NanoMaterials Innovation Center opens

Subsidiary of Alfred Technology Resources

ALFRED-Alfred Technology Resources, Inc. has announced the official opening of its new subsidiary, the NanoMaterials Innovation Center (NMIC), located on North Main Street in Alfred. Focused on nano-scale advanced materials and processing capabilities, this new center provides important technology business incubator needs not previously available to upstate New York academic and industrial development.

The NMIC features an open-access research and pilot-scale commercialization facility that enables technology transfer in inorganic nanomaterials science and microwave processing technologies. Market-driven collaborations between university, industry and entrepreneurial interests can be facilitated through the unique combination of state-of-the-art equipment and materials expertise made available through the center and its affiliates. In particular, emerging technologies in the areas of next generation lighting and energy efficiencies are being addressed.

"A strong partnership effort between Alfred and Clarkson Universities, Corning Inc., and the State of New York have made it possible for this outstanding set of capabilities to come together under one roof, serving the important needs of technology-driven economic development in upstate New York," said Jon Wilder, president, NanoMaterials Innovation Center and executive director, Alfred Technology Resources, Inc.

"We are most appreciative of the strong support this initiative has received from all of our partners. The New York State funding, made possible through our outstanding project champion, Senator Catharine Young, is of course most noteworthy," added Wilder.

At a recent ribbon-cutting ceremony attended by Senator Young and other project supporters, the $850,000 New York State grant, secured in 2006 and funded in late 2008, was recognized. Senator Young expressed her personal commitment and enthusiastic support of the role that this commercial technology incubation center can play in the advancement of work experience and employment in New York State.

experience in advanced materials: Corning Incorporated and Alfred University. CCIC has two large facilities, in Painted Post and Alfred.

Alfred Village Planning Board discusses property appearances

By LINDA LEWANDOWSKI
Alfred Sun Reporter

ALFRED—The Thursday, May 6 meeting of the Alfred Village Planning Board, chaired by Anne Wenslow, approved two applications following a public hearing concerning the installation of a fence behind the property at 72 Sayles Street.

That application was approved as well as one for a sign permit for West Side Wine and Spirits and the Alfred Sports Center businesses which are now located at 43 N. Main Street.

A discussion with Codes Enforcement Officer Steve Kilmer covered several matters of concern, including the following: The time frame for the designation "temporary" in the code in regard to signs and structures approved in this category, with limits of 30 days for the former and 90 days for the latter suggested, with further assessment of the topic to be completed before the final decision on the matter.

Revisiting the topic of physical appearance and condition of properties in the village, including peeling paint, litter-filled yards, old construction materials left in view, and neglect of lawns and shrubbery, warnings and tickets will be issued to offenders.

Holding tenants and landlords liable for the destruction on neighboring properties, and finding a method of controlling the noise and harassment other residents must endure, is a concern of the board. Persons with complaints should notify the police at the time the noise ordinance is being violated or when they see vandalism occurring. The report is then on file, establishing a pattern of activity at certain properties, leading to increased enforcement.

The groundbreaking ceremony for the new Servu Credit Union at 180 N. Main will take place at 11 a.m. Tuesday, May 18. The new Alfred University sign, approved at last month's meeting, is now in place near Merrill Field. The Planning Board's next meeting is at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, June 3 at the Village Hall.

lunch at noon with take-outs available.

Dump 'n' Run sale to be held May 21 in AU's Davis Gym

ALFRED--Ah! Spring in Alfred! Birds are flying, flowers blooming and students are studying for finals and preparing to leave for home. Under the auspices of the AU Support Staff Council, AU Pride and GreenAlfred, students are being encouraged to 'dump' their usable items in designated areas before they 'run' off to family and summer jobs.

Last year's 'Dump and Run' was very successful and we anticipate this year's will be also. Non-perishable food items will be given to the local food pantries. All other items will be sold from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, May 21, at the Davis Gym on the AU campus.

Items not sold will be given to charitable organizations for distribution to families in need. All money from the sale will be shared first with organizations which help with the collection and sale, and then to other charitable organizations.

For additional information contact Nancy FreeLove, chair of the AU Support Staff Council at 607-871-2568.

Notes from the Allegany County Dairy Princess

By TARA CLINE
Allegany County Dairy Princess

Given that I am the new Dairy Princess of Allegany County, I thought it would be appropriate to inform you about myself as a suitable introduction. I am Tara Cline, the daughter of James and Valerie Cline. I am the great granddaughter of retired dairy farmers Bill and Theo Dickerson of Shinglehouse, along with Robert and Elaine Swift of Cuba. I am pleased to be representing my great grandparents as retired dairy farmers and all those in Allegany County currently serving in the dairy industry.

Tee-Dee Farm owned by the Dunlap family will be sponsoring me during my reign. So it is to them I give my thanks for their support. I also must thank Theron (Tink) Dunlap for offering me a job to assist him with milking Holsteins. What an experience! It taught me that getting milk from the utter of the cow to your table is no easy task! I must say, you have to be pretty tough to have that responsibility. I have been kicked, unmercifully wacked with swinging tails (some that have been soaking in the gutter), you name it. So hats off to all the dairy farmers that don't get enough credit for the hard work they do so we can enjoy whatever dairy product best appeals to us.

Other than the Dairy Princess Program, I am currently involved in 4-H where my main activities are sewing, community service, and exhibiting dairy and ornamental birds at the Allegany County Fair. I am also involved in the Drama Club and Youth Court where I am a student of Cuba Rushford School. In addition to my weekly activities, I regularly attend the Cuba First Baptist Church assisting with the children's programs such as junior chorus, VBS, and camp JYC. Some of my favorite hobbies include singing, writing poetry, scrapbooking, jewelry making, raising call ducks, and taking long nature walks.

My favorite way to include dairy in my diet is with Raspberry Truffle frozen yogurt. Did you know that yogurt aids in the fight of halitosis (bad breath) with as little as 6 oz. a day? It's true! Here is a recipe for you to try:

Blueberry Smoothie
1 cup low fat vanilla yogurt 1 cup apple juice
¼ cup honey 2 cups fresh blueberries

Directions: Combine all ingredients in a blender; blend until smooth... then enjoy!

Still looking for Hotel Hornell soup

Still on my quest to find the famous Hotel Hornell Bean Soup, though not having much luck, I remembered I do have a famous bean soup recipe that was in a cookbook I bought in 1967. The book is entitled The Art of Making Real Soups-a Delicious Collection of Recipes from Round the World by Marian Tracy. The recipe is for Senate Bean Soup which Miss Tracy says appeals to legislators and tourists alike and can be bought for “a pittance”.

Senate Bean Soup

1 lb. dried great northern beans	2 onions, chopped
Smoked ham bone with some meat on it or	3 T. butter
Ham hocks	salt and pepper

Soak the beans overnight and put on medium heat the next day in the same water in which they were soaked, along with the ham bone or ham hocks. Add more water so that there is about a gallon of beans and all. Cook until the beans are tender and then remove the ham bone or hocks. Return any ham pieces to the soup. Saute the onions in a separate pan in the butter and add to the soup. Season at the end. Serves 10-12 people.

Quite frankly, we want to keep the Dream Alive!

Back in 1884, a simple item appeared in the Alfred Sun that said, “Wanted, one thousand subscribers to the Sun.”

That goal suggested by Sun co-founder and legendary Editor and Publisher Frank A. Crumb, was met before the new millennium. But now we’d like to keep the dream alive. So we’ve set a goal of 125 new subscribers to mark the SUN’s 125th anniversary.

