

STUDENTS GIVE PLAY CHORUS TO PRESENT IN ASSEMBLY "HYMN OF PRAISE"

The College Assembly of February 15th, opened with the singing of "The Song of the Bell" and the "Alma Mater".

"Trifles," a play in one act by Susan Gospell, was presented under the direction of Margaret Seese, a member of the class in dramatic technique.

The cast consisted of the following: George Henderson, County Attorney Jack Merriam Henry Peters, Sheriff Edgar Strong Lewis Hale, a Neighboring Farmer Robert Skinner Mrs. Peters Thelma Bates Mrs. Hale Jean Colyer

Mrs. Wright is suspected of killing her husband, who was found strangled in bed. The Sheriff and Attorney come to the now deserted house in search of evidence. They bring with them two women to collect certain articles requested by Mrs. Wright, who is being held in jail. While the men are upstairs carrying out a scientific investigation the women busy themselves with trifles. In so doing they discover the desired evidence and also Mrs. Wright's motives for her action. However, they withhold their conclusions because they understand the strange loneliness of the woman and the circumstances which drove her to seeming insanity.

Drama League Offers Speech Scholarships

The Drama League Travel Bureau, a non-commercial organization, has at its disposal scholarships covering full tuition for the six weeks' summer session at the Central School of Speech and Drama, affiliated with the University of London. These scholarships are primarily intended for students interested in literary and drama study, but are also given for the more important purpose of promoting international understanding. We are very eager that the donors of these scholarships shall not be disappointed in the response to the unusual opportunity offered American students.

Students of the theatre and teachers of drama and its allied arts are eligible to come before the committee on awards, and application blanks may be obtained from the League's headquarters in the Hotel Barbizon-Plaza, New York. We welcome all letters of inquiry concerning the granting of scholarships.

The Mathematics and Physical Science Club will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 in the New Ceramic building. An interesting lecture will be given by Prof. Potter.

Novel Idea Boosts Stock of Campbell's Movies

Thursday night, Feb. 15th, excitement prevailed in the different houses on the campus. With a few exceptions almost everyone who was not engaged, married, or going steady signed up for a blind date. The idea of the entire project was to get more couples to go to the show "Blind Adventure".

Professor Campbell's idea was accepted by some with pleasure, by others with distaste. The student body as a whole entered into the spirit of the thing, and (much to Prof. Campbell's delight) Alumni Hall was occupied even in the balcony.

Here is the way the dates were made: Each house sent a list of men or women who were willing to go on this "Blind Adventure". The men were told which house to go to. One woman in the places knew who was coming for who. When the doorbell rang, heads pecked from the curtains each one wondering who her date was with.

When the men and women were coupled they went to the show and then to the game. To the surprise of many the adventure was quite a success. Few were disappointed, but then we are all bound to have bumps along our paths.

COURTMEN PLAY TWO HERE THIS WEEK

A rejuvenated Alfred University Varsity was looking forward to games this week with Allegheny and St. Bonaventure College cagers. The Saxons will oppose the "gators", Thursday night, and the Bonnies on Saturday night. Both contests will be played in Field Gym here.

With the games, the Alfredites hope to pull themselves out of a slump, which starting a little more than a week ago, destroying all opportunity that Alfred previously had of winning the New York State Intercollegiate (Little Ten) Conference title.

Against Allegheny College, Alfred should have and has plenty of reasons for wanting to clock in victory. One is as a matter of redemption in the eyes of local fans, but more important are others. In football a year ago this last fall, the Pennsylvania school took an unexpected victory, while on the hardwood last spring they were as lucky again.

As for St. Bonaventure College, that intense rivalry that always has existed between the two institutions still predominates. This in itself warrants what Alfred officials anticipate will be the largest crowd of the season to witness a basketball game here.

The Saxons are doubly anxious to defeat the Bonnies. Earlier this season Alfred lost to the Bonnies on the Brown and White floor. That defeat, however, may be chalked up to the fact, that at that time Alfred had a brilliant chance for the conference championship. Because of this the fact that a couple of nights later Alfred was to play University of Buffalo, a conference team, Coach Gallows substituted plenty to conserve his regulars.

