

Saxons Inaugurate '49 Grid Season With 26-0 Victory Over Brockport

Royston Tallies Three Times During Contest; Alfred Piles Up 334 Yards Rushing And Makes 26 First Downs

The Alford University gridmen inaugurated the 1949 season with a resounding 26-0 victory over the Golden Eagles of Brockport State Teachers College on Saturday night at Morrill Field.

Along with this victory the team showed a Mr. Inside and Mr.

Outside in two sophomores, Jim Royston and Andy Mangfreda. If these two men keep playing as brilliant ball as they showed Saturday night, Alfred can be sure of finishing with a winning record.

Alfred scored their first touchdown at the start of the second quarter. Mangfreda carried down to the 44 yard line when a pass from John Barnes to Royston in the flat moved the ball down to the 28 yard line. The Saxons moved to the 19 where Royston took a pitch out from Barnes and sailed around right end for the first Alfred score and the first of his three touchdowns. Biro booted the extra point and Alfred was ahead, 7-0.

Biro kicked off and Don Lester recovered Murphy's fumble on Brockport's 35. The Saxons pushed way down to the 1 yard line where the Brockport defense held and took over the ball. The Staters then kicked out of bounds on the 30. After an incomplete pass, Royston ran around the end, was almost downed and handled the ball to the 1 yard line.

Two five yard penalties for delaying the game prevented Alfred from scoring. They then intercepted a Brockport pass and Royston carried over (Continued on page Two)

Services Held For David C. Gardiner, Alfred Sun Printer

Funeral services for David C. Gardiner, 57, who has helped produce the Fiat Lux for 28 years, were held Wednesday afternoon in the Village Church. The Rev. Everett T. Harris, pastor of the First Alfred Seventh Day Baptist Church, officiated and burial was in the Alfred Rural cemetery.

Mr. Gardiner was born in Nile, April 8, 1892, and moved to Alfred seven years later. He attended Alfred Academy and was employed in Florida and Elmira before becoming a printer at Lake Placid. He joined the Sun Publishing Association as a pressman in 1921. He had been in ill health for several years and retired two months ago.

Mr. Gardiner and the former Marion Campbell of Pleasantville, N. J., celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary in August. He was a member of the Church, Crandall Hook and Ladder Company and is a past master of University Lodge 944, F & AM.

Surviving besides his wife is one son, Theodore D. Gardiner, a Duke University student; and two daughters, Mrs. P. C. Mix of Albion; F. Elaine Gardiner of Columbia Presbyterian Hospital, New York City.

Dr. Clark To Direct Experimental Clinic

An experiment in the form of a "how-to-study clinic" will be tried this semester by the psychology department. It will be composed of specially selected freshmen who are willing to see if psychology can help them improve their study habits.

This experiment was suggested by the success that students had in the voluntary remedial reading class which Dean Elizabeth Geen conducted last year. If this new group finds the clinic is really helpful, then similar clinics may be set up.

The clinic will meet one hour each week, and deal with the use of the student's time, his work habits, evaluation of his progress, and a program for improvement.

The experiment will be directed by Dr. Clark, who maintains a "wait and see" attitude as to the outcome of the clinic.

The students selected to take part in the clinic will meet for the first time on Friday at 2:30 p.m. in Room 6, South Hall.

Frosh Violators To Appear In Court Thursday

The first meeting of the University Frosh Court will take place Thursday at 11 a.m. in Alumni Hall. All freshman men are required to attend as attendance will be taken. At that time frosh men violators of the frosh rules will be dealt with by a court composed of senior members of the Blue Key. All senior men are requested to report the violators of the rules to Frank Lobaugh, '50, George Harris, '50, Pete Dahoda, '50, or Charles Bryant, '50. Violation reports may be mailed by card to Charles Bryant, Box CC. Please include name, address and misdemeanor of the freshman and also your own name as a carton of cigarettes will be awarded to the senior man reporting the largest number of violators.

All upperclassmen and freshman women are cordially invited to attend the meetings of the Frosh Court. A truly interesting program is promised.

The Ag-Tech court will be organized in the very near future to deal with the Ag-Tech men who violate the Ag-Tech men who violate the Student Council.

It was decided in the Blue Key meeting Sunday to allow Sophomores to report violations of Frosh rules. They can report these violations to the above-named members of Frosh Court.

"We hope that all Sophomores will cooperate," Lobaugh, Blue Key president concluded.

University Repairs And Reconditioning Cost Almost $10,000

Close to $10,000 has been spent by the University during the summer for repairing and reconditioning buildings, according to buildings and grounds superintendent, Fred Palmer.

Painting and floor refinishing in South Hall were completed and several new desks were purchased. Mr. Palmer estimated the cost of this project at approximately $1800. Remodeling of South Hall building was completed last Spring.

