest news, but with anniversaries of events on a January date in the past. In an attempt to fence in my interest, I concentrated on the ones noting a happening which took place in a year ending with a numeral 6 or 1. However, a few escaped that barrier.

For instance, it was only one year ago, January 12, 2010, that Haiti was devastated by a 7.0 magnitude earthquake. It may have killed as many as 220,000 people. That occurrence will remain in the memories of many of us for a long time, although not necessarily its exact date.

A press release from London, England, on Thursday, January 13, 2011, mentioned ceremonial functions which will take place in Southwark Cathedral throughout this year. At Choral Evensong on Sundays all readings will be from the King James Bible in celebration of the 400th anniversary of its publication. Lancelot Andrewes, a leading member of the committee who oversaw the translation, is buried in Southwark Cathedral. Other observations are planned throughout England.

This year on January 15, seventeen year old Miss Nebraska 2010 Teresa Scanlan was crowned Miss America 2011 in Las Vegas, Nevada. Noticing a headline on the Internet, I opened the article about it and learned two things. This year's contest marked the 90th anniversary of the Miss America Pageant, and Miss Scanlan is the youngest winner in more than 70 years.

Two other anniversaries were noted on January 15. Wikipedia celebrated its 10th birthday. The encyclopedic website begged for presents as eagerly as any human child that age might do. I have not given it one yet. However, I did dig into its information to see if there has been a famous English translation of the Koran. Interesting article.

On January 15 two years ago, the practically unimaginable occurred when US Airways flight 1549 was deliberately crash-landed into the Hudson River. As hoped, this memorable endeavor involved no fatalities. It instantly made Pilot Chesley B. "Sully" Sullenberger into a continuing and gracious celebrity.

The aforementioned Wikipedia tells us that the Persian Gulf War lasted from August 2, 1990 - February 28, 1991. "The initial conflict to expel Iraqi troops from Kuwait began with an aerial bombardment on 17 January 1991." Some news sources recently described that latter date as the "20th Anniversary of the Persian Gulf War."

Two United States Presidents' inaugural addresses have been making anniversary news this January. It was on January 20, 1961, that John F. Kennedy urged, "Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country."

Twenty years to the day later Ronald Reagan opined, "In this present crisis, government is not the solution to our problems; government is the problem." Concurrent with these remarks 52 U.S. hostages held by Iran for 444 days were set free. Reagan is back in the news right now, not for that day, but for the 100th anniversary of his birth on February 6, 1911.

Keeping up with all of these anniversaries has been wearing on me. I have made a promise to myself that I shall not collect a list of anniversaries occurring in February, regardless of the final number in their date. Also, I shall postpone reading the biography of Reagan by his son, at least until March.

Instead, I am letting composer Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart come to my rescue. By being born on January 27, 1756, at the "age" of 255 he is making January 2011 end on a bright note for me. I own both cassette tapes and 33 1/3 rpm records containing works by him. Right now in the background I can hear Tamas Vasary, soloist and conductor, and the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra performing Concertos for Piano and Orchestra, No. 26 in D major, K. 537 "Coronation," and No. 14 in E flat major, K. 449.

The author, Martha "Matt" Mueller, an Alfred village resident and retired librarian, in addition to being a "news junkie," is a featured columnist of The Alfred Sun. Her column appears bi-weekly.

Bergren Forum looks at local manufacturing

ALFRED— Ezra Shales, assistant professor of art history at Alfred University, will present "Investigations into Local Manufacturing" on Thursday, Feb. 3, during AU's Bergren Forum, 12:10 p.m. in Powell Campus Center's Nevins Theatre.

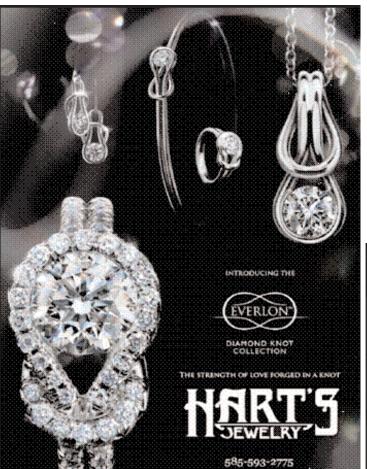

Students Shawn Baker and

Elena Zachary will accompany Shales. This event is free of charge and open to the public.

The forum will focus on what Shales and his students found when visiting large-scale facilities producing ceramics, glass, wood, and metal.

Shales earned a Ph.D. in decorative arts, design and culture from the Bard Graduate Center. He previously attended Hunter College and Wesleyan University where he received master of fine arts and bachelor of arts degrees, respectively.