On the other hand, the Brown and White Hoopsters have been scalped by Canisius, but have won the major. (Continued on page four)

FROSH RUN WIN STREAK TO TEN BEATING R. B. I. AND GENESEO

Alfred University's yearling cagers today looked with pride upon their auspicious record of ten consecutive triumphs and the two defeats they handed opponents this past week. Against Geneseo Normal here Wednesday night, the Purple administered a 33-20 trouncing to the teachers and in Rochester, Saturday night, won an impressive 31-17 victory from R. B. I.

A last half offensive barrage, after battling Rochester Business Institute on even terms in the initial half, brought a 31-17 triumph to Alfred University's freshmen cagers in the "Flower City," Saturday night. It left the Saxon record of ten straight victories untarnished.

R. B. I. chalked up the first basket of the game, and a free throw shortly afterwards put them in a three point lead. The Saxons though came back with two field goals to take the lead and after that maintained a lead until the curtain was dropped.

At half-time, the yearlings led 12-10. During the rest period, Coach James McLane must have given his men some mighty fine pointers regarding their form. At least the yearlings came back with a bang, to pile up an impressive lead by the end of the third quarter, while the R. B. I. team was held to only one field goal and a couple of points via the free throw route.

Nick Oberhanick was Alfred's offensive ram. He garnered 10 points. Likewise, he gave a stellar performance in his right guard position, by holding his opponent scoreless during the evening. Davis, colossal six foot five inch Alfred center, had little difficulty in obtaining the center tip-off, which greatly aided. He too, chalked up seven points for second scoring honors.

The entire team, however, displayed exceptional form with other individuals starring in different phases. Schumaker, newest addition to the squad, started the game for the first time since joining the squad. He had an off-night as far as scoring goes though, but did display his mettle as a floor man.

In the last quarter, Coach McLane substituted to give other men on his squad experience.

CERAMIC NOTES

News from the Alfred exhibition of the Ceramic Guild work in Richmond, Virginia, tells us of a large sale of pottery. The exhibition has been so greatly appreciated in Richmond that an extension of date has been requested.

Miss Betty Feurst of Toledo, stopped on her way to Boston, at Alfred last Tuesday. Miss Feurst was a student here in 1925.

Wednesday night at 8:15 the Ceramic Guild of Alfred will hold an important meeting in the Annex. As the result of the completion of required work on the part of some of the biscuits, several apprenticeships will be awarded at this time. The usual ten o'clock permission will be granted the girls desiring to attend the meeting.

THETA NU WINTER FORMAL

Theta Kappa Nu held its annual Winter Formal at the High School Gym, last Saturday evening.

In spite of the fact that Bea Scott and her orchestra from Elmira, who furnished the music, were a bit late, the dance proved enjoyable enough when it did get under way. Refreshments were served in the dining room during the intermission. (Continued on page three)

Against the highly touted Geneseoans, the Saxons opened the scoring and from that time on until the curtain led. During the first half though, the playing was plenty tough for both combines, and by far the contest never bore the semblance of a walk-away for the freshmen.

In the initial period, Alfred although leading all the way, found Geneseo with an almost airtight defense. At the same time both teams were feeling each other out with the result that at the end of the first quarter, Alfred led 6-4.

In the second quarter, Alfred did cut loose a bit, but encountered tough luck on many of the shots attempted. Geneseo, however, began to falter with the Saxon defense tightening. Little scoring in a physical recording was done though with the half-time showing totals of 10-7 with Alfred on the long end.

When Coach James McLane sent his yearlings back to the hardwood, after the rest period though, it was a different story. During the third period the Purple defense truly was airtight, because the visitors failed to even tally one field goal, but were forced to be satisfied with a couple of free throws, which they did manage to make good.

On the other hand, and although they had to work plenty hard and fast for every point, the freshmen literally smothered the Geneseoans with a deluge of 12 points—all of them via the field goal route. This advanced the yearlings considerably, while holding their opponents at a dead standstill.

