STUDENT BOX HOLDER

ACF Sets $300 Goal for Dec. Student Service Fund Campaign

Of the $100,000 set as the goal for the amount to be raised by the World Student Service Fund, $300 will be raised on the Alfred campus.

The drive is being sponsored by the Alfred Christian Fellowship, with a committee headed by Ralph Rhodes, Jr., in charge. Their campaign will be concentrated in the first week of December.

The World Student Service Fund is sponsored by the International Student Service and by the National Intercollegiate Christian Council. The Fund is used to aid student victims of war in Asia and Europe, and student refugees in the United States.

The work of the W.S.S.F. in providing aid to students and professors who are victims of war does not duplicate the work of any other relief agency. It provides relief plus education, reconciliation and reconstruction. Only the support of American students enables its work to go on.

Last year students on the Alfred campus raised over $200, and because of the response, has set this year's goal at $300.

Frosh Victory Nets Discarding of Green Caps for Men

Frosh men will no longer have to wear their frosh caps as a result of the 24-22 victory over the sophomores in a basketball game held Saturday.

The Frosh took to an early lead in the game but the Sophs caught up with them tying the game at 20 all. Fenton and Cooper scored for the Frosh in the overtime to bring the victory into Frosh hands. High scorer in the Frosh camp was Leinhos with a total of six points. Johnson led the sophs with 14 points.

Whether or not frosh girls will have to wear Frosh caps until Christmas will be determined when the greenies meet the sophs in a basketball game of their own.

Traveler to Visit University Campus

Miss Katherine Smith, Ohio-Wesleyan '40, will be a visitor on the campus, November 27, 28 and 29.

Miss Smith taught last year in Nagasaki, Japan, and will tell of her experiences to various groups around the campus. She will conduct chapel, Friday, November 28, and be a special guest at the Refugee Tea of the Women's Guild of the University Church that afternoon.

Miss Smith comes to the campus as a representative of the Student Volunteer Movement and is eager to contact those individuals who are interested in post-war reconstruction in foreign lands under Christian auspices.

Local Merchants Donate Prizes for Costumes

Prizes awarded for the best costumes at the A. C. F. dance, Tuesday night, were donated by Mrs. Lloyd Watson, Mr. Henry Pieters, A. A. Shaw & Son, Jaccox Grocery, Market Basket, R. A. Armstrong, R. E. Ellis, The Collegiate, Corner Grocery, Miss Bertha Coats.

A cup was awarded to the campus group presenting the best original skit.

Lois Creighton '43 and Huber Watson '41 were co-chairmen of the dance. Norman Emdin '42 was in charge of the lighting.

Ohio State Professor To Address ACS Meet

Prof. R. M. King, Professor of Ceramics at Ohio State University, will speak on the topic "Enamel Wares" at the next meeting of the Alfred Student Branch of the American Ceramic Society to be held in the Ceramic Lounge on Nov. 25th. All members are encouraged to attend.

PLAY DEPICTS NORTH CAROLINA SATURDAY NIGHT

Dean Whittford Aids In Deferment of Students from Draft

Dean A. E. Whittford, of the Liberal Arts College, has been instrumental in the deferment of students from Selective Service.

In view of the fact that this is a time of total defense, civilians as well as soldiers should be trained. To do this, college students majoring in subjects important to national defense, should be deferred.

Subjects included under this plan are: sciences, mathematics, and economics. Students in these fields are potentially "necessary" men.

Since June, 1941, 23 letters have been prepared for local draft boards asking for the deferment of college students to continue work for their degrees. Fourteen people have been granted deferment to continue their work in the college; two have been deferred for graduate work in other institutions; three, unable to be deferred are in college, not having been called for induction; and four who were not deferred, are not in college this year.

A deferment of six months can be granted on the basis of the promising work done by the students in important fields and also deferment has been given to some because of being physically unfit.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The March of Time and two selected short subjects will be featured at the Liberal Arts and Ag-Tech Assemblies on November 27, at 9 and 11 o'clock, respectively.

Fiat Lux Helps Conduct Poll

The nation's defense program, the emphasis the war is placing on scientific advancement seem to have had little effect on what students believe college education should offer.

The Fiat Lux and other college newspapers are conducting a national poll of Student Opinion Surveys which during the last two years has revealed that there has been only a very slight increase in the number of collegians who believe higher education should stress technical and professional training.

