PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

To the Trustees of Alfred University:

The President has the honor to submit his twenty-fourth annual report, namely for the eighty-third year of Alfred University, beginning with June 12, 1918, and ending with June 17, 1919.

The year has been exceptional in many respects. It has laid unusual responsibilities and burdens upon the President and faculty, and calls for a report that is somewhat out of the ordinary. The serious illness of Prof. Ford S. Clarke has also added its burden of work and anxiety.

Necrology

Dr. Daniel Lewis, LL. D., a member of the board of trustees, died at Alfred, New York, March 22, 1919, in his seventy-fourth year. Dr. Lewis graduated from Alfred University in the class of 1869, after having served his country as soldier in the Civil War. He later studied medicine and graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York in 1871. He soon rose to eminence in his profession in the City of New York, and for many years stood at the head of his profession in this state. Aside from connection with various hospitals and medical schools of New York City, he was appointed Commissioner of Health of New York State in 1895, and continued as head of the Health Department of the State of New York for ten years. He was also editor for many years of the Medical Review of Reviews. His varied and active professional duties, however, did not prevent him from rendering most valuable and constant service to his Alma Mater. In 1887 at the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Alfred, Dr. Lewis was instrumental with other alumni in organizing the Alumni Association of Alfred University. He was its first president, and was again elected president in 1888, 1889, 1896 and 1897. No other man ever held the office so many times or took so deep and abiding interest in the Alumni Association. In 1887 Dr. Lewis secured the consolidation of the libraries belonging to the four lyceums with the college library, making one large university library. He has long been considered the founder of the university library, and has made many generous contributions to the library, including in part, his own private collection of rare and expensive volumes. He was elected a member of the Board of Trustees in 1884 and served continuously on this board until the time of his death, being the longest in continuous membership of any member of the Board. Though Col. William Wallace Brown was elected a trustee before Dr. Lewis, there was a period of time during his residence in Washington in which his membership was discontinued. Dr. Lewis served on many committees of the Board, particularly for more than twenty years, on the Teaching Force Committee. Alfred University conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1886 and the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in 1902. The two years previous to his death, Dr. Lewis had held official connection with the University as Medical Adviser. Few men have shown an equal loyalty and faithful devotion to their Alma Mater and served so untiringly and unselfishly its interests for so long a period of consecutive service. Few men could be more greatly missed from the activities of Alfred University and from the meetings of its board of trustees, from which he was almost never absent. His memory will be cherished in undying affection and esteem.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees held at Alfred, March 24, 1919, the following resolution was adopted:

Tribute to Dr. Daniel Lewis

"The Trustees of Alfred University desire to place on record their sense of great loss and sorrow in the death of Dr. Daniel Lewis, who died in Alfred, N. Y., March 22, 1919.

In token of our respect and high regard for him as a trustee, a citizen and a patriot, we direct that all regular exercises of Alfred University be suspended on the afternoon of his funeral, March 26th, and that the flag on the campus be lowered to half-mast on that occasion.

As a colleague on the Board of Trustees for thirty-five years, Dr. Lewis endeared himself to the members of the Board and rendered a great and imperishable service to Alfred University, to the State and to society in general.

During all these years, he has seldom ever missed a regular meeting of the Board, traveling often from New York City and back at his own expense in order to be present. He has served on the Executive Committee and on the Board of Managers of the State School of Agriculture. Also he was a member of the Committee on Teaching Force for over twenty years. He was a prime mover in the organization of the Alumni Association of Alfred University in 1886, and was its first president. On four different occasions later, he also served as president.

It was through his efforts that the present University library was organized by the consolidation of the several small libraries which previously existed. He has been a generous contributor to the library including, in part, his own private collection of rare and expensive volumes.

His state-wide and national service for public health, enlarged his power to serve his Alma Mater. His wise counsel, his boundless optimism and his enthusiastic devotion, made him dearly beloved as an alumnus, friend and trustee, whose influence is written large in the history of Alfred University for more than half a century.

The Trustees desire that these minutes be engrossed upon the records of the University, and a copy transmitted to his widow, to whom with his other relatives, the Trustees extend heartfelt sympathy."

Rev. Lester C. Randolph, D. D., trustee from 1900 to 1910, died at his home in Milton, Wis., November 21, 1918. Dr. Randolph became pastor of the First Seventh Day Baptist Church of Alfred in 1900 and was at once elected a trustee. In 1904, Alfred University conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Dr. Randolph was an active, resourceful trustee and friend of Alfred. He was an able and eloquent preacher of the Gospel, and a pleasing and forceful popular lecturer. He was loved and esteemed not only for his wise counsels, but for his optimism, his good cheer, and his enthusiastic co-operation in all that pertained to Alfred's welfare. He will probably be longest and most affectionately remembered as the author of the Alma Mater song, "Hail to Thee, Alfred."

Lucia Weed Clawson, instructor in Public Speaking since 1915, died of influenza and bronchial pneumonia, October 12, 1918. She was a graduate of the Leland Powers School of Expression in Boston, class of 1909. She was a student of artistic taste and temperament, and possessed to an unusual degree, the power of literary appreciation and interpretation. She was a teacher of rare gifts and charming personality.

Frank Jones Weed, A. B., Professor of Instrumental Music from 1913 to 1916, died of influenza and pneumonia, October 13, 1918. He was a graduate of Bowdoin College, class of 1907, and also of the New England Conservatory of Music in 1912. He was a teacher of recognized ability and superior technique. Always courteous and gracious in manner, he was loved and respected by all who knew him.

During the epidemic of influenza in the early part of October, four students of the College died; Harry Hemphill of Coudersport, Pa., died October 3, 1918; Doris Elouise Smith of Alfred, October 7; Mildred Leona Stillman of Alfred, October 8; and John Thomas of Swains, N. Y., October 14. The young men were members of the S. A. T. C. All except Miss Stillman, who was a Sophomore, were members of the Freshman class. They were all young people of the highest Christian character, and their untimely death brought great sorrow to the entire faculty, student body and the community. One student of the Agricultural School died of influenza during the epidemic, Sherman Hibbard of North Collins, N. Y. He was esteemed and loved by all who knew him.

The Students' Army Training Corps

The offer of the Government to organize a Students' Army Training Corps in Alfred University, met with a hearty response. The faculty which remained about the same as the previous year, entered into the new opportunity with enthusiasm and energy. Members of the faculty canvassed the neighboring counties for eligible young men to enroll in the unit. One hundred and forty-seven men had already been inducted at the time that the armistice was signed, and nine others were enrolled awaiting induction. The Government required the College to turn over the Ladies Hall dormitory to the unit for a barracks and mess hall. Necessary alterations were made and the men installed with such furniture as the College could provide, and in the promise of further additions by the Government. The residence of Mrs. C. D. Renyolds was leased for a year as a Junior House for girls, and the residence of Mrs. Mae Chase was leased for a year as a Senior House; and Burdick Hall was used as a dormitory for the girls of the Freshman and Sophomore classes.

The courses of study for the men of the S. A. T. C. had to be greatly modified in order to meet the requirements of the Government; while the regular college course had to be maintained to accommodate the women students and the few men who were not eligible to the S. A. T. C.