During Frank Crumb’s Dream Campaign, we offer new subscribers 13 months for the year’s subscription price of $27 ($30 outside of Allegany County). That’s $25 off the news stand price. And you’ll read hometown news and interesting stories found nowhere else!

If you would like to help keep Frank Crumb’s Dream alive, send your

Sun editorial page puzzles its readers

Dear Readers,

At one time, The Alfred Sun published weekly a page of comic strips and a crossword puzzle. At this time, with the increased size of pages, the Sun is considering adding either a puzzle and/or comic strips.

The "Weekly Crossword" at left is produced for weekly newspapers (and college publications) by Ed Canty of Schenectady. Ed has been kind enough to send us a few puzzles to try out on our readers.

Those of you who do enjoy puzzles, please give Ed's puzzles a try. After a few weeks, we would welcome your feedback to help to make a final determination whether to purchase the puzzles.

In the meantime, this would be a tremendous sponsorship opportunity for a business in the community. Sponsoring a crossword in The Alfred Sun would be a service to the community as well as keep the business name in front of prospective patrons.

Early this week, I can't say if it's true, I kept hearing that white stuff fell out of the blue. "It happened to me! Did it happen to you? We didn't get buried or blizzarded, true; But it DARKED, and it BREEZED, and it FRIZZED, and it $NEW!" And that's new? That's its thing: It's spring!

Alfred Wind Energy Notes

A periodic column to inform Alfred residents of the ongoing findings of a wind energy study group.

Host Community Agreement, IDA or?

By KIM DONIUS

ALFRED--There are several ways for the Town to enter into an agreement with a wind company. There could be a Host Community Agreement, or the Town could negotiate with taxing jurisdictions utilizing the Industrial Development Agency, or if the town does not have a lead taxing agency, the town could write a contract. The Industrial Development Agency or IDA negotiated payments in lieu of taxes for the various taxing jurisdictions in Hartsville, Cohocton and Howard. On its own, the Town of Eagle was able to draft a contract. The project is unique because it has no school district. Contracts are costly and delicate for both parties. Three different sources have recently commented that a host community agreement may not be legal.

The towns of Benton and Butler (New York) both had host agreements with the Empire State Wind Energy Company. The host agreement text read as follows: 75% of the net revenue or guaranteed minimum payments set forth... The "Net Revenue" means Gross revenue from the sale of energy generated by the Facility minus the following: (i)maintenance fees; (ii) management fees; (iii) Debt Service Payments; (iv) Payment for leasehold interests; easements or other real property rights; (v) Taxes or Tax Equivalent Payments; (vi) miscellaneous costs imposed by the town or any other state, local or federal governmental entity or agency, (vii) operational costs for obligations arising hereunder or otherwise, (viii) costs for any surety bonds, escrows or other forms of security required by the Town for purposes of securing the cost of decommissioning the Facility.

In the event the Host Community Agreement is not utilized, the County Industrial Development Agencies, upon invitation, are asked to negotiate a PILOT or payment in lieu of taxes. This means that the Industrial Development Agency meets with the taxing entities and establishes what dollar figure will be divided up amongst the entities and what percentages of the tax dollars will be given to each entity. For example, the Schools, the county, town and perhaps the fire, water and sewer districts, etc. all receive money. The IDA gathers and decides who gets what proportion of the revenue. Generally, the town receives the smaller percentage. The town's percentage is what can affect a property owner's tax bill. If the town receives money they may use it to cover their budget and may, subsequently, reduce your taxes.

In surrounding townships, pilot proposals have been 13% to 18% going to the towns. Schools receive 50% to 60% and the remainder falls to the county. If the town needs to repair roads and pay incurred costs because of the windturbines this will be reflected in the town's budget. Cohocton had a tax increase in 2009. Businesses can default on their PILOTS or payments as discussed in this week's Tribune for a Hornell company.

It is the incentives and renewable tax credits which generate revenue for wind companies. The renewable energy credit or REC is ARRA stimulus or state tax monies. In addition, it is money collected from electric bills or from solicited donations from electric customers willing to donate toward wind energy. Recently, the Howard wind project was stopped cold because the REC was not forthcoming from the State. The slated project was not yet in construction phase and had not generated a single kw of electricity. Yet the wind company was to receive $204M in renewable energy credit.

Residents are urged to attend the Thursday, May 13, Town Board Meeting at the Alfred Station Fire Hall at 7 pm to voice concerns or questions. For more information visit the Alfred Village web page at <http://www.alfredny.org/wind.html> for Wind Energy Community meeting information. In addition, you may also seek information at the Town of Alfred web page (<http://www.alfredny.org/wind.html>) which is referenced in the Town Meeting Minutes. WANTED: one thousand subscribers to the SUN

Keeping the Dream Alive

Frank Crumb's Dream
Subscription Campaign Update
65 down, 60 to go

Back in 1884, a simple item appeared in the Sun that said, "Wanted, one thousand subscribers to the Alfred Sun." It's been 125 years since legendary Sun Editor Frank A. Crumb, who was with the Sun from 1883 to 1951, set the millenary goal.

Not knowing of Frank Crumb's Dream, I, too, had set a goal of 1000 subscribers when I joined the paper in 1976. That goal was finally reached in January 1999. But we want to keep the dream alive.

The late Eugene T. Van Horn, who owned the newspaper from 1951 until 1973, told us one time that circulation peaked in the 1960s at 700. It's now over 900. We've added 65 new subscribers since Jan. 1, 2009.

We encourage our readers to give a subscription to the Alfred Sun as a gift--it keeps giving week after week, all through the year. During Frank Crumb's Dream Campaign, we offer 13 months for the price of $27 ($30 outside of Allegany County). That's $25 off the news stand price. And you'll read exclusive hometown news and interesting stories!

We think the Alfred Sun is like a weekly letter from home. If you would like to contribute to Frank Crumb's Dream, send your name and address or that of a loved one together with your check payable to "Alfred Sun" to: Frank Crumb's Dream, c/o Alfred Sun, P.O. Box 811, Alfred, NY 14802. Happy reading!

Thanks to Sen. Young

To the Editor:

Thanks in large part to the tremendous efforts of Sen. Catharine Young, the Omnibus Farmworker Labor bill was voted down in Albany this past month.

This bill would have seriously hurt our family farmers' ability to produce local food for local people.

Throughout the long and ugly debate over the bill during the two years, family farmers were vilified by the New York City media that does not understand that our farms are not factories. We are producing food, not manufacturing widgeets.

Sen. Young defended us and fought for us, and farmers in her district are very thankful to have her step up for us in Albany.

Coming from a farm family herself, Sen. Young recognizes the major contributions agriculture makes to the rural economy and the overall quality of life in our area.

As the County Farm Bureau Presidents in Allegany, Cattaraugus, and Chautauqua, Chautauqua, we are united in recognizing her leadership, and applaud her efforts to step up and defend our family farmers and our future in Albany.

Signed,
Ernest Ramsey, Allegany County Farm Bureau President, 585-593-3809

ACT plans information meeting for summer musical

ALFRED—Alfred Community Theatre's summer show will be The Melody Lingers On, a musical revue of the works of Irving Berlin. It will be performed July 15, 16, and 17 in the Village Hall Theatre. This year the directors are combining the adult theatre with the youth theatre to create a cast of 20-25 people who will form three groups to perform Irving Berlin's songs. This will shorten the rehearsal time needed for each group and show off more of the talent available in the Alfred area. All ages of singers are encouraged to come to an informational meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 18 in the Union University Church Center. Rehearsals will begin in June. This is a light hearted revue of beautifully entertaining music such as "Alexander's Ragtime Band", "Blue Skies", and "Easter Parade". Put a little fun in your summer. Come join us!