Most expensive of the repair projects was the reconditioning of the Castle. Damage amounting to $2,000 was caused June 19 when lightning struck and demolished the chimney and damaged the roof. No fire resulted.

About $6,000 was spent repairing the damage done to the castle and redecorating the building. A new kitchen and two new bathrooms were installed.

All Scouters Invited To Smoker In Union

All men on the campus formerly affiliated with the Boy Scouting movement anywhere in the world are invited to attend the Alpha Phi Omega smoker at 8:15 p.m. tonight in the Union.

Membership qualifications and the workings of Alpha Phi, a national service fraternity, will be explained at this meeting, according to Donald Summerhayes AT, president.

Members of the fraternity have been active during Freshman Week, serving in information booths and aiding registration.

The fraternity is also handling the sale of the activities calendar for 1949-50.

AT Freshmen Will Take Gym For First Time

For the first time in the history of Ag-Tech, regularly scheduled gym classes, which will be largely activities, will be included as part of the curriculum. The new Ag-Tech gym should be ready to handle regular classes about the middle of October, William Havens, director of athletics, announced.

"All freshmen, including women, will be required to take these activities two hours per week, whether veterans or not, Mr. Havens continued, unless they are active participants in one of certain specified activities." The activities include varsity or intramural athletics, band, dramatics, Fiat Lux, Kanakadea, student council or student senate. Mr. Havens went on to state that the Ag-Tech and University intramural schedules would be closely coordinated.

"A recreational night for faculty members also will be set up once a week," Mr. Havens stated, "and if the response is favorable, another night may be set aside for the same purpose."

School Of Nursing Rated In Top Group

In a recent national survey of 1195 schools of nursing, Alfred University's division of nursing was placed in the top 25 percent — or Group I — according to announcement by Miss Elizabeth K. Foote, chairman of the department.

The survey, conducted by the National Committee for the Improvement of Nursing Service of New York City, placed Alfred's program among the top 25 percent of all basic programs, signifying that it is one of the highest in national standing for quality and execution of curriculum.

Rental Prints Available At Campus Union Friday

Prints for the walls of campus residents will be rented in the Campus Union from 4-5:30 p.m., Friday, in the Campus Union. The prints, which are now on display on the walls of the Union, will be rented for the first semester to any student or faculty member. Rental rates will range from 50 cents to one dollar.

Dean Elizabeth Geen, who is in charge of the renting, announced that, as usual, the prints would be rented on a first come first served basis.

Fiat Invites Students To Learn More About Their Newspaper

All students on the campus interested in learning more about the Fiat Lux are invited to attend an open house sponsored by the paper. Freshmen are especially urged to attend the affair which will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Campus Union Annex.

In announcing the open house, the first of its kind sponsored by the Fiat, editor Jeannette Klimajeski, '50, declared that all regular staff members will be on hand to explain the function of the various departments of the paper.

Students will get an inside look at the work behind production of each Tuesday's newspaper through exhibits.

Displays will be available showing how a story progresses from reporter's notes to typewritten copy, then to edited and approved copy, ready to be printed.

The progression will be continued with galley proofs, headline galley proofs, a "dummy" and finally a finished copy of today's Fiat.

Editors and sub-editors will explain informally the functions of their own departments. Technical production will also be discussed.

People interested in joining the staff in the news, society, sports, photography, circulation, advertising, business or proof reading departments will be invited to return to the regular staff meeting at 6:45 p.m. Oct. 4 in the Fiat office in the Campus Union Annex.

Footlight Production Tryouts Scheduled For 7 P. M. Tonight

The Footlight Club tryouts for the first production will begin this evening on the Alumni Hall stage from 7 to 9 p.m.

Tomorrow afternoon further tryouts will take place from 2:30 to 5 p.m., and Thursday, Sept. 28, from 7 to 9 p.m.

These tryouts are open to everyone, and the Footlight Club urges the Freshmen to try out for one of the different departments, such as: stage designing, acting, costumes, lights, make-up, sound and special effects, properties, business, stage construction, publicity, directing and stage managing.

There are three productions which are being considered for the first production, one of which will be picked on Saturday of this week. They are: "The Wonderful People" by W. S. Maugham, "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde and "Too Many Thumbs" by Robert Hivner.

Ag-Tech Releases New Appointment To Teaching Staff

"Hey, go out in the hall a minute, Joe, I want to throw back my typewriter carriage." Things aren't that crowded up at Saxon Heights this year, but there are three men, instead of two, in most rooms.

"The reason for this," Dean Hawthorne explained, "is uniting the freshman class as much as possible by placing as many as possible in Bartlett and Polan and Eggleton houses. The transfer students, upperclassmen, and some of the older freshmen are being moved to Saxon Heights as well as to Burdick."