Baker is a senior art and design major with a concentration in painting. He studied in the Art and Industry class, taught by Shales in fall 2010.

Zachary is a senior art and design major with a concentration in ceramics. She is on the Western equestrian team and president of the Alfred Clay Collective.

The Bergren Forum, sponsored by the Alfred University Division of Human Studies, meets Thursdays during each academic semester at the University. Participants are encouraged to bring a lunch; coffee and tea will be available.

Garcia Grass is a musical odyssey celebrating Jerry Garcia's acoustic musical footprints and country roads he often walked. Verbose in the language of bluegrass, the members of Garcia Grass perform many of the bluegrass gems made famous by Jerry's bluegrass sideproject from the Grateful Dead, Old & In the Way, and also take the opportunity to step out and beyond, flesh out other musics from the oeuvre and add their own improvisational voice to the spaces between.

The band is comprised of five Pennsylvania musicians highly visible on that scene yet well traveled on the road: guitarist Mike 'Miz' Mizwinski (MiZ, Jam Stampede, Gongzilla), mandolinist Kris Kehr (MiZ, formerly of Stone Poets & Recipe), fiddler Anthony Hannigan (Hickory Project), banjoist Patrick 'Pappy' Biondo (Cabinet) and bassist Dylan Skursky (Cabinet).

These members have, at one time or another in their careers, performed on stage with: Bill Monroe, Bela Fleck, Tony Trishka, Mac Wiseman, Doc Watson, Peter Rowan, Tony Rice, Dan Tyminksi, Vassar Clements, Mike Gordon, Tom Constanten. Vince Welnick, Merle Saunders, Gordon Stone, Melvin Seals, Steve Kimock, Don Preston, Marc Ford and Keller Williams.

Playing with these giants of Americana, interacting musically with these inspirations and developmental heroes, have jointly established Garcia Grass with a pedigree of American Music that leaves them all well versed in the language and about 1 degree from everybody that influences them and matters to their audience. The attitude is part 'getting it right' and part 'running with it' and all part of the giant cycle of folk music that is reborn with every generation, being told through a new set of eyes and ears, finding new perspective on an age-old vista, and a gorgeous one at that.

It is in this spirit that Garcia Grass lives and thrives, mining the original Old & In the Way catalog and spicing it with poignant yet combustive im-provisational segues between original takes on songs familiar to the scene and of the genre. Jones Memorial Hospita Years of Caring,

Fidelis Care comes to Allegany County

ALBANY--Fidelis Care, The New York State Catholic Health Plan, serving more than 675,000 members in 58 counties across the State, recently received approval from the State Comptroller's Office to serve Allegany County residents through the Child Health Plus, Family Health Plus and Medicaid Managed Care programs.

"Fidelis Care looks forward to serving residents of Allegany County," said President and CEO Mark L. Lane.

"Working with Bishop Kmiec and the Diocese of Buffalo, it is our goal to make a difference in people's lives and to provide them with convenient access to the quality care and services they need and deserve. We want local residents to know that Fidelis Care is here to stay, that we care about the lives of local children and families, and that we will work tirelessly to be an invaluable community health care partner"

The need in Allegany County is considerable: 2008 figures indicate that more than 6,000 of the county's 48,000-plus residents are uninsured, including more than 1,200 children and teenagers. In neighboring Steuben, Livingston, Wyoming, and Cattaraugus counties, Fidelis Care is already operational.

"The diocese is pleased to welcome Fidelis Care, The New York State Catholic Health Plan, to Allegany County," said Bishop Edward U. Kmiec, Bishop of Buffalo. "With a strong sense of social justice, our diocese has a long tradition of caring for the poor, and we have a special concern for outreach to children, adults, and families in need. Access to quality health care is a fundamental human right, and we look forward to working with Fidelis Care to meet the unique needs of Allegany County residents.'

Local providers such as Jones Memorial Hospital, Allegany Eye Associates, Heide Crandall, M.D., and Mohamad-Zahi Kassas, M.D., in addition to key primary care physicians and specialists participate with Fidelis Care.

To reach local residents who need health insurance, Fidelis Care will work closely with its growing provider network and a variety of local community agencies and leaders. Through local events, health fairs, open houses -- even visiting residents at their homes to help them apply -- Fidelis Care representatives make it as easy as possible for people to apply for enrollment.