Wellsville Farmer's Market set for 11-7 Thursdays

By ELAINE HARDMAN
Alfred Sun Reporter
WELLSVILLE--The parking lot at Jones Memorial Hospital on Main Street will clear out cars on Thursdays from 11 till 7 and make room for asparagus, plants, cheese and crafts as the location of the newly established Wellsville Farmer's Market. Signs came out a week earlier and then the vendors filtered in and finally came the customers. Lots of them found the breezy temperatures perfect for the first of these weekly events. From now till October this is the place to stop on Thursday afternoons. For the first week Kathy Stecina, a member of the Allegany Artisans, was on hand with her handcrafted work and next to her was Kent Farms with brown eggs, plants and frozen ground beef -- no antibiotics, no hormones, grass fed in one pound packs for $3.00. The Farmer's Daughter brought onion sets, chives, rhubarb, brown eggs and asparagus. Hide Away Gardens had bird feeders and God's Country Creamery brought cheese to sample and to buy. The first week was sponsored by J & K Produce. J & K donated small plants so that visiting children could decorate the pots and take them home as gifts to their mothers. Seasonal spots are $150 and weekly spots are $12 but they are rarely available. Call Rural Heath Networks at 593 5223, Extension 14 for details or stop by on Thursday to shop for local, seasonal goods.

Valley Theatre to stage play of suspense

HOUGHTON--The Valley Theatre will present Guilty Conscience: A Play of Suspense at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, May 21-22 with a matinee performance at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 22 at the Houghton Fire Hall. In Richard Levinson & William Link's suspenseful tale, attorney Arthur Jamison (Mike Cox) has a problem. After years of putting up with his lies and unfaithfulness, Louise Jamison (Noelle Winkens) wants out. Her desire for a divorce coupled with the career-ending secret she holds over him sets in motion Arthur's plot to kill his wife and avoid getting caught. With the help of a gruff prosecutor (Ethan Stowell) and a meddling mistress (Hilary Gunning), Arthur's plan seems fool-proof. Will he get away with the perfect crime? Or will he get caught in his own trap? Tickets are $5. With questions or ticket requests for Guilty Conscience please contact director Nic Gunning at (585) 567-9613 or TheValleyTheatre@gmail.com. You can also visit us online at www.thevalleytheatre.com.

Bluesman Gordon Munding will perform at coffeehouse

ANGELICA--His style is born of old-time Delta blues, from the Mississippi to the Appalachian regions. His music is like that of Robert Johnson, Doc Watson, David Bromberg, and Keb Mo. Remarking on his approach to music, Frank DeBlase of City Newspaper said, "He dances across old National strings with red clay overtones in the swampy air, crisscrossing with Appalachian, bluegrass & Delta blues, arising from the smoke of an impending collision."

"He" is Rochester bluesman GORDON MUNDING, who will appear at Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Café on Saturday, May 15. Munding has opened for many national acts including Doc Watson, Richard Thompson, and Jerry Jeff Walker (of "Mr. Bojangles" fame).

In addition to a thriving solo career, Munding has fronted local and regional bands playing bottle neck slide and fingerstyle guitar. He performs and teaches the old-time styles for entertainment as well as preservation of this American treasure. He teaches in blues workshops, festivals and schools, and privately in his home.

When asked to provide a quote describing his style, Mr. Munding said simply this: "Preserving Delta Blues... taking names later."

The doors at Black-Eyed Susan open for dinner, specialty coffees and desserts at 4:30 every Saturday. Enjoy the mellow sounds of JIM SCHWARTZ on guitar at 6 p.m., with GORDON MUNDING beginning at 7:30 p.m. There is no cover charge, but guests are expected to contribute to the musician's tip jar. The kitchen remains open on Saturdays until 10 p.m. and the café closes at 11p.m. Reservations for dinner -- while never necessary -- are strongly encouraged.

Upcoming shows include BABAK ELAHI performing folk, rock, and alternative blues on May 22; jazz-pop songwriter/pianist ANNIE WELLS on May 29; on June 5 it's NICK YOUNG with ADAM JESTER with their mix of Americana, alt. country and folk-rock; and on June 12 songwriter STEVE PIPER performs country and folk music.

Black-Eyed Susan is located at 22 West Main Street in Angelica's Park Circle National Historic District. The café is open for lunch Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Guests can dine in with a beautiful view of Park Circle, or have a meal delivered to their home or workplace. Menus are posted on-line. For more information call 585-466-3399 or visit www.black-eyed-susan.com.

The Practice of Zen Meditation

By BEN HOWARD

Imagine, if you will, that you are walking down the sidewalk on a bright May morning. The air is fresh and warm. As you walk along, you notice the new leaves on the trees, the yellow dandelions dotting the green lawns. And as you take note of the external world, you also become aware of yourself moving through that world.

It occurs to you that you are a member of a community—a solid citizen, one might say. But you are also an independent self, separate and apart from your human and natural environment. In your wallet you have an ID, and at home a birth certificate. You may also have degrees or diplomas, a lengthy resume, a record of achievement. Certainly you have your special talents and acquired skills, and you also have your preferences—wine over beer, perhaps, or neither if you are a teetotaler. Where personal finances are concerned, you are better off than many, though far inferior, socially and financially, to the celebrities you see on TV. In any event, you are separate from and superior to the toads, frogs, and other creatures of the natural world, not to mention the plants and minerals. Were you to liken yourself to a non-human object, it might be a late-model car—a Prius, perhaps, or a Ford Focus. Sadly, that vehicle will one day end up in the salvage yard, but for now it’s running fine.

Now consider your self from another angle. Although you might prefer to see yourself as an independent entity, separate from your human and natural surroundings, you are in actuality as porous as a sponge. If the weather were damp and cold, you might not be feeling so cheerful. Were the flowers withered or beaten down, you might feel the same. And not only your mood but the very existence of your “self” depends on “non-self” elements: the sunlight warming your face, the water flowing in the water mains, the breakfast settling in your stomach. Moreover, not even one of your vaunted attainments would have been possible without the support of other people: not your projects and awards, your commendations or your cherished possessions. Were you to examine your place in the cosmos, you might liken yourself to a wave, which other waves have created and sustained.

Such are the contrasting perspectives in which the construct known as a “self” might be perceived and understood. If the first perspective is initially the more comforting, it is perhaps because it reflects a familiar, common-sense view of reality. In Zen teachings, this viewpoint is known as “ordinary mind,” and its frame of reference is the “relative” (or “historical”) dimension of our experience. In the relative dimension, up is up, and down is down. Self is one thing, non-self another.

Yet to those who are living on the other side of our planet, what we call up is down. And from the standpoint of absolute reality, which in Zen is known as the “ultimate dimension,” conceptual dualities such as “up” and “down,” “self” and “non-self,” are viewed as necessary but insubstantial. To exist at all, “up” needs “down.” Similarly, “self” and “non-self” are interdependent parts of an indivisible whole. As Zen master Thich Nhat Hanh reminds us, a flower is made up of “non-flower” elements: light, soil, water, and so forth. Without them, the flower could not be. And what is true of the flower is also true of us. Without sunlight, water, food, and other people, none of us could live, or live in good health, for very long. What appear in the relative dimension to be separate entities—self and other, human and non-human beings—are, in the ultimate dimension, parts of the one, interconnected body of reality, where everything is changing, and everything depends on everything else.