The situation is being eased by the addition of a bed and a bureau to each room, so that now each student has more bureau space than he had before. Another action being taken is a $10 refund to each man who finds himself with two roommates.

"There have been no complaints so far," said Dean Edward L. Hawthorne, who is in charge of men's housing. "In fact," the dean added, "most of the students seem satisfied with the extra bureau space."

"Conditions will become less crowded in the Saxon Heights barracks after mid-semester when some sixty men are expected to graduate."

"Bartlett is also overcrowded this year, due to the centralizing of the freshmen. At present there are 110 men lodged in Bartlett, as opposed to the 96 residents the building is intended to hold."

Dean Hawthorne concluded that this would be the last year that the University would face a serious housing problem. Next year a smaller registration and the enactment of proposed building projects should alleviate the problem.

Alfred Outing Club To Meet Thursday

The Alfred Outing Club will hold its first meeting of the '49-'50 year at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 27, in Social Hall. All Freshmen, as well as members, are cordially invited to attend.

The Club will present the Third Annual Sports Dance on Friday, October 7, at 8:30 p.m. in South Hall. Francis Pixley, '51, AOC president, announced that everybody is welcome to attend.

Chairman of the affair is William Clark, '51. Others serving on the dance committee are Cherie Jova, Jean Bennett and Karsten Styhr, all '52, refreshments; William Greeley, CS, and Richard Homer '52, decorations; Janice Swain '51, tickets, and Herbert Cohen '52, publicity.

Ceramic Grinding Bldg. Complete And In Use

The new grinding building behind Merrill Hall was completed this summer, and the grinding and clay-working machines have been transferred there from Merrill Hall.

This building will relieve Merrill Hall from its former overcrowded condition and will rid the Hall of considerable dirt and dust which was due to the grinding and clay-working machines.

WWHG's New Program On Saturday Features Fiat Edition, Interviews

Radio Show Offers Request Numbers, A. U. News; Local Merchants Sponsor Full Hour Variety Spot From 11-12

For the first time in 36 years' history, Alfred University's Fiat Lux is on the air.

Five minutes of news will be broadcast during an hour-long program "Calling the Campus" at 11 a.m. each Saturday morning over Radio Station WWHG, Hornell.

Lawrence Olivier will be seen in "Hamlet," the first in the Forum series to be presented this year. See Story, page 3.

The program, premiered Saturday, is expected to continue throughout the school year. Included during the hour will be popular music requested by the students, interviews with campus personalities and other items pertinent to campus activities.

"This show is meant especially for the students," Master of Ceremonies Lloyd Watson emphasized, "and we want them to send any and all requests or suggestions to us." Cards may be sent to Station WWHG, Hornell, New York.

This program is sponsored by a group of eight merchants including: The Huddle, Crandall's Jewelry Store, Peck's Pool Hall, Stan Lee Hardware, Alfred University Bank, Gleason's Service Station, Terwilliger's Dairy and Ellis Drug Store.

WWHG may be found at 1590, the top of the dial, and, for FM sets, at 105.3 megacycles.

Plans Progress For Fifty Room Addition To Ceramic Building

"Plans are well under way for an addition to Merrill Hall," announced Dean of Ceramics, John McMahon this week.

Bids will be awarded Dec. 1. An appropriation of $741,000 has been made which is expected to cover the cost of the building, excluding furnishings and equipment.

The new addition, which is expected to be in use by Sept. 1951, will be attached to the south side of Merrill Hall where Binns Hall is now.

When completed the ceramic building will have the same general design as Merrill Hall and will provide 50 more rooms to increase the facilities of the college.

VA To Counsel Vets Here Wednesdays

Counseling for veterans will be provided every Wednesday morning in the office of Dean Edward L. Hawthorne, Greene Hall. Raymond F. Shear, director of the Allegany County Veterans' Service Agency, or Hugh M. Gregory, Counselor of the New York State Division of the Veterans' Affairs, will provide campus service to veterans at Alfred.

According to the Veterans' Administration, this service will supplement official administration service presently available on reduced V.A. schedules. P.L. 16 students will be provided with aid and information on Monday afternoons, by Eugene W. Burgess of the Administration.

Mr. Shear specializes in pension and compensation claims while Mr. McGregory is especially concerned with veteran's life insurance.

Craft School Opens Door To Largest Frosh Class

A freshman class of 32, largest in Craft School history, swelled the total registration in the School for American Craftsmen to a record high of 59 students.

Divided by departments, pottery and woodwork show the greatest number of students, each having 18. A group of 14 undergraduates are studying metal work while nine are working in textiles. Two four-year liberal arts students are included in the total registration.

Football: Oct. 1, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy.