The serious epidemic of influenza breaking out early in October also greatly interfered with the organization and conduct of the educational work of the University. Aside from the deaths above referred to, more than fifty students were ill with the influenza. The difficulty in obtaining medical service and sufficient nurses, was very great. An emergency hospital was organized in the barracks, and every effort was put forth to care for the sick in the best possible way and to provide against the spread and continuance of the epidemic. Though suffering greatly from the epidemic, Alfred was probably more favored than many colleges, and we have been fortunate in that there has been no recurrence of the epidemic since October.

The Government made a contract with the University to pay $1.00 per day for board and housing, and $.35 per day for instruction. If this contract had been carried out through the year with the 156 men who were enrolled, the arrangement would have proven of financial benefit to Alfred University as well as an opportunity to do an important patriotic service. The signing of the armistice however, on November 11, caused the demobilization of the unit on December 10. The demobilization left the College without any net compensation for its service either in giving instruction, or board and lodging for the men. The cost of alterations and then of restoring Ladies Hall to a satisfactory condition for occupancy by women students, and the loss of income from the rent of rooms for the remainder of the year, absorbed all receipts for instruction. The total receipts from the Government, for instruction, housing and board, aggregated approximately $20,000, and the total cost of the S. A. T. C., including alteration and restoration, approximated $20,000; so that we will be able to break even on the matter of expense, while the only compensation for all our labor and instruction is the improved condition of the Hall after its restoration, and the satisfaction which we have that we have done our bit for the cause of the country and for the freedom of the world.

After demobilization, about one-third of the enrollment of the S. A. T. C. remained in College. The others returned to their homes and their various occupations, after their discharge.

The Government detailed five army officers to have charge of the unit; John W. Mott, Captain, Commanding Officer from October 1 to November 17, 1918; Russell Bonyng, Captain, Commanding Officer from November 18, 1918; Francis B. Baumler, 2d Lieutenant; Richard B. Thomas, 2d Lieutenant; Joseph A. Scott, 2d Lieutenant; Allan P. Walcott, 2d Lieutenant.

New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics

No change has occurred in the faculty of the Ceramic School during the past school year. The attendance which had suffered some depletion on account of the war, has been largely increased since the signing of the armistice. The present Freshman class is the largest in the history of the school.

New York State School of Agriculture

The most important change in the staff of instruction in the New York State School of Agriculture, was the resignation of Director W. J. Wright, to take effect December 1, 1918, Director Wright became state leader for rural project work, with headquarters at Cornell University. Prof. W. R. Cone of the Farm Crops Department, was made acting director for the remainder of the year.

The attendance, particularly of men, has been greatly reduced during the war. The signing of the armistice and the demobilization of the army, did not produce the same increase in attendance in the Agricultural School as in the School of Ceramics or the College; but it is hoped that with another year, there will be a return to the large attendance of former years.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers held in Alfred, May 19, Carl Edwin Ladd, Ph. D., agricultural expert in the New York State Education Department, was elected director, to begin his duties July 1. Dr. Ladd is a graduate of Cornell University, and has had a wide experience as agricultural expert and educator, and gives promise of making a worthy successor to the distinguished men who have served this school as director, in the past.

The State Education Department has made provision for the School of Agriculture to participate in the federal Smith-Hughes fund under certain conditions which are laid down by the Federal Government and the State Education Department. This will make possible a substantial increase in the salaries of the director and a number of instructors whose work is strictly agricultural.

Alfred Theological Seminary

Dean Arthur E. Main, whose serious illness was reported one year ago, has sufficiently recovered to resume in part, his class work. Otherwise the Seminary has been conducted as normally, and a considerable number of college students have availed themselves of the opportunity afforded for class instruction in religious education. Three regular and nine special students have been in attendance.

Summer School

The fifth session of the summer school was held from July 9 to August 21, 1918. The war conditions made a large attendance impracticable. The interest and work accomplished however, were of a high order, and it is believed that the prospects for the coming year indicate an increased attendance, and a better financial support than formerly.

Registration

The total registration of all departments of Alfred University for the past year, has been as follows:

The College (including S. A. T. C.)	252
Theological Seminary (9 special) regular	3
Ceramic School	56
Agricultural School	119
Summer School	45
Music Department	71

Total 546

Of this total, 181 are duplicates, leaving a registration of 365 different individuals for the year.

Library

The Library has received about 60 volumes from the library of the late William H. Crandall, presented by his wife, Kate Clarke Crandall. Also it has received a very valuable painting by the celebrated artist, Col. Julian Scott, entitled "The Blue and the Gray," presented by Mrs. Mabel Potter Hubbard of Plainfield, N. J.; also a fine copy of Ritchie's engraving. "The First Reading of the Emancipation Proclamation Before the Cabinet," presented by Judge Clarence Willis of Bath, N. Y.

Athletics

In connection with the Students' Army Training Corps, military instruction was substituted for the usual physical training courses for men.

For the first time, Alfred has employed during the past year, a physical instructor for women. Our girls have enjoyed superior opportunities in this department under a competent instructor. It is greatly to be desired that this arrangement for a woman instructor in physical training be continued; although the problem of providing separate instruction for women and men, will add something to the financial burden.

Interscholastic Meet

The Interscholastic Meet was held this year on May 14. A larger number of entries than ever before, were made. Haverling High School at Bath, N. Y., was successful in winning the prize cup. In the prize speaking contest, the first prize for boys was won by Walter McCarthy of Corning, Northside High School; and the first prize for girls was won by Miss Eleanor Crane of Hornell.

New Central Heating Plant

The central heating plant installed during last year, has proven most successful and satisfactory as a heating system. Six buildings have been connected with the plant, and heated entirely by it. About six hundred tons of soft coal have been consumed. This is a larger amount than was anticipated, but for the first time in our history, the buildings have been thoroughly and satisfactorily warmed.

An additional boiler should be installed at an early date, so as to provide a larger capacity for extremely cold weather, and a second boiler in case of any accident or incapacity of the present one for regular use.

Soft coal can be purchased for from $2.60 to $2.90 per ton at the mine. The freight cost is about $1.90 per ton. The cartage from the Station to Alfred is $1.00 per ton, making the total cost therefore, approximately $5.65 per ton. This brings the cost of heating to about $3500 for fuel. An additional cost heretofore unnecessary, has been a night engineer who must now be provided for cold weather.

The difficulty of securing teams, and the cost of carting six hundred tons of coal, make a further problem, the solution of which may require the purchase of a motor truck. If the University had any considerable amount of carting in addition to the coal, it would be much more economical to buy a truck and do our own work. At present however, there is no prospect for a great amount of work for a truck in addition to carting coal.

Repairs and Improvements to Buildings

It has been necessary during the past year to make substantial repairs to the Babcock Hall of Physics. The iron siding of the west wing has long been in bad condition and the building was taking damage by admitting water through the rusty siding. Also the roof condition was such as to require alterations and repairs. During last summer vacation therefore, these repairs to the roof were made and the building was sided with dark red composition shingles which match reasonably well the brick work, and make a permanent water-proof siding for the building. These repairs cost about $575.