To contrast these two perspectives is not to suggest that the first is false and the second true, the one benighted and the other enlightened. Rather, it is to propose that if we are to stay in touch with reality, and to live in harmony with reality, both perspectives must be kept in mind. “To study the Way” wrote Eihei Dogen, founder of the Soto Zen tradition, “is to study the self. To study the self is to forget the self. And to forget the self is to awaken to the ten thousand things.”

Ben Howard is Emeritus Professor of English at Alfred University and leader of the Falling Leaf Sangha, a Zen practice group in Alfred. The Falling Leaf Sangha meets every Sunday from 7:30-8:45 pm in room 301 of the Miller Performing Arts Center on the Alfred University campus. Newcomers are welcome.

Artist Knot exhibits ‘Cut Flowers’

ANDOVER--With Spring under way, and just in time for Mother’s Day, The Artist Knot Gallery opened its newest exhibition, “Cut Flowers.” The exhibit will run from now through June 18th. An Opening Reception was held Friday, May 7 featuring the classical guitar duet of Ben Howard and Moises Guevara performing a varied repertoire.

The show’s title, “Cut Flowers,” refers to the subject matter of the works on display. Upon entering the exhibition room you are struck by the big, bold paintings of various flowers, cropped very closely (hence “cut flowers”). However, according to gallery director Amy Brown, “The paintings are more about composition and color than the subject of flowers.” When you consider that all of the works are very large, the largest measuring nearly 7 feet, the impact of the color is almost felt rather than simply seen.

In addition to the well-crafted compositions and sciously I had always associated floral paintings with female artists. I decided it was time to give it a chance.”

If that wasn’t reason enough, the artist also shared his strongest motivation to use a flower theme. “For years, I had bought flowers for my wife. And for years, they always died. Potted flowers, cut flowers, flower seed, bulbs...it made no difference. Finally, I decided that the only flowers my wife would ever receive from me would be ‘art flowers.’”

Another interesting aspect of the exhibit is that each painting is accompanied by a poem. The poems were written in response to viewing the paintings by Pennsylvania poet Scott McDowell. The poet witnessed the works being hung and felt compelled to create a verbal response to each piece in the form of a poem. According to Director Brown, “What the poet has done complements each painting so fabulously and takes the visual experience to another level.”

the vibrant colors, another aspect, though less obvious, plays a significant role in defining the work. The primary artist, j.m.brown, conceived of the show as a collaborative effort. He explains, “During a recent break from school, my children embarked upon a ‘stacation.’ Instead of a typical vacation of traveling, the 3 oldest kids were allowed to venture into Dad’s studio for the week to help create the large paintings for the exhibit.” The result of this collaboration is a coherent merging of spontaneity and refinement. “The kids were very eager to help,” the artist continues, “and although it wasn’t always easy, the results are quite pleasing.”

When asked why he chose flowers as a subject he said, “I’ve always had a great affection for real flowers, and a great dislike of flower paintings. I don’t know why. So, when one of the kids suggested flowers, my first thought was ‘any other ideas?’ Then, I realized that I had never really painted florals, except once as part of a still-life, and that was over 20 years ago. Perhaps subcon-

On display along with the paintings is a stone sculpture by j.m.brown, and a ‘bouquet’ of wire sculpture flowers done collaboratively. “Cut Flowers” opens May 7th, 2010, at 6:00 pm at the Artist Knot Gallery. To find out more, you can see a preview online at www.artistknot.com. All events are free and open to the public.

The Artist Knot Gallery is a fine art gallery located at 36 Main St., in historic downtown Andover. Regular hours: Tuesday- Saturday 10-5, open ‘til 8 p.m. Thursdays.

ALFRED—Nine senior nursing capstone projects were on very public display recently as Alfred State College’s nursing seniors conducted their annual health fair in the academic quad. This year’s topics included the benefits of physical fitness; eat your colors every day; sexual responsibility; mental health; vehicle safety; water conservation; preventing alcohol and substance abuse; be wise, immunize; and let’s kick butt (tobacco). Each team of students was required to create a brochure, a poster, and a game on their topic to inform attendees in a unique way. Pictured here, a student dons the “beer goggles” which simulate intoxication and attempts to walk a straight line. (ASC Photo)

Special to the Alfred Sun
WELLSVILLE--South Africa and Wellsville have a connection with Jay Hardman, 2000 graduate of Wellsville and current member of the American team for Enduro Africa. During their ride across South Africa and Lesotho, Enduro Africa will bring attention and aid to children and communities along the way. Hardman is teamed with a long-time friend and fellow graduate of the University of the Arts in Philadelphia, Tobias Canfield. They are fundraising for the cause and training for the ride.

In 1986, when Jay was a tyke with soccer-buggered knees, he went to Africa with his family who thought he’d see different things and places and grasp that the large world is filled with many different people. They didn’t realize how much he would take in or how long and hard he’d think about it. Jay gave stuff to people wherever he went and continued to give to people in Malaysia where it was his mother’s job to keep a supply of coins on hand, particularly for other mothers with small children.

One time when his mother’s pocket was empty he shouted, “Mom, you have dollars in your purse.” He might have rung a dinner bell in a hall of starving people because in seconds they were surrounded by hands and had to run. Jay remembers some of this but much is a sense of story since he was so young.

Still, last fall when his friend Toby presented him with the idea of an Enduro ride across the harshest areas of South Africa to raise funds for forgotten people and villages living in deserts and mountains, Jay felt the bond and agreed to the trip. Now he and Toby have to raise $16,000 by July (at $10,000 in donations and pledges so far) to register their team – the only East Coast American team to make the commitment. The ride will become a documentary as well as a self-help charity tour.

The Goal of Enduro Africa and the Global Enduro project is to channel enthusiasm for motorcycling, adventure and good will into support for 4 major charities operating in the host countries. Those are UNICEF, The Princes’ Fund for Lesotho, the Nelson Mandela Children’s Fund and Touch Africa.

In October Enduro Africa cyclists from around the world will meet in London for to learn the rules for their journey and then they’ll go to Cape Town, South Africa, to spend 8 days riding some of the country’s most isolated regions. The event will take riders into village throughout what is known as the Wild Coast. Along the way documentary teams will chronicle the effects that these charities have had and bring the message that more help is on the way.

There are always charities asking for money. Sometimes they are huge efforts such as the relief programs for earthquake-crushed Haiti or Chile, or Tsunami ravaged Indonesia. Many of these efforts are financial but sometimes a program lasts year after year and ties into social connection, face-to-face encounters looking to make permanent changes and spread connections one handshake at a time. That’s Enduro Africa.

In order to make the trip possible, this American team needs sponsors to meet their daunting donation requirement. Some of that money pays for the costs of supporting the teams through the ride but much of what is donated goes to the sponsor charities and the rest builds projects in the villages that the event passes through. Read more at www.EnduroAfrica.com

In Wellsville, Andrew Harris has scheduled a fund raiser on Saturday, May 22 at Better Days Pub and Eatery. “Beckett Wells Band” will give a debut performance at Better Days in support of Team Hardman/Canfield in Enduro Africa.

Meet Canfield and Hardman at Better Days in Wellsville on Saturday night, May 22 or read about them on Facebook at Charity Cycles. There’s more at CharityCycles.Blogspot.com where supporters can make donations with PayPal or Credit Cards. Checks should be made out to Charity Cycles/Tobias Canfield and mailed to Jay Hardman, 1715 Reed Street, Philadelphia, PA 19146.