Mayor W. Harrison Purchases Alfred Telephone Company

One of the oldest privately owned telephone companies in the state of New York, the Alfred Telephone and Telegraph Company, changed hands September 1 when William B. Harrison acquired controlling interest from D. Sherman Burdick.

"We are planning to change to dial operation as soon as equipment can be obtained," Mr. Harrison, president and treasurer of the company said.

The company serves about 500 subscribers, said Mr. Harrison.

Mr. Harrison, who is also mayor of the village of Alfred, conducts the Allegany Mutual Telephone Company in Andover. In his new post he succeeds Ramon F. Reynolds, company president for 30 years.

Sherman Burdick, age 89, was co-director since 1897 and acquired controlling interest in 1919. He became secretary-treasurer in 1905.

Steering Committee

The Freshman Class, as a functioning group, is off to a good start this year with the help of a 27-man Steering Committee elected from the groups of advisors.

Plans for a Steering Committee were made last year, but the committee did not materialize and, as a result, the freshman class was completely disorganized until the latter part of the term.

The more immediate problem of this body is the election of class officers. However, this need not mean the end of the committee's services. Besides the customary social activities, this group could be instrumental in arranging freshman assembly programs, helping with Moving Up Day activities as well as acting as a central control board and advisory group.

The idea of a Steering Committee is a good one. We hope the committee will be able to live up to its obligations.

Calling The Campus

"Calling the Campus," the first in a new series of programs dedicated to Alfred students and faculty was heard for the first time Saturday. This is the first long-term show dedicated to Alfred and its success depends upon the response received from us.

One way to do this is to send requests for favorite recordings and artists to WWHG. However, the program is not made up of music entirely. There will be news and interviews with campus personalities.

Perhaps there is something in particular, such as a panel discussion, that the students would like included in this broadcast. Why not send suggestions to WWHG and help them give us what we want?

The freshmen pull strange things at registration, but the best story to come out this year concerns an upper classman. When asked to tear his class cards in half he did so . . . vertically, right down the middle.

Team, Team

One can not help mentioning Saturday evening's football game at Merrill Field. Reports for the past two weeks had been emphasizing how "green" the Alfred squad was on the field, as well as on paper.

We were optimistic, but we still wondered. What did they have? Would they make many mistakes? And finally, would they win?

Saturday evening we were enlightened. Between the hours of 8:15 and 10:30 p.m., the Saxons unveiled the smartest and trickiest runner seen in this area since before the war. His name: Jim Royston. Andy Mangefreda also demonstrated his ability, as he grabbed one first down after another through the center of the line. Alfred had many others in there for the first time, who were giving forth with all their worth.

Sure, they made mistakes, but not anywhere near the number expected.

Long before the end of the contest we had lost all the skepticism we might have had. The Alfred University Saxons had hustle and more hustle, and, what seemed best of all, they had won the ball game.

THE RAVING REPORTER

By Doug Grewer

At this time of the year the general topic of discussion seems to be the freshmen. This year's incoming class being the largest in Alfred's history, we thought they should be different in one way or another, but we went directly to the upperclassmen and asked them the question, "What is your first impression of the freshman class?"

Bill Spangenberg, '51 — I have met quite a few freshmen during the past week and I think they have been co-operating very nicely and have accepted very enthusiastically all the activities they have participated in so far.

Nancy White, AT — seemed to be of the opinion the freshmen had been living up to the name of Freshmen. She went on to relate that a couple of freshmen had been standing out in front of the Henderson House for a half hour, upon asking them what they were waiting for they said, "We're waiting for a couple of beautiful girls to come walking out."

Tom Myers, '51 — Beautiful women, nice bunch of guys, but nobody seems to say hello.

Andy Armstrong, '51 — They appear to be lively enough, but the "hello" tradition seems to be lacking.

Rog. Jones, '51 — From the looks of their spirit I don't think there will be any dull weekends around here, and it also looks to me as though the Bartlett boys have moved in and taken over the woman situation very handsily.

Marg Bard, '52 — They look less intelligent than last year's class, but so far they seem to be making out all right.

Tim Timko, '51 — From what I've seen in the talent show and their actions in the Union, they seem enthusiastic enough and willing to participate in the campus activities.

Alfredians Complete Thirtieth Moving Project In Six Years

Mr. and Mrs. William J. O'Connor, who moved into their 30th apartment in six years of married life this month, are veterans at making any place—even a pig pen—like home.

Alfred University's new Director of Admissions and his wife, who spent four years following her husband through ten states while he was in the Army Air Forces, made their 30th move when they occupied S2M at Saxon Heights.

According to Mr. O'Connor, he and his wife have lived in everything from a Southern mansion—"I never did count the rooms"—to a converted pig pen—"one room with partitions."