Then in the last period, Coach McLane began to substitute, to give almost his entire squad an opportunity to play and gain experience. Even the substitutes showed up favorably, holding the visitors to a par in scoring and the other departments of the game, although consideration must be made for the visitors, inasmuch as they were opposed by fresh players.

Geneseo, however, made numerous substitutions also. These though were made by the upstate mentor in the hope of putting on the floor a com- (Continued on page four)

Word comes of the cancellation of tentative arrangements for the Athletic Banquet. This thoroughly commendable project was to have honored those men who, this year and in other years, sacrificed much, perhaps for personal glory, but certainly what they gave to Alfred was in some measure a contribution to each and every undergraduate and graduate. They cooperated to that extent, yet the Banquet has been called off because of lack of cooperation. And get this, the athletes were even willing to pay their own way to a banquet at which they were supposed to be honored guests according to the original plans. Those in charge had looked forward to hearing Andy Kerr and John Moakley speak at the banquet and we don't hear them every day.

Its too bad we cannot shake off the lethargy we have fallen into. This is not the first worthwhile venture to go over the side. Think it over and see how much you cooperate with well even with your own ideas.

The 23rd Psalm of an Engineer's Sweetheart

(Reprinted from the Rensselaer Polytechnic)

Verily, I say unto you, marry not an engineer.

For an Engineer is a strange being, and is possessed of many evils.

Yea, he speaketh eternally in parables which he calleth formulæ, And he wieldeth a big stick which he calleth a slide rule.

And he hath only one bible, a hand book.

He thinketh only of stresses and strains, and without end of thermo-dynamics.

He showeth always a serious aspect and seemeth not to know how to smile, and he picketh his seat in a car by the springs therein and not by the damsels.

Neither does he know a water except by its horsepower, nor a sunset except that he must turn on the lights, nor a damsel except by her live weight.

Always he carrieth his books with him, and he entertaineth his sweetheart with steam tables.

Verily, though his damsel expected chocolates when he calleth, She openeth the package to disclose samples of iron ore.

Yea, he holdeth her hand but to measure the friction hereof.

And he kisseth her only to test the viscosity of her lips.

For in her eyes there shineth a faraway look that is neither

Love nor longing—rather a vain attempt to recall a formula.

There is but one key to his heart and that is Cum Laude, and When his damsel writeth of love and signeth with crosses, he Taketh these symbols, not for kisses, but rather

For unknown quantities.

Even as a boy he pulleth a girls hair but to test its elasticity. But as a man he discovereth different devices; For he counteth the vibrations of her heartstrings; and

He seeketh ever to persue his scientific investigations. Even his own heart flutterings he counteth as a vision of beauty, and enseribeth his passion as a formula.

And his marriage is a simultaneous equation involving two unknowns and yielding diverse results.

Verily, I say unto ye, marry not an Engineer.

Attention is called to the changes in the staff of the Fiat Lux. All material for publication should be in the hands of the proper department heads not later than Friday afternoon of each week in order to be printed. Material coming in later cannot be accepted with the exception of special sports write-ups.

Ada Becker Seidlin

ADA BECKER SEIDLIN

By Thelma M. Bates

Ada Becker Seidlin, one of the most talented members of our faculty, was born in New York City, where she made her home until she came to Alfred, after her marriage.

She received her early training in public school and later attended the Washington Irving High School. However, school life was merely part of her education. Miss Becker began to study music at the early age of nine, with an assistant to Paul Gallico, one of the best known artists of the time. As a child she walked half way across New York City, each night after school, to practice for an hour.

All through high school, Miss Becker did a great deal of piano work. Nevertheless, she did not lose interest in school affairs. For two years she held the presidency of an association formed by the entire high school.

At eighteen Miss Becker was soloist with the New York Symphony Orchestra. The following year she made her debut at Aeolian Hall, now known as Town Hall.

Upon the completion of her high school course, Miss Becker entered the Malkin Conservatory of Music in New York. Later she studied under Leopold Godowsky.

In a short time she re-entered the Conservatory as a teacher and became associate to Mr. Fanfred Malkin, himself.