"Do you believe college education should be mainly technical and professional training, or should it emphasize a wide cultural background?"

Here are the results, compared with those compiled by Student Opinion Surveys in November, 1939, on the identical question:

	1939	1941
Technical and professional	17%	19%
Cultural background	46%	42%
Both	37%	39%

W.P.A. Completes Project

The concrete drive in the immediate rear of the Ag-Tech completes the WPA project which has been carried on throughout the summer.

Benches have been put in the work shop and also in the greenhouse. The long-awaited Ag-Tech sports field was graded and levelled last week thus making it almost complete.

Rev. A. Wangman to Speak; A.C.F. to Act As Hosts to Group

The Allegany County Christian Youth groups will have a one day conference on the campus of Alfred University, Sunday, November 30.

They will attend the carillon recital by Prof. Ray Wingate and several discussion groups led by our local pastors. Supper will be served by the Ladies Aid of the Village Church in the Parish House and will be followed by a service of worship at which the Reverend Albert Wangman will be the speaker. Mr. Wangman is well known in this vicinity, having formerly been the pastor of the Presbyterian church at Cohocton.

The A. C. F. will act as campus hosts to this meeting which will take the place of their regular Sunday evening meeting.

Dean Drake Represents Alfred at County Meet

Dean M. E. Drake, who represented Alfred University and the Department of History and Political Science at the organization meeting of the Allegany County Historical Society held recently, was appointed a member of the committee on organization and preparation of by-laws.

The Society, which is now composed of over 50 members, representing 12 of the county's townships, was formally organized November 5. The next meeting will be December 10.

Klan Leads Greeks By Pledging 17 Men

Klan Alpine topped the other Greek houses by pledging 17 men following the five weeks' period of rushing. Of the forty-one men pledged, Lambda Chi Alpha took 12; Kappa Psi Upsilon, nine; and Delta Sigma Phi, three.

Adopted Child

John Clewly is the British child adopted by the Union University Church. The church is planning for his support by sending money for clothing, food, and education.

C.P.T. Ahead of Schedule---Harrison

Due to the exceptionally good weather, the flight training class in Civilian Pilot Training is far ahead of the usual schedule. "They should have that phase of their training completed before Christmas vacation," W. B. Harrison, coordinator, announces.

In regard to the proposed secondary course, Mr. Harrison states that he and Mr. Pryor, plan to attend a meeting of the National Aviation Training Association in New York this week and would at that time discuss authorization with the regional superintendent.

Students who complete the course are licensed to operate an airplane weighing not more than 2500 pounds. Present maximum weight is 1300 pounds. Probably ten students who have passed primary training would be allowed to take the course.

"They would also be very eligible for Army and Navy flight training programs which lead to commissions in the respective services," Mr. Harrison said.

Dec. 15 Is Time Set for Ag-Tech Appropriations

Petitions for Ag-Tech Student Senate appropriations must be in not later than Monday, December 15, according to an announcement made by this governing body at their weekly meeting Wednesday night.

Presidents of the various clubs may obtain blanks in the Ag-Tech Library. The petitions must include the officers, names of members, faculty advisors, purpose, and amount of appropriation desired.

They should be handed to Betty Sprague, chairman of the committee, on or before the third Monday in December.

The Senate committee on room assignments reported that relatively few organizations have made room reservations. The chairman recommended definite action be taken immediately, and urges that all organizations planning to meet, contact K. B. Floyd or Jerry Smith, chairman, to reserve a room for their meeting.

Barnard Suggests Use of Force in Opposing Nazis

"The first principle that demands recognition is that force is the only final arbiter in international affairs," writes Dr. Ellsworth Barnard in "The Road to Peace," an article carried in "Vital Issues," a magazine dedicated to American defense and post-war reorganization.

"In the end there will be only three alternatives: Germany must cooperate with the democracies, or she must destroy them or she herself must be destroyed," declared Dr. Barnard.

Discussing the role which the United States and Britain must play in world affairs, Dr. Barnard says, "But those who would mold events in a hard world must themselves be hard. . . . Let them indulge in no foolish shrinking from the use of force."

In "The Road to Peace," Dr. Barnard discusses relations with other specific countries but in each case, as in the case of Germany, he leaves the idea that the will to do on the part of the democracies is the mainspring of world peace; that the democracies must take the lead, even by force, and make a peaceful world.

