Process for Staff and Student Taxable Gift and Awards 2018

Each Spring the HR/Payroll and Business Offices receive numerous requests for checks, etc. that will be presented to students and faculty for various awards. In order to accommodate these request in a timely manner we have outlined a procedure to follow for all departments requesting such award payments so that we can assure you of a response to meet your timeline. Please see the attached for information and links to the forms that will be required. Any requests that are not submitted in accordance with these instructions may result in delays and missed presentation dates.

Alfred State College Relay for Life

The Alfred University Service Learning Program and Colleges Against Cancer Club have been working with Alfred State students on the annual Relay for Life fundraiser. Relay for Life is a team event organized by the American Cancer Society which raises money for cancer research and treatments.

<https://secure.acsevents....>

Relay for Life will take place on Saturday, April 14th at Alfred State College from 12:00pm-12:00am. This 12-hour celebration honors the lives that we have lost as well as those who have been affected by cancer. Teams will set up and decorate a spot in the Alfred State College gym. During the event, one person from each team is required to be walking at all times. Activities will continue throughout the event, including the survivors' lap, music, dancing, games, and fundraisers.

I hope you will consider joining our event: Relay for Life is a great community service opportunity, all funds will support a good cause, and the event will be a fun time for all! Start a Relay for Life team or sign up as a participant of a team at https://secure.acsevents....;jsessionid=00000000.app331b?NONCE_TOKEN=EECB8A2640C5EA76C07DAB104FBC97E&pagename=relay and then start fundraising! Please spread the word among your students, athletes, advisees, club members, etc. We are attempting to involve as many students and faculty from Alfred University as possible. We may potentially host this event in the future. Please feel free to contact me at gcw1@alfred.edu with any questions regarding the event.

Joel McHale

Actor, comedian, and host of the new Netflix show, "the Joel McHale Show with Joel McHale," Joel McHale, will be performing at Alfred University on Saturday, April 14. Joel is also known for roles on NBC's hit sitcom, Community, as well as host of the long running show the Soup on the E! network. McHale hosted the White House Correspondents' Association Dinner in Washington D.C. in 2014 and the Espy awards on ESPN in 2015.

McHale's new Netflix show picks up where the Soup left off, satirizing pop culture, reality television and online content.

Tickets are now on sale both in the Center for Student Involvement and online at <http://commerce.cashnet.c...> and are $5 for students at both Alfred University and Alfred State College and are $10 for faculty/staff and community members. The show will take place in the University's McLane center and will begin at 8:00 pm with general admission doors opening at 7:00 pm.

Cristina Cordova: La Jungla & Mysteries of Place

Friday, February 2 -Sunday, July 29, 2018

Opening Reception: February 2, 6:00 pm - 9:00 pm

Alfred Ceramic Art Museum

CRISTINA CORDOVA: JUNGLA

An exhibition of sculpture and drawings by Cristina Cordova. Cristina's figurative work has established her as one of the preeminent ceramic artists of her generation. Her work renders the figure as a mysterious, sensual force of compelling urgency. Her masterful use of the ceramic medium empowers her work with a mesmerizing, at times uncanny presence.

Mysteries of Place

In collaboration with the Institute of Electronic Media, School of Art and Design, Alfred University, has resulted in the magnificent exhibition Mysteries of Place: The Cahaba River Project, prints by Elisabeth Pellathy, Lee Somers and Scott Stephens. This collaboration lies at the core of the Museum's exhibition policy, which acknowledges works in all media. We are pleased to exhibit the work of these particular artists who have strong connections to Alfred University.

Become a Peer Educator!

The Wellness Center is now accepting applications for the Peer Education Program! Apply now to attend the September 2018 training! Applications will be accepted until Monday, April 16.

Peer education involves students encouraging other students to consider the behaviors, attitudes, and actions that guide their lives. Alfred University peer educators are volunteers who work alongside the Health & Wellness Coordinator to provide programming in the Residence Halls, in the classroom, and with campus-wide events. They are concerned about people their age and are willing to take a stand about issues that affect young people.