Longest stay of the O'Connors was a year and a half at Eglin Field, near Pensacola, Fla. Most luxurious was the mansion, where a Negro butler served breakfast in bed every morning. The pig pen, incidentally, was "a cozy, restful place." He terraced the grounds, cultivated a garden, built kitchen shelves and succeeded in getting "running water piped to the porch and prospects of a kitchen sink in sight just as we moved."

The young couple, who came from Hornell, spent their honeymoon at Eglin Field in a vacation resort turned over to AAF personnel.

"After that we moved to an oil magnate's home on Silver Beach for three months, and then to a retired furniture manufacturer's home near Shalimar, Fla.," Mr. O'Connor related. "The latter was sumptuous, built half-moon shaped to fit the curve of the bay. It had a huge, eight-foot fireplace, but even that didn't heat the house in January."

In January, 1944, he entered pilot training and as his wife says, "that's when we started loading the car and moving—about every two months."

During this episode, the O'Connors lived in the Mason mansion at Sumter, S. C. Mr. Mason had perfected the magneto and died a millionaire.

"Mrs. Mason was lonesome and wanted to do something in the war, so she opened a suite of unused rooms to us and another couple," Mrs. O'Connor explained. "She even sent the butler up with our breakfast and gave us the run of the grounds."

Making a home of the pig pen, however, was the major achievement. It was three moves later at Dyersburg, Tenn.

"I saw this building being remodeled while flying in to the field," he said. "When the new siding went on, we took a drive out and found a 14 x 20,

NIGHT and DAY

By Ruth Vail

Theta Gamma held a rah-rah party after the game Saturday night to celebrate the victory. A good time was had? Everyone is wondering what happen? to the band at Lambda Chi's open house. At Klan's open house they had cheese and crackers and freshmen.

Kappa Psi was quiet. The explanation—Baldy Hall was not there. Delta Sig was quiet, but nice. Kappa Delta held an open house at "Mother's."

In spite of the number of upperclass intruders at the Union party, the freshmen were just too much. Carolyn Blankheit '53 sang to the accompaniment of Ruth Gowdy '53 on the piano. Dave "Jimmy Durante-Al Jolson" Harrison '53 became utterly exhausted after his third encore. Dick Oberlick '53 and Ann Saunders '53 were great on the piano. The Blue Notes were at their usual best. Andy Ippolito '52 took care of the introductions.

There was a dance for the Ag-Tech students in Davis Gym on Monday. The "Squares" had fun dancing to the calling of "Salty" Austin. The Campus was blessed this weekend with the smiling faces of the sophomore nurses: Eleanor Hochen-berg, Candy Crandall, Joyce Meyer, Jody Perry, Millie Piemann, Kathy Alle, Eloise Mullen and Bee Brown.

Theta Chi initiated four members Sunday: Andy Armstrong '52, Janis Formont '52, Jean Helms '52, and Carolyn Petticrew AT.

Mary Alice Driscoll was a guest of Theta Chi and Rosebush this week.

Jim White ex-51 was a guest of Lambda Chi this weekend.

Jean Helms '52 and Marilyn Neville '51 celebrated birthdays this week.

Edith Fagen '48 was a guest of Sigma Chi this weekend.

Charlie Joyce AT and George Griffin AT were guests of Theta Gamma Saturday.

If there were any wedding or engagements over the summer, would you please leave the information at the Fiat office.

Students starting off their school year at the infirmary were: George Constabel AT, William J. Haring AT, Marcia Rosencrantz '53, and Doris Wetter '50.

Mrs. Alice MacDermott, head nurse, announced that Dr. Burdick would hold office hours from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. She also asked that students plan their visits to the infirmary before noon or between 1 and 6 p.m. and 7 and 10 p.m.

Sam Maguire scored Alfred's last touchdown when he swept around right end and cut back up the middle to end the scoring for the night.

FOUND — Gray wooly glove, leather palm. Has letter L along seam which might stand for either Louise or Looie. But it doesn't, it stands for left.

LOST—Betty Lou Ogden started off the year on the wrong foot by losing her tan leather purse. Stamped with the initials B.L.O., it contains two green buttons, money and stamps. Finder please return to the Fiat Office.

FOUND — On the lawn, a pair of shell-rimmed glasses without a case. They may be claimed at the Fiat office.

LOST—Tuesday, a small brown leather wallet containing driver's license, social security card and other miscellaneous papers. Finder return to Nancy Kelly or Fiat office.

Oh, Was My Face Red

Add this to the department of big ideas that shrunk. A freshman was seen to unpack a tiny artist's pain brush and a two-ounce bottle of paint from his trunk so that he could paint a big '53 on the traditional barn.

and grounds crew included installation of a one and a half ton safe in the registrar's office, trimming of the shrubs on campus and some painting in Bartlett and the Brick.