Extensive repairs were also found necessary for Ladies' Hall following its use as a barracks and mess-hall by the Students' Army Training Corps. These repairs have been made at a cost of about $5000 and charged to the Students' Army Training Corps. All paper and paint are new and fresh and the bathrooms are somewhat improved by the alterations which have been made.

For many years, the third floor of the south wing has been used for kitchen and dining room purposes by students living on that floor, and getting their own breakfasts and suppers. It has been thought advisable by the Committee on Buildings and Grounds to discontinue the self-boarding in the Brick and to fit up on this floor five additional rooms which will accommodate two students each. This work has already been done as a part of the repairs of the next year. The bill for the same has not yet been rendered. The cost of these improvements is about $800, but will increase the annual revenue of the Brick when the rooms are filled, about $275, aside from giving room for additional students. While this work could be more easily and cheaply done in connection with the repairs made this spring, this improvement belongs under the budget for improvements and repairs for next year, and will be properly charged against that budget.

Lydia Bridgeman Will Contest

The action which was brought by Alfred University some years ago to set aside the deed of Lydia Bridgeman conveying her property to William Frace, and also to set aside the second will conveying her property to William Frace and his wife and to three cousins, and to establish a previous will conveying to William Frace $1000 and to Alfred University the residue of her estate, was decided by the Supreme Court in favor of Alfred University's contention. The case, however, has been carried up by William Frace to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, before which a hearing has not yet been had.

Increased Compensation for Teachers

Alfred has always paid exceptionally small salaries. No other college in the State of New York is paying so small salaries today as Alfred.

The movement toward standardization of colleges which was launched about five years ago, has now the support of the Association of American Colleges as well as of the Federal Bureau of Education. At the first, $1500 was fixed as a minimum salary for teaching of professional rank for standard colleges, but with the increased cost of living during the war, this minimum salary has been increased to $2000 per year.

In a bulletin issued by the Bureau of Education in Washington in 1918, it was shown that the average salary of professors in 25 of the smaller standard colleges is $2174, and it was recommended that colleges to be considered standard, should plan to make their salaries correspond to this minimum.

In a report of the National Conference Committee on standards of colleges, printed March 24, 1919, the report said:

"In order properly to perform its educational functions, a college should have at least a staff of eight, two-thirds of which are of professional rank, having had at least two years of study in a graduate school of recognized standing, receiving salaries of $2000 a year or more, and teaching not more than sixteen hours a week."

Alfred measures up to and above all the other requirements for standardization except this one in the matter of salaries. Both the federal bulletin and the National Conference Report, recommend that at least $24,000 be annually expended by a standard college for salaries for teaching and administration. For the past year, approximately $18,000 has been expended for teaching and administration by Alfred College, not including the Ceramic School, out of an income of approximately $40,000. A considerable portion of our endowments are for special purposes other than salaries, such as scholarships, caring for grounds, etc., but it is evident that we must make every effort to increase the total expenditure to a sum nearer the minimum of $24,000 for a standard college, and also nearer to the minimum of a salary of $2000 for a full professor. This is further necessary also, in order to retain our most important and best trained instructors.

While it seems impossible for Alfred to reach at a single advance these standardization minimums, the Committee on Teaching Force recommends that substantial increases be made approaching this minimum as rapidly as possible even though it may entail an annual deficit, until such time as the income be sufficiently enlarged to cover these necessary increases. The necessity of retaining our best prepared and most successful professors and the necessity for giving them a more adequate support if they stay with us, together with the importance of meeting standardization requirements in order to avoid adverse criticism for falling below, seems to the President, to compel the Trustees to adopt this policy. The report of the Teaching Force Committee will make specific recommendations and bring out the application of these principles in greater detail.

Teachers' Annuity and Insurance

Another important consideration for college teachers is provision for a retiring allowance, or old age annuity, and for cheap insurance protection during the years of earning power and the greater family dependence of professors.

The Carnegie Foundation has modified its policy from the granting of old age pensions to an arrangement by which annuities may be provided through the co-operation of the college and the instructor, and also provide for a cheap insurance protection amounting to $10,000 through forty-one years of age, and after that decreasing annually $300 until it reaches a minimum of $1000. This insurance the teacher must provide for himself without the help of the college.

It is the policy of the Carnegie Foundation to ask colleges to pay 5% on the teacher's salary provided the teacher will pay 5% of his salary for a fund which will provide a monthly allowance at or about sixty-five years of age, when he wishes to retire. This arrangement is practicable only for men who are under forty-one years of age, as to begin an annuity fund at a more advanced age, would not provide a sum of any appreciable worth without a larger payment than 5% of the salary.

The colleges are asked to adopt the plan of the Carnegie Foundation requiring new employees who shall come in after the adoption of the arrangement, to become participants in this fund, and allowing those who are already in the employ of the college, at the time of its adoption, to use their own discretion in the matter of participating.

The Foundation has set aside one million dollars, the income of which is to be used in aiding colleges not now on the Foundation but who adopt this new policy, to take care of their older professors who could not be aided through the adoption of this new program because of the large expense due to their advanced age.

Alfred University has never been admitted to the Foundation, although one professor, Dr. E. M. Tomlinson, was admitted as an individual at the time of his break-down in health.

The President would therefore recommend that the Trustees of Alfred University adopt the following resolution and thereby take advantage of the assistance of the Carnegie Foundation in providing retiring allowances for our teaching staff.

* "Resolved that the Trustees of Alfred University propose to participate in the contributory plan of old age annuities offered by the Teachers' Insurance and Annuity Association of America upon the following terms:

For all professors, associate professors and assistant professors entering the service of the college after July 1, 1919, participation in the contributory plan shall be obligatory. For all instructors entering the college after that date, who have had not less than one year of service, a similar contributory participation shall be obligatory.

The contribution shall be not less than five per cent of the active salary up to the limit of a full professor's salary, and the college will contribute a like amount in the case of each professor or instructor, contributing under the conditions named above.

In addition, the college proposes to make a similar contribution in the case of any teacher now in the service of the college below the age of forty-one who may elect to enter the contributory system; the trustees to reserve decision as to what plan they will adopt in dealing with the question of old age annuities for older teachers."

* NOTE—Action on this recommendation was postponed until time October meeting.

Improvement Fund and the Continuation Campaign for the Coming Year

One year ago it was decided to carry on our campaign of an Improvement Fund of $100,000 during the current year. A member of this board offered to contribute $5000 toward the $25,000 to be raised during the year. The proposition for the organizing of a S. A. T. C. unit at Alfred University came from the Government early in the summer vacation. The duties and labor incident to this unexpected task which also had the promise of a considerable financial benefit, absorbed the attention of the President and Dr. Titsworth, and made it impossible to push the campaign for funds during the early part of the year. Then came the influenza, affecting not only the college but the whole country. These handicaps with the multiplied drives due to the war, rendered it difficult for any soliciting campaign for general contributions.

