Updated Instructions for Support Staff Web Time Entry

After reviewing the initial practices set up during implementation of Web Time Entry, it has been decided that it would be best to make a slight change in the use of the EXCUSED code. If you are out of the office to attend an approved conference or seminar, this should now be recorded as time WORKED, not EXCUSED time. The EXCUSED code should be used only for time out of the office that is not related to your job; medical/legal appointments, jury duty, bereavement, 1/2 day religious observance, or emergency closing.

Also, over the last year, with new updates to our BannerWeb, additional functionality has also become available that you may not have been aware of. The current instructions include references to these and may make this process more user friendly to you.

Please find the updated Instructions at the following HR link.

WILD About Winter

Come celebrate winter with us!

Enjoy what winter has to offer with cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, snow sculpting, and s'mores all at the beginner-friendly recreational trails around the Equestrian Center and Foster Lake, Sunday, Feb. 17, 1-4 p.m.

The Forest People will be lending equipment to anyone who does not own snowshoes or skis. Shuttle vans will run from Powell Campus Center to the Equestrian Center.

No registration required and this event is FREE!

Need more adventure? Join Mark McFadden for "Horse to Home," a rugged five-mile hike on varying and intense terrain from the Equestrian Center back to campus.

This is your Alfred. Explore it.

AU Faculty Research Mentor Award

Provost Bill Hall is pleased to announce the establishment of the Alfred University Faculty Research Mentor Award.

The University intends to acknowledge and reward faculty who are outstanding undergraduate research and scholarly activity mentors across the campus, i.e., those individuals who are outstanding mentors to students engaged in research or scholarly activity and are actively engaged in being research/visual-performing artists themselves.

One award each year in the following categories: physical and life sciences, undergraduate engineering, social sciences, humanities, visual and performing arts, and professional studies.

The award in the amount of $500 of faculty development money will be presented at the Honors Convocation on April 26, 2013. The nomination period for this award is Feb. 1 through Feb. 22, 2013; nominations are to be sent to the Awards Committee at argus@alfred.edu.

The attached document explains in detail the process and selection of the award.

Shannon Stratton: threewalls Chicago

Shannon Stratton: Founder and executive director of threewalls Chicago

Date: Wednesday, Feb. 20

Time: 9 - 11 A.M.

Location: Nevins Theater

Cost to Attend: Free
Sponsored By: Sculpture/Dimensional Studies

Shannon Stratton is a founder and current Executive and Creative Director of threewalls Chicago, a not-for-profit residency and exhibition space. Founded in 2003, threewalls has grown from a start-up exhibition space to a vital visual arts organization that supports contemporary visual arts in Chicago through solo exhibitions for regional artists, residencies, grants to artists, publications, conferences and commissioning programs.

Stratton's background is both in studio practice and art history, theory and criticism with a focus in craft practice and artist-run administration. Her writing on contemporary craft, fiber art and exhibitions has been published by Berg Publishing and Ronsdale Press as well as university galleries, art centers, commercial galleries and magazines throughout the US and Canada.

With Green Lantern Press she founded and published (via threewalls) PHONEBOOK, a guide to contemporary independent and artist-run projects, now in its third volume, and The Artists Run Chicago Digest, a companion, appraisal and extension to the exhibition of the same name at The Hyde Park Center.

In the Fall of 2012 Shannon was in residence on the Critical Studies Fellowship at the Cranbrook Academy of Art.

Open Call For Collaborators

Open Call for Collaborators

Date: Wednesday, Feb. 20

Time: All Day (except 1:20-4:10)

Location: McGee 207

Cost to Attend: Free

Sponsored By: Institute for Electronic Arts and the Division of Expanded Media

Incoming IEA visiting artist Kristen Lucas is looking for participants to collaborate with. Specifically, Kristen is looking to make improvisational video "demonstrations" of performers interacting with various props (such as a vase, Frisbee, a tire).

The goal of this project is to defamiliarize, ambiguate, and exaggerate the language and function of gestures and objects, reaching a level of communication beyond readability.

Participants are also encouraged to bring props of their own. No need to make appointments, participation is drop in, drop out for as long as you'd like. No acting experience is necessary, and participants will be showered with compliments and complimentary snacks!

If you would like more information, please send an e-mail to Devin Henry at dh7@alfred.edu.

Examples of Lucas's work can be viewed at: <http://vimeo.com/user4550...>

Visiting Artist Jessica Eaton

Date: Thursday, Feb. 21

Time: 6 -7 P.M.

Location: Nevins Theater

Cost to Attend: Free

Sponsored By: Division of Drawing, Painting and Photography

Using an experimental, scientific approach to photography, Eaton takes the medium itself as her subject. She deftly constructs a world supported by the camera and conceals her own hand in the process.

In her series, "Cubes for Albers and Lewitt," Eaton employs color theory, painting, photography and optics. By controlling the color of light and using multiple exposures for additive color, she creates images that reference Josef Alber's "Homage to the Square" while furthering the dialog of contemporary photography.

Jessica Eaton (b. 1977) has exhibited nationally and internationally, including solo exhibitions at Higher Pictures in New York and Clint Roenisch in Toronto.

She will be included in the Armory Show's 100th Anniversary exhibition this March.

In 2012 she was the winner of the Hyeres International Festival of Fashion and Photography in France.

Her work has been featured in FOAM, Art

News, Wallpaper and Lay Flat. Eaton received a BFA from Emily Carr in 2006.

Family Program: CroZoo - The World of Amphibians and Reptiles

Saturday, Feb. 16 at 10:30 a.m.
Nancy Howe Auditorium
David A. Howe Public Library
155 N. Main St., Wellsville
585-593-3410

Explore the nature of reptiles and amphibians - where they live, what they do, and how they do it. Enjoy the "scaly and the slimy" as you learn about crocodilians, frogs, lizards, salamanders, snakes, tortoises, and turtles. Several animals will be brought to the program for you to see (and maybe even handle, if you dare!). Check out CroZoo at www.crozoo.com.

This library-sponsored program is free and open to the general public.