Mr. Palmer said that Kenyon Hall, Kanakadea Hall and Allen Lab are scheduled to be painted in the future.

COLLEGE TOWN

No Philosophy, But A Couple Stories—One New

By jerrysmith

Poets and philosophers often have written about Spring and occasionally are truly inspiring. The verse of some poets about Spring are among our favorites—in Spring.

But as our old mill clanks along this Fall afternoon, we have decided that some equally nice phrases could be written about Fall, especially Fall at Alfred. The trees are blossoming back of Pine Hill, in a sense, into a beauty equalling that of Spring. Here and there a few hardy flowers have survived the first frost. But even greater is the mature yet new feeling college students get when they start another year.

Even blase upperclassmen who have seen the college year start many, many times feel it. There are questions about new courses, new freshmen and new faculty. There is the feeling that "I am no longer a sophomore" or "One more year to go." Lifelong friendships will be started and others will begin to drift into a memory. Few will regret the step they are taking this week.

For the freshman, as well as others, this week or two of registering and starting classes may well be most important. Their success in this venture—it is that—may well hinge upon decisions made at this time.

There will be a dozen stories like that during the next two weeks, including the one about a frosh co-ed who wrote to her Big Sister asking if she would "have to help scrub floors in The Brick."

Perhaps the best one however is about several Sons of '53 who, having heard only part of the story about Pine Hill, climbed to the top and returned tired, disheveled and considerably disheartened still with the question:

"What is there about Pine Hill?"

About the best we can say—honest—is that Nick Berg uses it for a cross country training course.

We don't preach much in this column, but there is one word of advice we would pass on which is as corny as Prof. Nevin's puns (15 movie tickets for $3.60.)

Our little gem is "Don't forget what you are here for—learn to discriminate."

The word "discriminate" has gained an unfortunate connotation during the past few years, but we want to write more about that some other time. Briefly, we will define it now as "learning to separate the corn from the chaff." If you gain no more than an ability to discriminate during the next year, your time spent here will not be amiss.

We were prowling around in a storage room at the rear of Greene Hall last week and came across a photo of Bebe Daniels, autographed as follows:

"To 'Daddy' Alfred, With the sincere appreciation and admiration of his screen daughter."

It took Fred Palmer, building and grounds superintendent and one who can tell many an anecdote about Alfred, to explain:

"Alfred Allen was son of Jonathan Allen, who was second president of Alfred from 1867 to 1892. He was an actor and later sent some costumes here. His ashes are still in a safe in the President's office waiting to be added to those of his father and mother in the Steinheim."

We checked Daddy Alfred's record in the Alumni office and found that he was Class of '86 and cautiously listed as "writer and teacher." Most of his time, apparently, was spent on the West Coast and he died on June 8, 1947, in Los Angeles.

Jonathan Allen, you will be told, built the Steinheim for his wife who later gave the building to AU for a museum. And for our money, they can keep the ashes of Daddy Alfred and Bebe's photo some other place than the Steinheim, even the Greene Hall storage room.

One final item concerns a change in command. We scrapped the "Boss Lady" tag last year and then took aboard a pilot and co-pilot before coming back to school. Henceforth, when necessary we shall refer to Mary Alice and Jimmy as The Lady and the Lad. And if you should happen to be up Lovers' Lane, stop at Q8S and we'll put on the coffeepot. —or maybe we'd better ask her about that first!

RFA Forum Plans Religious Discussion Sunday In Social Hall

Dr. Ellsworth Barnard, Chaplain Myron K. Sibley and Dr. Roland L. Warren will cross verbal swords in a panel discussion at the RFA Forum Sunday evening. "Is Organized Religion Necessary?" will be the title of the Forum to be held at 7:30 p.m. in Social Hall.

The panel will be the second of a year-long series of programs planned by the RFA. Among the programs planned are forums, fireside chats in the homes of individual professors, Religious Emphasis Week (Nov. 6-12), and picnics and bridge parties.

In discussing the program for the year, Adam DiGennaro, president of the organization, re-defined the general functions of the organization for the benefit of newly enrolled students. "The RFA," he explained, "is the interfaith organization co-ordinating the functions of the various religious groups on the campus. Activities cover, and membership includes, every student and faculty member."

Chorus Rehearsals Begin 7 P. M. In Social Hall

Chorus rehearsals will start at 7:15 p.m. this evening, in Social Hall, according to an announcement released by Prof. William Fiedler, music department director. Rehearsals will be held weekly at 7:15 p.m. Tuesdays, and 8:15 p.m. Thursdays, hereafter.

"Handel's 'Messiah' will be studied," Mr. Fiedler said, in urging all students, freshmen included, to "come out and sing." Students interested may contact Mr. Fiedler for tryouts at his office at the rear of the Steinheim Museum.