The Executive Committee decided therefore to make a special effort during the year to interest a few people of large means in the hope of obtaining a number of very substantial gifts. Dr. A. S. MacKenzie of New York City entered into a contract with the Executive Committee to lead in this campaign for large gifts and to work mainly in and about New York City, the President to give such co-operation and assistance as he could. The contract with Dr. MacKenzie named him as the President's assistant, and proposed a compensation of $5000 per year conditioned on the raising of $50,000 in paid subscriptions, or such portion of this sum as should correspond to ten percent of the payments received on subscriptions; Dr. MacKenzie to pay for any personal service he might employ in this work and to receive only necessary traveling expenses for himself or his help.

Dr. MacKenzie began this work in December, and has continued the campaign up to the present time, having sent out a good deal of literature, many hundred letters and having had many personal interviews. The results of the campaign so far have not been as satisfactory as was expected either by Dr. MacKenzie or by the Executive Committee. It seems evident that much publicity work must be done by a college so small as Alfred and so little in the general public eye, before appealing to men of large means for large and substantial gifts. The President believes that this work which has been faithfully done, was a necessary preliminary work, and that the continuation of this campaign through the coming year and perhaps longer, will amply justify itself.

Dr. MacKenzie has made this campaign at a personal loss much greater than the investment which Alfred University has put into it.

While the only definite pledge through his efforts already received is $1000 from Dr. Herbert L. Wheeler of New York, many other men and women have had their attention called to Alfred and an interest has been created in the work which we are doing.

It is the hope of the President that with the continuation of this campaign, there will be the very general and hearty co-operation and assistance of the Board of Trustees and of the alumni of the College; and that such co-operation and assistance will make possible the accumulation of a large fund in the near future.

The President with Dr. MacKenzie, has visited the General Education Board and has obtained the consent of the Board to consider an application for $100,000 provided Alfred would raise from other sources $300,000. We have also visited the Secretary of the Carnegie Foundation, and have obtained from him a similar consent. It is the belief of the President that a larger goal should be placed in the coming year than the completion of a $100,000 fund. We now have nearly a half million dollars of endowments. An appeal to large foundations and to men of wealth for a fund of half a million dollars to raise our endowments to one million, would have a much stronger appeal than an effort to raise $25,000 or $50,000.

Furthermore a movement is now being launched throughout the entire country by what is known as the Inter-Church World Movement for the raising of $300,000,000 for religious and educational work. One hundred million dollars of this money is expected to be raised for the colleges of the country. The colleges to participate in this fund are to be recommended by church boards of education to which these colleges are affiliated. The Seventh-Day Baptist Education Society is a member of the National Council of Church Boards, and is therefore in position to recommend Alfred University as a participant in this fund. It is expected that a portion of this fund will be available for current expenses for colleges that are obliged to incur a larger expenditure than their present funds warrant, in order to make themselves standard colleges.

It is in anticipation of relief from this source for current expenses until our endowments shall reach a much larger sum, that I am encouraged to increase salaries even in the face of a deficit.

I believe however that with the great drive for the educational institutions of the country to be made during the coming year; with Alfred's participation in this national drive and with continuance of our campaign which Dr. MacKenzie has begun, and with his leadership in the coming year, Alfred may reasonably hope to obtain subscriptions and pledges within the next year or two which will increase its endowments to one million dollars, and will provide the revenue necessary to meet increased salaries due to standardization requirements.

* The President recommends therefore that the Trustees authorize a continuation campaign for the Improvement Fund with Dr. MacKenzie as leader, fixing the goal at $500,000 and that the Trustees approve a co-operation and participation in the national drive of the Inter-Church World Movement for $100,000,000 for educational institutions.

Since the coming year will complete the twenty-fifth year of service by the President as the head of Alfred University, the suggestion has been made that this improvement fund be called the Semi-Jubilee Victory fund. The President is not particular what name the fund is given. It is for improving the efficiency of Alfred University, and it is of the utmost importance that such a fund be created at the earliest possible moment.

Increased Tuition

The President also recommends that the tuition charge and incidental fee for the coming year be made $75 instead of $70 and made payable in three installments of $25 each, as the college is now operated on the three term basis. Furthermore that after the college year 1919-20, the tuition and incidental charges be fixed at $30 per term or $90 per year.

A Trustee Meeting in New York

The President has received inquiries from members of the Board of Trustees living in New York City as to whether an occasional meeting of the Board might not be held in the

* NOTE—Action on this recommendation was postponed until the October meeting.

City to very great advantage. Since a number of trustees who live in and near New York City, are seldom able to be in attendance at our meetings in Alfred, the President would recommend that the autumn meeting be held this year in New York City, and the date be fixed late enough in the autumn to secure the presence and attendance of the largest possible number of Trustees.

Honor Roll

Alfred University takes a just pride in the large and noble patriotic service which our brave boys rendered in the world war. Every branch of the service was worthily represented by Alfred men, who did gallant service in every task on land or sea or in the air.

From the alumni and students of the College, 250 men, and from the Agricultural School 128 men; in all 378, responded to the country's call. Of this number eight from the College and six from the Agricultural School made the supreme sacrifice, and gave their lives in the holy cause of world liberty.

The following is a list of the alumni and former students of Alfred University who have died in the service:

REPORT OF THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

To the President of Alfred University:

A report of the Seminary for the year 1918-1919, is herewith presented.

Teachers and Lecturers

Rev. Arthur E. Main, Dean, Professor of Theology.

Rev. William C. Whitford, Secretary, Professor of Biblical Languages and Literature.

A knowledge of the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures, of Systematic Theology and Church History, is still essential to highest Christian scholarship and greatest efficiency in the teaching and preaching of the Gospel; but in view of the extending fields of human knowledge and relations, a theological course, as well as other curricula, needs to be enlarged and varied in its scope.

Under existing and fortunate co-operation between the seminary and college the following departments in the college are open to students for the ministry, for required and elective work; while many subjects in the seminary are offered to college students, in the department of Religious Education. This mutual arrangement greatly increases the opportunity to help students in their preparation for the Christian ministry.

College Departments Open to Seminary Students

Agriculture and Domestic Science; Biology; Economics; Education; English; Ethics; Greek; History; Music; Philosophy; Physical Training; Political Science; Psychology; Public Speaking; Sociology.

Lectures

The Rev. L. D. Woodmancy, an enthusiastic member of the Centenary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Subject: "Forward Missionary Movements."

In connection with the Student Army Training Corps Professor Whitford taught a Y. M. C. A. class.

Subjects Taught During the Year

Requirements For Graduation

As the experiences of the Great War have called for a new emphasis upon the ethical and social side of religious life and duty, so have they called for a greater emphasis upon the practical side of education.

Cultural scholarship will never lose its value as an element of human wealth; but our educational systems ought to show, in theory and practice, the actual relation between general learning and vocational training.

Whenever practicable both the High School and the College should recognize this connection by articulating their courses, in some rational way, with the student's anticipated vocation.