Thanksgiving--For What?

"Thanksgiving?" you say with a questioning tone, and "why should we be thankful?"

Thankful, we men, that our plans, our hopes for the future can be forgotten so that we may carry a gun or fly a plane for Uncle Sam? Thankful, we women, that our dreams can vanish as we watch our brothers, our sweethearts, leave home and security for army camps, and after that, uncertainty? Thankful, we, the younger generation, that those who have preceded us have left us a heritage, a legacy of hatred and greed, a world where might makes right, and the Lord seems to have forgotten the people—the patient, courageous, ever-hopeful people?

Why you say—in the year 1941, should we be thankful?

But wait. Remember. Three hundred years ago the pilgrims celebrated the first Thanksgiving. They were thankful for food and shelter which meant life in the cold New England climate. They were thankful that they had arrived safely in a strange land, that they were free at last to think and speak as they chose.

Haven't we the same things to be thankful for today? We are physically comfortable, we need fear nothing from the winter to come. And we, too, can speak and think as we like.

True, we face many problems unknown to the simple settlers in Massachusetts. But don't we also possess increased resources and abilities? To their several hundred, we are a hundred and thirty million. One hundred and thirty million Americans trying as one to help the war-mad world as best we can. No, we aren't waving the Stars and Stripes in front of you and urging you to sing "God Bless America". You've had enough of that.

But before you scoff at the idea of Thanksgiving in times like these, consider. We are young, we have our lives before us. True, the immediate future seems desolate, but after that? After that, we may, God willing, have the chance to fulfill the hopes and dreams which now seem so remote.

Tomorrow, when we commemorate Thanksgiving, let us remember that we are young, that we are ambitious, that we are optimistic, and for this and for the light which must inevitably follow the darkness into which the world is cast today, let us be truly thankful.

World Student Service Fund

In early December the Alfred Christian Fellowship is to launch its annual drive for the World Student Service Fund. The goal set by the group for Alfred University this year is $300.

The purpose of the World Student Service Fund is "to help salvage the student leadership of this generation in the Far East and Europe, to help make possible the training of this leadership for national and international reconstruction now and after the war, to obey the moral imperative of the widest human fellowship, to help create good will among the students of the world, to lay the foundations of post-war cooperation between the nations of the world."

The drive, under the leadership of Ralph Rhodes, will be concentrated in the first week of December. Last year the drive netted over $200. The Fellowship now hopes to raise the amount to at least $300.

In the spirit of Thanksgiving and Christmas, American students should be thankful for all their opportunities and should think, too, of the many students throughout the world who have been deprived of the educational opportunities which they so blithely take for granted.

AUSTIN, TEXAS—(ACP)—Texas student declaimers aren't going to be losing any more contests because judges don't like the poems being recited.

The University of Texas Interscholastic League has compiled a list of 2,983 poems that may be used in junior declamation contests this year. Use of any other poem would disqualify the participant from the contest.

Two years have been devoted to preparation of the list, according to Frank L. Winship, director of speech contests, who believes it is the only complete list of poetry suitable for use in grade schools.

Annual Frosh-Sophs Satisfy All Moods Of Audience

Those who saw the Frosh-Soph plays last Wednesday found something to suit their every mood.

The Jamestown Extension production of "The Inn of Return" furnished excitement and suspense in the form of a murder solution on the first anniversary of a jewel robbery and brutal killing.

"Buffalaccia's Jest", directed by Joan Arnold was a rollicking medieval farce. The action of the play revolved around Master Painter Taffi, a miserly, hen-pecked artist who wanted, next to money and prestige, long life. Bernard Bloom's portrayal of this character was complete even to the nervous twitching of the hand. The brilliancy of the scenery and costumes added much to the appeal of the play.

Archibald MacLeish's radio play "Air Raid" was well adapted to the stage by Paul Pettit. Sound effects and lighting did much toward making it an unusual production. The laughter of the peasant woman, who failed to understand the nearness of peril, was exceptionally well done. Doris Coutant's interpretation of the old woman is worthy of praise. On the whole, the play created an understanding of the present war situation which is to most people still a thing of the future.

Paul Green's "Saturday Night" depicted an ordinary summer evening in the North Carolina hills. On this night men philosophized, youth fell in love, and life went on as it had done before and would in the future. The scenery and lighting lacked intensity but on the whole it created the feeling of quietness and peace.

