ALFRED, NY -- Elisabeth Estep, a senior from Horseheads, NY, who played four years on the volleyball team at Alfred University, is one of four finalists for the 2019 Coach Wooden Citizen's Cup, a national honor that recognizes the most outstanding role models among collegiate student-athletes.

The award, a physical representation of the student-athlete's character and leadership both on and off the field, is presented to one professional or Olympic athlete, one female high school athlete, one male high school athlete and one collegiate athlete. That Estep is among the finalists for this prestigious award is noteworthy, given that nominees come from colleges and universities at all levels of NCAA designation, regardless of size or division.