Colgate University has recently made great changes in its system of theological education. A college Freshman, having the ministry in view, may begin at once theological subjects; and at the end of four years receive the degree of Bachelor of Theology; or at the end of six years the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

Our own university, with a major in Religious Education, and with the co-operative relation between college and seminary, is well equipped to combine general and vocational education. And, in further recognition of this principle, we recommend to the Trustees that, in addition to the present degree course requiring a college degree, a knowledge of Biblical Hebrew and Greek, and three years in the seminary, and leading to the degree of Bachelor of Divinity (B. D.); there be established another degree course requiring not less than two years in college, a knowledge of the Greek New Testament, and three years in the seminary, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Theology (B. Th.); and a certificate course requiring a High School education, a thorough knowledge of the English Bible, and three years in the seminary, leading to graduation without a degree.

All branches of the Church are calling for more ministers and other Christian workers; and only the well and broadly trained in heart, mind and body, can bring due honor to the high vocation.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR E. MAIN, Dean.

Wm. C. WHITFORD, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

To the President and Trustees of Alfred University:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to present herewith my annual report covering the operations of the year ending May 30, 1919.

Present Condition of Library

Up to June the first, 1919, the accession book shows that 33,322 books had been added to the library. Of this number 1,527 have been added during the past year. Beginning with September the first, 691 books have been donated to the library and 836 have been purchased. These additions together with hundreds of pamphlets have necessitated the moving of some of the older volumes to the library annex in the Brick or at least this the librarian hopes to do during the summer. This will relieve the congestion in the main library and will give space for new books which will be added during the coming year.

Circulation

Counting the summer circulation 5,168 books have been drawn during the year. In all probability a much larger number than this has been in use at the tables and not drawn from the building. The system of reserve shelves where hundreds of books are held for ready reference largely accounts for a large number being used in this way. The public has generously patronized the library both for drawing books and for reference work. As the public becomes better acquainted with the facilities which the library has to offer along this line this phase of the service will be greatly enlarged.

The names of 528 borrowers are registered at the desk.

Back numbers of magazines have been liberally called for and aside from constant use of this reference material in the building itself, there have been drawn for outside use about 1,000 magazines. The library maintains a large pamphlet collection covering thousands of miscellaneous pamphlets which have been extensively made use of during the year.

Openings

After the installation of the S. A. T. C. corps the library, to better accommodate their needs, was kept open every night in the week. This arrangement has been followed during the year.

Special Gifts

Special mention should be made of two gifts for the walls of the library, one by Mabel Potter Hubbard of Plainfield, N. J., who presented an oil painting representing the Blue and the Gray, and the other by Judge Clarence Willis of Bath, New York, who presented a large steel engraving of Lincoln and his cabinet, in which the President is represented as reading his final draft of his emancipation proclamation.

In this connection it might be well to mention the following gifts of books: 60 volumes by Mrs. Kate M. Crandall of miscellaneous literature from the library of the late William H. Crandall; 72 volumes were presented by Mrs. Daniel Lewis from the library of the late Dr. Daniel Lewis; 106 volumes from Mrs. A. Neil Annas and Mrs. Myra Clarke Boyce; 123 volumes from Mrs. Mary Clarke Kelsey, and 36 volumes of county histories of the State of New York by Judge Clarence Willis.

The following persons and institutions have given books and pamphlets to the library during the year:

Mrs. Ambler	Mary Clarke Kelsey
Mrs. Myra C. Boyce	Library of Congress
Mrs. Annas	League to Enforce Peace
American Sabbath Tract Society	J. A. Lapp
American Historical Association	A. E. Main
Nettie G. Barker	Caroline McIntire
Mrs. Wm. C. Burdick	Mrs. Midaugh
Ruth Brown	Massachusetts State
Charles Butts	New York State
K. S. Balch	Mrs. Osgood
S. E. Baldwin	Pullman Company
Bankers Trust Company	C. M. Remey
Elsie Binns	Julius Rosenwald
Columbia University Press	Etta Spicer
Mrs. G. B. Carpenter	Dorothy Stevens
Marion Elliot Crawford	E. P. Saunders
Prof. F. S. Clarke	Mrs. E. M. Tomlinson
Wm. Duke	Eugene M. Travis
Gertrude Davis	Prof. P. E. Titsworth
Dwight Goddard	U. S. Government
Doran Company	Enid White
Food Administration	Judge Willis
General Education Board	Wisconsin State
Houghton Mifflin Company	Prof. Lloyd Watson
Inter State Commerce Commission	Mrs. Harriet A. Weed
	Yale University

Special Collections

The library contains the following collections of books: The Dr. Daniel Lewis collection located in the president's office; the Stephen Burdick collection; the A. B. Prentice collection; the H. P. Saunders medical books; the denomination Library, the Carnegie collection, the W. M. Jones collection, and the circulating library. This last collection was moved during the year from the Seminary and is now catalogued with the other books of the library.

Periodicals

To better meet the reading requirements of the S. A. T. C. men a large number of duplicate magazines were ordered. The regular equipment of the reading room together with the extra periodicals that were subscribed for has brought our total of magazines and newspapers well up to the one hundred mark.

Suggestions

When the financial stress of the past few years passes, it is hoped that the university may see its way clear to decorate the walls of the main room of the library and provide curtains for the windows. This will materially add to the comfort of all concerned, especially during the hot days of spring and summer when the heat in the main room is almost unendurable.

Respectfully submitted,

C. R. CLAWSON, Librarian.

Schedule 30STUDENTS' ARMY TRAINING CORPS

The contract between Alfred University and the War Department establishing a unit of the Students' Army Training Corps at this institution is given below. This was known as a "Temporary Contract," it being the intention of the War Department to have a permanent contract executed on the basis of actual costs at a later date when such costs would be available, but because of the armistice, demobilization of the unit was ordered prior to the execution of any further contract.

Request for Assignment of Soldiers of Students' Army Training Corps, United States Army

to

Alfred University

Alfred University, a corporation under the laws of the State of New York, hereby requests the War Department of the United States to assign to the institution 150 (Estimated number in S. A. T. C. Unit) soldiers of the United States Army, members of the Students' Army Training Corps, on the following conditions :

1. Eligible students are to be inducted into the United States Army on their voluntary application, on or about October 1, 1918, and are forthwith to be assigned on active duty at the institution.
2. The institution will after the assignment of such soldiers ;
 - (a) Furnish such academic instruction to the said soldiers as may be approved or prescribed by the War Department, it being understood that until the War Department otherwise indicates, the regular curriculum shall be deemed approved ;
 - (b) Will provide for the proper and sanitary housing of said soldiers in as large groups as reasonably possible ;
 - (c) Will provide meals for the said soldiers of a quantity and quality equivalent to the standard Army ration, and under proper sanitary conditions ;
 - (d) Will provide suitable and adequate grounds for military instruction and drill of the soldiers, and suitable offices for the military administration of the unit ;
 - (e) Will co-operate closely with the War Department and its authorized representatives in all matters above referred to ;
 - (f) Will receive from its students who are eligible for the Students' Army Training Corps and indicate their intention of applying for induction therein, only such proportion of the usual tuition and other fees as will cover the period from the opening of the college year to October 1, 1918, or, if more has already been received, will make individual adjustment with the students accordingly.