Exchange Notes

Forensic societies of six colleges met at Niagara to discuss the following resolution: "Resolved, that the federal government should regulate by law all labor unions in the U. S.—constitutionality conceded." Niagara, St. Rose College, and the University of Buffalo will uphold the resolution. University of Rochester, Nazareth, and the Rochester Division of Niagara compose the negative team. This round table discussion is the third of its kind to be held in Niagara.

Beaver College has inaugurated a Faculty-Student conference to discuss problems pertaining to general college morale and to devise means for improving the cooperation of the faculty and student body.

Frosh rules seem bad here but in Dickinson they are worse. Freshman women are wearing black stockings because a few upperclass first names slipped their minds; and some of them couldn't remember the dynasty of professors who had occupied various class rooms throughout the life of the college.

Lehigh students receive "Valentines" in the middle of November. Why? They're little cards from the dean with mid-semester marks on. Catch?

Baby Boy Born to Prof. And Mrs. C. D. Smith III

Professor C. Duryea Smith III, head of the Department of Speech and Dramatic Production and Mrs. Smith, became the parents of a baby boy Tuesday, November 4th. The baby, Charles Duryea Smith IV, weighed just under four pounds at birth, and latest reports indicate that both mother and child are progressing in a most satisfactory manner. Mrs. Smith will return this week from Bethesda Hospital in Hornell.

IN THE SOCIAL SWIM

By Mary Walker

Pre-Thanksgiving festivities finished with a flourish as the ACF dance last evening brought stags into vogue, and informal dances made last week-end a merry one.

Imagination in selection of costumes and presentation of skits was well rewarded at the annual stag all-college costume ball held last evening from 8 to 12 o'clock in the college gymnasium under the auspices of the Alfred Christian Fellowship. "Cutting In" and mixer dances kept the spirit of the dance up to the usual pre-vacation level, while the Grand March determined costume prize winners. Music was by the Palmer sound system, and refreshments were on hand for those who wanted them.

Those serving as judges were: Skits—Dr. Samuel Scholes, Prof. Donald Schreckengost, Dean Dora K. Degen, Dean M. Ellis Drake, Mary Johnston '43, and Ralph Rhodes '42. Costumes—Miss Clara K. Nelson, Miss Marion Fosdick, Dr. Willis C. Russell, Prof. K. B. Floyd, Dr. Paul Saunders, Judy Clausen '42, and Arthur Crapsey '42.

Officiating as master of ceremonies was Chaplain William Genné. Co-chairmen of the dance were Lois Creighton '43, and Huber Watson '41.

A western rodeo complete with sawhorse broncos, "Wanted" posters, a hoosgow, and realistic cactus plants furnished the locale for the Brick fall informal dance Saturday from 8 to 12 o'clock. Music was by the Smith-Kleinman sound system, and refreshments were dixie cups and cookies.

Present among the faculty were Prof. and Mrs. H. O. Boraas, Miss Ruth Whitford, Mrs. Vida Tittsworth, and Prof. and Mrs. VanDerck Frechette.

Guests from the sororities included Sally Jane Morris '42, Sigma Chi; Barbara Hill '42, Theta Chi; and Mary Johnston '43, Pi Alpha.

Marguerite Carlson '42, and Elaine Whitford '43, were co-chairmen of the dance.

Theta Gamma turned South Hall into a casino Friday evening with a small bar, constructed by the pledges, being the center of attraction, over which was served doughnuts, cookies, cider and cokes. Faculty guests were Prof. and Mrs. T. A. Parish, Prof. and Mrs. Walter C. Hinkle, Prof. and Mrs. W. B. Harrison, Director and Mrs. Paul B. Orvis. Kappa Delta guests were Edwin Wilcox '42, and John Luttrell '42.

All roads led to the Pi Alpha Pi stadium, Saturday afternoon, where freshmen were entertained from 3 to 5 o'clock with a party in the theme of a football game. On hand to greet guests were the Pi Alpha band and mascot, Daisy the goat. The program included the playing of charades and other games, cheers, singing, and dancing, and wound up with refreshments of hamburgers, cocoa and lollipop. Kay Hardenbrook '42, Marilyn Burch pops.