The Wellness Center offers two peer education opportunities:

Become a Wellness Rep:

- Assist with health and wellness related programming focused on alcohol and substance abuse prevention, sexual health, fitness, nutrition and mental health promotion.

Become a Sexual Assault Prevention Peer Educator:

- Help to create a campus that is safe and free from sexual violence.
- Assist in the development and implementation of programs and initiatives that promote healthy relationships, positive communication, bystander intervention, and consent.

Peer Educators Have the Chance to:

- Assume a leadership role
- Make a positive difference in the lives of friends and peers
- Receive professional training
- Work independently to create model prevention programs
- Build their resume

To apply or for more information visit:

Rian Kerrane Visiting Artist Presentation

Thursday, April 19 at 5:30 pm

BMH Lecture Room 106C

Cost: FREE

Sponsored by: Sculpture Dimensional Studies, National Casting Center Foundry

Rian Kerrane will speak about her work, she will be visiting Alfred for a three week artist in residence at the National Casting Center where she will be producing work in Cast Iron and Glass.

Rian Kerrane conceptually classifies her creative work as the Regarding-Self series and The Weight of It All, two streams of thought where she applies cast and fabricated sculpture, site specificity, installation and printmaking as methodologies examining these poetic themes. Her attraction to well-used artifacts stems from the moving individuality that evokes the situation of the individual in a homogenizing industrial/consumer society. Any object or substance can become sculptural material. Kerrane deliberately incorporates commonplace or industrial objects alongside highbrow traditional art materials. Cultural conformity shifts its familiar looks and feels as markets and fashions evolve, and reflection on the tropes of another time's products and packaging sheds light on our own situation. For her the studio and gallery are a laboratory for a kind of pseudo-science and a physicalized celebration and critique of late modern culture.

Born in Galway, Ireland Kerrane received her BA in Fine Arts Degree from the University of Ulster at Belfast before migrating to the United States where she earned her MFA from the University of New Orleans, Louisiana. Currently residing in Denver, Colorado, Kerrane is Professor and Area Head for the Sculpture Program at the University of Colorado Denver. She was the Keynote for IRON R 2, Cork, Ireland in 2014 and is a board member for the Western Cast Iron Art Alliance. Kerrane contributed to steering the 7th International Conference in Contemporary Cast Iron Art (ICCCIA) in Latvia and is co-director for performances for the upcoming 8th ICCCIA in Scranton, Pennsylvania in 2018. She hosts nomadic foundry events in the region and values the interconnectivity between art practice and the community experience.

◆Earth Day Iron Pour◆

Sunday April 22nd, Noon til Dusk

National Casting Center Foundry

Cost: Free

Sponsored by: Sculpture Dimensional Studies

Iron is our core, from the deepest depths of the earth, it runs in our blood, to the outermost edges of the cosmos. It is one of the oldest elements in the universe! What better way to celebrate all that the earth provides than to honor the material of Iron on Earth Day.

You are welcome to come watch the spectacle of molten iron being cast into molds. You can make your own cast iron relief tile and its all for a good cause to raise money for students to attend the International Conference on Contemporary Cast Iron Art. Joining us this year are Visiting Artists Rian Kerrane and Theresa Smith. Alfred University 'Digital Foundry' students will be joined by students from

East Stroudsburg University Advanced 3D Lab to cast 3D prints in Iron. Reilief Tiles are available for a small fee of $10 to $20, you can collect your sand mold and carve it ahead of time and bring it to the pour to be cast. Hopefully we will have some refreshments and other items for sale to help raise funds. If you are interested in participating in any other way, please let us know!