TREASURER'S REPORT

3. The War Department will:

- (a) Provide for the military instruction of the soldiers ;
- (b) Provide uniforms and the necessary personal equipment of the soldiers to the extent practicable ;
- (c) Furnish necessary cots, blankets, and bed-sacks or mattresses to the extent practicable.
- (d) Pay to the institution as soon as practicable, after submission of duly executed vouchers, the sum of one dollar (1.00) per day for each soldier assigned to the institution on active duty plus the sum of 30 cents (See Note) per day for each soldier so assigned, for tuition, making a total of one dollar and thirty cents per day per soldier. The first voucher submitted will cover the period of two weeks following the induction of the soldiers and their assignment to active duty, and will be submitted monthly thereafter.

4. It is understood that the arrangement evidenced hereby shall be temporary and that as soon as practicable a permanent contract shall be made between the institution and the War Department, cover the period to July 1, 1919. The basis of that contract with respect to payment shall be reimbursement for the actual and necessary costs of providing the instruction, subsistence and housing required during the entire period of the contractual relation with the War Department, the necessary adjustments to be made accordingly, provided that the per diem allowance to be made for cost of academic instruction shall not exceed the regular per diem tuition charge of the institution.

5. The institution and the War Department will co-operate to the fullest extent to obtain the best results, and will endeavor as soon as practicable to arrive at the said permanent contract on an equitable financial basis, in accordance with the principle of reimbursement for actual costs as above stated.

Note—The tuition allowance specified in the temporary contract is 30 cents per day per soldier. The rates eventually allowed in the adjustment claim were as follows :

1st and 2d year men	.355 cents
2d and 3d year men	.345 cents

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

Washington, D. C.
June 18, 1919

President,

Alfred University,
* Alfred, K. Y.

My dear Sir :

It has occurred to me that you might be interested to know that the Student Army Training Corps Contracts have at last been completely settled. There were 680 of those contracts and the amount due under each contract has been finally determined and agreed upon and all except 15 or 20 have been paid. The others are being held for minor corrections and supplementary data but it is expected that before the 25th of June every institution will have received its check in settlement of its contract.

The Business Department of this Committee on Education will therefore have completed its work and is disbanding on or before July 1st.

I wish to take this opportunity personally to express the appreciation of this Department for the magnificent co-operation which we have had from the colleges of the country in making these adjustments. I can readily understand that in some cases there may have been a feeling that the Department has perhaps not been as liberal as it might, but on the other hand I am sure that you will appreciate that it was our duty to protect the interest of the Government as well as the interests of the institutions. What we have endeavored to do was to protect both and at the same time proceed as expeditiously as possible in order to relieve the colleges of financial embarrassment.

While we would have been glad to complete the settlements earlier, it has not proved possible to do so, but it may be some satisfaction for the colleges to know that the S. A. T. C. contract is the first Government contract to be entirely cleaned up and settled.

Again assuring you of our appreciation of your co-operation in bringing this matter to a conclusion and of the spirit in which you have met and dealt with the representatives of this Department, I am,

Very truly yours,
E. K. HALL,
Business Director.

WAR DEPARTMENT

July 1, 1919

Washington

To Presidents of Institutions Having
Units of the Students' Army Training Corps,

Dear Sirs :

The settlements recently completed between your institution and the United States Government terminate the contractual relations entered into last autumn for the purpose of carrying into effect the plan of the Students' Army Training Corps. While that plan was a logical if not imperative step at the time when it was undertaken, when a long war appeared to be in prospect, and when it was necessary to mobilize the entire energies of the nation, the signing of the armistice on November 11, prevented it from ever being fully carried into effect. The abrupt termination of the S. A. T. C. before sufficient time had elapsed for its complete development, the interruptions due to the influenza epidemic and to other conditions incident to the early stages of organization, created difficulties which could not fail seriously to disturb the order of academic life. I am, therefore, glad of this opportunity to express to you my recognition of the patience, devotion and skill with which both teachers and executives played the parts which they were asked to play. The proposals of the War Department almost invariably met with a prompt and cordial response, and a willingness to make very genuine sacrifices where these seemed to be required by the nation's military need. A copy of the final report on this work is being sent you under separate cover.

In the matter of the financial adjustments which were recently concluded, the institutions have shown not only forbearance in their claims, but in many cases great generosity in the actual terms of the settlement. It is a fact which is deserving of public recognition that the service rendered by the educational institutions has been wholly without pecuniary profit to themselves. The settlements have one and all been made upon the principle that the Government should protect institutions only from actual financial loss. The institutions have asked no more, but on their own part have often given more, not only in personal devotion, but in the use of very valuable property and other educational facilities at their disposal. For all this service in so far as it relates to the War Department, I beg to express my profound gratitude; and at the same time I desire to bespeak for the War Department your continued co-operation in the time to come. Any wise provision for the national defense will inevitably involve the utilization of educational agencies. As war is now largely a matter of applied science, so military training is largely a matter of education. Any permanent military policy that may be adopted will therefore depend to no small extent for its successful execution upon your counsel and active assistance.

Very truly yours,

NEWTON D. BAKER,
Secretary of War,

Schedule 36AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Trustees of Alfred University:

Gentlemen:

I have examined the accounts and vouchers of our Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, and the securities held by him on June 30, 1919. The report does not include the Betterment Fund, nor the accounts of the State Schools.

I have verified the cash in bank by evidence of deposit; the income from securities by an examination of such securities, the income from students by an examination of the record of bills rendered by the Registrar and of the scholarship allowances granted them.

I have verified the Report of our Treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, to which this report is annexed consisting of the Endowment Report, Schedules 1 to 9, inclusive, and the Income Report, Schedules 15 to 26 inclusive, Schedule 27 and also Schedules 29 and 30 by comparison with his accounts, and find such report correct in all respects.

The diligent efforts of our Treasurer in the collection of income, as well as the manner in which his accounts have been kept and his other duties performed are worthy of commendation.

Dated, August 31, 1919.

Respectfully submitted,

HERBERT G. WHIPPLE, Auditor.

Schedule 37RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Board of Trustees at the annual meeting in June, 1910:

1. That an Investment Committee of five be appointed by this Board to be one of the permanent Committees of the Board, and to be responsible to the Board rather than to the Executive Committee; and that this Investment Committee be instructed to make a careful study of our investments and the possibility of reinvesting such of our funds as may be deemed by it desirable, and to make such reinvestment, safeguarding the interests of the University more fully if possible, both as to the size and length of loans and as to the permanent and increasing value of property on which loans are made.

2. That a Finance Committee of at least nine members be appointed to undertake at once the raising of additional endowments and to provide for other enlargement of the equipment and efficiency of the University.

3. That a Trustee-Auditor be appointed who shall audit all principal accounts and securities as well as revenues and expenditure accounts.

BY-LAWS

Adopted by the Trustees at the annual meeting in June, 1910.

INVESTMENTS

The endowment of the University may be invested in bonds and mortgages on unincumbered real property situated in this state, to the extent of 50 per cent of the value of improved farm property, 60 per cent of the value of property situated in any incorporated village or city the population of which does not exceed 50,000, and 65 per cent of the value of property situated in any city having a population exceeding 50,000.

No money shall be invested in loans on real property not capable of producing an income, saving, in the case of loans for the purpose of constructing a building.

The endowment may be invested in such other forms of investment as are authorized by the Savings Bank Law of the State of New York.