Through her entire life, Mrs. Seidlin has been vitally interested in music. In her youth she was literally steeped in it and her brother and sister are also musicians of note.

Her entire family was intensely interested in dramatics as well, and spent most of their time in the theaters and concert halls. There is not a single actor or actress of note that is not familiar to all of them.

Mrs. Seidlin reads all types of literature with avidity and when she finds time for it, she enjoys cooking.

When absent from New York, Mrs. Seidlin misses the music life to which she was accustomed. Her one great hope and ambition is to some day have a series of really fine concerts, comparable to those in Rochester and Buffalo, included in the college curriculum.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

A GUY went into a big clothing store and asked for suspenders. The salesman showed him the only ones he had. They were kind of thin, pale looking stuff, made to wear with long-tailed coats.

"Nope. They won't do," says the customer.

"Well, I'll sell 'em to you cheap."

"But they won't do."

"Now listen. 'I'll let you have 'em for half a dollar, because they're the last ones we got. Half a dollar. Try 'em, anyhow. Take a chance. You can't lose much at half a dollar, you know."

The customer fingered the buttonholes of the suspenders.

"I'm not so sure about that," he says. "I couldn't lose nothing but the half dollar and my pants, but then, that'd be plenty."

SPOTLIGHT

On Thursday, Feb. 22, at Alumni Hall, a clever set-up of pictures is to be shown. The feature of the bill, "College Coach," with Dick Powell, Ann Dvorak, Pat O'Brien, and Lyle Talbot is a first rate picture with plenty of action and thrills. It is a story of professional football in a modern American college and is bitingly satirical. If you are a football fan be sure not to miss this picture.

Also, is showing "Dirty Work" a Laurel and Hardy comedy. This alone is enough to incite everyone to attend, but in addition, it is one of their best pictures.

"Kennel Kings," a reel about dogs will be shown; and who lives that has not a fond memory or hope of a good dog. There will be a news reel and a cartoon to complete the program for Thursday night.

On Saturday, Feb. 24, the feature will be "Broadway To Hollywood". Here is mighty good entertainment depicting the greatest production of backstage life ever portrayed. It contains grand acting, which is to be expected with Frank Morgan, Jackie Cooper, Alice Brady, and Madge Evans among the players cast. It is the story of a family of vaudeville actors who end, when vitaphone productions become the vogue, in Hollywood. Laughter, romance, and pathos combine to make it one of the most completely entertaining pictures ever filmed.

A cartoon and a really laughable

Dr. Joseph Seidlin

DR. JOSEPH SEIDLIN

By Margery Sherman

Legend has it that good things come in threes, however, Dr. Seidlin does the old order one better. Four is the predominant number in his life.

When Dr. Seidlin was fourteen years old, he went to live on a farm, and worked there for four years, without schooling of any kind. After that, he attended a private school and took entrance examinations to the University of Missouri. In this one year he completed the required four years of high school.

Dr. Seidlin majored in forestry at Missouri and he also attended Cornell, but received his degree with a major in Mathematics from Columbia. Four years of post graduate work he spent there, also, with a couple of summer sessions thrown in.

In his senior year in college, Dr. Seidlin completed forty-four hours of credit. At the same time he taught English, History, German, and Physical Geography in a preparatory school just to keep himself out of mischief.

Although by profession a mathematician, music has always been a major interest in his life. He has taken voice training for sometime, and in Cornell he was a member of the advanced choir. In college he attended every concert and musical possible.

At four o'clock in the morning of a beautiful fall day, fourteen years ago, Dr. Seidlin arrived in Alfred. He had accepted the position of the Professorship of Physics. In 1924 he resigned this, and was appointed as Professor of Mathematics.

Dr. Seidlin feels that one of his greatest opportunities came when he observed teaching for two years in New York City high schools.

Alfred has seen Dr. Seidlin as a one time coach of wrestling and as President of the Wee Playhouse. Here is a man who does not care about hunting, but finds bridge a most entertaining game.

Students of Alfred know Dr. Seidlin for his subtle humor, his universal mindedness, his keen logic, and, most of all, they know him as a teacher of inestimable worth.