Artist Knot. 36 Main Street, Andover. "Cut Flowers," its newest exhibit, runs now thru June 18th. Upon entering the exhibition room you are struck by the big, bold paintings of various flowers, cropped very closely (hence "cut flowers"). However, according to Gallery Director Amy Brown, "The paintings are more about composition and color than the subject of flowers." When you consider that all of the works are very large, the largest measuring nearly 7 feet, the impact of the color is almost felt rather than simply seen. Tuesday - Saturday 10am-5pm and until 8pm on Thursdays. Closed Sundays & Mondays FREE ADMISSION. (607) 478-5100.

Taking listeners to a place where country blues, Appalachian string band music and gospel come together in powerful and unexpected combinations, Michael Tarbox is a smokey-voiced singer with a pure backwoods style.

He's also a killer slide guitarist, and possesses an uncanny ability to make any song he plays sound new, as if it were somehow being sung for the first time. His band, The Tarbox Ramblers, has released two CDs on the Rounder label, toured with Robert Plant, and made a name for itself with a rough-hewn, direct sound that's been praised by Rolling Stone, The New Yorker and NPR's All Things Considered.

On May 15, in a special CD release show, Tarbox will play The Ramblers' music along with selections from his new solo album, "My Primitive Joy." The album's a gem, and we're eager to welcome Tarbox back to Wellsville for what promises to be a great show.

Pierce Pettis, adored by both critics and public alike, is one of this generation's most masterful songwriters. His music is distinguished by his uncanny ability to capture universals in human experience by drawing on the humor and trials in daily life. Pettis' music can simultaneously pull on our hearts and keep us laughing. The beautiful harmonies, inventive yet subtle percussion, strong guitar, and Pierce's rich vocals are a constant throughout his body of work. "...one of the more vital and critically acclaimed folk stars of recent years."

-PERFORMING SONGWRITER
Pettis has performed in all 48 continental states as well as in Canada and Europe, appeared nine times on American Public Radio's Mountain Stage, been featured on National Public Radio's E-town, Morning Edition and World Cafe. He has also appeared on VH-1, CBS News, and the Nashville Network.

During his long career Pierce Pettis has been a writer at Muscle Shoals Sound Studios in Alabama, recorded for Fast Folk Musical Magazine in New York, won the prestigious New Folk songwriting competition at the Ker-ville Folk Festival in Texas, and was a staff songwriter at Polygram/Universal Music Publishing in Nashville. He has received numerous songwriting awards including a 1999 ASCAP Country

Music Award for "You Move Me" -- recorded by Garth Brooks.

After three critically acclaimed albums on the Windham Hill/ High Street label, Pettis joined Compass Records in Nashville, releasing five albums. The latest, "That Kind of Love", (2009) received raves from XM/Sirius Satellite Radio, Paste Magazine, Performing Songwriter, American Songwriter, The (London, UK) Sunday Express, Image Quarterly, to name a few. The album was ranked at #2 nationally, in February of 2009 in the Roots Music Report for acoustic/folk releases.

"Pierce Pettis doesn't write mere songs, he writes literature...End to end the songwriting is brilliant... His writing just gets better all the time and his singing is marvelous, wry and warm..."

HELP FOR HOMEOWNERS IN FORECLOSURE NEW YORK STATE LAW REQUIRES THAT WE SEND YOU THIS NOTICE ABOUT THE FORECLOSURE PROCESS. PLEASE READ IT CAREFULLY. SUMMONS AND COMPLAINT YOU ARE IN

DANGER OF LOSING YOUR HOME. IF YOU FAIL TO RESPOND TO THE SUMMONS AND COMPLAINT IN THIS FORECLOSURE ACTION, YOU MAY LOSE YOUR HOME. PLEASE READ THE SUMMONS AND COMPLAINT CAREFULLY. YOU SHOULD IMMEDIATELY CONTACT AN ATTORNEY OR YOUR LOCAL LEGAL AID OFFICE TO OBTAIN ADVICE ON HOW TO PROTECT YOURSELF. SOURCES OF INFORMATION AND ASSISTANCE The state encourages you to become informed about your options in foreclosure. In addition to seeking assistance from an attorney or legal aid office, there are government agencies and non-profit organizations that you may contact for information about possible options, including trying to work with your lender during this process. To locate an entity near you, you may call the toll-free helpline maintained by the New York State Banking Department at 1-877-BANK-NYS (1-877-226-5697) or visit the department's website at WWW.BANKING.STATE.NY.US. FORECLOSURE RESCUE SCAMS Be careful of people who approach you with offers to "save" your home. There are individuals who watch for notices of foreclosure actions in order to unfairly profit from a homeowner's distress. You should be extremely careful about any such promises and any suggestions that you pay them a fee or sign over your deed. State law requires anyone offering such services for profit to enter into a contract which fully describes the services they will perform and fees they will charge, and which prohibits them from taking any money from you until they have completed all such promised services. § 1303 NOTICE NOTICE YOU ARE IN DANGER OF LOSING YOUR HOME If you do not respond to this summons and complaint by serving a copy of the answer on the attorney for the mortgage company who filed this foreclosure proceeding against you and filing the answer with the court, a default judgment may be entered and you can lose your home. Speak to an attorney or go to the court where your case is pending for further information on how to answer the summons and protect your property. Sending a payment to your mortgage company will not stop this foreclosure action. YOU MUST RESPOND BY SERVING A COPY OF THE ANSWER ON THE ATTORNEY FOR THE PLAINTIFF (MORTGAGE COMPANY) AND FILING THE ANSWER WITH THE COURT. DATED: April 13, 2010 Steven J. Baum, P.C., Attorney(s) For Plaintiff(s), 220 Northpointe Parkway, Suite G, Amherst, NY 14228 The law firm of Steven J. FIFTY YEARS AGO, MAY 12, 1960

Alfred University students announced at the annual Moving-Up Day exercises today the dedication of the student yearbook, "Kanakadea" to Dr. Samuel Ray Scholes, Jr., professor of chemistry. The student citation honored Dr. Scholes as "a man dedicated to the field of teaching...a man who wants his students to learn..."

Two area boys have been chosen to attend Boys' State at Colgate University this year, sponsored by the Alfred American Legion. They are James Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baker of Alfred and Andrew Phelan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Linn Phelan of Almond. Both boys are juniors at Alfred-Almond Central School, and especially interested in sports...

Dr. Sam Kendrick of the College Entrance Examination Board told school psychologists and guidance counselors meeting at Alfred University Tuesday that "much of the current hysteria about the shortage of space in college is real emotion over a phony issue." He said only one in six colleges in the nation is so competitive that "they reject at least a noticeable proportion of applicants who have a B average or better." But he added that one third of the colleges accept all or virtually all who apply...

Alfred Station--Mrs. William Howden and David of Wellsville were Friday overnight guests of her mother, Mrs. Glenn Shaw...Mrs. Harley Sutton spent the weekend at Morgantown, W.Va. attending the Greater W. Va. weekend at West Virginia University. A special event was the concert presented by the University band of which her son, Lyle, is a member...Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Mae Whitford were Mr. and Mrs. Clair Bennett of Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stimson of Andover...Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Emerson and daughter Carole of Avon spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Davis and family...Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Willard and family of Penn Yan spent Sunday with Mrs. Ivanna Lewis...Mrs. Leon Davis and Ronald Ellis were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ellis at Wellsville...Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burke and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burdick were Sunday evening callers of Mrs. Mabel Collins at Belfast...