PROHIBITED LOANS—No money shall be loaned upon notes, bills of exchange, drafts, or other personal security; nor upon policies of insurance; nor in real estate contracts.

SEARCHES AND EXPENSES—In all cases of loans upon real property a sufficient bond secured by a mortgage thereon shall be required of the borrower; and all expenses of searches, examinations, examination and certification of title and of drawing, perfecting, and recording papers, and the mortgage tax, shall be paid by the borrower.

APPROVAL—No investment in any bond and mortgage shall be made except upon the approval in writing of at least three members of the investment committee, subscribed by the members approving the same, who shall certify to the value of the premises mortgaged or to be mortgaged, to their best judgment; and such written approval shall be filed and preserved among the records of the University.

LOANS TO CERTAIN PERSONS PROHIBITED—No trustee or officer of Alfred University, nor the wife, father, mother, brother, sister or child of any trustee or officer, nor any professor in the employ of the University, shall directly or indirectly, for himself or herself, or as an agent or partner of others, borrow any of its funds, or in any manner use the same, except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by the Board of Trustees; nor shall any trustee or officer, nor the wife, father, mother, brother, sister or child of any trustee, nor any professor in the employ of the University become endorser or surety, or become in any manner an obligor for moneys loaned by or borrowed of the University.

No moneys of the University shall be loaned to any corporation in which any trustee of the University shall be interested as a stockholder, trustee or officer; but this clause shall not be construed to apply to deposits in any incorporated bank.

HONORARY DEGREES

OLIVER PAUL BARNHILL, presented by Dr. Paul E. Titsworth.

Dr. Titsworth said:

Mr. President: One of the few institutions which has stood up continuously against the wrack of time, one which has passed through the purifying fire of the Great War and come out with augmented power, is the Church. It is highly appropriate at this time, therefore, for Alfred University to honor a representative of that venerable institution. This representative is a gentleman who graduated from Centre College of Danville, Kentucky, in 1900, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, gained the degree of Master of Arts from Princeton University in 1903, and graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1903. Since quitting school halls, he has served for sixteen years continuously as pastor in several of the strongest Presbyterian churches in New York City and vicinity. He has also received citation and a certificate for exceptional service to the United States, performed in the American Protective League, a branch of the Secret Service operating under the Department of Justice, during the years 1917 to 1919. In the service of the League, he was attached to the Headquarters Staff of Military Intelligence in New York City.

By reason of his eminent, scholarly, humanitarian, and patriotic service, I take great pleasure, Mr. President, in nominating for the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity in Alfred University, Oliver Paul Barnhill, Master of Arts, associate pastor of the Marble Collegiate Church of New York City.

President Davis said:

Son of Centre College, Princeton University and Princeton Theological Seminary; scholar, eloquent preacher of righteousness, public welfare specialist; in recognition of your scholarship in the field of Philosophy and Religion, and of the distinguished services which, by reason of your exceptional talent and learning you are rendering to the Church and to Society, Alfred University welcomes you to a place among her honorary alumni.

By the authority of the Trustees of Alfred University, I gladly admit you, Oliver Paul Barnhill, to the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity in this university, with all the rights and privileges appertaining thereto.

Oliver Paul Barnhill was born March 24, 1878. He graduated from Centre College, Danville, Kentucky, in 1900, with the A. B. degree. He received from Princeton University the degree of Master of Arts in 1903, and the same year graduated from the Princeton Theological Seminary. He was assistant pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., 1903-04; pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Staten Island, 1904-16; associate pastor Marble Collegiate Church, New York City 1916-19. He received citation and certificate for exceptional service to the United States, performed in the American Protective League (secret service), operating under the Department of Justice 1917; attached to the Headquarters Staff Military Intelligence, New York City. As a preacher of the Gospel he is progressive, forceful and eloquent. His style is one of exceptional literary merit. His address is Marble Collegiate Church, Fifth Avenue and 29th Street, New York City.

CHARLES ALLEN PROSSER, presented by Dr. John A. Lapp.

Dr. Lapp said:

Mr. President: I have the privilege and the keen pleasure of nominating for the degree of Doctor of Laws, Honorable Charles Allen Prosser, Director of the Federal Board for Vocational Education. Mr. Prosser is a graduate of DePauw University and holds the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Columbia University. For many years he was a successful superintendent of schools and a leader in progressive thought in the profession. He has been Deputy Commissioner of Education of Massachusetts, Secretary of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, and has recently been called to the high position which he now holds and in which he has charge of the great work of vocational rehabilitation for the United States. I present him for the degree of Doctor of Laws as an educator, philosopher, great administrator, and statesman.

President Davis said:

Son of DePauw University, and of Columbia University; distinguished scholar, educator, executive and author, Alfred acknowledges the honor you do her by your presence today; and in recognition of your nation-wide service to education and to industry through education, and by the authority of the Trustees of Alfred University, I gladly admit you, Charles Allen Prosser, to the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in this university, with all the rights and privileges thereunto appertaining.

Dr. Prosser was born September 20, 1871. He graduated from DePauw University in 1897, with the degree of A. B. He received from Columbia University in 1910 the degree of Ph. D. He was deputy commissioner of education for Massachusetts 1910-12; secretary National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education in 1912; director Minneapolis Survey in 1915; director of William Hood Dunwoody Institute, Minneapolis, 1915-17; director of Vocational Education, United States Government, 1917. He is general editor of the following: Vocational Education Series (Am. Book Co.) 1913: The Training of the Factory Worker; Why Federal Aid for Vocational Education; Vocational Education Legislation, 1910-11, 1912-13; Facilities for Industrial Education; Practical Arts and Vocational Guidance: The Place of Art in Industrial Education; The Meaning of Vocational Education; Principles and Policies in State Legislation; Progress in Vocational Education (Year Book, U. Appendix DNEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF CLAY-WORKING
AND CERAMICS*DIRECTOR'S REPORT

For the year ending June 30, 1919

To the President of Alfred University,
Alfred, New York

Sir:—I have the honor of presenting to you the 18th annual report of the New York State School of Clay-Working and Ceramics.

The year which has just closed has been remarkable and even phenomenal in several ways. The first unusual happening was the organization of the S. A. T. C. which produced many unavoidable changes in the work of the school. Some of the Army students entered Ceramic Engineering but the military claims were so insistent that it was not practicable to devote the necessary time to laboratory work. The Faculty of the School was called upon for special service and your director conducted a class in freehand sketching and map-making, while Professor Shaw undertook a class in Mechanical Drawing.

The second event was the outbreak of the influenza epidemic which made serious inroads upon the classes and took away by death two of the students in the department of applied art.

The third happening was the adoption of the three term plan instead of the two semesters for the year. This proved to be a fortunate occurrence for when the S. \. T. C. was disbanded the school was able to begin the second term without complications.

A goodly number of the S. A. T. C. men elected to remain in college and to take the course in Ceramic Engineering. It was therefore decided to disregard the uncompleted work of the first term and to offer a new intensive course which should enable the students to satisfy the demands of the work in the two remaining terms. This program has been carried out with the loss of only two or three men who were unable to meet the requirements or who found themselves compelled to seek gainful employment. Notwithstanding the demands of military service the registration of students has been fully maintained. The incoming class was the largest in the history of the school.