The fellows at Kappa Psi agree that the Senior Ball was a great success, and wish to commend the Seniors for their fine work.

Congratulations to Dr. Campbell and his blind adventure idea. If the girls enjoyed our company as much as we did theirs, there will be more blind adventures in the future. How do you co-eds feel about the matter?

Tough luck Wrestling team at Buffalo. Let's take the last meet.

Stiff competition, Basketball team! Still four games left to win.

Brothers Arwine, Tolbert and Rick-er attended the Annual Ceramic Convention.

Here's a warning from Ross Cihella to fraternity members. Don't accept a date for the Ceramic festival till you are sure that a girl is calling. Some Bartlett fellows can talk like girls and they had Ross fooled for quite a while. Charlie Forbes does have an innocent look on his face, doesn't he?

Kappa Psi takes great pleasure in announcing the pledging of William Duff.

Bartlett Dorm

The fellows of the second floor were not only shocked but surprised at the passing of that "Spanish Stuff" as played by that ever smiling Smock. He now plays some dandy tangoes. One in particular is a "wow". It is a mixture of "Tiger Rag" and "Hearts and Flowers". Just think of that swell harmony that could be gotten from those two songs. What the fellows would give for that sheet of music, but as the fellows say, Smock, "Mums" the word after this.

Candy, popcorn, chewing gum and all kinds of cigarettes is what Al Sheehen says. He has anything you want within reason.

Quite a few of the fellows have asked what has happened to Jack Schamis, Hardie Fueberg, Mortz De Scheare and Tony Pittone. Well they have been hitting the books pretty hard and are setting a swell example for the fellows to follow. Just think—they have even formed a chemistry class, which meets every Thursday night at the Dorm. Would you care to come? Well then—just drop around.

Farmes "Butterfly Lover" Davis, that big, strong, handsome man is quite the thing with the women. Oh—you simply must get him to tell you about his trip to Canada and about his advent into show business. What was it you bought—Farmes?

Pete Geller is just dying to have something said about him. Well—he lives on the fourth floor and asks to be invited to dances on the campus.

A week of defeats leaves little to cheer about—unless it be the splendid exhibitions of the opposition. The Alfred basketball team met two teams which were their superiors—at least on the nights which they met Clarkson and St. Lawrence, and all the Monday morning quarterbacks, and bleacher coaches cannot change that fact. The two quintets from the north country were ably coached, finely coordinated units. They played hard, clean basketball, and it proved to be winning ball—as it usually does.

Lest we forget—and all of us are wont to, that Frosh outfit continued on its undefeated way with a one-sided victory over R. B. I. at Rochester. The yearling outfit has made a splendid record and we are pulling for them to finish with a clean slate. The strain becomes greater with each ensuing game, but thus far there has been no indication of a let-down.

Buffalo has not been kind to Alfred if what we have heard concerning the wrestling matches at the Queen City of the Lakes is an criterion. Coach Felli found that the hold which Alfred matmen have used with such effectiveness in recent matches—the figure four—is not legal and furthermore a man can't be thrown with it! We wish that official could have seen Michigan State a few years ago at the Hornell Armory! If we recall correctly, three of Alfred's best men were tossed in short order by the mid-west grapplers, and they used the figure four hold to do it.

Our wish was realized when Bill Bonthron took Cunningham and Venzke in the Baxter Mile in Madison Square, Saturday night. The Princeton miler, who was going great guns in cross country last fall until he suffered a collapse in the ale Race, has apparently recuperated, and flashed his old form by pulling one of his daring sprints just twenty yards from the tape. Never a front runner, we have long felt that he could take even Lovelock if he ran as he wished to run. You may recall that he won both the half and mile in the IC4A Meet last spring. The Yale vaulting trio continues to romp off with that event—Brown setting a new indoor record at fourteen feet four inches last Saturday.

Incidentally, the above mentioned race packed the Garden which you may recall was built for boxing, but has never been filled for a boxing match. Only two sports have succeeded in packing them in—Hockey and Track. Graft, petty managers, fixed fights, and general racketeering has spelled the doom of the "manly art". Imagine the Carnera-Loughran fight being called off because of a social event in Philadelphia. Shades of Dempsey and Tex Richard! They were the good old days!