Alfredians--Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder called on Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Dickinson at Wellsville, Sunday afternoon...Dr. and Mrs. Robert G. Eisenhardt entertained their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eisenhardt of Hornell and Mrs. Stewart Hull of Arkport on Mother's Day. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Labour and son of Arkport and Mrs. Edna Eisenhardt and Mrs. Jenkins of Hornell...Lilacs and flowering crab apple are now out in the vicinity, adding a colorful note to the bright, green foliage. The recent rains caused many a lawn mower to go into prompt action, too...Mrs. Delsie Rice, Mrs. Sylvia Carr, Mrs. Elrene Burdick and Miss Fucia F. Randolph were in Houghton Tuesday attending the spring institute of the Allegany County Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Allegany County has been in the news since last Thursday because of the forest fire over an estimated 1,000 acres of land near Swain. More than 400 persons were engaged in fighting the flames at one time or another, including the ROTC students from Alfred University. State Forest Ranger Robert F. Bailey of the Hornell-Almond road said Monday the fire could officially be declared out at sundown that day. The rains of Sunday and Monday did much to control the blaze...

Annual Drinking Water Quality Report for 2009

Village of Alfred Water System, 7 West University St., Alfred, NY 14802
Public Water Supply ID # 0200309

INTRODUCTION

To comply with State and Federal regulations, The Village of Alfred water system will be annually issuing a report describing the quality of your drinking water. The purpose of this report is to raise your understanding of drinking water and awareness of the need to protect our drinking water sources. Last year, your tap water met all State drinking water health standards. We are proud to report that our system has never violated a maximum contaminant level or any other water quality statement. This report provides an overview of last year's water quality. Included are details about where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to State standards.

If you have any questions about this report or concerning your drinking water, please contact James McNulty, Superintendent of Public Works, 607-587-9163. We want you to be informed about your drinking water. If you want to learn more, please attend any of our regularly scheduled village board meetings. The meetings are held on the first Tuesday of the month at the Village Hall.

WHERE DOES OUR WATER COME FROM?

In general, the sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activities. Contaminants that may be present in source water include: microbial contaminants; inorganic contaminants; pesticides and herbicides; organic chemical contaminants; and radioactive contaminants. In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, the State and the EPA prescribe regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. The State Health Department's and the FDA's regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Our water source is drawn from two wells. This source of water is called ground water and requires a well and pump for withdrawal. Both of Alfred's wells are located on Shaw Road in Alfred Station. The water is treated with chlorine gas at .4 MG/L prior to distribution. Our water system serves approximately 5,000 people through 648 service connections.

ARE THERE CONTAMINANTS IN OUR DRINKING WATER?

As the State regulations require, we routinely test your drinking water for numerous contaminants. These contaminants include: Total Coliform, Inorganic Compounds, Sodium, Total Trihalo Methanes, Halo Acetic Acid, Nitrate, Nitrite, Lead and Copper, Volatile organic compounds, Arsenic, Gross Alpha, Radium 226, Radium 228, Uranium and Synthetic organic compounds. The table presented below depicts which compounds were detected in your drinking water. The State allows us to test for some contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants do not change frequently. Some of our data, though representative, are more than one year old.

It should be noted that all drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791) or the Allegany County Health Department at 585-268-9250.

As the State regulations require, we routinely test your drinking water for numerous contaminants. These contaminants include: total coliform, inorganic compounds, nitrate, nitrite, lead and copper, volatile organic compounds, and synthetic organic compounds.

*ALL ORGANICS THAT ARE < THE DETECTION LIMIT DO NOT NEED TO BE REPORTED
1-The level presented represents the 90th percentile of the 20 sites tested. A percentile is a value on a scale of 100 that indicates the percent of a distribution that is equal to or below it. The 90th percentile is equal to or greater than 90% of the copper values detected at your water system. The action level for copper was not exceeded at any of the sites tested.
Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL): The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible.
Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
Action Level (AL): The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
Milligrams per liter (mg/l): Corresponds to one part of liquid in one million parts of liquid (parts per million – ppm).
Micrograms per liter (ug/l): Corresponds to one part of liquid in one billion parts of liquid (parts per billion – ppb).

WHAT DOES THIS INFORMATION MEAN?

As you can see by the table, our system had no violations. We have learned through our testing that some contaminants have been detected; however, these contaminants were detected below the level allowed by the State.

As you can see by the table, our system had no violations, but we have learned through our testing that some contaminants have been detected; however, these contaminants were detected below New York State requirements. Although nitrate was detected below the MCL, it was detected at 1.19 MG/L at Well 1 & 1.46 at Well 2 which is less than one-half of the MCL. Therefore, we are required to present the following information on nitrate in drinking water:

“Nitrate in drinking water at levels above 10 mg/l is a health risk for infants of less than six months of age. High nitrate levels in drinking water can cause blue baby syndrome. Nitrate levels may rise quickly for short periods of time because of rainfall or agricultural activity. If you are caring for an infant, you should ask for advice from your health care provider.”

As you can see by the table, our system had no violations. We have learned through our testing that some contaminants have been detected; however, these contaminants were detected below New York State requirements.

“EPA is reviewing the drinking water standard for arsenic because of special concerns that it may not be stringent enough. Arsenic is a naturally-occurring mineral known to cause cancer in humans at high concentrations.”

DO I NEED TO TAKE SPECIAL PRECAUTIONS?

Although our drinking water met or exceeded state and federal regulations, some people may be more vulnerable to disease causing microorganisms or pathogens in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice from their health care provider about their drinking water. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium, Giardia and other microbial pathogens are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

WHY SAVE WATER AND HOW TO AVOID WASTING IT?

Although our system has an adequate amount of water to meet present and future demands, there are a number of reasons why it is important to conserve water:
--Saving water saves energy and some of the costs associated with both of these necessities of life;
--Saving water reduces the cost of energy required to pump water and the need to construct costly new wells, pumping systems and water towers; and
--Saving water lessens the strain on the water system during a dry spell or drought, helping to avoid severe water use restrictions so that essential fire fighting needs are met.

You can play a role in conserving water by becoming conscious of the amount of water your household is using, and by looking for ways to use less whenever you can. It is not hard to conserve water. Conservation tips include:

- Automatic dishwashers use 15 gallons for every cycle, regardless of how many dishes are loaded. So get a run for your money and load it to capacity.
- Turn off the tap when brushing your teeth.
- Check every faucet in your home for leaks. Just a slow drip can waste 15 to 20 gallons a day. Fix it up and you can save almost 6,000 gallons per year.
- Check your toilets for leaks by putting a few drops of food coloring in the tank, watch for a few minutes to see if the color shows up in the bowl. It is not uncommon to lose up to 100 gallons a day from one of these otherwise invisible toilet leaks. Fix it and you save more than 30,000 gallons a year.
- Use your water meter to detect hidden leaks. Simply turn off all taps and water using appliances. Then check the meter after 15 minutes. If it moved, you have a leak.

CLOSING

Thank you for allowing us to continue to provide your family with quality drinking water this year. In order to maintain a safe and dependable water supply we sometimes need to make improvements that will benefit all of our customers. The costs of these improvements may be reflected in the rate structure. Rate adjustments may be necessary in order to address these improvements. We ask that all our customers help us protect our water sources, which are the heart of our community, our way of life and our children's future. Please call our office if you have questions.

Village of Alfred NY0200309 AWQR Summary

The New York State Department of Health has completed a Source Water Assessment for this water system, based on available information. Possible and actual threats to the source of drinking water for this system were evaluated. The Source Water Assessment includes a susceptibility rating based on the risk posed by each potential source of contamination and how easily contaminants can move through the subsurface to the wells. The susceptibility rating is an estimate of the potential for the contamination of the source water, it does not mean that the water delivered to consumers is, or will become contaminated. Please refer to the section in this Annual Water Quality Report (AWQR) entitled “Are There Contaminants In Our Drinking Water?” for a list of the contaminants for which the water has been tested and the test results. The source water assessments provide managers with additional information for protecting source waters into the future.