Those on the committee included '42, Regina Wright '43, and Marjorie Russell '42. Muriel Strong '43, was chairman of the party.

Members of Kappa Delta who will be formally initiated into the fraternity Monday, November 17, are: Allen Burrows, Daryl Aylesworth, Edgar Lever, Norman Coons, Robert T. Williams, Maurice Zohns, Edward Hanley, Harold Carney, Richard Midgough, Fred Lane, and Robert Witter.

Kappa Delta held their pledge dance in the Ag-Tech library Friday evening from 8:00 to 12:00. Sundaes were served as refreshments. Faculty guests were Prof. and Mrs. Jaeger, Prof. and Mrs. Norman Newman, and Prof. and Mrs. Kenneth Floyd.

Formal dress was in order at the Theta Chi dance held Saturday evening from 8 to 12 o'clock at Social Hall. The mood for dancing was set by the music of Jimmy Lucie and his five-piece band and refreshments of apple pie a la mode and coffee were served.

Faculty guests were Dean and Mrs. M. Ellis Drake, Prof. and Mrs. John Whitcraft, Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers, and Miss Erma Hewitt.

Other guests included Elaine Richter '41; Margaret Aylor '43, Pi Alpha; and Alice Schryver '42, Sigma Chi.

Pi Alpha entertained at dinner Thursday evening for Mrs. Ramon Reynolds.

A welcome to Lambda Chi was given to the new pledges at their annual Thanksgiving dinner last evening. Attending were the honorary members and their wives, and the regular members.

Kappa Nu fraternity observed its 30th Founders' Day last Wednesday when all members wore chrysanthemums. The fraternity was started on November 12, 1911, at the University of Rochester.

Delta Sig entertained Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock with a tea to which the entire university was invited.

Peggy Smith '40, and Betty Baldrige Musgrave ex-'42, were entertained as guests at Sigma Chi last week-end.

Martin Dykeman '39, was the guest of Kappa Psi last week-end.

Walter Danner, District Deputy of New York City and National Fraternity deputy, was the guest of Delta Sig for the week-end.

Sigma Chi Nu entertained the faculty at a buffet supper last Friday. On the committee were Jane Sennate '42, Eugenie Reb '43, Rita Farnham '43, and Eleanor Chapin '44.

A coffee hour was held for the second time this year, Friday night from 10 until 11 o'clock at the Brick. Mrs. Dora K. Degen and Mrs. Vida Tittsworth poured. Mildred Pivetz '42, President of the Women's Student Government, was in charge.

Ward Tooke, University's Chief Engineer, was the guest of Delta Sig for dinner Sunday evening.

Guests at Lambda Chi last week-end were Morris Musgrave '41, Gerald Gregory ex-'42, and James Lynch '41.

Klan Alpine held pledge service last week for Jim Wilson '44, Don Hardy '43, Dominic Lauri '44, and Elmer Fitzsimmons '44.

College Town

By the Editors

It grieves us to report that the stipend for sinkers at the Collegiate remains 10 cents for three. The more grievous fact is that we have had to give up our regular coffee and doughnuts in order to combat the rising cost of living.

(Thanks to the football squad for the following, but I still have my doubts):

As you must know, from the letters the Fiat has received from him, Mario Carota '41, has joined the Naval Air Corps and is now stationed in Jacksonville, Fla.

The day of his arrival he went in quest of Buzzy Keefe '38, former track and basketball star for the Alma Mater, and nothing was going to stand in his way. He barged into the commanding officer's quarters and demanded—"Where's Buzzy?"

"Who?"

"Buzzy—Buzzy Keefe, Alfred's star athlete, you know—"

Then the officer remembered the name, replied that "Keefe was not around at present". As Carota turned to leave he exclaimed—"Well, when you see him tell him that Mario was looking for him; he'll know who."

It's not every prof that will go to such lengths for his students, but Dean Whitford displayed grave concern for one of his students the other day. "Lucky" the Lawrence '44, (five-year plan) didn't realize that he had consumed his quota of furloughs from calculus and forgot to show up for class. The Dean was aware of Lawrence's position and took action immediately.

He dispatched a messenger to the nearest phone to call Kappa Psi, and told the class to rib the drip upon his arrival. But the bird had flown Kappa Psi. We could only wait and hope, but no Luck(y). The Dean's disappointment was quite evident, but until this is printed, Lawrence may not know what took place, and when he does he'll probably drop the course completely.