Widely acclaimed, the film won an Academy Award last year as did its star, producer and director, Laurence Olivier.

Included in the cast are Jean Simmons as Ophelia, Basil Sydney as King Claudius, Eileen Herlie as the Queen, Felix Aylmer as Polonius, Norman Wooland as Horatio and Terence Morgan as Laertes.

By all available records Olivier's version is the first attempt to film the

J. M. Dixon Replaces Boser As Policeman

A full-time police patrolman commenced his duties here Sept. 18 as nearly 1700 students poured into Alfred to enroll at the University and the Ag-Tech.

John M. Dixon, 25, former steward at the Andover Legion Club, will hold the post on a temporary basis until he can complete requirements for a civil service rating. He succeeds A. Harry Boser of Hornell who resigned in June. Richard Baker, county deputy, has been acting patrolman on a part-time basis since then.

Mr. Dixon, who is married, will continue living in Andover temporarily. Born in Pavilion, he has lived there three years and served for one year as a special policeman. He is a veteran of two years Navy amphibious service in the Pacific.

The gifts represent at 41 per cent increase over the previous year's total of $10,626.56, Reid said. The 685 contributors represent an increase of 60 per cent over the 420 who gave to the University in 1947-48.

Mr. Reid said that 50 persons donated $100 or more during the fiscal year ending June 30 and that the

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS

By Don Rosser
Notes on Cross Country

Alfred has a new cross country course. The official reason for the change is "so that the residents of Alfred will have a better opportunity to see the races." There is another reason.

Last year's course was routed through the cemetery beyond the Ag-Tech barns. Just before the last meet of the year, with the University of Toronto, the course had to be changed. Another was improvised the morning of the contest. Why? The cemetery was being used at post time; a funeral was scheduled for the same time as the race.

So this year we have a new route. There is no longer fear of awakening the dead. Races will start at the Terra Cotta Field. From there the harriers will go around Bartlett, along State Street to University Street, left up past Alumni Hall, right along sorority row, right on Terrace Street past South Hall, right on Main Street and back to Terra Cotta Field, then out through Merrill Field, up the Saxon Heights hill, down the hill on Rt. 244, and back to the starting line, which is also the finish line. This course is the same distance as last year's, 4.2 miles, but tougher, including more and higher hills. Funerals will still be held in the cemetery. We hope the 4.2 mile grind will in no way contribute to their frequency.

Per Andersen, of Norway, who will captain the freshman cross country team this fall, broke the Scandinavian American Athletic League record for the miles in the Scandinavian American championships held at Red Hook Stadium in Brooklyn on September 11. Per ran the mile that day in 4:23.2, breaking the previous mark by over two seconds. He also won the half mile run in the time of 1:59.1 on the same afternoon. Per ran last year's freshman course the other day (the frosh course has also been changed) and finished 40 seconds ahead of the record for that course held by John Morgan, now a sophomore.

Wilbur Getz, former cross country and track star at Alfred, will coach cross country again this fall, for the fourth time. Getz was captain of the harrier squad in '29, and that same year won the Penn Relays' Steeplechase.

Football Facts

The team met a new opponent in its first game. Brockport entered intercollegiate football ranks last year.

Alex J. Yunevich, head coach, is in his ninth season with Alfred. Yunevich graduated in 1930 from Purdue, where he starred at fullback. His first Saxon team, in 1937, went unbeaten and untied. His 1940 eleven was also undefeated, though tied once. Last year's team lost four, won only three, to give Yunie his roughest season at Alfred and his first below .500.

Jay McWilliams will be line coach for his third year. He is head basketball coach and also coaches tennis.

Saxon, R.P.I. Clash Saturday On Troy Field

The Saxons meet R.P.I. Saturday at R.P.I. and will be the underdog despite last year's victory over the engineers.

Last fall Alfred nipped the Engineers 13-7. The game was played at Merrill Field, in the mud with a slippery ball. R.P.I. gained momentum as the season wore on, however, downing Brooklyn College 47-13, the same team which had beaten Alfred 31-7 the week before.

The Engineers have a veteran team this year with most of last season's lettermen back in action, including Dean Armstrong, who was voted Little All-American fullback last fall.

A press release from R.P.I. has this to say of the squad:

"Prepping for their October 1 curtain-raiser against Alfred University, R.P.I.'s grid squad has come through their first season test with flying colors.

"Head coach Ed. Jontos told his squad that their work in a three-hour controlled scrimmage against Middlebury College had been highly satisfactory for less than a week of contact work. Jontos expressed pleasure over the Trojan's running attack. He singled out diminutive Paul Cline, a 150 pound halfback, as looking especially sharp. He carried more than a dozen times against Middlebury, picking up substantial yardage on each try."

