West Pine Street to be closed for paving

West Pine Street, the primary access road to the Alfred State College campus, will be closed to all traffic on July 22 to allow a contractor to mill the existing pavement off and to prepare the roadway for resurfacing. It will be closed again at a later date -- as yet undetermined -- to allow for paving. On July 22 and again when the new surface is actually laid, drivers who use the street must use an alternate route. The parking lot behind the Fasano House Welcome Center will be closed July 22 and again for the paving.