Fidelis Care is founded on the belief that all New Yorkers should have access to affordable, quality health insurance. Through the Child Health Plus, Family Health Plus, and Medicaid Managed Care programs, Fidelis Care members are covered for regular checkups, preventive care, hospital and emergency care, eye exams, dental care, and more. Fidelis Care also offers disease management programs to help treat and control chronic conditions such as asthma and diabetes and innovative programs to help new mothers and their babies get off to a healthy start in life.

Fidelis Care members have access to a provider network of more than 43,000 healthcare professionals statewide. Regional offices are located in Amherst, Syracuse, Albany, and Rego Park (Queens).

Individuals seeking affordable health insurance coverage should contact Fidelis Care toll-free at 1-888-FIDELIS (1-888-343-3547).

The Alfred Village Board's efforts to bring the dog population under closer control has met with stiff opposition from a group of Alfred residents and several residing outside the village limits. The board has before the public a proposed ordinance that would limit the number of dogs over six months to two per residence and provide for confining of dogs ajudged to be a nuisance, to the house and grounds of the owner. A number of dog owners headed by Miss Hazel Humphreys, a book store operator who cares for seven dogs herself, have joined forces to oppose the proposed ordinance which will be aired at a public hearing before the village board Monday, Feb. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the village fire-

President M. Ellis Drake of Alfred University has disclosed plans for the construction of four new buildings on the campus here in the "immediate future." "Alfred University 10 years from now will be a very different kind of institution...there will be many changes in our curricula and in our campus facilities," President Drake told Southern Tier leaders attending the 10th annual Businessmen's Seminar last Wednesday night. 'Plans are underway for the construction of two new dormitories which will house about 180 men and the construction of a new dining hall which will accommodate 700." He said. "We also have plans which are getting underway for the construction of a new classroom-laboratory building which will probably cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $800,000."

Alfred joins the nation in mourning the deaths of seven persons in the tragic explosion of space shuttle Challenger just over a minute after liftoff Tuesday at Cape Canaveral. When he heard the news, Jim Royston, who has personally viewed six space shuttle launches, said he "felt sick to his stomach." Royston, a junior in Alfred University's new electrical engineering program, studied aerospace engineering at Florida Atlantic University before transferring to AU. He was in class when the tragedy occurred. "I got in from class and the phone was ringing. Someone told me that Challenger had exploded, but I didn't believe it," he said. "I turned on the TV, and Peter Jennings came on. Sure enough, it had happened," said Royston. He is a participant in NASA's co-op training program and expects to be at Cape Canaveral this summer. Ultimately, he'd like to work in the area of engineering for NASA. Royston, son of Mrs. June Hitchcock of Alfred, viewed two launches and two landings of Challenger from the VIP viewing stands. Christened 'a lady' by the second moving crew, "she" has endured with the name The Box of Books for more than 75 years. And, perhaps prophetically, from Hazel Humphreys' ad run for the class of 1968: "Welcome to an Alfred Institution. Its Building-A Colorful Career for More than a Century. Moved twice. Burned once. No 'pie-in-the-sky' promises of getting and having everything. BUT WE TRY. So-if you want a book—ANY BOOK, ASK US ABOUT IT.".. The Box of Books was erected in 1856 (or before). While it sat on Alfred's Main Street (where Hair Care is now), it was a saddle, harness and trunk shop, adding in 1863, a small business – jewelry and watch repair. Before the turn of the century, it was also to become a law office and then an insurance office. In 1912, the building was moved to the northern side of West University Street, not far around the corner from Main Street. It became a fix-it shop...

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, February 3

On this day in 1924, President Woodrow Wilson died in his sleep. An intensely idealistic Presbyterian elder from Staunton, Virginia, when asked the importance of the Bible, he responded:

"The Bible...is the one supreme source of revelation of the meaning of life, the nature of God and spiritual nature and need of men. It is the only guid of life which really leads the spirit in the way of peace and salvation."

Baker's Bridge gets 100th member!

ALFRED STATION--Baker's Bridge Historical Association would like to congratulate Kay Chapman of Alfred Station for becoming our 100th member! When many of us started our endeavor of a Historical Association in 1976 we never dreamed we would actually realize a membership of 100 members.

The Association was formed by citizens who recognized the importance of preserving local history for the future. It has been an active organization discovering, preserving and disseminating information about history of the Alfred Station area since 1976. Its name is derived from the settlement's first name, Baker's Bridge, that reflected the early development of transportation when Alpheus and Thaddeus Baker constructed a bridge across the Kanakadea Creek in 1807 to allow them to travel from the town of Alfred to reach their destination of Andover.