Public Notice: The Unholy Eight met Saturday night at the usual place and the events of the evening were as enjoyable as had been planned. For further details about this up-and-coming group of prominent students read this column regularly. (Or isn't it worth it?)

The Wellsville Chamber of Com-

Beyond The Valley

by George Hyams

The reported loss of the plane containing Maxin Litvinof, Lawrence Steinhardt, and Quentin Reynolds brings a story to mind. (This morning's reported them safe, by the way).

Reynolds was discussing the makings of a great newspaperman in his book, "The Wounded Don't Cry". He told of the time that London was undergoing a rather heavy bombing. A group of reporters were situated in their hotel and quite suddenly a bomb demolished part of the building. In record speed they left the building in various states of undress. That is, all but one. Kenneth Downs of United Press came out several minutes later carrying a bottle of whiskey. Mid wreckage and pandemonium, he kept calm and saved the final and most precious possession of the little group. Downs is Reynolds' idea of a great journalist.

Which reminds us of a story about another kind of reporter. This cub was sent to cover a flood and he sent in his copy with a flowery lead that went something like this: "As God sat on his mountain tonight, the rushing waters poured into the valley of . . ." Ten minutes later his editor sent him a classic telegram: "To Hell with the flood. Interview God and get a picture."

Newspapermen are supposedly a pretty independent crowd. Heywood Broun was a pretty good example of independence. While he was working on the "World," Hearst offered him a handsome salary to write for his string of papers. One day Broun dropped up to see Brisbane, Hearst's great editor. Broun noticed a picture on the wall and Brisbane said that it was his father's portrait. He thereupon expounded his father's virtues concerning honesty, independence, etc. Broun looked at the picture and then looked at Brisbane saying, "I'll bet he wouldn't have worked for Hearst." Broun stayed with the "World."

Well, that's about all except that we hope that everyone has a swell Thanksgiving holiday; and to those going to New York: say hello to the Lexington Avenue Express for us.

merce is trying to drum up trade by writing letters of invitation to the frosh to visit their fair city. We saw one of the letters and decided to check up on the C of C's promises.

Friday night, after the postoffice had closed Alfred for the night, we left for Wellsville. We spent a half hour looking for the other movie house. (We had seen the picture at the Babcock.) We were turned away from the bowling alleys because of league tournaments. As a last resort, we went to the Brunswick, and our luck changed. From the time of our entrance into the Brunswick until the time we left Wellsville we had a wonderful time, and we felt that the C of C had not fooled us—much.

The moral of the story is that in these times of emergency, when every minute wasted smacks of treason, people should learn to stop using beating-around-the-bush phrases and frankly state:

"When you come to Wellsville and you have seen the picture at the Babcock, make a bee line for the Modern Diner, the Brunswick, or Pickups!"

Alfred's scenic beauty is indisputable, but seldom has anyone found it necessary to resort to guides or other means of finding their way to and from school.

However, there's the one about the freshman, fresh from New York City, who after making his way to the Ag-Tech on his first day on the campus, asked that a searching party be held in readiness the next, as he reached into his pocket and said, "My compass is very inaccurate!"

Square Dance to Be Held

A square dance between Thanksgiving and Christmas, open to the campus and club alumni, leads off the "Fun Calendar" of the Dairy Science Club.

Committee for the affair is Roger Knaptown, president of the organization, Donald Bissel and Ellen Barnes. Highlight of the dance will be the selection of a King and Queen of the Dairy.

SPANISH CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Madame Ernest Guy presented an illustrated lecture on Spanish music last Tuesday night at a meeting of the Spanish Club. Several Spanish songs were sung by the group.

Short Shots of Sport Shots

By Bob Moebus

Football season is over for Alfred—another season is recorded as successful in the annals of Saxon gridiron history—and we can now look forward to next season with the same enthusiasm and apprehension as we did to this one past. Next year's squad is uncertain. Men of the calibre of Mike Greene, Reggie Miner, Bob Jolley and Frank Triglio are hard to replace—and hard to forget. These men are leaving via graduation, but it remains to be seen who will leave via draft and other reasons. Next season is in the distance, but not so far as to cause one to stop wondering just what it will hold in store.