Yards for Yeardley Event April 13, 2018

The Alfred University SAAC has decided to take on the initiative of sexual violence victim advocacy this year. Regarding this initiative, April is sexual violence awareness month and we have decided to take part in a Yards for Yeardly Event. The event will take place on Friday, April 13 from 7:00 am - 7:00 pm, during this time we are asking the Alfred University Community to take part in obtaining yards via some sort of exercise method (swimming, biking, running, walking). These yards can be compiled and reported to Jessica Hurlbut. Also, we are asking for donations to the cause. Again, the donations can be given to Jessica Hurlbut, the goal is to reach $1,000 in donations.

Ask Me About Feminism: An Honors Thesis Event

Sunday, April 15 from 12:00 pm - 1:30 pm

Kenyon Allen Room, Powell Campus Center, 2nd Floor

Cost: To register/make a donation, go to <https://commerce.cashnet....> ($15 donation required for shirt; shirts limited to the first 30 participants)

Sponsored by: The Women's Leadership Academy & Honors Department

I have found in most male and sometimes female identifying groups that even saying the word "feminism" attracts shyness, eyerolls, and huffs of laughter. People purchase shirts at stores like Forever 21 that read "Wild Feminist" thinking it is cool and hip, but at the same time knowing full well they are not educated on what it means to wear that "Feminist" label. This event aims to raise awareness of ethical consumption and social activism as it relates to feminism. The first 30 participants who sign up and pay a $15 donation to the Allegany-Cattaraugus-Chautauqua Fund for Women will receive a screenprinted "Ask Me About Feminism," sustainable, sweatshop-free shirt. This event is, of course, not exclusionary, as I hope all community members will want to come and educate themselves on the topic regardless of their ability to afford the $15 donation (That said, even the smallest of donations are helpful!). By leading a workshop on the ins and outs of feminism, those that attend will, in turn, be able to teach the people around them about the misconceptions of feminism. I will be showing the participants how to screen-print using "#AskMeAboutFeminism" on distributable posters. I will then encourage participants to share these posters and this event on their social media accounts to promote this event as a jumping-off point for the conversation about feminism to continue.

Visiting Artist Lecture: Elizabeth Atterbury

April 18, 2018, 4:30pm

Nevins Theater

Cost: Free and open to the public.

Sponsored by: The Division of Drawing, Painting and Photography

The Division of Drawing, Painting and Photography is pleased to present visiting artist Elizabeth Atterbury.

In sculpture, photography and installation, Elizabeth Atterbury constructs minimal objects that frame, intervene and alter space. Drawing on personal history, these objects are both familiar and surprising - the scale and finish shifts any reference to utility and context. Oversized gloves, an abstract wavey length of wood, a tennis court hung on the wall are all given the utmost care and significance.

Atterbury's background in photography is clear, as one moves through her work, individual objects alter in their relationship to the whole, creating new associations. Photographs repeat form and palette of the objects, emphasizing the frame once again. From abstracted photographs of sand, cut metal and cardboard, Atterbury's work has moved back into the three dimensional world, bringing with it a complicated, beautiful simplicity.

Elizabeth Atterbury (b. 1982, West Palm Beach, FL) received her BA from Hampshire College and her MFA from MassArt. Recent solo exhibitions include Mrs., New York; Document, Chicago; The Colby College Museum of Art, Waterville; Kijidome, Boston. She has been included in group exhibitions at Et. al, San Francisco; Western Exhibitions, Chicago; TSA, Brooklyn; Bodega, Philadelphia/New York; KANSAS, New York; and The ICA at Maine College of Art, Portland, among others. Atterbury is represented by Mrs. in New York.

Meals On Wheels desperately needs volunteer drivers

The Allegany County Office for the Aging desperately needs volunteers in the Almond area that would be willing to deliver meals to our clients.

The office reimburses for mileage and the volunteer receives a free meal.

If you have about an hour a day and would be willing to deliver meals to elderly friends and neighbors in Almond, please call the Allegany County Office for the Aging at (585) 268-9390 and ask to speak to Karen Chamberlain.
