

May graduate to open Ithaca exhibit

7/03/14

Class of 2014 graduate Samuel C. Guy, who earned a bachelor of fine arts degree, is opening a show at Lot 10, 106 S. Cayuga St., on Friday, July 11, as part of Ithaca's First Friday Gallery Night. Samuel's exhibit will be on display at the bar/lounge establishment through Aug. 31. Lot 10 is open Tuesdays-Saturdays from 5 p.m.-1 a.m.

In describing his work, Samuel notes: "My work centers in the coming of age narrative; it deals with issues of youth culture, including '30 rock & culture. The works use found materials and religious imagery, combined with figures representative of youthful disregard. In this way the works seem to toe a line between celebration and sarcasm, promoting discussion in viewers on a distinct new phase of childhood, one which begins in the late teens and often extends well into the 20s."
