

November Art Walk features "Crumb Shot"

11/04/19

Alfred University's November Art Walk, sponsored by the School of Art and Design, will include Crumb Shot, "an exploration of the over-packed space of our minds," presented in the courtyard pedestal area of Harder Hall.

Crumb Shot and other Art Walk exhibitions will be open to the public from 6 to 9 pm Thursday, Nov. 21 in galleries on the Alfred University campus in addition to private galleries in the Town of Alfred and Wellsville. In addition to Crumb Shot, exhibits will include the current Materiality: Masterworks from The Miller Ceramic Art Collection, at the Alfred Ceramic Art Museum; Val Cushing in the Scholes Project Space, in Scholes Library; and Measured Space: Brian Caponi, Thomas Schmidt and Shawn Murrey, at the Fosdick-Nelson Gallery.

Crumb Shot, say organizers, is "an exploration of the over-packed space of our minds, and of the studio landscape, both packed full to the brim." Located in the Graffiti Wall of the Harder Hall courtyard, the exhibit will feature "tightly grouped pedestals ... populated by found objects, fragments, broken or unrealized pieces, and ideas still germinating, all sourced from the nooks and crannies of Harder Hall....Each object will be positioned to be viewed as both finished thoughts and fragments of ideas, without the pressure to cement itself as anything more or less."

Additional Art Walk exhibit venues will include:
