OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF TOWN AND VILLAGE OF ALFRED AND ALFRED-ALMOND CENTRAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

Vol. 129, No. 18

Alfred, Allegany County, New York State, U.S.A. 14802

Alfred State President Dr. Skip Sullivan speaks to local children during the annual Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work® Day at Alfred State.

Alfred State faculty, staff take their children to work

ALFRED--Dozens of Alfred State employees once again participated in the annual Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work® Day. Open to employees' children and grandchildren between ages 8 and 15, participants enjoyed visiting the University Police Department; taking a residence hall tour; and building raised beds for the Alfred Community Garden.

Eleven-year-old Carolyn, daughter of Andover resident and Coordinator of International Student Services Tricia Herritt, attended the event for the second year and said she especially enjoyed visiting the University Police Department and getting to participate in things like fingerprinting. Other activities included terrarium planting; demonstrations in machine tool, CAD, and forensics; cookie decorating; and backhoe games.

"It is beneficial for the children to see and learn about what academic and social opportunities are on a college campus," said Dawn Butts, also of Andover. Dawn is an academic support specialist in the Student Success Center. Her 12-year-old daughter, Sarah, and 8-year-old son, Eric, also attended; the forensics and CAD demonstrations ended up being their favorites—that and the excellent meal prepared by Auxiliary Campus Enterprises and Services (ACES).

Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work® Day, founded by the Ms. Foundation for Women, is designed to expand opportunities for girls and boys, expose them to what adults in their lives do during the work day, show them the value of their education, and give them an opportunity to share how they envision their future.

AU'S MARLIN MILLER OUTSTANDING SENIORS

McNamara, O'Connor win awards

ALFRED--Kelly McNamara, a communication studies and sociology major with a minor in women's and gender studies from Hurleyville, and Kevin O'Connor, a biology major and environmental studies minor from South Portland, Maine, are this year's recipients of the Marlin Miller Outstanding Senior Awards at Alfred University.

McNamara and O'Connor each received a handcrafted tile and a $5,000 check at AU's Honors Convocation Friday, April 25. They will speak at Commencement May 17.

Faculty, staff, and students may nominate graduating seniors for the award. Recipients are then chosen by a campus-wide committee on the basis of scholarship, extracurricular leadership, and personal character.

"I am so pleased that Kelly and Kevin were chosen as this year's Outstanding Seniors among this year's really great field of nominees," said Kathy Woughter, AU's vice president for Student Affairs. "Kelly's involvement in the Women's Leadership Academy, as a student-athlete, as the diversity director for Student Senate, and so much more proves that students can, and should, strive for a well-rounded and holistic experience while they're at college. Kevin is a role model for everyone, including me, on the value of diving into new experiences, challenging oneself and then bringing new-found skills and interests forward to serve the common good. Both students have contributed so much to Alfred University and we are the better for it."

The hand-crafted tile made by Wayne Higby, internationally acclaimed artist and professor of ceramic art in the School of Art & Design at AU, and the $5,000 cash award presented to the Outstanding Seniors, are made possible courtesy of an endowment created by Robert L. MacNeil Jr. of Wyndmoor, PA, a friend and business colleague of Marlin Miller, a 1954 alumnus of Alfred University as well as a member and former chairman of the University's Board of Trustees.

NY Times correspondent to address AU graduates

ALFRED--David E. Sanger, national security correspondent for the New York Times, and author of a best-selling analysis of the Obama administration's foreign policy, will deliver the commencement address at this year's Alfred University graduation ceremonies, to be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 17, in McLane Center. The University will also award a Doctor of Humane Letters degree, honoris causa, to Sanger.

"David Sanger's breadth of expertise is unique," said Alfred University President Charles M. Edmondson. "During his career as a journalist he has had substantial and direct responsibility for observing and explaining to literate Americans the emergence of modern China, the social and economic impact of technology, the dynamics of the Middle East, the operations of the American presidency, and the emergence of a national security state capable of eavesdropping on a massive scale and waging a secret cyberwar with drones and special forces."

A 30-year veteran of The New York Times and a regular guest on CBS' Face the Nation, Sanger has become known as one of the nation's most lucid analysts of geopolitics, national security, and globalization. His years as a foreign correspondent give him a unique view into the rise of Asia, nuclear proliferation, global competition, and a volatile Middle East.

Sanger's national bestseller, Confront and Conceal: Obama's Secret Wars and Surprising Use of American Power, is a riveting analysis of the Obama administration's foreign policy, including its covert reliance on cyber-warfare, drones, and special operations forces. The book sent shockwaves around the globe. Foreign Affairs called it an "astonishingly revealing insider's account."

His previous bestseller, The Inheritance: The World Obama Confronts and the Challenges to American Power, is an in-depth examination of American foreign policy successes and failures. TIME called it a "behind-the-scenes account...laced with scoops and secret conversations about a world spinning out of America's control."

Sanger has been a part of two Pulitzer Prize-winning teams at the Times. His coverage of the Iraq and Korea crises took home the Weintal Prize, one of the highest honors for diplomatic reporting. He also won the White House Correspondents' Association Aldo Beckman prize for his presidential coverage.

Early in his career, Sanger covered technology and economics, before turning to foreign policy. Over the years, he has focused on North Korea's nuclear weapons program, the rise and fall of Japan, and China as an emerging marketplace. Later, he covered domestic and foreign policy issues as the Times' White House correspondent from 1999 to 2006 and the NSA and cybersecurity as the current National Security Correspondent.

Sanger's articulate style has made him a regular on a variety of radio and television programs, including PBS' Washington Week and Charlie Rose.

A native of White Plains, NY, Mr. Sanger graduated magna cum laude in government from Harvard College in 1982. He now teaches national security policy as a visiting scholar and adjunct professor at Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government.

A good way to use up tomatoes

Sifting through the mountain of back mail that waited for us when we got home, I came across an offer to sell me a cookbook of Amish cooking secrets. I think if I brought one more cookbook into my house, it would explode!

I was intrigued though, when I read about Amish tomato pancakes, so, instead of ordering the cookbook, I looked the recipe up on the internet. Sure enough, it was there. It's not something that appeals to me, but I suppose it would be a way to use up a plethora of garden tomatoes. I don't think you'd want maple syrup with these.

Tomato Pancakes

4 lg. eggs, beaten
2 c. diced tomatoes with juice
2 T. butter

40 saltine crackers, crushed
salt

Combine eggs, tomatoes, crackers and salt. Stir to blend then shape into 4 inch pancakes. Melt butter in large skillet over medium heat. Add pancakes and fry for about two minutes each side until lightly browned.

Letter to Sen. Young

April 25, 2014

Dear Senator Young:

I received an email from Concerned Citizens of Allegany County CCAC that they had spoken with you, Senator Young regarding Hyland landfill owned by Casella to be accepting radioactive frack wastes from Marcellus shale drilling in PA.

The leachate from Hyland landfill is a large amount and is trucked daily to the Genesee river in Wellsville which was designed for sewage treatment not equipped to remove radioactive pollution. In addition Hyland wants to accept 49% more daily traffic and amounts of garbage and that will affect the daily air pollution and needs a new permit for that from DEC and from EPA which is currently pending after receiving many letters from the public about that.

CCAC reported in their email to me that at the meeting with Senator Young she had said that she had not heard a lot from the citizens about this problem. CCAC urged me and other concerned citizens to write a letter to Senator Young at her email cy-young@senate.state.ny.us or phone her offices (phone number posted in any Cuba Patriot newspaper) to urge our Senator to act and to educate all of us about this important topic.

I am not surprised that the public has not contacted Senator Young much on this issue as there is not much education going on about this important topic of how to deal with wastes from fracking and certainly we do not want to become the dumping ground for those wastes from Pa were they want to drill 100,000 Marcellus wells and have already drilled more than 7,000 wells in a short time. There are only 5 landfills along the NYS border and we could become the target of that waste.

Senator Cathy Young is a member of the NY Senate Environmental Committee and they held a hearing on the topic of wastes from fracking and what do do about it. This hearing was held Dec. 12 2011 in Canandaigua NY https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DQ1_ZHtODJo but Senator Cathy Young did not attend it and neither did any other committee members other than the chairman Senator Grisanti.

Senator Grisanti chaired that meeting along with Senator Patrick Galligan who represents that district but he is not a member of the Environmental Committee. - Only the chairman showed up. A letter from Senator Avella was read urging that such a significant hearing be held in Albany at the start of 2012 but that never happened.

I urge Senator Young to listen to the whole testimony at that hearing by Deputy Director of the DEC Eugene Leff who represented Commissioner of the DEC Mr Martens - who also was a no show.

Here is the hour long testimony of Eugene Leff <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BxxvvSzKHWs> At the end of Mr Leff's testimony he warned that the liquid under the drill cuttings that are collected from the drill cuttings at the drill site, may be concentrated with radioactivity and that must be disposed in a special TENORM landfill (not in a household landfill like Hyland)

I urge all the citizens who are concerned about the disposal of fracking wastes in our local landfills and using the local rivers for the leachate to contact Ms Young and urge her to take a more active role in this important topic and develop meaningful legislation regarding this activity - or better yet- not permit it at all.

Just this week , North Dakota is discovering dumped radioactive wastes from oil drilling hidden all over in empty lots <http://abcnews.go.com/International/wireStory/north-dakota-finds-radioactive-oil-waste-23459886>

Active interest of the CCAC is much appreciated. Thank you.

Ad Lib Notes, Off-Key and On

I read in the Sun of some programs upcoming, Of Alfred's attempts to set people to humming With concerts, recitals, and other such things At which one plays a horn, and another one sings.

Like, I read of the concert with Frank Mitchell Bush Whom the orchestra asked to come sit on his tush... "And as long as you're sitting, here's 88 keys - But there are strings attached...Mozart's 23rd, please?"

The Symphonic Band, under baton of Chris Foster, Is to put on a show with such names on their roster As Nimrod...Candide...Incantation and Dance (A tune that was dreamed up and written by Chance).

And to Cap it all off, 'cross the way Alfred State Held a concert of music to honor the late Choirmaster, Anthony C. Cappadonia, To say, "You were great; we're all blessed to have known ya."

But there was one recital that gave me a chuckle; By the sounds it's put on by performers whose luck'll Be lucky if any attend it at all: It's a vocal recital at—guess where?—"How'l Hall!" —Anoff Key Mouse

Republican Women support Tom Reed

WELLSVILLE—The Allegany County Women's Republican Club recently hosted a Wine & Cheese Extravaganza at the newly renovated Wellsville Country Club recently. The purpose of the event was to announce the formation of the Women for Reed coalition and to endorse Congressman Reed in his campaign for re-election to the 23rd Congressional District. "We came together to kick off the Women for Reed coalition because Tom is working hard to protect the American dream," said Linda Fanton, ACWRC Chairwoman. "Tom is standing up for our families, focusing on jobs and using his position as our Congressman to say "No More" to domestic abuse and sexual assault. He cares for our community, and more importantly, he cares about the future of our families in Western New York."

FROM THE DESK OF DAVID PULLEN

By DAVID PULLEN
Allegany County Legislator

FEAR VS. REALITY

Last week I attended the Senior Forum sponsored by the Allegany County Office For the Aging ("OFA"). During the forum senior citizens were given the opportunity to question those County Legislators who were present, and make comments about matters of concern to them. Most of those present expressed general satisfaction with the programs offered by OFA. However, one senior citizen commented that she felt afraid and unsafe. When asked about the cause of that fear, she stated that she was afraid because of rampant drug dealing and drug abuse. OFA Executive Director Madeleine Gasdik asked if other senior citizens also felt afraid because of drug related crime. A significant percentage of those present raised their hands indicating that they shared that fear.

County Sheriff Rick Whitney was present at the Senior Forum so I asked him if he was aware of any reported drug crimes involving senior citizens. He indicated that he was unaware of any such incidents. He indicated that he is in regular contact with all law enforcement agencies around the county, and would have been informed of any drug crimes against senior citizens. Several days later I made a point of meeting with Allegany County District Attorney ("DA") Keith Slep. His office is involved in prosecuting all crimes in Allegany County so he would know about any crimes against senior citizens. He was unaware of any violent crimes against senior citizens, either drug-related or otherwise.

DA Slep and Sheriff Whitney confirmed that there is definitely a drug problem in Allegany County. There is a Drug Task Force that focuses on drug dealing, and is successful in catching and arresting drug dealers. The DA's Office aggressively prosecutes drug dealers, and has a strong record of success against them. There have been burglaries involving drug users, and incidents of violence involving those in the drug scene. However, none of that crime involved senior citizens.

It appears there is an inconsistency between the facts and perceptions regarding drug related crime and violence. There is absolutely no evidence of any direct impact of drug dealing upon senior citizens. Unfortunately, our seniors still feel afraid. When I questioned several senior citizens about the basis for their fear they mentioned the incidents that they saw reported on television or in the newspapers. District Attorney Slep reported that the drug related violence shown on television simply isn't present in Allegany County. Much of that violence involves gangs located in inner-city neighborhoods. So far, none of that gang and drug related violence has occurred in our county. I trust that pattern continues.

Sheriff Whitney and District Attorney Slep offered several good suggestions for our senior citizens, and others. All citizens should immediately notify law enforcement of any suspicious activities. Our local law enforcement agencies aggressively enforce our drug laws. In Allegany County drug dealers get arrested, prosecuted and imprisoned. Our law enforcement officers need our help since they cannot be everywhere at once. Your reports will be kept confidential and drug dealers will be removed from local neighborhoods. Don't interfere with drug dealers. Leave that to trained professional law enforcement personnel. DA Slep did mention one area of special concern for seniors. There have been a few reported incidents of family members stealing drugs from older relatives. This is an instance of seniors being victimized by those they know, trust and invite into their homes. Keep your prescription drugs in a safe place, and out of view.

My research indicates that we are safer today than we have ever been. Violent crime is lower than it has been in decades. However, there is a sense that things are worse than ever before, because of the 24 hour news coverage on TV, Internet and radio. On a daily basis we are bombarded by "bad news." I suspect that the media contributes as much to our sense of fear, as the drug dealers do. What do you think?

AU ART & DESIGN

Freshman art students will exhibit in Cohen Sat., May 3

ALFRED—Some 90 freshman art and design students in the Foundations program at Alfred University (AU) will show their work at an event titled "Listen Up, We're Taking Attendance! A Foundations End of Year Exhibition" on Saturday, May 3 from 2-4 p.m. in their Cohen Studio Building, Main Street, Alfred. The event is free and open to the public.

Foundations is a first-year experience seminar course for the bachelor of fine arts degree program and is designed to prepare students for continued study in the upper levels of the curriculum.

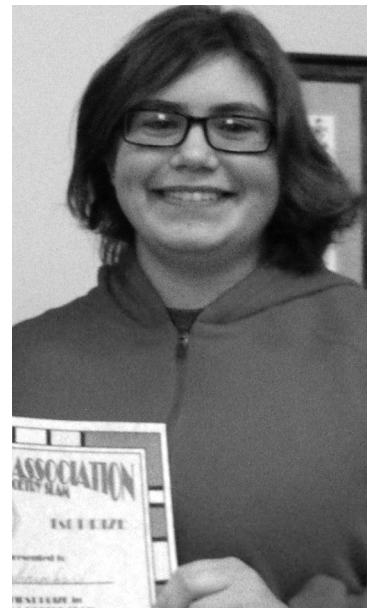

Foundations explores concepts and builds skills that can be applied to contemporary art practice in any field. Students are required to participate in the freshman seminar both semesters.

The 2013-14 Foundations faculty are Ted Morgan, professor of printmaking, and Angie Y. To, associate professor.

Foundations is taught collaboratively in two, large, open studio spaces within the School of Art and Design, on the second floor of Harder Hall the other at the Cohen Center for the Arts on Main Street. The Foundations studios total 12,600 square feet and are open, flexible studios for multiple purposes. Students also meet weekly in either Holmes Auditorium, Harder Hall or Nevins Theater, Powell Campus Center for freshman seminar.

A-A area residents sweep Poetry Slam

WELLSVILLE—The Allegany Arts Association's 7th Annual Poetry Contest/Slam held April 24 saw several new poets along with repeat winners. Poetry writers from ages 14 to 75+ gathered at the David A. Howe Library to share poems about joys, sorrows, moods and memories.

First prize of $50 was won by Kaitlin Cook, an Alfred-Almond eighth grade student who won a prize for the 3rd year in a row. Adam Gayhart, of Alfred, always a favorite, won the $25 second place (generously donated by Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Cafe in Angelica) with his perceptive writing.

Jasmine Schumacher, wise beyond her years and another A-A student, won third place (a prize of $15) for the second time in two years.

Honorable Mention was shared by four poets, all new to the Poetry Contest, and all talented writers. Denise Ross of Belmont, Orval Rossman of Wellsville, Linda S. Cash of Angelica and Sharon Rula Backos of Allegany won certificates and poetry books with their strong poetic efforts, much appreciated by the audience.

Chris Clow, who hosts the "Spoken Word" poetry readings at Black-Eyed Susan Acoustic Cafe in Angelica, honored the audience with his evolving, seasoned poetry. The next free "Spoken Word" event will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 20.

AAA member and event chair, Joanne Allen, shared old and new limericks, poetry by Billy Collins and "Landays," never-before-recorded short personal poems by Afghan women.

After audience members voted for their favorites, Karen Dickerson, AAA President, along with Andrea Schoenthal, President of Creative Writers of the Southern Tier acted as final judges. Refreshments were provided by AAA members.

The next AAA Poetry Contest/Slam, next year, on April 23, 2015, is reputed to be the 451st birthday of William Shakespeare. Along with their new poems, contest participants will be asked to bring a Shakespeare poem or sonnet to share.

"Poetry makes us more real to each other," Maya Angelou.

National Touring Artists Greg Greenway, Pat Victor and Joe Jencks have made their mark as veteran touring singer-songwriters, but Brother Sun is no songwriter's round. The trio's harmonies, as much as their lyrics, tell what they are about: warm as a campfire, stirring as a gospel church, rousing as a call to arms. Fusing folk, Americana, blues, pop, jazz, rock, and a cappella singing, Brother Sun is an explosion of musical diversity and harmony, in the finest of male singing traditions.

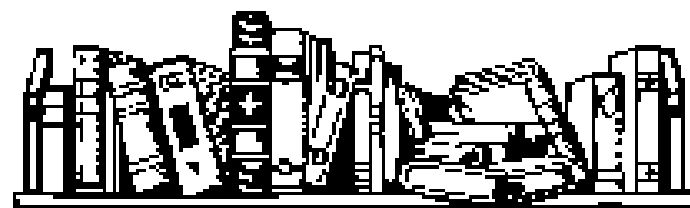

From three major points on the map Boston, New York and Chicago - Greg, Pat and Joe have blended themselves into Brother Sun: a unique celebration of the amazing power of singing together. As they will tell you, the music of Brother Sun is not resident in any one of them - but rather it exists in the space between them. Audiences feel this sincerity immediately. Their combined musical skills make for an unforgettable experience - three rich voices blending on a well-crafted foundation of guitar, slide guitar, piano, ukulele, and bouzouki.

Brother Sun's debut CD announced to the world that these respected singer-songwriters had banded together to produce some of the most powerful male harmonies on the acoustic music scene. After two years of nationwide touring and performances marked by outstanding songwriting, ethereal harmonies, off-the-cuff humor and standing ovations, they have released Some Part of the Truth: a CD that goes a large step further in revealing Brother Sun not only as singers, but as complete musicians.

The response to the trio's music has been tremendous! From main stage performances with standing ovations at Kerrville, Falcon Ridge, Philadelphia, Old Songs, Connecticut and other Folk Festivals; to sold out concerts throughout the U.S.A., Brother Sun has earned the respect of fans, colleagues and presenters alike. And, their music and message appeals to fans of both contemporary and traditional music.

A toothsome adventure with Joan—(By Joan Lindeman) People meet me and ask, "Why haven't you written your latest adventure?" Sounds friendly but they probably mean "had" your latest adventure. I hem and haw a little then confess that if they must know I really haven't had any lately. That got me to thinking. And then it hit me. Just because I just had all my upper teeth removed in preparation for a beautiful set of teeth shouldn't keep me from talking about it. Two days after their removal, the teeth, that is, I dared to look in the mirror. Not too bad I decided if I kept my mouth shut but when I smiled—yikes, a toothless hag! Men may look like an old coot during this healing month but women look just like what they are—a toothless hag trying to grin at you. Unfortunately I've never been a sweet demure smiler. I'm a twinkly-eyed grinner who now looks like an evil toothless hag. No way out of it, that is the truth. So I just gave up looking in the mirror! Eating was the next problem faced. Our blender was too large to do the small portions I needed each day so I bought a small shredder and ran it longer. Perfect results, so now dear, sweet Theresa chops most things beautifully for me to eat. I can now down a whole plate full of meat, potatoes and two vegetables by the time you have picked up your fork. It's almost like drinking meals but much tastier and cuts dinner time in half! I'm sure that a large portion of my readers have lived through what I'm enduring now. I hope I brought back memories so you can enjoy your dentures even more than usual. Just think—no more drilling out cavities, no toothaches, none of that sort of torture ever again! I gave up cookies for Lent so now as I said, I've given up mirrors for my "hag" month. So this month I'm having a real toothsome adventure!

Three Alfred State students earn SUNY Chancellor's Awards

ALBANY—SUNY Chancellor Nancy L. Zimpher on Wednesday, April 2 honored more than 300 college students from campuses throughout the state, presenting 274 SUNY students with the 2014 Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence, and congratulating 68 SUNY and CUNY students who received awards from Phi Theta Kappa, a national honor society.

Three Alfred State students received a 2014 SUNY Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence—Joshua R. Altemoos, of Buffalo; Rachel Howard, of Pittsford; and Carley S. Youngman, of Spencerport.

"Students honored with the Chancellor's Award for Excellence, and those recognized by Phi Theta Kappa, truly embody the power of SUNY," said Chancellor Zimpher. "As proven leaders and role models, scholar athletes, creative artists, and civic volunteers, each student is recognized not just for academic achievement, but also for the profound impact they have on college campuses and local communities across New York State. Congratulations to all of the students being recognized today."

"When I learned that I would be a recipient, I was shocked and humbled. All of the work that I have done for the Alfred community I have not done to be recognized or rewarded for; I did it for the students of this campus," said Josh Altemoos. Josh is a student in the Computer Information Technology Department and serves as president of the Student Senate, student director of the Auxiliary Campus Enterprise Services Board of Directors, and as director of information services & technology for the SUNY Student Assembly.

Rachel, a student in the Agriculture and Veterinary Technology Department, served as president of the Veterinary Technology Club and was a supplemental instructor for Anatomy & Physiology of Large & Small Animals. Rachel volunteered weekly at the Hornell Humane Society.

Carley, a student of both architectural technology and construction management engineering technology, served as team captain of the Design Build Team at the American Schools of Construction Region 1 Student Competition, where the team placed second. Carley was also a project intern at LeChase and served as captain of the volleyball team.

The Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence was created in 1997 to recognize students who have best demonstrated, and have been recognized for, the integration of academic excellence with accomplishments in the areas of leadership, athletics, community service, creative and performing arts, campus involvement, or career achievement.

Each year, campus presidents establish a selection committee, which reviews exemplary students. Nominees are then forwarded to the Chancellor's Office and are subject to a second round of review. Finalists are then recommended to the Chancellor to become recipients of the award. Each recipient receives a framed certificate and medallion, which is traditionally worn at commencement.

Students take on late friend's project

ALFRED—Twenty-one students from Alfred State's electrical construction and maintenance electrician program braved the wintry weather in late March to honor friend and fellow student, Trevor Randall, who died in a recent car accident, by completing one of Trevor's unfinished service projects in their spare time—spending two Saturdays wiring the new Bolivar town highway barn. Professors Steve Kielar, Calvin O'Dell, and Dan Noyes were also involved in the project.

“Mr. Kielar came to me and told me Trevor had been working on a project near his hometown and they needed someone to finish it,” said student Daniel Napolionello, of Valley Stream. For Daniel and many of the other students in his class, Trevor was both a friend and an inspiration—a young man who worked hard and went out of his way to help others. “Pretty much everyone in the class wanted to be in on it from the beginning. It wasn't hard saying we'd give up two Saturdays for him because of the impact he had on all of us.”

Trevor started the project after hearing about it from his instructors, who'd been approached by town officials with the opportunity for a service project. Although unable to fit the project into the curricula, faculty in the electrical construction and maintenance electrician program knew of one student who'd be willing to put in the time and effort—Trevor Randall, a native of the Bolivar area.

“Trevor was already an incredibly hard-working, dedicated professional and he hadn't even graduated yet,” said Steve Kielar, an instructor in the program and a resident of Olean. “We knew he'd get the work done and do a great job.”

“It was pretty amazing how, throughout the whole job, we knew Trevor had taken it all on by himself. It might have taken him a full month going five days a week, but he would have done it,” Daniel said.

Trevor was only able to work on the project for three days before a car accident claimed his life, but his fellow students were more than willing to step in and finish the project in memory of their friend. These 21 young people completed wiring the entire structure, from inside and outside lights to the electrical panel, all in just two 10-hour days.

The students also created and sold bracelets, the proceeds from which will go toward a memorial bench outside Bolivar-Richburg Central School in Trevor's honor.

When asked, the students say they simply hope the project helps keep Trevor's memory alive.

“I hope people realize how good of a guy he was and how much of an impact he had on the whole class and the program,” Daniel said. “This wasn't a job we were hoping to be recognized for. It was just for Trevor.”

THE GLORY OF AMERICA

Thursday, May 1

On the first of May, 1777, intelligence reached the American camp that at last France was coming into the war on the side of America. In announcing the French decision to his joyous troops, Washington proclaimed:

“It having pleased the Almighty Ruler of the universe to defend the cause of the United American States, and finally to raise up a powerful friend among the princes of the earth, to establish our liberty and independence upon a lasting foundation, it becomes us to set apart a day for gratefully acknowledging the divine goodness, and celebrating the important event, which we owe to His divine interposition.”

Saxons #3 seed in Empire 8 Softball Championships

UTICA--On the final day of the Empire 8 regular season Monday, the Alfred Saxons and Utica Pioneers split a doubleheader to earn the final two spots in the 2014 Softball Tournament. AU took the opener 2-0 with the home team taking the nightcap by the same score.

Ithaca (8-4) has secured No. 1 seed by virtue of its 2-0 mark against Stevens (8-4) which gives them the head-to-head advantage over the No. 2 Ducks.

Alfred (7-5) is the No. 3 seed and Utica (6-6) will be seeded fourth.

The double elimination tournament begins Friday, May 2 and continues through May 3 and possibly May 4 if necessary. The Empire 8 Champion will earn the automatic bid to the 2014 NCAA Division III Softball Tournament.

Game 7: If necessary

Softball team sweeps Geneseo, splits key E8 matchups

The softball team team (23-7, 6-4 Empire 8) swept SUNY Geneseo in a non-conference matchup, then later split Empire 8 doubleheaders with host Ithaca and visiting Elmira.

Against SUNY Geneseo, sophomore catcher Jasmine Picini (Alexandria, VA/West Potomac) hit a solo homerun in the fifth inning to break a 2-2 tie and AU pulled away with a four-run 7th inning to take the opener, 7-3. Junior pitcher Alison Wickwire (Towanda, PA) got the win, allowing three runs (two earned) on eight hits, striking out three.

In the second game, the Saxons scored five unearned runs in the sixth to erase a one-run deficit en route to an 8-4 victory.

AU split a key Empire 8 Conference doubleheader with host Ithaca Thursday afternoon, rebounding from a 3-2 loss in the opener to take the second game, 3-1.

In Thursday's second game, Wickwire tossed seven solid innings, allowing an unearned run on four hits while striking out two to improve to 10-3 on the year. Picini went 2-for-3 with a pair of RBIs.

In the opener, Ithaca scored three runs in the first and held off the Saxons.

Against Elmira, the Saxons won the first game, 10-8, rallying from two runs down in the fifth of a game that began April 14, but was suspended due to rain. Elmira won the nightcap, 7-1. Wickwire got the pitching win with two innings of one-hit relief, striking out two. Torchia finished 3-for-4 with a double, three RBIs and a run scored and Thompson (double) scored three runs and drove in one. Scheer (double) had a run and two RBIs; Picini drove in two; and Guszick scored twice.

Wickwire took the loss in the second game, allowing four earned runs on eight hits over five innings to fall to 10-4. Junior Tori Kramp (Yardley, PA/Pennsbury) allowed three runs (two earned) on two hits in 1 1/3 innings before sophomore Katelyn Jakobsen (Elmwood Park, IL) got the final two outs, allowing one hit and striking out two. Torchia hit a double and Maher belted an RBI double to account for the Saxons' lone run.

Men's Lacrosse splits week

The men's lacrosse team (5-8, 2-5 Empire 8) fell to Ithaca College, 18-6, Wednesday evening, and bounced back to beat Hartwick, 11-4, Saturday afternoon in the season finale.

In the Hartwick win, the Saxons controlled the tempo from the start, jumping to a 3-1 lead after the first quarter and a 7-3 advantage at the half. For the game, AU outshot Hartwick, 43-27.

Sophomore defender Kerry Mack (Weedsport/Jordan-Elbridge) picked up seven groundballs and Button forced six turnovers. Tarajos stopped 11 shots on goal for the Saxons.

AU men's tennis team falls to Fisher, Ithaca, Elmira

The men's tennis team (11-9, 2-4 Empire 8) dropped three conference matchups to St. John Fisher (5-4), Ithaca (7-2), and Elmira (7-2) this past week.

The Dugout

Ah yes, spring time in our nation's capital. Had the opportunity to travel to Washington, DC this past weekend, a beautiful city and with the weather in the upper 60's/low 70's, it was a perfect time to see the sites. Daughter Lauren was running in the Nike Women's Half-Marathon on Sunday morning, which was main reason for trip, but we made plans to incorporate other adventures along the way as well. For the most part all worked out with a few exceptions.

Hooked up with 3L in Bethesda, MD on Saturday morning at the apartment of Michelle Milkovich, a former SUNY Geneseo classmate of 3L's and an All-American field hockey player with the Knights. "Milko" now working in the athletic department at the University of Maryland. Good seeing her again as last time was a couple of years back when she was going to school at UCF in Florida. Lauren and I departed shortly after as we had to travel to Virginia to check in at our hotel and then take the metro back up to Georgetown for the Nike Expo where 3L would get her bib for the Sunday race.

After a pre-check in at our Arlington hotel, we came across a Farmers Market just up the street. Had to stop there and wander around! Next stop was the Nike Expo. That area was pretty sharp and well run as we ventured around there for a few minutes. Food was on our mind at the moment and we were also heading to the Washington Nationals game that started at 1pm. Found a great outdoor café in Georgetown, similar to a place we ate at with Bakes when in Philly last October and then it was back on the metro for the Nationals Ballpark.

The Nationals were taking on the "AAA" San Diego Padres this afternoon but was more interested in seeing the new park in DC. A series versus the Dodgers or Cardinals would've been great but it just didn't land that way. Neither did a few other things. Don't exactly follow the 'Nats but was hoping to see Stephen Strasburg pitch ... but he went the nite before and recorded 11 K's. Ouch. Bryce Harper wasn't in the lineup due to injury. Ryan Zimmerman wasn't at 3B. Somebody named Tanner Roark was pitching. About the only two-three players I knew were Jayson Werth in RF, Adam LaRouche at 1B and Denard Span in CF. Span played in Rochester with the Red Wings. And, we had a great time! The park is beautiful with statues of Walter "Big Train" Johnson, Frank Howard and Negro Leagues star, Josh Gibson out front. We met a couple named Sean and Nicole in the sixth-inning as they settled in behind us. Great people, most enjoyable to talk to and the four of us chatted the rest of the game. Unfortunately, we'll never see them again. Oh yeah, the Nationals won, 4-0.

Saturday evening was a birthday dinner at the Rhodeside Café in Arlington as we were able to secure an outdoor table. Beautiful evening. After that a cold one at the Arlington Rooftop Bar & Grill. What a place! And what a view of the area. An early nite as it would be an early wake-up call for the race. Back to the Arlington Court Suites. OMG ... Cathy Coleman (A-A) ... a huge thanks! What a place. Our original plans were to hopefully stay with Mixer and family in Fairfax but they were off to Atlanta. With early Sunday morning race start that would've been extremely tough anyhow, time-wise. The place in Arlington was awesome, the staff and the proximity to everything.

Sunday morning, up at 5:00 am. Yikes! have to catch the metro about 5:45-6:00 to get to the starting line area of the race and it was a short hike after arriving at our stop. There were 15,000 runners registered for the race so it was a tad congested for 2-3 blocks and couldn't find a coffee shop anyplace. Double ouch. The race would run by the Capital building, the White House, past the Washington and Lincoln Memorials plus the Jefferson, out to Hanes Point Park where I used to work at a tennis facility and back to 7th street in DC. Managed to get to the Lincoln Memorial area and caught 3L twice in that loop as it was roughly the halfway point. After that it was time to hoof it back to an area just past the Smithsonian's. Got back, saw 3L at the finish as she ran a smooth and easy race. She has a big half-marathon in Brooklyn a week from Sunday she is gearing up for.

While running, Lauren got video of Shalane Flanagan from Oregon (first American woman and 7th overall at Boston Marathon), who was just ahead of her at the beginning and running "casually" with former Boston Marathon winner and Olympic champion, Joan Benoit Samuelson. 3L put a post of the video on her twitter account and later in the day, Flanagan responded. Pretty cool. 3L finished in 1:43:41, lowering her split times per 5k's each one completed. she was 454th overall out of the roughly 15,000 that started the race and took 118th in her age group (25-29) out of 4010.

After the race it was back to the metro, back to Arlington, a shower for Lauren and we went for lunch back at the Arlington Rooftop! It didn't disappoint on a cloudless day. Excellent food and atmosphere. Soon it was time for her to catch a bus back to NYC and for me to drive back to Webster. Yuk. A great weekend in the books though.

HITS AND MISSES:

The Alfred University softball team (23-7) has made it to the Empire Eight tournament and will play this weekend in Ithaca. The Saxons were at Utica on Monday past for a "double dipper" of league games and depending on how they do there, will either be a #3 or #4 seed. If they take both or split, they are the #3 seed. If AU loses both, they drop to #4 and Utica slides into #3. If Utica loses both, they go to (5-7) in league play, in a tie with SJ Fisher and maybe out of the tourney? Not sure of the tiebreaker there. Rain could very easily hamper play this weekend in Ithaca. The format is double elimination and the winner gets an automatic berth into the NCAA Division III tournament. The Saxons split games with Stevens and Ithaca during the regular season so home field shouldn't be that big a deal.

Coach Joe Q. French's (ex-Alfred State) women's softball team at UMBC in Maryland is (31-17) overall and headed to the America East playoffs! The Retrievers thumped Hartford over the weekend, have games versus Albany at home this weekend and play the following weekend in the conference tourney.

French's troops are currently at 8-6 in conference action. All of this after a dismal 2013 campaign.

Skip Sherman (A-A) and his Genesee CC Cougars baseball team is struggling along at (8-24) in spring ball as they are in the Region III tournament this weekend versus Monroe CC at Mercyhurst NE.

Tim Mead (Andover) and his Walsh Cavs baseball team in Ohio is almost at the .500 mark again (22-23) after talking 4-of-five games of late. Walsh beat Ohio Dominican and Ashland University as they have four league games left in the regular season. Sherman used to be an assistant coach at Ashland. 3L and I stopped there one hoop season to see Coach Just and his Quincy Hawks women's team play in a holiday tourney. Nice facility!

The Empire Eight men's lacrosse tournament is set for this week as Coach Jeff Long's Bombers at Ithaca are the #1 seed but coming off a league loss to Stevens. The Bombers fell, 15-11 and will be the host to Stevens (4/30) in one semi-final game. SJ Fisher and Nazareth battle in the other and they just played each other this past weekend as well. The highest remaining seed will host the tourney finale on Saturday. That can be anyone except Stevens.

Carly Baker ran in the Rochester, Flower City Half Marathon this past Sunday as parents John & Colleen had "no luck" in being in two places at once! Stephen Baker had his UPenn soccer banquet this past weekend as well.

Norm Duke won the PBA50 Sun Bowl tournament at The Villages last week over a star-studded final five, one week after he opened the season with a second-place finish in New Port Richey. Duke bested #1-seed Tom Baker (formerly of Buffalo) in the finals with Pete Weber, Parker Bohn III, Walter Ray Williams, Jr. in the 3-4-5 slots. Wow. Big D, Derck Frechette took in the action on two of the days. Duke prevailed in the finals, 256-228.

Some vanity plates spotted on weekend trip past: MONTE 78 ... either Mixer or Carlo, OHMYSOUL ... granny was booking along, and with Florida plates it was: LIMA NY.

The Rochester Knighthawks wrapped up their NLL pro indoor lax season with another win over the Buffalo Bandits and finished up at (14-4) on the year with a first-place East Division banner. Six teams make the NLL playoffs and only three of them have winning records. In addition, the K-Hawks will have either two or three weeks off before playing the winner of the Toronto-Buffalo game. Crazy.

Donald Sterling, owner of the LA Clippers in the NBA ... nut job.

Michael Pineda, pitcher for the Yanks ... can you get any dumber with the pine tar?

Cathy Coleman ... wow ... thanks again !!

Potentially off to Ithaca with Leo Nealon this Saturday, weather permitting, for some E8 action.