The Association monthly interesting local history programs from September through April in their Meeting House at 5971 Hamilton Hill Road in Alfred Station. The Meeting House was built in 1831 by the early Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist church and has been lovingly restored and maintained by the Historical Association.

The programs begin at 7:30 pm and are followed by a social time with refreshments. All meetings are free and open to anyone interested in the evening's topic.

In addition to offering programs as a way to educate the public about our area's history and its people, the Association also collects and preserves artifacts, documents and photographs. Some items are on display in the Meeting House main room while others are housed upstairs in the Pat Hale Memorial Collections Room.

The newest project the Association is undertaking is remodeling our small office and make it more efficient in with donations in memory of charter member Evelyn M. Thomas.

More information about the Association can be found at www.bakersbridge.org or by contacting Laurie McFadden, president, at 607-587-9493 or mcfadden@alfred.edu.

At Fillmore Jan. 25, Matt Dean led all scorers with 26 points, while teammate Ryan Chamberlain added 15. The Green Wave, which also defeated Arkport last week, 81-48, is a force in the Section V D1 bracket, currently seeded #3 with a 14-1 record. spectively.

At Addison Friday night, Jan. 28, the Knights, who are unbeaten in Steuben League play, took a 20-point win over A-A, 63-43. The Eagles were led by Matt Lehman with 14 points, while Seth Cornell added 11.

The Eagles rebounded for a 42-26 win over Canaseraga Monday night in the friendlier surroundings at A-A. Cornell with 10, Jake Kenney with 9 and Chris Cook with 8 points led the A-A attack.

HITS AND MISSES:

It'll be the most important week of the season for the Alfred University basketball teams, men (7-10) and women (8-9), as three Empire Eight contests are on tap and all at the friendly confines of the McLane Center in Alfred. The Saxons hosted SJ Fisher this past Tuesday and have weekend tilts versus Stevens and Hartwick. The games are key outings if either wants to make a run at the conference standings as the top four qualify for the post season E8 tournament and for an above .500 slate. A good portion of AU's remaining slate has home cooking.

Took in the Alfred at Nazareth women's hoop game in Rochester last Tuesday evening as the Saxons fell to the Golden Flyers. After a tough first half Lyndsay Murphy finished up with 21points and her former Hornell High teammate, Lauren Sanford chipped in with 13-points. Spotted Ashley Cornett on the 'Naz bench as an assistant coach. Remember watching her play in a Corning Gus Macker tourney years ago as she went to school at nearby Campbell-Savona. Her brother, Will plays for Coach Kornaker (AU) at SJ Fisher. Murphy (Almond) had 15-points in a win over RIT at AU last weekend.

The Paul Smith College Bobcats men's basketball program nipped Coach Todd Montana's Green Mountain College team over the weekend, 69-66 as Patrick Wightman (Prattsburgh) tallied 6points in the win. GMC remains winless on the season at 0-11 while PS College improved to (5-13).

The St. Bonaventure men's cage team continues to stay above the .500 mark as they beat Fordham last week in A-10+ action, 69-60. Bonas is now 11-9 on the year and 3-4 in league play.

Marquette handed Syracuse its fourth straight loss over the weekend, 76-70 in Big East action. Much to the chagrin of Geneseo women's soccer coach, Nate Wiley. The Orange were undefeated prior to the four defeats but in this rugged conference no one is going to escape with an unblemished mark. Brutal action!

Alfred State College Hall of Famer, and Waterloo HOF member, the legendary Tom Curle has his Plattsburgh men's basketball team zipping along at (12-5) as they visit Brockport and Geneseo this weekend in SUNYAC play. Curle was (170-91) at ASC and was named NJCAA Region III Coach of the Year four times in his stint at the Orvis Activity Center.

Coach Tom Spanbauer's (ex-AU) young men's basketball team at SUNY Cortland continues to struggle as they dropped a tough, 70-68 contest to the Buffalo State Bengals last week. The Red Dragons are now 6-12 on the year.

An eight-game losing streak was halted at Union College as the Dutchmen topped Vassar to even their mark at (9-9). Coach Bob Montana's crew has seven regular season games left on the schedule, five at home.

SJ Fisher is rounding into top form as Coach Rob Kornaker's Cardinals were at the McLane Cener Tuesday past with an overall slate of 11-7 entering the game but a nifty (7-2) in E8 play. Fisher beat Elmira in their last outing.

The John Baker family took in an Ivy League basketball game this past Saturday at UPenn, where son Stephen is a soccer player for the Quakers. Will have a full report on this next week as Bakes (once more) has failed to fill me in on the details of the trip.