The outlook is far from dire as far as next season's prospects are concerned. The Frosh who performed so splendidly this year are again expected to carry the burden. Large things can be looked for from Lefty Check, Hal Brown, Jim Aina, Red Fenton, and all the others. On the strength of Saturday's performance Brown especially will be valuable. His play was flawless as twice he broke away for long touchdown jaunts. As he has become more fully acquainted with the Alfred system he has shown more and more promise of developing into one of Alfred's outstanding backs.

As far as business deals are concerned, the Varsity "A" Club's benefit was a failure. However, it was not the Varsity "A" men who failed. They were offering the student body a show well worth the price they asked. Those who attended the show were well satisfied. It was the student body who failed. They failed in backing up something that they would have really enjoyed, and they failed to back up a group of men who were trying to do something from which the entire campus would have benefited. The Varsity "A" men are disgusted, and they have every right to be. Their remark—"What do you have to offer the people around here to satisfy them", seems to be grounded.

Just Chatter: Hofstra considers the Saxons as arch rivals—the victory tension was high on the island before game time—expecting to upset Alfred, the Dutchmen and their followers had a rude awakening as Triglio, Greene and Co. proceeded to move right out and threatened to turn the game into a rout. It is the feeling of the coaches and the players, and many Alfred football minded people that if Alfred could meet Rutgers now—Rutgers would know they had been in a ball game. . . . The Hofstra gridiron is a sight to behold . . . feature if you can a kelly-green rug 100 yards long and 53 yards wide . . . in your mind you will then have the picture of the Hofstra field . . . Next year's football schedule includes Springfield Physical Education college, and Cortland replacing Rutgers and Brooklyn College. . . . Tentative homecoming opponent is Hofstra. . . .

Aside to Dan Minnick:—Congratulations on your work with the Frosh football squad—you have done a great job in turning out the team you did from the material left from the varsity draft.

Pigskin Review Notes 4 Victories in 7 Tries

Wondering, watching, hoping—these three words describe Coach Alex Yunevich as he watched his football squad go through their paces during pre-season football. With the most potentially-famous line he ever coached back to begin football season and the least potentially-famous backfield he ever coached, Yunevich had a real problem to overcome in an effort to turn in a creditable season of four wins, two losses and a tie.

Looking over the roster of the Saxon squad, one finds that it was rather heavily over-balanced with Frosh. These Frosh played an important part in making the season successful. Working with veteran linemen such as Mike Greene, Reggie Miner, Bill Hurley, and Bob Jolley, the Frosh linemen, Jim Aina, Dutch Dutkowski, Red Fenton and Andy Cusimano filled the bill to perfection. As important as the linemen were, it remained for the Frosh backs working with the colorful veteran Frank "Pike" Triglio, the soph speedster Bob Meyer, and quarterback Ed Chrzan, to steal the show. Included in these greenie backs were Jim Kehoe, Hal Brown, Warren Check and Julie Opacinch.

Opening against the powerful Rutgers University eleven, the Saxons were outnumbered and outsmarted but turned in a good performance as they were routed by the rather large score of 34-0. However, the large score of the game does not tell the tale. Inexperience on the part of the Frosh candidates, and the opening game roughness in attack and defense played the most part in the Saxon loss.

Season's First Win

Determined to show the home crowd that the Rutgers game was not to be taken as a criterion, the Saxon eleven really turned it on as they soundly trounced a very cocky and favored Hartwick squad to the tune of 19-7. Following the season's first win, came a 7-7 draw with the Engineers of Clarkson. Being thwarted in their victory attempt against Clarkson, the gridders again took off the brakes as they romped to an easy victory over a hapless Brooklyn College eleven. Scoring four touchdowns and a safety, the Saxons had no trouble in hanging up their second victory by a 29-2 score.

Homecoming Game Won

The University of Buffalo homecoming game was the season's high light, as both teams needed a win to make the season resemble a successful one. Playing their best game of the season, the Saxon eleven moved out to score early in the game and then set back repeatedly Bull threats to win 14-0.

Freshman Football Review

Now that all their uniforms have been put away and the freshmen are turning their attentions to basketball and other winter sports, let's go back a few weeks and review the season as a whole.

If someone had stepped up to Coach Dan Minnick, after the first week of practice, and told him that the three freshmen games were going to turn out as they did, he would probably have been in favor of calling those "little white men" to come and take the idiot away. With only about twenty-five percent of the players on his squad having had any football experience, he didn't believe the team would have much chance of doing anything else in their games except getting that experience.