The water for this system comes from two (2) drilled wells. The Source Water Assessment has rated the wells as having a very high susceptibility to contamination from enteric bacteria and nitrates, and a high susceptibility to contamination from protozoa, metals, industrial solvents, and other industrial contaminants. Primarily, these ratings are due to the close proximity of the wells to one (1) U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regulated discharge facility (Vesuvius Hi-Tech Ceramics) that discharges wastewater into the environment below the surface of the ground, two (2) EPA regulated pipelines, one (1) New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) permitted discharge facility (Vesuvius Hi-Tech Ceramics septic system) that discharges wastewater into the environment below the surface of the ground, and one (1) mine (Buffalo Crushed Stone, Inc.). In addition, past water sampling has shown nitrates levels consistent with the wells having high chemical sensitivity. The fact that both wells draw water from an unconfined aquifer also contributes to susceptibility ratings.

Please note that while Source Water Assessment rated the two wells as having a very high susceptibility to bacteria, the water is disinfected before it is delivered to your home the ensure the finished water meets New York State drinking water standards for bacterial contamination.
A copy of the Source Water Assessment, including a map of the assessment area, can be obtained by calling (607)-587-9163.

Building a good foundation, Luke 6

By LINDA STAIGER
ALMOND-To paraphrase Luke 6, ‘The man who hears Me builds a strong foundation for his home, but the one who does not hear builds his house on sand.’ This refers to a foundation of life of faith. This good foundation can withstand anything that comes along.

Just ask your Mother. You know, the one who taught you to love? If this doesn’t fit with your life, then remember the things you learned in kindergarten: always share everything, never say mean things, when walking on the street always hold hands, look both ways when crossing... and so on. For most of us, these things were taught us by our parents—primarily our mothers in my day because they were the ones home with us, guiding us. Love. Charity. Hope. Faith.

Remember Sister Corita Kent who did those marvelous silkscreen posters in the 60’s? (Ah yes, the 60’s, God love ‘em). They were very colorful and assymetrical in the style of the day---her belief was “Make love, make believe and make hope.” Make Love-hey, don’t go off the deep end here—it means be love, show love, create love. For instance, think about this—one can’t NOT love and be a Christian. That was her idea—and she used these words, styles in order to catch the attention of the 60’s kids. Make Believe—faith in something you cannot see.

Pastor Steve told the story of his kids playing restaurant using their camp trailer. Very professional manner---and yet, all pretend. Ever pretended? It definitely wasn’t real, but in your mind it was. This is the essence of faith and once we believe we begin to see the evidence of our belief, faith.
Last, but not least is “Make Hope”. We are all losing hope. Sometimes let down by friends, even by family. Just think about those who are layed off from jobs which they been very loyal to for years. Major letdown , right? Several years ago, I heard a comment that this generation—“our” children—will be the first one to not be able to live as well as their parents.

Think about it. How many times have you heard or read someone say “my kids are gonna have it better than I did.”? I know my parents aimed for that. But what will happen to “my” kids”? They are thinking this and may be losing hope---way too fast. I believe that we have let go of our faith in God for long enough now that we are running out of the ‘good will’ that came to us through the constant prayers of our forefathers. “My hope is built on nothing less than Jesus Christ”—the old hymn—how true. Our hope is in the Living God. Our Mothers knew it, our Fathers knew it---so WE should know it.

This love will never disappoint. We can believe in it. My Mom, Marion Schultz Stradley, knew this. She taught it. She lived it. The Bible says that “these are three eternal things: Faith, Hope and Love. The greatest of these is Love”.
Ok, then, go about your days, but remember one thing from kindergarten...and your Mom: “a warm cookie and a cold glass of milk are good for you”. God bless Moms.

Sabbath Emphasis Day planned for May 15 for Seventh Day Baptists

By KEN CHRONIGER
ALFRED STATION--All across the Seventh Day Baptist General Conference USA and Canada, INC. this is “Sabbath Emphasis Sabbath” as Seventh Day Baptist congregations speak to their peculiar doctrine of observing the Biblical Seventh Day Sabbath as a day of rest and worship. Your friends and neighbors at the Alfred Station Seventh Day Baptist Church, “A 3 C church - “Connect- Care – Community” invite you to celebrate the Sabbath with them during the 11 a.m. Sabbath Worship Hour this Sabbath May 15.

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, May 13

On this day in 1824, former Chief Justice, John Jay, addressed the American Bible Society of which he was president:
“By conveying the Bible to people...we thereby enable them to learn...that our gracious Creator has provied for us a Redeemer... that this Redeemer has made atonement ‘for the sins of the whole world,’ and thereby reconciling the Divine justice with the Divine mercy, has opened a way for our redemption and salvation; and that these inestimable benefits are of the free gift and grace of God, not of our deserving, nor in our power to deserve.”

ALMOND—This week's home stand began with a visit from the always powerful Addison Knights on Tuesday. The Eagles lit up the scoreboard first as leadoff hitter Megan Murray reached on an error, advanced on stolen bases, and scored on a ground out to the first baseman.

The Knights responded in the bottom half of the first inning with back to back base hits by the top of the order, scoring two. They touched Murray again in the second for three more base hits and three more runs, and then blew open the game in the fourth with five hits, including two triples, and five more runs.

Credit the Eagles with perseverance in the face of adversity—they came back to score a run in the fifth and another in the seventh for a final tally of 10-3. Cassie Ingalls was the hard luck loser this time, but managed to sit nine Knights down on strikes, while giving up 14 base hits. Shortstop Kali Muhleisen and catcher Rena Henry led the offense with a pair of hits apiece, and Ingalls and Murray each added a hit, but Addison ace Nicole Sutryk squelched the Eagle offensive with twelve strikeouts and only three walks on the day.

The following day, the non-league neighbor Scio Tigers came to the Eagle field with a considerably different outcome. This was the day for Eagle bats to warm up, as they ousted no less than three Tiger pitchers and catchers, scoring in every inning but one and tallying twelve base hits and fourteen runs. Eight of the ten Eagle players contributed base hits, several more than one, and nine had the opportunity to cross home plate at least once.

Murray picked up this win, striking out eight, walking three, and allowing just four base hits. The Eagles also discovered a quirk of the new field—a fast moving ground ball lodges neatly under the outfield fence, but must be verified by the officials in order to hold the batter to a double, while pulling the ball out and throwing it back onto the field gives the batter both time and opportunity to make it all the way home. Ouch!

There was no fence in Caniseto, when the Eagles faced the Redskins on Monday, but no fence was really needed, as neither team seemed able to hit the ball out of the infield. Skillful pitching by both Murray for the Eagles and Morgan York for the Redskins kept the score at zero through seven innings of play, as both defenses cleanly fielded the routine ground balls.

In the top of the eighth, Kirsten HerrNeckar reached on a walk, and Murray rifled a ground ball up the middle for a base hit, which allowed HerrNeckar to score. Following a strike out, Muhleisen grounded through a hole to left field, scoring Murray. After Courtney Cook's fly to center was hauled in by the Redskins, Henry kept the momentum going with another base hit. The inning ended on a routine comeback to the pitcher, leaving two Eagle runners on base, but hoping they could ride out the two run advantage through the bottom half of the inning.

Unfortunately, the Redskins had saved up some firepower of their own, and the leadoff hitter reached with a base hit. The next hitter ricocheted a ground ball off her teammate's foot as she ran from first to second, and to the dismay of the Eagle fans, the official ruled the runner safe, having decided that neither the second baseman nor the left fielder behind her had a chance to field the ball? The following batter laced a double to right field, scoring two runs, and she advanced to third on a subsequent ground out. One errant pitch later, she stole home on a pass ball, and the Eagle fans watched another nail biter slip away in the closing moments.