The work in Ceramic Chemistry and Ceramic Engineering in charge of Professors G. A. Bole and J. B. Shaw has been carried on upon a more efficient plane than ever and the graduates of these departments are in strong demand. Many more positions have been offered than there were men to fill them.

In the department of applied art most successful work has been done by the professors in charge, Miss Binns and Miss Fosdick, as the exhibit at the school will testify. The Ceramic Guild founded by this department has been able to place selected work before the public with good results.

The school has been endeavoring during the last four years to establish a standard for the grading of chemical porcelain. Nearly all of this ware was formerly imported from Germany and it became necessary to meet the demand by domestic production. Numerous tests have been made in the school from time to time with the gratifying result that American chemical porcelain is now equal to any in the world.

During the winter your director was called to testify for the State as to the value of clay upon land condemned for the Armory and Rifle Range at Peekskill.

The annual meeting of the American Ceramic Society was held at Pittsburgh in February and was attended by your director who is Secretary of the Society, and by Professors Bole and Shaw, by both of whom papers were read.

The Annual Convention of the American Federation of Arts was held in New York City in May and was attended by Miss Binns and Miss Fosdick, professors in the department of applied art. Several students also attended both these conventions.

It is noted that in the new budget the State has made an increased appropriation for advertising, and this raises the question of accommodation and equipment. The school is already crowded and if increased advertising should result in increased attendance, which is of course its purpose, increased space, equipment, and teaching staff must be provided. It is not possible, on account of the necessary arrangement of college classes, to distribute the student attendance over the whole week. This has been done as far as possible in order to secure adequate instructional attention but even so the laboratories are inconveniently filled and the work necessarily demands space. One of the prime needs, as has been repeatedly pointed out, is that of a power-house, so that the machines may be run by separate motors.

*The report of the Treasurer is appended.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. BINNS, Director.

Appendix ENEW YORK STATE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE*DIRECTOR'S REPORT

To the President of Alfred University:

Sir:—I have the honor to submit to you the eleventh annual report of the New York State School of Agriculture at Alfred University, the same being a report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919.

The unsettled war conditions that prevailed in the early part of the school year had a decided influence on the registration at the beginning of the first term. A few of the regular students entered the service during the summer months, while several joined the Student Army Training Corps at the opening of the college year. There was a marked increase in attendance during the latter half of the year and a better working spirit was manifested both on the part of the faculty and the student body than during the preceding period of unrest.

It seemed best to follow the same order in regard to the spring term as in the preceding year. The Easter vacation was omitted and the term was shortened to eight weeks, closing Friday, May 16.

Changes in Faculty

In August, 1918, Professor Luther Banta, Instructor in Poultry Husbandry, resigned to accept a position in the Massachusetts Agricultural College. Mr. George S. Robinson, who was in charge of the Agricultural Department in the Belmont High School, was secured to fill this position.

In September, 1918, Miss Ethel V. Danielson, a graduate of the Normal School of Physical Education, Battle Creek, Michigan, was secured to take charge of the physical training work for the girls in connection with girls from the college and local high school.

In September, 1918, Professor Lloyd Watson of the Chemistry Department resigned to accept the position of Bee Specialist in the Connecticut Agricultural College. Mr. A. E. Champlin, a graduate of Alfred University, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

In September, 1918, Mr. Lynn Langworthy, a graduate of the State School of Agriculture, was appointed an instructor in the Rural Engineering Department to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Professor M. S. Klinck. Owing to other conflicting business interests Mr. Langworthy was forced to resign his position in November and Mr. Earl H. Wright, a graduate of the State School of Agriculture, was appointed temporarily to this position.

On December 1, 1918, Professor W. J. Wright resigned from the directorship of the school to accept the position as State Leader of Junior Extension in New York State. Professor W. R. Cone of the Agronomy and Farm Management Department was appointed acting director for the remainder of the current year.

On January 1, 1919, Professor W. S. Barnhart, who had been in the service, returned to his position as head of the Animal Husbandry Department. Mr. W. A. Thornton, who had charge of this department during Mr. Barnhart's absence, was transferred temporarily to the Farm Management Department and director of physical training for men.

A leave of absence without pay, was granted to Miss Julia Wood of the Home Arts Department, to do drafting work in the government service.

Extension Activities

The extension work of the school during the past year has been confined largely to the Home Economics work and Junior Project work. Aside from addressing a few outside meetings on home demonstration topics, Miss Angeline Wood has conducted a special course in Foods and Dietetics at the school during the spring term. In this course, special emphasis was given to the present needs arising from post-war conditions as affecting the food situation.

Two full months were given during the summer by Professor Cone to the supervision of Junior projects in Steuben County, besides devoting some time to this work throughout the year. Owing to the resignation of Professor Banta, the project work in Allegany County was somewhat handicapped. Mr. George S. Robinson has been giving considerable time to this work in Allegany County during the spring months and I am sure some very good results may be expected during the coming season.

At the present time, about 1200 boys and girls have been enrolled in the Junior Project work in the two counties. A Boys' and Girls' Calf Club was organized in the two counties under the direction of the Breeders' Association and the Farm Bureau Associations. The supervision of this work has been placed in charge of the State School of Agriculture.

An exhibit was made by the school at the Hornell Fair. At this time demonstrations were given in food conservation and other extension activities.

The Alfred School joined with the other special schools of agriculture in the State in making a single booth exhibit at the State Fair at Syracuse.

The Annual Farm and Home Week was held on February 18, 19 and 20. The Steuben-Allegany Holstein Association, the Allegany Ayrshire Association and the Allegany Poultry Association held regular meetings at the school during the week. The registration showed 600 people in attendance.

Annual Stock Judging Contest

The Sixth Annual Stock Judging Contest was held May 15, at the State Farm. This was a most successful event, sixteen high schools being represented by a team of three members each.

Superintendent George W. Smith, Mr. E. E. Poole of Batavia and Mr. C. E. Lewis acted as judges.

A ring of Holstein-Friesian heifers was judged in place of the ring of horses used in previous years, which proved a much more satisfactory arrangement.

The Farm Bureau Managers in this and the surrounding counties rendered very valuable service, both by instructing some of the teams and helping grade papers on the day of the contest.

The following is a list of schools arranged in the order of their scores:

CLASS A

1. Castile High School
2. Westfield Academy
3. Perry High School
4. Belfast High School
5. Almond High School
6. Dansville High School

2. Cuba High School
3. Atlanta High School
4. Belmont High School
5. Scio High School

Silver loving cups were presented to the winner in each class and banners were awarded to the school winning second place in each class.

Courses for Disabled Soldiers

The use of the State School of Agriculture was offered to the Federal Board for Vocational Education for the re-training of disabled soldiers in agriculture. One man, sent here by the Federal Board, has been in training at the school since January 6, 1919. This young man has pursued the same Bourses as prescribed for the regular students of the school. It is expected that such students shall receive the same supervision by the school during the summer period as has recently been inaugurated for the regular students.