In fact there was more than one surprised person when it was learned that the Buffalo frosh had only defeated the Alfred frosh 13 to 12. If there ever was such a thing as a moral victory, this certainly was one. In that game the Saxon yearlings scored in the first fifty seconds of play. The score was set up by a fifty yard run by Reid from the "freshman special" formation. The Saxons were able to score again late in the fourth quarter on a forty yard touchdown run by Middaugh. However, Alfred failed to convert after either of their scores and therefore defeated.

The next Saturday the young Saxons got up early and traveled to Rochester to meet the favored U. of R. freshmen in a morning game. The home team scored twice in the first half, having completely fooled the Alfred freshmen with their use of the Hamilton College plays. However, the U. of R. freshmen, in spite of their strong manpower, were unable to score again in the game and twice were held on the Alfred two yard line. The final score was 12 to 0.

By the time the Scranton-Keystone game came up, those green freshmen had gained a great deal of football experience and were ready to go all out against their traditional rivals. They defeated the Pennsylvania team 13 to 12, but the close score is not at

On the Ball

By Muriel Strong

For several weeks now the Alfred hockey season has been about to come to a close, but was not able to do so because of the many interferences.

The end was finally reached last Saturday when the freshmen challenged all the upperclassmen to a game to end games. It turned out to be not only a game to end games, but numerous bruises on both sides proved that it was not a gentle contest. The final result was that the freshmen were not only bruised up, but were also beaten up—"beaten up" we mean defeated—the score was 2-0.

Still lively under the flag of truce, the freshmen took their opponents up to the Collegiate and treated them to cokes. We know of no better time than right now to congratulate the "frosh" on their spirit; twice they have been defeated by the upperclassmen, and twice they have come up smiling and ready for more. What better proof could anyone ask for as to whether or not they will be an asset to Alfred for the next four years?

The end of Thanksgiving vacation will witness the beginning of basketball.

all indicative of the way the game went.

The Saxon yearlings completely outplayed the home team and except for their two long touchdown plays, Scranton never penetrated deeper than the Alfred forty yard line. Ziegler was the outstanding Saxon in the game, scoring both touchdowns and kicking beautifully throughout the entire game. A pass from Pozefsky to Reuning was good for that game-winning extra point.

Certainly both the Coach and the team are to be congratulated for turning what was predicted to be a very poor season, into a successful one. There is no doubt that several of these boys will be very useful to Coach Yunevich, in the next few years, as varsity material.

Upperclassmen Win Over Frosh in Hockey Battle

The upperclassmen were the winners, 2-0, in a hockey battle with the freshmen last Saturday morning. This was not a regularly scheduled game but was the result of a challenge by the freshmen to the upperclassmen.

The challengers worked hard and played a fine game, but were only once able to get the ball down to where upperclassmen goalie, Sally Jane Morris could get a hit at it. This game ended the hockey season for the year.

On Friday afternoon, the Seventh Day Baptist team was defeated 5-0 by the "Friday afternooners".

Varsity Football

Saxon gridmen not only ran into a strong Larrie eleven, but elements which made the Larrie eleven even stronger—those being mud and rain, which coupled with the effectiveness of Jim Hefti, Little All American full-back, set back the Alfred efforts by a 7-6 count.

Hofstra College, the remaining obstacle in the Saxons path to a good season, showed little as the powerful upstate eleven rose to unparalleled heights and literally ran wild in the opening minutes of play to pile up a 19-0 margin and then coasted to an easy 32-21 victory over the scrappy but hapless Islanders.

Veterans Star, Frosh Develop

Starring in all of the games was the triple-threat back Frank Trigilio, but developing in all the games were Jim Kehoe, Warren Check, Hal Brown and Jimmy Aina. These latter men are going to form the nucleus about which next year's hopes and team will be formed. Leaving this year are Mike Greene, dependable as Boulder Dam, Reggie Miner equally dependable, and Bob Jolley, sterling and steady end, all of whom will be missed and remembered when next year's football wars begin for the Alfred gridiron machine.

To Represent Juniors

Robert Sinclair and Francis J. DiLaura were elected from the junior class to represent the junior class on the St. Pat's board at the first meeting of the board last Friday.

Tentative committees were selected and initial plans were made for the St. Pat's festival.