Although it was hard to have such a tight game decided on an official's questionable opinion, the Eagles know that they will have to bring their hot bats back out this week to face Bolivar-Richburg, Bradford and Prattsburg if they want to maintain their winning season. Add Mother Nature's whims into the mix and anything is possible!

HITS AND MISSES:

It was a disappointing finish in the Empire Eight softball tournament for top-seeded Alfred University as the Saxons fell to Ithaca, twice on Sunday past as the Bombers claimed the automatic NCAA berth. All was not lost for Alfred (34-6) though as they will be headed to Ithaca this week as part of the 8-team regional the Bombers will host. AU is seeded fourth and will play King's College in their opener. #1 Cortland takes on Keuka, Ithaca meets Dickinson and Lebanon Valley is pitted against Polytech out of NYC. Double-eliminated format that will conclude Monday, May 17th. Messiah College (Pa.) is the defending Division III champ ... as they are in women's soccer. Alfred fell in the E8 finals at Alfred State, 3-2 and 12-5. "Guessing" the win might of improved their seed at Ithaca but that is all. Probably same grouping with a favored Red Dragons squad from Cortland.

Monroe Community College won the Region III, Division II baseball title at Alfred State over the weekend as they topped Skip Sherman's (A-A) Genesee CC program, twice ... 4-2 and 9-7 to grab the trophy. MCC will host the District tournament this weekend in Rochester.

RIT secured the automatic NCAA berth from the E8 in men's lacrosse as the Tigers beat Coach Jeff Long's Ithaca Bombers, 9-6 in the title game. RIT topped Nazareth and Ithaca beat SJ Fisher in semi-final play to advance. RIT joins Cortland from the SUNYAC's in the NCAA field.

Coach Tim Mead's (Andover) Walsh baseball team in Ohio finished up their season splitting games with Malone to complete a (23-27) campaign and a 12-12 mark in AMC league play. The Cavs were a "nifty" 1-7 in conference action at one point.

Coach Joe Q. French's UMBC softball squad in Maryland completed regular season play with games at home versus Albany and compiled an overall record of 25-24. "Qua's" troops did not make the Ameica East playoffs.

The Monroe CC women's lax team won the NJCAA championship in Herkimer over the weekend as they stunned Onondaga CC, 8-7. One week earlier, OCC won the Region III Championship over MCC, 12-8.

The once-proud Oakland Raiders "cut" ties with QB(?), JaMarcus Russell over the weekend ending the saga of the biggest flop in NFL history. Owner Al Davis, who has been "bonkers" for some time, finally admitted the mistake. (My apologies to those of you reading this who are "bonkers".)

"PacMan" Jones to the Cincinnati Bengals. Now there is a good move!

CB Booker Edgeron will become the newest member on the Buffalo Bills Wall of Fame at Ralph Wilson Stadium in Orchard Park. How about Lou Saban?

NFL Hall of Famer Lawrence (LT) Taylor ... yikes! Never the most clever of individuals.

Where has former UCLA great Bill Walton been this season on NBA telecasts? Just "horrible" not having him around.

Watched some of the Cavs-Celts NBA game on the tube Sunday. Rajon Rondo ... wow!

Still sticking with Lakers over Magic in NBA Championship series.

The Empire State Games are back on this summer after a year off and will be in the Buffalo area, July 21-25.

Some NYS vanity plats spotted here and there: 1 DOLLAR, ANIM8TOR, DRMCACHR, 3 IN 1 ... oil, OSU 80 ... Chud Cooper, WALEVA, 49 SEDAN ... it wasn't. From Ohio: WINDOW1.

Overall #1 pick in baseball, Stephen Strasburg might pitch in Rochester next week for Syracuse for the Chiefs against the Red Wings. Syracuse is the "AAA" affiliate of the Washington Nats. Might just take in that contest. Unfortunately not with Big D, Derck Frechette ... in Florida.

"Hammerin Hank" Taft did quite well on the recent Kentucky Derby as he collected a few bucks on Derby Lane. Much to the chagrin of Our Man Frank, who declined.

The University of Virginia lacrosse teams try to get back on track this weekend in their respective NCAA tourneys, men and finish in the Empire 8 Conference championship tournament. Ithaca won the Empire 8 tournament, hosted by Alfred, and earned the conference's automatic bid to the NCAA championships. AU and Ithaca shared the regular season conference championship.

Alfred, ranked 25th in the nation, is coming off a runner-up

This will mark the first-ever appearance for AU in the NCAAs. The Saxons, under fifth-year coach Gino Olivieri, had played in the ECAC Upstate tournament each of the previous three seasons. Alfred's 34 wins heading into this weekend's NCAA regional play are a school single-season record.

Other schools hosting NCAA regionals are: Christopher Newport University, DePauw University, Rhode Island College, Simpson College, Wellesley College, and University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. The NCAA Regional winners advance to play in the NCAA Division III championship tournament May 21-25.

women, after the tragedy of women's laxer, Yeardley Love. Apparently killed at the hands of men's lax player, George Huguey. Two seniors, one now gone and the other will probably spend the next 40-years in jail. Still find this hard to fathom. Can relate to this a little with the men's and women's soccer teams at Division III Genesee, as far as two teams that are close and cheer each other on at games, when possible. Know most all the girls on the women's team and a handful on the men's squad. Would be stunned to hear of anything like this happening with the Blue Knights ... as I'm sure they were in Virginia with the Cavs. So sad.

Joe Comfort ... "The King" ... took in Yanks-Red Sox action this past weekend at Fenway Park in Boston. Good friends with BCA GM, Jeff E. Calkins (A-A). No word as to whether "Hilly" Moses was in attendance at any of the three contests?

Frank Sumo ... attendance.
Received my Blue & Gold "book" this past Friday. Wow ... great job by the A-A Alumni crew!

Took in a Division III men's lax game last week, just not the one I was originally planning on attending. Went to Genesee last Wednesday to see the Blue Knights host Oneonta in SUNYAC semi-final action. Stunningly beautiful afternoon! No contest as Genesee rolled. Basically only two teams of note in conference, Cortland and Genesee. Unlike the E8.

Was going to take in the Ithaca-RIT championship game in the E8 on Sunday ... until I went outside! Did it make it out of the 40's? Would definitely go watch 3L's Genesee soccer squad play in chilly weather (any weather!), to see Jess Herbst play soccer for Vermont and most likely Stephen Baker with McQuaid/Penn in the elements like Sunday but tough going to watch a lax game just because I know the coach. Fair-weather fan, admitted.

Daughter Lauren made our "final" Wednesday dinner (for semester) at Club 41 in Genesee an eventful one last week as she decided to spill a cup of ice water all over me! Got to talk to or see host of soccer players and say "good-bye" to some for school year. Ash and Meg at "bungalow," Beale-Beale-Clerkin-KP-Bergin-Bergin-Molly-Izz-Rian Jock walking by on way to dinner. Best name on team! And last, but certainly not least, "The Shifty One" from Cheektowaga who is off to NC State for the summer. Going to miss not having her on our July ADK trip!

The Genesee women's soccer team and Coach Wiley off to Spain next week!

Norton-Stuart-Woodruff-Weitzel and others ... looking forward to seeing you A-A Alumni weekend, July 23-25th! Smitty ... better get planning on making those "ham and cheese" sandwiches for Saturday picnic!
