

Alumnus sets precedent in assuming presidency

2/24/12

James F. Conneely, AU class of 1982 (M.S. Ed.), is the new president of Notre Dame of Maryland University. He is the first man and the second layperson to hold the position in the school's 116-year history. He will assume his new duties July 1. Read a full article on James' appointment and his background at: <http://www.benzinga.com/p...>