BYU hotshot basketball player, Jimmer Fredette is from Glens Falls ... site of the state basketball tournament for boys.

The Rochester Knighthawks were blasted by Boston, 16-7 in NLL play at the BCA-War Memorial over the weekend to dip to 2-2 on the season. Hoping to take in a K-Hawks game this year with "comp" tix from Jeff E. Calkins.

Marta is going to play for the Flash this summer in the pro women' soccer league! Not sure how the Buffalo-based team is pulling that one off but should be quite exciting to watch her play against Abby Wambach and her Washington team sometime this

A-A Steuben County champs

CAMPBELL-Coach Gerry Flaitz and his merry band of swimmers dominated at the Steuben County Swimming Championship meet on Friday Jan. 28, holding onto their undefeated status in the process.

The Alfred Almond Eagles took first place in all but two events distancing themselves out in front of the teams from Canisteo-Greenwood, Cuba-Rushford, Campbell-Savona, and Addison to bring home the first place trophy. First place medals were commanded by the 200 Medley Relay team of Nik von Stackelberg (back), Patrick Greaney (breast), Kevin Cook (fly) and Taylor Godshalk (free), Nik in the 200 free, Patrick in the 200 IM, Kevin in the 100 fly, Nik in the 500 free (at the same time lowering his C-S pool record set last week with a time of 5:01.98), 200 free relay of Patrick, Maddie McConnell, Taylor and Nik, Maddie in the 100 back, Patrick in the 100 breast and the team of Kevin, Logan Peck, Zach Woughter and Maddie in the 400 free relay. In addition Maddie's second place finish in the 200 IM (2:20.93) lowered the pool standard she set last week on the C-S girls' side of the record board.

Another special recognition revealed during the meet included the result of the Steuben County coaches vote on who they deemed worthy of the title - Most Valuable Swimmer of the Year and Alfred-Almond's own Patrick and Maddie were chosen for the male and female divisions respectively.

In addition, the All Star Teams were announced with Alfred-Almond swimmers making up the majority of first team nominations. (please see attached)

Next the team will be on deck participating in the Section V Class D meet preliminaries at 5 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 10 and finals at 11 a.m. Saturday Feb. 12 at the Bath-Haverling pool. Our AA swimming Eagles will be looking to rewrite history as they work to bring home an unprecedented 5th consecutive Sectional these fine young men and championship! Come to the pool to watch the excitement and see women in action!

Most Valuable Swimmers of the year are Alfred-Almond's Maddie McConnell (female) and Patrick Greaney (male).

summer. Hoping my Alfred Sun press pass will work for that game! The "Traveling Sports Fan" from Almond, Robert H. Torrey is probably well on his way to SB45 in Texas after taking in the NJ Jets-Steelers AFC title game a week ago Sunday in Pittsburgh.

With labor unrest looming in the NFL, it might be wise for the Jets to have anybody talk on their team other than the "genius" known as Antonio Cromartie. Yikes!

Spotted a few NYS vanity plates here and there: NFL RAMS, IBILLEVE ... a Buffalo/Toronto NFL fan?, USA1NY, BEE 22 ... Aunt Bee and via text from Pat Atwell in Missouri ... DRT NAP on on a "retired" hearse.

Ryan Ciminelli of Cheektowaga ... hometown of "The Shifty One" (SUNY Geneseo), won the Earl Anthony Memorial on the PBA Tour.

Settled in Sunday to watch some "great" sports on the tube as Duke basketball was up first ... not so great, the Celtics thumped the Lakers (yes!), was hoping to see Tiger Woods contend on the PGA Tour at Torrey Pines but that wasn't to be, Fred Couples didn't win at a Skins Game ... what is going on here?, and the NFL Pro Bowl was set for the conclusion of the day. Just kidding on that last one.

Is the Tiger Woods Era of PGA dominance over?

Ray Guy ... punter ... Oakland Raiders ... Hall of Fame. He was (and still is) the best ever!

Pretty busy week at hand. 3L home Monday nite for quick stay, over to Baker's house (Penfield) Tuesday for dinner, down to Geneseo Friday to see Potsdam-Knights women's hoop game and then a double dipper of Division III basketball games in Alfred Saturday. Headed to AU with noted area photogapher, Leo Nealon.

Super Bowl prediction (brought to you by Domino's Pizza of Brockport) ... Green Bay-24, Pittsburgh-21, OT.

Gervin ... hang in there!