Alfred first met R.P.I. in 1906, though only four games have been played to date. Of these, the Saxons have won three, lost only one.

Another sign of progress in Alfred — a shaving lather machine in one of the local barer shops. Maybe next they'll get an automatic shaver.

at 31, is, this season at 32, still the oldest man on the team.

Alfred first played football in 1895 and since that year the Saxons have compiled a record of 127 victories, 151 defeats, and 30 ties in a total of 314 contests. On the outcome of six Alfred games no records are available.

Odds and Ends

The 1949 tennis team finished the season by beating Sampson here, 6-3. The five wins, one loss was the best long season Alfred has ever enjoyed in this sport, although not as good, percentage-wise, as 1948's record of three victories, no defeats. That year, three contests were rained out.

Bill Argentieri and Bob Wightman were awarded gold charms for three years of varsity "A" competition in track.

Last spring 19 varsity letters were awarded, 10 in track, seven in tennis, and two in golf.

Gene Schulz was named varsity track manager for 1950, and Alexander Nies freshman track manager.

The Men's Athletic Governing Board voted to discontinue golf as an intercollegiate sport.

Alfred's Three Stalwart Centers

Coach Yunevich Calls '49 Grid Squad 'Scrappiest Since War'

"This is the scrappiest team I've had since the war," said Coach Alex Yunevich in commenting on Alfred's 1949 grid team. "The boys will make mistakes because they're green—but they'll fight."

With only nine lettermen back and five of them starters from last year's varsity, "scrap" is going to be a deciding factor in any Saxon victories.

With three weeks' of practice behind them, Coach Yunevich's players may still be green but by Nov. 13 most of them will have met stiff opposition at the hands of a high-riding University of Buffalo eleven, a brilliant Brooklyn College team, and three outfits definitely out to avenge Alfred victories last year: R.P.I., Clarkson, and Hartwick. All three, incidentally, will have the advantage of meeting the Saxons away from the latter's Merrill Field.

In addition to the rivals they met last year, the Purple and Gold will meet two old rivals which have long been absent from an Alfred schedule, Ithaca and Hobart. The Saxons last played Ithaca in 1939, last met Hobart in 1932.

This year's backfield will present quite a few new faces to Alfred fans. Three sophomore backs will be in action for sure and possibly a fourth, with Dan Biro pushing Johnny Barnes for the quarterback slot. A probable starter was lost when Chuck Reuning was forced to leave the team due to bad feet. The first-string line will probably also have at least three sophomores in action.

The team will be out to avenge last year's losing record when the Saxon's won only three games and lost four. With the loss of Hal Brown and Joe Reilly from the backfield, and such linemen as Iggy Scott, Art LaSalle and Sid Schweitzer, this will not be easy to do.

The Saxon gridmen play R.P.I. this weekend. The following week they travel to Potsdam to take on Clarkson Tech. The next home game will be the Homecoming game with Buffalo on October 15.

There will be an intramural meeting, Wednesday, Sept. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the Men's Gym. All organizations are urged to attend.

Cross Country Team Runs Six Dual And Three Major Meets

Four returning lettermen and a group of promising sophomores have started cross country drills in preparation for a schedule of six dual and three major meets.

Only man missing from Coach Wilbur Getz's fourth post-war squad will be Bob Wightman of Bath, who graduated last June. The list of veterans includes Dick O'Neil of Hornell, who will captain the 1949 team, Tom Myers of Wappingers Falls, Don Rosser of Brooklyn, and Paul Flurschutz of Wellsville.

The sophomores, who won four of their five dual meets on the frosh schedule last fall, losing only to Cornell, include John Morgan of Schenectady, freshman captain, Nicolai Berg of Norway, Bill Cordes of White Plains, Don Boulton of Alplaus, Martin Reimer of Middleport, and Robert White of Conesus.

Getz has laid out a new 4.2-mile course that goes through, around, and up-and-down the village of Alfred. It has been designed primarily to give spectators a better view of the home contests. Dual meets at Alfred will be against R. P. I. on Oct. 8, University of Buffalo, Oct. 15, and Colgate, Oct. 29.

The harriers, however, must be prepared for one of their stiffest tests by Oct. 1, when they will open the season at Cornell after only two weeks of practice. Other dual meets away from home are Niagara University on Oct. 22 and Cortland, Nov. 5. The schedule also calls for participation in the Middle Atlantic, IC4A, and NCAA.

Music Library Volunteers Called For By Dean Geen

Dean Elizabeth Geen this week sent out a call for volunteer music librarians. The librarians, as in the past, would be in charge of playing music concerts, playing music at request, and issuing records from the Social Hall Library.

The volunteer librarians would probably serve on Mondays and Fridays from 4:00 to 5:45 p.m. Those interested may contact Dr. Geen at her Greene Hall office.