Varsity Drops Third Consecutive Game

Off-par for two successive nights and with both opponents admitted by their coaches to be playing their best ball of the season, Alfred University's eagers took it on the nose in two home games last week. Clarkson administered the first defeat, 34-26 and St. Lawrence the following night did the same, 34-21.

Student Senate Notes

Mr. Butler presented an application for financial support for the Forensic Society. This will be acted on at the next meeting of the Senate on March 4th. Any other honorary organization on the campus may make a like application at that time.

The Senate asks the entire student body, especially manager, to help enforce all campus rules by cooperating with Campus Court and the Senate.

Upon the recommendation of Mr. Kingsley of Campus Court and Miss Bastow of W. S. G., it was decided to re-organize Campus Court for the rest of the year. The jury will be cut down to one Junior from each organization, the present officers of the court will be working on a plan for the permanent reorganization of the court for next year. The Senate made it clear to Miss Bastow and Mr. Kingsley that they will back them up to the best of their ability, they also pointed out that the Senate has the power to act in any case which seemed beyond the scope of Campus Court or W. S. G.

The Senate wishes to make it clear to Freshmen that the rule on wearing caps to games applies, regardless what time or date the contest takes place.

It was decided to have a meeting of the Student Body, Feb. 22d, to decide what action should be taken in regard to Cross Country awards.

The matter of sponsoring an athletic banquet was dropped due to lack of interest, the inability to obtain a suitable place to hold such a banquet and the financial expense it would involve.

ity of their games, including Niagara and Alfred at their home court. Leading the St. Bonny attack is Saporito, hard-fighting, speedy forward, who was high scorer in the last Alfred-St. Bonaventure meet. His shots are difficult to block as he jumps into the air and twists around to shoot. Another menace is Eugene Lee, shifty center, around whom the St. Bonny boys work their pivot plays. Their defense is backed up by "Jumbo" Alexin a husky guard, who hails from Hornell.

Alfred's undefeated frosh will play preliminaries to both games, meeting Geneseo-Wesleyan on Thursday night and St. Bonas frosh on Saturday night. Both events will start at 7 o'clock.

ination that could compete against the Saxons. It was to no avail, however, with each of the four men sent in, failing to do any better than their outgoing teammates.

Scoring was fairly evenly distributed among the freshmen. Schumaker, a recent addition to the squad, was substituted shortly after the game started, to repeat a second consecutive stellar performance. The rest of the team clicked as a unit. Davis stood out, gaining the jump; Oberhanick and Cudebec led the offensive with Shackter reclining to a brilliant defensive game, which also kept the freshman at a conservative and steady pace.

Will Rogers Picks
A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

I SUPPOSE there is such a thing as a kid that loves cod liver oil, castor oil, and spinach. But it don't somehow seem quite natural.

A kid might like one of the three and hate circuses, and still be kind of normal, maybe. But if he liked all three and didn't especially care to see an elephant, I reckon that kid ought to be looked after.

Well, there was a kid by the name of Johnny that stuffed his mouth full of dates, just before dinner, and his mother bawled him out terrible. She told him he'd have to go to bed without any dinner.

So Johnny cried. When his dad came in and asked what was the matter, he said, "I'm bawlin' because I can't have my cod liver oil."

"That's queer. Why can't you have it?"

"Well, it's to be taken after meals, and Ma won't let me eat my dinner!"

MYSTERY SOLVED

W. P. Cortelyou's (copyright) radio experimental station received word from station H-A-R-P, Ireland, that the airplane said to be roaming over the eastern part of our country has landed in Ireland. Through this paper's investigation it has been reported that the pilot will again attempt to cross the dangerous, daring, dramatic, devilish, deep expanse to return to this country in search of the sleepy village in the valley of the hills.

Rather than to attempt the hazardous journey alone he is bringing with him, The one and only "Saint Pat," whose feast will soon be observed. Let us all be ready to greet him with 100% attendance at the greatest celebration of St. Pat that the campus has ever witnessed.
